GENERAL PROVISIONS

The General Provisions of W.D. Form No. 18 are the same as the General Provisions appearing on the reverse side of W.D. Form No. 383 (see § 813.1317a (b)).

§ 813.1317c W. D. Contract Form No. 47 (W. D Forms Nos. 47 and 47–a); Short Form, Revised April 1, 1944—(a) Explanatory notes. (1) This form was formerly known as W. D. Contract Form No. 17. It has been renumbered as W. D. Contract Form No. 47 to make the "W. D. Contract Form No." conform to the "W. D. Form No."

(2) W. D. Contract Form No. 47 comprising W. D. Forms Nos. 47 and 47–a, is available for optional use by the technical services (including the service commands) for procuring any supplies or services, regardless of the number or period of deliveries or of the number of payments involved, where

(i) The amount of the purchases does not exceed $500,000; and

(ii) No special contract form is available and suitable for the particular type of procurement; and

(iii) No special contract provisions are required, the insertion of which in the particular case would unduly complicate the form; and

(iv) Signature by the contractor evidencing acceptance of the order is not required, and is not desired. Signature by the contractor is not required where (a) the amount of the order is not in excess of $5,000 or (b) the amount of the order is in excess of $5,000 but not in excess of $500,000 and the order is preceded by an oral or written quotation or is based upon a price list.

(3) Where the price is not in excess of $5,000 the line reading "In accordance with your price list /oral quotation/written quotation of _____", appearing on the front side of the form, will be deleted by the contracting officer. Otherwise the contracting officer will delete those words which do not apply, and insert the date.

(4) Each technical service may insert (either on continuation sheets or in the blank space provided on the reverse side of W. D. Form No. 18, or in any other space on the form) special provisions covering (i) methods of presenting invoices or vouchers, and (ii) methods of packing, shipping, and marking. Continuation sheets may also be used as extensions of columns on the form.

(i) The amount of the purchase does not exceed $1,000,000; and

(ii) No special contract form is available and suitable for the particular type of procurement; and

(iii) No special contract provisions are required the inclusion of which in the particular case would unduly complicate the form.

(3) The form calls for execution both by the Contracting Officer and the contractor. When so executed, it should be complete in itself, without reference to other documents such as proposal or bid forms.

(4) When filled in, signed by the Contracting Officer, and delivered to the contractor, the form (W. D. Form No. 47 alone, or both W. D. Forms Nos. 47 and 47–a, with or without further continuation sheets) constitutes an offer by the Government to contract on the terms set forth. So far as the information is available at the time the form is delivered to the Contractor, all applicable blanks should be filled in. Where a particular matter is not known at the time the form is delivered to the Contractor (for example, "Ship To" or "Schedule of Delivery"), the blank should be filled in with appropriate language indicating how such information will be subsequently furnished.

(5) When signed by the contractor in the space marked "Contractor's Acceptance" and returned to the Government in the time allowed, the form becomes a binding contract provided the contractor has not made any changes by way of deletion, interlineation or addition, thus departing from the terms of the offer. Contractors should be instructed to inform the Contracting Officer of any changes which appear to be required, so that amendments may be made and initialed by both parties, or a corrected form issued.

(6) General Provision No. 2 (Inspection) provides that "whether or not an inspection point is specified herein," inspection may occur at all times and places, etc. A line is provided on the face of W. D. Form No. 47 for insertion of inspection point.

(7) General Provision 3 (Variation in Quantities) permits a variation of 10% "unless otherwise specified." Statement of a permitted variation other than 10% may be inserted in any space on the form or on a continuation sheet.

(8) Methods of presenting invoices or vouchers, and of packing, marking and shipping will be as specified in any space on the form or on a continuation sheet, except as otherwise directed by the Contracting Officer.

(9) Continuation sheets may be used as extensions of columns on the form (for example, the column marked "Supplies or Services"), or for inclusion of any further contract clauses which may be necessary or advisable (for example, the clause on subcontracting, § 803.367, or patents clauses, § 803.335 et seq.).

(10) W. D. Forms 47 and 47–a will be requisitioned as prescribed in AR 310–200. Requisitioning agencies should specify bond or tissue in requisitioning these forms.

2. Inspection. Whether or not an inspection point is specified herein, all material and workmanship shall be subject to inspection and test at all times and places (including inspection and test after arrival at destination) and, when practicable, during manufacture. In case any articles are found to be defective in material or workmanship, or otherwise not in conformity with the specification requirements, the Government shall have the right to reject such articles, or require their correction. Final inspection shall be conclusive except as regards latent defects, fraud, or such gross mistakes as amount to fraud. In the event public necessity requires the use of materials or supplies not conforming to the specifications, payment therefor shall be made at a proper reduction in price.

3. Variation in quantities. (Insert clause in § 803.329.)

4. Notice of shipments. (Insert § 803.328). NOTE: Certain outstanding printed forms contain an earlier form of Notice of Shipments article which is authorized for use on such forms so long as the stock lasts.

Such representations and stipulations shall be subject to all applicable regulations, determinations, and exceptions of the Secretary of Labor now or hereafter in effect.

9. Convict labor. The Contractor shall not employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor.

10. Changes. Where the supplies to be furnished are to be specially manufactured in accordance with drawings and specifications, the Contracting Officer may at any time, by a written order, and without notice to the sureties, if any, make changes in the drawings or specifications. Changes as to shipment and packing of all supplies may also be made as above provided. If such changes cause an increase or decrease in the amount due under this contract, or in the time required for its performance, an equitable adjustment shall be made and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly.

11. Delays—Damages. If the Contractor refuses or fails to perform this contract within the time specified, or any extension thereof, the Government may, by written notice, terminate the right of the Contractor to proceed with deliveries or with such part or parts thereof as to which there has been delay, and may hold the Contractor liable for any damage caused the Government by reason of such termination. The right of the Contractor to proceed with the performance of this contract shall not be terminated under this General Provision 11 if the delay is due to causes beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor, including without being limited to, any preference, priority, or allocation order issued by the Government or any other act of the Government.

12. Disputes. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this contract, all disputes concerning questions of fact which may arise under this contract, and which are not disposed of by mutual agreement, shall be decided by the Contracting Officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail a copy thereof to the Contractor. Within 30 days from said mailing the Contractor may appeal to the Secretary of War, whose decision or that of his designated representative, representatives, or board shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto. Pending decision of a dispute hereunder the Contractor shall diligently proceed with the performance of this contract.

13. Assignment of rights hereunder. This General Provision 13 shall apply if this contract is for $1,000 or more, unless this contract is marked secret, confidential, or restricted. (Insert clause in § 803.355.)

WAR DEPARTMENT

Supplemental Contract to Contract No. ____ and Contract No. ____, etc.

Whereas, under date of ____ (Insert date of original contract) a contract numbered ____, was (Insert number of original contract) entered into between the United States of America by ____ (Insert name, rank, and branch of Contracting Officer) U. S. Army, as Contracting Officer, acting by authority of the Secretary of War, hereinafter referred to as the Government, and ____ (Insert name of contractor) a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ____ hereinafter referred to as the Contractor, providing for the construction of ____ (the furnishing of ____) (Insert number of units for amount of equipment purchased) by the Contractor, and

Whereas, it is provided by Section 201, Title II of Public Act No. 354, 77th Congress, approved December 18, 1941, that the President may authorize any department or agency of the Government exercising functions in connection with the prosecution of the war effort to enter into contracts and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, whenever he deems such action would facilitate the prosecution of the war; and

Whereas, by Executive Order 9001 issued December 27, 1941, the President has authorized the War Department to make such advance payments; and

Whereas, the making of advance payments to the Contractor is deemed necessary by the War Department to facilitate the prosecution of the war,

Now therefore, this supplemental contract is entered into this ____ day of ____, 194__, between the Government and the Contractor, said parties agreeing to and with each other as follows:

ARTICLE 1. At any time and from time to time, after the approval of this supplemental contract, at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ____ or his (Chief of technical service) duly authorized representative, or of the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments, as to the present need therefor, the Government shall advance to the Contractor sums not to exceed ____ or (Insert amount of advance payment) ____ per cent (____%) of the principal contract price (or principal contract prices), as it (they) may be amended, whichever shall be the smaller. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum to be computed in accordance with the provisions of Article 6 hereof.

ART. 2. As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe: Provided, That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this supplemental contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments; and Provided further, That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

ART. 3. Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this supplemental contract together with ---------- percent (---%) of all other cash payments under the principal contract (or principal contracts), shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System, or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balance in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of the principal contract (or principal contracts), (including reimbursement to the Contractor for any reasonable amounts expended by him for such purposes), and any amendments thereto, and not for the other business of the Contractor: (Provided: That it is understood that all funds deposited in the said special account created hereunder may be used by the Contractor for the purposes of either or all of the principal contracts without regard to the origin of such payments; and) [1] Provided: That for the purpose of determining proper disposition of funds hereunder such of the Contractor's costs as may not be directly allocable to the principal contract (or principal contracts), as it (or they) may be amended, may be charged against funds deposited in the special account in that proportion which the amount of the work being done under the principal contract (or principal contracts), as it (they) may be amended, approximately bears to the total amount of work being performed by the Contractor, out of which such costs also arise, but within the period to which such costs relate. When required by the ----------
his duly authorized representative, or by other person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, withdrawals from special account or accounts shall be made subject to the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances, which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank, or any other person, upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it on the principal contract (or contracts) or otherwise, Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, shall, insofar as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ----------or his duly authorized representative.

ART. 4. If, upon completion of the principal contract (or of any of the principal contracts), or upon the termination thereof for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the contractor in respect of such contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of such contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of such contract: Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unpaid advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of the principal contract (or of any of the principal contracts) because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor, notwithstanding any ultimate rights to be reimbursed, agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the ---------- or his
duly authorized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under Article 1 hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the ---------- or his
duly authorized representative the amount of such excess shall, upon demand by the ---------- or his
duly authorized representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this Article is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) rather than two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made: Provided, however, That such additional interest over and above the regular two and one-half percent is hereby waived as to any sums paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder.

ART. 5. Except as otherwise provided herein, liquidation of the principal of any advance payment or advance payments made to the Contractor hereunder shall be made by deductions of ---------- percent (---%) from any and all payments made by the Government under the terms of the principal contract (or principal contracts) or by means of direct repayments by the Contractor from his own free funds or from the special account or accounts: Provided: That if at any time, as a result of amendments to the principal contract (or principal contracts) or otherwise, the unliquidated balance of the principal of advance payments made exceeds ---------- percent (---%) of the balance of the total contract price then unpaid, the amount of such excess which has not then been expended or obligated shall upon demand of the ---------- or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government by withdrawal from the special account or accounts or otherwise, and that portion of the excess which has been expended or obligated may, at the option of the Contractor, be so returned and if not so returned, shall, together with any unexpended or unobligated portion of the excess not otherwise returned to the Government, be deducted from any and all payments to be made by the Government under the principal contract (or principal contracts): Provided further: That if and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

ART. 6. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits arising from deductions from payments to the Contractor under the principal contract or principal contracts shall be made, upon the issue of the check for such payment, as of the dates of shipment as indicated on the Contractor's invoice and/or Government Receiving Report, and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest so determined shall be deducted from the payments otherwise due the Contractor under this contract, Provided, however, That in no event shall deductions on account of interest exceed five percent (5%) of the gross payment due the Contractor prior to any deduction under this Article or Article 5 or any other provisions of this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds such five percent, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of Article 4 hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the Contractor completed his performance under the contract.

ART. 7. The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right, so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account or accounts.

[1] This proviso to be used where agreement is supplemental to two or more contracts.

ART. 8. Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed ------ percent (---%) of the subcontract price and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

ART. 9. If no surety bond is furnished as part of the security under Article 2 hereof, then, upon receipt of items or materials paid for from such special account or accounts, such items or materials shall be segregated and the Government shall have a lien on such items or materials until the advance payment or payments have been fully liquidated, or until the item or items and/or materials concerned have become the property of the Government as the result of partial payments, or otherwise; Provided, That, if segregation in any instance be impracticable and the items or materials concerned are consequently intermingled with other property of the Contractor, then and in that event the lien above provided for in favor of the Government shall extend to the intermingled mass to the amount represented by the value of the items or materials involved; and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such lien shall continue as follows: (a) In case the contract covers construction, until such items or materials are incorporated into the building, and thereafter on the building in the construction of which the items or materials are incorporated; (b) in the case of items or materials comprising facilities, on such facilities, both before and after their installation in the plant; and (c) in the case of articles contracted for, until the items or materials so paid for are fabricated into such articles, and thereafter on the articles until accepted by the Government [; and the Government shall hereby likewise have an effective assignment of a security interest in all intangible property purchased, or otherwise acquired with funds from said special account][1] If at any time during the progress of the work under the principal contract (or principal contracts) it becomes necessary to deliver any item or items and/or materials upon which the Government has a lien as aforesaid to a third person, the Contractor shall notify such third person of the lien herein provided and shall obtain from such third person a receipt, in duplicate, acknowledging, inter alia, the existence of such lien. A copy of each receipt shall be delivered by the Contractor to the Contracting Officer.

ART. 10. Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under the principal contract (or principal contracts) shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under the principal contract (or principal contracts) or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise: Provided, That, if at any time any claim arising under the principal contract (or principal contracts) is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the ---------- or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

ART. 11. Except as hereby amended, all the terms and conditions of the contract (or contracts) affected shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall also apply in carrying out the provisions of this agreement.

(Insert name of Contractor)
a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ----------, hereinafter referred to as the Contractor, providing for the construction of ---------- (the furnishing of ---------- (Insert number of units or amount of equipment purchased) by the Contractor, and

Whereas, it is provided by Section 201, Title II of Public Act No. 354, 77th Congress, approved December 18, 1941, that the President may authorize any department or agency of the Government exercising functions in connection with the prosecution of the war effort to enter into contracts and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon whenever he deems such action would facilitate the prosecution of the war; and

Whereas, by Executive Order 9001, issued December 27, 1941, the President has authorized the War Department to make such advance payments; and

Whereas, the making of advance payments to the Contractor is deemed necessary by the War Department to facilitate the prosecution of the war,

Now, therefore, this supplemental contract is entered into this ------ day of ----------, 194--, by the Government and the Contractor, said parties agreeing to and with each other as follows:

ART. 1. At any time and from time to time after the execution of this supplemental contract, the Government at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, or the person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, as to the present need therefor shall advance to the Contractor sums not to exceed ---------- per centum (------%) of the estimated cost of the principal contract (exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee), as it may be amended from time to time. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum to be computed in accordance with the provisions of Article 6 hereof.

ART. 2. As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe: Provided, That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this supplemental contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments; and Provided further: That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

ART. 3. Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this supplemental contract together with all funds received as reimbursements for the cost of the work under Article -------- of the principal contract, exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee, shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 264) separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balance in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of the principal contract and any amendments thereto, and not for other business of the Contractor. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall at all times secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances, which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of such contract or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ---------- or his

duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, shall, insofar as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ----------
or his duly authorized representative.

ART. 4. It is agreed that the aggregate of the advance payments outstanding under this supplemental contract, together with funds received as reimbursement for the cost of the work by the Contractor under Article ------- of the principal contract shall, at no time, exceed the total estimated cost of the work under the principal contract as it may be revised from time to time, and any such excess shall be immediately repaid by the Contractor to the Government or if any reimbursement is due from the Government to the Contractor, shall be deducted therefrom: Provided, however, That if the total cost of the work under the principal contract shall be in excess of the amount so paid to the Contractor, including said advance payments, the Government upon presentation of satisfactory evidence shall currently and promptly reimburse the Contractor to the extent of such excess cost (subject to any delay in the availability of appropriated funds).

ART. 5. If, upon completion of the principal contract, or upon the termination thereof for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor in respect of such contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of such contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of such contract: Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of the principal contract because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor, notwithstanding any ultimate rights to be reimbursed, agrees to return to the Government upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the ---------- duly authorized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under Article 1 hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the ----------
(Chief of technical service)
duly authorized representative, the amount of such excess shall, upon demand by the ---------- authorized representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this Article is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) rather than two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made: Provided, however, That such additional interest over and above the regular two and one-half percent is hereby waived as to any sums paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder. If and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder, and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

ART. 6. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits resulting from disbursements made by the Contractor which are applied against advance payments shall be made upon the approval of the vouchers therefor by the disbursing officer, as of the dates respectively upon which the contractor presents to the contracting officer or his duly authorized representative full and accurate data for the preparation of each such voucher which date shall, as to each such voucher, be certified by the contracting officer or his duly authorized representative on the face thereof; and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest charge so determined shall be deducted from any payments on account of the fixed fee which may be made to the Contractor from time to time under this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds any such payment, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments on account of the fixed fee. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of Article 5 hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the Contractor completed his performance under the contract.

ART. 7. The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account of accounts.

ART. 8. Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed ------ percent (------%) of the subcontract price or estimated cost, as the case may be, and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on or title to property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

ART. 9. Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under this contract shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under this contract or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise: Provided, That, if at any time any claim arising under this contract is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the ---------- or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

ART. 10. Except as hereby amended, all the terms and conditions of the contract affected shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall also apply in carrying out the provisions of this supplemental agreement.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have executed this supplemental contract on the day and year first above written.

Whereas, by Executive Order 9001, issued December 27, 1941, the President has authorized the War Department to make such advance payments; and

Whereas, the making of advance payments to the Contractor is deemed necessary by the War Department to facilitate the prosecution of the war,

Now, therefore, this supplemental contract is entered into this ---------- day of ----------, 194--, by the Government and the Contractor, said parties agreeing to and with each other as follows:

ARTICLE 1. At any time and from time to time after the approval of this supplemental contract, the Government at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ----------
or his duly authorized representative, or of the person to whom authority has been delegates to make advance payments, as to the present need therefor, shall advance to the Contractor sums not to exceed ------ percent (------%) of that amount authorized for expenditure or obligation under Paragraph 2 of such Letter Purchase Order as such amount may be modified or changed from time to time. On the unliquidated balance of advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum to be computed in accordance with the provisions of Article 6 hereof.

ART. 2. As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War, or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments, shall prescribe; Provided: That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this supplemental contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments, and Provided further: That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

ART. 3. Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this contract shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System, or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684 as amended; 12 U. S. C. 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. It is not contemplated that any reimbursement shall be made under the Letter Purchase Order until the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order is entered into, or such Letter Purchase Order is terminated by reason of default of the Contractor, or failure to enter into such more formal contract. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balance in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a fund for carrying out the purposes of the Letter Purchase Order and any amendments, revisions or changes thereto and not for other business of the Contractor. Withdrawals from such special bank account or accounts shall be subject to the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer unless he shall otherwise direct. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall at all times secure the repayment of the advances and all interests which may accrue thereon, in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances and the payment of all interest which may accrue thereon which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of such contract or otherwise: Provided, That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ----------
or his duly authorized representative, or the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of the --------
---------- or his duly authorized representative, shall, insofar as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ---------- or his duly authorized representative.

ART. 4. At such time as the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order is entered into, a provision will be made for advance payments not to exceed that percentage of the contract price agreed upon under such more formal contract as shall be deemed necessary by the Contracting Officer in order to provide the Contractor with adequate working capital to carry on the work contemplated by the Letter Purchase Order, as it may be modified or changed; Provided: That it is agreed that the Contractor shall continue to pay interest under the provisions of such more formal contract at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum on the unliquidated balance of advance payments outstanding, computed in accordance with existing regulations, and Provided: That if such percentage should exceed fifty percent (50%) of such contract price, or such contract price should exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) the contract shall be subject to the approval of higher authority in accordance with existing regulations of the War Department, and Provided: That the terms of such advance payment agreement shall be strictly in accordance with standard provisions now authorized under existing regulations. Such provisions shall treat such advances as may be made hereunder as though they were made pursuant to such more formal contract and shall provide for the liquidation of advances made hereunder accordingly.

ART. 5. If upon termination of the Letter Purchase Order for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor and all interest which may have accrued thereon in respect of such contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such payments and accrued interest shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of such contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of such contract; provided, however, that in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of the principal contract because of the fault of the Contractor, or its termination due to failure to enter into the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order, the Contractor notwithstanding any ultimate rights to be reimbursed, agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payments and any interest which may have accrued thereon; Provided: That the Contractor may retain in the account an amount sufficient to meet the outstanding obligations incurred by it in good faith pursuant to authorization by the Contracting Officer under Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order until assumption and discharge of such obligations by the Government or final disallowance thereof. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the ---------- or his duly authorized representative the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under Article 1 hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the ---------- (Chief of supply service)
or his duly authorized representative, the amount of such excess shall, upon demand by the ----------
or his duly authorized representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this Article is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) rather than at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made: Provided, however, That such additional interest over and above the regular two and one-half percent (2½%) is hereby waived as to any sum paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder. If and when the Contractor, has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made and all interest which may have accrued thereon, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligations to the Government on account thereof.

ART. 6. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half per cent (2½%) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor. It is agreed that pending the execution of the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order that the Contractor may, if he so elects, make direct repayment to the Government on account of advances made out of his own free funds, or may be required to make repayment out of the special account or otherwise as provided by Article 5. Credits arising out of such cash repayments shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made the interest charge shall be allowed to accrue, and shall not be payable until such time as provision is made for such payment under the provisions of the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order, except as provided by Article 5 hereof. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of Article 5, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor.

ART. 7. The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account or accounts.

ART. 8. Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors, suppliers and/or materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed _____ percent (_____%) of the subcontract price or estimated cost, as the case may be, and the subcontractor, supplier and/or materialman to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on or title to property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

ART. 9. The title to all work, completed or in the course of construction, preparation or manufacture under such Letter Purchase Order shall be in the Government. Likewise, upon delivery at the site of the work, at an approved storage site or other place approved by the Contracting Officer and upon inspection and acceptance in writing by the Contracting Officer, title to all materials, tools, machinery, equipment, and supplies for which the Contractor shall be entitled to reimbursement under the provisions of Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order shall vest in the Government. For the purposes of this supplemental contract, these provisions as to title being vested in the Government, are for security with respect to such advances as may be made hereunder, and shall cease and determine when the more formal contract contemplated by paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order is executed, unless specifically continued in effect by such more formal contract. These provisions as to title being vested in the Government shall not operate to relieve the Contractor from any duties imposed under the terms of the Letter Purchase Order, the more formal supplemental contract, or any other supplements thereto.

ART. 10. Except as hereby amended, all the terms and conditions of the Letter Purchase Order affected shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall also apply in carrying out the provisions of this supplemental agreement.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have executed this Supplemental Contract on the day and year first above written.

At any time and from time to time, after the approval of this supplemental contract, at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, or of the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments, as to the present need therefor, the Government shall advance to the Contractor, without payment of interest therefor by the Contractor, sums not to exceed _____ (Insert amount of advance payment) or _____ percentum (_____%) of the principal contract price (or principal contract prices), as it (they) may be amended, whichever shall be the smaller.

ART. 2. As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe: Provided, That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this supplemental contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments: Provided further, That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

ART. 3. Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this supplemental contract together with _____ percent (Insert % to be deposited (_____%) of all cash payments under which shall be not less than 85%)

[1] Where it is desired to combine advance payments for several principal contracts under one supplemental agreement this clause must be repeated for each contract concerned.

the principal contract (or principal contracts), shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balances in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this supplemental contract and the principal contract (or principal contracts), (including reimbursement to the Contractor for any reasonable amounts expended by him for such purposes), and any amendments thereto, and not for the other business of the Contractor; (Provided: That it is understood that all funds deposited in the said special account created hereunder may be used by the Contractor for the purposes of either or all of the principal contracts without regard to the origin of such payments)[1]; and Provided, That for the purpose of determining proper disposition of funds hereunder such of the Contractor's costs as may not be directly allocable to the principal contract, (or principal contracts), as it (or they) may be amended, may be charged against funds deposited in the special account in that proportion which the amount of the work being done under the principal contract (or principal contracts), as it (they) may be amended, approximately bears to the total amount of work being performed by the Contractor, out of which such costs also arise, but within the period to which such costs relate. When required by the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, or any other person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, withdrawals from special account or accounts shall be made subject to the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank, or any other person, upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of the principal contract (or contracts) or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the contracting officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, shall, in so far as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank of the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative.

[1] This proviso to be used where agreement is supplemental to two or more contracts.

ART. 4. If, upon completion of the principal contract (or of any of the principal contracts), or upon the termination thereof for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor in respect of such contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of such contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of such contract; provided, however, that in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of the principal contract (or of any of the principal contracts) because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without setoff of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under Article 1 hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, the amount of such excess shall, upon demand made by the _____ (Chief of technical service) or his duly authorized representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this Article is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made; Provided, however, that such payment of interest is hereby waived as to any sum paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder.

ART. 5. Except as otherwise provided herein, liquidation of any advance payment or advance payments made to the Contractor hereunder shall be made by deductions of _____ per cent (___%) from any and all payments made by the Government under the terms of the principal contract (or principal contracts) or by means of direct repayment by the Contractor from his own free funds or from the special account or accounts: Provided: That if at any time, as a result of amendments to the principal contract (or principal contracts) or otherwise, the unliquidated balance of the principal of advance payments made exceeds _____ per cent (___%) of the balance of the total contract price then unpaid, the amount of such excess which has not then been expended or obligated shall demand of the _____ (Chief of technical service), or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government by withdrawal from the special account or accounts or otherwise, and that portion of the excess which has been expended or obligated may, at the option of the Contractor, be so returned and if not so returned, shall, together with any unexpended or unobligated portion of the excess not otherwise returned to the Government, be deducted from any and all payments to be made by the Government under the principal contract (or principal contracts); Provided further; That, if and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money, remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

ART. 6. The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative shall have the right, so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account or accounts.

ART. 7. Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed _____ percent (___%) of the subcontract price and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

ART. 8. If no surety bond is furnished as part of the security under Article 2 hereof, then, upon receipt of items or materials paid for from such special account or accounts, such items or materials shall be segregated and the Government shall have a lien on such items or materials until the advance payment or payments have been fully liquidated, or until the item or items and/or materials concerned have become the property of the Government as the result of partial payments, or otherwise; Provided: That, if segregation in any instance be impracticable and the items or materials concerned are consequently intermingled with other property of the Contractor, then and in that event the lien above provided for in favor of the Government shall extend to the intermingled mass to the amount represented by the value of the items of materials involved; and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such lien shall continue as follows: (a) in case the contract covers construction, until such items or materials are incorporated into the building, and thereafter on the building in the construction of which the items or materials are incorporated; (b) in the case of items or materials comprising facilities, on such facilities both before and after their installation in the plant; and (c) in the case of articles contracted for, until the items or materials so paid for are fabricated into such articles, and thereafter on the articles until accepted by the Government; [and the Government shall hereby likewise have an effective assignment of a security interest in all intangible property purchased, or otherwise acquired with funds from said special account].[1] If at any time during the progress of the work under the principal contract (or principal contracts) it becomes necessary to deliver any item or items and/or materials upon which the Government has a lien as aforesaid to a third person, the Contractor shall notify such third person of the lien herein provided and shall obtain from such third person a receipt, in duplicate, acknowledging, among other things, the existence of such lien. A copy of each receipt shall be delivered by the Contractor to the Contracting Officer.

ART. 9. Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under the principal contract (or principal contracts) shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under the principal contract (or principal contracts) or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise; Provided: that, if at any time any claim arising under the principal contract (or principal contracts) is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the _____ or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

ART. 10. Except as hereby amended, all the terms and conditions of the contract (or contracts) affected shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall also apply in carrying out the provisions of this supplemental contract.

Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a special account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on or title to property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such sub-advances.

ART. 8. The title to all work, completed or in the course of construction, preparation or manufacture under such Letter Purchase Order shall be in the Government. Likewise, upon delivery at the site of the work, at an approved storage site or other place approved by the Contracting Officer and upon inspection and acceptance in writing by the Contracting Officer, title to all materials, tools, machinery, equipment, and supplies for which the Contractor shall be entitled to reimbursement under the provisions of Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order shall vest in the Government. For the purposes of this supplemental contract, these provisions as to title being vested in the Government, are for security with respect to such advances as may be made hereunder, and shall cease and determine when the more formal contract contemplated by paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order is executed, unless specifically continued in effect by such more formal contract. These provisions as to title being vested in the Government shall not operate to relieve the Contractor from any duties imposed under the terms of the Letter Purchase Order, the more formal supplemental contract, or any other supplements thereto.

ART. 9. Except as hereby amended, all the terms and conditions of the Letter Purchase Order affected shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall also apply in carrying out the provisions of this supplemental contract.

§ 813.1326 W. D. Contract Form No. 26—(a) Explanatory notes. (1) W. D. Contract Form No. 26 is available for use for sales by the Government of all types of Government-owned property (except sales of real estate or of buildings or improvements to be severed from real estate) where formal or informal competitive bids are desired or required. The form is intended for use in sales of scrap, waste, and salvage material as well as serviceable and repairable property.

(2) W. D. Contract Form No. 26 may be reproduced by the technical services. It is designed so that the Invitation, Bid and Government's Acceptance can be reproduced on one side of the page, and the General Provisions on the other. The Alternate and Additional Provisions and the Schedule of Property to be Sold may be reproduced on continuation sheets. No physical change or deletion need be made in the General Provisions in cases in which changes or omissions in the articles of the General Provisions are desired; such changes and omissions need only be noted in paragraph 4 of the Invitation. Additional and Alternate Articles should be designated by letters (rather than numbers) and specified in the appropriate place in paragraph 1 of the Invitation.

(3) The use of W. D. Contract Form No. 26 is mandatory for all sales of salvage, scrap, and waste material in place of W. D. Q.M.C. Form No. 327, wherever the securing of bids is authorized or required; to the extent required to conform herewith, TM 38-505 ("Salvage in Zone of Interior"), paragraph 55 and Appendices III and IV are rescinded. The form is available for use in cases of other sales, in accordance with § 821.113, and it is highly desirable that it be used wherever practicable. Subject to Procurement Regulations (e.g. § 803.306), Army Regulations, Technical Manuals (e.g. TM 38-505), and other War Department publications, the technical services (including the service commands) are authorized to permit or require changes or omissions in the General Provisions and the Alternate and Additional Provisions of the form, and to add appropriate Additional Provisions.

(4) It is suggested that the "Instructions to Contracting Officers" be reproduced as part of the form, with such additions and changes as may be required by the needs of the particular technical service. It is also suggested that General Provision 21 (Certificate of Compliance with OPA Regulations) be reproduced on a separate sheet and called to the attention of bidders where applicable, since the certificate requires the bidder's signature.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Deposits to accompany bid. Unless otherwise specified, bids must be accompanied by cash, certified check, bond, or postal money order made payable to the Treasurer of the United States in the amount of at least twenty per cent (20%) of the total sum of the bid. If the bidder does not receive an award, or if the deposit exceeds the total sum bid on the items accepted by the Government, such remittance or the excess thereof will be promptly returned to the bidder or Purchaser. In other cases, the amount inclosed with the bid will be retained as guarantee for the faithful performance of all the terms and conditions of the purchase: Provided, however, That if the contract, by its terms, cannot be performed in less than thirty (30) days the Purchaser shall have the option of substituting a performance bond, acceptable to the Contracting Officer, for the deposit being held as a performance guarantee.

2. Rejection of bids. The Government reserves the right to reject any or all bids, regardless of whether the same constitute the highest bids, to waive any informality in bids, and unless otherwise specified by the bidder, to accept any item or items in the bid.

3. Time for Government's acceptance. Unless otherwise specified herein, the bidder will allow thirty (30) days from the last date for the receiving of bids (as specified in the Invitation) for acceptance of its bid by the Government.

4. Terms of bid. Unless otherwise specified, bids must be submitted on the basis of the unit specified for the item in the Schedule, and bids may be submitted on any or all items. In case of error in the extension of prices in the bid, the unit prices will govern. Each sheet of the bid should show the name of the bidder.

5. Inspection. Bidders are invited and urged to inspect the property to be sold prior to submitting bids. Property will be available for inspection at the times specified in the Invitation. No labor will be furnished for such purpose. In no case will failure to inspect be considered ground for a claim.

6. Sale of property "as is". Unless otherwise specified, all property is sold "as is"; the Government makes no guaranty, warranty or representation, express or implied, as to the kind, size, weight, quality, character, description or condition of any of the property, or its fitness for any use or purpose; this is not a sale by sample.

7. Sale of property "where is"; delivery. Unless otherwise specified, the property is sold "where is", delivery shall be at the present location of the property, and removal shall be accomplished by the Purchaser at its expense; unless the Purchaser removes the property from such location within 10 days (or such other time as may be specified herein) after the date of the Government's Acceptance, the Government shall have the right to dispose of the property and hold the Purchaser responsible for any loss incurred by the Government as a result of the failure to pay for or remove the property; the time of removal, and such other details of removal as may not be provided for herein, shall be arranged with the Contracting Officer. Unless otherwise specified herein, payment in full must be made prior to removal of any property or immediately subsequent to weighing if weighing is necessary pursuant to General Provision 9.

8. Adjustment for variation in quantity. Unless otherwise specified, the quantities of the various items listed in the Schedule of Property to be Sold are approximate only. Any variation between the quantity stated for any item and the quantity of such item actually delivered to the Purchaser will be adjusted on the basis of the unit price quoted for such item prior to final payment.

9. Weighing. Where weighing is necessary to determine price hereunder, the Purchaser shall arrange for, and pay all expenses of weighing material, whether removal is by truck or by rail, including all switching charges incurred. In case of removal by truck, weighing shall be on (a) Government scales, or (b) other certified scales in the vicinity of present location or (c) certified scales in the vicinity of Purchaser's establishment, at the option of the Contracting

[2] Delete if a public opening is not appropriate.

Officer, and under his supervision. When removal is by rail, weighing shall be on railroad track scales or by other means acceptable to railroad for freight charge purposes. The weights thus determined shall govern payment.

10. Responsibility for property sold. The Purchaser assumes all responsibility and liability for the property after the date of the Government's Acceptance. The Government will exercise its usual care for protection of the property up to the time limit of removal, but will not be responsible for any loss or damage from any cause whatsoever.

11. Title. Title to the items of property sold hereunder shall vest in the Purchaser as and when full payment is made therefor.

12. Payment. If a deposit has been made, it will be applied against the total balance due. Payment of the balance, or of the full amount due from the Purchaser where no deposit has been required, shall be made by cash, or by certified check, bank draft, postal money order, or irrevocable letter of credit, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, in accordance with the Delivery provisions hereof.

13. Covenant against contingent fees. The Purchaser warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this contract upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the Government the right to annul the contract, or at its option, to recover from the Purchaser the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee, in addition to the consideration herein set forth. This warranty shall not apply to commissions payable by the Purchaser upon contracts or purchases secured or made through bona fide established commercial agencies maintained by the Purchaser for the purposes of doing business.

14. Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

15. Anti-discrimination. (a) The Purchaser, in performing the work required by this contract, shall not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, or national origin.

(b) The Purchaser agrees that the provisions of paragraph (a) will also be inserted in all of its subcontracts. For the purpose of this article, a subcontract is defined as any contract entered into by the Purchaser with any individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust or other business enterprise or other legal entity, for a specific part of the work to be performed in connection with the sale of property under this contract: Provided, however, That a contract for the furnishing of standard or commercial articles or raw materials shall not be considered as a subcontract.

16. Price adjustment. If at the time of payment for any of the property by the Purchaser, a maximum price lower than that quoted shall have been established by the Office of Price Administration or other duly constituted authority and shall be in effect and expressly applicable to this sale, the price of such property shall be reduced to such maximum price.

17. Compliance with OPA and WPB orders and regulations, etc. The Purchaser warrants and represents that this transaction is, and all of its future transactions with the property sold hereunder will be, in compliance with applicable orders and regulations of the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board or similar authority. The Purchaser also warrants and represents that it has not directly or indirectly entered into any agreement or arrangement, express or implied, of any nature which will affect full and free competitive bidding upon any of the items of property sold hereunder.

18. Scrap warranty. The Purchaser agrees that as to any item awarded to it at prices not in excess of applicable Office of Price Administration ceiling prices for scrap it will sell and ship or use the same only as scrap, either in its existing condition or after further preparation and only in conformity with all applicable orders and regulations of the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board.

19. Disputes. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this contract, all disputes concerning questions of fact which may arise under this contract, and which are not disposed of by mutual agreement, shall be decided by the Contracting Officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail a copy thereof to the Purchaser. Within thirty (30) days from said mailing the Purchaser may appeal to the Secretary of War, whose decision or that of his designated representative, representatives, or board shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto. Pending decision of a dispute hereunder the Purchaser shall diligently proceed with the performance of this contract.

20. Definitions. Except for the original signing of this contract, and except as otherwise stated herein, the term "Contracting Officer" as used herein shall include his duly appointed successor or his authorized representative.

21. Certificate of compliance with OPA regulations. No bid will be considered unless the following certificate is completed and executed by the bidder. Bidders will strike out inapplicable words.

Certificate: The bidder represents and certifies to the United States of America:

That the prices to be paid for the goods purchased under this bid and contract do not exceed one of the following:

(a) The maximum price applicable to purchases by the bidder, from usual sources of supply, of the goods in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in this bid, or

(b) The maximum selling price applicable to sales by the bidder, in its capacity as a manufacturer, producer or processor of the same goods, disregarding minor differences in specifications or design, in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in this bid.

ALTERNATE AND ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS

(NOTE: Explanatory notes do not form any part of this contract.)

A. Adjustment for variation in quantity. As to any item for which a price per unit is specified in the Schedule of Property to be Sold, the Purchaser agrees to accept and pay at the quoted unit price for any number of units delivered or offered for delivery by the Government, up to and including _____per cent (%) more or less than the estimated quantity stated in the schedule.

NOTE: The foregoing article, properly completed, may be included, in substitution for Article 8 of the General Provisions, where it is deemed desirable and is authorized by applicable regulations, technical manuals, and other War Department publications. The contract should not contain both Article 8 of the General Provisions and the foregoing Article A of the Alternate and Additional Provisions.

B. Delivery. Delivery to Purchaser shall be f. o. b. (cars) (truck) (wharf) at present location. Unless the Purchaser shall remove the property within _____ days after date of the Government's acceptance, or unless proper shipping instructions are received within the same time limit, the Government shall have the right to dispose of the property and to hold the Purchaser responsible for any loss incurred by the Government as a result of the Purchaser's failure to comply with the contract. If necessary, the time of removal, and other details of removal, shall be arranged with the Contracting Officer. Unless otherwise specified herein, payment in full must be made prior to removal of the property, or immediately subsequent to weighing, if weighing is necessary pursuant to General Provision 9.

NOTE: The foregoing article, properly completed, may be included, in substitution for Article 7 of the General Provisions, where it is deemed desirable and is authorized by applicable regulations, technical manuals, and other War Department publications. The contract should not contain both Article 7 of the General Provisions and the foregoing Article B of the Alternate and Additional Provisions.

(2) Quantity. The quantities of the various items listed are based upon the best information available and in each case represent the estimated and not the actual amounts which will be available for delivery during the period stated herein. Except as otherwise stated herein, the fact that specific quantities available for delivery vary from the quantities listed herein will not relieve the Government of its obligation to deliver to the Purchaser the actual amount to be sold hereunder and will not release the Purchaser from his obligation to purchase all such amounts.

(3) Termination. This contract shall remain effective until date of expiration, provided that it may be earlier terminated at the convenience of the Government upon thirty (30) days' notice in writing given by the contracting officer to the Purchaser.

(4) Delivery. Delivery hereunder shall be as follows: _____

(5) Payment. Payment will be made on or before the _____ day of each month for the materials received during the preceding month.

(6) Changes in maximum prices. In the event that the schedule of maximum prices prescribed by the Office of Price Administration or similar authority covering any of the items sold hereunder is changed during the life of the contract, the prices to be paid thereafter by the Purchaser shall be increased or decreased by a percentage equivalent to the percentage of increase or decrease in the maximum price for such items.

NOTE: (1) The foregoing clauses, properly completed, will be included in sales of an indefinite quantity of scrap, waste or salvage to be delivered over a given period of time.

(2) General Provisions 16 (Price adjustment) will be omitted whenever Article C (6) (Changes in maximum prices) is included.

(3) Care should be taken to delete or change other General Provisions (e.g. Delivery) which may be inapplicable or inconsistent.

(4) Additional clauses may be inserted, as required by local conditions, and authorized by applicable regulations, technical manuals, and other War Department publications.

D. Use warranty. The Purchaser represents and warrants that it will use or consume the property included in Items _____ in the United States for manufacturing, construction, maintenance or repair purposes, and the Purchaser agrees that if it does not use or consume any of the items, it will not resell them at a profit.

NOTE: This provision, properly completed, must be included where such a warranty is required by Parts 823 or 844.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CONTRACTING OFFICERS

A. This form may be used for negotiated sales by the Government of all types of Government-owned property, except (a) sales to the Defense Plant Corporation or other Government agencies and departments, and (b) sales of real estate or of buildings or improvements to be severed from real estate.

B. No changes should be made in any of the contract articles except as authorized by Procurement Regulations, the technical services or other appropriate authority. Articles which are inapplicable and are not to be included in the contract should be deleted (See e. g. Instructions 2–9). Inapplicable portions of printed articles should be lined out or deleted (See e. g. Instruction 4). Both the printed and the additional articles included in the contract should be expressly listed in Article 20.

C. Subject to War Department Procurement Regulations, instructions as to the inclusion or addition of articles in particular types of sales may be issued by the technical services, service commands and other commands, having jurisdiction over sales by the Government of Government-owned property. These sources, as well as applicable technical manuals (e. g. TM 38-505 "Salvage in Zone of Interior") and other War Department publications, should be consulted.

* * * * * *

1. If the sale is by a salvage officer of surplus property, in the cases authorized by Subchapter B or Part 844 of Subchapter C, or TM 38-505 ("Salvage in Zone of Interior"), Article 1 will clearly state that the contract pertains to the sale of surplus property.

2. Either Article 3 or Article 3A, or neither, but not both, may be incuded, subject to the instructions mentioned in paragraph C of these instructions.

3. Either Article 4 or Article 4A, but not both, may be included, subject to the instructions mentioned in paragraph C. Both may be omitted if other provisions concerning delivery are included in the contract.

4. Either Article 5 or Article 5A, or neither, but not both, may be included, subject to the instructions mentioned in paragraph C. If some or all warranties of description or quality are not to be negatived, appropriate portions of Article 5 may be omitted or deleted.

5. Care should be taken to insert Payment provisions which do not conflict with other provisions of the contract, e. g. the applicable Delivery article.

6. Article 11 should be included in all sales to which the certificate set forth in §§ 821.-111-4 or 844.436-4 is applicable.

7. Article 15 should be included in sales of scrap, in accordance with Parts 824 and 844.

8. Article 16 must be included in sales to war contractors authorized by Part 823.

9. Article 17 must be included where required by Parts 823 or 844.

10. Article 20 should be used (1) for indicating the printed articles and the additional articles included in the contract (2) for inserting additional articles, and (3) for recording alterations made in the standard articles.

11. If approval of higher authority is to be obtained before the contract becomes effective, an additional provision to this effect should be inserted.

§ 813.1327 Standard Procurement Form No. 3 and related forms (WD AGO Forms 299, 299–1, 299–2). The instructions for the use of these forms, which formerly appeared in this section, are now set forth at § 802.243–2. These forms are no longer reproduced in procurement regulations. WD AGO Form 299 was revised on March 1, 1945; Form 299–1 was revised on February 1, 1945; and Form 299–2 was revised on March 1, 1945. Form 299 (July 12, 1944) and Form 299–2 (August 31, 1944) will not be used after the revised forms are available. Since revised Forms 299 and 299–2 differ materially from the earlier versions, the revised forms should always be used together; that is to say, the August 31, 1944 edition of Form 299–2 should not be used with the March 1, 1945 edition of Form 299 and the March 1, 1945 edition of Form 299–2 should not be used with the July 12, 1944 edition of Form 299. Form 299–1 (July 12, 1944) may be used until existing stocks are exhausted. The revised forms will be requisitioned and distributed as prescribed in AR 310–200. They will be identified as follows for requisition purposes:

(Address)

Gentlemen:

1. The operation of the Controlled Materials Plan makes it necessary that raw materials subject to that plan be ordered in advance in order to insure the availability of such materials in the event that the Government may decide to place supply contracts with you in the future for ---------- ---------- (description of item). It is likely that in some instances your allotment authority under CMP will extend through ----------, 19--, which date may be beyond the completion date of your present supply contract or contracts.

2. You are directed, upon your acceptance of this commitment, to place purchase orders for materials under CMP, required in the production of ----------, immediately upon receipt of your allotment authority in furtherance of which you are authorized to expend or obligate not more than ---------- Dollars ($---------).

3. All applicable articles (other than the article "Termination for the Convenience of the Government") now required by Federal law, Executive Order, or War Department Procurement Regulations to be included in contracts of the kind herein described are incorporated herein by reference.

4. (a) In the event that supply contracts are placed looking to the utilization of all or a part of the raw materials acquired hereunder, there will be executed simultaneously with the execution of such supply contract or contracts a supplemental agreement to this Letter of Commitment either extinguishing or reducing, as the case may be, the amount obligated under this Letter of Commitment to the extent that such materials are to be utilized in the performance of such supply contract or contracts.

It is understood that the issuance of this Letter of Commitment, and its acceptance by you, do not create any obligation on the part of the Government to place supply contracts with you looking to the utilization of all or part of the materials under CMP ordered by you under your allotment authority.

(b) The Government may at any time terminate this commitment in whole or in part for its convenience by giving you written notice of such termination. In the event of such termination the Government's liability shall extend only to costs incurred and commitments made for materials under CMP to be delivered through, but not beyond ----------, but in no event shall the total amount paid or reimbursed the contractor exceed the amount above specified.

(c) In the event that you are not awarded a new supply contract or continuation contract enabling you to utilize all or a part of the materials under CMP ordered by you under your allotment authority, you will be so notified and this Letter of Commitment terminated in accordance with paragraph 4 (b) above. Thereupon, you and the Contracting Officer will attempt to agree by negotiation upon a settlement estimated by the parties to be the aggregate amount of the costs incurred by you in the performance of this commitment and the amounts paid or to be paid by you or for your account in settling with the approval of the Contracting Officer your obligations for commitments made in the performance of this agreement. Any such negotiated settlement shall be embodied in a Supplemental Agreement.

(d) If you and the Contracting Officer are not able to agree upon such a negotiated settlement within 90 days after the effective date of the termination (or within such longer period as at any time may be mutually agreed upon), the Government binds itself to reimburse you for the costs incurred by you in the performance of this commitment and for any amounts paid by you or for your account in settling with the approval of the Contracting Officer your obligations for commitments made in the performance of this agreement. In lieu of reimbursing you for expenditures made by you in settling any of your obligations for commitments, the Government, in the discretion of the Contracting Officer, may assume such obligations or any of them.

(e) The Government may permit you to sell or retain at prices or on terms agreed to by the Government any materials, and the proceeds of any such sale, or such agreed amounts, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(f) Upon payment or reimbursement to you pursuant to paragraph 4 (c) or 4 (d) of this commitment, title to all materials for which you are so paid or reimbursed (except such property as may be sold or retained by you as above provided) will vest in the Government. The Government will also become entitled to any rights under any commitment which it may assume, or for the settlement of which it shall have reimbursed you.

(g) Any dispute which arises under this paragraph 4 regarding a matter of fact will be treated and resolved as a dispute under the "Disputes" article incorporated in this commitment by reference.

(h) Partial payments on account of any amount admittedly due to you pursuant to this paragraph 4 may be made by the Government at any time in the discretion of the Contracting Officer.

5. The sums to be expended by the Government hereunder are chargeable to the following allotments, the available balances of which are sufficient to cover the same:

6. Your acceptance of this commitment will be indicated by affixing your signature on this letter and two copies thereof and mailing or delivering the executed original and one executed copy to the Contracting Officer not later than _____, 19____. Such acceptance will constitute this commitment a contract on the terms set forth herein.

7. This instrument is authorized by and has been negotiated under the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001.

Law 104, 78th Congress) and by the act of June 28, 1944 (Public Law 378, 78th Congress) and (c) Executive Orders Nos. 8942 (6 F. R. 5909), 9024 (7 F. R. 329), 9040 (7 F. R. 527), 9138 (7 F. R. 2919), 9280 (7 F. R. 10179), 9294 (8 F. R. 221), 9322 (8 F. R. 3807) and 9334 (8 F. R. 5423). By such Executive orders the President delegated to various persons, including the Secretary of War, the power to initiate requisitions under the act. The Secretary of War, by order dated December 11, 1941, assigned to the Under Secretary of War the functions, powers and duties so delegated to him. As a result of such delegation and assignment, the Under Secretary of War makes final determination as to the existence of statutory authority to requisition property desired to be requisitioned by the War Department and, if the Proposal to requisition and the proposed disposal of the property is approved by the Army and Navy Munitions Board and in proper cases, by the Chairman of the War Production Board, the War Food Administrator or the Office of Defense Transportation, issues the Requisition. He also makes final administrative determination as to the amount of compensation to be paid for property requisitioned by the War Department.

§ 814.1402 All requisitioning by or on behalf of the Army to be in accordance with this part. All property to be requisitioned by or on behalf of the Army under the authorities referred to in § 814.1401 will be requisitioned as provided in this part, unless authority to requisition the property otherwise has been specifically granted. However, the procedure prescribed by this part relates only to requisitioning under such authorities and does not apply to, or prescribe procedure for, any other methods of requisitioning or commandeering which may be available to officers in theaters of operations.

§ 814.1403 Policy in respect of requisitioning property. Requisitioning will not be used as a substitute for purchasing. However, if purchasing is not feasible, because there is doubt as to the ownership of the property, or the owner refuses to sell or refuses to sell at a reasonable price, or for any other reason, requisitioning will be resorted to in those cases permitted by the authorities referred to in § 814.1401. Such authorities and this part provide an expeditious method of obtaining the property and, to promote such end, each step in the procedure outlined herein will be expedited.

(a) "Property" means personal property, and includes all items of property which have been, or may be, requisitioned under the authorities referred to in § 814.1401.

(b) "Chief Requisition Officer" means any person designated by the chief of a technical service to act on his behalf with respect to all requisitions initiated by such technical service. The chief of each technical service promptly will, if he has not already done so, designate one or more Chief Requisition Officers, and advise the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, of such designation. Any change in such designation will also similarly be reported promptly.

(c) "Initiating Requisition Officer" means the contracting officer (as defined in Part 803) or other person who would have purchased the property had it been possible to obtain the property by purchase, or such other person as a Chief Requisition Officer may designate or approve as the person to perform the functions herein provided to be performed by the Initiating Requisition Officer.

(d) "Serving Officer" means any officer, agent or employee of the United States designated in the Statement accompanying a Proposal to requisition as the person or persons to make personal service of the Requisition.

(e) "Initial Compensation Officer" means the person designated by a Chief Requisition Officer preliminarily to determine fair and just compensation for property requisitioned, which person may be the Initiating Requisition Officer or any other person who, because of his familiarity with the value of the property or his being stationed at or near the residence or whereabouts of the persons entitled to receive such compensation, or otherwise, is deemed to be an appropriate person initially and preliminarily to determine fair and just compensation.

(f) "Legal Branch, Director of Matériel" means the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C.

SUBPART B—ACQUISITION OF PROPERTY BY REQUISITION

(1) The property is military or naval equipment or munitions, or component parts thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials, or supplies necessary for the manufacture, servicing, or operation thereof;

(2) The property was ordered, manufactured, procured, or possessed for export purposes, and that the exportation thereof has been prohibited or curtailed in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of the act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 714) as amended by the Act of June 30, 1942 (56 Stat 463, 50 U.S.C. App. 701), by the Act of July 1, 1944 (Public Law 397; 78th Congress) or by any other law; and

(3) It is necessary in the interest of national defense or prosecution of the war to requisition and take over the property for use or operation by the United States or in its interest.

(b) The Act of October 16, 1941, as amended, authorizes the taking of property, other than fire arms possessed by an individual for his personal protection or sport, possession of which is not prohibited by existing law, by requisition, if the taking will not impair or infringe in any manner the right of any individual to keep and bear arms, when it is determined that:

(1) The property is military or naval equipment, supplies, or munitions, or component parts thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials necessary for the manufacture, servicing, or operation of such equipment, supplies, or munitions;

(2) The use of the property is needed for the defense of the United States;

(3) Such need is immediate and impending and such as will not admit of delay or resort to any other source of supply; and

(4) All other means of obtaining the use of the property for the defense of the United States upon fair and reasonable terms have been exhausted.

§ 814.1406 Initiation of requisition proceedings.

§ 814.1406–1 Preparation of proposal and statement by Initiating Requisition Officer. Having satisfied himself as to the existence of statutory authority to requisition the property, the Initiating Requisition Officer will prepare and execute a Proposal and Statement in the appropriate one of the forms set forth in §§ 814.1417 and 814.1418; the form set forth in § 814.1417 being used if the property is to be requisitioned under the 1940 act and the form set forth in § 814.1418 being used if the property is to be requisitioned under the 1941 act. Copies of such forms of Proposals and Statement may be obtained from the Chief Requisition Officer or from the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel but, to expedite the proceedings, the Initiating Requisition Officer may type or otherwise appropriately reproduce such forms. The following will be observed in the preparation of Proposals and Statements regardless of which form is used, to the extent practicable under the particular circumstances of each case:

The Initial Compensation Officer and the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, will be advised by the Chief Requisition Officer of any additional Notices of Requisition so served by him or on his behalf.

SUBPART C—DETERMINATION AND PAYMENT OF FAIR AND JUST COMPENSATION

§ 814.1410 Statutory obligation to pay fair and just compensation. The act of October 10, 1940, as amended, provides that fair and just compensation shall be paid to the owner of the property; and the act of October 16, 1941, as amended, provides that fair and just compensation determined in accordance with the provisions for just compensation of the fifth amendment of the Constitution of the United States, shall be paid to the person entitled to receive such compensation. If either such "owner" or such "person entitled to receive" compensation is unwilling to accept the amount so determined, the acts direct that he shall be paid 50% of such amount and shall be entitled to sue the United States for such additional sum as, when added to the sum so paid to him, he considers to be fair and just compensation for the property; the 1940 act providing however that judicial recovery "shall be confined to the fair market value" of the property "without any allowance for prospective profits, punitive or other damages."

§ 814.1411 Determination of person or persons entitled to receive fair and just compensation. Determination of the person or persons entitled to receive the fair and just compensation to be paid for the property will be made by the Chief Requisition Officer or, if there are conflicting claims of ownership which the Chief Requisition Officer is unable to resolve, by the War Department Board of Contract Appeals. Persons claiming the right to such compensation will be required to furnish such evidence of their right thereto as may be required to permit compensation safely to be paid to them and as may be appropriate in the particular case. The Chief Requisition Officer will consider persons owning, or having a lien or other property interest in, the property at the time of taking to be an "owner" or a "person entitled to receive" compensation as such terms are used in the acts. In cases where there were possessory or recorded liens against, or other ownership interest in, the property outstanding at the time of its taking, especially if the validity thereof depend upon the beneficial owner having acquiesced in their creation, the beneficial owner will be asked to agree to the validity of such liens or interest and to the portion, if any, of the fair and just compensation properly payable to the holders thereof.

§ 814.1412–1 Preliminary determination of compensation by Initial Compensation Officer. Promptly after the requisitioning of the property and after consultation, to the extent feasible, with all persons entitled to receive such compensation (the place or places of such consultation to be determined with due regard to the residence or whereabouts of such persons) the Initial Compensation Officer will preliminarily determine the fair and just compensation to be paid for the property.

§ 814.1412–2 Basis for such determination by Initial Compensation Officer. Such preliminary determination will be in an amount determined to be the fair market value of the property (i. e., of the actual articles or materials taken) as of the time and place of taking but not in excess of the applicable ceiling or fixed price, if any, established by the Office of Price Administration, or value otherwise established by law, and in effect at the time of the taking.

§ 814.1412–3 Report of Initial Compensation Officer. The Initial Compensation Officer promptly will transmit to the Chief Requisition Officer (a) his report stating the amount so preliminarily determined by him to be fair and just compensation for the property; that such amount represents the fair market value of the property at the time and place of the taking of the property; and that it is within such ceiling or fixed price and (b) the copy of the Requisition, and the copy of the Report of the Serving Officer transmitted to him by the Serving Officer. If such report is not so transmitted within thirty (30) days after the taking of the property, the Initial Compensation Officer will also state therein the reasons why he was unable to transmit it within such thirty-day period.

§ 814.1412–4 Procedure to be followed if amount so determined is acceptable to persons entitled to compensation. If the amount of fair and just compensation so determined by the Initial Compensation Officer is acceptable to the person or persons entitled to receive compensation on account of the taking of the property, the Initial Compensation Officer will request each of such persons to execute and acknowledge, in triplicate, a Stipulation and Release, in the form of that set forth in § 814.1431, modified as may be appropriate, and will transmit such copies thereof with the report required by § 814.1412–3. If the Chief Requisition Officer approves, on behalf of his technical service, of the amount so preliminarily determined to be fair and just compensation for the property, is satisfied that such Stipulation and Releases are appropriate under the circumstances and duly executed, and that the persons executing them are the persons, and the only persons, entitled to receive fair and just compensation for the property, he will transmit to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, one original of each such Stipulation and Release and a duly executed Certificate of Ownership and Fair and Just Compensation, in the form of that set forth in § 814.1430, modified as may be appropriate.

§ 814.1412–5 Conditions under which Notice to Present Claims and other documents will be served and method of service. If the amount of fair and just compensation so preliminarily determined by the Initial Compensation Officer is not acceptable to the person or persons entitled to receive compensation on account of the taking of the property, or if there is uncertainty as to the person or persons entitled to receive such compensation, the Chief Requisition Officer will, to the extent practicable, serve, or cause to be served, upon each of the persons upon whom a Notice of Requisition was served, a Notice to Present Claims, with instructions, a form of Proof of Claim, with an appropriate form of verification, and a form of Disclaimer, in the respective forms of those set forth in §§ 814.1424 to 814.1428, inclusive. Such documents will be served either personally or by registered mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the last known address of the person being served, and a record of the time and method of such service will be preserved in the files of the Chief Requisition Officer. The Chief Requisition Officer will transmit to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, an original of each such Proof of Claim and Disclaimer received by him.

§ 814.1412–6 Determination of compensation by Chief Requisition Officer and service of Notice of Preliminary Determination. Promptly after the expiration of the thirty-day period, or such extension thereof as he may grant, for filing Proofs of Claims, the Chief Requisition Officer will make or cause to be made on behalf of his technical service determination of fair and just compensation for the property and will, to the extent practicable, give notice of such determination to all persons known or believed to be entitled to share in such compensation; such notice to be incorporated in a Notice of Preliminary Determination in the form of that set forth in § 814.1429 and to be given by personal service or by registered mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the last known addresses of such persons. Simultaneously therewith a copy of such Notice of Preliminary Determination will be forwarded to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel. In making such determination the amount preliminarily determined by the Initial Compensation Officer, the objections made thereto by the claimants, evidence of fair and just compensation supplied by the claimants and all other pertinent factors will be given appropriate consideration.

§ 814.1412–7 Consideration of objections of claimants to amount of compensation so determined; reaffirmation or revision of determination; subsequent procedure if amount is acceptable to claimants. Any person having an interest in the property may, within thirty (30) days after service of such Notice of Preliminary Determination, or such additional period of time as the Chief Requisition Officer shall permit, file written objections thereto with the Chief Requisition Officer specifying in reasonable detail the grounds of his objections. After full consideration of such objections, if any, and such consultation or communication with the objecting and other claimants and with members of his technical service in respect of them as may be appropriate, the Chief Requisition Officer will either affirm his previous determination or make a new determination of fair and just compensation for the property and will request the person or persons entitled to receive such compensation to execute and acknowledge, in triplicate, a Stipulation and Release in the form of that set forth in § 814.1431, modified as may be appropriate. If such Stipulation and Releases are so executed, the Chief Requisition Officer will transmit to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, one original of each thereof and a duly executed Certificate of Ownership and Fair and Just Compensation in the form of that set forth in § 814.1430, modified as may be appropriate.

§ 814.1412–8 Submission to Board of Contract Appeals. If the amount of fair and just compensation so determined is not acceptable to the person or persons entitled to receive compensation on account of the taking of the property or if there are conflicting claims of ownership which the Chief Requisition Officer is unable to resolve, he will, if the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, advises that the Under Secretary of War desires the recommendation of the War Department Board of Contract Appeals, submit the matter to the Board as provided in § 814.1432. Copy of the submission to the Board will be forwarded to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel.

§ 814.1412–9 Proceedings before Board of Contract Appeals. All claimants will be entitled to a hearing before the Board in accordance with the rules of procedure prescribed by the Board and a stenographic transcript of the hearings before the Board and copies of all written evidence will be preserved.

§ 814.1412–10 Determination by Board of Contract Appeals. After hearing, the Board will make recommendation as to the amount of fair and just compensation to be paid for the property or, if requested so to do and such is possible, determination as to the person or persons entitled to receive such compensation and will simultaneously forward copies of its decision in the matter to the Chief Requisition Officer and to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel. In the event the Board is unable to determine the person or persons entitled to receive the fair and just compensation to be paid for the property it will make its recommendation as to what further disposition should be made of the matter.

§ 814.1412–11 Procedure after hearing by Board of Contract Appeals. If the person or persons entitled to receive fair and just compensation for the property has or have been determined, the Chief Requisition Officer will request such person or persons to accept the amount so determined as fair and just compensation for the property and to execute and acknowledge, in triplicate, a Stipulation and Release in the form of that set forth in § 814.1431, and if such Stipulation and Releases are executed, will transmit to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, one original of each thereof and a duly executed Certificate of Ownership and Fair and Just Compensation, in the form of that set forth in § 814.1430, modified as may be appropriate. If the person or persons entitled to receive the fair and just compensation for the property has or have not been determined or if such person or persons has or have been determined but refuse to execute such Stipulation and Releases, the Chief Requisition Officer will transmit to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, such a duly executed Certificate of Ownership and Fair and Just Compensation, modified as may be appropriate.

§ 814.1413 Final determination of fair and just compensation. Fair and just compensation for the property will be finally determined by the Under Secretary of War and, when so determined, the original and a duplicate original of the Award thereof will be transmitted to the Chief Requisition Officer for forwarding to the disbursing officer for payment in those cases in which the persons entitled to receive the compensation have been determined. Should it be impossible to determine the person or persons entitled to receive such compensation, the proper appropriation or fund will be charged with the amount of the Award and the Chief Requisition Officer will be advised as to the further disposition to be made of the matter.

§ 814.1414 Payment of fair and just compensation. The disbursing officer to whom an Award has been transmitted will make payment as provided in the Award except that if the person or persons entitled to receive the compensation shall refuse to accept the amount so awarded as full and complete compensation for the property taken, or for his interest therein, the disbursing officer shall pay to him but 50% of the amount so awarded to him. Coincident with any such payment the disbursing officer will have the payee execute, in triplicate, an Acknowledgment of Receipt of such payment or a Stipulation, Release and Receipt, as shall be appropriate, in the form of that forwarded to him with such Award. Two executed copies of such Acknowledgement of Receipt or of such Stipulation, Release and Receipt will be returned by the disbursing officer to the Chief Requisition Officer, who will forward one executed copy to the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel.

SUBPART D—RETURN OF REQUISITIONED PROPERTY AND DISPOSITION OF PROCEEDS OF REQUISITIONED PROPERTY

§ 814.1415 Return of requisitioned property to former owner under certain conditions. The Act of October 16, 1941, as amended, provides that whenever it is determined that property requisitioned under that Act and retained is no longer needed for the defense of the United States it shall, if the original owner desires the property and pays the fair value thereof, be returned to such owner and that, in any event, property so acquired and retained shall, if such owner desires the property and pays the fair value thereof, be returned to him not later than December 31, 1945. Should a technical service determine that property requisitioned by it and retained is no longer needed for the defense of the United States it shall advise the Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, which will prescribe the procedure to be followed in effecting its return.

§ 814.1416 Disposition of proceeds from property requisitioned and sold or disposed of under 1940 act. The act of October 10, 1940, as amended, provides that any moneys received by the United States as the proceeds of any sale or other disposition of property requisitioned thereunder or any portion thereof shall be deposited to the credit of the appropriation out of which was paid the cost to the Government of the property thus sold or disposed of, and the same shall immediately become available for the purpose named in the original appropriation.

§ 814.1450–1 Basic statute. Section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 892; 50 U. S. C. A. 309) provides:

The President is empowered, through the head of the War Department or the Navy Department of the Government, in addition to the present authorized methods of purchase or procurement, to place an order with any individual, firm, association, company, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry for such product or material as may be required, and which is of the nature and kind usually produced or capable of being produced by such individual, firm, company, association, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry.

Compliance with all such orders for products or material shall be obligatory on any individual, firm, association, company, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry or the responsible head or heads thereof and shall take precedence over all other orders and contracts theretofore placed with such individual, firm, company, association, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry, and any individual, firm, association, company, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry or the responsible head or heads thereof owning or operating any plant equipped for the manufacture of arms or ammunition or parts of ammunition, or any necessary supplies or equipment for the Army or Navy, and any individual, firm, association, company, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry or the responsible head or heads thereof owning or operating any manufacturing plant, which, in the opinion of the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy shall be capable of being readily transformed into a plant for the manufacture of arms or ammunition, or parts thereof, or other necessary supplies or equipment, who shall refuse to give to the United States such preference in the matter of the execution of orders, or who shall refuse to manufacture the kind, quantity, or quality of arms or ammunition, or the parts thereof, or any necessary supplies or equipment, as ordered by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, or who shall refuse to furnish such arms, ammunition, or parts of ammunition, or other supplies or equipment, at a reasonable price as determined by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, as the case may be, then, and in either such case, the President, through the head of the War or Navy Departments of the Government, in addition to the present authorized methods of purchase or procurement, is hereby authorized to take immediate possession of any such plant or plants, and through the appropriate branch, bureau, or department of the Army or Navy to manufacture therein such product or material as may be required, and any individual, firm, company, association, or corporation, or organized manufacturing industry, or the responsible head or heads thereof, failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than three years and a fine not exceeding $50,000.

The compensation to be paid to any individual, firm, company, association, corporation, or organized manufacturing industry for its products or material, or as rental for use of any manufacturing plant while used by the United States, shall be fair and just. Provided, That nothing herein shall be deemed to render inapplicable existing State or Federal laws concerning the health, safety, security, and employment standards of the employees in such plant.

The power of the President under the foregoing provisions of this section to take immediate possession of any plant upon a failure to comply with any such provisions, and the authority granted by this section for the use and operation by the United States or in its interests of any plant of which possession is so taken, shall also apply as hereinafter provided to any plant, mine, or facility equipped for the manufacture, production, or mining of any articles or materials which may be required for the war effort or which may be useful in connection therewith. Such power and authority may be exercised by the President through such department or agency of the Government as he may designate, and may be exercised with respect to any such plant, mine, or facility whenever the President finds, after investigation, and proclaims that there is an interruption of the operation of such plant, mine, or facility as a result of a strike or other labor disturbance, that the war effort will be unduly impeded or delayed by such interruption, and that the exercise of such power and authority is necessary to insure the operation of such plant, mine, or facility in the interest of the war effort: Provided, That whenever any such plant, mine, or facility has been or is hereafter so taken by reason of a strike, lock-out, threatened strike, threatened lock-out, work stoppage, or other cause, such plant, mine or facility shall be returned to the owners thereof as soon as practicable, but in no event more than sixty days after the restoration of the productive efficiency thereof prevailing prior to the taking of possession thereof: Provided further, That possession of any plant, mine, or facility shall not be taken under authority of this section after the termination of hostilities in the present war as proclaimed by the President, or after the termination of the War Labor Disputes Act; and the authority to operate any such plant, mine, or facility under the provisions of this section shall terminate at the end of six months after the termination of such hostilities as so proclaimed.

(c) Redelegations to persons in the headquarters offices of the chiefs of the technical services of the Army Service Forces.

§ 814.1451 Definitions. When used in this subpart:

(a) The term "chief of technical service" has the meaning set out in §§ 801.107–9, 801.108–4 and 801.108–5, except that further delegations of the authority granted by § 814.1450–3 shall be subject to the limitations and restrictions stated in §§ 814.1450–3 and 814.1450–4;

(b) The term "Director, Purchases Division," means the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces; acting as such or, in respect of Army Air Forces matters, as Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War, or any person whom he may have authorized to act for him.

§ 814.1452 Policy. (a) Consistent with the War Department's policies of procuring the products and materials which it requires voluntarily and on a normal contractual basis, diligent efforts to negotiate a voluntary order or contract on reasonable terms will be made before resort is had to mandatory order. However, where such efforts are unavailing, a mandatory order will be placed in appropriate cases as provided in this subpart without delay. The policies governing placement of voluntary orders and contracts will similarly govern placement of mandatory orders, to the extent they are applicable.

(b) Appropriate inquiry and investigation in each case will be made to ascertain (1) that the products or materials proposed to be procured by mandatory order are of the nature and kind usually produced, or capable of being produced, by the proposed producer; and (2) that the proposed producer owns or operates a plant equipped for, or capable of being readily transformed into a plant for, the manufacture of the required products or materials in the quantities, with the specifications and under the conditions of the proposed order.

(c) Before any mandatory order is placed, careful consideration will be given to the necessity for the procurement and to the quantities and the specifications of the products or materials to be procured thereby in order to obviate, to the greatest extent possible, subsequent necessity of changing or cancelling the order. Care also will be exercised to provide, both in the mandatory order and in any change order, for delivery schedules which reasonably can be met in view of the preference rating, if any, assigned to the order and the ability of the proposed producer to obtain the materials and labor required to perform the order. After the order is placed, the technical service will give the producer such reasonable assistance in obtaining the materials and labor required for the performance of the order as he may request.

§ 814.1453–1 Placing of mandatory orders. (a) Any person who has been delegated authority to place mandatory orders (see §§ 814.1450–3 and 814.1450–4 may place, and may instruct and authorize contracting officers to execute and serve or cause to be served, mandatory orders under section 9 for any product or material, except food for human or animal consumption other than food subsistence items, which his technical service is authorized to procure, under the following circumstances:

(1) With any individual, partnership, company or corporation, (but not an organized manufacturing industry) which has refused to accept a voluntary order or contract for such product or material, in any case in which he shall have determined:

(i) That (a) every reasonable effort to negotiate a voluntary order or contract with the proposed producer for the required product or material has been made; (b) that the terms of such voluntary order or contract were fair and reasonable under the ascertainable circumstances of the particular procurement; and (c) that, if the refusal to accept such voluntary order or contract was based upon price, the price offered, in his opinion and that of the chief price analyst of his technical service, or the person performing such function, was in light of pertinent data and information possessed by the technical service and furnished by the proposed producer, a reasonable price for the procurement;

(ii) That the proposed producer owns or operates a plant within the United States which is equipped, without transformation, (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and paragraph (b) of this section) for procedure where transformation is necessary to produce, and is producing or is capable of producing therein, the required product or material in the quantities with the specifications and under the conditions of the proposed order (see § 814.1452 (b));

(iii) That the product or material to be obtained by the order cannot be obtained from any other source with adequate assurance of satisfactory performance and timely deliveries; and

(iv) That the total value of the procurement will not exceed $5,000,000.

Orders may be placed under such circumstances without further approval of higher authority.

(2) Under such other circumstances as the Director, Purchases Division, shall have approved. Such approval will be obtained in any case in which the technical service desires to place, and believes section 9 authorizes the placing of, a mandatory order with persons or under circumstances other than those stated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Requests for the approval required by paragraph (a) (2) of this section will state the nature of the product or material; the proposed producer; the major terms of the proposed order, including the total value of the procurement; the efforts made to negotiate a voluntary contract or order, and if the refusal to accept such contract or order was based on price, the price offered and the reasons why it is believed to be a reasonable price; why the proposed producer is believed to be capable of producing, including his ability to obtain the required materials and labor, the product or material; the location of his plant; the reasons why it is believed that such plant is equipped without transformation to manufacture the product or material in accordance with the terms of the proposed order, or, if transformation is necessary, the facts which will justify a determination by the Under Secretary of War that the plant is one capable of being readily transformed into a plant for the manufacture of the product or material; whether the product or material can be obtained elsewhere with adequate assurance of satisfactory performance and timely deliveries; and such other information as may be pertinent in the particular case.

(c) Requests for the approval required by paragraph (a) (2) of this section will be transmitted, by or with the approval of the chief of the technical service, by written memorandum unless the need for the product or material is so urgent as to indicate more prompt action, in which event the required information may be transmitted by teletype or telegraph message or by telephone.

(d) Approval of the Director, Purchases Division, of the placing of any mandatory order under paragraph (a) (2) of this section, if given, will be by written memorandum or indorsement, by teletype or telegraph message or by telephone and the mandatory order may thereupon be placed in accordance therewith. All such mandatory orders will be placed in accordance with any conditions or provisions of such approval.

§ 814.1453–2 Placing of change orders. Any person who has been delegated authority to place mandatory orders (see §§ 814.1450–3 and 814.450–4) may instruct and authorize contracting officers to execute and serve, or cause to be served, upon any person then producing under a mandatory order, change orders which decrease the quantites, or change the specifications or delivery schedules or the delivery, packing, marking and shipping instructions stated in such mandatory order, in any case in which he shall have determined (a) that the provisions of the change order are necessary in the interest of the war effort, and (b) that the producer is capable of producing the product or material called for by the mandatory order, as modified by such change order, and without a transformation of his plant. No such change order will increase the quantities stated in the mandatory order or so substantially change the specifications as to alter the basic nature of the original procurement.

§ 814.1454–1 General. (a) Mandatory orders will be in the form of order set forth in § 814.1460–1 with such minor modifications therein as may be appropriate under the circumstances of the particular procurement. No substantial changes therein will be made without approval by or on behalf of the Director, Purchases Division.

(b) Change orders will be substantially in the form set forth in § 814.1460–2.

(c) The blank relating to date in paragraph 5 of the mandatory order will be the earliest date which the producer practicably can supply such data.

§ 814.1454–2 Assignment of preference rating. Mandatory orders will be assigned the same preference rating as would have been assigned if a voluntary contract were placed for the product and materials, and in the same manner (see item 4 of § 814.1460–1).

§ 814.1454–3 Numbering and distribution of mandatory orders. Mandatory orders, change orders, and supplemental agreements to mandatory orders will be numbered and distributed in the same manner as voluntary contracts. (See Part 803, Subparts C and D.)

§ 814.1455 Financing of the producer. Should the producer require financing in connection with the performance of the order, in an appropriate case such financing may be provided by a direct Government loan or a guaranteed loan to the producer in conformity with the provisions of §§ 803.319 and 803.320 of this chapter.

§ 814.1456 Service of mandatory orders.

§ 814.1456–1 Method of service. Where practicable, each mandatory order and change order will be served by hand by a commissioned officer or a United States Marshal or Deputy Marshal upon the proposed producer. If the proposed producer is a partnership, such service will be made upon a partner thereof; if a corporation, upon any officer or agent authorized to act for, bind, or accept service for such corporation. If personal service is impracticable or will involve unreasonable delay, service may be made by mailing, by registered mail, return receipt requested, the mandatory order or change order, addressed to the proposed producer at its usual place of business. The copy of the mandatory order or change order so served will be a duplicate number thereof.

§ 814.1456–2 Return of service. Promptly after service of a mandatory order or change order the officer making service thereof will execute a certificate as to the time and method of service, the original of which, together with the registered mail receipt, if any, will be attached to the true copy of the mandatory order or change order, as served, to be retained in the files of the technical service.

§ 814.1456–3 Report of service. Promptly after service of a mandatory order or change order there will be transmitted through channels to the Director, Purchases Division, (a) a copy of the order as served, (b) a copy of such certificate of service and (c) unless already transmitted under § 814.1453–1 (b), a report containing the data called for by that section. In case of the Army Air Forces transmittal will be through the Army Air Forces, Procurement Liaison Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 814.1457–1 General. Persons with whom a mandatory order is placed are entitled to fair and just compensation for the products or materials ordered thereby and are required, under the penalties provided in section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act (see § 814.1450–1 (a)), to furnish such products or materials at a reasonable price as determined by the Secretary of War. Such reasonable price will be determined, as hereinafter provided, as promptly as practicable after the placing of the order and the technical service will act with utmost expedition to the end that such price may be fixed, and the producer notified thereof at the earliest practicable date and, whenever possible, prior to the date of the first deliveries scheduled under the order. In each case such reasonable price will be fixed on a unit price basis and will be stated in terms of unit prices.

§ 814.1457–2 Determination by agreement. All reasonable attempts will be made promptly upon the placing of a mandatory order voluntarily to negotiate with the producer, in accordance with any applicable principles set forth in this chapter and Army Service Forces Manual M 601, unit prices for the products or materials to be furnished under the order. Unless the mandatory order has been superseded by a voluntary agreement as permitted by § 814.1458, and if the producer is willing promptly to agree to prices which the chief of the technical service or whomsoever he may designate, deems reasonable under the circumstances of the procurement, an agreement, supplemental to the mandatory order, will be entered into and executed by the contracting officer and producer, (a) setting forth such agreement as to prices, (b) stating that such prices constitute fair and just compensation for the products or materials delivered or to be delivered under the order and (c) containing a waiver by the producer of a determination of reasonable price by the Secretary of War.

§ 814.1457–3 Transmittal of price data. Unless such agreement as to unit prices is promptly reached and entered into, there will be transmitted through channels to the Director, Purchases Division, such data and information as shall be necessary to permit such reasonable price to be determined by the Under Secretary of War. Such data and information will include the price and other data submitted by the producer, the technical services' analysis and evaluation of such data, the prices which the producer has requested, the prices being paid to, and the experienced and estimated costs of, other producers for the same or comparable products and materials, and the delivery schedules relating thereto, all then available and pertinent information as to the producer's probable cost of producing the products and materials, a statement of past negotiations with the producer for the same or comparable products and materials, and such other information as shall be appropriate. Such data and information will be accompanied by the recommendation of the chief of the technical service as to the unit prices which he deems reasonable for the products and matrials to be furnished under the order.

§ 814.1457–4 Determination of price. Upon the basis of the data and information so submitted and all other available data the reasonable unit prices for the products and materials will be determined by the Under Secretary of War, and the chief of the technical service promptly will be advised as to such determination.

§ 814.1457–5 Supplement to order stating price. The contracting officer, by letter signed by him and making reference to the mandatory order by number, promptly will advise the producer as to the reasonable prices so determined.

§ 814.1457–6 Redetermination of price as a result of change orders. In any case in which a change order to a mandatory order (which has not been superseded by a voluntary agreement as permitted by § 814.1458 so modifies the procurement as equitably to require an adjustment in unit prices theretofore determined either by agreement with the producer or by the Under Secretary of War, as above provided, such unit prices will be redetermined in respect of the products or materials to be affected by such change order and still to be furnished under the mandatory order. Such unit prices will be redetermined by agreement as provided in § 814.1457–2, if the producer is willing to agree to prices which the chief of the technical service deems reasonable and to enter into an agreement of the nature described in § 814.1457–2; otherwise they will be redetermined by the Under Secretary of War. In such latter event, there will be transmitted to the Director, Purchases Division, all data and information necessary for such redetermination by the Under Secretary of War, together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service as to such unit prices as provided in § 814.1457–3 and the producer will be advised of the redetermined prices, as provided in § 814.1457–5.

§ 814.1457–7 Redetermination of price upon termination in whole or in part. In the event a mandatory order is terminated in whole or in part for the convenience of the Government prior to completion of deliveries thereunder, (a) the products and materials completed before the effective date of such termination will be paid for at the unit prices determined as above provided, and (b) fair and just compensation for the work done in connection with the uncompleted portion of the order as far as terminated, including reasonable termination costs (see item 15 of § 814.1460–1), will be determined by agreement with the producer if he is willing to agree to compensation which the chief of the technical service, or whomsoever he may designate, deems to be fair and reasonable for the work done in connection with the uncompleted portions of the order; otherwise such fair and just compensation will be determined by the Under Secretary of War. In such latter event there will be transmitted to the Director, Purchases Division, all data and information necessary for such determination by the Under Secretary of War, together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service as to the amount which he deems to be such fair and just compensation, and the producer will be advised of such determination as provided in § 814.1457–5.

§ 814.1458 Execution of voluntary agreements. A mandatory order may, at any time after it has been served and prior to the completion of payments thereunder, be superseded by and merged into a voluntary contract, if the producer is willing to enter into such a voluntary contract on terms satisfactory to the chief of the technical service. Such voluntary contract shall require only such approvals as would then be required if the procurement had been originally made by voluntary contract and no mandatory order issued.

§ 814.1459 Non-compliance with mandatory orders. Should any person upon whom a mandatory order has been served refuse to comply with the terms thereof in any respect, the chief of the technical service placing such order promptly will advise the Director, Purchases Division, as to the nature of such non-compliance and of the reasons therefor given by the producer, and will make recommendation as to the action which he believes should be taken against the producer on account of such non-compliance.

4. This order shall take precedence over all other orders and contracts except that where preference ratings, orders or regulations issued by or with the authority of the War Production Board or the War Food Administration under Title III of the Second War Powers Act, 1942, are applicable, it shall take precedence in accordance with such preference ratings, orders or regulations. other data as you believe pertinent to the determination of such reasonable prices. In the event agreement is reached with you as to such prices, an appropriate agreement supplemental to this order providing for such prices and waiving determination thereof by the Secretary of War will be executed with you; otherwise determination of such reasonable prices will be made by or on behalf of the Secretary of War, which, if accepted by you will be the measure of fair and just compensation to which you are entitled. In no event, however, will the prices for such products and materials exceed the ceiling or other prices for such products or materials established by the Office of Price Administration or otherwise established by law and in effect at the time of delivery.

If any such change equitably requires an adjustment in the reasonable prices for the products and materials still to be delivered under the order, theretofore agreed to or determined as above provided, such reasonable prices will be modified by negotiation with you or, if agreement cannot be reached, redetermined by or on behalf of the Secretary of War. Unless you submit to the Contracting Officer a written request for such adjustment in price within ---------- days after receipt of each such change order, it will be assumed that the reasonable prices theretofore determined are satisfactory to you despite such change order.

10. Inspection. The Government may make inspection and test the material and workmanship incorporated in said products and materials at all times and places including, when practicable, during the manufacture, and may make inspection of the finished products or materials prior to or after delivery thereof. Special and performance tests shall be as described in the specifications. You shall furnish all reasonable facilities and assistance for the safe and convenient conduct for such inspections and tests as are to be made on your premises. Finished products and materials rejected because not complying with this order shall be removed by you at your expense unless the Contracting Officer or his representative determines that public necessity requires the acceptance thereof, in which event the reasonable price otherwise payable therefore will be reduced accordingly. Acceptance of products and materials not conforming to this mandatory order, modified as may be by any such change orders, shall in no way excuse you from the penalties provided by section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, or make unavailable any of the remedies or provisions of said section.

11. Compliance with provisions of applicable laws and Executive orders. Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to render inapplicable in the performance hereof existing State or Federal laws concerning the health, safety, security, and employment standards of the employees in your plant. 13. Taxes. Unless otherwise indicated in this order, the reasonable prices for the products and materials to be furnished hereunder (A) will not include allowance for any State or local sales, use or other tax in effect at the date of this order from which you or this transaction of the procurement of these supplies is exempt but (B) will include allowance for all Federal and all other State and local taxes in effect at the date of this order and applicable to the procurement of the supplies and materials covered by this order.

Upon your request the Government will issue tax exemption certificates or furnish other similar proof of exemption with respect to all taxes for which such allowance is not made.

14. Payments. You will be paid, upon the submission of properly certified invoices or vouchers, the prices determined hereunder as provided for in this order for the products and materials delivered and accepted, less deductions, if any, as herein provided. Unless otherwise specified, payments will be made on partial deliveries accepted by the Government when the amount due on such deliveries so warrants; or when requested by you, payments for accepted partial delivery shall be made whenever such payments would equal or exceed either $1,000 or 50 per cent of the total amount of this procurement.

15. Termination at the option of the Government. This order may be terminated by the Government in whole or in part whenever such termination is deemed in the best interests of the Government. In the event of any such termination you will be paid fair and just compensation for compliance with this order prior to the effective date of such termination. You will also be paid fair and just compensation for any reasonable cost incidental to the termination of work under this order in accordance with the directions of the contracting officer. The amount of fair and just compensation payable under this paragraph 15 may be determined by negotiation and agreement between you and the contracting officer but in the absence of such agreement shall be determined by the Undersecretary of War.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTION

§ 816.1601 General. The priorities system is a vital control in war production. It is the means by which one program is preferred over another program when a conflict in delivery dates develops and the production of one item must be placed before that of another item. In this manner the more urgent need is given precedence over the lesser need.

§ 816.1602 War Production Board. Since priorities relate not only to military procurement, but also to indirect military and civilian procurement, the War Production Board has been given the primary authority to prescribe and administer the priorities system and the distribution of materials among competing claimants.

§ 816.1603 Army and Navy Munitions Board. The Army and Navy Munitions Board (ANMB), under delegated authority from the War Production Board, coordinates the extension of preference ratings by the Army, Navy, certain government agencies, and foreign governments.

§ 816.1604 Scope of part. (a) These instructions do not affect interpretations of the ANMB Priorities Directive or authorizations granted thereunder. They deal principally with procedural phases of priorities and are offered as a guide to military personnel charged with the responsibility of applying the priorities system to military procurement. Since any system of this type must have flexibility, instructions such as these cannot remain static. Therefore, provision is made for the insertion of changes, as they occur, so that the instructions will at all times correctly reflect current conditions.

(b) These instructions replace and supersede Priorities Instructions dated February 18, 1942, and Priority-Allocation Instructions numbered from 1 to 11 inclusive, all of which should be destroyed, but they do not invalidate internal operating procedures and interpretations established by the individual military agencies which are not in conflict with these instructions. Priority-Allocation Instruction No. 12 (Post Exchanges), however, remains in full force and effect.

§ 816.1605 Clearance of instructions. It is to be especially noted that letters of interpretation or instruction concerning priorities procedures, for general distribution within technical services, must be submitted to the Production Division, Headquarters, Army Services Forces, for approval. This is necessary in order to avoid any interpretations or instructions which are not in keeping with basic priorities procedures and which tend to depart from uniformity.

§ 816.1606 Regulations relating to priorities. Every officer responsible for priorities should study carefully this regulation and the basic principles of the priorities system as set forth in:

WPB Priorities Regulation No. 1.
WPB Priorities Regulation No. 3.
WPB Priorities Regulation No. 12.
WPB Priorities Regulation No. 18.

Copies of the above may be obtained from a War Production Board office.

§ 816.1607 Compliance with regulations. The success of any plan or system is dependent upon the extent of cooperation of the various units operating under it. Therefore, it is the policy of the Army to require strict adherence to all regulations, orders, directives, and instructions issued in connection with priorities. Every authenticating official who knowingly issues or causes to be issued a preference rating certificate which is found to be improper or unauthorized, either as to form or substance, will be held strictly accountable for his actions, and the certificate will be subject to revocation.

§ 816.1608 Special priority procedures. Special procedures have been established for the assignment of preference ratings for procurement by and for Post Exchanges and Army Specialized Training Program.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS

§ 816.1610 Definitions. For the purpose of this part definitions set forth below are established:

"Priorities directive." The ANMB Priorities Directive is a determination of relatve urgency of military programs and projects.

"Priority" is the degree of precedence given to an order or contract to obtain completion, delivery, or performance on a particular date at the expense, if necessary, of competing contracts or orders of lower priority held by the same supplier or facility.

"Preference rating" is a symbol (AA-1, AA-2, etc.) assigned to a contract, order, award, or letter of intent, to establish the degree of precedence.

"Original preference rating" is the rating assigned by a certificate or WPB preference rating order to delivery of an end item, construction of a project, or use of a facility.

"Extended preference rating" is the rating applied or used by a prime contractor or subcontractor for delivery of components or materials.

"Preference rating certificate" is the instrument by which preference ratings are assigned.

"Emergency or special rating" is a rating higher than that authorized by the ANMB Priorities Directive or WPB orders, and is granted only in special cases of utmost urgency by the ANMB or WPB.

"Prime contract" is a contract or order placed by the Army or Navy, or by an approved foreign government, directly with an individual, firm, or corporation to supply military or naval material, equipment, or facilities.

"Prime contractor" is the individual, firm or corporation with whom the Army or Navy, or an approved foreign government, has placed a prime contract.

"Subcontract" is a contract or order placed with a supplier by an individual, firm, or corporation holding a prime contract or another subcontract for material or services to be incorporated in a prime contract.

"Subcontractor" is the individual, firm, or corporation with whom a prime contractor, or another subcontractor, has placed a purchase order or subcontract for materials or services to be incorporated in a prime contract.

"Authentication" is the execution, evidenced by the signature of the duly authorized official of the contractor, of the authentication statement on Form PD–3A.

"Countersignature" is the validating of a PD–3A preference rating certificate, by the signature of a duly authorized U. S. Government Official.

"Certification" is a representation by the holder of a preference rating, endorsed upon his purchase order, by means of which he extends the rating to his supplier in accordance with the terms of Priorities and CMP Regulations.

"Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, component, assembly, or product of any kind.

"Material physically incorporated" includes all commodities, accessories, parts and assemblies, or other products which are physically or chemically incorporated in the end item. Excluded are facilities, machine tools, capital equipment and repair, maintenance, and operating supplies.

"Machine tool" means any non-portable power driven, metal working machine listed in Exhibit A of War Production Board Order E–1–b, with certain exclusions set forth in that order.

"Productive capital equipment" is capital equipment (excluding machine tools) which physically processes or otherwise acts upon or handles materials or items physically incorporated in end products, or which is necessary to operate such equipment, such as cranes, furnaces, chemical tanks, turbines, generators, and machinery.

"Construction capital equipment" is equipment which is physically used in construction of projects or which otherwise acts upon or handles material or items to be physically incorporated in a construction project; such as power shovels and concrete mixers.

"Non-productive or administrative capital equipment" is capital equipment which is necessary for the operation of the administrative side of a manufacturing plant, military installation, or for a construction project, such as office equipment, plant protective equipment, and equipment for the health and well being of employees.

"Expansion" is the creation of new facility capacity by addition to existing equipment or one or more units or the installation of equipment where none existed before.

"Replacement" is a necessary installation of a similar unit of equipment of similar size to take the place of a unit previously installed and which has become useless through wear and tear or accident and which cannot be repaired.

"Training aid or device" is defined as equipment used exclusively and directly for the training of military personnel. This does not include housing, messing, administrative, or other similar operating equipment or supplies or items of individual issue or use. It includes such items as link trainers, bombing trainers, single items of mechanical equipment (or parts thereof) of ships, planes, and ordnance.

"Army, Technical Services, Services, or Military." The terms Army, Technical Services, Services and Military, as used herein, include in all cases the Technical Services, the Army Air Forces and the Service Commands. Attention is called to § 801.108–4 and 801–108–5 which are applicable to this part.

SUBPART C—DETERMINATION OF PREFERENCE RATINGS

§ 816.1611 Preference ratings as strategic decisions. The Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Army, Navy, and Air Forces periodically prepare a statement of the strategic urgencies of the various parts of the Military Program. Their decisions are based on their knowledge of the type of munitions needed for the various phases of the war. For example, weapons which can be used against the enemy are more urgent than construction projects in the continental United States.

§ 816.1612 Army and Navy Munitions Board Priorities Directive. The strategic decisions of the Joint Chiefs of Staff are converted into industrial preference ratings and are published as the Army and Navy Munitions Board Directive. This document becomes the basis of all preference ratings assigned by the Army, Navy, and agencies under Army and Navy Munitions Board priority jurisdiction. It is a basic instrument universally required for the operation of the military priorities system.

§ 816.1613 Overall preference rating structure. The ANMB Priorities Directive is incorporated into the general priorities structure established by the WPB. Consequently, ratings assigned on PD–3A certificates or military CMP allotment forms (where permitted) are directly related to preference ratings assigned under CMP and Priorities Regulations, on PD–1A Forms, and under "P", "L", "M", and "E" orders.

§ 816.1614 Implementation of the ANMB Directive. (a) As the ANMB Priorities Directive is a broad policy document, it is necessary to issue detailed instructions to the Services responsible for procurement. Considerable flexibility is allowed the technical services in the implementation of the Priorities Directive. Separate instructions, approved by the Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces are issued from time to time by the respective services of the Army.

(b) In cases where quantitative limitations are imposed in the Priorities Directive, quarterly accounting is required. It is, therefore, customarily necessary for the offices in the field to report the dollar value of ratings assigned in the various preference rating groups under specific accounting instructions. Certain services which have programmed their preference ratings for procurement and have secured advance approval, have been relieved from accounting.

§ 816.1615 Compliance. (a) Since preference ratings are based on war strategy, it is imperative to comply strictly with the ratings provided in the Priorities Directive. Failure to comply may easily retard vitally important programs.

(b) Compliance is also important because an incorrect rating may be extended. Extensions average 10 per contract and consequently an incorrect rating may actually result in 11 incorrect ratings. Enforcing compliance with these Instructions and with the ANMB Priorities Directive is the responsibility of the chiefs of technical services. The WPB is responsible for enforcing compliance by industry, and military personnel should report violations to WPB field offices whenever discovered.

§ 816.1616 Preference rating structure. (a) The current ANMB Priorities Directive and WPB documents establish the relative urgencies among programs, schedules, profits, and items of procurement as outlined below:

AA–1	AA–4
AA–2X

(b) Special means of securing higher-than-routine ratings including AAA are explained in Subpart M of this part, and application should be made through the responsible Service when such assistance is imperative.

SUBPART D—USE OF PREFERENCE RATING CERTIFICATE, FORM PD–3A

§ 816.1620 Use of Form PD–3A. (a) WPB Form PD–3A is used for assigning preference ratings to "military" prime contracts and is issued exclusively by the military organizations.

(b) Form PD–3A also is used to assign preference ratings to military procurement by or for designated foreign governments, both for purchases by the technical services and by the designated foreign governments.

(c) A private contractor's procurement of machine tools and all types of capital equipment may be rated by a PD–3A certificate if the equipment is necessary for the completion of a military prime contract or subcontract. However, unless military purposes will constitute the major use of the equipment, the contractor should apply for a rating to the WPB on a PD–1A or other appropriate form. The PD–1A certificate is the civilian counterpart of the PD–3A certificate.

(d) All correspondence dealing with Form PD–3A should contain reference to the serial number of the certificate and preference rating assigned, also the contract number or purchase order number, as well as the name of the service concerned.

§ 816.1621 Cases where PD–3A is not applicable. Where an item is covered by a WPB Limitation Order which specifically states that a special form (other than the PD–3A will be used) the appropriate WPB form should be completed. Before issuing a PD–3A certificate for capital equipment, it is the responsibility of the purchasing and contracting officer or countersigning official to ascertain whether or not the equipment being procured is subject to any of the "L" or "M" order provisions, also to determine whether or not a PD–3A certificate may be used. WPB orders are described in Subpart O. A list of WPB Orders and Forms is available in a printed publication entitled "Priorities" which may be obtained from the War Production Board, Publications Section, Washington, D. C., and which is published monthly.

§ 816.1622 Supplies of Form PD–3A. Supplies of Form PD–3A should be obtained from the nearest WPB Regional or District Office.

§ 816.1623 Copies of Form PD–3A. The countersigning officer's copy of Form PD–3A is considered the official file copy and must be retained for six months after the completion of the contract covered. The copy marked for the Army and Navy Munitions Board may be destroyed and the War Production Board copy is required only for certificates requiring approval under Directive No. 23, explained in Subpart G of this part. Copies designated for the chief of service should be promptly dispatched.

SUBPART E—PREPARATION OF PREFERENCE RATING CERTIFICATE FORM PD–3A, FOR PRODUCTION CONTRACTS, SPOT PURCHASES, CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS, AND CAPITAL EQUIPMENT

§ 816.1628 Preparation of Preference Rating Certificate, Form PD–3A, for production contracts, spot purchases, construction projects, and capital equipment. The various sections of the PD–3A certificate should be completed as follows:

(a) Government Contract No. The complete number of the contract or purchase order for the items covered by the certificate should be given in this space. Orders placed under Treasury Procurement Schedules must include not only the order number, but the number of the TPS contract as well. Where the PD–3A is issued to cover items in a "Letter of Intent" the date of such letter, and adequate identification symbol of such letter, shall be placed in this subpart. If the space provided is not sufficient for giving information about the "Letter of Intent", a footnote should be indicated and the complete information added at the bottom of the certificate.

(b) Issued To. The name of the "prime contractor" with whom the Army or Navy contract was placed is inserted here. When a PD–3A is issued for capital equipment being purchased by a military prime or subcontractor the name of the purchaser of the equipment is shown.

(c) Address. The address must be that one of the company where the PD–3A Form will be filed and where it can be inspected, if known, otherwise the principal office of the company.

(d) Government Agency Placing Contract. This section must show the name and address of the Technical Service which issued the related prime contract, purchase order, or "Letter of Intent."

(e) Required Delivery Date. The required delivery date must be shown as indicated by the contract involved. The delivery date must be a date subsequent to the date the preference rating certificate is issued. A preference rating certificate which does not show an actual required delivery date is not valid and shall not be honored. Such terms as "at once", "as soon as possible", "immediately", etc., are not adequate. A firm shall not accept as valid a certificate which does not carry a specific required delivery date.

(f) Quantity Each Shipment, Dollar Value Each Shipment. The quantity and dollar value of each shipment required by the contract should be shown in sufficient detail to provide proper control.

(g) Description. (1) A sufficient description of the items called for in the prime contract should be made to identify the type of material being procured or service to be performed. When the certificate assigns a rating to the construction project it should be clearly described, and the machine tools and capital equipment to be installed should be itemized wherever possible. A contractor is authorized to extend a preference rating covering a construction project only for construction capital equipment specifically listed on the PD–3A certificate or on purchase orders issued subsequently when duly approved.

(2) Wherever the contract is a secret or confidential document and the inclusion of such information in the PD–3A certificate can be considered as divulging secret or confidential information, the term, "Special" should be used in the columns calling for quantity, value, and description in lieu of such information. This procedure will make unnecessary marking the certificate "Secret" or "Confidential" and will eliminate special handling and safekeeping. However, it is considered that in most instances the secret or confidential nature of a contract is in the specifications of the items called for and not in the fact that any one firm is manufacturing any specified quantity of a particular item for any particular delivery. Since the preference rating certificate will be the property only of government officials and the prime contractor, it is felt that the above procedure is adequate in most cases.

(h) Authentication. The authentication is designed to make Form PD–3A applicable to authorized purchases of machine tools and capital equipment, in addition to its primary purpose of rating a prime contract. When used in connection with a prime contract, this certification merely states that the information shown on the PD–3A Form is correct as it relates to the prime contract which it covers. The issuing Government Official should countersign the certificate and forward the original to the contractor except in the case of machine tools and capital equipment. The contractor, by executing the authentication, will indicate his acceptance of the rating assigned before he commences extension of the rating covered by the certificate. Only the original copy of the certificate need be manually signed. The copies should carry the typed or stamped name and address of the Government official and the date on which the countersignature was made.

(i) Preference Rating. The issuing Government Official will indicate herein the preference rating applicable to the contract as determined by the current Priorities Directive.

(j) ANMB Code or Authority. This section should make reference to the specific instrument authorizing the rating being assigned, if covered by special authority.

(k) Urgency Standing No. Where the certificate covers machine tools the applicable urgency standing number, if any, should be stated.

SUBPART F—RATING PRODUCTION CONTRACTS AND SPOT PURCHASES

§ 816.1631 Definition. All contracts which are not specifically covered in Priorities Instructions on; Construction; Capital Equipment and Machine Tools; Maintenance, Repair, and Operating Supplies; are classified for priority purposes as Production Contracts or Spot Purchases.

§ 816.1632 Application of ratings to production contracts and spot purchases. Ratings are applied to Production Contracts and Spot Purchases in the following ways:

(a) CMP "A" products may be rated on PD–3A certificates or on CPM allotment forms. The rating is applicable to the authorized production schedule and may be used by the contractor to secure materials (except controlled materials) and "B" products physically incorporated in the end item and necessary to execute the authorized production.

(b) CMP "B" products and all other products except "A" products, and no-controlled materials, are rated on PD–3A certificates. Ratings assigned to non-classified products may be used by the contractor to secure materials and products physically incorporated in the end item and necessary to carry out the production required by the contract except that manufacturers operating under Priorities Regulation 11–B may only extend the rating received from the War Production Board. A "B" product producer must extend the ratings assigned on the allotment form by which he receives materials and may not extend his customer's rating.

§ 816.1633 Preference ratings assigned to production contracts. Preference ratings assigned to production contracts may not be extended to secure capital equipment.

§ 816.1634 Indefinite contracts. Since Priorities Regulation No. 1 states that preference ratings may be assigned only to contracts bearing definite delivery dates preference ratings may not be assigned to long term contracts issued by the Army which are indeterminate as to amount or estimated as to delivery and under which deliveries are made subject to purchase orders issued subsequently by the using activity. Preference rating certificates should be issued by the ordering officer when placing specific amounts under such contracts. In the event that this restriction results or threatens to result in undue delay in performance of a contract, application for special assistance may be made to the Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, through the chief of the technical service covered.

SUBPART G—RATING CAPITAL EQUIPMENT AND MACHINE TOOLS

§ 816.1635 General procedure. Army Procurement Officers are responsible for assigning preference ratings to capital equipment and machine tools purchased by the Services or by military contractors. Current military policies require careful consideration of each equipment purchase, and officers are responsible for determining that capital equipment is actually necessary and that other facilities are not available. In addition, War Production Board Directive No. 23 requires approval by WPB field offices of priority actions involving capital equipment and machine tools with specific exceptions listed below:

(a) Where the capital equipment or machine tools are to be incorporated in command construction, as defined in War Production Board Directive No. 23. This exception is limited to equipment and tools for incorporation at the time of construction and does not include subsequent replacements, repairs, or additional equipment for command construction.

(b) Where the total value of the items rated by the instrument does not exceed $500.

(c) Where the instrument is countersigned outside the forty-eight states, District of Columbia and the Dominion of Canada.

(d) In the case of emergency purchases under the circumstances specified in Directive No. 23, paragraph (d) (3).

(e) Where the equipment or tools are for use on board ship, including floating dry docks, or for use outside the forty-eight states, and the District of Columbia for military purposes. The term "Military Purposes" includes all equipment or tools furnished to military organizations for use by military personnel of any nation.

(f) Where the capital equipment is for military operations. This would include all organizational and operational equipment for use in military establishments or by military personnel. It does not include machine tools, except machine tools to be installed in mobile equipment.

(g) Administrative capital equipment.

(h) Other cases excepted by the War Production Board. This exception may be used to cover purchases classified for purposes of military security.

§ 816.1636 Use of Form PC–20. Where WPB approval is required, the original and three (3) copies of Form PD–3A and one copy of PC–20 for each specific type of Capital Equipment or Machine Tool will be forwarded to the WPB Field Office. Form PC–20 is not required for administrative capital equipment nor where productive equipment is to be incorporated in a project which has been approved by War Production Board or the Army on a PD–3A or WPB–617 Form on which the equipment involved was specifically listed.

§ 816.1637 Procedures for securing approval. Various procedures are in operation for the review and approval of applications for assigning preference ratings to capital equipment and machine tools. Since these procedures are integrated with the administrative controls of the services, special instructions will apply to the routing, and to the military and WPB approval arrangements.

§ 816.1638 Validation of certificates. On all preference rating certificates coming within the scope of Directive No. 23, the statement, "Approved for Issuance", signed by the appropriate WPB official, must appear. Or, where such approval statement does not appear, the following statement may be placed on the instrument by the Army representative: "Under the terms of Directive 23, this instrument is valid without WPB approval indorsement". Cases where the approval of the War Production Board need not appear on the document include those cases covered by the specified exceptions, those cases where WPB is limited to, but has failed to take action within ten days, and those cases where the WPB has approved the transaction on a document other than the original. These provisions are applicable where contracts or purchase orders bearing a delegation of authority indorsement are used in lieu of PD–3A certificates.

SUBPART H—RATING CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

§ 816.1639 General. War Production Board Directive No. 23 requires that construction projects, except command construction and certain specified exceptions, may be rated only by the War Production Board. Command construction may be rated on Form PD–3A Preference Rating Certificates by Army contracting officers.

§ 816.1640 Command construction. Command construction may be rated on PD–3A certificates by the Army contracting and procurement officers in the field. These certificates do not require the approval of the Army and Navy Munitions Board or of the War Production Board.

(a) Command construction, as defined in Directive No. 23, consists of projects ordered built by either the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy, viz.: air fields; military housing; alien housing; facilities for the repair of finished items of munitions; overseas or theater of operations construction; seacoast fortifications; ports and depots; camouflage and other passive defense projects (whether or not owned and operated by the Army or Navy); emergency flood control projects having a value of less than $100,000; military hospitals; maneuver, training and staging areas and proving grounds.

§ 816.1641–1 In addition to using PD–3A certificates for command construction, the Corps of Engineers may issue PD–3A certificates, under delegated authority, for all construction supervised by the Corps of Engineers which is owned, leased, or operated by the War Department.

§ 816.1641–2 Construction other than that included in the above, may be assigned preference ratings only by the War Production Board. Applications for preference ratings should be submitted on Form WPB–617. If the application covers a project of less than $2 ,000 it may be rated by a War Production Board field office.

§ 816.1641–3 Application for amendments not exceeding $10,000 to outstanding P–19–h certificates that were issued by the Army and Navy Munitions Board, will be processed by the Army and Navy Munitions Board. Applications on Form PD–200b (WPB–1548) for such amendments will not be submitted to the War Production Board, but will be submitted through military channels to the Army and Navy Munitions Board.

§ 816.1641–4 A PD–3A certificate for command construction or a WPB–617 Form for other construction projects, may include the capital equipment and machine tools for the project and the rating may be extended to such tools or equipment where they are specifically listed on the form. The urgency standing number of all machine tools so included should be indicated where applicable.

§ 816.1641–5 Applications for preference ratings for construction projects must be prepared in accordance with the requirements of the ANMB List of Prohibited Items for Construction dated 8 November 1943.

§ 816.1642 Procedures for securing approval. Various procedures are in operation for the review and approval of applications assigning preference ratings to construction projects. Since these procedures are integrated with the administrative controls of the services, special instructions issued by the service concerned will apply to the routing, and to the military and WPB approval arrangements.

SUBPART I—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES

§ 816.1648 MRO Procurement by the Army. (a) Maintenance, repair, and operating supply items, referred to as MRO, including capital additions not exceeding $500 in value, may be assigned preference ratings by following a simplified procedure which is based on CMP Regulations 5 and 7. A preference rating may be assigned by placing on the purchase order or contract for maintenance, repair, and operating supply items, the preference rating, identification symbol, and certification statement, as follows:

AA–1–W–MRO. The use of the preference rating or symbol on this order by the undersigned as a procuring Claimant Agency is authorized under applicable CMP Regulations.

This method of rating purchases may not be used in connection with regularly programmed MRO items which are those included in the Army Supply Program and which are rated by the PD–3A procedure.

(b) The quantity limitations of paragraph f of CMP Regulation 5 are not applicable to purchases of MRO by the Army.

(c) Priorities Regulation No. 3 of the War Production Board includes a list of items to which preference ratings may not be assigned by use of the certification statement of CMP Regulation No. 5 shown above. If it is necessary to assign a rating to an item on List B of Priorities Regulation No. 3, a PD–3A certificate and an AA–1 rating as specified in the ANMB Priorities Directive may be used.

§ 816.1649 MRO Procurement by private contractors. All private contractors, whether they are prime contractors or subcontractors, are governed exclusively by CMP Regulation 5 in their procurement of MRO. A service may not issue a preference rating certificate to a private contractor for MRO of the private contractor.

SUBPART J—PREFERENCE RATINGS FOR CONTRACTS BY OR FOR FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

§ 816.1652 Cash purchases. The Army and Navy Munitions Board is responsible for assigning priority ratings on preference rating certificate, Form PD–3A, to prime contracts of foreign governments covering items being procured by cash purchase for the direct use of the military forces of such foreign governments.

§ 816.1653 International Aid Requisitions. The technical services are responsible for assigning ratings on preference rating certificate, Form PD–3A, to prime contracts placed by the Technical Services as procuring agencies pursuant to approved International Aid Requisitions filed with the War Department.

SUBPART K—EXTENSION OF PREFERENCE RATINGS

§ 816.1656 Procedure. (a) Preference ratings, irrespective of the manner of their original acquisition or assignment, are applied or extended by indorsing on a purchase order an appropriate certification.

(b) Where, under the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 3 or CMP Regulation No. 1, the purchase order must bear an allotment number or symbol, the certification prescribed in CMP Regulation No. 3 will be used. In all other cases, except those noted in the following paragraph, the certification set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 3 will be used. CMP Regulation No. 7 provides a standard certification which may be used in place of either of the two certifications mentioned above.

(c) Certain orders of the War Production Board in the "P" series require that a special certification or preference rating be used with respect to the extension of preference ratings to specified products or materials. Also Priorities Regulation No. 9 prescribes special requirements with respect to the application of preference ratings to certain items for export. The provisions of these orders must be complied with.

§ 816.1657 To what ratings may be extended. (a) Ratings may be extended to: (1) Materials and parts which will be physically incorporated into material to be delivered, including commodities which are normally consumed or converted into scrap or by-products in the course of processing. (2) Material and parts necessary to restore inventory to a practical working minimum level to the extent that deliveries from it pursuant to the rating have been made.

(b) Ratings may also be extended for the use of facilities or for repair work under the circumstances prescribed in Priorities Regulation No. 3.

§ 816.1658 Combining ratings. (a) Any person who has received the same preference rating by different preference rating certificates or orders, or extensions, may combine these ratings and extend them to a single delivery on a single properly certified purchase order. Preference ratings of different grades whether received by the same or different preference rating certificates or orders, or extensions, may also be extended on a single purchase order. The amount of material to which each rating is extended must be shown separately or if the material involved is of such type that the supplier can determine the effect of the extension of the rating on his own production and delivery schedules, the amount may be shown on a percentage basis.

(b) Each rating extended in combination may apply to no greater quantity of materials than if the ratings were extended by a separate instrument. However, ratings of different grades may be combined and the rating of the lowest grade extended to the total.

§ 816.1659 B Product producers. B Product producers may not extend the ratings received with orders but must use the ratings assigned on their allotment forms.

§ 816.1660 Copies of preference rating extensions. Copies of purchase orders used to extend preference ratings need not be sent to the army offices involved nor to the War Production Board.

SUBPART L—RERATING PROCEDURES

§ 816.1665 General. (a) Priorities Regulation No. 12 covers the rerating of contracts and purchase orders. Reratings may be made upward or downward and include any change from one category to another. For example, a contract changed from AA–2X to AA–1, or from AA–1 to AA–2X comes within the scope of this regulation. Extensions may be made of upward reratings for delivery of material which will itself be delivered on a rerated delivery or physically incorporated into material to be so delivered, including material consumed or converted into scrap or by-products as the result of processing. Also reratings may be extended for material necessary to bring inventory up to a practicable working minimum whenever, as a result of delivery on the rerating, the inventory has been impaired below that minimum.

(b) When contracts are rerated downward, extensions of the new rating must be made to all uncompleted deliveries under the original contract. This must be done within five business days following the date the downward rerating is received.

§ 816.1666 Rerating of prime contracts. Contracting procurement and inspecting officials may rerate prime contracts for supply items and construction projects only upon specific instructions from the office of the chief of the technical service. Form PDL–2102 shall be used exclusively for this purpose, including prime contracts under the jurisdiction of the Army Air Forces. "A" products may be rerated on allotment forms.

§ 816.1667 Rerating of subcontracts. (a) Prime contractors and subcontractors may rerate subcontracts or portions thereof either by Form PD–4Y, or by furnishing the supplier with a duplicate purchase order carrying the appropriate indorsement for the new rating as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 3, or by letter or telegram, listing the specific purchase orders, original ratings and new ratings. If the latter course is followed, such letter or telegram should be filed with the original purchase orders. The rerating shall cover only the undelivered quantities of materials specifically raised to new levels by means of the rerating certificates PDL–2102, PD–4Y, telegram, letter, or new purchase order received by the prime or subcontractor.

(b) PD–4Y is reproducible and samples may be obtained at WPB field offices. No duplicate copies of PD–4Y certificates issued by contractors are required by WPB.

§ 816.1668 Rerating of authorized schedules under CMP allotments. As to those "A products where no allotment is being made at the time, the rerating will be accomplished by a letter substantially in the following form: "The authorized schedule carrying allotment number ----, as shown on the (advance) allotment previously sent to you, is hereby rerated and assigned the following preference rating."

§ 816.1669 Extensions of reratings. A rerating of a delivery may not be extended to anything to which the original rating could not be extended such as materials for plant improvement, expansion or constructions, to machine tools or other capital equipment.

§ 816.1670 General provisions. (a) No person is required by reason of rerating, to terminate or interrupt a production schedule if such termination or interruption would mean a substantial loss in production: Provided, That rescheduling may not be delayed for more than forty days after such rerating is received.

(b) No person shall, by reason of a rerating, divert material specially produced for an order bearing a rating higher than A-2 and deliver the same under the higher rerated order if such material is completed at the time the rerating is received or is scheduled for completion within fifteen days thereafter, unless such diversion is specifically directed by the War Production Board, or unless the new rating is AAA.

(c) Single forms of PDL–2102, or PD–4Y may be used to rerate deliveries to be made under different contracts with the same contractor and may specify different new ratings for separate deliveries to be made under the same contract.

(d) Reratings are retroactive to the effective date of the original rating.

(e) It must be emphasized that PDL–2102 and PD–4Y are not certificates covering original ratings. They are not to be used to acquire new or additional deliveries.

SUBPART M—SPECIAL RATING PROCEDURE AND SCHEDULING ASSISTANCE

§ 816.1675 Definition. (a) A special rating is AAA or any rating which is higher than the rating authorized in the current ANMB Priorities Directive. This higher rating is assigned only by the Recording Secretary of the WPB or by delegated authority under certain circumstances.

(b) A special rating is not to be assigned under any circumstances by contracting, procurement, and inspecting officials. Such officials should not instruct suppliers to rearrange production or delivery schedules in anticipation of the receipt of the actual special rating authorization.

§ 816.1676 Considerations preliminary to applying for a special rating. (a) If a special rating is granted, delay will occur in the production of some other essential items which have actually been rated as more essential by high strategic authorities. Such a sacrifice should be requested only when the interruption is small and does not entail a lengthy delay to the items which will be displaced. In many cases special rating does more than merely divert a like amount from some other project. This is because the disruption of the manufacturing schedule may drastically cut the production of the entire plant.

(b) The choke point or bottleneck should be located. Only the most directly affected contract need be investigated. It should be determined whether the inability of the supplier to deliver with the present rating is because of higher rated orders on his own books or is due to delay in securing materials or components from sub-suppliers. A special rating should only be sought for the particular items causing the delay and only for the quantity of the item necessary to alleviate the situation.

(c) Accurate, complete and up to the minute information must be furnished with respect to the orders which will be set back and the amount of delay of those orders, if the authorization is granted. In cases where order boards of suppliers are extremely complicated or consist of large numbers of small items, the maximum time lost by the displacement may be acceptable where the subject request is minute in comparison with the capacity of the industry to produce. It is essential that one of the following be clearly established:

(1) Whose orders, what programs, what items, will be delayed and to what extent?

(2) No orders be delayed over ------ days or -------- man hours.

(3) In cases of standard production items the ratio of the quantity requested to the total daily or weekly production may be given.

(d) A showing must be made that the specifications do or do not provide for approved alternates, and if they do, that all possible sources for the approved substitutes have been exhausted, with a statement of the sources contacted. For specifications on a performance basis, a similar showing must be made.

§ 816.1677 Procedure for applying for a special rating. (a) When it is necessary to apply for a special rating, the following procedure is applicable: All applications except those by contractors of the Army Air Forces covering "A" or "B" Products, and all other products, should be made through the office of the chief of the technical service. The application should be accompanied by WPB Form SR–1 (12–11–42) in triplicate and such additional copies as may be required by services. All information and data requested by the form should be supplied. Attention is directed to paragraphs 3, 5, 6, 8, and 9 of the form, the answers to which must be definite. The paragraph headed, "Basic Cause of Need for Rating," in addition to other causes, should show specifically the amount of delay, both in time and quantity, which will occur if the special rating is not authorized. The office of the chief of the technical service should show specifically that the granting of the special rating is necessary in order to meet the requirements in both time and quantity of the Army program involved.

(b) In the case of applications filed by contractors in the Air Programs of the Army Air Forces, the following procedure shall apply: The contractor shall fill out an ASU–16 Report of Critical Shortage. This report will then be authenticated by the AAF resident representative concerned. The report is then sent to the Army Air Forces District Procurement Office in the District in which the contractor is situated. If the shortage cannot be relieved in the District Office, the papers are forwarded to the Aircraft Scheduling Unit or to the Office of the Assistant Chief of Air Staff, M. M. & D., depending on the nature of the item. The SR–1 Form above referred to is filled out as set forth in the preceding paragraph and filed with the Special Rating Branch through the Army Air Forces Washington Office.

§ 816.1678 Advice as to action taken on application. (a) If, after investigation, it is decided to assign the special rating, the WPB will send a telegram in the name of the Recording Secretary to the applicant named in paragraph 1 of the SR–1 Form. This telegram will authorize the application of the special rating only to the quantities of items specified in the telegram. The applicant should be instructed to immediately extend the rating upon receipt to his supplier. Telegrams will also be sent to the supplier in cases where it appears that the war effort can be expedited by such action but in all such cases these telegrams will be addressed to the individual who is shown as fully cognizant of the facts involved.

(b) In all cases the sponsoring technical service will be advised of the action taken upon the application for special rating by an appropriate indorsement to the transmittal communication. If the application is approved a copy of the WPB telegram granting the special rating will be inclosed with the indorsement. If the application is denied or other action taken rather than authorizing the requested special rating, a complete explanation for such action will be set forth in the indorsement. The technical service will promptly notify the applicant of the action taken upon an application when the special rating is not authorized in order that any suggested action may be followed and reconsideration requested if further details can be submitted which would warrant further consideration by the Special Rating Section.

§ 816.1679 Requests for special scheduling. (a) Requests for scheduling assistance for items covered by General Scheduling Order M–293 or other scheduling orders which are not available on their present production schedule to meet the requirement in either time or quantity for Army Supply Program may be submitted to the WPB through the interested technical service.

(b) These applications for scheduling assistance may be submitted on the above mentioned SR–1 Form in the same manner as requests for special ratings and will be considered by the Special Rating Section to determine the urgency of the requirements.

SUBPART N—RELATION OF PRIORITIES TO MATERIAL ALLOCATION SYSTEMS

§ 816.1685 Systems for controlling scarce materials. (a) Systems controlling the distribution of scarce materials, like preference ratings, are an essential part of the general scheme of effecting precedence. The most important of the procedures for controlling the distribution of materials is the Controlled Materials Plan. Only a brief review of that plan can be given in this subpart and interested officers are referred to the War Production Board CMP Regulations and the instructions on CMP issued by Army Service Forces.

(b) The Controlled Materials Plan is a system for the distribution of three common denominator materials—steel, copper, and aluminum. The available supply of these materials is divided among the Claimant Agencies (Army Service Forces, Navy, Civilian Requirements, etc.) quarterly and is allotted to manufacturers by one of two methods: All products containing controlled materials are divided into two classifications. "A" and "B" Products. "B" Products are listed in the official War Production Board "B" Product List. All products containing controlled materials not found on the official "B" Product List are "A" Products. Materials are distributed for the manufacture of "A" Products in the following manner: The manufacturer upon receiving a contract for the production of "A" Products, customarily submits an application for an allotment of the controlled materials necessary to complete the contract. The procuring agency which placed the contract makes the manufacturer an allotment of controlled materials which are necessary based on the application and an analysis of a bill of material contents. In like manner, the prime contractor in placing subcontracts for "A" Product components passes on to his subcontractor a sufficient portion of the allotment he has received to enable his subcontractors to complete their components.

(c) A manufacturer of "B" Products files with the appropriate WPB Industry Division quarterly an application for an allotment of materials necessary for the manufacture of "B" Products by the applicant during the quarter. An allotment is made to the manufacturer by the Industry Division on a CMPL–150 Form. The "B" Product manufacturer would pass on a portion of this allotment to his suppliers of "A" Product components in the same manner as a prime contractor producing "A" Products. Allotments are not made by the purchaser to manufacturers of "B" Products whether the "B" Products are end items or components of other "A" or "B" Products.

(d) A similar procedure of direct allotment is provided for construction projects and there are special procedures for certain products in which one Claimant Agency has a predominant interest, for small warehouse purchases, and for small orders. The procedure for obtaining MRO under CMP has been referred to in subpart I of this part and is covered by CMP Regulation No. 5.

(e) A preference rating is always assigned to the authorized production schedule for an "A" Product. An "A" Product manufacturer may receive his preference rating on the allotment form or on a PD-3A certificate. This preference rating is extendible by the "A" Product manufacturer to his suppliers for all materials and components necessary to carry out the authorized production schedule, except the controlled materials.

(f) The "B" Product manufacturer shows upon his CMP-4B application the preference ratings applicable to the contracts for which he is requesting an allotment of materials. He receives his preference rating or ratings on the CMPL-150 Form and these preference ratings may be extended to his suppliers. Ordinarily the preference rating assigned to the "B" Product manufacturer on the CMPL-150 Form will conform to the pattern of the ratings of the contracts held by the manufacturer. The ratings received by the B Product manufacturer from his customers may not be extended (except AAA) but the "B" Product manufacturer in making deliveries to his customers must make these deliveries in accordance with the ratings received from the customers.

§ 816.1686 Relationship of ratings to material control systems. (a) The effect of a preference rating with respect to contracts for "A" Products is modified by the Controlled Materials Plan to the extent that a lower rated order for an "A" Product once accepted by the manufacturer may not be displaced by a higher rated order (except AAA) subsequently placed. That is, a manufacturer may not accept a contract rated lower than AAA if deliveries on the contract would prevent him from making scheduled deliveries on a rated contract for "A" Products previously accepted by the manufacturer.

(b) Orders for controlled materials are accepted by producers of controlled materials in the order in which they are presented. Preference ratings are not applicable to such orders and are disregarded in scheduling the production and delivery of controlled materials. Controlled materials are obtainable only if orders are accompanied by allotment symbols indicating that they are part of an allotment made by an authorized agency in the manner above described.

(c) Although CMP modifies the effect of preference ratings upon the production and delivery of "A" Products and controlled materials, it does not otherwise alter the operation of the preference rating system. For example, even under CMP, preference ratings control the production and delivery of "B" Products, of products unclassified as "A" or "B" Products, and of non-controlled materials. All procuring agencies and manufacturers, including "A" Product manufacturers, are dependent upon their preference ratings to obtain these products and materials.

§ 816.1687 Optional procedure under Priorities Regulation No. 11–B. An optional procedure for distributing noncontrolled materials has been established by WPB Priorities Regulation No. 11–B. This regulation provides that a manufacturer of products unclassified as either "A" or "B" Products may make application to the appropriate Industry Division of the WPB on a PD-870 Form for a preference rating for specified quantities of non-controlled materials. The authorization to the manufacturer is accompanied by preference ratings which are extendible by the manufacturer to his suppliers. A manufacturer operating under Priorities Regulation No. 11–B may not extend the ratings he receives from his customers. However, the rating received with his allotment will conform to the ratings of the contracts held by him if above certain base ratings.

SUBPART O—SUMMARY OF WPB ORDERS

§ 816.1690 Summary of WPB orders. (a) P-Orders are Preference Rating Orders. "Blanket" Preference Rating Orders are used to avoid paperwork by assigning ratings which may be used for more than one delivery to obtain a variety of materials not specified in the assignment of the rating. A "P" Order saves time which would be required to assign hundreds of identical ratings on individual application forms (such as PD–1A or PD–3A), when it has been determined that a certain end-use should be assigned a specific rating without restriction.

(b) P-Orders are of two general types. The "open-end" type which assigns a rating to deliveries of all material required for the production of a named end-product. There is no restriction on the quantity of material which may be obtained by use of the rating and, as a rule, any person whose operations fit into the rated category may use the rating. This type of order is seldom issued. The "pre-audit" type of P-Order gives closer control. It also assigns a blanket rating, but the rating may be used only to obtain the quantity and types of material specifically authorized after proper periodic application to the War Production Board, as set forth in the P-Order.

(c) L-Orders are Limitation Orders, and like P-Orders, are economic controls which control end-product output. Unlike P-Orders (which promote production of needed end-products), the L-Orders restrict or prohibit the manufacture of less needed end-products. The most typical L-Order is a horizontal cut which limits each manufacturer of the regulated product to a certain percentage of his production during a base period (usually a pre-war year). An L-Order may prohibit or regulate manufacture, sale, purchase, delivery, acceptance of delivery, etc. L–Orders were used to stop the production and regulate the sale of automobiles, refrigerators, etc. Other L-Orders provide standardization and simplification practices, providing that certain end-products (e. g., bicycles) may be produced only in accordance with specifications set forth in the L-Order.

(d) M-Orders are material orders. They govern the distribution or use of raw materials, e. g., copper, iron and steel, lumber, paper, etc. One type of M-Order is the "Conservation Order" which provides, for example, that copper or steel may not be used in certain listed end-products. Other M-Orders are called "General Preference Orders". These exercise a great variety of controls and are difficult to classify. The following are the most usual provisions found in M-Orders: (1) A general inventory restriction and a rule that war orders must be filled first; (2) a rule that certain listed uses shall have preference in obtaining the regulated material; (3) a rule that all purchase orders must be filed with WPB and the distribution of the material held subject to close check, with perhaps the establishment of a "kitty" or reserve pool; (4) a requirement that suppliers must report their potential supply to WPB and users report their prospective demands, permitting WPB to compare the total supply with the demand; (5) a complete allocation order, providing that no person shall deliver or take delivery of the restricted material except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(e) E-Orders are Equipment Orders. They are similar in principle to the M-Orders but are used to regulate the distribution of certain vital manufacturing equipment, such as machine tools.

(f) T-Orders are Transportation Orders. This type of order regulates shipments of certain listed end-products, by tank cars and tank trucks. Its purpose is to prevent unnecessary cross-hauling.

(g) U-Orders are Utilities Orders. They perform the same functions as P-Orders, L-Orders, and M-Orders, in the field of "utilities," electric power, gas, water, steam, telephone, and telegraph.

(h) R-Orders are Rubber Orders and regulate the use of rubber.

(i) S-Orders are Suspension Orders. They impose specific penalties for violations of WPB orders and regulations. They may be used to stop or limit the business operations of a concern which has failed to comply with regulations issued in the interest of the war effort.

§ 816.1691 Appeals from L, M, and R-Orders. Relief from the restrictions of these orders may be obtained in individual cases by (a) specific WPB authorization, or (b) by appeals to WPB. The applicable L, M, and R-Orders state which or both methods may be used. Where under the second method the applicant takes an appeal to WPB involving items or material being procured to or for the account of the Army, such appeal is referred to the Army and Navy Munitions Board for a recommendation as to its military essentiality before final action is taken by WPB. The appeal is placed with WPB not by the technical service, but by the processor of the restricted material or producer of the prohibited item. To assure appropriate military review of such appeals and support, where necessary, it is important that the applicant identify the appeal as involving military procurement. In the case of a prime or subcontractor, the military prime contract involved should be identified by the appropriate symbols of the contract, Letter of Intent, or purchase order to indicate the military end item.

§ 816.1692 Index to orders. All WPB orders are indexed in the monthly publication, "Priorities", obtainable from the War Production Board Publications Section, Washington, D. C.

SUBPART P—PREFERENCE RATINGS FOR PROCUREMENT FROM NONAPPROPRIATED FUNDS

§ 816.1695 Procurement of items purchased with nonappropriated funds. See section IV, Circular No. 459, W. D., 1944 dealing with the issue of Preference Rating Certificates, WPB Form PD-3A, for the procurement of items being purchased with nonappropriated funds.

All other instructions are hereby rescinded. Instructions of the technical services are not affected hereby, but will be promptly conformed to this subchapter.

§ 821.101 Subjects not covered. This subchapter does not rescind or otherwise affect TM 38–220 or other publications concerning Stock Control for military property. It does not relate to the disposition of real property, which is governed by Circular No. 8, W.D., 1944 as amended by Circular No. 306, W.D., 1944 and Section II, ASF Circular No. 28, 1944. Apart from the provisions of Part 827, regarding action in connection with surplus property reported to disposal agencies, it does not relate to the disposition of termination inventory as defined in § 841.121–21, or to property which is treated as termination inventory under the provisions of § 844.400–2, which disposition is governed by Subchapter C of this chapter. It does not relate to the redistribution or disposition of any property located outside of the continental limits of the United States nor to dispositions to foreign governments. The policies and procedures governing the disposition of property which has been turned over to a salvage officer or salvage organization are covered by §§ 824.4 to 824.9 [1] and TM 38–505.

§ 821.102 Definitions. The following terms, when used in this subchapter, have the meanings indicated:

"Military property" consists of all supplies and equipment held for issue or issued, to or for troops, military posts within the United States, and theaters of operation; and includes tactical supplies and equipment, subsistence items and property required by tables of allowances, tables of basic allowances, and tables of equipment.

"Non-military property" is all property other than military property, termination inventory as defined in § 841.121–21 and property which is treated as termination inventory under the provisions of § 844.400–2.

"Serviceable property" is property other than scrap or waste which is suitable for use in its existing condition.

"Non-repairable property" is unserviceable property which cannot in the best interests of the Government be mended or restored to serviceability, and scrap and waste; and includes, but is not limited to, any obsolete non-military items, and industrial materials, industrial equipment, components, and assemblies (whether partially or completely fabricated, processed or assembled and whether new, used or deteriorated), which have no reasonable use except as scrap.

"Excess property" in the case of military property, is any property in excess of the maximum stock level authorized for a particular organization, supply point or technical service; and, in the case of non-military property, is any property in excess of the immediate and definitely forseeable needs of a particular industrial installation or other function, activity, project or industrial operation in connection with which the property was acquired.

"Surplus property" is property declared by competent authority to be, or deemed to be, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter, in excess of the immediate or definitely foreseeable needs of the entire War Department.

"Negotiation" means any method of reaching an agreement on the terms of sale, except the formal sealed bid procedure contemplated by section 3709, R. S. with respect to purchases. (There is no statutory requirement for the formal sealed bid procedure in the case of sales of government property. See Opinions of The Judge Advocate General, dated March 19, 1941, SPJGC 1941, and March 30, 1943, SPJGC 1943, 3449).

§ 821.103 Statement of War Department policy. The demands of the war production program require that the material resources of the nation be used with the utmost efficiency. This can only be accomplished if the accumulation of excess property is avoided and if idle property is put to productive use at the earliest possible moment. Accordingly, it is the policy of the War Department to prevent the acquisition or retention of excess property by the War Department. It is likewise the policy of the War Department to effect the prompt return of temporarily idle non-military property to productive use. The guiding policy of the War Department is to employ all the material resources at its command in the manner which will most effectively facilitate the prosecution of the war. To this end property will be freely redistributed under the authority granted in Part 823. In any event, excess property will be redistributed as promptly as possible. Accordingly, the chiefs of technical services will comply with existing provisions for the review of military property. All affected thereby will strictly observe the requirements of ASF Manual M–413, Supply Control System, July 20, 1944. In addition, chiefs of technical services will maintain constant and active review of all non-military property on hand or in the process of manufacture, to determine the essentiality of such property for the prosecution of approved functions, activities, projects or industrial operations.

§ 821.103–1 War Department policy on direct sales. Under regulations prescribed by the Surplus Property Board, general responsibility for disposal of surplus Government property has been assigned to certain disposal agencies, as more fully explained in Part 827 of this chapter. It is the policy of the War Department to have these disposal agencies dispose of surplus War Department property to the fullest extent provided by the regulations of the Surplus Property Board, and to limit direct disposal by the War Department to those categories for which the War Department is clearly responsible. Accordingly, sales by the War Department will be limited to the following:

(a) Sales of termination inventories and other property in hands of war contractors as provided in Subchapter C of this chapter.

(b) Sales of nominal quantities of surplus property as provided in § 827.701 of this chapter.

(c) Sales to war contractors, other government agencies and other limited classes of transferees as provided in Part 823 of this chapter.

(d) Sales of salvage, scrap and waste.

§ 821.104 Designation of Redistribution and Salvage Officer. The chief of each technical service will designate a Redistribution and Salvage Officer in his office who will have responsibility for coordinating the activities of the technical service as to salvage activities; as to the determination of what items of non-military property are excess within the technical service; as to the determination of what items of military property should be processed for declaration by competent authority as surplus; and as to the acquisition and use by the technical service of military and non-military items available from other technical services. The Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be promptly notified of the appointment, or change in the appointment of such officer.

§ 821.105 Establishment of disposal boards. (a) The chiefs of the technical services will establish in their field installations, disposal boards for reviewing and taking appropriate action with respect to proposed transactions required to be reviewed by this subchapter.

(b) Disposal boards will consist of not less than three members. The members thereof may perform other functions, provided the prompt review of property disposal matters is not hindered and the personnel are qualified by training and experience to afford adequate review with respect to such matters.

(c) Records of the proceedings of disposal boards will be maintained by the offices or installations in which they are established. Cases submitted for review will be accompanied by information pertinent to the transaction, particularly as to the following: number of offers or bids solicited and reviewed, and the amounts thereof; condition of the property; status of the buyer with respect to the use to be made of the property, and any other information necessary to show that the market has been adequately tested and that the sale should be made at the price and in the quantities stated.

(d) Disposal boards are not authorized to waive or to modify the price policies of the Surplus War Property Administration relating to the disposition of property made under this regulation, and will not approve sales which are not in conformity with the price policies.

§ 821.106 Disposal board at chief of service level. Disposal boards may be established in the offices of the chiefs of technical services, or in the case of the Army Air Forces, in the headquarters office of a command, to review and take appropriate action with respect to property transactions as to which review at that level is authorized by this subchapter (see §§ 823.301–4 (b) and 824.401–2) or by Subchapter C of this chapter.

§ 821.107 Extraordinary cases. Proposed sales or scrapping determinations involving unusual problems or difficulties may be presented for the consideration and advice of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 821.108–1 Monthly report of redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property. (a) Commanding generals of each numbered service command and the Military District of Washington will submit to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a consolidated monthly report on redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property.

(b) Each procurement office reporting to the chief of a technical service will submit to the chief of the technical service a monthly report of redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property. Chiefs of technical services will issue instructions as to the omission of certain sections of the form not applicable to their procurement offices.

(c) The chief of each technical service will submit to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a consolidated monthly report on redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property, together with reports for each procurement office reporting to him.

§ 821.108–2 Report form. Reports will be submitted on W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 256, revised December 1, 1944. Control Approval Symbol RCS–5 has been assigned to this report. This form will be used by all echelons required to submit the report.

§ 821.108–3 Date for submitting report. Report will be submitted monthly and will be filed with the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, on or before the 12th day of the month following that for which the report is made.

§ 821.108–4 Preparation of the report. Record costs may be used without inclusion of amounts for storage, transportation, handling, or other overhead costs. In the absence of record costs, estimates may be made on the basis of known costs of similar items or other available information. All dollar amounts should be reported to the nearest full dollar with cents omitted. Specific instructions as to preparation of the report together with a sample of the report form are included in §§ 829.910 and 829.910–1.

§ 821.109 Direct correspondence authorized. Direct correspondence is authorized among all levels of the technical services and representatives of other government agencies in respect of redistribution of available property under this subchapter.

§ 821.110 Methods of sale. All sales of property under this subchapter, including sales made by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors pursuant to § 823.306, will be made by negotiation in a manner to assure such competition (by taking written bids, making oral inquiry, or otherwise) as is practicable in the circumstances, and consistent with economy, efficiency and the expeditious completion of the proposed sale. The negotiating officer will make every effort to effect the sale in such manner and for such further uses as will most effectively facilitate the prosecution of the war. Sales at ceiling or established market prices and sales under § 823.301 need not be delayed for the purpose of soliciting competitive bids.

§ 821.111 Compliance with OPA and WPB regulations.

§ 821.111–1 General. All sales or other transfers (except transfers within the Government) of property made under the authority of this subchapter or otherwise, shall conform to applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration.

§ 821.111–2 WPB regulations. Officers responsible for disposal of War Department property may rely upon a representation by the buyer to the effect that the purchase is being made in compliance with all War Production Board regulations affecting the buyer, unless they have knowledge or reason to believe that such representation is false. Such a representation should be incorporated in each written contract of sale.

§ 821.111–3 Exemptions from OPA price ceilings. Price ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration do not apply to a sale (other than a sale of food or of a commodity originally purchased solely for the purpose of resale in substantially the same form or for stockpiling) where the sale is:

(a) To another Government agency (§§ 823.307 to 823.310–1);

(b) To any foreign government or agency thereof;

(c) To a contractor (but not to a subcontractor) for use in carrying out his price contract with a Government agency (§ 823.301);

(d) To any relief organization for donation or export sale (§ 823.302);

(e) Of a single item or group of items where the sales price estimated to be obtainable for all substantially similar items available for sale at the place of sale does not exceed $300 (§ 827.701);

(f) Of personal property when sold together with an interest in land or buildings in a single transaction;

(g) Of all or substantially all the Government-owned contents of a factory or plant to the owner, lessee, or operator; or to any other single buyer purchasing for use;

(h) Of building installations, facilities, appurtenances, equipment and personal property attached to the land (except standing timber);

(i) Of scrap metal to a dealer in such material purchasing solely for resale, Provided:

(1) That the dealer certifies that he is purchasing such material for resale and that in reselling he will not exceed the applicable OPA maximum prices, and

(2) That the seller has no reason to doubt the accuracy of the dealer's certificate.

§ 821.111–4 Reliance on buyers' certificates. Unless contracting officers have reason to doubt the accuracy of the certificate hereinafter set forth, they may make any sale (other than of food or of a commodity originally purchased solely for the purpose of resale in substantially the same form or for stockpiling), without verifying OPA ceiling prices, in reliance upon a certificate in the following form executed by the buyer:

> The undersigned hereby certifies that the price paid (to be paid) (to be credited to the Government) for the goods purchased (to be purchased) (to be retained by the undersigned) under (identify contract, bid or quotation) does not exceed one of the following:
> (a) The maximum price applicable to purchases by the undersigned, from usual sources of supply, of the goods in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in such contract (bid, quotation), or
> (b) The maximum selling price applicable to sales by the undersigned, in its capacity as a manufacturer, producer or processor of the same goods, disregarding minor differences in specifications or design, in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in such contract (bid, quotation).

§ 821.111–6 OPA assistance. In the event a proposed sale is not exempt from OPA price ceilings (see § 821.111–3), and is not to be made in reliance upon a certificate (see § 821.111–4), contracting officers may call upon the members of the price staff of any OPA office for aid in determining the OPA maximum price, if any, applicable thereto.

§ 821.111–7 Information obtainable. If assistance of OPA officials is not available, interested personnel may refer to the terms of OPA Supplementary Order No. 94 for a recital of various exemptions not discussed and various instructions as to methods of determining OPA price ceilings too numerous to set forth in detail in this chapter.

§ 821.111–8 Liability for violations. The OPA grants exemption to War Department officials and employees and to contractors making sales in reliance upon certificates, as set forth in § 821.111–4, from any liability for the violation of any OPA maximum price ceilings, unless the seller has reason to doubt the accuracy of such certificates.

§ 821.112 Federal excise taxes on property sold. Where property which is subject to Federal excise tax is sold, provisions governing the collection of such taxes found in Subpart F of Part 808 will be observed.

§ 821.113 Contract formalities including numbering and distribution. (a) All contracts for the sale of property made under the authority of Part 823, all contracts for an amount in excess of $1,000 and all contracts for an amount in excess of $500 which are not to be performed within sixty days shall be evidenced by a written contract prepared in substantially the form set forth in §§ 813.1326 or 813.1326a, or in such other form as may be approved by the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, or, in the case of sales by salvage officers, in the form authorized or required by applicable regulations. All other sales shall be evidenced (1) by any such written contract or (2) on accounting forms now or hereafter prescribed by the chiefs of technical services concerned, subject to the approval of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) The provisions of §§ 803.309 to 803.309–3 and 803.318b–5 relating to the numbering of contracts are applicable to contracts for the sale of property except that in connection with such contracts a separate series of numbers will be used in which the letter "S" will be added immediately after the letters representing the technical service concerned.

(c) Contracts for the sale of property will be distributed in the same manner as other contracts (see Subpart D of Part 803) except that (1) when a sale of War Department property is made under a contract or agreement the officer or agent of the War Department by whom funds are received as a result thereof will, in turning the funds over to a disbursing officer, accompany such remittance with a copy of the contract or agreement covering the terms of the sale; and (2) the original signed number of each unnumbered contract of sale will be forwarded to the General Accounting Office instead of being sent to the disbursing officer, as in the case of unnumbered contracts of purchase.

(d) A copy of each contract of sale of military property, the original cost of which exceeded $2,000 will be distributed to the Chairmen of the Military Affairs Committees of the House and Senate within twenty-four hours after a contract has been made.

§ 821.114 Coordination with Property Officer. All transfers or sales of property under authority herein contained must be coordinated with the Property Officer involved for compliance with applicable property accountability regulations.

§ 821.115 Information as to sales of War Department property. It is the policy of the War Department to have the facts on all public sales of War Department property kept available at the point of sale for public inspection during normal business hours for any proper purpose. The facts on sales to war contractors will likewise be kept available for inspection by the interested parties.

§ 821.115–1 Furnishing information to periodicals. When sales are made on written invitations to bid, copies of invitations and information as to awards may be transmitted to periodicals for publicity purposes, or to persons who request invitations for the purpose of advising their clients. In any event, copies of written invitations to bid and information as to awards will be kept available at the point of sale for inspection by representatives of periodicals or other interested parties during normal business hours for any proper purpose.

§ 821.115–2 Information as to declarations of surplus. (a) Information as to declarations of surplus property by the War Department, including the reasons why the property became surplus, is a matter of public interest and such information must be made available to the public to the fullest extent practicable.

(b) Under no circumstances will the War Department ask or expect a Disposal Agency to dispose of property declared surplus by the War Department under any conditions other than normal full publicity.

(c) In those cases where the Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, upon the basis of information received from the chiefs of the technical services, considers that proposed declarations of surplus involve substantial or unusual amounts or types of property, Readjustment Division will prepare the statement of the pertinent facts, including the reasons why the property became surplus, which it will process through normal channels for release by the Bureau of Public Relations. Chiefs of technical services will cooperate with Readjustment Division in the preparation of such statements.

§ 821.115–3 Advance information. (a) War Department personnel, military and civilian, will refrain from furnishing prospective buyers advance information as to surplus property, and from any other action tending to prefer any buyer or class of buyers over other buyers. Information which should not be divulged includes information that property is excess at a certain locality, or will shortly be declared surplus or be reported to a given disposal agency, or that it has been so reported. Information which may properly be divulged includes such information as that a certain disposal agency has been designated to dispose of particular types of property, that certain property is being advertised for sale by a certain agency, or that a salvage officer is currently accepting bids for specified property. Negative information, such as that no property of a type in question has been declared surplus, may also be given.

(b) The foregoing is not to be construed as limiting the provisions of § 821.115–2 as to furnishing disposal agencies with information on declarations of surplus; or as to the official release of such information through the Bureau of Public Relations. Furnishing information to War Department personnel for use in connection with their official duties is not prohibited.

§ 821.116 Sales to War Department personnel. Except as authorized by Part 823, or by AR 30–2290, §§ 824.4 to 824.9[1], TM–38–505, or other War Department publication, no sales of Government-owned property will be made to any official or employee of the War Department nor any officer, enlisted man, or civilian employee of the Army.

§ 821.117 Assistance in obtaining surplus property. War Department personnel, military and civilian, whether or not engaged in surplus property activities, will not render assistance to individuals in obtaining surplus property, except (a) Such assistance as is incident to making authorized War Department sales or to the disposal of termination inventories and (b) Such assistance as is involved in making proper response to inquiries, as provided in § 821.115–3 (a).

§ 823.313 Procedure for transfers without reimbursement. Officers authorized to transfer or direct the transfer of property without reimbursement under § 823.312 will prepare written orders, listing in detail the property to be transferred, copies of which will be furnished to the Accountable Property Officer and the receiving officers. Such orders will contain a request that the authority directing the transfer be advised of any discrepancies between the order and the property shipped or received. A copy of such orders will be used as a valid debit or credit voucher to property accounts. It will not be necessary to list for fiscal or property accounting purposes dollar values of property transferred without reimbursement.

§ 823.314 Gifts and loans of drawings and other property. (a) The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, without further approval, to give or lend drawings, manufacturing and other information and samples of supplies and equipment to be manufactured or furnished, to contractors and private firms which are or may likely be manufacturers or furnishers of supplies and equipment for the use of the War Department under approved production plans.

(b) Whenever they determine that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war, the chiefs of technical services are authorized to give or lend, by appropriate written agreement reciting such determination, to organizations engaged in experimental research, testing, or developing, such items and any other material, supplies or equipments for use in connection therewith: Provided, That if in the case of a gift the estimated value of the property in question exceeds $1,000, or, in the case of a loan, $50,000, the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will first be obtained.

(a) To be eligible for donations, an institution must:

(1) Be operated by a State or political subdivision thereof, or must be certified by a State department of education, State board for vocational education, or a similar State authority responsible for the supervision of education, to be an institution not operated for profit and having a standard curriculum in the fields for which it offers training;

(2) Provide a regular course of instruction which will require the use of the property;

(3) Use the property in a pre-induction training program recommended by the Director of Military Training, Army Service Forces or an aeronautical industrial training program recommended by the Assistant Chief, Air Staff, Personnel, Headquarters, Army Air Forces; and

(4) Provide adequate facilities to maintain the property.

(b) Requests for the donation of property to educational institutions will be forwarded, in the case of property to be used in pre-induction training, to the commanding general of the service command in which the institution is located (attention: Pre-Induction Training Officer) and, in the case of property to be used in aeronautical industrial training, to the commanding general of the area air technical service command in which the institution is located. The commanding general of the service command or the area air technical service command may approve the request if he determines that:

(1) All efforts to supply the property from salvage have been exhausted;

(2) The request is reasonable and proper in view of the training to be given; and

(3) The institution meets the standards set forth in paragraph (a) above.

(c) If the commanding general of the service command or the area air technical service command approves the request, he shall prepare the specific findings required by paragraph (b) above and shall forward them, together with his recommendation, to the chief of the technical service having control of the property to be donated (attention: Redistribution and Salvage Officer), when such property is to be donated by the Army Service Forces, and to the Director, Air Technical Service Command, Wright Field, Ohio, when such property is to be donated by the Army Air Forces. The chief of the technical service or the Director, Air Technical Service Command, if the request is approved by him, will direct the appropriate installations to ship the property to the educational institution concerned and will include in such direction a citation of this section.

(d) The following property may be donated under the authority of this section:

(1) Obsolete or excess machinery, mechanical equipment and tools;

(2) Aircraft, aircraft parts, instruments or engines which are obsolete or impaired to the extent that repair would not be economical.

However, under no circumstances will any donation be made which will result in current procurement to replace the property donated, nor will property be considered available for donation after it has been reported as surplus to a Disposal Agency. Aircraft, aircraft parts, instruments or engines will be donated only upon the execution of an agreement by the donee that the property donated will not be used in actual flying.

(e) No property will be shipped until receipt of payment by the donee of all expenses necessary for packing, handling and delivery to the carrier. Property shipped by carrier will be on commercial bill of lading with transportation charges collect. Copies of shipping documents listing the property supported by shipping directions described in paragraph (c) above will constitute valid credit vouchers to the property accounts. No further accounting for the property will be required. Two lists of the property donated will be forwarded to the commanding general of the service command or the area air technical service command who recommended the donation.

§ 823.317 Sales to contractors for return in kind. (a) The chiefs of technical services are authorized to sell property from War Department stocks to prime contractors for the purpose of maintaining or expediting production, under agreements by such contractors to replace the items delivered with identical articles procured by the contractors or to make payment therefor, in the form prescribed in this section. Property from War Department stocks will be made available to prime contractors under the authority of this section only when the property is needed by the contractor to maintain or expedite the production rate under the prime contract, and when the contractor has outstanding subcontracts for the acquisition of identical articles which can be used to replace the War Department stock. The property sold to a contractor under the authority of this section will not exceed in estimated value an amount equal to 5% of the total amount of the principal contract.

(b) The following procedure will be followed in making property available to contractors under the authority of this section:

(1) Requests for the delivery of property under this section will be addressed to the chief of the technical service or his delegate, and signed by the contracting officer for the contract involved. The request will state the specific quantity or number of articles desired, and will give technical service number and nomenclature, and will specify the time within which the articles will be replaced. The request will also state fully the reasons and circumstances under which the request is made.

(2) The chief of technical service will notify the contracting officer of the approval or disapproval of the request, and will advise him of the depot from which the property will be delivered, if the request is approved. The chief of the technical service will direct the depot from which the property is to be delivered to make delivery to the contractor, upon receipt of notice from the contracting officer as provided in subparagraph (5) below. The instructions to the depot will require that a special property record be maintained for each such transaction, and that the depot arrange for adequate inspection of the property at the time of its delivery at the contractor's plant, and for inspection of the replacement items upon their delivery to the War Department by the contractor.

(3) Upon approval by the chief of technical service, the contracting officer will arrange with the contractor for the execution of a supplemental agreement in the following form, which agreement will recite that it is executed pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001:

ARTICLE .... In consideration of the sale and delivery by the United States to the contractor of the articles listed on Exhibit A, the contractor agrees:

(1) to replace said articles by delivery to the United States of identical articles at the place or places designated by the contracting officer on or before _____, or

(2) failing the replacement of said articles on said date, to pay to the United States an amount to be determined by the contracting officer, which will include the cost to the government of the articles, and all packing, handling and other costs.

(3) that said articles will be used by the contractor only for the performance of the contract; and

(4) that the amount of $_____ shall be withheld by the United States until said articles are replaced or the value thereof determined by the contracting officer in accordance with this agreement.

(5) that if an advance payment is outstanding under the prime contract, the advance payment lien shall attach to the said articles listed in Exhibit A, and any amounts to be withheld as provided in (4) above, shall be withheld only from amounts remaining due after the deduction of liquidation payments required by the advance payment article.

(4) The contracting officer will specify an amount, not exceeding 5% of the total amount of the principal contract, to be withheld which in his opinion is adequate to cover the cost to the government of the articles to be delivered to the contractor.

(5) Upon the execution of such supplemental agreement, the contracting officer will (i) promptly transmit a copy thereof to the finance officer, with a request that the specified amount be withheld until receipt of notice of replacement or instructions to make a final deduction, and (ii) notify the Depot Supply Officer that he is authorized to deliver the articles.

(6) Three copies of the shipping document covering the property delivered to the contractor will be forwarded by the depot to the contracting officer. Two copies will be signed by the contractor acknowledging receipt of the property. One copy will be retained by the contracting officer and the other forwarded to the Depot Supply Officer. The third copy will be retained by the contractor.

(7) The following notation will be typed on the shipping document and signed by the contractor:

Receipt from the United States Government of the property listed hereon for use on Contract No. _____ is hereby acknowledged. It is agreed that replacement of this property will be made in kind on or before _____ (date) or payment made therefor in accordance with said contract.

_____ _____

(8) The Depot Supply Officer will notify the contracting officer when the replacement has been made and accepted, and the contracting officer will transmit such notice to the finance officer.

(9) If the property is not replaced in kind by the contractor on or before the date specified in the supplemental agreement, the Depot Supply Officer will report such fact to the contracting officer who will take action to obtain the replacement of the property or will notify the finance officer of the amount payable to the government under the agreement, advising the Depot Supply Officer of the completed action. In the event of payment by the contractor in lieu of replacement, the written advice of the contracting officer to the Depot Supply Officer that settlement has been effected will constitute a valid credit voucher to the Depot Supply Officer's property account.

§ 823.318 Miscellaneous sales under specific statutes and Army regulations. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to sell or otherwise dispose of any property which is not determined to be surplus pursuant to this regulation, in accordance with the provisions of AR 45–75, AR 45–80, AR 30–2280, AR 30–2290, AR 500–60, and AR 850–100. Property determined to be surplus will be disposed of only in accordance with this subchapter.

PART 824—DISPOSITION OF NON-REPAIRABLE PROPERTY

Sec.
824.400 Scope of part.
824.401 Non-military property other than current production scrap.
824.402 Current production scrap.
824.403 Sale of non-repairable property by or to contractors.
824.404 Military property, and non-military property not certified under § 824.401.
824.405 Designation of salvage officer.
824.406 Disposition by salvage officers.
824.407 Sale of certain additions and improvements.
824.408 Aluminum scrap.
824.409 Scrap (other than aluminum) after VE-Day.
824.410 Preparation for shipment.

§ 824.400 Scope of part. This part provides the authority and procedures for disposing of non-repairable property.

§ 824.401 Non-military property other than current production scrap. (a) Government-owned non-military property other than current production scrap may be classified as non-repairable by the submission of a list of the property involved to an authorized officer and the execution thereon by such officer of the following certificate:

It is my opinion that the property listed hereon is (include (1) or (2), whichever is appropriate)

(1) Used or damaged beyond economic repair.

(2) Obsolete or so specialized in design or otherwise of such a nature that it has no reasonable use except as scrap and is therefore properly classified as non-repairable non-military property in accordance with the provisions of Procurement Regulation No. 7, and that its condition is not due to fault or neglect.

Where the property is new but nevertheless properly classified as non-repairable, as will be the case with many obsolete items and items of work in process, the phrase following the last comma may be omitted.

The certifying officer will inspect the property or require the submission of such statement of fact and report of inspection as he deems necessary as a basis for the execution of the certificate.

(b) A copy of such list with the certificate will be furnished to the accountable property officer, and will operate as a credit voucher discharging accountability.

(c) Property so certified, except property in the possession of a contractor which is to be disposed of under § 824.403, will be turned over to a salvage officer with a copy of the list and certificate.

(d) Non-repairable property in the possession of a contractor may be either (1) sold to or by the contractor when authorized pursuant to the provisions of § 824.403, below, or (2) turned over to a salvage officer for disposal. In either case, if the property is required to be accounted for under War Department Technical Manuals 14–910, "Manual for Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Supply Contracts," and 14–911, "Accounting for Government Property Furnished Under Fixed-Price Contracts," the certificate prescribed in paragraph (a), above, will not be required. In such cases the credit voucher to the property account will consist of a copy of the list of property turned over to a salvage officer or approved by the contracting officer for sale by the contractor, supported by the contracting officer's written advice to the accountable property officer as prescribed in paragraph 103 of TM 14–910 and paragraph 80 of TM 14–911, respectively, or if there is no question as to the responsibility of the contractor for the condition of the property, supported by a written order of the contracting officer directing transfer to the salvage officer or approving the sale by the contractor.

(e) Non-repairable property will not be mutilated except when such mutilation is required for reasons of security or safety.

§ 824.401–1 Review and approval of scrapping. Government-owned non-military property (other than that worn out through fair wear and tear) will not be classified as non-repairable property under § 824.401 without the prior review and approval of a local disposal board if the cost (estimated if not known) of the property so classified exceeds $50,000. Property will not be subdivided for the purpose of avoiding this limitation.

§ 824.401–2 Review at chief of service level. Disposal boards established pursuant to § 821.106 may review classification of Government-owned non-repairable property under § 824.401, where the cost of such property (estimated if not known) exceeds $500,000.

§ 824.402 Current production scrap. Current production scrap, which is industrial scrap resulting from the fabricating or processing of raw materials (such as chips, cuttings, borings, and short ends of ferrous and non-ferrous metals, clippings and cuttings from wool and cotton fabric, residues from chemicals and plastics, rubber and treated fabric offal, glass, paper and lumber offal, damaged and unsuitable packing materials and containers), other than that disposed of by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor under contract provisions, will be turned over to a salvage officer, without the certification required under § 824.401.

§ 824.403 Sale of non-repairable property by or to contractors. Any non-military property in the possession of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or fixed price contractor, which has been classified as non-repairable pursuant to § 824.401, may be sold by the contracting officer to the contractor, or retained or sold by the contractor with the approval of the contracting officer.

§ 824.404 Military property, and non-military property not certified under § 824.401. Military property, and non-military property which cannot be certified under § 824.401, may be classified as non-repairable and turned over to a salvage officer in accordance with the provisions of AR 35–6640, and War Department Circular No. 7, 1944.

§ 824.405 Designation of salvage officer. Chiefs of technical services may designate the salvage officer to receive and dispose of non-repairable non-military property.

§ 824.406 Disposition by salvage officers. All property turned over to a salvage officer in accordance with this part will be disposed of in accordance with AR 700–25 §§ 824.4 to 824.9,[1] TM 38–505, and any other applicable regulations.

§ 824.407–1 Property salable as scrap or salvage after removal. (a) The chief of a technical service may negotiate contracts for the sale of, and may sell to the contractor in possession, conduits, wiring, fencing, partitions, connections, fixtures, foundations and other additions and improvements which the Government, presently or at some future date, is authorized or required to remove from the contractor's premises, or is obligated to reimburse the contractor for such removal, whenever such property would be salable only as scrap or salvage after removal.

(b) Where the estimated costs of removal which the Government is required to bear (including any costs of dismantling or preparation for shipment and any cost of repairing damage to the contractor's plant to the extent that the Government may be liable therefor in accordance with § 810.1003a of this chapter) exceeds the estimated recoverable scrap of salvage value after removal, the contract of sale may provide for leaving the property in place in consideration of the contractor's releasing the Government of all obligation to remove the property or make reimbursement therefor. When property is left in place pursuant to any such agreement, the transaction will be subject to prior review by a local disposal board, and will be accomplished by a supplement to the contract under which the obligation to remove arises. The supplement will recite that it is executed under the First War Powers Act and Executive Order 9001.

§ 824.407–2 Other property. The authorization contained in § 824.407 extends to connections, fixtures, and similar property, which may be salable other than as scrap or salvage after removal, whenever:

(a) Such property is attached to or used in connection with additions and improvements salable under § 824.407–1; and

(b) It is impracticable or against the best interests of the Government to sever the connections, fixtures, and similar property, as, for example, where such property is an integral part of the addition or improvement, or physically so attached to the addition or improvement that severance would not be feasible or would affect adversely the sales price; and

(c) The cost of such connections, fixtures, and similar property represents a relatively minor part of the total cost of all the property to be sold, the entirety of which would be regarded substantially as scrap or salvage after removal. (Costs may be estimated if not known.)

§ 824.407–3 Limitations on authorization. The authorization contained in § 824.407 is subject to the following limitations:

(a) Sales will be made at the best price obtainable, with due regard to the value of the items to the contractor, the probable cost of removing the items, and the estimated proceeds of sale to any other buyer after deducting the estimated cost of removal.

(b) Where the total cost, estimated if not known, of the items involved in any proposed sale exceeds $1,000, such sale will not be made without the prior approval of a disposal board.

(c) Machine tools and other production equipment may not be sold under the authority contained in § 824.407.

§ 824.408 Aluminum scrap.

§ 824.408–1 Minimum prices. (a) Surplus War Property Administration Regulation No. 5 prescribes minimum prices for the sale of various grades of aluminum scrap, except: (1) quantities of 10,000 lbs. or less available for sale at any one place; (2) scrap resulting from termination inventories, where the total claim of the contractor or subcontractor, before disposal credits, is less than $10,000; (3) borings and turnings, regardless of quantity.

(b) The following minimum prices are prescribed, f. o. b. shipping point, for the grades indicated:

	Cents per lb.
(1) All segregated solids	6
(2) All mixed solids	5
(3) Any scrap solids mixed with foreign materials	4
(4) bsolete aircraft; completed or partially completed subassemblies	2½
(5) Wrecked aircraft	1¼

(c) Aluminum scrap which is not exempt from the minimum price provisions referred to in paragraph (a) of this section and which cannot be sold at or above the minimum prices provided in paragraph (b) of this section, will be shipped to aluminum scrap storage areas operated by Metals Reserve Company, a subsidiary of Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Shipments will be made in accordance with the instructions contained in § 824.408–2.

§ 824.408–2 Shipment to storage areas. (a) Prior to making shipments of aluminum scrap to storage areas pursuant to § 824.408–1 (c), shipping instructions, will be requested by mail, telephone or telegraph from the regional office of Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the region in which the scrap is located. A list of these offices is contained in § 829.907. Requests will be addressed to the attention of Metals Reserve Company Agent and will indicate the approximate weight of the scrap for which shipping instructions are sought. The Metals Reserve Company Agent will issue appropriate shipping instructions upon receipt of such request.

(b) Each shipment will be evidenced by War Department shipping documents, indicating the total weight shipped, and will be accomplished on government Bills of Lading. If shipments are made by rail, flat bottom gondola cars will be used.

§ 824.409 Scrap (other than aluminum) after VE-Day. (a) It is anticipated that on VE-Day, scrap other than aluminum, resulting from contract terminations only, may not be salable at contractors' plants in time to assure prompt plant clearance. In order to relieve this situation certain emergency storage areas are being prepared and will be ready to receive such scrap on VE-Day.

(b) On and after VE-Day, scrap, other than aluminum, resulting from contract terminations, which cannot be sold within the 60-day limit prescribed by § 844.413 will be reported to the commanding general of the service command in which it is located. The commanding general of the service command will issue shipping instructions for shipment of such scrap to one of its emergency scrap storage areas.

(c) The commanding general of the service command will establish informal liaison with the local procurement offices of the technical services to estimate the probable rate of scrap shipment to emergency scrap storage areas.

(d) Establishment of these emergency storage areas does not relieve contracting officers or contractors of the responsibility for taking all reasonable action to dispose of termination inventory scrap during the 60-day limit referred to in paragraph (b).

§ 824.410 Preparation for shipment. Non-repairable property shipped to storage areas under §§ 824.408 and 824.409 will be loaded and shipped as such and will not be crated, skidded or otherwise prepared for shipment.

PART 825—DISPOSITION OF SERVICEABLE MILITARY PROPERTY

Sec.
825.500 Scope of part.
825.501 Declaration of surplus.
825.502 Mutilation and disposition of certain military property that is unsuitable for civilian use.
825.503 Disposition of surplus.

§ 825.500 Scope of part. This part provides authority and procedures in addition to those in Parts 823 and 824 for the disposition of military property. In this connection, attention is called to the policy of the War Department requiring prompt disposition of excess property as stated in § 821.103.

[1] 9 F.R. 5034, 14045; 10 CFR, 1944 Supp., 824.4 to 824.9.

§ 825.501 Declaration of surplus. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to declare serviceable military property surplus with the approval of, or subject to regulations prescribed by, the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Requirements and Stock Control Division), or the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates, as to property of the Army Air Forces, and to dispose of such property in the manner provided in this part notwithstanding the provisions of section 14a, Chapter 440, of Title 1 of the act of June 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 681, 10 U.S.C. 1262a). The regulations prescribed by the Commanding General, Army Services Forces, governing the declaration of military property as surplus are set forth in Section II, ASF Circular No. 407, 1944, and ASF Manual M–416, "Stock Control Manual for Depots", November 17, 1944.

§ 825.502 Mutilation and disposition of certain military property that is unsuitable for civilian use. Because of their peculiarly military characteristics, certain items such as lethal weapons, ammunition, certain aeronautical equipment, classified articles (see AR 380–5), and distinctive articles of the uniform, cannot be released for civilian use when they are declared surplus, but must be mutilated and scrapped, disarmed, stripped of their military characteristics, altered and declassified, or otherwise made suitable for non-military use before they are disposed of. When such items are declared surplus, the authority declaring them surplus will give specific directions for the mutilation, alteration, disarming, stripping, cannibalization or other action to be accomplished before disposal; and will give further specific directions as follows:

(a) If, in his judgment, the items, or the residue thereof, will have no reasonable use except as scrap after such mutilation, etc., he will direct that the items, or the residue thereof, be turned over to the local salvage officer for disposal as scrap in accordance with applicable salvage regulations. (See AR 35–6520, Par. 17b, for accounting procedure.)

(b) If, in his judgment, the items or any part thereof will have value for civilian use after such mutilation, etc., he will direct that they be disposed of as surplus after the accomplishment of such mutilation, etc.

§ 825.503 Disposition of surplus. Military property declared surplus and not directed to be disposed of as scrap will be disposed of in accordance with Part 827. (See AR 35–6520, Par. 17a for accounting procedure.)

SUBPART C—PROPERTY OTHER THAN PRODUCTION AND UTILITY EQUIPMENT, CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT AND CONTROLLED MATERIALS

826.630 Application.
826.631 Local redistribution.
826.632 Circularization.
826.633 Determination of surplus.
826.634 Action to be taken on stockpile materials.

SUBPART D—CONTROLLED MATERIALS

826.640 Application.
826.641 Local redistribution.
826.642 Redistribution assistance by chief of service.
826.643 Determination of surplus.
826.644 Action to be taken on stockpile materials.

§ 826.600 Scope of part. This part provides authority and procedures for disposing of nonmilitary property in addition to those set forth in Parts 823 and 824. In this connection attention is called to the policy of the War Department set forth in § 821.103 requiring constant and active review of non-military property on hand and in the process of manufacture and prompt disposition of excess property.

§ 826.601 Redistribution. Non-military property is composed largely of production and construction equipment and materials used in the manufacture of items of issue, and in construction. When such property becomes idle or excess, it can most effectively be returned to productive use through vigorous effort of the local establishment having jurisdiction of the property, with assistance of the chief of the technical service concerned when local effort has not resulted in redistribution within a reasonable period. Property that cannot be redistributed by such means within a reasonable period (which should not exceed 60 days) after it becomes idle or excess should be reported to a disposal agency, in order that it may be offered for disposal in the broadest industrial market. Accordingly, when it has been determined that items of non-military property are not required for immediate or definitely foreseeable need at the point of use, action will be immediately taken to redistribute such items within the technical service concerned or to return the property to a direct war use in accordance with Part 823. When such items cannot be redistributed immediately to fill known requirements the procedures established in this part will be promptly instituted and vigorously pursued.

§ 826.602 Circularization. Although circularization of non-military property, other than part 3 property, is not required, it may be used in those cases where it is considered to be an effective aid to redistribution. When so used, circularization should be accomplished on a selective basis; only important and substantial items of property should be included and only those offices likely to have requirements for the particular property should be circularized. In no event should circularization be permitted to limit local redistribution efforts or delay the disposal as surplus of property that cannot promptly be redistributed.

§ 826.603 Deviation from procedures. The Director, Readjustment Division, is authorized to permit deviation from the procedures established in this part.

SUBPART A—PRODUCTION EQUIPMENT AND UTILITY EQUIPMENT

§ 826.610 Application. The procedures established in this subpart are applicable to idle production and utility equipment. However, such procedures will not apply to property comprised in complete War Department owned industrial installations that have been placed in stand-by or reported as excess under WD Circular 8, 1944, as amended by WD Circular 89, 1945.

§ 826.610–1 Production and utility equipment. Production and utility equipment (hereinafter referred to as Part 1 property) includes the following:

Machine tools.
Metal working machinery.
Cleaning and spraying equipment.
Compressors and vacuum pumps.
Industrial pumps.
Industrial conveying machinery.
Engines and turbines, general purpose.
Heat exchanges.
Optical machinery.
Industrial cranes and hoists.
Thermal driers and dehydrators.
Fans, blowers, and exhausters, industrial types.
Pressure and vacuum filters.
Power boilers and pressure vessels.
Electric motors, integral horsepower, and electric motor controls.
Power conversion equipment.
Foundry equipment.
Heat treating equipment.
Packaging machinery.
Industrial scale and weighing equipment.
Industrial laboratory equipment.
Industrial trucks, tractors, trailers, and stackers.
Welding and cutting equipment, industrial types.
Crushing, pulverizing, screening, and mixing equipment and machinery, industrial types.
Special industry machinery (specialized machinery for food products, pulp and paper, printing trades, rubber working, petroleum, ceramics, glass, shoemaking, textile, tanning, pharmaceutical, chemical, and other special industries).
Major items of equipment used in the generating, processing, transmission, or distribution of electricity, gas, and water, and in the disposal of sewage.

§ 826.610–2 Surveys of Part 1 property. The chief of the technical services will make energetic and continuous surveys of Part 1 property in order to ascertain promptly when such property is idle. Part 1 property will be considered idle when it is no longer required for war purposes by the contractor or the War Department installation in possession thereof; however, mere lack of immediate use will not constitute idleness if there is a definitely foreseeable need for the item in connection with the prosecution of the war. Efforts should be made to consolidate production on as few items of Part 1 property as possible consistent with production efficiency, in order to render other items idle and available for redistribution.

§ 826.611–1 Applicability. The procedures prescribed by § 826.611 will apply to Part 1 property except any item (a) the cost of which (estimated if not known) is less than $350; (b) which is classified as "X" in accordance with the classification of condition prescribed by the Surplus Property Board; or (c) which was manufactured prior to 1930.

§ 826.611–2 Industrial Equipment Redistribution Board. The Industrial Equipment Redistribution Board (hereinafter in this Subpart A referred to as "the Board") has been established by a memorandum between the War and Navy Departments and the Defense Plant Corporation, April 24, 1945. The chiefs of the technical services (except The Quartermaster General and The Surgeon General) will each designate one representative (and one alternate to act in his absence) stationed in the Military District of Washington to serve as members of the Board. The Quartermaster General and The Surgeon General may, if they desire, each designate one officer to serve on the Board. The Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters Army Service Forces, will designate one officer to act as vice chairman of the Board.

§ 826.611–3 Duties of the Board. The Board will study operating procedures, forms and practices in connection with the redistribution and reporting of Part 1 property and will take necessary action or make appropriate recommendations to assure the maximum utilization of such property in war production or for national defense. It will direct its efforts toward eliminating the purchase by the Government of new Part 1 property when requirements can be supplied from Government-owned idle property.

§ 826.611–4 Redistribution. The chief of the owning technical service will determine and take whatever action is necessary to redistribute idle War Department owned Part 1 property (other than items excepted by § 826.611–1) within the technical service. The period of such redistribution will be limited to 20 days from the time when such property was determined to be idle. Circularization, if any, will not be made to other technical services.

§ 826.611–5 "War Available" reports. If War Department owned Part 1 property is not redistributed or definitely assigned for immediate transfer to war production by the owning technical service within the 20 day period prescribed by § 826.611–4, it will be reported to the Board as "War Available" on suitable Kardex forms approved by the Board (address: Industrial Equipment Redistribution Board, % Defense Plant Corporation, 811 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington 25, D. C.). Each such form shall include only one item of Part 1 property and its accessories, and shall be prepared as fully and accurately as possible with particular attention to matters of description and condition. Redistribution efforts may be continued after reporting property to the Board as "War Available": Provided, however, That no property so reported may be transferred, except to storage, or returned to production without the approval of the Board. When Part 1 property is reported to the Board, the owning technical service will indicate which, if any, items it requires for future modernization, stand-by, or War Department industrial reserve, in the event that such items are not redistributed by the Board for immediate war use. If a technical service moves any property to storage after it has been reported to the Board as "War Available," it will notify the Board promptly of the change in location.

§ 826.611–6 War Available Equipment File. The Board will maintain a War Available Equipment File of Part 1 property reported to it by the technical services. Property reported to the Board as "War Available" will be available for redistribution through the Board for a period not to exceed 40 days from the date of its receipt of such report: Provided, however, That the Board may extend such redistribution period for an additional period not to exceed 20 days.

§ 826.611–7 Screening requirements. The Board member of each technical service will screen his service's requirements for Part 1 property against the War Available Equipment File and such records of surplus equipment as are maintained centrally by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Under the jurisdiction of the Board, the Joint Army-Navy Screening Staff will review War Production Board 542 (formerly PD–3A) certificates, as provided in WPB Directive 23 as amended, and available order boards of equipment manufacturers, and will screen these war equipment requirements against the War Available Equipment File and such records of surplus equipment as are maintained centrally by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

§ 826.611–8 Requests for transfer. When the Board ascertains a requirement for items which can be supplied from the War Available Equipment File, it will direct that the member representing the requiring technical service submit in behalf of his service a written request for transfer of the items, together with appropriate instructions, to the owning technical service or Bureau via the Board. If any item selected from the War Available Equipment File proves, upon inspection by the requiring service not to be in satisfactory condition, the Board will be so advised. Upon receipt of a request for transfer of an item, indorsed by the Board, the owning technical service will promptly transfer the item in accordance with Part 823 of this subchapter, even though the owning technical service or Bureau has earmarked the item for future modernization, stand-by or War Department industrial reserve.

§ 826.611–9 Release of Part 1 property. If any Part 1 property reported to the Board as "War Available" has not been redistributed by the Board within the designated period, it will be released by the Board and reported back to the owning technical service.

§ 826.611–10 Idle Part 1 property. Idle Part 1 property need not be reported to the Board as "War Available" when:

(a) The contractor submits an application for removal of the property pursuant to § 848.863 and the technical service reports the property promptly to a disposal agency as surplus; however, in such cases, the technical service will forward to the Board a copy of the surplus report transmitted to the disposal agency; or

(b) The technical service agrees to sell the property to the contractor pursuant to § 848.861–3 or § 848.864–4.

If, subsequent to its report of property to the Board as "War Available", a technical service receives an application from the contractor for removal of the property and it wishes to report such property promptly as surplus to a disposal agency, or if the contractor agrees to purchase the property, the Board will be notified thereof, and will immediately release any of the property covered by such removal or purchase application for which redistribution instructions cannot be furnished.

§ 826.611–11 "Freezing" idle Part 1 property. When a technical service contemplates that a facility should be maintained intact for possible further war production or, where appropriate, for disposal as an integrated unit, it may "freeze" idle Part 1 property and need not report it to the Board as "War Available"; however the "freeze" will not constitute actual "stand-by", which requires other action in accordance with WD Circular 8, 1944, as amended. Where Part 1 property is thus "frozen," the owning technical service will report to the Board the name and address of the plant or installation in which such property is located, together with information as to the nature of the property and purposes for which its retention intact is desired.

§ 826.612 Determination of surplus. When Part 1 property, excluded from the Board's redistribution procedure as set forth in § 862.611, becomes idle and is determined to be excess to the needs of the owning service, it will be deemed surplus without further action and will be disposed of by the technical service in accordance with Part 827. When Part 1 property subject to redistribution by the Board is released by the Board and reported back to the owning technical service in accordance with § 826.611–9, it will be disposed of by the technical service in accordance with Part 827.

§ 826.613 Interim procedure. Part 1 property which has not been reported as surplus to a disposal agency prior to the issuance of this regulation will not be so reported unless it has first been reported to the Board as "War Available" and released by the Board in accordance with § 826.611–9: Provided, however, That Part 1 property which has already been circularized may be reported as surplus without being reported to the Board as "War Available", if the technical service forwards a copy of such surplus report to the Board.

§ 826.614 Authorized stand-by and War Department industrial reserve. Prior to the cessation of hostilities, items of Part 1 property, other than those suitable solely for production of purely military items, will not be held in stand-by or War Department industrial reserve without the prior approval of the Director, Production Division, Headquarters Army Service Forces, or, in the case of Part 1 property of the Army Air Forces, the Commanding General, Army Air Forces.

§ 826.615–1 Applicability. The provisions of §§ 826.615 to 826.615–3 will not apply to complete Defense Plant Corporation projects for which redistribution procedures are established by paragraph 4b, WD Memorandum W5–44, January 25, 1944.

§ 826.615–2 Procedure. The following procedure has been agreed upon between the War Department and the Defense Plant Corporation with respect to Part 1 property owned by Defense Plant Corporation and sponsored by a technical service (including Production Division, Headquarters Army Service Forces (referred to in this § 826.615 as Production Division) when it is the sponsor):

(a) The DPC Supervising Engineer will cooperate with the local representative of the sponsoring service (in the case of a technical service) or the Director, Production Division, to ascertain when such property is idle.

(b) The Defense Plant Corporation will prescribe a standard form upon which contractors will indicate such idle property. The standard form will be filed by the contractor with the DPC Supervising Engineer who will inform the contractor as to the number of copies to be made. The Supervising Engineer will deliver the original and two copies of the form to the local representative of the sponsoring service (in the case of a technical service) or to the Director, Production Division.

(c) Upon receipt of a duly executed standard form, the local representative will forward the original and two copies to the chief of the technical service, who will determine whether such property is required by the service or may be released to the Defense Plant Corporation as no longer required by such service. When Production Division is the sponsor, the determination will be made by the Director, Production Division. The determination will be made within a period of 20 days from the time when the form is submitted to the local representative of the service or to the Director, Production Division. If the property is not redistributed or definitely assigned for immediate war production by the sponsoring technical service or the Production Division, the chief of the technical service or the Director, Production Division, will acknowledge its release on the original copy of the form and will forward the original to the Defense Plant Corporation through the Board. The Board will attempt to redistribute the property in accordance with the procedures prescribed in § 826.611 so far as they are applicable. If redistribution cannot be accomplished, the form will be turned over to the Defense Plant Corporation and will constitute a formal release by the War Department.

(d) When the property is not required by the sponsoring technical service or the Production Division for an immediate war production requirement but is required for authorized future modernization, stand-by, or War Department industrial reserve, the release prescribed by paragraph (c) above will not be executed; however, the forms will nevertheless be forwarded to Defense Plant Corporation through the Board with notation to indicate the intention to withhold the property for future modernization, stand-by, or War Department industrial reserve. The Board will attempt to redistribute the property for immediate war production and, if thus redistributed, it will so notify the sponsoring technical service or the Production Division.

§ 826.615–3 Determination of requirements pursuant to § 826.615–2. The chief of a sponsoring technical service and the Director, Production Division, will expedite the determination of requirements pursuant to § 826.615–2 when notified by the Defense Plant Corporation that the contractor in possession has:

(a) Offered to purchase of Part 1 property; or

(b) Requested removal of such property pursuant to section 12 (g) of the Contractor Settlement Act of 1944.

In such cases, the chief of the sponsoring service and the Director, Production Division, will not defer action upon a release for a period in excess of 10 days from receipt by the local representative of the service or by the Director, Production Division, of a request for release accompanied by a schedule of the property and by a notification from Defense Plant Corporation as aforesaid.

SUBPART B—CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT

§ 826.620 Application. The procedures established in this subpart are applicable to construction equipment, which includes all construction equipment of a standard type not so restricted in design as to render it unsuitable for non-military use of a recurring nature. Such construction equipment includes, but is not limited to, drilling and boring equipment, earth and rock, including core drills, rock drills, churn drills, earth borers and horizontal augers; power cranes and shovels, drag lines, buckets, stiff-leg derricks, and dredges; scrapers, maintainers, and graders; tractors, track-laying and wheel types; tractor-mounted construction equipment including angledozers, bulldozers, and power control units; winches and hoists, contractors' elevating, road brooms, concrete buggies and carts, bins, centerline marking equipment, road discs, ditchers, aggregate dryers, joint and crack filling machinery, road forms, form tamping machines, mud jacks, portable snow loaders, tamping rollers, scarifiers, concrete towers, contractors' crawler wagons, and similar equipment; construction material mixers, spreaders, pavers, surfacers, finishers, tampers, vibrators, and related construction machinery; construction material processing equipment, including asphalt plants and portable crushers. Such property will be referred to as "part 2 property".

§ 826.621 Local redistribution. When part 2 property is determined to be excess, the local establishment having jurisdiction thereof will promptly initiate action to redistribute the property for military supply requirements or current construction needs, or other purposes in accordance with Part 823.

§ 826.622 Redistribution assistance by chief of service and Chief of Engineers. When local efforts have not resulted in redistribution of an item of part 2 property within 30 days after it is determined to be excess, the local establishment will immediately refer it to the chief of the technical service concerned and to the Chief of Engineers (attention: Redistribution and Salvage Officer) for redistribution assistance. The chief of the technical service of origin, if he so desires, may direct that such reference be made prior to the expiration of 30 days after the property is determined to be excess. Redistribution efforts of the local establishment will be continued after such reference, and the reference will not be permitted to delay or limit local redistribution efforts. The Chief of Engineers is specifically charged with acquiring items of part 2 property that are not redistributed within the technical service of origin which are suitable for troop use or tactical operations.

§ 826.623 Determination of surplus. Items of part 2 property that have not been redistributed within 60 days after they have been determined to be excess will be deemed surplus, without further action, and will be immediately disposed of by the local establishment in accordance with Part 827. If, at any time prior to the expiration of such 60-day period, the chief of the technical service of origin, with the concurrence of the Chief of Engineers, considers that further redistribution efforts are not warranted, he may direct the local establishment to dispose of the property in accordance with Part 827, without awaiting the expiration of the 60-day period.

§ 826.624 Storage of surplus part 2 property. After it has been reported to a disposal agency as surplus, part 2 property may be turned over to the Corps of Engineers for storage pending disposal. When a technical service desires to turn over part 2 property to the Corps of Engineers, the local establishment having jurisdiction of the equipment will notify the division engineer of the Corps of Engineers nearest to the location of the equipment, who will issue shipping instructions. The technical service requesting storage will prepare and ship the property in accordance with such shipping instructions. All costs of packing, handling and transportation will be borne by the technical service requesting storage. When unserviceable property is shipped to the Corps of Engineers, the property must be listed on a separate shipping document bearing the following statement on all copies thereof:

All property listed hereon is in an unserviceable condition.

Appropriate inspection by those concerned with determination of responsibility for its condition has been made.

Signed_____
Accountable shipping officer.

Accountability will be transferred to the Corps of Engineers without transfer of funds. Transfer will be coordinated with the interested accountable property officer for compliance with applicable regulations in regard to the transfer of accountability for property. The technical service requesting storage will notify the disposal agency of the change of location of the property, and will submit a copy of such notification, together with a copy of the report of surplus, to the storing establishment.

SUBPART C—PROPERTY OTHER THAN PRODUCTION AND UTILITY EQUIPMENT, CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT AND CONTROLLED MATERIALS

§ 826.630 Application. The procedures established in this subpart are applicable to property other than production and utility equipment (part 1 property), construction equipment (part 2 property), and Controlled Materials (part 4 property). Such property will be referred to as "part 3 property".

§ 826.630–1 Certain property excepted. This subpart does not apply to property peculiar to aircraft production to the extent that any of the provisions hereof may be inconsistent with the procedures established for the redistribution of such property by or under the direction of the Aircraft Resources Control Offices of the Aircraft Production Board or the Surplus War Property Administration.

§ 826.631 Local redistribution. When part 3 property is determined to be excess, the local establishment having jurisdiction thereof will promptly initiate action to redistribute the property for military supply requirements or current production or construction needs, or other purposes in accordance with Part 823.

§ 826.631–1 Nominal quantities. Unless requirements therefor are known to exist, or can be quickly ascertained, single items or groups of items, where the cost, estimated if not known, of all substantially similar items in excess at any one time and at any one place does not exceed $100, will be deemed surplus, without further action, and disposed of in accordance with § 827.701.

§ 826.632 Circularization. When local efforts have not resulted in redistribution of part 3 property within 30 days after it is determined to be excess, circularization will be immediately initiated, except as hereinafter provided. The chief of the technical service concerned, if he so desires, may waive circularization, or may direct that circularization be initiated prior to the expiration of the 30 days after the property is determined to be excess.

§ 826.632–1 Preparation of circularization lists. (a) Circularization lists will be on 8 x 10½ paper and will contain the following information:

(1) Name of issuing office together with the station identification number and appropriate letter symbol of the technical service concerned.

(2) Serial number of list. Each issuing office will serially number each list circularized beginning with the number 1.

(3) Date of circularization, which will be the date of transmittal required under § 826.632–2.

(4) Serial number of items or lots. Each item or lot will be serially numbered.

(5) Description of items or lots. Description will comprise such information as would be required by the controlling technical service if it were procuring the property, including, when pertinent, name of manufacturer, manufacturer's catalog number if available, identification numbers, location, age, condition, quantity and cost per unit, estimated, if not known.

(6) Specific instructions by which an interested agency may be guided in negotiating sale or transfer of property reported. Names, mail and telephone addresses of officers authorized to carry on negotiations, will be included in each list circularized.

(b) For the purpose of convenient abbreviation in communications regarding property circularized, items may be identified by code, which will include in sequence, the station identification number and the letter symbol of the issuing office, serial number of list, serial number of item. For example a particular lot of valves listed as the second item of the third list circularized by an office of Ordnance Department, having station identification number "12345" would be identified as "12345–Ord–3–2".

§ 826.632–2 Transmittal of lists. Circularization lists of part 3 property will be transmitted to the offices listed in § 829.902. As soon as practicable, the chiefs of technical services will ascertain informally from each other and from the Navy Department the type and kinds of property likely to be included in part 3 property circularization lists in which each has an interest and thereafter circularization will be limited to those services which have indicated an interest in the type of property being circularized.

§ 826.632–3 Items not to be circularized. (a) Nominal quantities, as specified in § 826.631–1, will not be included in circularization lists of part 3 property.

(b) Items that are peculiar to the technical service of origin will not be circularized. Determination as to what items are peculiar to the technical service and its contractors will be made by the chief of the technical service concerned. In those cases where the peculiarity of the item is not obvious, determination should be based upon informal inquiry as outlined in § 826.632–2. The chief of the technical service will advise the offices responsible for circularization of part 3 property as to the items or classes of items that are to be withheld from circularization under this paragraph. Such items, and items not circularized pursuant to § 626.632, will be deemed surplus, without further action, when determined to be excess to the technical service concerned, and will be disposed of in accordance with part 827 of this chapter.

§ 826.633 Determination of surplus. Items of part 3 property, other than items of materials listed in § 829.909 (herein referred to as "stockpile materials") in excess of the minimum quantities therein indicated at any one location, that have not been redistributed within 30 days after the transmittal of circularization lists under § 826.632–2, will be deemed surplus, without further action, and will be immediately disposed of by the local establishment having jurisdiction thereof in accordance with Part 827.

§ 826.634–1 Report of stockpile materials. Stockpile materials in excess of the minimum quantities indicated in § 829.909 at any one location, that have not been redistributed within 30 days after the transmittal of circularization lists under § 826.632–2, will be immediately reported to the chief of the technical service having jurisdiction thereof and will be held for disposition instructions. Such request for instructions will be made in triplicate by the local establishment having jurisdiction over the property on W. D., A. G. O. Form 257. A sample of this form, together with instructions for its preparation, is set forth in § 829.909–1. Copies of the form may be requisitioned from Adjutant General depots.

NOTE: On W.D., A G.O. Form 257, as now printed, the reference in the 3d line at the top of the page to §§ 822.210, 826.603 and 829.909 should be read as §§ 826.634, 826.644 and 829.909; and in the space provided for Second Indorsement, the reference to §§ 822.210–2 (b) and 822.210–2 (c) should be changed to §§ 826.634–2 (b) and 826.634–2 (c), respectively.

§ 826.634–2 Action by chief of service. Upon receipt of W. D., A. G. O. Form 257 covering any lot of stockpile materials, the chief of technical service concerned will take the following action:

(a) Execute First Indorsement thereto and forward two copies to the Director, Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, who has been designated by the Under Secretary of War as the administrator of War Department stockpile materials, for disposition instructions.

(b) If the Director, Production Division, issues instructions to hold the material for stockpile, the chief of technical service concerned will:

(1) Arrange for permanent storage of the material;

(2) Issue appropriate instructions to the field installation concerned to accomplish permanent storage;

(3) Advise the Director, Production Division, of the location and manner of storage;

(4) Dispose of the material only upon specific authorization of the Director, Production Division.

(c) If the Director, Production Division, issues instructions not to hold the material for stockpile, it will be deemed surplus, without further action, and the chief of technical service concerned will issue instructions to the local establishment of origin to dispose of the material in accordance with Part 827.

SUBPART D—CONTROLLED MATERIALS

§ 826.640 Application. The procedures established in this subpart are applicable to Controlled Materials; that is, steel, copper, copper-base alloy and aluminum, in mill-product forms, as listed in War Production Board CMP Regulation No. 1. Such property will be referred to as "part 4 property".

§ 826.640–1 Certain property excepted. This subpart does not apply to property peculiar to aircraft production to the extent that any of the provisions hereof may be inconsistent with the procedures established for the redistribution of such property by or under the direction of the Aircraft Resources Control Office of the Aircraft Production Board or the Surplus War Property Administration.

§ 826.641 Local redistribution. When part 4 property is determined to be excess, the local establishment having jurisdiction thereof will promptly initiate action to redistribute the property for military supply requirements or current production or construction needs, or other purposes in accordance with Part 823.

§ 826.641–1 Nominal quantities. Unless requirements therefor are known to exist, or can be quickly ascertained, single items or groups of items, where the cost, estimated if not known, of all substantially similar items (e. g., all tool steel, all structural shapes, all carbon steel bars, all copper strip, all aluminum tubing) in excess at any one time and at any one place does not exceed $100, will be deemed surplus, without further action, and disposed of in accordance with § 827.701.

§ 826.642 Redistribution assistance by chief of service. When local efforts have not resulted in redistribution of part 4 property within 30 days after it is determined to be excess, the local establishment will immediately refer the property to the chief of the technical service concerned for redistribution assistance. The chief of the technical service concerned, if he so desires, may direct that such reference be made prior to the expiration of 30 days after the property is determined to be excess. For the purpose of such reference, the property will be listed in substantially the form set forth in § 829.901–1 for steel, § 829.901–2 for copper and copper-base alloy, and § 829.901–3 for aluminum. Nominal quantities, as specified in § 826.641–1, will not be referred to the chief of service. Redistribution efforts of the local establishment will be continued after such reference, and the reference will not be permitted to delay or limit local redistribution efforts.

§ 826.643 Determination of surplus. Items of part 4 property, other than stockpile materials in excess of the minimum quantities indicated in § 829.909 at any one location, that have not been redistributed within 30 days after reference to the chief of the service under § 826.642, will be deemed surplus, without further action, and will be immediately disposed of by the local establishment having jurisdiction thereof in accordance with Part 827.

§ 826.644 Action to be taken on stockpile materials. Stockpile materials in excess of the minimum quantity indicated in § 829.909 at any one location that have not been redistributed within 30 days after reference to the chief of service under § 826.642, will be immediately reported to the chief of the technical service having jurisdiction thereof and held for disposition instructions. Such request for instructions will be made in triplicate by the local establishment having jurisdiction over the property on W. D., A. G. O. Form 257. Upon receipt of such request, further action will be taken in accordance with the provisions of § 826.634–2.

PART 827—DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS PROPERTY

Sec.
827.700 General.
827.701 Disposal of nominal quantities.
827.702 Reporting to Disposal Agency.
827.703 Report forms.
827.704 Transmittal of reports.
827.705 Action after reporting.
827.706 Withdrawals and adjustments in prior reports.
827.707 Disposal by Disposal Agency.
827.708 Shipment after disposal.
827.709 Fiscal procedures.
827.710 Clearance for sale by War Department.

§ 827.700 General. Under its Regulation No. 1, as amended, effective May 1, 1945, the Surplus Property Board has assigned responsibility for disposal of surplus property among disposal agencies as indicated in § 829.904 of this chapter, and has established procedures for reporting surplus property to these disposal agencies. When property has been determined to be surplus under the procedures established under Parts 825 and 826 of this chapter, action will be promptly taken to dispose of nominal quantities of property in accordance with § 827.701 and to report the remaining surplus property to the appropriate disposal agencies in accordance with § 827.702.

§ 827.701 Disposal of nominal quantities. (a) Single items or groups of items of surplus property, where the cost, estimated if not known, of all substantially similar items in surplus at any one time and at any one place does not exceed $100, are termed "nominal quantities". Nominal quantities will ordinarily be turned over to the local salvage officer (or to the contracting officer where there is no salvage officer) for disposition, except that nominal quantities may be reported and turned over to a disposal agency with the prior approval of the Regional Office of the disposal agency concerned if the disposal agency is in position to effect expeditious disposition without delaying disposition of other property.

(b) Disposition of such property by the local salvage officer will be made in accordance with these regulations and with regulations applicable to the disposition of salvage; however, all documents relating to sales will be marked clearly to indicate sale of surplus property. Disposition of such property by the contracting officer will be made in accordance with these regulations and with regulations prescribed by the chief of the technical service concerned.

§ 827.701–1 Standard for determination of substantially similar items. (a) Determinations as to what are "substantially similar items" are not the responsibility of the salvage officer but of the agency directing the transfer to salvage. The standards to be applied in making such determinations are as follows:

(1) Property will not be subdivided or subjected to refined classifications for the purpose of avoiding reporting to disposal agencies.

(2) "Substantially similar items" are items which are used or are usable for the same immediate purpose. Items may be substantially similar although not interchangeable in use; and they may not be substantially similar although they have the same general use. Items may be substantially similar although they differ in size, weight, color, capacity, composition, quality, or design. Additional evidence of substantial similarity exists if the items are commonly considered in ordinary business practice as being in the same class, or if the items are normally salable through the same channels, or if the trade names of the items are the same, or if the items are interchangeable in use. Examples: All shoes are substantially similar items. Raincoats are not substantially similar to shoes, for, while both are items of clothing and serve the same general purpose, they are not employed for the same immediate purpose. All AC motors under 1 hp. are substantially similar items. All AC motors over 1 hp. are substantially similar items (the same grouping would apply to DC motors). All fixed resistors are substantially similar. All variable resistors are substantially similar.

(b) The phrase "at any one time" used in paragraph (a) should be construed to mean the time at which the responsible officer has determined the items to be turned over to a salvage officer or reported to the disposal agency. Developments subsequent to the time of the decision need not influence a determination of nominal quantities.

(c) The phrase "at any one place" used in paragraph (a) should be construed to mean one installation, plant, factory, or location.

§ 827.701–2 Assistance to be rendered by Service Commands. When requested, the Commanding Generals of Service Commands should, to the extent considered practicable by them and within the limits of their existing facilities, assist the technical services in the disposition of nominal quantities and salvage originating at nearby industrial plants and installations under the jurisdiction of the technical services. Where convenient this assistance will include physical receipt of the nominal quantities and salvage.

§ 827.701–3 Accountability. Accountability for nominal quantities will terminate when the accountable officer is in possession of a copy of a property turn-in slip listing the property and which copy has been signed by the salvage officer. The property turn-in slip will describe the property in sufficient detail to furnish a commercial description. Records of surplus property will be maintained by salvage officers by items (Technical Service or Army Air Forces classification) and quantity, either by keeping jacket-files or by posting to detailed records.

§ 827.702 Reporting to disposal agency. Surplus property other than that required to be disposed of under § 827.701 will be promptly reported to disposal agencies. Reports of surplus property shall fully set forth any legal restrictions upon the authority of the Government affecting its disposition, including any restrictions upon the disposal or use thereof arising from any patents or any contract relating thereto. Reports of surplus property shall designate any such property known to have been processed, produced or donated by the American Red Cross. The removal, in accordance with applicable directives regulations, technical orders or other instructions, of needed parts, components and appliances from items deemed surplus, and any mutilation thereof pursuant to § 825.502 of this chapter will be accomplished prior to the reporting thereof to the disposal agency, and thereafter only with the concurrence of the disposal agency. Reports will be made as follows:

§ 827.702–1 Ships, small watercraft and related property. Surplus ships of commercial design or susceptible to commercial use will be reported to the United States Maritime Commission, Attention: Commodore E. J. Moran, Director, Division of Small Vessel Procurement, Washington 25, D. C. Before reporting, detailed instructions as to descriptive matter and other information to be supplied will be obtained from that office. Small watercraft and other property assigned to the Maritime Commission as set forth in § 829.904 will be reported to the United States Maritime Commission, Attention: Mr. E. W. Gorman, Assistant to the Director of the Procurement Division, Washington 25, D. C.

C.

(b) Surplus Aircraft Equipment, Components and Parts in supply (as distinguished from items of Government Furnished Equipment in Government Furnished Equipment warehouses and items included in termination inventories) included in the following classes listed in Army Air Forces T.O. (Structures of a portable, demountable, or prefabricated nature, including quonset and similar huts, when declared surplus separate from any sites thereof, will be reported to Reconstruction Finance Corporation.) By far the greater part of such property will consist of items of the type assigned to Department of Commerce for disposal. Where it is considered impracticable to segregate items of military property assigned to Reconstruction Finance Corporation, they may be included in reports to Department of Commerce.

Reports will be made to the Regional Office of the appropriate disposal agency for the region in which the property is located. The addresses of the Regional Offices of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Department of Commerce, respectively, and the territories within their jurisdiction, are set forth in §§ 829.907 and 829.903 of this chapter.

§ 827.703 Report forms. All reports of surplus property to disposal agencies will be made on Form SPB–1, titled, "Declaration of Surplus Personal Property to Disposal Agency". Copies of this form, together with instructions for its preparation, are set forth in § 829.905 of this chapter. This form is available in Adjutant General Depots. Existing stocks of Forms SWPA–1 and SWPA–1 (A) may be used, in lieu of Form SPB–1, until May 31, 1945.

§ 827.704 Transmittal of reports. Reports of surplus property made to disposal agencies on Form SPB–1 will be filed in triplicate at the office of the appropriate disposal agency. An information copy of each report covering machine tools or production equipment (as defined in § 826.610–1 of this chapter), regardless of cost, and of each report covering other types of property where the total cost of the property included in the report is $25,000 or more, will be transmitted at the time of declaration to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The information copy to the Readjustment Division need not be accompanied by a letter of transmittal. Where the total cost of the property included in a report is $25,000 or more, an additional copy of the report will be sent to Readjustment Division, attached to the report required by § 829.910 of this chapter.

§ 827.706 Withdrawals, and adjustments in prior reports. (a) Property which has been reported to a disposal agency may be withdrawn for further use by the technical service of origin or for transfer to another component of the War Department or to another Government agency to which transfer without reimbursement is permitted under § 823.312 of this chapter, with the consent of the disposal agency to which the property was reported. Transfer between Government agencies of property already reported to a disposal agency as surplus may be accomplished without reimbursement or transfer of funds under the circumstances outlined in Special Order 6 of the Surplus Property Board, dated May 1, 1945.

(b) Withdrawal of property under this paragraph will be effected by transmitting to the disposal agency Form SPB–1.1 titled, "Adjustment of Prior Declaration of Surplus Personal Property". This form will also be used in reporting any modifications or adjustments in prior declarations. Form SPB–1.1 will be prepared and transmitted in the same manner as Form SPB–1. If a withdrawal covers all the items included in a previous declaration, the phrase "All items to be withdrawn" may be inserted in Column (b) instead of listing the items.

(c) Any approved withdrawals, corrections, adjustments or modifications involving a change in total cost of $25,000 or more, will be reported to Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, by attaching a copy of Form SPB–1.1 to the report required by § 829.910 of this chapter.

§ 827.707 Disposal by disposal agency. The disposal agencies will dispose of all property reported as surplus that is not withdrawn under § 827.706 (except as provided in § 827.710). Disposal may be effected directly from War Department storage or after removal to storage facilities of the disposal agencies. All echelons will extend the fullest cooperation to the disposal agencies in this connection. Liaison will be promptly established between field establishments handling surplus property and the field agencies of the disposal agencies. Provisions will be made for furnishing additional information to disposal agencies and exhibiting the property to the fullest extent practicable upon request of a disposal agency.

§ 827.708 Shipment after disposal. When property has been disposed of by a disposal agency, or when the disposal agency takes custody of the property prior to disposal, the disposal agency will issue appropriate shipping instructions, sending one copy to the custodian and one copy to the reporting agency as indicated in § 827.705. Upon receipt of shipping instructions, the field installation concerned will prepare and load the property for shipment, and arrange for shipment of the property, as directed by the disposal agency. The expense of preparation and loading for shipment will be borne by the field installation concerned, without reimbursement by the disposal agency. The use of War Department transportation facilities in moving surplus property into storage facilities of a disposal agency is authorized when the use of such transportation facilities will not interfere with the normal military functions of the installation concerned. Payment of transportation expenses incurred in moving surplus property into storage facilities of a disposal agency by means other than War Department transportation facilities is authorized where transfer to a disposal agency will be expedited or is otherwise required. Expenses of transportation direct to a purchaser from a disposal agency will not be borne by the War Department. When requested by the disposal agency, copies of bills of lading and other shipping documents and advice as to date of shipping will be furnished to disposal agencies. The War Department is not required to, and should not, repair, recondition or reprocess surplus property. Where, however, parts, attachments or accessories have been removed temporarily from an item of production equipment, reassembly will be accomplished prior to reporting, if the parts, attachments or accessories are excess to the needs of the owning agency and are on hand or readily available, and if the cost of reassembly is not excessive.

§ 827.709 Fiscal procedures. The War Department will not be reimbursed for surplus property delivered to or upon the direction of a disposal agency. Where, at the direction of a disposal agency, surplus property is delivered to a disposal agency, other Government agency, or buyer, an authenticated copy of the delivery order received from the disposal agency together with the receipt of the common carrier or transportation agency will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property account for the material so delivered; or, in those cases where bills of lading are not prepared in sufficient quantity to provide the property officer with a memorandum copy bearing receipt of the carrier, or transportation agency, the authenticated copy of the delivery order from the disposal agency may be cross referenced to receipt of common carrier or transportation agency on file at the station. In the case of direct delivery to the buyer, his written acknowledgment of receipt on the delivery order will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property account for the material so delivered. Whenever the delivery order is not complete in detail as to quantity and nomenclature of the items ordered to be delivered, a shipping document will be originated and a copy filed in support of the delivery order.

§ 827.710 Clearance for sale by War Department. When special circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or sanitary or other hazard, or urgent requirement for storage space for military supplies, make immediate sale by the War Department desirable, application may be made to the appropriate disposal agency for clearance of the property for direct sale by the War Department. Such applications will only be made through or with the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 827.710–1 Sale after clearance. Property which a disposal agency has cleared for sale may be sold by negotiated sale. The chief of the technical service obtaining clearance may direct that the property be sold by a particular officer, or that it be sold in a particular manner. In the absence of such directions, sales will be made by the local salvage officer in accordance with regulations applicable to the sale of salvage, except that all documents relating to such sales will be clearly marked to indicate sale of surplus property.

(b) Military property transferred to war reserve in accordance with Supply Control procedures.

(c) The cost of excess or surplus property previously included on Lines 1 or 2 which was abandoned or transferred to salvage officers for disposal. This will include residual costs of assemblies from which parts have been sold or used, costs of nominal quantities turned over to salvage officers for disposal in accordance with § 827.701, and property abandoned in accordance with § 844.453–3.

(I–4) Enter any adjustments made necessary by errors in previously reported figures which are required to correct the amount shown as available for disposal on Line 5. Explain such adjustments on the back of the report or on an attached sheet. Credit figures will be prefixed by a minus (—) sign.

(I–5) Enter the balance before disposal—that is, Line 1 plus Line 2 minus Line 3, plus or minus any adjustments shown on Line 4. This represents the estimated cost of property available for disposal outside of the reporting agency prior to disposals and redistributions during the month.

(II–6) Enter the cost of excess property transferred to other War Department components. (§ 823.308)

(II–7) Enter the cost of excess property transferred to the Navy Department. (§ 823.309)

(II–13) Enter the total of Lines 6 through 12.

(II–14) Enter the cost of surplus property disposed of by disposal agencies during the month as shown on Line 22, Column (d).

Failure to effect this balance, due to errors on previous reports, will be adjusted in Column (c) and explained in the space provided for remarks or on an attached sheet.

(f) If accountability is transferred to another service after it has been included in Column (b), such transfers will be treated as a withdrawal in Column (c) in the month in which the transfer is made. The service picking up accountability will also record the addition in Column (b). The amounts of such transfers-out and transfers-in will be noted in the space provided for remarks by both the transferring and receiving service.

(g) Corrections due to reporting to incorrect disposal agencies, including termination inventory reported to Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is transferred to Treasury Department, will be reflected in Column (b) for the correct agency and in Column (c) for the incorrect agency in the month in which the correction is made.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTORY MATERIAL

§ 841.111 Applicability of subchapter. [JTR 111]

§ 841.111–1 General. The War and Navy Departments have jointly adopted the regulations in this subchapter to establish uniform policies and procedures for administering the termination of war contracts, termination settlements, interim financing and related matters. [JTR 111.1]

§ 841.111–2 Services and bureaus covered. The regulations in this subchapter are applicable to the following:

The Army Service Forces including the technical services and the service commands;
The Army Air Forces;
All Bureaus, Boards and Offices of the Navy Department, including Navy field purchasing activities;
The United States Marine Corps.
The United States Coast Guard.

[JTR 111.2]

§ 841.111–3 Application outside the United States. (a) All war contracts of the War or Navy Departments made or to be performed outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska are exempted from the provisions of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, except to the extent that some or all of the provisions of the act are made applicable to any such contract or class of contracts (1) by any commanding officer pursuant to War Department Circular No. 330, (2) by the chief of any bureau of the Navy Department, or (3) by this subchapter.

(b) In terminating and settling war contracts made or to be performed outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska, any commanding officer or the chief of any service or bureau is not required to conform to the provisions of this subchapter (unless this subchapter has been made expressly applicable under paragraph (a) above), but may do so to such extent as he deems appropriate. [JTR 111.3]

§ 841.111–4 Terminations covered. (a) This subchapter applies to terminated war contracts, including subcontracts terminated by a war contractor either as a result of termination or modification of a prime contract, or under any other circumstances which may require the Government to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract.

(b) This subchapter does not apply to the termination or cancelation of a war contract for default of the contractor. Where any war contract is terminated for default, subcontracts thereunder terminated other than for default of the subcontractor are within the provisions of the act and of this subchapter for the benefit of subcontractors.

(c) The application of this subchapter to quantity changes made under so-called "changes" articles or similar contract provisions or by agreement is stated in § 842.216. [JTR 111.4]

§ 841.111–5 Action on defective, informal, and quasi contracts not covered. This subchapter does not cover any action under section 17 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, relating to defective, informal and quasi contracts. War Department regulations on this subject are found at § 803.308h of this chapter and Navy Department regulations are found at paragraph 11,111 and following of Navy Procurement Directives. [JTR 111.5]

§ 841.112 Authority for subchapter. The authority of the War and Navy Departments to terminate prime contracts for the convenience or at the option of the Government is based upon their general authority to make contracts and to amend them in the interests of the Government, and upon their authority under Public Law 703, 76th Congress, as extended, and the First War Powers Act of 1941. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 confers on the Departments express authority to settle termination claims by agreement, by arbitration, and by determination without agreement, in accordance with the provisions of that act, and authorizes the making and amending of contracts to carry out the provisions of the act. The act authorizes the Director of Contract Settlement and the Departments to make regulations thereunder. This subchapter is based upon the authority under these laws and the regulations of the Director. [JTR 112]

§ 841.113 Arrangement of subchapter. [JTR 113]

§ 841.113–1 General plan. (a) Terminations for the convenience of the Government under any type of contract involve the same general problems. Parts 841 to 847, inclusive, of this subchapter prescribe procedures generally applicable to such terminations. These procedures apply to terminations of all fixed-price contracts, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, letter orders and other preliminary contractual instruments, with the exceptions stated in these parts and in Part 848. Terminations of construction contracts require certain variations from the standard procedures and special provisions with respect to them are prescribed in Part 848.

(b) To clarify the presentation and to facilitate reference, each part has been divided into several subparts dealing with related topics. Each of the following parts and most of the subparts are preceded by a short section stating the scope of the part or subpart in order to indicate the general arrangement of the subchapter. [JTR 113.1]

(a) This part covers preliminary matters relating to this subchapter, definitions of terms, basic policies, and the administration of terminations.

(b) Part 842 prescribes the procedures for planning termination and for stopping work under terminated prime contracts.

(c) Part 843 deals with interim financing for a war contractor pending settlement of his termination claim.

(d) Part 844 discusses the disposition of termination inventories of war contractors in connection with settlements.

(e) Part 845 contains basic policies and procedures common to settlement of both prime contracts and subcontracts.

(f) Part 846 covers the procedures peculiar to settlements with subcontractors both by the prime contractor or intermediate subcontractor and directly by the Government.

(g) Part 847 covers the procedures peculiar to settlements with prime contractors.

(h) Part 848 contains special procedures of limited application for particular types of war contracts and for particular war contractors.

(i) Part 849 contains forms and instructions, relating to termination, for use in accordance with this subchapter. [JTR 113.2]

§ 841.113–3 Numbering of original document. The numbering of individual paragraphs is not consecutive and is designed to permit additional paragraphs to be inserted later within the appropriate section and part. The number of a particular paragraph shows the section and part where it is found and also whether it is subordinate to a preceding paragraph. The first digit of the number indicates the section and the second digit the part in which the paragraph is found. Where the number of a paragraph ends with a digit preceded by a decimal point (as 113.3), this indicates that it is part of the general subject covered by the basic paragraph (as 113). [JTR 113.3]

NOTE: In order to conform the Joint Termination Regulation to the numbering system used in the Code of Federal Regulations, the following changes have been made: Sections in the original regulation have been treated as code parts, parts as code subparts, and paragraphs as code sections. Thus Section I becomes Part 841, Section II becomes Part 842, part 1 of any section becomes Subpart A, part 2 becomes Subpart B, etc. Paragraphs in the original regulations become sections, with the number to the right of the decimal point corresponding to the original paragraph number, except that where paragraph numbers also contain a decimal point the point is changed to a dash. The original paragraph numbers appear in brackets following text affected.

§ 841.114 Relation of subchapter to Joint Termination Accounting Manual.[1] [JTR 114]

§ 841.114–1 Application of Manual. The Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and the Cost Inspection Service, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, have prepared a Joint Termination Accounting Manual for Fixed-Price Supply Contracts. This Manual is prescribed for use by accounting personnel of all agencies of the War and Navy Departments in making accounting reviews or examinations in connection with settlements of terminated fixed-price supply contracts or subcontracts, including fixed-price supply subcontracts under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. It is also suitable for use by war contractors in the accounting examination of their subcontractors' settlement proposals. [JTR 114.1]

§ 841.114–2 Manual inapplicable to portions of contract already on a cost basis. Some fixed-price supply contracts provide that certain facilities shall be furnished on a cost basis. The Joint Termination Accounting Manual is not applicable to such portions of any contract. The audit procedures for such costs are stated for the War Department in Manual, "TM 14–1000, Administrative Audit Procedures for Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Supply Contracts", and for the Navy Department in the "Revised Cost Inspection Manual". [JTR 114.2]

§ 841.114–3 Manual not directed to contracting officers. The Joint Termination Accounting Manual is not directed to contracting officers although they should be familiar with it. The reports and procedures prescribed by the Manual will not limit or affect the authority of the contracting officer to negotiate termination settlements. [JTR 114.3]

§ 841.115 Amendments of subchapter. (a) This subchapter will be amended from time to time by the War and Navy Departments jointly. Recommendations for amendments should be submitted through channels (1) in the War Department, to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or (2) in the Navy Department, to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(b) Unless otherwise specifically provided, compliance with any amendment of this subchapter shall not be mandatory until 30 days after the date of issuance of such amendment, but compliance therewith is authorized from the date of issuance. [JTR 115]

§ 841.116 Public distribution of publications on contract termination. War contractors may obtain without cost copies of this regulation and amendments, and also certain other publications on contract terminations, issued by the War Department, Navy Department, or the Office of Contract Settlement, by a written request to the Readjustment Distribution Center (formerly the Joint Army-Navy Termination Regulation Distribution Office), Federal Office Building, 6th Floor, 90 Church Street, New York 7, New York. [JTR 116]

SUBPART C—BASIC POLICIES

§ 841.130 Scope. This subpart summarizes the basic policies of this subchapter designed to implement the objectives of the act, and refers to the provisions of the subchapter carrying out these policies. [JTR 130]

§ 841.131 Objectives of the act. Section 1 of the act declares that the objectives of the act are:

(a) To facilitate maximum war production during the war, and to expedite reconversion from war production to civilian production as war conditions permit;

(b) To assure to prime contractors and subcontractors, small and large, speedy and equitable final settlement of claims under terminated war contracts, and adequate interim financing until such final settlement;

(c) To assure uniformity among Government agencies in basic policies and administration with respect to such termination settlements and interim financing;

(d) To facilitate the efficient use of materials, manpower, and facilities for war and civilian purposes by providing prime contractors and subcontractors with notice of termination of their war contracts as far in advance of the cessation of work thereunder as is feasible and consistent with the national security;

(e) To assure the expeditious removal from the plants of prime contractors and subcontractors of termination inventory not to be retained or sold by the contractor;

(f) To use all practicable methods compatible with the foregoing objectives to prevent improper payments and to detect and prosecute fraud.

§ 841.132 Prompt cessation of work. The purpose of terminating war contracts is to prevent unnecessary expense to the Government and waste of materials, manpower and facilities. To accomplish this purpose, prime contracts to be terminated must be carefully selected, and their termination must be well planned. In addition, all work under the terminated prime contract, whether performed by the prime contractor or by a subcontractor, must be stopped promptly, unless the contracting officer permits some work in process to be completed in accordance with §§ 842.241–2 and 842.241–3. Part 842 of this chapter prescribes the procedures to carry out these objectives. [JTR 132]

§ 841.133 Expeditious settlements. When a war contract is terminated, the basic objective is to make a fair and prompt settlement with the war contractor to compensate him for the work done and the preparations made for the terminated part of the contract. This can be done most effectively by negotiated agreement based on adequate information. The termination claims and data submitted by war contractors must be intelligently reviewed but detailed auditing must be reduced to the minimum in order to avoid delay and waste of accounting personnel. Part 845 prescribes the general policies and procedures designed for this purpose. Part 847 states in detail the procedures applicable to settlements with prime contractors. [JTR 133]

§ 841.134 Settlements with subcontractors. To assure subcontractors fair and speedy settlements of their claims, prime contractors and intermediate subcontractors must be pressed to make settlements with their subcontractors promptly, and, in some cases, the Government must undertake to make such settlements. In addition to the general policies and procedures prescribed in Part 845, procedures peculiar to subcontracts are prescribed in Part 846. [JTR 134]

§ 841.135 Inventory disposition. The prompt disposition of termination inventory is essential. Unless the war contractor desires to retain it, the termination inventory must be promptly disposed of or taken over by the Government. Expeditious disposition of termination inventories also makes them available for other productive use as soon as possible. Part 844 of this chapter deals with this subject. [JTR 135]

§ 841.136 Interim financing. The act entitles war contractors to adequate interim financing pending the final settlement of their claims. Speedy settlements will reduce the need for such interim financing, but many war contractors will require it. Accordingly, the provisions of the act for partial payments and guaranteed loans must be fully applied in accordance with Part 843. [JTR 136]

§ 841.137 Importance of uniform procedures. Uniformity of procedures will facilitate the prompt and equitable settlement of war contracts. It will enable war contractors concerned with more than one Department or with more than one service or bureau within either Department to use substantially the same methods in terminating and settling war contracts pertaining to any of them. Such uniformity will permit war contractors to set up their own internal arrangements for this work on a more efficient basis. It will also assist the Departments in giving all war contractors fair and equal treatment. The chief of each service or bureau will see that termination procedures employed in his service or bureau carry out the policy of uniformity stated in this section. [JTR 137]

§ 841.138 Prevention of fraud. [JTR 138]

§ 841.138–1 Statutory provisions. (a) Sections 19 (c) and (d) of the act impose severe penalties on any person who directly or indirectly makes or presents to any Government agency any claim, statement, or account, knowing the same to be false, or to be based on any false statement or entry, or who covers up or conceals any material fact, or who uses or engages in any other fraudulent device for the purpose of securing or obtaining for any person any benefit from any Government agency in connection with the award, performance, termination or settlement of a contract with the United States or with any other person, or who enters into an agreement, combination, or conspiracy so to do.

(b) Sections 16 (b) and 18 (e) of the act relate to settlements induced by fraud, and provide for appropriate action in such cases. [JTR 138.1]

§ 841.138–2 Duty to report fraud. (a) Where, at any time prior to settlement, any contracting officer or any other officer or employee of the War or Navy Department has reason to believe that there has been a violation of section 19 (c) or (d) of the act in respect of the termination claim of any war contractor, he shall take no further action thereon, either by negotiation or otherwise, but shall immediately prepare a report of all known pertinent facts without additional investigation. Unless intent to defraud clearly appears, it should not be concluded that there has been a violation of the act with respect to claims concerning which there may be a reasonable difference of opinion.

(b) Where any contracting officer or any other officer or employee of the War or Navy Department has reason to believe that any settlement of a termination claim was induced by fraud, he likewise shall immediately prepare a report of the pertinent facts.

(c) Where any war contractor has reason to believe that there has been a violation of section 19 (c) or (d) of the act in respect of the termination claim of any war contractor, or that any settlement of a termination claim was induced by fraud, he should, without further investigation, immediately prepare and submit a report of all known pertinent facts to the appropriate contracting officer.

(d) To enable the Department of Justice to make the necessary investigation as soon as possible after discovery of the suspected fraud, all reports and documents in connection therewith shall be prepared in quadruplicate. In the War Department, such reports and documents shall be transmitted through channels to the Readjustment Division, ASF, for submission to the Under Secretary of War and for transmission in duplicate by his office to the Department of Justice. In the Navy, such reports and documents shall be transmitted directly to counsel for the bureau executing the prime contract, who shall in turn promptly forward three copies thereof with any recommendations to the Office of the General Counsel of the Navy Department for further transmittal in duplicate to the Department of Justice. One copy of the report shall be transmitted by the Office of the General Counsel for information to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 138.2]

§ 841.142–2 Navy. Responsibility for the establishment, supervision, and coordination of all policies and procedures with respect to terminations is vested in the Vice Chief of the Office of Procurement and Material. [JTR 142.2]

§ 841.142–3 Interdepartmental coordination. A Joint Army-Navy Termination Committee, composed of the Director, Readjustment Division, ASF, his designee, and two designees of the Vice Chief of the Office of Procurement and Material, will coordinate the policies and procedures of the War and Navy Departments with respect to termination matters on which the two Departments have undertaken joint activities. When instructions or statements of policy are issued in either Department on matters which have been coordinated by the Committee, the statement may be made, in appropriate cases, that such matters have been coordinated with the representative of the other Department. [JTR 142.3]

§ 841.142–4 Interdepartmental audit coordination. With respect to the accounting aspects of terminations, the formulation of procedures in the two Departments is coordinated by a Joint Army-Navy Audit Committee, composed of a representative of the Office of the Fiscal Director, Hq. ASF, and a representative of the Cost Inspection Service, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. This committee acts in an advisory capacity on accounting matters to the Joint Army-Navy Termination Committee referred to in § 841.142–3. Within policies formulated in accordance with §§ 841.142–1 and 841.142–2, it coordinates among the services of the War Department and Cost Inspection Service in the Navy Department the formulation of termination accounting and auditing procedures, the training of personnel in termination accounting, and the activities of the local audit coordination committees described in § 848.834. [JTR 142.4]

§ 841.143 Delegation of authority. (a) The policy of the War and Navy Departments is to delegate to the chiefs of the several services and bureaus the administration of contract terminations as fully as possible.

(b) The chief of each service or bureau may exercise the authority to terminate contracts and the authority and discretion under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to the extent necessary to carry out this subchapter. No approval of any higher authority is required for any action authorized or prescribed by this subchapter unless the subchapter expressly so requires.

(c) The chief of each service or bureau may redelegate any authority or discretion granted to him by this regulation, with or without authority to make successive redelegations (1) within his service or bureau, except where action is explicitly required to be taken by such chief himself or by a specified officer or employee within his service or bureau, or (2) to the chief of another service or bureau: Provided, That no such delegation shall be made to the chief of another service or bureau without his consent. In connection with the redelegation of authority between services or bureaus, direct communication between the chiefs of the services or bureaus and their representatives is authorized. [JTR 143]

§ 841.144–1 Supplementary procedures. Subject to the provisions of §§ 841.137 and 841.144–4, the chief of each service or bureau may prescribe supplementary procedures for his service or bureau, consistent with the provisions of this subchapter. Such supplementary procedures shall not modify or restrict the general application of this subchapter except as to matters specifically within the discretion of the chief of the service or bureau under this subchapter. [JTR 144.1]

§ 841.144–2 Authority of service or bureau to vary procedures. (a) Subject to the basic policies stated in §§ 841.131 to 841.138, inclusive, and to the provisions of § 841.144–4, the chief of each service or bureau may authorize variations from the procedures herein prescribed in any case or class of cases, unless such variation involves a substantial deviation from this subchapter.

(b) In determining whether a substantial deviation is involved, the chief of the service or bureau will consider whether the variation:

(1) Conflicts with a policy stated in this subchapter;

(2) Involves a decision on an important question of policy which has not theretofore been passed upon by higher authority;

(3) Involves a decision on any matter in which uniformity among the several services and bureaus is desirable;

(4) Involves a decision on an important or doubtful question of law, cost interpretation, accounting practice or fiscal policy;

(5) Will tend to set a precedent which may be undesirable in other cases.

(c) In any case where a substantial deviation from this subchapter is involved, such deviation may be made only with the approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, which will obtain any appropriate concurrences which in its judgment are desirable. [JTR 144.2]

§ 841.144–3 Authority of Readjustment Division, ASF, and Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. The Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, may authorize:

(a) Any deviation from the provisions of this subchapter in any case or class of cases;

[JTR 144.4]

§ 841.145 Termination personnel. [JTR 145]

§ 841.145–1 War. The chief of each service will provide, so far as possible, in each contracting office, district office, or area office which is delegated authority with respect to termination settlements, adequate and competent technical, legal, accounting and other personnel to protect the interests of the Government. [JTR 145–1]

§ 841.145–2 Navy. (a) The chief of each bureau engaged in contract termination or property disposition shall establish with respect to activities under his jurisdiction a unit or units which shall have the responsibility for, and the supervision of, contract termination and property disposition. (b) The chiefs of the several bureaus and the Director of the Inspection Administration of the Office of Procurement and Material shall establish, in the several field inspection activities of the Navy Department, units which shall have the responsibility for, and supervision of, the contract termination and property disposition functions of Navy material inspectors.

(c) The Director of the Cost Inspection Service shall establish in such of its offices as he shall deem necessary a unit to coordinate the functions of that office concerning contract termination. He shall also designate representatives to act as liaison officers with the termination units established in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Such representatives shall act as advisors to such units with respect to the establishment of procedures for the review of termination claims, the application of accepted accounting principles, and all other accounting problems resulting from terminations. Except where other qualified accounting personnel is regularly used by a bureau, the Cost Inspection Service has the responsibility of making office accounting reviews of settlement proposals as required by this subchapter and, to the extent requested by contracting officers, of making any field accounting reviews or audits.

(d) The Director of the Navy Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration, of the Office of Procurement and Material, (herein referred to as the "NMR&DA") shall designate representatives to act as liaison officers with the termination units established in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. The NMR&DA is the central agency for the disposition, storage and removal of termination inventory for the entire Naval establishment. [JTR 145.2]

SEC. 15. (a) Whenever any payment is made from Government funds to any war contractor or other person as an advance, partial or final payment on any termination claim, or pursuant to any loan, guaranty, or agreement for the purchase of any loan, or any commitment in connection therewith, entered into by the Government, no officer or other Government agent authorizing or approving such payment or settlement, or certifying the voucher for such payment, or making the payment in accordance with a duly certified voucher, shall be personally liable for such payment, in the absence of fraud on his part. In settling the accounts of any disbursing officer the General Accounting Office shall allow any such disbursements made by him notwithstanding any other provisions of law.

(b) This provision relieves any Government officer or agent authorizing, approving, certifying, or making payment on any termination claim or on any interim financing, or authorizing or approving any settlement, from personal financial liability for such payment except for his own fraud. Thus, an officer or employee will not be personally liable for mistakes of judgment or errors made in good faith in connection with termination payments or settlements or interim financing. [JTR 146.1]

§ 841.146–2 For property disposal. Section 26 (a) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 (Public Law 457, 78th Congress, approved October 3, 1944) provides as follows:

SEC. 26. (a) Where any property is disposed of in accordance with this Act and any regulations prescribed under this Act, no officer or employee of the Government shall (1) be liable with respect to such disposition except for his own fraud or (2) be accountable for the collection of any purchase price which is determined to be uncollectible by the agency responsible therefor.

§ 841.147 Assistance to contractors. [JTR 147]

§ 841.147–1 Statutory provision. Section 20 (f) of the act provides as follows:

(f) Any contracting agency may authorize or direct its officers and employees, as a part of their official duties, to advise, aid, and assist war contractors in preparing and presenting termination claims, in obtaining interim financing, and in related matters, to such extent as it deems desirable. Such advice, aid, or assistance shall not constitute a violation of Section 109 of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 198) or of any other law, provided the officer or employee does not receive therefor benefit or compensation of any kind, directly or indirectly, from any war contractor.

§ 841.147–2 Duty to assist. To expedite settlements, war contractors must understand the policies and procedures applicable to terminations. As a part of their official duties, officers and employees engaged in termination activities for the War and Navy Departments will advise, aid and assist war contractors in preparing and presenting termination claims, in obtaining interim financing, and in related matters, but will not accept therefor, benefit or compensation of any kind, directly or indirectly, from any war contractor. The chief of any service or bureau may prescribe methods for the giving of such advice, aid or assistance by officers or employees under his supervision, and may impose such restrictions thereon as he deems necessary. [JTR 147.2]

§ 841.148 Supervision of administration. (a) The act places directly on the War and Navy Departments and other contracting agencies responsibility for protecting the Government's interest in making termination settlements and interim financing. The Comptroller General is authorized to investigate completed settlements for the purpose of (1) determining whether payments conform to the settlement, or the settlement was induced by fraud, and (2) reporting to Congress on whether the settlement methods and procedures used by the contracting agencies are designed to achieve expeditious and fair settlements and are followed with care and efficiency and adequately protect the interest of the Government.

(b) The chief of each service or bureau will establish procedures for regular checks by his office of the administration of terminations by each procurement office or termination unit under his direction, including review of samples of settlements and interim financing, to insure that its termination settlements are being made expeditiously, are fair to the Government and to war contractors, and conform to existing regulations.

(c) The chief of each service or bureau will be prepared to report periodically on the procedures established by him to discharge his responsibilities under this section and on the results of the checks on individual procurement offices or termination units. [JTR 148]

§ 841.149 Existing contracts not impaired. In accordance with section 20 (e) of the act, the act and this subchapter do not impair or modify any war contract or any term or provision of any war contract or any assignment of any claim under a war contract, without the consent of the parties thereto, if the war contract, or the term, provision, or assignment thereof, is otherwise valid. [JTR 149]

[JTR 200]

SUBPART A—AUTHORITY FOR TERMINATIONS

§ 842.210 Scope. This subpart deals with the authority to terminate prime contracts either under contract articles giving the Government that option or in the absence of such contract provisions. [JTR 210]

§ 842.211 Authority of service or bureau to terminate. [JTR 211]

§ 842.211–1 War. The chief of each service may terminate, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter, any prime contract under his administration regardless of the amount of such contract and even though the contract expressly requires the approval of the Secretary of War for its termination. [JTR 211.1]

§ 842.211–2 Navy. As a general rule, the chief of the bureau which executed a prime contract has the responsibility for its termination, in accordance with the provisions of the subchapter. In those cases, however, where a bureau other than the bureau which executed a contract participated in the negotiation or preparation thereof, or where the materials covered by a contract are part of a general procurement program of such other bureau, the chief of that other bureau may assume the responsibility for the termination of the contract, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter. The assumption of such responsibility must be exercised either before or promptly after the decision has been made to terminate the contract and should be accomplished by notification to the bureau which executed the contract, which shall take all action necessary to effect the transfer of authority and responsibility. The transfer of responsibility from the chief of the bureau which executed the contract shall not be effected until the notification has been received by that bureau. [JTR 211.2]

§ 842.212–1 Use of provisions. In the larger prime contracts the Government has generally reserved the right to terminate the contract in accordance with a termination article. The forms of the termination articles used in such contracts have changed from time to time. In considering the rights of the Government with respect to the termination of any prime contract, the terms of the termination article should be examined with care. [JTR 212.1]

§ 842.212–2 Current approved forms of termination articles. (a) The following are approved forms of termination articles for prime contracts with the War or Navy Department:

(1) The uniform article for fixed-price supply contracts set forth in § 849.931 of this subchapter;

(2) The uniform article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts set forth in § 849.932 of this subchapter.

(b) For the War Department, the following additional forms of termination articles are approved forms for prime contracts:

(1) The form for fixed-price construction contracts set forth in § 849.933 of this subchapter;

(2) For cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction contracts, the uniform article set forth in § 849.932 of this subchapter is the approved form;

(3) The form for letter orders for supplies with no price stated or for letter orders for fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction contained in § 849.935–1;

(4) The form for letter orders for supplies with the price stated contained in § 849.935–2;

(5) Forms for laundry contracts and other types of service contracts have been specially approved from time to time.

(6) A short-form article, set forth in § 849.939, for use in any fixed-price supply or construction contract where neither of the articles above referred to in paragraphs (a) (1) and (b) (1) is required to be used.

(c) For the Navy Department, the approved forms of termination articles for classes of contracts, such as construction contracts, vessel contracts, letters of intent or other preliminary contractual instruments, for which the use of the uniform articles specified in paragraph (a) is not required, are the forms currently in use by the several bureaus as approved by counsel for such bureau. Such counsel will not approve the uniform termination articles specified in paragraph (a) of this section for use in any letter of intent or other preliminary contractual instruments, but may approve an appropriate termination article therefor containing a provision allowing such profit on termination as may be reasonable under the circumstances.

(d) As used in this subchapter, the term "approved termination articles" refers to the articles specified in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section. [JTR 212.2]

§ 842.212–3 Deviations from approved termination articles. (a) No deviations from the form of approved termination articles shall be made without the approval (1) for the War Department, of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, or the Legal Assistant, or Chief, Legal Branch, Office of Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, or (2) for the Navy Department, of the Office of the General Counsel.

(b) Any deviation from an approved article or any substitute therefor authorized under paragraph (a) shall be considered as an approved article for the purpose of this subchapter. [JTR 212.3]

§ 842.213 Amendments of prime contracts to insert current approved termination articles. [JTR 213]

§ 842.213–1 General policy. (a) Where any war contract does not provide for or provides against fair compensation for its termination, section 6 (g) of the act requires the Departments to agree to, authorize, approve, or ratify, its amendment to provide for such fair compensation.

(b) The approved termination articles currently authorized provide fair compensation for termination. Amendments of prime contracts to include such approved articles, whether or not they contain earlier forms of termination articles, will facilitate prompt settlements, promote uniform procedures, avoid delay and administrative difficulties, and carry out the objectives of the act.

(c) Accordingly, whenever practicable, each service or bureau will give prime contractors an opportunity to amend outstanding prime contracts to include the latest form of appropriate approved termination article. [JTR 213.1]

§ 842.213–2 Amendments of fixed-price and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. The chief of any service or bureau may amend any fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contract at any time to insert therein the current approved termination article appropriate for that type of contract. Wherever practicable, such amendments will be made before giving formal notice of termination, but may be made after the notice is given. [JTR 213.2]

§ 842.213–3 Amendment of letter orders. (a) As used in this section the term "letter order" includes letter contracts, letters of intent and letter purchase orders.

(b) The chief of any service or bureau may amend any letter order to include therein the appropriate approved termination article. Whenever practicable, such amendments will be made before the giving of notice of termination, but may be made after the notice is given.

(c) The execution of a definitive contract will not be delayed by the amendments authorized by this section. (See § 845.533–4) [JTR 213.3]

§ 842.213–4 Procedure for amendment. (a) Each amendment pursuant to §§ 842.213–2 and 842.213–3 will recite that it is made pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944. A form of supplemental agreement appropriate to amend prime contracts for this purpose is set out in § 849.937.

(b) Before making any such amendment, each surety or guarantor should be notified, if the surety or guarantee agreement so requires, and the assent of any assignee, who has given notice under the Assignment of Claims Act, should be obtained where possible. [JTR 213.4]

§ 842.214 Authority to terminate prime contracts without termination articles. [JTR 214]

§ 842.214–1 Termination by agreement. When the Government desires to terminate a prime contract containing no termination article, the chief of the service or bureau may agree with the contractor for the termination of the contract and for its settlement upon such terms as he deems for the best interest of the Government, and consistent with the provisions of this subchapter. [JTR 214.1]

§ 842.214–2 Termination without agreement. (a) If such a prime contract cannot be terminated by agreement, the chief of the service or bureau concerned may authorize the contracting officer to order the contractor to discontinue further performance. In the Navy Department, the chief of a bureau will exercise this authority only after the matter has been referred to counsel for the bureau for advice and the preparation of the termination notice.

(b) With the notice to discontinue performance or promptly thereafter, the contractor shall be requested to amend his contract to include the appropriate termination article pursuant to § 842.213. If he does so, he should be notified to terminate the contract under the article as of the effective date of the order to discontinue performance and his termination claim should be settled in accordance with the article.

(c) If the contractor refuses so to amend, the chief of the service or bureau shall record and preserve a statement of the circumstances and reasons leading to the action and of the grounds on which such action was determined to be in the interests of the Government. In such cases, the chief of the service or bureau may settle with the contractor by agreement in accordance with § 842.214–1.

(d) Where the contractor refuses to agree to a settlement, the chief of the service or bureau will prepare and deliver findings of the amount due on the termination claim in accordance with the formula contained in the appropriate approved termination article and the procedure prescribed in Subpart E of Part 847. [JTR 214.2.]

§ 842.215 Terminations of prime contracts where default exists. [JTR 215]

§ 842.215–1 Terminations during hostilities. Notwithstanding any default under a prime contract, the chief of the service or bureau charged with its administration may terminate the contract under the contract article providing for termination for the convenience of the Government, instead of for default, whenever he considers (a) that any default of the contractor has not been gross or willful and has not caused substantial injury to the Government, and (b) that the use of that termination article will be equitable under all the circumstances. [JTR 215.1]

§ 842.215–2 Terminations of complete programs or at the end of hostilities. (a) Under the uniform prime contract termination articles, the contract must be terminated in accordance with the article even though the prime contractor is in default, if the termination is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination:

(1) Of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the War or Navy Department for the same product or for closely related products, or

(2) Of war contracts at or about the time of or following the cessation of the present hostilities, or any large part thereof, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or willful default under the contract.

(b) Certain of the other or earlier forms of termination articles contain somewhat similar provisions applicable to terminations at the cessation of hostilities.

(c) The chief of any service or bureau will follow the contract provisions referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) above, whenever they become applicable. [JTR 215.2]

§ 842.216 Reductions in quantity under "Changes" articles or by agreement; changes in specifications. [JTR 216]

§ 842.216–1 When reductions permitted. (a) Certain War and Navy Department prime contracts contain a special "Changes" article which authorizes the Government, under certain conditions, to reduce by a change order the quantity of supplies to be delivered under the contract. Such a reduction is a method of termination, and is subject to the provisions of §§ 842.233, 842.234 and 842.235, requiring clearance with the War Production Board.

(b) Where a reduction in the quantity of supplies to be delivered under a prime contract appears likely to involve substantial or complicated problems regarding termination inventories or claims by subcontractors, such reduction should ordinarily be effected as a partial termination pursuant to the termination article contained in the contract. Where no such substantial or complicated problems exist, such a reduction in the quantity of supplies may be effected under the special "Changes" article or any similar article.

(c) Where a prime contract does not contain such a "Changes" article, reductions may be made under the same conditions by supplemental agreement with the consent of the contractor. Before making any such agreement, each surety or guarantor should be notified, if the surety or guarantee agreement so requires, and the assent of any assignee, who has given notice under the Assignment of Claims Act, should be obtained where possible. [JTR 216.1]

§ 842.216–2 Compensation for such reductions. (a) When any such reduction is made under a "Changes" article or by supplemental agreement, the prime contractor may be compensated therefor by an equitable adjustment in the contract price without conforming to the procedures in this subchapter; but the provisions of this subchapter may be used as a guide in making the adjustment.

(b) Such an equitable adjustment should compensate the contractor fairly for the reduction, taking into account the types of costs, allocable to the reduction, recognized by the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Fixed-Price Supply Contracts (§ 845.551). The adjustment may be a lump sum or a change in the unit price or both. In the War Department, the adjustment should be made in conformity with the procedures prescribed in § 812.1231 of this chapter. Any excess inventory resulting from such a reduction should, if practicable, be dealt with and accounted for in conformity with Part 844.

(c) The act and this subchapter shall apply to the termination and settlement of subcontracts resulting from such reductions, and to the termination inventory involved in such subcontracts.

(d) In the event of failure to agree on the adjustment in any such case, the contracting officer will make formal findings of the amount due substantially in accordance with ¶ 847.750 and following, insofar as applicable. Since such reduction constitutes a termination under the act, the prime contractor will be entitled to appeal from such findings or sue in accordance with section 13 of the act.

(e) Where the adjustment involves a payment of more than $25,000, computed in accordance with § 841.122, it is subject to review under § 845.582. [JTR 216.2]

§ 842.216–3 Changes in specifications. (a) Any modification of a war contract pursuant to its terms for the purpose of changing plans and specifications, without substantially reducing its extent, is exempted from the provisions of the act and of this subchapter, except to the extent that the chief of the service or bureau, in his discretion, may require that the provisions of the act or of this subchapter shall apply.

(b) The act and this subchapter shall apply to the termination and settlement of subcontracts resulting from such modifications, and to the termination inventory involved in such subcontracts. [JTR 216.3]

§ 842.217 Use of suspensions of performance. [JTR 217]

§ 842.217–1 Statutory provision. Section 11 (b) of the act provides as follows:

Whenever a contracting agency hereafter directs a prime contractor to cease or suspend all or a substantial part of the work under a prime contract, without terminating the contract, then, unless the contract provides otherwise, (1) the contracting agency shall compensate the contractor for reasonable costs and expenses resulting from such cessation or suspension, and (2) if the cessation or suspension extends for thirty days or more, the contractor may elect to treat it as a termination by delivering written notice of his election so to do to the contracting agency, at any time before the contracting agency directs the prime contractor to resume work under the contract.

§ 842.217–2 Where suspensions authorized. (a) Arbitrary suspension of performance of work under contracts generally causes undue hardship to affected war contractors and increased costs to the Government, gives rise to injurious uncertainty in the minds of management and labor, and otherwise creates confusion and disorganization harmful to the war effort and to the national economy. Contracting officers should not direct a prime contractor to suspend performance while attempting to decide requirements for continuing production or as a temporary expedient in connection with the solution of other administrative problems. Suspensions will, therefore, be ordered only to the limited extent permitted by paragraph (b) below, and every precaution will be taken to insure that each suspension is in fact in the public interest in the light of the factors set out above and not merely an administrative convenience.

(b) Contractors may be directed to suspend performance of work only where:

(1) A termination has definitely been decided upon, but time is needed in which to determine whether the termination should be effected as a termination for default or for the convenience of the Government; or

(2) Complete, or a substantial part of, performance under the contract is needed, but cessation of performance for a period not unreasonable under the circumstances is necessary or deemed to be in the best interest of the Government, provided that the written approval (in the case of the War Department) of the head of the local procurement district, depot, or other office, or (in the case of the Navy Department) of the chief or assistant chief of the bureau, acting personally, will be required for the continuance of any suspension (subject to § 842.217–3 (c)) issued under this subparagraph for more than five days after receipt of a request by the contractor for its revocation; or

(3) Prior approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, is obtained. [JTR 272.2]

§ 842.217–3 Terms of suspension. (a) Where a suspension is ordered, the contracting officer should:

(1) Discuss with the prime contractor the nature and terms of the suspension and reduce such terms to writing;

(2) Limit the duration of the suspension to the shortest practicable period; and

(3) Avoid delay in reaching any decision which may be required as to the necessity, nature, or scope of a termination.

(b) If possible, the contracting officer should negotiate with the contractor a supplemental agreement covering the terms of the suspension. If the prime contract does not already contain a termination article substantially in the form currently approved, the agreement should insert the appropriate approved article.

(c) Unless the prime contract or supplemental agreement provides otherwise, the contractor may elect to treat any suspension, extending for thirty days or more, as a termination. Whether the contract is reinstated or terminated, the reasonable costs of the contractor caused by the suspension should be paid either pursuant to an appropriate supplemental agreement or as a part of the termination settlement.

(d) The contracting officer shall not suspend performance of work under a contract before clearance with, or notice to, the War Production Board, if required by § 842.233. [JTR 217.3]

SUBPART B—ADVANCE PREPARATIONS FOR TERMINATION SETTLEMENTS

§ 842.220 Scope. This subpart deals with advance preparations for termination settlement, consisting of discussions, informal arrangements and pretermination settlement agreements with war contractors. [JTR 220]

§ 842.221 Responsibility for advance preparations. [JTR 221]

§ 842.221–1 Value of advance preparations. (a) Advance preparations for termination lead to prompt and equitable settlement of terminated contracts, and are therefore designed to facilitate the prompt transition from terminated war production to other war production or to civilian production upon the partial or final cessation of hostilities. It is vital to the present war effort and the future economy of the country that this transition be accomplished with the greatest possible speed.

(b) Settlements of terminated war contracts involve many decisions and actions of war contractors and the Government. Diligent efforts must be made, before actual terminations, to agree on both the financial and property disposition aspects of the termination settlement.

(c) Such advance preparations will speed the diversion of personnel, inventory and facilities to other war production or to civilian production, and will facilitate interim financing, plant clearance, and prompt settlement of termination claims, with resulting avoidance of unemployment. [JTR 221.1]

§ 842.221–2 Types of advance preparations. The three types of advance preparations are:

(a) Discussions with contractors of termination procedures and problems, and the preparation by contractors of internal termination plans and procedures. (See § 842.222.)

(b) Tentative understandings or informal arrangements embodied in memoranda not binding upon the Government or the contractor. (See §§ 842.223, 842.225 and 842.226.)

(c) Pretermination settlement agreements which are formal, binding agreements covering elements of the termination settlement. (See §§ 842.224, 842.225, 842.226 and 842.227.) [JTR 221.2]

§ 842.221–3 Scope of advance preparations. Except in those specific cases where such activity would interfere with production, all services and bureaus are responsible for conducting advance preparations to the greatest extent practicable. Discussions with contractors should lead to the preparation of a written termination plan by each contractor, and to informal arrangements covering elements of termination settlements. Thereafter, to the greatest extent practicable, advance preparations should be extended to the negotiation of pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 221.3]

§ 842.221–4 Coordination of advance preparations. The local termination coordination committees appointed under Subpart C of Part 848 can be of material assistance to all the services and bureaus in carrying out advance preparations for termination settlement without unnecessary duplication of effort. The chairman of each committee should coordinate planning and contractor education so that every war contractor in the area will be covered by at least one of the services or bureaus and made aware of the benefits to be derived from advance preparations. The termination coordination committees should serve as clearing houses for disseminating information to contractors regarding informal arrangements and pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 221.4]

§ 842.221–5 Navy Department procedures. In the Navy Department, certain functions of the contracting officer in respect of the termination and settlement of war contracts, interim financing, disposition of property and related matters have been assigned to the Navy Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration, Navy material inspectors and Cost Inspection Service. The foregoing representatives of the contracting officer shall have corresponding authority and responsibility in connection with advance preparations for termination settlement, including the authority to enter into informal arrangements pursuant to § 842.223. In addition, the NMR&DA (as well as the bureaus), is authorized on behalf of the Navy to enter into pretermination settlement agreements which determine what material or classes of material (with the exception of Government-furnished material and equipment and production and supply items) shall be considered to be scrap (as defined in § 842.225–6) and grant authority to the contractor to retain or sell or to approve retention or sale by a subcontractor of such material, or provide for the storage or removal of such material not retained by the war contractor or otherwise disposed of, or make any other disposition thereof, provided that the agreements shall allow not less than fifteen days from the effective date of termination within which the bureaus may request items for their own purposes prior to any disposition thereof. [JTR 221.5]

§ 842.222 Discussions with contractors. [JTR 222]

§ 842.222–1 Purpose of discussions. Both the Government and the contractor will benefit from a thorough discussion of anticipated terminations. Contracting officers will become more familiar with the records and termination problems of contractors, and contractors will become more familiar with termination procedures and the character of the information which they must furnish to the Government on termination. [JTR 222.1]

§ 842.222–2 Scope of discussions. A number of the specific matters which should be discussed with contractors are listed in § 842.222–3. The subjects listed in § 842.225 as appropriate matters for informal arrangements or pretermination settlement agreements should also be discussed as early as possible. [JTR 222.2]

§ 842.222–3 Specific subjects of discussions with contractors—(a) Termination article. War contractors should become thoroughly familiar with the termination articles in their contracts. Contracts which do not contain approved termination articles should be amended to insert them wherever possible.

(b) Termination organization. Each contractor should form a termination section headed by an individual of executive level, and provide necessary legal, accounting and other assistance.

(c) Training of personnel. An adequate staff should be trained in all the operations involved in the prompt settlement of claims and disposal of inventory, such as the preparation of settlement proposals, taking of inventories, disposal of property, and negotiations with subcontractors.

(d) Government regulations and forms. Contractor personnel concerned with terminations should become thoroughly familiar with this regulation, the Termination Accounting Manual, and standard forms for notice of termination, instructions to contractors, settlement proposals, and interim financing. Each contractor should see that sufficient copies of these documents are available.

(e) Accounting system. Contractors should review their accounting systems to make sure that they will have available all data required in filling out the standard settlement proposal forms. Contracting officers and Government accounting personnel should, to the extent practicable, become familiar with each contractor's accounting policies and procedures.

(f) Production control. The contractor and the contracting officer should consider the normal "production cycle", representing the length of time taken to complete the finished unit from initial operations, and the "lead time", representing the time from the placement of orders with subcontractors and suppliers until raw materials and components are received in the contractor's plant. This will permit an approximation of the character and quantity of inventory and commitments that the contractor will have upon termination.

(g) Contractor's inventory forms. The contractor should arrange for an ample supply of all forms needed to record inventory and costs.

(h) Records of contractor. The records of the contractor should be reviewed to assure that they afford the basis for proper identification and allocability of all property acquired for the contract and all subcontracts thereunder, and for determining the cost of all property that may be included in termination inventories. The records of the contractor and the contracting officer regarding Government-owned materials and production equipment should be brought up to date and reconciled. The contractor should be encouraged to set up and maintain proper records of his post-termination expenses.

(i) Disposal of property by the contractor. In general, it is the policy of the Government to encourage war contractors to retain or sell as much termination inventory as possible at prices which conform to regulations of the Surplus Property Board.

(1) Diversion to other contractors. Where production of the terminated end-product will be continued by other contractors, diversion to them should be accomplished, if a saving to the Government may be effected, even though termination of subcontracts will result.

(2) Return to suppliers. Arrangements should be made to list the standard items which the contractor will return to original suppliers upon termination. In many cases it will be desirable to ascertain in advance from such suppliers the extent to which such returns can probably be negotiated.

(3) Special arrangements. Contractors should be informed of any special arrangements of the nature referred to in § 844.452–3, covering the disposition of certain specific items of material, and should be instructed as to compliance with such arrangements.

(4) Other sales by contractors. The manner in which the contractor will offer items of termination inventory for general sale should be considered, and appropriate authorizations for sales without further approval of the contracting officer should be granted.

(j) Packaging. Plans should be made by the contractor to assure adequate personnel, equipment and materials for packaging those items of termination inventory to be taken over by the service or bureau concerned. Packaging specifications should be supplied, and the desirability of deviation from standard specifications in the case of low-value items, such as scrap and salvage, should be considered.

(k) Interim financing. Each contractor should make an estimate of his financial needs during the period between termination and final settlement and ascertain in advance the most suitable method of interim financing. Contracting officers should advise contractors about the availability of partial payments, guaranteed loans and funds for the benefit of subcontractors; and the necessary application forms should be secured. If a guaranteed loan will be required, the contractor should discuss it with his bank. [JTR 222.3]

§ 842.222–4 Planning by subcontractors. The list of subjects enumerated in § 842.222–3 for discussions with war contractors applies in general to both prime contractors and subcontractors. It is particularly important that subcontractors be able, in advance of termination, to identify accurately the prime contracts to which their subcontracts relate, and the names and offices of the Government officers charged with administering them. They should also be familiar with their rights and duties under this subchapter, and under the notices and instructions which they should expect to receive upon termination. [JTR 222.4]

§ 842.222–5 Planning by higher tier war contractors. The most thorough planning by subcontractors will not expedite the settlement of their claims without the cooperation of their customers. Advance planning by prime contractors and higher tier subcontractors should cover the following specific matters in addition to those listed in § 842.222–3.

(a) Identification of subcontracts. All war contractors should examine their subcontracts with a view to establishing their allocability to the contracts to which they relate. Order forms, invoices and other supporting documents should be made readily available to support subcontract charges.

(b) Termination article. The termination provisions in subcontracts should be reviewed, and, where appropriate, the approved subcontract termination article (§ 849.936) should be inserted.

(c) Forms and instructions. Contractors should prepare a list of subcontracts to be terminated upon termination of their own contracts, and should have on hand all necessary forms. Contractors should see that their subcontractors are familiar with the requirements of the instructions to subcontractors (§ 849.944–3).

(d) Review procedure. Contractors should ascertain the nature and extent of, and establish internal procedures for carrying out, any required review of settlement proposals and contemplated dispositions of termination inventory of subcontractors.

(e) Settlement of subcontractors' claims. War contractors authorized under § 846.642 to make final settlement of claims of $10,000 or less or to make partial payments should be encouraged to exercise this authority widely.

(f) Interim financing. War contractors should also be encouraged (1) to study and assist in solving the financial needs of their subcontractors, (2) to pay immediately for all completed articles delivered under the subcontract, (3) to make other payments to subcontractors without awaiting payment by the Government and (4) to process promptly applications for partial payments for their subcontractors. [JTR 222.5]

§ 842.223 Informal arrangements. (a) Discussions with a contractor should frequently lead to understandings concerning particular elements of the termination settlement, which should be reduced to informal memoranda. Such memoranda are not binding, are subject to change by either party and should so state clearly.

(b) In the case of prime contractors, informal memoranda should be signed by the contractor and the contracting officer. They may set forth any tentative agreements reached on the pricing, disposition or retention of inventory, particular cost elements, or any other aspects of the termination settlement.

(c) Discussions with subcontractors may lead to informal arrangements between the subcontractor and his customer, with the tentative approval of the contracting officer. Such approvals constitute indications by the contracting officer that, as advised at the time the memorandum is made, he would approve the arrangement if embodied in a settlement agreement between the subcontractor and his customer.

(d) Immediately upon termination all tentative arrangements previously made should be reviewed by the interested parties. If no new factors or considerations have made the arrangement inadvisable, the tentative understandings may be promptly confirmed or adjusted. A tentative memorandum may provide for a specific method by which such confirmation or adjustment may be accomplished. Widespread use of this procedure will materially reduce the time required after termination for plant clearance and final settlement and payment of contractors' claims. [JTR 223]

§ 842.224 Pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 224]

§ 842.224–1 Regulations of Office of Contract Settlement. (a) General Regulation No. 3 of the Office of Contract Settlement added to Directive Order No. 2 of the Office of War Mobilization the following paragraph:

> Any Department or Agency of the Government may embody in any contract a special agreement to pay the contractor, as fair compensation for the termination of the contract, amounts specified in the contract or to be readily computed according to specified methods, standards or bases appropriate to the particular contract and set out therein, in lieu of any other compensation therefor, whenever the Department or Agency determines (1) that the available data permit a reasonable forecast, consistent with sound commercial standards, of the factors involved in determining what will be fair compensation for termination in the case or class of cases and (2) that such agreement will substantially facilitate settlements, plant clearance, reconversion from war to civilian production or the efficient use of materials, manpower and facilities or will otherwise promote the objectives of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944. Such special agreements may be included in original contracts or may be inserted in contracts by amendment made before their termination and, when so included or inserted, are hereby determined to provide a method for determining fair compensation for the termination of such contracts.

(b) Regulation No. 6 of the Office of Contract Settlement states that a similar policy will be applied to subcontract pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 224.1]

(c) Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board provides:

> To the maximum extent practicable decisions for the retention or disposal by contractors of all types of contractor inventories shall be made in advance of termination by means of pretermination agreements or otherwise. Provisions may be included in pretermination agreements for the determination of what property shall be considered to be scrap and for the retention or disposal of all types of property by the contractor. Pretermination agreements may also provide for the care and handling and removal of contractor inventories and for the classes of property that the owning agency will take over.

§ 842.224–2 Price provisions in pretermination settlement agreements. The following provisions apply to pretermination agreements entered into on and after July 1, 1945:

(a) Any property, except scrap, which is to be retained by the contractor for his own use, may be retained at prices that are fair and reasonable and not less than the proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the property were offered for sale. The agreement shall contain in connection with each such retention a written representation from the contractor that he intends to use or consume the property for manufacturing, construction, maintenance or repair purposes, and that he is not retaining it for the purpose of reselling it at profit.

(b) Any property, except scrap, which is to be retained by the contractor not for his own use may be retained at either (1) prices that are fair and reasonable and not less than the proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the property were offered for sale, but in no event less than 50% of cost (estimated if not known); or (2) market prices.

(c) Any property to be retained by the contractor as scrap may be retained at market prices with or without a scrap warranty.

(d) All prices referred to in this paragraph may be determined either as of the time of the agreement or the time of termination. [JTR 224.2]

§ 842.224–3 Required conditions. (a) Before entering into any pretermination settlement agreement, the contracting officer should determine (1) that the available data assure reasonable accuracy of the information on which the agreement is based, and (2) that the agreement will advance one or more of the objectives of the act. When the agreement involves a forecast of the factors involved in determining fair compensation, the available data must permit a reasonable forecast, consistent with sound commercial standards, of such factors. Many agreements can be made, however, that do not settle the actual methods, standards or bases for determining fair compensation, but fix specific elements that enter into the determination of a fair settlement. In each case, the required data, considered in the light of the contractor's records and his reliability and experience, must justify a judgment that the determinations made by the agreement will contribute to a fair settlement upon termination.

(b) Each pretermination settlement agreement which determines the amount payable to the contractor as fair compensation for termination shall provide that the gross amount, exclusive of any sum payable for post-termination expenses, shall not exceed the total contract price, less payments otherwise made or to be made under the contract. [JTR 224.3]

§ 842.224–4 Permissible provisions. (a) Pretermination settlement agreements may provide that they shall become operative, or may be modified or cancelled, only upon stated conditions. Each such agreement should clearly state, for example, whether it becomes operative only upon total or upon a defined, partial termination; and whether the agreement shall be modified or cancelled after execution, but before termination of the contract by such events as change orders, variations in volume of production, passage of time or completion of a specified portion of the contract.

(b) Where the passage of time might substantially affect the fairness of an agreement, especially as to unit costs, retention values, rates of overhead or profit and special facilities, a provision for periodic adjustment of the settlement terms by negotiation or by an agreed formula may properly be included. The contractor will not be given the option to choose, after notice of termination, between the pretermination settlement agreement and settlement under other authorized termination provisions.

(c) A pretermination settlement agreement may provide that the contractor will make no charge because of termination if he is given notice by a specified period of time before the effective date of termination. The purpose of such notice shall be to give the contractor adequate time to plan his work so as to avoid termination charges. The Government, however, shall not bind itself to give such advance notice.

§ 842.224–5 Settlements on behalf of more than one service or bureau. The Readjustment Division, ASF, may authorize the chief of any service or bureau to execute a pretermination settlement agreement with a war contractor on behalf of any or all services of the War Department; and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, may grant such authority on behalf of any or all bureaus of the Navy Department. [JTR 224.5]

§ 842.224–6 Applicability of this subchapter and Joint Termination Accounting Manual. The principles of this subchapter relating to negotiated termination settlements, and the Joint Termination Accounting Manual shall be employed as general guides, insofar as applicable, in making decisions and determinations concerning any pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 224.6]

§ 842.225 Specific matters which may be covered by informal arrangements and by pretermination settlement agreements. The following list includes important matters, some or all of which may be the subject of either informal arrangements or binding settlement agreements. [JTR 225]

§ 842.225–1 Stop-work points. The contractor and the contracting officer should ascertain and agree upon the points or stages at which production is to be stopped upon termination in accordance with § 842.241–3 (a). [JTR 225.1]

§ 842.225–2 Method of taking inventory. Advance arrangements should be made as to the place and method of taking and verifying inventories and preparing satisfactory termination inventory schedules. Proper short cuts in counting inventory should be considered, such as estimates, weighing instead of counting and using book inventory subject to appropriate check. Arrangements should be made for concurrent verification of inventory by the contracting officer, particularly as to those items to be scrapped, retained by the contractor, or immediately diverted to other work of the contractor or to other contractors. Agreement should be reached as to what constitutes a "satisfactory" schedule with respect to classification and description. Items to be scrapped, sold, or retained by the contractor, diverted to other war contractors, transferred to the Government for war production, or otherwise disposed of promptly upon termination, need be described only to the extent required to substantiate the contractor's charges and to meet the requirements of such disposal; they need not be described in the detail required for inventory to be taken over and reported to a disposal agency. [JTR 225.2]

§ 842.225–3 Categories of anticipated termination inventory. Termination inventory anticipated as being on hand at termination should be studied, and agreement reached on the items to be:

(a) Retained by the contractor at cost or less than cost but at more than scrap prices;

(b) Retained at scrap prices by the contractor;

(c) Disposed of by the contractor to original vendors or others;

(d) Transferred to the Government;

(e) Covered by a storage agreement. [JTR 225.3]

§ 842.225–4 Property required by Government. Termination inventory required by the Government for any reason should be ascertained at the earliest possible date. Where lists of critical items desired by a service or bureau are available, they should be used as a basis for advance arrangements. Generally, a determination can be made that certain items will not be required, and a tentative understanding reached. In general, the Government will require raw materials only where the supply is critical, and, as to spare parts, will require only completed components and assemblies. Chiefs of services and bureaus should supply contracting officers, prior to termination wherever possible, with a current list of critical items, as a basis for advance arrangements. [JTR 225.4]

contractor. Subject to any applicable

§ 842.225–5 Retention of property by War Production Board regulations, retention of termination inventory by the contractor is encouraged. Retention values should be negotiated at a fixed price or by a definite formula for computation of such price. The price at which items may be retained will be subject to the price policies set forth in Subpart D of Part 844. [JTR 225.5]

§ 842.225–6 Scrap. (a) For the purpose of this subpart the term "scrap" shall mean property that has no reasonable prospect of sale except for its basic material content.

(b) All scrap determinations shall be submitted for disposal board review and approval as provided in § 842.227–2. [JTR 225.6]

§ 842.225–7 Transfer of property to the Government. Arrangements should be made for packaging, shipping and storing termination inventory to be taken over by the Government. [JTR 225.7]

§ 842.225–8 Unit costs of termination inventory. Agreement may be reached as to the unit costs of each item or class of inventory on termination, including raw materials and work-in-process at the appropriate stop-work stages permitted by § 842.241–3 (a). Such unit costs may be negotiated as definite figures on the basis of the contractor's prior cost experience; or if such costs cannot be forecast with reasonable accuracy, provision may be made for adjustment upward or downward, in accordance with any agreed formula. Such formula should be designed to cover any special factors, such as wage changes, market fluctuations, or changes in production volume arising from cut-backs or increases in production, which would materially affect termination inventory costs. Cost of work-in-process, at the appropriate stop-work stages, may be forecast and negotiated on any agreed basis of standard, average or estimated costs. Agreement upon unit costs, retention values, settlement expenses, and rates of general and administrative expense and profit represents a "count and multiply" type of agreement, requiring only an extension of agreed-on prices to the number of units on hand on termination to arrive at the amount of the termination claim. The suggested form of agreement set forth in § 849.984 is of this type. [JTR 225.8]

§ 842.225–9 Advance agreement on total-cost basis. In cases where it is impracticable to negotiate unit costs of anticipated termination inventory, arrangements or agreements may provide that the total-cost basis shall be used. [JTR 225.9]

§ 842.225–10 Allocation of common inventory to specific terminations. Where raw materials and work in the early stages of process cannot be identified with specific contracts or orders, rules governing allocability as between civilian and war business, terminated and continued war business, and similar questions, may be decided on. [JTR 225.10]

§ 842.225–11 Special facilities. Arrangements or agreements may be made regarding capital items which are determined to be special facilities within the meaning of the Statement of Cost Principles, § 845.551–2 (f). The cost to be allowed and the method of protecting the Government's interest should be specifically covered in accordance with Subpart G of Part 844. [JTR 225.11]

§ 842.225–12 Government-owned production equipment. Advance arrangements should cover the following:

(a) Idle equipment. A list of the equipment that will become idle as a result of termination should be prepared in satisfactory form for plant clearance purposes.

(b) Acquisition by the contractor. The contractor should indicate those items that he wishes to acquire at the prices established under applicable War and Navy Department regulations, and the contracting officer should determine whether such items can be released. The method of financing such acquisition should be considered.

(c) Removal. The contractor should be given definitive instructions as to the dismantling, packaging, shipment and storage of those items that he does not wish to acquire or that the Government is unwilling to release. [JTR 225.12]

§ 842.225–13 Starting load costs and similar items. Arrangements or agreements should cover the methods of determining and allocating such costs as starting load, engineering, and tooling expenses. [JTR 225.13]

§ 842.225–14 Factory overhead and general and administrative expense. The rates of factory overhead and general and administrative expense may be agreed upon and, in appropriate cases, made subject to periodic adjustment. [JTR 225.14]

§ 842.225–15 Profit. The rate or method of computing profit may be determined. [JTR 225.15]

§ 842.225–16 Pretermination and post-termination settlement expenses. Arrangements or agreements may be made covering the amount of, or the methods of determining and allocating, the costs of maintaining a termination organization and the expenses incurred in advance preparations for termination settlement, as well as the amount or method of computing the amount of post-termination settlement expenses. [JTR 225.16]

§ 842.225–17 Interim financing by means of partial and advance payments—(a) Prime contractors' charges. Advance arrangements or agreements covering methods of computing fair compensation on termination will assist a prime contractor in applying for an immediate, cost-supported or controlled partial payment in accordance with Subpart E of Part 843. An agreement may establish the basis upon which the contractor's estimate is to be prepared, and, if prepared in accordance with such basis, the percentage of the estimate that will be paid as a partial payment, but not the amount of the estimate or of the partial payment. Where unit costs of termination inventory have been agreed to in advance, an estimate of costs based upon the amount of inventory customarily in the contractor's plant at then prevailing rates of production should be submitted in advance to the contracting officer, and currently revised to facilitate prompt approval by the contracting officer on the date of termination.

(b) Subcontractors' charges. Arrangements may be made for establishing a fund in the hands of higher tier contractors from which partial and final payments may be made to subcontractors, in accordance with § 843.364. [JTR 225.17]

(c) Use of advance payments for interim financing. Under the conditions stated in §§ 843.331 and 843.332, advance payment funds in special accounts may be utilized for the payment of subcontractors' charges and those of the contractor. [JTR 225.17]

§ 842.226 Advance preparations for subcontract termination. [JTR 226]

§ 842.226–1 Informal arrangements. Informal arrangements and pretermination settlement agreements between war contractors affecting subcontracts will be recognized on substantially the same conditions as those applicable to prime contracts.

Contracting officers, in cooperation with prime contractors, should encourage advance arrangements covering elements of subcontractors' settlements. [JTR 226–1]

§ 842.226–2 Pretermination settlement agreements (a) Pretermination settlement agreements between the Government and prime contractors may not be used to relieve such contractors of their obligations with respect to subcontractors' claims. Where a prime contractor's pretermination settlement agreement with the Government deals with subcontractors' claims, it shall contain an undertaking by the contractor promptly to pay fair compensation to subcontractors in accordance with the standards prescribed by this subchapter.

(b) Pretermination settlement agreements between war contractors and their subcontractors will be recognized as binding on the Government upon approval by the Government to the extent and upon the conditions stated in § 842.227, or when they are made pursuant to the terms of a pretermination settlement agreement between the Government and the prime contractor.

(c) When a pretermination settlement agreement between a war contractor and his subcontractor has been made binding on the Government by the approval of one service or bureau, any other service or bureau may rely upon that approval and, without making any independent review of any provisions so approved, may approve other pretermination settlement agreements or other settlements between the subcontractor and the same or other customers which contain or give effect to the same provisions. Such action may appropriately be taken with respect to provisions of general application to all claims of the subcontractor, such as those determining overhead or profit rates or classifying items of termination inventory. [JTR 226.2]

§ 842.226–3 Direct pretermination settlement agreements with common subcontractors. (a) The Government may enter into direct pretermination settlement agreements with subcontractors producing the same or similar articles under different prime contracts, and may prescribe therein the method of determining the termination charges of such subcontractors. Such agreements may be entered into only to the extent that, in accordance with paragraph (b) below, authority has been granted to the service or bureau executing the agreement to make it applicable in the settlement of the prime contracts to which such subcontracts relate.

(b) The Readjustment Division, ASF, may authorize the chief of any service or bureau to execute such a pretermination settlement agreement with subcontractors on behalf of any or all services of the War Department; and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, may grant such authority on behalf of any or all bureaus of the Navy Department.

(c) Such agreements with subcontractors may establish as fair compensation amounts specified in the agreement or to be readily computed according to methods, standards or bases appropriate to such subcontracts. Subcontract settlements made in accordance with such agreements will be recognized by the Government in the settlement of the prime contract to which such subcontract relates, but no such agreement shall bind any higher tier contractor without his consent. [JTR 226.3]

§ 842.227 Approval of pretermination settlement agreements. [JTR 227]

§ 842.227–1 Approval by review board. Each pretermination settlement agreement shall, before approval or execution by the contracting officer, be examined by a review board in the service or bureau of that contracting officer. Such board may be a settlement review board established under § 845.581, or such other board of three or more members as may be specially created by the chief of the service or bureau. The function of the board shall be to determine the over-all reasonableness of the agreement, and the adequacy of the protection of the Government's interests. If the review board disapproves any proposed agreement, the contracting officer shall not approve or execute it without the approval of the head of the office in which the board is established. [JTR 227.1]

§ 842.227–2 Approval by disposal board. Where a pretermination settlement agreement provides for the retention or disposal of any termination inventory by the contractor, or for a scrap determination, regardless of the cost of the property involved, such agreement shall be subject to prior review and approval by a disposal board established under § 844.449. [JTR 227.2]

§ 842.227–3 Approval by Readjustment Division or Industrial Readjustment Branch. In addition to the approval required under §§ 842.227–1 and 842.227–2, a pretermination settlement agreement requires approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M where the agreement:

(a) Has the effect of substantially determining the entire matter of fair compensation, and the undelivered portion of the contract is more than $5,000,000 at the time of execution; or

(b) Provides for the payment of any amount for loss on special facilities as defined in § 845.551–2 (f); or

(c) Determines, from estimates based on the contractor's production cycle, or otherwise, the precise quantities of termination inventory which will be assumed to be on hand at any given time, and on which, therefore, the settlement is to be based; or

(d) Provides for the additional processing or continuation of production of any work-in-process for the account of the Government after the effective date of termination, except to the extent provided in § 842.241–3 (a); or

(e) Is a direct pretermination settlement agreement with a war contractor under § 842.224–5 or § 842.226–3; or

(f) Relates to reimbursement of costs or adjustment of the fee under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. [JTR 227.3]

§ 842.227–4 Form for submitting agreements for approval. Every request for approval under § 842.227–3 will include such of the following information as is relevant:

(a) Name and address of contractor.

(b) Numbers and dates of the contracts or orders covered by the agreement, estimated dates of completion, and delivery schedules.

(c) Location of the principal plant furnishing the items.

(d) Quantity and brief description of items being furnished.

(e) Unit price or prices and total amount to be expended under the contracts or orders.

(f) Experience of contractor with the type of production involved.

(g) Copy of the pretermination settlement agreement.

(h) Recommendation of the chief of the service or bureau.

(i) Such other information as the contracting officer deems proper. [JTR 227.4]

SUBPART C—DISTRIBUTION OF CUTBACKS

§ 842.230 Scope. This subpart deals with policies and procedures governing the translation of cutbacks in procurement schedules into terminations or revisions of specific contracts. Such policies and procedures are based on, and follow the requirements of, (a) a directive dated January 20, 1945 issued by the Director, Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, entitled "Policies of Contract Curtailment, Non-renewal and Termination", and (b) Directive No. 40 of the War Production Board, entitled "Clearance and Consultation on Cutbacks". This subpart includes the steps to be taken in planning contract terminations, clearing such plans with the War Production Board where this is required, and informing the prime contractors' employees and the general public where substantial releases of manpower or facilities may result. The preparation of the notice of termination and its delivery to the prime contractor are covered in Subpart D. [JTR 230]

§ 842.231 Responsibility for planning cutbacks. [JTR 231]

§ 842.231–1 Need for planning. (a) When the supply programs of the armed forces change due to strategic changes, new technical developments, scarcity of materials, or other similar factors, procurement schedules must often be curtailed either by terminating outstanding prime contracts or by reducing the rate of deliveries scheduled under such contracts, or by both methods.

(b) In reducing procurement schedules and in terminating war contracts, it is essential, to the greatest extent practicable:

(1) To shift any manpower, facilities, and materials released into other war production;

(2) To minimize disruption of the national economy;

(3) To reduce or eliminate termination claims, by enabling war contractors to change over to other production with minimum delay or loss of productive capacity;

(4) To provide prime contractors with notice of termination as far in advance of the cessation of work thereunder as is feasible and consistent with the national security, without permitting unneeded production or performance, in order to enable the contractor and his employees to prepare for the termination of work.

(c) The chief of each service or bureau will carefully plan all cutbacks under his administration in such manner as to meet these objectives. [JTR 231.1]

§ 842.231–2 Review boards. The chief of each service (except the Army Air Forces) and the chief of each bureau will establish one or more boards of review composed of not less than three responsible officers or employees to review proposed terminations of contracts and reductions in individual delivery schedules. Such a board shall review each such cutback required to be cleared by the War Production Board (CPAD), which involves a selection of facilities and a reduction of more than $500,000 in the total value of the items to be delivered under all prime contracts with that service or bureau for substantially similar procurement items (a) in the current month or in any one of the succeeding 11 months, or (b in the case of Navy Department ship construction, in the current month or any succeeding month. The chief of the service or bureau in his discretion may require proposed cutbacks involving smaller amounts to be submitted to a review board. In the Army Service Forces such Boards shall review all cutbacks which may result in the complete or partial closing of government-owned plants and transmit the action of the board to the Commanding General ASF (Director, Production Division) for approval. [JTR 231.2]

§ 842.231–4 Navy procedures. In obtaining information as a basis for applying the policies specified in §§ 842.232 and 842.241, each bureau should consult directly with appropriate divisions or sections in the Office of Procurement and Material and in the Shore Establishments and Civilian Personnel Division of the Secretary's Office. Such divisions and sections in OP&M include the Materials and Products Control Officer and the Labor Relations Division of the Production Branch, the Finance Division and Industry Cooperation Division of the Procurement Branch, and in Shore Establishments and Civilian Personnel, the Industrial Manpower Section of the Employment Branch. [JTR 231.4]

§ 842.232 Factors in selecting prime contracts for termination. [JTR 232]

§ 842.232–1 General application of factors. (a) When a cutback in a procurement program will require the termination of less than all outstanding prime contracts related to the program, the service or bureau concerned will select the particular prime contracts to be terminated in the light of all applicable factors within its knowledge.

(b) The prime consideration is the retention of facilities with capacity to produce known and contingent future requirements. A list of the other factors to be considered is given in the following sections. Not all of these factors will apply to each case, but all that are pertinent should be considered. Readily determinable factors, such as relative costs, should not be over-emphasized to the exclusion of those less tangible in nature.

(c) To the fullest extent possible, the service or bureau should take into account the bearing of all pertinent factors upon subcontractors; for example, in regard to critical labor areas or the use of transportation facilities, the location of the prime contractor may be less important than the location of major subcontractors. [JTR 232.1]

§ 842.232–2 Costs. Prime contracts affording lower unit costs to the Government should be retained where other factors are equal, but the obvious importance of this factor and the ease with which it can be applied must not result in disregarding other pertinent factors. As in the case of initial procurement, prime contracts may be retained even though involving higher prices than the contracts terminated, whenever necessary to give due weight to other factors. The cost factor will, however, grow in importance as manpower, transportation and other shortages are overcome. [JTR 232.2]

§ 842.232–3 Facilities useful for other production. (a) Facilities which can be utilized for other war production or for essential civilian production should be released in preference to terminating war contracts at plants not readily adaptable for such other production. In addition to physical facilities, the availability of engineering and other technical staffs able to effect speedy change-over should be considered in this regard.

(b) Where the released facilities will not be required for other war production or essential civilian production, preference should be given to those able to reconvert to other civilian production for which labor and material are available. This consideration may be particularly important where a war contractor is located in a single industry community dependent on the business of the contractor. [JTR 232.3]

§ 842.232–4 Financial condition. Prime contractors requiring Government financial assistance in the form of guaranteed loans or advance payments at substantial credit risk may ultimately be of greater expense to the Government than prime contractors with a higher contract price per unit. [JTR 232.4]

§ 842.232–5 Government-owned versus privately owned facilities. Privately owned plants not normally engaged in production of a military character will be given first priority of release from war production in order to facilitate their reconversion to civilian production, due consideration being given to the wishes of the contractors. Government-owned plants will be kept in operation or reserve until their production is clearly no longer required for military needs. However, where a plant is located in an isolated section with no opportunity for displaced workers, the exercise of wise administrative discretion may prompt other action. [JTR 232.5]

§ 842.232–6 Location in critical labor areas. Manpower shortages in critical labor areas designated by the War Manpower Commission as Group I or Group II Areas should be relieved by terminating war contracts for materials being produced in such areas to the greatest extent possible. Particular attention should be given to the location of the principal subcontractors as well as prime contractors. [JTR 232.6]

§ 842.232–7 Performance. (a) War contractors' records for meeting or anticipating required schedules should be reviewed.

(b) Reports of technical inspectors and other data indicating quality of product should be weighed.

(c) War contractors with a record of economic use of critical materials, machinery and equipment and efficient utilization of labor should be retained in preference to those with a record of over-ordering or waste, or of labor hoarding, rapid labor turnover, or excessive absenteeism.

(d) Where practicable, companies responsible for the development and engineering of specialized products will be retained in their manufacture in preference to those companies which are merely licensed for their manufacture. [JTR 232.7]

§ 842.232–8 Pro rata partial terminations. Where all other factors are in substantial balance, a cutback may be spread pro rata over all affected prime contracts by partial terminations. The possibility that the operations of some war contractors may be reduced below an economic production rate must, however, be taken into account in this connection. [JTR 232.8]

§ 842.232–9 Security. The security factor should be considered, based on location and dispersion. [JTR 232.9]

§ 842.232–10 Smaller war plants. Independent smaller concerns within the scope of the Smaller War Plants Act (Public Law 603, 77th Congress) should be retained to the fullest extent possible except where the prime contractor would prefer termination in order to be released for permitted civilian production. Similar preference should be accorded prime contractors with a large number of subcontractors in the Smaller War Plants category. [JTR 232.10]

§ 842.232–11 Stage of completion. War contracts not yet in production or in earlier stages of production should be terminated in preference to contracts nearing completion, in order to avoid waste in scrapping work in process and to reduce termination claims. [JTR 232.11]

§ 842.232–12 Stand-by facilities. Facilities retained should have existing or potential capacity for production of known and contingent future requirements. Safeguarding of future requirements normally will require maintenance in operation of more than one source of supply for any important nonstock item. [JTR 232.12]

§ 842.232–13 Transportation. The burden on transportation facilities should be minimized by retention of war contractors accessible to raw materials, purchased components and destination, in preference to contractors requiring cross-hauls or long distance deliveries. [JTR 232.13]

§ 842.232–14 Type of contract. Fixed-price prime contracts should be retained in preference to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, other factors being equal, where both types of prime contracts are outstanding under a procurement schedule. [JTR 232.14]

§ 842.233 Approval of large cutbacks by the War Production Board; notification of smaller cutbacks. [JTR 233]

§ 842.233–1 General. (a) Pursuant to instructions of the Director, Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, the Production Executive Committee of the War Production Board has adopted uniform policies to govern termination of contracts in order to give reasonable notice to management and labor of such terminations. The contracting agencies are required to obtain approval of their proposed large cutbacks and terminations, excluding subsistence and other specifically exempted programs, from the Production Executive Committee and not to make them effective until such approval is obtained. To insure complete coordination in the field of cutbacks or other production adjustments, the Production Executive Committee has established under its direction the Production Readjustment Committee on which the armed services and numerous other government agencies are represented. The Production Executive Committee has further established (1) uniform procedures and report forms to be used by the contracting agencies and (2) an administrative group operating under the Production Readjustment Committee, known as the Current Production Adjustments Division. The Director of this Division rules on distribution of cutbacks, subject to appeal in accordance with § 842.233–4 (c).

(b) The procedures and forms described in the following sections apply except where the Production Executive Committee of the War Production Board authorizes deviations or alternative procedures for special cases or classes of cases. The forms used for clearing and reporting cutbacks are designated as PEC Forms A, B, C, and D, and will be used in accordance with §§ 842.233–3, 842.233–4, 842.233–5, and 842.233–6. [JTR 233.1]

§ 842.233–2 Definition of cutbacks. For the purpose of these reports a "cutback" means a revision of delivery schedules under contract that (a) eliminates all or part of the items to be delivered under one or more prime contracts, or (b) reduces the rate of deliveries scheduled for any period: it does not include changes in items to be delivered, resulting from changes in plans and specifications. Items, parts, or materials that are alike in their principal specifications or that are usually procured together or grouped in one procurement program are regarded as one item or material for the purposes of the reports. Orders to Government-owned plants shall be treated as prime contracts for the purpose of the foregoing definition and for making reports. [JTR 233.2]

§ 842.233–3 PEC Form A, preliminary advice of current cutbacks. (a) PEC Form A will be filed for a proposed cutback which will involve a reduction of more than $500,000 in the total value of items to be delivered under all prime contracts with that service or bureau for substantially similar procurement items (1) in the current month or any one of the succeeding 11 months or (2) in the case of Navy Department ship construction, in the current month or any succeeding month.

(b) In determining whether cutbacks require submission of PEC Form A, only the amounts actually under contract (as distinguished from scheduled procurement not yet placed under contract) will be considered; the value of items of Government-furnished equipment will be excluded from such consideration; and in cases where programmed items are assembled from separately procured components, the determination will be confined to consideration of all prime contracts for each separately procured component.

(c) The form shall be submitted as soon as a cutback has been determined upon or has advanced to a stage where it is sufficiently firm and definite with respect to quantities to be considered by the Current Production Adjustments Division. The form is a preliminary advice and is not to be delayed pending determination of the revised schedules or selection of the particular prime contracts to be terminated. [JTR 233.3]

§ 842.233–4 PEC Form B, detailed advice of current cutbacks. (a) PEC Form B will be filed showing data for each plant currently producing an item for which a report of a cutback is made on PEC Form A, whether or not the particular plant is affected by the cutback, except that in cutbacks in ammunition component programs, the procedure prescribed in § 842.233–7 is followed in lieu of filing PEC Form B. PEC Form B is a detailed advice of a cutback upon the basis of which approval of the War Production Board is obtained.

(b) The form shall be submitted as soon as possible after proposed contract terminations or proposed revisions of individual contract delivery schedules have been determined upon, and shall be accompanied by a statement of the factors supporting the proposed distribution of the cutback among the plants producing the item. Pending receipt of a ruling from the War Production Board on PEC Form D, no formal notice of termination, notice to suspend work or change order shall be sent to any prime contractor.

(c) Any ruling of the Current Production Adjustments Division may be appealed to the Production Readjustment Committee, and any ruling of the latter may be appealed to the Production Executive Committee, as provided in §§ 842.234–1 (a), 842.234–2 (b) and 842.234–3 (b). In any case where, because of unusual circumstances in the opinion of the service or bureau, action at variance with a ruling of the War Production Board must be taken, justification therefor by the service or bureau concerned will be presented (through the channels and in the manner established in § 842.235) to the Chairman of the Production Readjustment Committee within ten days after such action.

(d) Where the cutback involves no selection of facilities, such as complete terminations or reductions in production of any item produced by a single facility, the service or bureau may request (through channels) that the filing of PEC Form B be waived. In such instances, an estimate of labor to be released by the cutback, and the name and location of the district or other local officer responsible for notifying the facility affected, will be entered on PEC Form A in order that the Current Production Adjustments Division, in granting such a waiver, may be informed of the effect of the cutback and arrange for coordination with the district or other local officer prior to initiating its discussions with the facility. If the Current Production Adjustments Division agrees to the waiver of PEC Form B in such instances, a formal notice of termination, notice to suspend work, or change order to the facility will be deferred until the district or other local officer has contacted the local representative of the War Production Board, or until the service or bureau is advised that such prior coordination is unnecessary. [JTR 233.4]

§ 842.233–5 PEC Form C, notification of termination or revision of contract delivery schedules. (a) A report on PEC Form C shall be filed for each contract termination or change in delivery schedule under any one outstanding prime contract which reduces the total value of items to be delivered in the current month or any one of the succeeding 11 months by over $100,000.

(b) Where the proposed termination or change in delivery schedule is not made pursuant to a recommendation or clearance on PEC Form D, the report on PEC Form C must be received by:

(1) The Current Production Adjustments Division, in the case of Washington action by a service or bureau; or

(2) The regional or district office of the War Production Board, in the case of field action by a service or bureau at least 48 hours (exclusive of Sundays) before a formal notice of termination, order to suspend work, or change order is sent to the prime contractor. In order to comply with this requirement, adequate time, in addition to the 48 hours, must be allowed for transmittal. No approval or other action on the report is required before the termination notice, order to suspend work or change order is sent.

(c) Where the proposed termination or change in delivery schedule is made pursuant to a clearance or recommendation on PEC Form D, notice to the prime contractor may be sent forthwith after receipt of PEC Form D, and the notification on PEC Form C may be filed promptly thereafter. [JTR 233.5]

§ 842.233–6 PEC Form D, rulings as to cutbacks by War Production Board. PEC Form D will be used by the War Production Board for its rulings with respect to proposed cutbacks submitted for approval on PEC Form B, or PEC Form A when filing on PEC Form B has been waived. After receipt of PEC Form D by the service or bureau, formal notice to the war contractor of termination, order to suspend work, or change order may be sent forthwith, subject to the provisions of § 842.235. [JTR 233.6]

§ 842.233–7 Clearance of cutbacks of ammunition components. (a) A report on PEC Form B will not be submitted in connection with cutbacks involving ammunition component programs. The distribution of cutbacks will be determined at meetings attended by all interested contractors, representatives of the service or bureau, and a representative of the Current Production Adjustments Division authorized to act for such Division on all matters before the meetings and to approve verbally the action decided on at the meeting.

(b) Such meetings will not be called earlier than three days after submission of PEC Form A. Maximum advance notice of the time and place of the meeting will be given to the Current Production Adjustments Division by the member thereof representing the service or bureau concerned. Verbal approval of the action of the meeting by the Current Production Adjustments Division representative will have the effect of the issuance of a PEC Form D (§ 842.233–6) which will be issued later in confirmation of such verbal approval. PEC Form C will be submitted in accordance with § 842.233–5. [JTR 233.7]

§ 842.234 Procedures for filing PEC Forms. [JTR 234]

§ 842.234–1 Army Service Forces. (a) All liaison with the War Production Board in connection with the filing of PEC Forms A and B, the prosecution of appeals from rulings on cutbacks, and the receipt from the War Production Board of PEC Form D will ordinarily be handled by Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division). PEC Form C will be prepared by the responsible service and forwarded directly to the prescribed list of recipients. In special cases, such as the meetings on cutbacks of ammunition components (§ 842.233–7), direct liaison between the Current Production Adjustments Division and the service concerned may be authorized.

(b) Where a report on PEC Form A becomes necessary because of a change in Programmed Procurement for items which appear in specific quantities in Monthly Progress Report—section 22–G—Procurement Program—Ground, or Monthly Progress Report—section 22–A—Procurement Program—Air (Summary of Army Supply Program—Air, Part C) which constitute "contract items" (items procured in the form listed in the foregoing Procurement Programs as distinguished from items assembled from separately procured components), PEC Form A will be prepared and submitted by Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division).

(c) Where a report on PEC Form A becomes necessary because of a cutback of an item (or items) which appears in specific quantities in the Monthly Progress Report—section 22–G—Procurement Program—Ground, or Monthly Progress Report—section 22–A—Procurement Program—Air (Summary of Army Supply Program—Air, Part C), but represents an assembly of components which constitute the items of procurement, a report will be prepared by the service which let the contract for the components affected. PEC Form A will also be prepared by the responsible service where a report on that form is necessary because of a cutback in an item which is included in a dollar value category of secondary items in Monthly Progress Report 22–G or because of a cutback in material schedules or nonprogrammed procurement. A case number will be assigned by Headquarters, ASF, (Director, Production Division) and the space provided for it will be left blank on the forms filled in by the service.

(d) The responsible service will prepare PEC Forms B and C in all cases. In cases where PEC Form A is prepared by Headquarters ASF, the service will be requested verbally to prepare PEC Form B. A copy of the PEC Form A filed in the case will be transmitted to the service in confirmation of such verbal request.

(e) PEC Forms A and B originating with the services shall be forwarded in quadruplicate to Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division), which will transmit them to the War Production Board. PEC Form B shall be accompanied by a statement of the factors considered in accordance with § 842.232. In the case of reports submitted on PEC Form B, Headquarters, ASF, will promptly notify the service of approval of the proposed distribution of the cutback or of any War Production Board recommendation for an alternative course of action, upon receipt of PEC Form D.

(f) In addition to the reports submitted to Headquarters, ASF, the services will distribute copies of PEC Form C directly to headquarters offices and to appropriate district, state or regional offices of the War Production Board, the War Manpower Commission and the Smaller War Plants Corporation in whose territory the plant to be cut back is located. [JTR 234.1]

§ 842.234–2 Army Air Forces. (a) Unless the Chief, Resources Division AC/AS, M & S, prescribes otherwise in special cases, PEC Forms A and B shall be executed by the Air Technical Service Command and transmitted to the Resources Division, AC/AS, M & S, in quadruplicate. PEC Form C shall be prepared by the Air Technical Service Command and communicated by teletype to the Resources Division, AC/AS, M & S.

(b) All contacts with the War Production Board (including the prosecution of all appeals from rulings) shall be handled by the Office of the Chief, Resources Division, AC/AS, M & S, which will be responsible for transmitting required PEC forms to the War Production Board and which will promptly notify the Air Technical Service Command of the approval of Form D by the War Production Board. Case numbers shall be assigned by the Air Technical Service Command. [JTR 234.2]

§ 842.234–3 Navy. (a) The bureau concerned will prepare PEC Forms A, B and C in all cases. Where one bureau purchases for another the reports shall be prepared by the bureau responsible for the decision as to the particular prime contracts to be terminated or contract delivery schedules to be revised. Required reports on PEC Form A shall be prepared immediately upon receipt by a bureau of notice of a decision by the Chief of Naval Operations that a procurement program shall be cut back or upon the making of such a decision within the bureau. Case numbers will be assigned by the bureau.

(b) All PEC forms shall be forwarded in triplicate to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, which will transmit them to the War Production Board and handle all contacts (including the prosecution of all appeals from rulings) with the Current Production Adjustments Division and its related committees. In the case of reports submitted on PEC Form A or B, the Industrial Readjustment Branch will promptly notify the bureau of approval of the proposed distribution of the cutback or of any War Production Board directive for an alternative course of action, upon receipt of PEC Form D.

(c) In order that Navy material inspectors may be informed of contemplated terminations and changes in delivery schedules which would affect contractors under their cognizance, the bureau concerned will advise the inspectors by telephone or TWX at the time PEC Forms A, B and C are transmitted to OP&M. The inspectors should not, until authorized to do so, disclose to any contractor the fact that the termination of his contract is under consideration, and should not disclose any proposed termination to anyone other than representatives of the Naval establishment concerned or of other interested Government agencies, such as the War Production Board and the War Manpower Commission. [JTR 234.3]

§ 842.234–4 Joint procurement. Where the War Department procures for the Navy Department, or vice versa, or another agency procures for either of them, reports on PEC Forms A, B and C, where required, will be filed by the contracting service or bureau, or other agency. In such cases, the service or bureau which originates advice of a cutback in its requirements shall instruct the contracting service, bureau or other agency to file any necessary PEC forms. [JTR 234.4]

§ 842.235 Cutback procedures; explanations to war contractors and workers; the War Production Board "seven-day" rule. (a) When employment will probably be substantially reduced as a result of a termination or reduction in delivery schedules under a cutback, the service or bureau concerned shall arrange to inform the prime contractor and his employees as far in advance as possible. Particular care should be taken to include in the letter or other notification as detailed a statement of the reasons for the cutback as appears advisable. The service or bureau concerned should also urge the prime contractor to include a statement of the reasons for the cutback in a notification to the workers and their union representative, and to request his subcontractors to take similar action. The prime contractor and subcontractors should likewise be urged to cooperate with the War Manpower Commission by making known their new net labor requirements and allowing United States Employment Service representatives to conduct job interviews at their plants if sufficiently large numbers of workers are to be displaced.

(b) In effecting terminations of contracts or reductions in delivery schedules, services or bureaus will arrange to give seven days' notice thereof before deliveries of the items contracted for must be curtailed whenever a proposed termination or reduction in delivery schedules will result in a substantial release of workers from a plant and will involve a cutback of over $100,000 per month in the current month or any one of the succeeding 11 months in one establishment. This requirement of notice is subject to the provisions of § 842.241–3, which will be strictly complied with. In any case where compliance with § 842.241–3 or other conditions make it impossible to give such notice, authorization to take immediate action will be obtained from the War Production Board, or action will be taken and a justification will be presented to the Chairman of the Production Readjustment Committee before, or within 10 days after, the actual curtailment in deliveries.

(c) The requirement set out in paragraph (b) above relates only to the delivery of items contracted for under prime contracts and does not apply (1) to curtailments of deliveries of component parts, subassemblies, and the like, in excess of the number necessary to complete the reduced quantities of prime contract items, or (2) to deliveries by subcontractors. In no case will the Government be responsible for continued production of such component parts, subassemblies and the like, or for deliveries by subcontractors, beyond the reduced requirements of the prime contract. However, every effort will be made to give notice of termination or reduction in delivery schedules of the prime contract sufficiently far in advance to permit seven days' notice to be given before curtailment of deliveries of component parts, subassemblies, and the like, or of deliveries by subcontractors.

(d) In the case of the Army Service Forces, all requests for authority to waive the seven days' notice of termination, required under paragraph (b) above, will be prepared by the service concerned and transmitted to Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division) for approval and submission to the War Production Board; and termination action will not be instituted by the service except upon advice from Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division) of the approval of the War Production Board. Similarly, in any case where the chief of the service deems immediate termination action necessary, prior approval of the contemplated action will be obtained from Headquarters, ASF (Director, Production Division) which will, pursuant to paragraph (b) above, submit to the War Production Board a statement of justification based on information furnished by the service.

(e) In the Army Air Forces, all requests for authority to waive the seven days' notice of termination, required under paragraph (b) above, will be prepared by the Air Technical Service Command and transmitted to the Office of the Chief, Resources Division, AC/AS, M&S, for approval and submission to the War Production Board, and termination action will not be instituted by the Air Technical Service Command, except upon advice from such office. Similarly, in any case where the Air Technical Service Command deems immediate termination action necessary, prior approval of the contemplated action will be obtained from the Office of the Chief, Resources Division, AC/AS, M&S, which will, pursuant to paragraph (b) above, submit to the War Production Board a statement of justification based upon information furnished by the Air Technical Service Command.

(f) In the Navy Department, all requests for authority to waive the seven days' notice of termination will be prepared by the bureaus concerned and transmitted to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, for approval and submission to the War Production Board; and termination action will not be instituted by the bureau until informed by the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, of the approval of the War Production Board. Similarly, in any case where the chief of the bureau deems immediate termination action necessary, prior approval of the contemplated action will be obtained from the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, which will, pursuant to paragraph (b) above, submit to the War Production Board a statement of justification prepared by the bureau.

(g) In cases where arrangements for special notification of termination appear necessary because of the size of the labor layoff, and in every case where "major case" procedure is ordered by the Current Production Adjustments Division, notice of the cutback will not be given to the contractor (subject, however, to the provisions of § 842.243–1) until after a representative of the service or bureau has consulted with the appropriate field representative of the War Production Board to discuss the probable effect of the cutback and proposed suitable action. [JTR 235]

§ 842.236 Official press statements. [JTR 236]

§ 842.236–1 PEC statements. The Production Executive Committee of the War Production Board has established an Information Subcommittee which includes representatives of the War and Navy Departments. This subcommittee prepares a Production Adjustment Statement for release to press and radio regarding cutbacks reported on PEC Form B and individual terminations reported on PEC Form C whenever it considers this advisable. The service or bureau concerned shall assist the War or Navy Department representative by supplying him with the information necessary to enable the subcommittee to prepare the Production Adjustment Statement. [JTR 236.1]

§ 842.236–2 War Department field release of PEC statement. The Production Adjustment Statement will accompany the official termination notice to the appropriate War Department field office to be released by the field public relations officer, only after the plant has been officially notified and in turn has notified its employees. The field public relations officer is authorized to confer with plant managements, War Manpower Commission and War Production Board field officials and to make additions to the Statement to conform to local conditions, such as amount of labor to be released and to be hired elsewhere in the area, and then to issue the statement to local press and radio. [JTR 236.2]

§ 842.236–3 Navy Department field release of PEC statement. The Statement will be forwarded to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the plant involved and to the appropriate public relations officer. Such personnel in the field will make such changes as may be needed to conform to local circumstances, clear the changes with the Public Relations Office in Washington, and after the affected plants have been notified, and in turn notified their employees, issue the statement locally. [JTR 236.3]

§ 842.236–4 War Department local press statements. (a) Where a revision is handled locally and reported on PEC Form C by the local field office, and where no PEC Form B report has been made, the PEC does not have sufficient time upon receipt of the Form C to prepare and transmit a statement. In such cases, and in cases where the revision is not reported to PEC on any form, the public relations officer is authorized to prepare and issue the necessary Production Adjustment Statement locally on his own initiative if the amount of labor to be released warrants such action.

(b) Commanding officers of procurement districts and service command installations should release in their communities information on contract settlement and property disposal operations of their organizations. The public should generally be advised of the reasons for terminations as well as the policies and procedures established for expeditious settlement of the resulting claims and the disposal of the related property. Any information released locally must, however, conform to the policies of higher authority. Emphasis will be laid on the necessity for continued production under currently outstanding contracts and the part contributed to this end by rapid settlement of terminated contracts.

(c) Personnel responsible for release of this information will have access to the records of settlements and will be advised of all pertinent operations within the local organization. In individual cases, public releases will be made only after notification of the prime contractor and the appropriate notification of his employees and subcontractors.

(d) Releases dealing with proposed policies of contract settlement and property disposal which have not become law, or which have not been incorporated in appropriate regulations, must have prior approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF. Other releases do not require such approval. [JTR 236.4]

§ 842.236–5 Navy Department statements in absence of PEC statements. When, in the opinion of the chief of the bureau concerned, any case not required to be reported on PEC Form B or C is of sufficient public interest, the office of the chief of the bureau will prepare an official statement to serve as the basis for a press release announcing the cutback and the reasons for it. This statement should include the name and location of the plant or facility affected, the effective date of the cutback, the end item or items affected, and the probable effect on future employment. After appropriate clearance for public release, such statement will be furnished to the cognizant Navy material inspector for release in the affected locality. [JTR 236.5]

§ 842.237 Post V-J Day procedures. (a) This section outlines the procedures to be followed after the declaration of V-J Day. This paragraph is based on, and follows the requirements of, paragraphs (p) and (s) of Directive No. 40 of the War Production Board, as amended 21 June 1945.

(b) The procedures for clearance and consultation on cutbacks set forth in §§ 842.233 through 842.236 will cease to be effective at V-J Day.

(c) Except as permitted under the policies and procedures outlined in § 842.241–3, production of items or quantities beyond military needs will be discontinued as rapidly as is possible after the declaration of V-J Day.

SUBPART D—PREPARATION AND DELIVERY OF TERMINATION NOTICE

§ 842.240 Scope. This subpart deals with the planning of an individual termination and with preparing and delivering the termination notice. The preceding subpart prescribed the procedures to be followed in deciding on and clearing the termination. [JTR 240]

§ 842.241 Determining the time for termination. [JTR 241]

§ 842.241–1 Planning of termination. Careful planning before exercising the Government's right to terminate any type of prime contract will greatly simplify the termination settlement, will avoid confusion and expense to war contractors and the Government and will tend to expedite settlement. This preliminary study should make certain that the notice of termination orders discontinuance or changes in the future performance by the contractor in accordance with the best interests of the Government. [JTR 241.1]

§ 842.241–2 Need for components. Before terminating a prime contract, the chief of the service or bureau should consider whether any subassemblies or components of the end product covered by the prime contract are within the requirements of the procurement program for maintenance or spare parts for completed units, and should permit completion of such items or parts to cover reasonable prospective needs. Such needs should also be considered in determining how to dispose of work in process or parts on hand. [JTR 241.2]

§ 842.241–3 Discontinuance of production. (a) Production should not be continued for items or quantities beyond military needs, and processing of such items will be stopped immediately, regardless of their state of completion, except that additional processing, including the introduction of new material, may be permitted to the stage deemed by the contracting officer to be necessary for reasons of safety, or to clear or avoid damage to production equipment, or to avoid immediate complete spoilage of work in process having a definite commercial value. To the greatest extent practicable, contracting officers should agree with contractors in advance of termination upon the points or stages at which work under the terminated war contract is to be stopped in order to comply with the policy stated above. Otherwise the termination notice should specify such points or stages.

(b) Any agreement made in advance of termination which provides for retention of work in process by the contractor shall provide for halting production for the purpose of checking inventories at the stage at which production would otherwise have been stopped under paragraph (a), except where inventories may be so checked without halting production.

(c) In exceptional cases, the contracting officer may authorize continued processing to a stage necessary to get a usable end product or component where the available data or actual commitments of responsible persons make it apparent that an undue loss to the Government on the production to date will be prevented thereby, Provided, That:

(1) The contracting officer, after diligent effort, has been unable to agree with the contractor in advance of termination for the retention of work in process at a reasonable figure which, in the opinion of the contracting officer from available data, is greater than the net proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the work in process were offered for general sale and would result in a saving in the amount which would otherwise have been payable by the Government as fair compensation for the termination of the contract;

(2) The contracting officer considers on the basis of available data that the realizable value of work in process, if work on it were stopped immediately, plus the cost of additional processing would be less than the value of the end product or component; and

(3) The continuation of production in the specific instance is approved in writing (in the case of the War Department) by the head of the local procurement district, depot or other office, or (in the case of the Navy) by the chief of the bureau.

Under no circumstances will processing be continued for the purpose of completing surplus items on a speculative basis.

(d) Under a statement of policy adopted by the Procurement Policy Board of the War Production Board, there has been established a centralized system for coordinating information regarding terminations of war contracts and making known such information, normally through the War Production Board, to other contracting agencies. The purpose of the system is to enable the transfer of production from the terminating agency to an agency having a current procurement requirement for the product. The responsibility for the administration of the system, including the supplying and screening of information concerning terminations by other contracting agencies, is centered, within the War Department, in the Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces and the Resources Division, M. & S., Headquarters, Army Air Forces, and within the Navy Department in the Production Branch, O. P. & M. Each service or bureau will be notified by the offices in the respective departments administering the system whenever another contracting agency intends to negotiate with a contractor for a direct contract for the terminated portion of the contractor's production. Normally a War or Navy Department contract to be terminated or modified will actually be terminated or modified by the service or bureau without regard to whether or not another contracting agency may have requirements for the product. The production will usually be obtained under a new contract by the agency desiring it. To the extent that any such contract is made by another contracting agency, there should, of course, be an appropriate reduction in the termination claim of the affected contractor. Nothing in this Procurement Policy Board policy in any way supersedes or limits the obligation of the services and bureaus to discontinue promptly production for items or quantities beyond military needs, and to effect prompt settlement of the termination claims of war contractors.

(e) Where any end product is desired by any other responsible government agency for any use, or by any responsible civilian agency for use in civil relief for liberated and occupied countries, the work in process should be completed to the extent desired by such agencies whenever they have arranged in advance to take over specific contracts at the contract price.

(f) The policies and procedures outlined in this section are based upon, and reflect, regulations dated October 24, 1944, issued by the Director, Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, entitled "Termination of War Contracts—Processing of Uncompleted Items; Retention of Work-in-Process by Contractor; Taking Over of Contracts by Other Agencies or Governments". [JTR 241.3]

§ 842.241–4 Obtaining data from local representatives. In some cases the effect of a proposed termination cannot be fully analyzed in the office of the chief of the service or bureau concerned. Local procuring offices, material inspectors, plant agents, expediters and others who have been concerned in the plants of the prime contractor and subcontractors with the administration of the war contracts to be terminated will ordinarily possess first hand information as to the status of production, production methods and other details about such contracts. In deciding on the point of termination, the contracting officer should obtain the necessary information from these readily available sources, and from the pretermination conference described in § 842.242. Where representatives in the field consider a proposed termination unwise, they should not hesitate to ask its reconsideration. [JTR 241.4]

§ 842.242 Conference with prime contractor before termination. [JTR 242]

§ 842.242–1 When to be held. (a) Unless the proposed termination does not involve factors of any complexity, or special circumstances make it impractical, the contracting officer should hold a conference with the prime contractor before termination. Where practicable, such a conference should usually be held before a report is filed on PEC Form B or C pursuant to §§ 842.233 and 842.234. This conference will supplement any previous advance planning discussions with the contractor under § 842.222.

(b) In the more important cases it may be advisable to confer with all interested prime contractors and principal subcontractors, so that each may contribute all pertinent information in his possession as a basis for decision as to terminating or adjusting delivery schedules of particular contracts.

(c) This conference should be considered as the start in the process of negotiating a speedy settlement. Frequently, it will eliminate problems which might otherwise delay or complicate the final settlement. [JTR 242.1]

§ 842.242–2 Subjects for discussion. In such a conference, if held, such of the following points should be discussed as may be appropriate under the circumstances:

(a) The reasons which make a termination necessary;

(b) Appropriate effective date of termination;

(c) Work in process which may advantageously be completed;

(d) Status of performance of prime contract and subcontracts, with a view to determining which, if any, subcontracts should be retained and completed;

(e) Problems of labor relations and unemployment which may result;

(f) Financial problems of the prime contractor and subcontractors which may arise in connection with the termination;

(g) Procedures to be followed by the prime contractor upon the effective date of the termination;

(h) A program for property disposition and scrapping;

(i) Other work which may be substituted for that which is to be terminated;

(j) The matters specified in § 842.254–2. [JTR 242.2]

§ 842.243 Preparation of termination notice. [JTR 243]

§ 842.243–1 Standard forms of notice. (a) The prime contractor may be notified to terminate by a letter notice or by telegraphic notice followed by a letter notice.

(b) Standard forms of telegraphic notice are set out in § 849.941 of this chapter.

(c) Standard forms of letter notice for fixed-price and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts containing approved prime contract termination articles or other similar articles are set out in § 849.942 of this chapter.

(d) Where the chief of the service or bureau determines that any portion of the standard form of notice is inappropriate for any case or class of cases, he may omit or vary that portion.

§ 842.243–2 Instructions for preparing notice. In using the standard forms prescribed by § 849.942 of this chapter, the following information should be clearly stated:

(a) The effective date of termination. This shall not be earlier than the date the letter notice or preceding telegraphic notice is delivered to the business address of the prime contractor unless the contractor agrees to an earlier date. Where a temporary suspension of work is followed by a termination, the date of the suspension of work should ordinarily be designated as the effective date of termination if the contractor so agrees.

(b) The performance to be discontinued and, if the termination is partial, the portion of the contract to be continued.

(c) Any subcontracts which are not to be terminated.

(d) Any special directions which can then be given as to the protection of Government property in the custody of the prime contractor or any subcontractor.

(e) Any special directions or limitations, which can then be stated, with respect to the sale or retention of any termination inventory by the prime contractor or any subcontractor or its transfer to the Government. [JTR 243.2]

§ 842.244 Detailed instructions to prime contractors for delivery with notice. A standard form of instructions to advise the prime contractor as to the course of action to be followed by him immediately upon receipt of the termination notice is set out in § 849.943. In every case the contracting officer should prepare and furnish to the prime contractor with the termination notice, or with the confirmation thereof, a copy of these instructions modified or supplemented to the extent the contracting officer deems necessary for the particular case. In the interest of uniformity of procedure, the language of the form should not be changed except for substantial reasons arising in a particular case. With these instructions, the contracting officer should send to the prime contractor copies of the suggested forms of termination notices and instructions to subcontractors set out in § 849.944. [JTR 244]

§ 842.245 Service of termination notice. (a) In order to enable the prime contractor to terminate his own work and that of subcontractors in an efficient and orderly manner, the termination notice shall be given as far in advance of the cessation of work thereunder as is feasible and consistent with the national security without permitting unneeded production or performance.

(b) In all cases, the termination notice should be served in written form, preferably by delivery by hand, registered mail or telegram. Where the notice of termination is sent by telegram, it should be confirmed by letter. A signed acknowledgment of receipt of the notice should be obtained from the prime contractor wherever possible, and when this is not possible, a written record of proof of delivery shall be made.

(c) Copies of the notice of termination shall be sent to any assignee, who has filed a proper notice of assignment, and any guarantor or surety, of the prime contractor with respect to the terminated contract, and to the appropriate disbursing officer, and to such other officers and agents of the Departments as to the chief of the service or bureau may direct.

(d) Upon termination of Navy prime contracts, copies of the termination notice shall also be transmitted promptly to the cognizant Navy material inspector, to the Director, Cost Inspection Service, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, and to the Chief, Finance Division, Office of Procurement and Material. When a notice of termination of a Navy prime contract is sent to the prime contractor by telegram, the copy to the cognizant Navy material inspector should likewise be sent by telegram or TWX, and followed by a copy of the letter termination notice. [JTR 245]

SUBPART E—IMMEDIATE ACTION AFTER TERMINATION

§ 842.250 Scope. This subpart describes the duties of the prime contractor and the contracting officer immediately after the service of the notice of termination with respect to the stoppage of work and the planning of the termination settlement. [JTR 250]

§ 842.251 Immediate duties of prime contractor under notice. [JTR 251]

§ 842.251–1 Stoppage of work. The prime contractor must discontinue the making of subcontracts and must take all necessary steps to stop work as promptly as practicable on and after the effective date of the termination notice, except that the prime contractor may continue any part of the work for his own account, unless the notice expressly provides otherwise. The contractor is not entitled to any compensation, or reimbursement of costs, for work done after he should have stopped work, or for work continued for his own account. The contractor should immediately call to the attention of the contracting officer any special circumstances which make it necessary or desirable to continue some or all of the work for the account of the Government in order to avoid waste of materials or work in process, or injury to the plant or other property. [JTR 251.1]

§ 842.251–2 Completion of continued portion. The prime contractor must complete any continued portion of the prime contract in accordance with the termination notice. He should promptly submit to the contracting officer any requests for equitable adjustment in the terms and prices for the performance of the continued portion of the contract, and any evidence showing changes in the probable cost of such performance which will result from the partial termination and will not be taken into account in the termination settlement. Such an equitable adjustment in the price or terms of the continued portion shall not be used to compensate the contractor for his termination claim. [JTR 251.2]

§ 842.251–3 Termination of subcontracts. (a) Except as the termination notice provides otherwise, the prime contractor must take steps to terminate, with or without the consent of the subcontractors, all unperformed or partially performed subcontracts related to the terminated portion of the prime contract, except that he may continue any such subcontracts for his own account unless the notice expressly provides otherwise. Such subcontracts must be terminated as promptly as practicable on and after the effective date of the termination notice or, if the termination notice so provides, at such later times as the contracting officer may direct. The prime contractor will notify his subcontractors of the termination as far in advance of the effective date as possible. Subcontractors in turn should be required to pass along the same requirements to their immediate subcontractors. If any subcontractor continues work after it should have been stopped, neither he nor the prime contractor is entitled to compensation or reimbursement from the government for such work.

(b) In the notice of termination, the prime contractor will inform his subcontractors of the number of the prime contract to which their subcontracts relate, and the name and address of the contracting officer administering the prime contract. Each subcontractor will, in turn, include such information in the notice terminating any next lower tier subcontract.

(c) The prime contractor should take such action as the contracting officer may direct to secure to the Government by assignment or otherwise the benefit of his rights under subcontracts in accordance with § 846.614. [JTR 251.3]

§ 842.251–4 Termination inventory. (a) The prime contractor and each subcontractor must use reasonable care, and in addition take such action as the contracting officer may direct or approve, to protect and preserve property in his possession in which the Government has or may acquire an interest, and to reduce or prevent loss or damage to the Government.

(b) As soon as practicable after the termination, the prime contractor should develop and present to the contracting officer a program for the disposition of termination inventory both by the prime contractor and by the various tiers of subcontractors, and should issue instructions to and through its immediate subcontractors as to the methods of carrying out the program. [JTR 251.4]

§ 842.251–5 Notice of suits. (a) The prime contractor should promptly notify the contracting officer in writing of any legal proceedings against the contractor, based upon any subcontract or commitment related to the terminated prime contract, which are pending on the date of the termination notice or are brought at any time thereafter.

(b) The contracting officer should give notice through channels of all such litigation with his recommendation thereon (1) in the War Department, to the Litigation Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, (2) in the Navy Department, to the Office of the General Counsel. That office will decide whether to assume control of any such case and defend against the claim by suitable arrangement with the prime contractor. [JTR 251.5]

§ 842.251–6 Preparation of settlement proposal. The prime contractor must proceed promptly to prepare his proposal for settlement of his termination claim, and necessary supporting schedules. He should also take steps to obtain promptly similar proposals and schedules from his subcontractors. [JTR 251.6]

§ 842.252 Treatment of completed articles. [JTR 252]

§ 842.252–1 Acceptance of completed articles under contract. (a) The termination notice for a fixed price supply prime contract should exclude from the terminated portion of the contract any completed articles accepted and delivered after the termination.

(b) Promptly after giving the prime contractor notice of termination, the contracting officer shall take steps to inspect and accept all completed articles which comply with the provisions of the prime contract and which do not represent unreasonable anticipation of production schedules, unless the contracting officer directs other disposition of such articles.

(c) The production of completed articles in advance of schedules will not be considered unreasonable where such production (1) was requested or approved by the Government, or (2) was required for economic or efficient performance of the contract and was done in good faith.

(d) The contractor may obtain payment for articles so accepted and delivered by invoicing them at the contract price in the usual manner and omitting them from his termination claim. [JTR 252.1]

§ 842.252–2 Inclusion in settlement. (a) Where acceptable completed articles are not delivered and invoiced under the contract, the contractor may include such articles in his settlement proposal at the contract price appropriately adjusted for any saving of freight or other charges, together with any credits for their disposition or retention.

(b) The contractor can obtain prompt payment on account of such articles before final settlement of his claim either through a partial payment under § 843.353 or through a partial final settlement under § 845.515–2. [JTR 252.2]

§ 842.253 Designation and authority of principal representatives of contracting officer. [JTR 253]

§ 842.253–1 Designation in War Department. In the War Department, the contracting officer will designate one or more persons to act as his principal representative in connection with each termination. [JTR 253.1]

§ 842.253–2 Authority in War Department. (a) Such representatives should be given either general or limited authority:

(1) To approve partial payments for the prime contractor and his subcontractors under Part 843 of this chapter;

(2) To approve the disposition or retention of termination inventory, where required;

(3) To approve settlements with subcontractors up to some stated amount;

(4) To act upon miscellaneous minor questions in connection with the termination settlement;

(5) To negotiate a settlement subject to any required approval.

(b) Generally it is good practice to state in writing the scope of the authority of the principal representative of the contracting officer. In appropriate cases, to avoid misunderstanding, a copy should be furnished to the prime contractor and subcontractors. In any case the prime contractor should be clearly advised that such representative is not authorized to agree finally upon a settlement with the prime contractor. [JTR 253.2]

§ 842.253–3 Designation and responsibility of Navy material inspectors. The Navy material inspector cognizant of a particular war contractor is a general representative of a Navy contracting officer in the field. He is authorized to perform the specific duties outlined in this section, unless the contracting officer specifically limits or withdraws such authority in a particular case. The contracting officer may limit or withdraw the authority of a Navy material inspector where extraordinary circumstances make this advisable, and the contracting officer may delegate such authority to other persons. The Navy material inspector's responsibilities include the following:

(a) Instructing the prime contractor and subcontractors in the general principles stated in this subchapter in order to enable them properly to prepare their settlement proposals;

(b) Conferring with the prime contractor when conferences are held under §§ 842.242 and 842.254;

(c) Examining applications by war contractors for partial payments, as set forth in §§ 843.351–3 and 843.362, and approving such applications in accordance with §§ 843.314–2 (c), 843.351–3 and 843.362;

(d) Acting as the representative of the contracting officer in the handling of termination inventories as set forth in § 844.415–2;

(e) In the case of an inspector cognizant of the prime contractor, selecting for approval and approving subcontract settlements as set forth in § 846.644;

(f) Examining settlement proposals of the prime contractor and subcontractors as set forth in §§ 846.645–2 and 847.721–4. [JTR 253.3]

§ 842.254 Initial conference with the prime contractor after termination. [JTR 254]

§ 842.254–1 Importance of conference. (a) Where a termination is substantial, a conference should ordinarily be held with the prime contractor at the time of service of the termination notice, or as promptly as possible thereafter, to develop a definite program for making the settlement. This conference is an important step in the negotiation of the settlement. Analysis of the problems of the particular case and agreement on the general basis for preparing the contractor's claim will reduce the amount of accounting review and facilitate final settlement. Every effort should be made in this conference to dispose of as many questions as possible by agreement.

(b) All interested groups in the office of the contracting officer should be represented at this conference. Normally, this will include the principal representative of the contracting officer and appropriate negotiating, technical, engineering, legal, property disposal, and accounting personnel.

(c) In substantial terminations, it may be desirable to have at the conference major subcontractors of the prime contractor. [JTR 254.1]

§ 842.254–2 Scope of conference. (a) If no conference was held before termination, the contracting officer should make certain that the prime contractor understands fully his obligations under the termination article as stated in § 842.251. He should emphasize:

(1) The duty of the prime contractor to review and settle claims of subcontractors;

(2) The responsibilities of the prime contractor and subcontractors for the prompt preparation of settlement proposals, and prompt disposition of termination inventory;

(3) The responsibilities to the War Manpower Commission and employees stated in § 842.235.

(b) This conference should establish, at least tentatively:

(1) The general principles for settlement and the basic terms on which the particular settlement is to be made;

(2) The information to be furnished by the prime contractor;

(3) The methods to be followed in disposing of termination inventory, and wherever practicable, definite authority to dispose of specific items or classes of items;

(4) The accounting or other investigations to be undertaken;

(5) The need of the prime contractor and his subcontractors for interim financing and a program for furnishing such financing. [JTR 254.2]

§ 842.255 Time schedule for settlement. (a) A time schedule for the specific steps required for the settlement of the claim will facilitate its orderly settlement. This schedule should be worked out at the initial conference if possible, and should fix the following:

(1) The time for submission of any application by the prime contractor for partial payments.

(2) The period within which the prime contractor will ascertain whether any of his subcontractors require partial payments or other types of interim financing.

(3) The time for submission of the prime contractor's inventory schedules. Generally, these should be submitted within 30 days, but where practicable, partial inventories should be submitted earlier.

(4) A schedule for submission by subcontractors of their inventory schedules and settlement proposals.

(5) The time for submission by the prime contractor of a partial proposal covering his own charges.

(6) The time for submission of the prime contractor's final settlement proposal, including the charges of all subcontractors. Generally this should be submitted within 60 days except in complicated cases.

(7) The time for the accounting review of the settlement proposal and for negotiation of the final settlement. Generally, the proposed date for final settlement should not be more than 90 days after the date fixed for termination.

(b) The prime contractor should promptly prepare a complete list of his immediate subcontractors and make certain that he has notified them all to file with him their inventory schedules and settlement proposals in accordance with the time schedule. As inventory schedules and settlement proposals are received from subcontractors, the contracting officer and prime contractor should adjust the time schedules for subsequent action. [JTR 255]

§ 842.256 Modification of termination instructions. The contracting officer may at any time rescind, modify, or revise the instructions in the termination notice. If the contractor has materially changed his position in reliance upon such earlier instructions, he shall be reasonably compensated for any resulting expenses by termination charges. [JTR 256]

§ 843.300 Scope of part. This part sets forth the policies and procedures applicable to interim financing of war contractors pending settlement of their termination claims. [JTR 300]

SUBPART A—GENERAL POLICY AND ADMINISTRATION

§ 843.310 Scope. This subpart states the general policies relating to interim financing, enumerates the methods available for such financing and describes the basic organization. [JTR 310]

§ 843.311 Basic policy on interim financing. Section 8 of the act requires that adequate interim financing be provided for all war contractors, pending settlement of their termination claims, within thirty days after proper application therefor. Contracting officers should be informed, and should inform war contractors, regarding the types of interim financing available. [JTR 311]

§ 843.312 Methods of interim financing. The following methods of interim financing are available:

(a) Guaranteed V-Loans for contractors still in war production (§§ 843.321 to 843.323);

(b) Guaranteed T-Loans for use on termination (§§ 843.324 to 843.326);

(c) Advance payments authorized prior to termination or additional advances authorized thereafter (§ 843.330 and following);

(d) Partial payments (§ 843.340 and following). [JTR 312]

§ 843.313 Choice of method. Interim financing should be provided through partial payments, upon request of the war contractor, whenever administratively practicable. Where war contractors have numerous contracts with several agencies, services or bureaus, or are primarily subcontractors, guaranteed loans may be a more practicable method of initially financing the war contractor's termination claims. [JTR 313]

§ 843.314 Administration of interim financing. [JTR 314]

§ 843.314–1 Within the War Department. (a) Subject to review by the Director of Matériel, or by the Director of the appropriate Division under his supervision, the Fiscal Director or his authorized representatives may establish policies and procedures to govern the Federal Reserve Banks, Financial Contracting Officers, and Liaison Officers in exercising their authority and discretion under this subchapter and to govern interim financing by advance payments under this regulation. The Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will administer such policies and procedures.

(b) The Fiscal Director may act for the War Department as a Financial Contracting Officer and may designate other persons to act as such Financial Contracting Officers under this section. Any person authorized to act for the War Department as a Financial Contracting Officer under Executive Order No. 9112 may also exercise the authority of a Financial Contracting Officer under this section.

(c) Any Financial Contracting Officer may exercise all authority and discretion conferred upon the War Department under section 8 (g) and section 10 of the act. Such Financial Contracting Officers may also exercise the authority and discretion of Liaison Officers under this part.

(d) Interim financing by advance and partial payments will be made in accordance with this subchapter. [JTR 314.1]

§ 843.314–2 Within the Navy Department. (a) The Vice Chief of the Office of Procurement and Material, and the Assistant Chief in Charge of Procurement, and the Chief, Deputy Chief and Assistant Chief of the Finance Division of the Procurement Branch may each exercise all authority and discretion conferred on the Secretary of the Navy or the Navy Department:

(1) By or pursuant to section 10 of the act, or

(2) By or pursuant to sections 8 and 9 of the act with respect to interim financing made through (i) loans, (ii) advance payments made before termination, and (iii) advance payments made after termination to any war contractor having at the time of such termination an existing agreement with the Navy Department under which advance payments have been made or authorized in connection with the performance of any war contract.

(b) The chief of each bureau may exercise all authority and discretion conferred on the Secretary of the Navy or the Navy Department with respect to interim financing by means of partial payments pursuant to sections 8 and 9 of the act in conformity with such policies and procedures as may be prescribed by the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, and subject to paragraph (c) below.

(c) Navy material inspectors who are Inspectors of Naval Material, Naval Inspectors of Ordnance, Supervisors of Shipbuilding, or Naval Inspectors of Machinery may approve any partial payment upon proper application therefor filed by a war contractor without further approval: Provided, That:

(1) The inspector finds that the amount of the partial payment requested plus:

(i) Unliquidated partial payments previously made to the applicant, and unliquidated advance and progress payments previously made to the applicant and not to be liquidated by the partial payment applied for; and

(ii) All credits for the disposal or retention of the applicant's termination inventory does not exceed $25,000 (exclusive of amounts authorized to be included in the application by §§ 843.355 or 843.368–2) for any applicant therefor under any one termination claim;

(2) The inspector has cognizance of the applicant prime contractor, or of the prime contractor to whose contract the termination claim of the applicant subcontractor, of whatever tier, is allocable. The authority set forth herein does not include the authority:

(i) To approve applications for partial payments by war contractors whose termination claims are being settled under a company-wide settlement program;

(ii) To approve an application for partial payment on account of a termination claim under any war contract which the chief of any bureau, by written notice to the Vice Chief of the Office of Procurement and Material and to the Inspector concerned, shall have specifically excepted from the provisions of this paragraph;

(iii) To approve applications for partial payments into a fund for the benefit of subcontractors under § 843.364; or

(iv) To approve direct partial payments under § 843.366. [JTR 314.2]

§ 843.314–3 Contract Financing Section in service or bureau. Each procurement office of a service and each bureau, which has not established a Contract Financing Section or similar unit, shall promptly establish such a section. Such sections should have personnel competent to advise contractors and Government personnel engaged in termination settlements with respect to the various types of interim financing available. Their duties and responsibilities with respect to the administration of interim financing are to be prescribed by the chiefs of the procurement offices or bureaus. [JTR 314.3]

§ 843.314–4 Finance officers in Navy material inspectors' offices. Each contract termination unit established under § 841.145–2 (b) within the offices of Navy material inspectors should have personnel competent to advise contractors and Government personnel engaged in termination settlements with respect to the various types of interim financing available. [JTR 314.4]

§ 843.314–5 Application of existing procedures. Except to the extent inconsistent with this subchapter, procedures applicable to loans, guarantees and advance payments under the First War Powers Act and Executive Orders 9001 and 9112 shall apply to the administration of loans, guarantees and advance payments under the act. (For the War Department, see §§ 803.319 to 803.321 inclusive, of this chapter). [JTR 314.5]

§ 843.315 Protection of other financing. Whenever a prime contract is about to be terminated, the service or bureau responsible for the termination, if requested, shall provide the office or officer administering outstanding advance payments or guaranteed loans of the contractor with all information necessary for the purpose of administering such outstanding financing. In the case of loans guaranteed by the War Department, such information will be given to the Liaison Officer assigned by the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, to the Federal Reserve Bank for the district. In the case of advance payments made by, and loans guaranteed by, the Navy Department, such information shall be given to the Finance Division, OP&M. [JTR 315]

§ 843.316 Penalty on overstatement of claims. [JTR 316]

§ 843.316–1 Statutory provision. Section 8 (d) of the act provides that in case of an overstatement by any war contractor of the amount due on his termination claim or claims in connection with any interim financing (furnished or guaranteed by or on behalf of a contracting agency) under the act, such contractor shall pay to the United States as a penalty an amount equal to 6% of the overstatement. This provision applies to an overstatement of the amount due on account of the applicant's termination claims contained in an application for a loan, guaranteed loan, advance payment or partial payment and in any certificate by the war contractor in connection therewith. The penalty imposed by this section of the act is not to be confused with the penalty imposed by section 9 (b) in connection with excess advance or partial payments (§ 843.346). The penalty for overstatement arises whether or not any excess payment results therefrom, but does not arise unless interim financing is furnished to the contractor. This penalty may be suspended or modified by the Director of Contract Settlement, if, in his opinion, the imposition thereof would be inequitable. [JTR 316.1]

§ 843.316–2 Suspension or modification of penalty. (a) Under Regulation No. 13 of the Office of Contract Settlement, authority has been delegated to the head of each contracting agency, with power of redelegation, to suspend or modify and determine the dollar amount of the penalty provided in section 8 (d) of the act, in accordance with the standards prescribed therein.

(b) The chief of any service or bureau is authorized (and may delegate his authority, with or without power of successive redelegation) to suspend or modify and determine the dollar amount of the penalty provided in section 8 (d) of the act, whenever, in connection with any interim financing furnished or guaranteed by or on behalf of the War or Navy Department, any war contractor overstates the amount due on his termination claim or claims, and the chief of the service or bureau determines the penalty would be inequitable, in accordance with the following principles:

(1) Where the war contractor overstates the amount due on account of the termination charges set forth in an application for a partial payment for his own account, then, unless the chief of the service or bureau shall determine that the overstatement was made in bad faith, the penalty would be inequitable if greater than, and should be reduced to, six percent (6%) of the amount by which the total partial payments made to the war contractor on account of his own termination claim exceed the amount of the final settlement of that claim. For purposes of this paragraph, in determining "total partial payments", there shall be deducted from the gross amount of partial payments any amounts thereof paid to him on account of claims of his subcontractors, and there shall be added to such gross amount (i) all credits for the disposal or retention of inventory at the date of the submission of the last application for partial payment, and (ii) all progress and advance payments unliquidated at the date of the receipt of the last partial payment; and in determining "the amount of the final settlement" of the war contractor's own termination claim, there shall be deducted from the gross amount of the settlement of his entire termination claim all amounts approved on account of settlements with his subcontractors.

(2) Where the war contractor overstates the amount due on account of his termination charges:

(i) In connection with a loan, made or guaranteed by the Government, or

(ii) In connection with a request for a partial payment to enable the war contractor to establish a fund from which partial and final payments may be made to subcontractors (§ 843.364–2), or

(iii) In connection with an application for a controlled partial payment (§ 843.356), or for the use for interim financing purposes of funds provided in accordance with procedures governing advance payments for production purposes or otherwise on account of the contract price, the penalty would be inequitable unless the chief of the services or bureau shall determine that the overstatement was made in bad faith.

(c) The amount of the penalty if any, should be determined at the time of the settlement, and the final settlement agreement, formula determination or arbitration award, as the case may be, should provide for the payment of any liability of the war contractor on account of the penalty. [JTR 316.2]

§ 843.317 Collection and settlement of interim financing. [JTR 317]

§ 843.317–1 Agencies authorized. (a) The Financial Contracting Officers attached to the Office of the Fiscal Director, ASF, of the War Department, and the Finance Division, OP&M, of the Navy Department are authorized to settle claims arising from or related to any loan made or guaranteed by the War or Navy Department, in contemplation of or related to termination of war contracts.

(b) In the case of the War Department, the chief of the service making any advance payment in contemplation of or related to termination of any war contract, and in the case of the Navy, the Finance Division, OP&M, is authorized to settle claims arising from or related to any such advance payment.

(c) The chief of the service or bureau making, authorizing, or ratifying any partial payment to any war contractor under the act is authorized to settle claims arising from or related to any excess partial payment. [JTR 317.1]

§ 843.317–2 Extent of authority. (a) Any representative of the War or Navy Department who is authorized, under the First War Powers Act, Executive Order 9001 or 9112, or under the act, to collect or settle claims arising from or related to advance or partial payments, or direct or guaranteed loans, may exercise such authority with respect to such interim financing whether made, acquired, or authorized before or after the effective date of the act.

(b) The authority, under section 8 (g) of the act, to settle claims arising from or related to interim financing is deemed to apply to any financing heretofore provided through V or VT guaranteed loans, and to any financing provided under the 1944 V-Loan Guarantee, if the terms of the loan covered by such 1944 V-Loan Guarantee provide for borrowings upon the basis of receivables, inventories or other charges under terminated contracts as well as unterminated contracts. [JTR 317.2]

SUBPART B—GUARANTEED LOANS

§ 843.320 Scope. This subpart describes the various types of guaranteed loans and their use for financing war contractors having termination claims. [JTR 320]

§ 843.321 Basis of guaranteed loan program. (a) Guaranteed loans for production authorized by Executive Order 9112 under the First War Powers Act include termination protection as a feature additional to their production aspect. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 specifically authorizes the making of guaranteed loans for termination.

(b) Under the guaranteed loan arrangement, a financing institution makes a loan to its customer under a guarantee from the War Department, the Navy Department or any other Government agency authorized to guarantee loans. Guaranteed loans are made primarily to war contractors who wish to secure financing on a company-wide basis. Such loans afford a convenient medium for financing borrowers who hold subcontracts, or numerous prime contracts, or prime contracts with several contracting agencies.

(c) Under both Executive Order 9112 and the act, the Federal Reserve Banks are authorized to act in behalf of the War and Navy Departments as fiscal agents of the United States in connection with the guaranteed loan program. [JTR 321]

§ 843.322 Previous forms of V and VT-Loans. (a) The early forms of guarantee agreement provided protection on termination by requiring the financing institution to suspend the maturity of loans outstanding and by requiring the guarantor, instead of the borrower, to pay interest thereon, on the basis of the ratio which the borrower's terminated war contracts bore to his unterminated war contracts. These forms also provided protection to financing institutions in the event of termination by providing a "step-up" of the guaranteed percentage based on a similar ratio.

(b) A similar form of guarantee agreement was also used to cover the so-called VT-Loans. The guaranteed percentage did not exceed 90 percent, except in unusual cases, and the "step-up" provision was eliminated. [JTR 322]

§ 843.323 1944 V-Loan Guarantee. [JTR 323]

§ 843.323–1 Simplified form. A simplified form of guarantee agreement known as the 1944 V-Loan Guarantee has now been authorized. Under it the distinction between V- and VT-Loan has been eliminated; provisions for waiver of interest and suspension of maturity, and for the "step-up" of guarantee are omitted. [JTR 323.1]

§ 843.323–2 When V-Loan made. These V-Loans are available only when the borrower is engaged in a business which is deemed necessary, appropriate, or convenient for the prosecution of the war, and needs some financing in addition to his own working capital to enable him to perform war contracts. [JTR 323.2]

§ 843.323–3 Guarantees and fees. If the circumstances justify it, the percentage of guarantee may exceed 90 per cent. The banks are allowed to charge a commitment fee of not in excess of one-fourth of 1 percent or a flat fee of $50. The guarantor does not share in the commitment fee and a reduced schedule of guarantee fees has been adopted. [JTR 323.3]

§ 843.323–4 Protection on termination. V-Loans are designed primarily to finance war production. The war contractor can, however, obtain termination protection under a V-Loan if the financing institution makes loans, or a firm commitment to lend, on the basis of a loan formula providing for borrowings based on receivables and inventories under terminated, as well as unterminated, war contracts and upon amounts payable to subcontractors under terminated war contracts. This is the formula used in most of the outstanding V and VT-Loans under old forms. [JTR 323.4]

§ 843.324 Procedure for T-Loans. [JTR 324]

§ 843.324–2 Negotiation of loan. A war contractor may arrange for a T-Loan before any of his contracts have been terminated. He should make application to his local bank and provide the bank with adequate information as to his financial condition and his war production contracts. The bank and the war contractor then agree, in the light of this information, as to the additional terms, if any, which are to be inserted in the standard form of termination loan agreement. This agreement provides for borrowings based upon receivables and inventory under contracts terminated in whole or in part and upon amounts paid or concurrently to be paid in settlement of subcontractors' termination claims. [JTR 324.2]

§ 843.324–3 Borrowing under T-Loan. (a) In order to borrow, the contractor must present a certificate as to the amount of his termination claims in the form shown in § 849.952–3. If the bank believes that the amount shown in the certificate is substantially overstated, it may refuse to make advances to the extent of such overstatement. The borrower must present similar certificates every three months while the loan is outstanding, and both the bank and the guarantor have the right to require the borrower to reduce the amount of the loan outstanding if, in their opinion, the amount thus outstanding substantially exceeds the value of the borrower's claims.

(b) The borrower must reduce the loan as payments or credits are received on his termination claims and as he disposes of or elects to retain inventory allocable to the terminated contracts listed on Exhibit C of the loan agreement as a basis for borrowing. To comply with the act, the entire loan must mature within thirty days after final payment of all of the borrower's termination claims, on which the loan is based. [JTR 324.3]

§ 843.325 Procedure for T-Loan guarantee. [JTR 325]

§ 843.325–1 Application for guarantee. (a) When the terms of the credit have been agreed upon by the war contractor and his local bank, the bank applies for a guarantee to the Federal Reserve Bank on a standard form (§ 849.952–5). The Federal Reserve Bank will examine the application and the proposed loan agreement and will recommend terms upon which the guarantee should be authorized in accordance with § 843.326.

(b) If the application indicates that a preponderance of the borrower's war contracts is with the War Department or is related to its contracts, the application will be referred to the War Department Liaison Officer assigned to the Reserve Bank by the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. If the preponderance of the borrower's war contracts is with the Navy Department, or is related to Navy prime contracts, the application and recommendations of the Federal Reserve Bank will be forwarded to the Finance Division, OP&M, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

(c) The War Department Liaison Officer or the Navy Finance Division, as the case may be, will determine whether or not the borrower is eligible for a guaranteed loan under the terms of the act, and will examine the application, the recommendations of the Reserve Bank and other relevant data. [JTR 325.1]

§ 843.325–2 Procedure for guarantee by War Department. (a) If the War Department is to guarantee the T-Loan, the guarantee agreement will be authorized and executed according to substantially the same procedure followed for V-Loans except as provided in paragraph (b) below.

(b) Where the amount of the loan, together with all other outstanding loans to the same borrower, made or guaranteed by the War Department, or any other contracting agency, does not exceed (1) $500,000 if the requested guarantee does not exceed 90 per cent, or (2) $100,000 if the requested guarantee does not exceed 95 per cent, the Federal Reserve Bank, after consulting the Liaison Officer, is authorized to execute and deliver the guarantee agreement on behalf of the War Department, unless the Liaison Officer objects, or unless the Reserve Bank will make or participate in the proposed loan. Where the Reserve Bank is so disqualified, the Liaison Officer may execute and deliver the guarantee agreement, if designated by the Fiscal Director as a Financial Contracting Officer for this purpose.

(c) Where the conditions prescribed by paragraph (b) are not fulfilled or the guarantee of the loan is refused, the application must be referred through channels to the Office of the Fiscal Director, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C. for approval or review by a Financial Contracting Officer. [JTR 325.2]

§ 843.325–3 Procedure for guarantee by Navy Department. (a) If the Navy Department is to guarantee the T-Loan, the guarantee agreement will be authorized and executed according to substantially the same procedure followed for V and VT-Loans.

(b) The Federal Reserve Bank will forward the application and accompanying documents, together with its recommendations, to the Finance Division, OP&M. The Finance Division will issue the necessary authorization to the Reserve Bank, subject to § 843.325–4. [JTR 325.3]

§ 843.325–4 Execution of guarantee agreements by Federal Reserve Banks. (a) The Federal Reserve Banks, acting as fiscal agents of the United States, are authorized to execute all guarantee agreements on behalf of the War and Navy Departments, unless the Reserve Bank is to make or participate in the loan.

(b) If the Reserve Bank is so disqualified in any case, the guarantee agreement will be executed for the War Department, by a Financial Contracting Officer or Liaison Officer authorized to act as Financial Contracting Officer for that purpose, or for the Navy Department, by the Finance Division, OP&M. [JTR 325.4]

§ 834.326 Factors to be considered by guarantor. (a) Regulation No. 1 (§ 849.922–1) prescribes the general policies to be followed by the Reserve Banks and the guarantor in guaranteeing T-Loans. Such guarantee will not be refused if the borrower is or has been engaged in performing an operation connected with or related to war production, except in such classes of cases as may hereafter be prescribed by the Director.

(b) Conditions other than those required under the standard loan agreement will be prescribed only in exceptional circumstances and when they are clearly necessary to protect the Government's interest. There will be no objection to additional conditions agreed upon by the borrower and the financing institution, if such conditions are not unreasonable and not inconsistent with the standard loan agreement.

(c) The requested percentage of guarantee will not ordinarily be questioned unless it exceeds 90 per cent, but a higher percentage of guarantee will be authorized if the circumstances clearly justify it and if other means of interim financing are not promptly available.

(d) In general, officers of the War and Navy Departments authorized to approve or object T-Loan guarantees will rely on the information submitted by the Federal Reserve Banks and upon their recommendations, unless further investigation appears necessary under the known circumstances of the particular case. [JTR 326]

SUBPART C—USE OF ADVANCE PAYMENTS FOR INTERIM FINANCING

§ 843.330 Scope. This subpart deals with the use of advance payments for termination financing. [JTR 330]

§ 843.331 Authority to use advance payments for interim financing. [JTR 331]

§ 843.331–1 Amounts on deposit. Where funds are on deposit in an advance payment account under a war contract at the time of its termination, the contracting officer for the War Department, or the Finance Division, OP&M, for the Navy Department, may continue to authorize withdrawal of such funds to make payments chargeable to the contract pending settlement of the termination claim: Provided, That the contracting officer or Finance Division determines that the unliquidated balance of advance payments allocable to the contract does not exceed the total amount to be paid under the contract, including the termination charges. In making such determination, the contracting officer or Finance Division may rely on such information as may be on hand or may be furnished by the contractor upon request. If the contract specifically entitles the contractor to such withdrawals, the contracting officer or Finance Division shall permit them. [JTR 331.1]

§ 843.331–2 Amounts previously authorized. When an advance payment has been authorized, but all or part thereof has not been paid to the contractor directly or by deposit in the advance payment account, before termination, the contracting officer or Finance Division may, or if the contract so requires shall, permit authorized payments to be made directly or by deposit in the advance payment account, and permit withdrawals from the account, in accordance with the terms of the contract: Provided, That the contracting officer or the Finance Division determines that the unliquidated balance of all advance payments allocable to the contract will not exceed the total amount to be paid under the contract, including the termination charges. [JTR 331.2]

§ 843.331–3 Authorizing additional amounts. (a) Advance payments, in addition to those authorized prior to termination, should generally not be authorized after termination. Instead, the contractor should apply for a partial payment in an amount sufficient to liquidate outstanding advance payments and provide him with such additional interim financing as he may need.

(b) However, the contracting officer or the Finance Division may authorize additional payments after termination whenever it is not practicable to liquidate outstanding advance payments by a partial payment within the time in which interim financing is required, or other circumstances, such as the existence of pooled accounts for financing both terminated and unterminated contracts, make advance payments the most practicable method for interim financing. The additional advance payments so authorized after termination generally should not exceed ninety per cent of the total amounts estimated to be payable under the contract, including the termination charges, less any unliquidated balances of advance payments previously made.

(c) In the case of the War Department, reports on such additional authorizations will be submitted to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch in the same manner as reports on advance payments required under § 803.321–14 (a) of this chapter. In the case of the Navy, such additional authorizations will be reported by the Finance Division to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 331.3]

§ 843.331–4 Advance payments on partially terminated contracts. Where advance payments have been authorized in connection with a contract which has been partially terminated, amounts on deposit in the advance payment account may be used to pay termination charges as well as expenses in connection with performance, and additional advance payments may be authorized, in accordance with procedures governing advance payments for production purposes. [JTR 331.4]

§ 843.331–5 Estimate of claims. In order that the determinations required by §§ 843.331–1, 843.331–2 and 843.331–3 (b) may be made, the contractor shall submit an estimate of his own termination charges and, if the advance payments are also to be used to make partial or final payments to subcontractors, an estimate of his subcontractors' termination claims. In the case of contracts with the War Department, such estimate will be submitted to the contracting officer, and in the case of contracts with the Navy, the estimate will be submitted to the officer charged with the duty of countersigning checks on the advance payment account, who will forward the estimate to the Finance Division, OP&M, with his comments. [JTR 331.5]

§ 843.332 Use of advance payments for making partial and final payments to subcontractors. The contractor may use funds on deposit in an advance payment account to make partial and final payments to his subcontractors on account of their termination claims, subject to the terms of the contract and to the following provisions:

(a) Partial payments may be made only upon specific approval of the applications therefor by the contracting officer, or pursuant to authority delegated by the contracting officer to make such partial payments without approval; final payments may be made only upon settlements which have been approved by the contracting officer, or which have been made pursuant to § 846.643, or to authority delegated by the contracting officer to the contractor.

(b) Partial payments may be made only upon the basis of an application in the form prescribed by, and executed in accordance with, General Regulation No. 2 of the Office of Contract Settlement (see § 849.953).

(c) The contractor shall not, without the approval of the contracting officer, make any partial payment to, or payment on account of a partial or final settlement with, any subcontractor for the benefit of a lower tier subcontractor if, to the knowledge of any director, officer or employee of the contractor having direct control or supervision over withdrawals from the advance payment account, such subcontractor or any intervening subcontractor is unable or unwilling for any reason to pay or credit to his subcontractors any payments received for their benefit.

(d) The contractor shall obtain and preserve in connection with each partial or final payment such evidence of receipt thereof as the contracting officer may require.

(e) The contractor shall, upon request, present to the contracting officer the original of any application for a partial payment and any receipt for partial or final payment obtained pursuant to paragraph (d). If he has been unable to obtain such receipt for a partial payment, the contractor shall use his best efforts to supply such information with respect to such partial payment as may be necessary to protect the Government's interest therein.

(f) The contractor shall, upon request, present to the contracting officer a monthly statement setting forth the following information with respect to each partial payment made from the advance payment account during the preceding month: (1) The date of such payment; (2) the number of the subcontractor's invoice pursuant to which such payment was made; (3) identification of the prime contract to which such payment is allocable; (4) the name and address of the payee; and (5) the date and manner of approval or authorization of such payment. [JTR 332]

§ 843.333 Discharge of lien. Where termination inventory upon which the Government has a lien to secure advance payments is properly retained or disposed of by the contractor in accordance with this subchapter, the lien thereon is discharged by payment to the Government of the proceeds of the disposal, or of an amount equivalent to the agreed credit for retention, in reduction of the advance payment outstanding, or by depositing such proceeds or amount in the advance payment account. [JTR 333]

SUBPART D—GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR PARTIAL PAYMENTS

§ 843.340 Scope. This subpart covers general matters applicable to interim financing of war contractors by means of partial payments on account of termination claims. [JTR 340]

§ 843.341 Authority. Partial payments are authorized by sections 8 and 9 of the act and by General Regulation No. 2 promulgated by the Office of Contract Settlement on September 8, 1944. A partial payment must be made to a war contractor within thirty days after proper application therefor. [JTR 341]

§ 843.342 Partial payment defined. (a) The term "partial payment" means a payment on account on a termination claim, made without prejudice to the amount of the final settlement and repayable if excessive.

(b) A partial payment is to be distinguished from a payment on a partial final settlement, which, in general, cannot be recovered by the Government in the absence of fraud. [JTR 342]

§ 843.343 Types of partial payment authorized. The following types of partial payments are authorized:

(a) Immediate partial payment based on the contractor's estimates (§ 843.352); or

(b) Cost-supported partial payment based on the contractor's settlement proposal or other adequate statement of costs (§ 843.353); or

(c) Controlled partial payment to be deposited in a special controlled account and to be released as particular items of cost become established and are presented for payment (§ 843.356); or

(d) Partial payments into a fund for the benefit of subcontractors (§ 843.364–2).

Successive applications may be filed for partial payments of any type. [JTR 343]

§ 843.344 Deductions in computing amount of partial payments. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) below, in determining the amount of a partial payment of any type to be made, there shall be deducted from the gross amount otherwise payable under this subchapter any unliquidated balances of advance and partial payments theretofore made to the war contractor, which are allocable to the terminated war contract or the terminated portion of the war contract and the amounts of all credits arising from the sale or retention of property as to which costs or estimated costs were included in the application. The sum of any such credits and unliquidated balances and of all partial payments made on the same termination claim shall not exceed any limitation imposed by this regulation or by the act on the amount of a partial payment of any particular type.

(b) Where any unliquidated balances of advance payments are to be liquidated with the proceeds of the partial payment, pursuant to § 843.331–3 (a), such balances should not be so deducted from the gross amount otherwise payable under this subchapter. [JTR 344]

§ 843.345 Recognition of assignments. Partial payments shall be made in such a manner as not to impair or modify any valid assignment of a claim under a war contract without the consent of the parties thereto. Contracting officers are required to see that partial payments are made consistently with the terms of a signments known to them. They may rely, however, on the statement in the application that no assignments are outstanding in the absence of actual knowledge to the contrary or notice given in accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. [JTR 345]

§ 843.346 Effect of overpayments. Section 9 (b) of the act provides that any partial payment in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on the termination claim shall be treated as a loan from the Government to the war contractor receiving it, payable upon demand, together with a penalty computed at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, from the date such excess payment is received to the date on which such excess is repaid. Where credits for dispositions of termination inventory reduce the termination claim below outstanding partial payments, the penalty for excess payments applies from the date the outstanding partial payments first become excessive. This penalty is in addition to the penalty for overstatement discussed in § 843.316. [JTR 346]

SUBPART E—PARTIAL PAYMENTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF PRIME CONTRACTORS

§ 843.350 Scope. This subpart describes the types of partial payments that will be made for the benefit of prime contractors and the procedures relating thereto. [JTR 350]

§ 843.351 Submission of applications. [JTR 351]

§ 843.351–1 General. In general, prime contractors will file applications for partial payments on substantially the form of application prescribed by General Regulation No. 2 of the Office of Contract Settlement (see § 849.953). Except as authorized by § 843.355, the charges on which the application is based include only the prime contractor's own costs. [JTR 351.1]

§ 843.351–2 War Department procedure. A prime contractor under a War Department contract shall file his application in duplicate with the contracting officer under his contract. [JTR 351.2]

§ 843.351–3 Navy Department procedure. (a) A prime contractor under a Navy Department contract will file his application in triplicate with the Navy material inspector who is cognizant of the prime contractor.

(b) Where the inspector cognizant of the prime contractor is authorized pursuant to § 843.314–2 (c) to approve a partial payment on such application, he will, upon receipt of such an application in triplicate, immediately forward one copy to the contracting officer clearly marked to denote that action on the application will be taken by the inspector; he will then process the application and will authorize the partial payment to the extent that he approves it. The inspector will immediately inform the contracting officer of the disposition of any such partial payment application.

(c) In all other cases, the inspector will immediately forward one copy of the application to the contracting officer, without comment, to be followed within seven (7) days by an additional copy with his comments. The contracting officer will refer the application, with the comments of the inspector, to the Contract Financing Section in the bureau or its representative for investigation and recommendation as to the amounts to be authorized and conditions to be imposed. Such recommendations will be made within seven (7) days from the receipt of the application and comments. The contracting officer will authorize the partial payment to the extent that he approves it. The Contract Financing Section will immediately inform the inspector cognizant of the prime contractor of the disposition of such partial payment application and of the amount of any payment made. [JTR 351.3]

§ 843.352 Immediate partial payments. [JTR 352]

§ 843.352–1 When used. It is recognized that many contractors may desire or need partial payments within a short time after termination and before partial or complete settlement proposals can be prepared. For this purpose immediate partial payments are authorized. A prime contractor applying for an immediate partial payment will set forth in Column B of the Application Form (§ 849.953) his best estimate of the amount due on his own charges. [JTR 352.1]

§ 843.352–2 Amount to be allowed. Subject to the limitations of §§ 843.344 and 843.352–4, the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) should promptly grant the application for partial payment in the largest amount he believes to be reasonable under all the circumstances known to him. In deciding the amount to be paid, the prime contractor's application should be considered in the light of his general reputation, the relation between the amount requested and the amount certified by the contractor as due, and any other relevant information. In the absence of known factors militating against the payment requested, contracting officers (or authorized Navy material inspectors) are authorized to make their determinations of the amounts to be paid solely on the basis of the prime contractor's application. [JTR 352.2]

§ 843.352–3 Minimum amount of payment. An immediate partial payment will be made in each case for at least 75 per cent of the contract price of completed articles not delivered, plus 75 per cent of the contractor's estimated costs of raw materials, purchased parts, supplies, direct labor and overhead allocable to the terminated portion of the contract (but not including the cost of special facilities or other items deemed likely to be of a controversial character, and not including profit), unless (a) the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) has reason to believe that the application for immediate partial payment was not filed in good faith, or that the amount requested is excessive, or that protection of the Government's interests requires denial of the application or payment in a lesser amount, or (b) unless the contractor requests payment in a lesser amount. This provision for minimum partial payments shall not be construed to limit the responsibility of the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) to make partial payments in the largest amount believed reasonable under the provisions of § 843.352–2. [JTR 352.3]

§ 843.352–4 Maximum amount of payment. Immediate partial payments based on a prime contractor's estimates shall not exceed 90 per cent of the amount certified in the application as due on account of the contractor's own costs allocable to the terminated portion of the contract. [JTR 352.4]

§ 843.353 Cost-supported partial payments. [JTR 353]

§ 843.353–1 When used. This type of partial payment may be used after the contractor has submitted a partial or complete settlement proposal, supported by the data prescribed for the submission of termination claims, or has otherwise submitted substantial accounting data. A contractor applying for such a cost-supported partial payment will set forth his cost data in Column A of the Application Form (§ 849.953). [JTR 353.1]

§ 843.353–2 Amount to be allowed. Where the contractor has submitted substantial accounting data, and a preliminary review of such data indicates that the application is proper and is supported by the data submitted, the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) shall authorize payment of such amounts as he believes to be:

(a) An amount equal to 100 per cent of the amount payable, at the contract price, on account of undelivered acceptable items completed prior to the termination date under the terms of the contract, or completed thereafter with the approval of the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector); plus

(b) An amount equal to 90 per cent of the cost of raw materials, purchased parts, supplies, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead allocable to the terminated portion of the war contract; plus

(c) A reasonable percentage of other allowable costs, including administrative overhead, allocable to the terminated portion of the war contract not included in the foregoing; plus

(d) Such additional amounts, if any, as the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) deems necessary to provide the war contractor with adequate interim financing.

The amount of any partial payment made under this section shall not exceed the amount which, in the opinion of the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector), is due to the contractor by reason of the termination. [JTR 353.2]

§ 843.354 Disbursement of partial payments to prime contractors. A partial payment to a prime contractor under §§ 843.352, 843.353, 843.355, will be made on the basis of a voucher or invoice certified by the contractor and approved by the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) in a specific amount by noting thereon the following, "Payment in the amount of $-------- approved." The certification of the voucher or invoice by the prime contractor shall include the following two provisions:

(a) The payment covered by this voucher is a partial payment on account of the contractor's termination claim under contract No. -------- made pursuant to Section 9 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and expressly subject to subsection (b) of that section.

(b) I certify that the above bill is correct and just; that payment has not been received; that all statutory requirements as to American production and labor standards, and all conditions of purchase applicable to the transaction have been complied with; and that State or local sales taxes are not included in the amount billed.

(Paragraph (b) is the certificate printed on the Form 1034 voucher). [JTR 354]

§ 843.355 Partial payments to prime contractors on account of final settlements with, or partial payments to, subcontractors. (a) A prime contractor may include in his application for a partial payment, a request for:

(1) The amount paid or payable to his immediate or remote subcontractors under subcontract settlements approved by the contracting officer or made pursuant to a delegation of authority to the prime contractor; or

(2) The amount of any partial or final payments made from a fund created for the benefit of subcontractors, pursuant to § 843.364–4; or

(3) The amount of any partial payment made pursuant to authority to make partial payments in amounts up to $10,000 granted to the prime contractor under § 843.368 or pursuant to other authorization by the contracting officer.

(b) In applying for a partial payment for any of the foregoing purposes, the prime contractor should list the amount required as Other Costs on line 7 of column A of the application form, and should support the application by a list showing the partial payments which have been so made and their amounts, and, in the case of final payments to subcontractors, a list showing the subcontracts settled and their amounts. [JTR 355]

§ 843.356 Controlled partial payments. [JTR 356]

§ 843.356–1 When used. If a prime contractor is of doubtful financial responsibility, or if his records are known to be inadequate, the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) may require that any immediate or cost-supported partial payment be made to the contractor through the medium of a controlled account. [JTR 356.1]

§ 843.356–2 Administration. Such controlled partial payments shall be originally authorized by the execution of a supplemental agreement to the terminated contract substantially in the form set forth in § 849.954. Moneys will be deposited in a controlled account in the name of the prime contractor and will be made subject to withdrawal only in accordance with the agreement. The funds in the controlled account shall be made subject to a lien in favor of the Government to protect its interest. Under the general direction of the contracting officer, personnel of the Contract Financing Section will supervise the administration of the controlled account. [JTR 356.2]

SUBPART F—PARTIAL PAYMENTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF SUBCONTRACTORS

§ 843.360 Scope. This subpart covers partial payments for the benefit of subcontractors made either through the prime contractor or directly. [JTR 360]

§ 843.361 Methods of making partial payments to subcontractors. (a) Partial payments may be made available to subcontractors by the following methods:

(1) By payment to the prime contractor on the application of the subcontractor transmitted through the contractual chain, in accordance with § 843.363.

(2) By payment by the prime contractor or higher tier subcontractor from a fund in accordance with § 843.364.

(3) By direct payment from the Government to the subcontractor in accordance with § 843.366.

(4) By controlled partial payments in accordance with § 843.367.

(b) The provisions of §§ 843.352 and 843.353 regarding the types and amounts of partial payments for the benefit of prime contractors also apply to partial payments for the benefit of subcontractors. [JTR 361]

§ 843.362 Submission of application. (a) A subcontractor will file his application for a partial payment, in substantially the prescribed form (§ 849.953), with the war contractor liable to him, except where direct payment is authorized by § 853.366–1.

(b) A war contractor receiving the application of a subcontractor will take the action with respect thereto required by the application form. If the war contractor receiving such an application is also a subcontractor, he will forward the application to his customer; and, if the war contractor receiving such an application is a prime contractor, he will forward it to the responsible War Department contracting officer or to his cognizant Navy material inspector, as the case may be; unless, in either case, the war contractor receiving such an application has been delegated the authority to take action thereon.

(c) In the Navy Department the prime contractor will submit any application of a subcontractor in triplicate to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the prime contractor. Where the inspector is authorized, pursuant to § 843.314–2 (c), to approve a partial payment on such application, he will immediately forward one copy to the contracting officer, clearly marked to denote that action thereon will be taken by the inspector; and he will then process the application and will authorize the partial payment to the extent that he approves it. The inspector will immediately inform the contracting officer of the disposition of any such partial payment application. In all other cases he will immediately forward one copy of the application to the contracting officer, without comment, to be followed within seven (7) days by an additional copy with his comments, and the procedure prescribed in § 843.351–3 for prime contractors' applications will be followed. [JTR 362]

§ 843.363 Payments transmitted through the contractual chain. [JTR 363]

§ 843.363–1 How made. The prescribed form of application for immediate or cost-supported partial payment requires that applications by subcontractors be reviewed by the war contractor directly liable on the claims to be financed and all higher tier war contractors, including the prime contractor. Unless payment is made by a reviewing war contractor pursuant to authorization from the contracting officer, the application is transmitted to the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector). In signing the form of recommendation, each war contractor undertakes promptly to pay over to his immediate subcontractor or credit against amounts owing from the applicant the amount received on the application. The contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) should expedite requests of subcontractors in view of the requirement of the act that partial payments be made available to such subcontractors within 30 days after receipt by the contracting agency of proper application therefor. [JTR 363.1]

§ 843.363–2 Disbursement. A partial payment for the benefit of a subcontractor under § 843.363–1 will be made on the basis of a voucher or invoice certified by the prime contractor and approved by the contracting officer (or authorized Navy material inspector) in a specific amount by noting thereon the following, "Payment in the amount of $_____ approved." In addition to the Form 1034 certificates, the voucher or invoice shall include substantially the following provisions:

The payment covered by this voucher is a partial payment on account of the contractor's termination claim under contract No. _____, made pursuant to section 9 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and expressly subject to subsection (b) of that section.

Where the prime contract has not been terminated, and the subcontract termination resulted from an amendment or change order relating to the prime contract or from other circumstances entitling the subcontractor to interim financing under the act, the foregoing voucher provisions should be appropriately modified. [JTR 363.2]

§ 843.364 Funds for the benefit of subcontractors. [JTR 364]

§ 843.364–1 Purpose of funds. War contractors having large numbers of subcontracts should endeavor to anticipate the needs of their subcontractors and be prepared to meet their requirements promptly. To aid in accomplishing this end, partial payments or direct loans may be made to war contractors to enable them, in advance of subcontractors' requests, to set up funds from which prompt partial and final payments may be made to subcontractors on their termination claims. [JTR 364.1]

§ 843.364–2 Fund created by partial payments to war contractors. (a) Any war contractor who has been authorized to make final subcontract settlements under § 846.642, and who has numerous subcontractors, may apply for partial payments on account of particular war contracts to create a fund for the benefit of subcontractors.

(b) Such an application need not be on the form prescribed by the Office of Contract Settlement, but may be in the form of a letter to the contracting officer containing a certificate of the contractor that the approximate amount of all subcontractors' charges allocable to the terminated contract or contracts is not less than a specified figure.

(c) A partial payment to set up a fund for the benefit of subcontractors will be made to a war contractor only upon his agreement, among other things, to keep all monies received for such purpose in an account separate from his other funds, and to make prompt partial and final payments to subcontractors under authority of this regulation or when otherwise specifically authorized or approved by the Government. [JTR 364.2]

§ 843.364–3 Disbursement of partial payments for the benefit of subcontractors. Partial payments to a war contractor for the benefit of subcontractors under § 843.364–2 will be made on the basis of a voucher or invoice certified by the war contractor and approved by the contracting officer in a specified amount by noting thereon the following: "Payment in the amount of $_____ approved." In addition to the Form 1034 certificates, the voucher or invoice shall include substantially the following provisions:

The payment covered by this voucher is a partial payment on the contractor's termination claim under Contract No. _____ on account of termination claims of subcontractors under that contract. The payment is made pursuant to section 9 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and expressly subject to subsection (b) of that section. The contractor agrees to keep this payment and all other payments received for the same purpose in an account separate from his other funds and to use this payment only for the purpose of making prompt partial and final payments to subcontractors when such payments are authorized or approved by the Government. Any amount not so used shall be repaid to the Government upon demand, with interest at the rate of 6% per annum from the date of demand to the date of repayment.

§ 843.364–4 Fund created by direct loan to war contractors. (a) Any war contractor who has been authorized to make final subcontract settlements under § 846.642, and who has numerous subcontractors, may apply for a direct loan to create a fund for the benefit of subcontractors.

(b) If the preponderance of the current dollar value of the contractor's war contracts is with the War Department or is under War Department prime contracts, the application for the loan should be made to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Hq., ASF, via a contracting officer of the service under which the applicant has the greatest current dollar value of war contracts. If such preponderance is with the Navy Department or is under Navy Department prime contracts, the application should be made to the Finance Division, OP&M.

(c) An application for a direct loan shall be in the form of a letter. Such letter shall (1) indicate the amount of the loan requested, (2) list the services and bureaus under which the applicant holds war contracts and the approximate current dollar value of such contracts under each of such services or bureaus, (3) indicate any outstanding advance payments or loans to the applicant, (4) estimate the number and total amount of subcontract termination claims which it is anticipated will be settled or partially paid by the applicant during the next 90 days, (5) enclose a certified copy of the applicant's balance sheet and operating statement for the latest fiscal year and for the latest period subsequent to such fiscal year, and, if the contractor has an outstanding loan, any necessary consents of financing institutions to the additional borrowing, and (6) indicate the name of the bank or banks which it is proposed to use as a depositary for the fund.

(d) Among the considerations to be taken into account in determining whether the applicant qualifies or should be recommended for a fund to be created by a direct loan are the following:

(1) Whether establishment of the fund will result in more expeditious settlement and payment of termination claims of subcontractors than is possible under other procedures.

(2) Whether the contractor already has available advance payments to make prompt partial and final payments to his subcontractors on account of their termination claims.

(3) Whether the contractor has an efficient termination organization and can quickly process both his own settlement proposals and those of his subcontractors.

(4) The volume of the contractor's war business and termination claims, both actual and anticipated.

(5) The contractor's financial condition and general reputation.

(e) (1) In the War Department the contracting officer with whom the application is filed will forward the application, together with his recommendations thereon (including a specific statement concerning each of the matters referred to in paragraph (d) hereof to the extent known) through channels to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch for approval. If the contracting officer's recommendation is favorable, the application will be accompanied by 8 copies of the loan agreement, in substantially the form set forth in § 849.955, and 4 copies of the voucher required by § 843.364–5, both executed by the contractor, together with 8 copies of the depository agreement executed by the bank. The amount of the application for a loan as recommended by the contracting officer will be inserted in the loan agreement and in the voucher, but the name of the Financial Contracting Officer and the contract number shall be left blank for insertion upon approval by the Advance Payment and Loan Branch.

(2) In the Navy Department, the Finance Division, OP&M, before approving the application, will obtain the recommendations of the Assistant Chief of Procurement and Material for Industrial Readjustment.

(f) Upon approval of the application, an agreement in substantially the form set forth in § 849.955 will be executed by a Financial Contracting Officer in the War Department, or by the Chief, Deputy Chief or Assistant Chief of the Finance Division, OP&M, in the Navy Department. [JTR 364.4]

§ 843.364–5 Disbursement of direct loans for the benefit of subcontractors. In making a direct loan to a war contractor for the benefit of subcontractors, payment will be made to the war contractor on the basis of a voucher which (a) contains a Form 1034 certificate signed by the war contractor and (b) is approved by a person authorized under the preceding paragraph to execute the agreement. A confirmed copy of the agreement will be attached to the first voucher by the approving officer. In addition, the voucher shall include substantially the following provision:

The payment covered by this voucher is a payment pursuant to the Agreement for Subcontractors' Payment Fund, No. _____, dated _____, authorized by the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and the Joint Termination Regulation.

§ 843.364–6 Administration of fund created by direct loan. Subject to the general supervision and control of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch in the War Department or the Finance Division, OP&M, in the Navy Department, the fund created by a direct loan will be administered by the chief of the service or bureau designated in the loan agreement, who will render such reports as may be required by the Fiscal Director, in the case of the War Department, or by the Finance Division, OP&M, in the case of the Navy Department. [JTR 364.6]

§ 843.365 Protection of payments to subcontractors. Whenever a war contractor is deemed to be insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency, or for any other reason is deemed to be unable or unwilling to pay over to his subcontractors any partial payment received for their benefit, contracting officers should take appropriate steps to assure receipt of such partial payment by the subcontractor who applied therefor. For this purpose, direct payment may be made to the subcontractor under § 843.366 or the controlled account procedure described in § 843.367 may be used. [JTR 365]

§ 843.366 Direct payment. [JTR 366]

§ 843.366–1 When authorized. The contracting officer under the applicable prime contract shall make immediate or cost-supported partial payments directly to a subcontractor upon receipt by the contracting officer of an application in the prescribed form, submitted directly by the subcontractor, whenever:

(a) The contracting officer has undertaken to settle directly the termination claim or claims of the subcontractor; or

(b) The subcontractor furnishes;

(1) Evidence that use of the procedures set forth in §§ 843.363 and 843.364 would cause unwarranted delay in his receipt of a partial payment; and

(2) A certificate by the war contractor in the next higher tier, containing the material in the first paragraph of the certificate in Article VI of the Standard Form of Application (§ 849.953), and consenting to the direct payment to the subcontractor, unless sufficient other information justifying such partial payment is submitted by the applicant to the contracting officer.

In cases covered by paragraph (b), the subcontractor will also submit through contractual channels a copy of his application marked "Information Copy, Direct Payment Requested"; any intervening war contractor desiring to take exception to such direct payment will so notify the contracting officer. [JTR 366.1]

§ 843.366–2 Disbursement. A partial payment to a subcontractor under § 843.366–1 will be made on the basis of a voucher or invoice certified by the subcontractor applying therefor and approved, by the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract, in a specific amount by noting thereon the following, "Payment in the amount of $_____ approved." In addition to the Form 1034 certificates, the voucher or invoice shall include substantially the following provisions:

The payment covered by this voucher is a partial payment on account of the termination claim of the payee as a subcontractor under contract No. _____ between the United States of America and _____, made pursuant to section 9 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and expressly subject to subsection (b) of that section.

§ 843.367 Controlled partial payments for subcontractors. (a) When the controlled partial payment procedure is used for the benefit of a subcontractor, the contracting officer will enter into a supplemental agreement with the prime contractor in substantially the form set forth in § 849.954, and containing the provisions relating to subcontractors set forth in brackets on that form.

(b) Payments from the controlled account shall be made directly to the subcontractor for whose benefit the partial payment is made or through intervening subcontractors, as the contracting officer shall deem appropriate. Such controlled payments may be made without the certificates of intervening contractors, provided that sufficient other information justifying such payments is available.

§ 843.368 Authority to make partial payments; procedures for reimbursement of partial and final payments. [JTR 368]

§ 843.368–1 Delegation of authority to make partial payments. Authorization under § 846.642 to war contractors to make final settlements with subcontractors should generally include an express authorization to make partial payments not exceeding 10,000 (including all previous unliquidated partial payments and advances) to any applicant therefor under any one termination claim. War contractors who have been so authorized to make partial payments should make such payments available to subcontractors on substantially the terms and conditions prescribed by this subchapter. In such cases, partial payments may be made in accordance with the terms of the authorization and without obtaining the contracting officer's approval of the particular payment. [JTR 368.1]

§ 843.368–2 Partial payments to war contractors on account of final settlement with, or partial payments to, lower tier subcontractors. A war contractor may include in his application for a partial payment any of the amounts provided for in the case of prime contractors by § 843.355, and under like conditions. [JTR 368.2]

§ 843.369 Effect of payments to subcontractors. (a) Where any partial payment by a war contractor to a subcontractor is authorized or approved by the contracting officer, the war contractor making it is not liable for the repayment of any excess in the absence of fraud on his part; such excess is treated as a loan from the Government to the subcontractor receiving the payment, repayable by the subcontractor directly to the Government together with the penalty imposed by section 9 (b) of the act.

(b) Where any partial payment made by a war contractor without prior authority or approval is subsequently ratified by the contracting officer, that payment has the same effect, under section 9 (b) of the act, as a partial payment made with his specific approval.

(c) Releases from a controlled account may be considered as authorizations, approvals or ratifications only when specifically so stated by the contracting officer.

(d) A partial payment made pursuant to a general delegation of authority under § 843.368 has the same effect as a payment made with the specific approval of the contracting officer. [JTR 369]

The provisions of this part apply to all types of contractor inventory, except where the context indicates that it applies only to a particular type (for example, termination inventory).

(b) In the case of the War Department, contractor inventory which is plant equipment is dealt with only in Subpart F of Part 848. § 844.400–2 "Material treated as termination inventory". Material formerly treated as termination inventory under this section is now included in the definition of contractor inventory (see § 844.411–3). Whenever the term "material treated as termination inventory under § 844.400–2" is used in this Subchapter (e. g. § 849.987–1) it refers to material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items. [JTR 400.2]

SUBPART A—GENERAL POLICIES

§ 844.410 Scope. This subpart contains provisions of general application to contractor inventory. [JTR 410]

§ 844.411 Special terms. Certain terms, in addition to those defined in § 841.121, have a special meaning as applied to the disposition of contractor inventory. As used in this part, these terms are as follows. [JTR 411]

§ 844.411–1 Best price obtainable. In the case of a sale or retention for resale, the term the "best price obtainable" means the highest price offered which is adequate in the light of a reasonable knowledge or test of the market, having due regard for current prices for any raw materials or products for which quotations are published and to the circumstances, nature, condition, quantity, and location of the particular property. In the case of a retention for use, the term "best price obtainable" means a price that is fair and reasonable and not less than the net proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the item were offered for sale at such time. [JTR 411.1]

§ 844.411–2 Care and handling. The term "care and handling" includes completing, repairing, converting, rehabilitating, operating, maintaining, preserving, protecting, insuring, storing, packing, handling, and transporting, and in the case of property which is dangerous to public health or safety, destroying, or rendering innocuous, such property. [JTR 411.2]

§ 844.411–3 Contractor inventory. The term "contractor inventory" (as used in this subchapter and as defined in the Surplus Property Act) means (a) any property related to a terminated contract of any type with the owning agency or to a subcontract thereunder; (b) any property acquired under a contract pursuant to the terms of which title is vested in the Government, and in excess of the amounts needed to complete performance thereunder; and (c) any property which the Government is obligated to take over under any type of contract as a result of any change in the specifications or plans thereunder. Contractor inventory includes, but is broader than, termination inventory, as the term is defined in § 821.121–21, and in the Contract Settlement Act, and also includes any Government-owned material in the war contractor's plant, either before or after expiration of a contract, which is no longer required for the purpose for which it was supplied. [JTR 411.3]

§ 844.411–4 Cost. (a) The "cost" of contractor-owned material is the cost to the war contractor, as stated in his inventory schedule, provided that such cost is computed upon a reasonably acceptable basis. Generally, such cost will be the actual or estimated cost of raw material, purchased parts, and supplies plus direct labor and factory overhead for work in process and manufactured parts. Cost may be estimated if necessary, and the contracting officer may rely on the estimates of the war contractor.

(b) The "cost" of Government-owned materials is the cost to the Government, estimated if not known. [JTR 411.4]

§ 844.411–5 Disposal agency. The term "disposal agency" means any Government agency designated by the Surplus Property Board pursuant to the Surplus Property Act to dispose of surplus property. [JTR 411.5]

§ 844.411–6 Owning agency. The term "owning agency" is defined in the Surplus Property Act as "the executive department, the independent agency in the executive branch of the Federal Government, or the corporation (if a Government agency) having control of such property otherwise than solely as a disposal agency". As used in this part, "owning agency" means the War Department or the Navy Department. [JTR 411.6]

§ 844.411–7 Plant clearance period. The term "plant clearance period" means the period within which the owning agency is required to remove or make arrangements for storage of contractor inventory to be cleared from a war contractor's plant. The plant clearance period begins upon receipt by the owning agency of an inventory schedule in form satisfactory for storage or removal purposes. It ends sixty days thereafter, or on such later date as may be agreed to by the contractor, or on such earlier date as the owning agency takes possession of contractor inventory. [JTR 411.7]

§ 844.411–8 Possession. The owning agency takes "possession" of contractor inventory upon:

(a) The execution of a standard storage agreement in accordance with § 844.465–2; or

(b) The execution of a final settlement agreement with a war contractor in accordance with § 844.465–3 or 846.662; or

(c) The execution of a special storage agreement with a subcontractor in accordance with § 844.465–4; or

(d) Removal by the Government in accordance with § 844.466. [JTR 411.8]

§ 844.411–9 Retention for use. The term "retention for use" means a retention of contractor inventory that a war contractor intends to use or consume for his own manufacturing, construction, maintenance, or repair purposes and not for resale in its existing form, at a profit. Such retention must be accompanied by the use representation, except as provided in § 844.445–3. For the definition of "retention" see § 821.121–15. When unqualified, the words "retain" and "retention", mean both a retention for resale and a retention for use. [JTR 411.9]

§ 844.411–10 Reviewing authority. (a) For the War Department the term "reviewing authority" means the local disposal board established under Subchapter B for the purpose of reviewing dispositions and determinations that property is unserviceable, scrap or salvage. It also includes any disposal board established under Subchapter B in the office of the chief of a service, or, in the Army Air Forces, in the headquarters of a Command.

(b) For the Navy Department, the term "reviewing authority" means a disposal board established by the NMR&DA for the purpose of reviewing dispositions of material and determinations that property is unserviceable, scrap or salvage, where review is required. It also includes any disposal board established by the chief of a bureau to review disposition transactions made by direction of a contracting officer of the bureau (or by a Navy material inspector under his authority) where such review is required.

§ 844.411–11 Salvage. The term "salvage" means property that is in such a worn, damaged, deteriorated or incomplete condition, or is of such a specialized nature, that it has no reasonable prospect of sale for use as a unit, but has some value in excess of its basic material content because it may contain serviceable components. Salvage includes used containers and cable reels. It should be noted that property is not "salvage" merely because it is worn, damaged, deteriorated, incomplete, or of a specialized nature. [JTR 411.11]

§ 844.411–12 Scrap. The term "scrap" means property that has no reasonable prospect of sale except for its basic material content. [JTR 411.12]

§ 844.411–13 Scrap warranty. The term "scrap warranty" means a written warranty by a buyer that property purchased or retained as scrap will in fact be sold or used by the buyer only as scrap. The scrap warranty shall read as follows:

> The undersigned represents and warrants to the United States that the property covered by this agreement was offered as scrap, that he is purchasing or retaining it only as scrap and that he will sell and ship or use it only as scrap, either in its existing condition or after further preparation, and only in conformity with all applicable regulations and orders of the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board.

§ 844.411–14 Serviceable property. The term "serviceable property" means property that has reasonable prospect of sale for use as a unit either in its existing form or after minor repairs; it includes raw materials, primary forms and shapes, and mill products. [JTR 411.14]

§ 844.411–15 Small lot. The term "small lot" means any item or group of items where the cost of all substantially similar items available for sale at any one location, listed on any one inventory schedule, does not exceed $300. [JTR 411.15]

§ 844.411–16 Substantially similar items. The term "substantially similar items" means items which serve the same immediate purpose. Substantially similar items include items which are commonly considered in ordinary business practice as being in the same class, although they differ in size, weight, color, capacity, composition, quality, or design, and are not interchangeable in use. [JTR 411.16]

§ 844.411–17 Surplus. The term "surplus" refers to property determined to be surplus to the needs and responsibilities of the owning agency. Surplus property is declared to a disposal agency or disposed of in accordance with § 844.452. [JTR 452]

§ 844.411–18 Unserviceable material. The term "unserviceable material" means scrap, salvage, and other material that has no reasonable prospect of sale for use as a unit either in its existing form or after minor repairs. [JTR 411.18]

§ 844.411–19 Use representation. The term "use representation" means a written representation in the following form:

> The undersigned represents to the United States that the material covered by this agreement is retained or purchased by him, as the case may be, for his manufacturing, construction, maintenance, or repair purposes and that he intends to use or consume the material for said purposes, and that he is not retaining or purchasing the material with the intention of reselling in its existing form at a profit.

§ 844.412 Disposition of contractor inventory. [JTR 412]

§ 844.412–1 Relation to settlement. Under the Contract Settlement Act, when a war contract is terminated the war contractor is entitled to fair compensation, including the cost of material allocable to the terminated portion of the contract. As an incident to the allowance of such fair compensation, the war contractor is required either to deliver the material for which compensation is allowed or to credit in the termination settlement the agreed value of material retained and the proceeds of material sold. [JTR 412.1]

§ 844.412–2 General policy. (a) In order to further the objectives of the Surplus Property Act, the Surplus Property Board has empowered the War and Navy Depatments to authorize any war contractor to retain or sell contractor inventory in accordance with Regulation No. 9 of the Board (Part 8309 of Title 32).

(b) The policy of the Government is to encourage war contractors to retain for use at the best price obtainable as large amounts as possible of all types of contractor inventory for their manufacturing, construction, maintenance, or repair purposes. The policy of the Government also is to authorize sales by war contractors under circumstances which will yield the best price obtainable by competitive bidding, or by negotiation in certain cases.

(c) All types of contractor inventory are to be treated alike, for purposes of disposition. [JTR 412.2]

§ 844.412–3 Retentions by subcontractors. Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board (Part 8309 of Title 32) provides that it is the policy of the Board that subcontractors shall be permitted to retain, as against their upper tier contractors, such contractor inventories as they desire, and that exceptions to this policy shall be permitted only in cases where contract rights of upper tier contractors make it necessary. This policy is called to the attention of war contractors in Instructions to Prime Contractors (§ 849.943) and Instructions to Subcontractors (§ 849.944). Representatives of the War and Navy Departments will use their best efforts to carry out the policies set forth in this section, consistent with the contract rights of upper tier contractors. Under this subchapter upper tier contractors have authority, in certain cases, to approve retentions and sales of contractor inventory by their subcontractors, in order to expedite the settlement of claims and the disposition of material. Such approval should be granted promptly for retentions and sales in accordance with this part. [JTR 412.3]

§ 844.412–4 Disposition not to delay settlement or removal. The Contract Settlement Act provides that the contracting officer shall not delay a termination settlement beyond the plant clearance period for the purpose of awaiting disposal by the war contractor or by the Government of any termination inventory. In carrying out the policy of expeditious plant clearance, removal of termination inventory should not be impeded by concentration of effort on disposition of the inventory. [JTR 412.4]

§ 844.413 Plant clearance. (a) Section 12 of the Contract Settlement Act provides that a war contractor may submit a statement listing items of his termination inventory which he desires the Government to remove. This statement (inventory schedule) must be prepared in the form and detail and must be submitted in the manner prescribed in this subchapter. Within sixty days, or such longer time as may be agreed, after the war contractor submits a termination inventory schedule in satisfactory form, the Government is under a duty to store or to remove the listed items not retained or sold. This regulation follows Regulation No. 10 of the Office of Contract Settlement with respect to plant clearance. (See Part 8051 of Title 32)

(b) The policy of the War and Navy Departments is to clear plants of all types of contractor inventory within the plant clearance period, subject to the qualifications stated in § 844.460. [JTR 413]

§ 844.414 Supply contract provisions on retentions and sales. [JTR 414]

§ 844.414–1 Fixed-price prime contracts. The uniform termination article for use in fixed-price supply prime contracts provides in part as follows:

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall • • • (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph provided, however, that the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; • • •

Many earlier termination articles contained similar provisions. [JTR 414.1]

§ 844.414–2 Cost - plus - a - fixed - fee prime contracts. The uniform termination article for use in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply prime contracts contains provisions substantially the same as the provisions of the fixed-price contract article quoted in § 844.414–1. Under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, as well as certain fixed-price prime contracts which provide specifically therefor, title to the property acquired in connection with the performance of the contract is vested in the Government. Such property may, however, be retained or sold by the prime contractor as set forth in § 844.432–2. [JTR 414.2]

§ 844.414–3 Subcontracts. The approved termination article for fixed-price supply subcontracts provides in part as follows:

(c) With the consent of the buyer, the seller may retain at an agreed price or sell at an approved price any completed articles, or any articles, materials, work in process or other things the cost of which is allocable or apportionable to this order • • •, and will credit or pay the amounts so agreed or received as the buyer directs. As directed by the buyer, the seller will transfer title to, and make delivery of, any such articles, materials, work in process or other things not so retained or sold. Appropriate adjustment will be made for delivery costs or savings therein.

§ 844.415 Diversion of contractor inventory to continuing war contracts. [JTR 415]

§ 844.415–1 General policy. The policy of the Government, upon termination of war contracts, is to divert contractor inventory to continuing war production. Whenever a saving to the Government would result, such inventory should be employed on other war contracts of the contractor or sold to another war contractor, even if this necessitates the termination of subcontracts. The allocability to the terminated contract of common items and of material diverted to other war contracts of the contractor will be determined in accordance with § 845.555. Section 845.556 describes the methods of compensating the war contractor for the costs incurred. Diversions for war production under the authority of this section may be made without regard to the requirements applicable to sales stated in § 844.445. [JTR 415.1]

§ 844.415–2 Government-owned material. Government-owned contractor inventory remaining after termination of a war contract should be diverted by a sale, or a transfer of accountability to continuing cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or other war contracts which by their provisions vest title to material in the Government, or should be diverted by sale or as Government-furnished material or equipment to fixed-price war contractors. [JTR 415.2]

§ 844.415–3 Determination of price. For the purpose of determining the price at which material is retained or sold, charges for the termination of subcontracts may be taken into consideration. (See § 845.556.) Such charges, however, shall not be considered for purposes of determining whether the price conforms to the applicable price policy or whether approval or review of a retention or sale is required. [JTR 415.3]

§ 844.416 Scope of authority of contracting officer and his representatives. [JTR 416]

§ 844.416–1 Within the War Department. (a) The contracting officer is authorized to act for the War Department in making and approving dispositions of contractor inventory, subject to review by a reviewing authority in certain cases as provided in § 844.449. The functions assigned the contracting officer under this part, may be delegated by him or may be divided by the service among any military or civilian personnel, such as termination contracting officers, property disposal officers, accountants, inspectors, and others. As used in this part, the term "contracting officer" includes all such persons.

(b) The contracting officer, on his own initiative or at the request of a war contractor, may authorize a local representative to act for him in the district or geographical area in which the war contractor's plant is located. [JTR 416.1]

§ 844.416–2 Within the Navy Department. (a) In the Navy Department certain functions of the contracting officer relating to the handling of contractor inventory are specifically assigned to the Navy Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration or to Navy material inspectors. As used in this part, the term "contracting officer" includes the representatives of the NMR&DA and Navy material inspectors authorized to perform these functions.

(b) The NMR&DA has general authority to make or approve those dispositions of contractor inventory which the Navy Department is permitted by law or required by this subchapter to make or approve (including disposition of material as scrap or salvage), and to arrange for storage or removal of contractor inventory not retained by the war contractor or otherwise disposed of, subject only to the authority of the contracting officer to make or approve certain dispositions set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d). A retention or sale of contractor inventory made or approved by the NMR&DA is subject to review by a reviewing authority in certain cases as provided in § 844.449.

(c) Property Disposition Directive No. 1, Navy Procurement Directive paragraph 15001 and following, grants to the chiefs of the several bureaus and the Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps, and the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, authority to execute certain transfers or contracts for the sale of property. They are further authorized to delegate their authority to such persons as they may designate. A Navy contracting officer may execute any transfer of property within the scope of authority delegated to him pursuant to Property Disposition Directive No. 1.

(d) The Navy contracting officer may make or approve a retention by the war contractor in possession or a sale to another war contractor of contractor inventory, if any such war contractor will execute a use representation as defined in § 844.411–9. Such a retention or sale made or approved by a contracting officer is subject to review and approval by a bureau disposal board in certain cases as provided in § 844.449. The Navy contracting officer may also require transfer to the Government of items which the bureau wishes to acquire for construction, production or supply purposes. A Navy contracting officer is not authorized to make or approve dispositions of contractor inventory except as set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d).

(e) The Navy material inspector cognizant of a particular war contractor is a general representative of the contracting officer in the field, unless the contracting officer specifically limits or withdraws such authority in a particular case. The Navy material inspector cognizant of a war contractor is not authorized to make or approve dispositions of the contractor's inventory unless authorized or directed by the contracting officer to make or approve dispositions within the contracting officer's authority. The cognizant Navy material inspector's specific responsibilities in connection with the handling of contractor inventories include the following:

(1) He will notify the local representative of the NMR&DA immediately after receipt of a copy of the termination notice in each case where it appears that action may be required to be taken for the disposition of contractor inventory, so that the NMR&DA representative can carry out any possible disposition operations with the war contractor prior to submission of inventory schedules and can render assistance in the determination of whether inventory schedules are satisfactory in form.

(2) He is authorized to receive inventory schedules from the war contractor and to advise the war contractor in their preparation. He will deliver copies of such schedules to the local NMR&DA representative for disposition purposes.

(3) He is authorized to determine when inventory schedules are satisfactory in form for storage or removal purposes and will notify the local representative of the NMR&DA of the receipt of such schedules, in order that storage or removal arrangements may be made within the plant clearance period. The Navy material inspector will, whenever possible, seek the advice of the local NMR&DA representative in examining inventory schedules to determine whether they are satisfactory in form.

(4) He will see that the war contractor lists Government-owned material and production and supply items separately, and he will transmit schedules listing such material in accordance with instructions from the contracting officer or cognizant bureau.

(5) He will arrange for the removal or transfer of items of contractor inventory required by the bureau for production or supply purposes.

(6) He will arrange with the contractor for the packaging and handling of contractor inventory removed from the war contractor's plant or stored with the contractor.

(7) He will verify items listed on an inventory schedule when such items are to be removed from the war contractor's premises or stored under a storage agreement.

(8) He will, in connection with the preparation of his comments on the settlement proposal, give the contracting officer and the local NMR&DA representative his comments as to whether the material claimed to be termination inventory is properly allocable to the terminated war contract. [JTR 416.2]

SUBPART B—SUBMISSION OF INVENTORY SCHEDULES

§ 844.420 Scope. This subpart covers the preparation and submission of inventory schedules (a) to support the war contractor's settlement proposal, (b) to facilitate the disposition of contractor inventory, and (c) to provide the information necessary for plant clearance. [JTR 420]

§ 844.421 Schedules not required with Form 1a. Whenever the proposal for settlement of a terminated fixed-price war contract is to be submitted on Form 1a, no inventory schedules are required. This form is to be used only if the war contractor will retain or dispose of all termination inventory and the net amount of the proposed settlement is less than $1,000. The war contractor will state briefly on the form the nature of the inventory, how much of it was sold and how much retained, and the manner in which sales prices and the value of inventory retained were determined. Acceptance of a settlement proposal on this form will constitute approval of the price which the war contractor offers for the entire inventory, including the proceeds of any sales which he has made. [JTR 421]

§ 844.422 Prescribed forms of inventory schedules. [JTR 422]

§ 844.422–1 Termination inventory resulting from terminated fixed-price supply war contracts. The following inventory schedules (reproduced in § 849.962) have been approved by the Office of Contract Settlement for use with the Standard Forms for settlement proposals under fixed-price war supply contracts (other than Form 1a):

Form 2a—Metals (in mill product form).
Form 2b—Raw Materials (other than metals), Purchased Parts, Finished Components, Finished Product, and Miscellaneous.
Form 2c—Work in Process.
Form 2d—Dies, Jigs, Fixtures, etc., and Special Tools.

§ 844.422–2 Other types of contractor inventory. (a) The inventory schedules referred to in § 844.422–1 shall be used by war contractors, for purposes of disposal or plant clearance, in connection with terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contracts and for listing other types of contractor inventory, unless otherwise directed by the chief of a service or bureau. However, plant equipment which is not a part of termination inventory will be listed on Forms 5 and 5a of the Office of Contract Settlement.

(b) Where the forms are used for such purposes, the certificate set forth in § 849.962–3 should be modified, as applied to items title to which has passed to the Government, to eliminate the statement by the contractor that the quantities are not in excess of the reasonable quantitative requirements of the terminated portion of the contract and that title is tendered to the Government.

(c) The contracting officer may permit the war contractor to eliminate the cost data wholly or in part from the inventory schedules originally submitted, but in such event the contracting officer should supply the cost data on surplus property to be declared to a disposal agency. [JTR 422.2]

§ 844.423 Time and purpose of submitting inventory schedules. [JTR 423]

§ 844.423–1 In support of settlement proposal. To support the war contractor's settlement proposal on a Standard Form (other than Form 1a), complete inventory schedules must be submitted with the final settlement proposal or prior to its submission, except as otherwise provided in § 845.526. [JTR 423.1]

§ 844.423–2 To facilitate disposition. In order to obtain prompt approval of recommendations that material is unserviceable or scrap, or of proposed retentions or sales of material, a war contractor may submit inventory schedules at any time. Schedules may be submitted before submission of the settlement proposal, and should not be delayed in order to supply complete cost data on items of work in process where this is not readily available. In such cases estimated costs may be given. The war contractor may group items which he considers unserviceable, as provided in § 844.425–2. Cost data on raw materials and purchased parts are generally available and should be given. Partial schedules may be submitted provided that they cover substantial portions of the contractor inventory. [JTR 423.2]

§ 844.423–3 To start the running of the plant clearance period. The plant clearance period shall be deemed to commence, as to items listed on an inventory schedule, on the date the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) receives the schedule in form which he determines to be satisfactory for storage or removal purposes in accordance with § 844.427. In order to start the running of the plant clearance period a war contractor may submit an inventory schedule at any time. For this purpose, partial schedules may be submitted provided that they cover substantial portions of the contractor inventory. [JTR 423.3]

§ 844.424 To whom schedules submitted. [JTR 424]

§ 844.424–1 By prime contractors. Prime contractors will submit inventory schedules for all purposes to their contracting officers. Navy prime contractors will submit their schedules via their cognizant Navy material inspectors. [JTR 424.1]

§ 844.424–2 By subcontractors. (a) In all cases, subcontractors will submit inventory schedules to the next higher tier contractor. When the termination claim of a subcontractor under a Navy prime contract is $10,000 or more, computed according to § 841.122, the subcontractor will submit his schedules via his cognizant Navy material inspector, who will forward copies of such schedules to the next higher tier war contractor and to the local representative of NMR&DA.

(b) In addition, where the contracting officer or a reviewing authority must approve a proposed determination or disposition of material by a subcontractor, the subcontractor under a War Department prime contract will transmit to the contracting officer copies of the pertinent schedule. Such a schedule may be limited to a list of items to be included in the proposed determination or disposition. In the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA is responsible for approving a determination or disposition.

(c) The next higher tier contractor will not forward inventory schedules which he receives from a subcontractor except:

(1) As directed to do so by the contracting officer; or

(2) In support of the subcontractor's settlement proposal, if the settlement with the subcontractor is forwarded for review or approval pursuant to § 846.644.

(d) If a subcontractor wishes to start the running of the plant clearance period for material which he desires the Government to store or to remove, he must submit copies of inventory schedules, satisfactory in form as provided in § 844.427, to the contracting officer or to his local authorized representative. In the case of the Navy, such schedules shall be submitted to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the subcontractor. On request, the contracting officer will inform a subcontractor of the name and address (1) in the case of the War Department, of the contracting officer's authorized representative, if one has been appointed, for the district in which the subcontractor's plant is located, or (2) of the subcontractor's cognizant Navy material inspector. (In most cases the termination notice to the subcontractor will include the name and address of the contracting officer and the number of the prime contract.) [JTR 424.2]

§ 844.425 Requirements as to form of inventory schedules. [JTR 425]

§ 844.425–1 General. Contractor inventory must be listed on the appropriate schedules referred to in § 844.422. Detailed instructions for the use of the schedules are contained in the "Instructions for Use of Standard Contract Settlement Proposal Forms," set forth in § 849.964. Each schedule must state the contract number of the prime contract. All material listed on a schedule must be at the same location. Government-owned material (including Government-furnished material and equipment) should be separately listed and marked to show that the items are Government-owned. Material subject to special arrangements for disposal, as set forth in § 844.452–3, or items on a production and supply list of a service or bureau, should also be separately listed. Where several war contracts are grouped for termination settlement purposes, the contracts shall be identified, but the schedules need not separate material by contracts. [JTR 425.1]

§ 844.425–2 Description of items. (a) The inventory schedules must contain a separate listing of each item of material included, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. An adequate description of the items listed is essential to enable prospective purchasers to identify particular items, and to accomplish efficient removal or storage of contractor inventory. A commercial description of all metals and of other items believed to have commercial value must be given; stock numbers and prefixes, manufacturers' part numbers, and standard catalog reference numbers should be supplied. For other items, the war contractor need furnish only such description as is sufficient to enable the contracting officer or next higher tier contractor to approve a disposition. In describing items listed on inventory schedules, the war contractor shall be guided by the "Handbook of Standards for Describing Surplus Property," prepared by the War Production Board.

(b) The war contractor need not itemize on an inventory schedule material he believes unserviceable or scrap, provided he segregates the material and prepares a list adequate for purposes of determination that the material is unserviceable or scrap. This list should provide a general record of the material and its cost. If the material is determined to be unserviceable or scrap, the war contractor, with the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA), may make a single descriptive entry for all of it on his inventory schedule and may indicate only its total cost.

(c) Items having a cost of less than $100 each need not be listed separately. These may be grouped together under a "sundry" caption with only a general description of the types of items, provided their aggregate cost does not exceed $5,000, or 20 percent of the total inventory cost, whichever is less. For this purpose, the term "item" means all substantially similar articles in the inventory at any one location. Such listing will be deemed satisfactory in form for storage or removal purposes, provided that at least twenty days before the end of the plant clearance period, the war contractor submits a supplementary schedule listing such items, not to be retained or disposed of, with an adequate description and classification in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section and § 844.425.3. [JTR 425.2]

§ 844.425.3 Classification of items. (a) A classified arrangement of listed items is required to start the running of the plant clearance period, except in the case of work in process, and material having no commercial value. Detailed instructions for classifying items on the inventory schedules are set forth in Appendix A to the "Instructions for Use of Standard Contract Settlement Proposal Forms" (§ 849.964).

(b) War contractors may submit inventory schedules which do not contain the prescribed classification of listed items. This will expedite the submission of a settlement proposal and avoid classifying items which may be disposed of. Such a schedule will not start the running of the plant clearance period until a supplementary schedule is submitted containing the prescribed classification. [JTR 425.3]

§ 844.425–4 Recommendations of war contractors. War contractors should make scrap recommendations by inserting an "S" in column 7 of the inventory schedules, as stated in the instruction for use of inventory schedules (§ 849.964). Under Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board (Part 8309 of Title 32) contractor inventory may be determined to be unserviceable without a separate determination that any particular material may be scrap. Where the war contractor considers that material is unserviceable, but not necessarily scrap, he should insert the letter "X" in column 3 of the inventory schedules (column 7, in the case of Form 2c) opposite the description of the material. [JTR 425.4]

§ 844.426 Inventory schedule certificate. [JTR 426]

§ 844.426–1 Certificate to accompany all schedules. Each inventory schedule or set of schedules submitted together must be accompanied by a certificate in the form set forth in Appendix B to the "Instructions for Use of Standard Contract Settlement Proposal Forms" (§ 849.964). [JTR 426.1]

§ 844.426–2 Tender of title. Government officers may rely upon the representation of the war contractor in his certificate that title to material listed in the attached schedules is tendered free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. Unless otherwise agreed, the Government will not accept title until the War or Navy Department takes possession of contractor inventory. [JTR 426.2]

§ 844.426–3 Statement of storage space. Where the war contractor indicates in the prescribed form of certificate that he is willing to negotiate with the Government to store all or part of the material listed, he should attach a statement of the approximate amount he is willing to store on acceptable terms. [JTR 426.3]

§ 844.426–4 Change of certificate accompanying unclassified schedules. Whenever unclassified schedules are submitted as provided in § 844.425–3, the statements regarding storage or removal by the Government and tender of title by the war contractor contained in the second paragraph of the prescribed form of certificate should be omitted. [JTR 426.4]

§ 844.427 Acceptance of schedules as satisfactory in form for storage or removal. [JTR 427]

§ 844.427–1 Meaning of satisfactory in form. (a) Inventory schedules must be submitted in satisfactory form to start the running of the plant clearance period. Such schedules must meet the general requirements referred to in § 844–425–1, must contain an adequate description and classification of items listed in accordance with §§ 844.425–2 and 844.425–3, and must be accompanied by the prescribed certificate referred to in § 844.426.

(b) In addition, in order to obligate the Government to store or remove termination inventory, subcontractors shall supply a certificate from the next higher tier contractor that in his opinion the termination inventory listed in the schedules is allocable to the subcontractor's terminated contract, unless the contracting officer (or, in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) agrees to accept, in lieu of such certificate, other evidence of allocability which he deems satisfactory. If commencement of the plant clearance period will be delayed unduly by having to procure such a certificate, the subcontractor need not include the certificate with his original submission of inventory schedules, but may submit it at a later date. However, the Government will be under no obligation to remove termination inventory until twenty days after receipt of the certificate (or other satisfactory evidence of allocability) or until the end of the plant clearance period, whichever is the later.

(c) Acceptance of an inventory schedule as satisfactory in form for storage or removal purposes will not affect the Government's right to require additional information on any listed item, to contest the allocability of any item, or to exclude any listed item on any proper ground. [JTR 427.1]

§ 844.427–2 Return of schedules not found satisfactory. (a) The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) to whom a schedule is submitted will determine whether it is satisfactory in form for purposes of storage or removal by the Government of items listed. If the officer to whom a schedule is submitted considers that it is not satisfactory in form for purposes of storage or removal, he will return the schedule within ten days from the time he receives it, with a brief statement of its deficiencies. The schedule will be deemed to have been returned on the date it is mailed or delivered by hand to the war contractor. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, if a schedule is not so returned to the war contractor within ten days of its receipt, the schedule will be considered satisfactory in form for purposes of storage or removal and the plant clearance period will commence to run from the date the schedule was first received.

(b) Where an unclassified schedule is submitted without the certificate required by § 844.426–1, or where a schedule, whether classified or unclassified, is submitted with a certificate, but the certificate has been modified in accordance with § 844.426–4, no action need be taken to return the schedule as not satisfactory in form for storage or removal purposes. [JTR 427.2]

§ 844.428 Notification to war contractor of disposition of material. Every effort should be made by the contracting officer and the war contractor to determine which items of contractor inventory the Government will require for its own use, and which items can be otherwise disposed of prior to the submission of inventory schedules. If practicable, within twenty days after the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) receives an inventory schedule, the war contractor will be notified which items the owning agency will require for its use. Such notice should be given at the time of termination, where practicable. Except where the war contractor is authorized to dispose of contractor inventory without approval of the contracting officer, he will also be notified, if practicable, within such twenty-day period, which items may be disposed of as unserviceable or as scrap, and which items the war contractor will be permitted to retain for his own use at prices agreed upon. The authority of the contracting officer to approve disposal of material however, is not limited to such twenty-day period. [JTR 428]

SUBPART C—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AUTHORITY TO MAKE AND APPROVE DISPOSITIONS

§ 844.430 Scope. This subpart contains the general provisions relating to the authority of war contractors and representatives of the War and Navy Departments to make and approve dispositions of contractor inventory. The price policies and conditions applicable to specific situations are stated in subpart D. [JTR 430]

§ 844.431 Basic policy. (a) Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board (see Part 8309 of Title 32) empowers owning agencies to authorize war contractors to dispose of contractor inventory, and establishes certain price policies governing the disposition of contractor inventory.

(b) In disposing of contractor inventory war contractors and representatives of the owning agency should attempt to realize as much as possible. Whenever approval of retentions and sales is required, compliance with the price policies is a matter to be determined according to the best judgment of the contracting officer or of the next higher tier war contractor approving the retention or sale, subject to the approval of a reviewing authority where required. Officers authorized to make and approve retentions and sales will be supported by higher authority in the exercise of their honest judgment. [JTR 431]

§ 844.432 Authority and responsibility of war contractors to dispose of contractor inventory. [JTR 432]

§ 844.432–1 Basic authorization. Pursuant to Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board (Part 8309 of Title 32), war contractors are authorized to retain or to sell contractor inventory in accordance with the provisions of this part. In certain cases, as provided in this part, subcontractors are authorized to retain or sell contractor inventory with the approval of their next higher tier contractor. In such cases, the next higher tier contractors are authorized to and should approve retentions or sales by their subcontractors which meet the requirements set forth in this part. [JTR 432.1]

§ 844.432–2 War contractor's authority, where title is in the Government. (a) Where Government-owned material or material acquired or produced under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contract or other war contract which provides that title to it shall vest in the Government, is in the possession of the war contractor, he may dispose of it in accordance with this subchapter.

(b) Certain contracts of these types provide that the proceeds of any such disposition shall be applied in reduction of payments to be made under the war contract. The uniform termination article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts (§ 849.932) contains such a provision with respect to termination inventory. Where any contract of this type does not contain such provision, it should be amended to include it. The Instructions to Prime Contractors (§ 849.943) provide that the contractor is authorized to dispose of Government-owned material, and to credit the proceeds against the termination claim, and that if the contract does not provide for such disposition and credit, it will be deemed to be amended accordingly upon the contractor's exercise of this authority.

(c) Where the contract contains such a provision or has been amended in accordance with paragraph (b), the proceeds of any retention or other disposition of such Government-owned inventory may be applied to reduce the amount otherwise payable under the contract, unless the contracting officer otherwise directs. Where the contract does not contain such a provision and is not amended in accordance with paragraph (b), such proceeds must be paid over to the Government and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. [JTR 432.1]

§ 844.432–3 General restrictions on war contractor's authority. The authority of a war contractor to dispose of contractor inventory or to authorize or approve a disposition by a subcontractor is subject to the following general restrictions, in addition to the restrictions specifically set forth in this part:

(a) Any applicable Government restrictions upon the disposition of secret, confidential, or restricted material, or existing contract provisions regarding the disposition of material under the contract, or any restriction on the disposition of material subject to a lien, shall govern such disposition, notwithstanding the provisions of this subchapter.

(b) The contracting officer may require any item of contractor inventory to be transferred to the Government. He will do so in the case of critical items or other items which the Government wishes to acquire for production or supply purposes.

(c) The contracting officer may require that no disposition of Government-furnished equipment and material be effected without his approval, and he may specify methods for preparing and routing inventory schedules of such equipment or material.

(d) If a service or bureau has entered into a special agreement with a disposal agency covering the disposition of certain classes of contractor inventory, the war contractor may not dispose of such material except as provided in §844.452–3.

(e) War contractors shall not sell contractor inventory to persons known by them to be officers, enlisted personnel or civilian employees of the War or Navy Department.

(f) A war contractor will not retain or sell his contractor inventory, nor approve a retention or sale by his subcontractor, unless the price is the best price obtainable and one that he would approve if reimbursement by the Government were not involved.

(g) The authority of a subcontractor to retain or sell contractor inventory with the approval of the next higher tier contractor does not extend (1) to a sale by a subcontractor to the next higher tier war contractor or to an affiliate of such war contractor, or (2) to a retention or sale by a subcontractor affiliated with the next higher tier contractor. Such sales require the specific approval of the contracting officer. For this purpose a contractor is considered to be affiliated with another person if they are under common control or if there is any common interest between them, by reason of stock ownership or otherwise, which is sufficient to create a reasonable doubt that the bargaining between them is completely at arm's length. The decision of the war contractor as to this question may be accepted by the contracting officer in the absence of information to the contrary.

(h) The authority granted to war contractors to retain or sell, or to approve retention or sale by a subcontractor, of contractor inventory, does not include the authority to destroy or abandon worthless material or to approve destruction or abandonment of worthless property without the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer or the Navy material inspector when the war contractor submits his claim properly on Form 1a) or disposal board, required by § 844.447–2. [JTR 432.3]

§ 844.432–4 Revocation of war contractor's authority. The contracting officer may at any time revoke or restrict the authority of a war contractor to make or approve sales and retentions of contractor inventory. The revocation or restriction will not operate retroactively. The contracting officer may cancel such revocation. [JTR 432.4]

§ 844.432–5 Finality of authorized dispositions. Authorized retentions or sales of contractor inventory which meet the requirements of this part, including dispositions which do not require the approval of the contracting officer, will be accepted by the Government as final and conclusive, in the absence of fraud. [JTR 432.5]

§ 844.433 Authority of War and Navy Departments to dispose of contractor inventory. [JTR 433]

§ 844.433–1 General. The War and Navy Departments, before taking possession, may dispose of contractor inventory title to which is in the Government or tendered to the Government, in the following cases.

(a) Redistribution within War or Navy Department, in accordance with §844.433–2;

(b) Dispositions under the Surplus Property Act:

(1) Dispositions for war production purposes, in accordance with § 844.433–3;

(2) Sales of scrap, salvage, waste, small lots, emergency disposals, and destruction or abandonment of worthless property, in accordance with Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 9 (Part 8309 of Title 32) (see Subpart D).

(3) Sales of plant equipment in accordance with Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 6 (Part 8306 of Title 32).

(c) Dispositions under statutory authority other than the Surplus Property Act, in accordance with § 844.433–4. [JTR 433.1]

§ 844.433–2 Redistribution within War or Navy Department—(a) Within the War Department. To accomplish redistribution of contractor inventory for authorized production or supply requirements, contracting officers should cooperate fully with district organizations and industry integrating committees, and take such independent action as may be proper under the circumstances. Circularization, however, is not required. The chief of a service will furnish contracting officers lists of items which are to be referred to him for redistribution assistance. If no such lists are furnished, the contracting officer will exercise his judgment in referring significant items to the chief of the service. The chief of the service will give prompt consideration to the utilization of such items within his own service, and, informally, may bring selected items to the attention of other services. Redistribution efforts by the chief of a service under this section will not be permitted to delay or to limit local disposition, except as the chief of service may direct.

(b) Within the Navy Department. To accomplish redistribution of contractor inventory, but avoid unnecessary circularization, each bureau shall endeavor to inform its contracting officers and Navy material inspectors of the types of material needed for its production and supply requirements. Where such lists are used, the disposition procedures set forth in this Subpart D may be appropriately modified with the approval of the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OF&M, except that the requirements for removal and storage set forth in Subpart F must be met. The NMR&DA will be responsible for general redistribution among the bureaus and activities of the Navy Department. The NMR&DA may, to the extent deemed desirable by it, circularize inventory schedules among the bureaus, or effect such redistribution as is practicable by its Material Redistribution and Disposal Offices in the field through local action with Navy material inspectors or other local representatives of the Navy Department. [JTR 433.2]

§ 844.433–3 Dispositions for war production purposes. Nothing in Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board (Part 8309 of Title 32) applies to retentions or disposals of property for war production purposes. The War and Navy Departments may dispose of, and authorize the disposition of, contractor inventory for war production purposes. Such dispositions will be governed, in the War Department, by Part 823 of Subchapter B and, in the Navy Department, by Property Disposition Directive No. 1. [JTR 433.3]

§ 844.433–4 Dispositions under statutory authority other than the Surplus Property Act. (a) Section 34 of the Surplus Property Act provides that "this act shall not impair or affect any authority for the disposition of property under any other law, except that the Board may prescribe regulations to cover any disposition of surplus property under any such authority." Regulation No. 9 of the Surplus Property Board applies only to dispositions under the Surplus Property Act.

(b) Under statutory authority other than the Surplus Property Act, transfers to Government agencies, sales, donations, loans, exchanges, and other dispositions of contractor inventory, title to which is in the Government, will be made in the case of the War Department, in accordance with Subchapter B and, in the case of the Navy Department, in accordance with Property Disposition Directive No. 1. [JTR 433.4]

§ 844.434 Approval of dispositions. [JTR 434]

§ 844.434–1 Authority of contracting officer. Whenever a disposition of contractor inventory requires the approval of the contracting officer, such approval may be given for a particular transaction, or advance approval may be given where prices or stated discounts from costs have been determined for selected items or selected classes of material. [JTR 434.1]

§ 844.434–2 Authority of war contractors to approve dispositions by subcontractors. (a) War contractors are authorized to approve retensions and sales of small inventories in accordance with § 844.444.

(b) The contracting officer may authorize a war contractor, regardless of the amount of his claim, to approve retentions and sales by his subcontractor, where the cost of the material to be disposed of in a single disposition does not exceed $10,000. Such retentions and sales are subject to review under the conditions stated in § 844.449. No disposition will be divided into separate transactions for the purpose of avoiding the limit fixed for a single disposition. The contracting officer may establish conditions and fix limits under which the war contractor may approve disposition of specific classes of material, individual items, or lots. The authority granted under this section to approve dispositions of contractor inventory includes the authority to determine that material is unserviceable, whenever such determination is required.

(c) Any authority granted to a war contractor under this section shall be subject to the restrictions set forth in § 844.432–3, and shall be exercised only in accordance with requirements and price policies set forth in subpart D. [JTR 434.1]

§ 844.439 Regulations of other agencies. [JTR 439]

§ 844.439–1 War Production Board regulations. Priority Regulation No. 13 of the War Production Board imposes certain restrictions on the disposition of termination inventory. War contractors and contracting officers shall comply with that regulation. Representatives of the War and Navy Departments, however, are not responsible for policing a war contractor's compliance with War Production Board regulations in the case of dispositions of contractor-owned termination inventory by the contractor. In approving such dispositions by the contractor, such representatives may rely on the contractor to comply with any applicable regulations. Representatives of the War and Navy Departments responsible for making or approving dispositions of Government-owned termination inventory may rely upon the buyer's statement that a purchase is in compliance with all War Production Board regulations affecting the buyer, unless there is reason to believe that such representation is false. This representation should be incorporated in each written contract of sale [JTR 439.1]

§ 844.439–2 Regulations of Office of Price Administration—(a) General. All dispositions of contractor inventory are subject to OPA Supplementary Order No. 94, which establishes price regulations covering retentions and sales of contractor inventory.

(b) Retention or sale of contractor inventory at acquisition cost. (1) A retention or sale of any item of raw material, supplies, component parts, semi-processed and semi-fabricated material in a contractor inventory not exempt and not made in reliance upon a certificate, nevertheless complies with OPA regulations if made at a price not exceeding acquisition cost (although a sale may be made at a price in excess of acquisition cost if it complies with OPA regulations).

(2) "Acquisition cost" of contractor inventory means the purchase price, plus freight, if any, paid by the war contractor for the item, and may be averaged. Freight charges which cannot be definitely assigned or allocated to the item may be estimated. Where the item has been fabricated or processed by the war contractor, direct labor costs plus the appropriate allocable factory overhead (which may be estimated if actual figures are not available) may be added to the acquisition cost. For purposes of determining compliance with OPA regulations, the cost shown by war contractors on termination inventory schedules may be accepted by contracting officers as representing acquisition cost. The acquisition cost of property furnished to the war contractor by the Government may be estimated, if the actual cost is unknown or cannot reasonably be ascertained.

(c) Exemptions from price ceilings. Price ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration do not apply to a sale of contractor inventory (other than a sale of food) where the sale is:

(1) To another Government agency;

(2) To any foreign government or agency thereof;

(3) To a prime contractor (but not to a subcontractor) for use in carrying out his prime contract with a Government agency;

(4) To any relief organization for donation or export sale;

(5) Of a single item or group of items where the sale price estimated to be obtainable for all substantially similar items available for sale at the place of sale does not exceed $300;

(6) Of scrap metal to a dealer in such material purchasing solely for resale, provided that:

(i) The dealer certifies that he is purchasing such material for resale and that in reselling he will not exceed the applicable OPA maximum prices, and

(ii) The seller has no reason to doubt the accuracy of the dealer's certificate.

(d) Reliance on buyer's certificate. Unless war contractors and contracting officers have reason to doubt the accuracy of the certificate hereinafter set forth, they may make any sale of contractor inventory (other than of food), without verifying OPA ceiling prices, in reliance upon a certificate in the following form executed by the buyer:

> The undersigned hereby certifies that the price paid (to be paid) (to be credited to the Government) for the goods purchased (to be purchased) (to be retained by the undersigned) under (identify contract, bid or quotation) does not exceed one of the following:
> (a) The maximum price applicable to purchases by the undersigned, from usual sources of supply, of the goods in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in such contract (bid, quotation), or
> (b) The maximum selling price applicable to sales by the undersigned, in its capacity as a manufacturer, producer or processor of the same goods, disregarding minor differences in specifications or design, in the quantity and at the place of delivery specified in such contract (bid, quotation).

SUBPART D—PRICE POLICIES AND CONDITIONS APPLICABLE TO SPECIFIC DISPOSITIONS

§ 844.440 Scope. (a) This subpart sets forth the price policies and conditions applicable to sales and retentions in specific situations, and states the requirements for review. Any specific sale or retention by a war contractor is subject to the general restrictions on his authority set forth in § 884.432–3.

(b) The table preceding this subpart summarizes the price policies and requirements for each type of retention and sale of contractor inventory by war contractors. This table is a general guide only.[1] [JTR 440]

§ 844.441 Determinations not required in certain cases. A determination that material is unserviceable, scrap or salvage is not required in connection with the following types of retentions or sales:

(a) Retentions and sales at cost, in accordance with § 844.442.

(b) Retentions and sales of sundry items, in accordance with § 844.443.

(c) Retentions and sales of small inventories, in accordance with § 844.444.

(d) Retentions and sales of small lots, in accordance with § 844.445–2.

(e) Retentions for use, in accordance with § 844.445–3. [JTR 441]

§ 844.442 Retentions and sales at cost. (a) War contractors may retain or sell any contractor inventory at cost, without the approval of the contracting officer or the next higher tier contractor. Reasonable freight, packing, and handling charges on items sold may be included in the termination claim.

(b) For purposes of this section, the cost of completed articles deliverable under the contract is the contract price. [JTR 442]

[1] Filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

§ 844.443 Retentions and sales of sundry items under $100. War contractors may retain or sell any item of contractor inventory at the best price obtainable, where the total cost of the item does not exceed $100: Provided, That the aggregate cost of all items so retained or sold does not exceed $5,000, or 20 per cent of the total inventory cost, whichever is less. The term "item", as used in this section, includes all substantially similar articles at any one location listed on any one inventory schedule. Such retentions and sales may be made without the approval of the contracting officer or next higher tier contractor. [JTR 443]

§ 844.444 Retentions and sales of small inventories. [JTR 444]

§ 844.444–1 When termination claim is submitted on Form 1a. (a) A war contractor may retain or sell contractor inventory at the best price obtainable whenever his termination claim is properly submitted on Form 1c, in accordance with this subchapter. However, material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items may not be sold under the authority of this section unless the cost of such material to be sold and the amount of the net termination claim total less than $1,000.

(b) No approval of a specific retention or sale is necessary. Acceptance of the prime contractor's settlement proposal by the contracting officer constitutes approval of the price offered by the prime contractor for the entire inventory. Acceptance of a subcontractor's settlement proposal by the next higher tier contractor constitutes approval of the price offered for the entire inventory, and in such cases approval by the contracting officer is not required. [JTR 441.1]

§ 844.444–2 When termination claim is less than $10,000. (a) A prime contractor may retain or sell any contractor inventory at the best price obtainable with the approval of the contracting officer, whenever the prime contractor's termination claim is less than $10,000 computed according to § 841.122.

(b) A subcontractor may retain or sell any contractor inventory at the best price obtainable, with the approval of the next higher tier contractor, and without the approval of the contracting officer, whenever the subcontractor's termination claim is less than $10,000, computed according to § 841.122.

(c) Completed articles not delivered under the contract, and material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items may not be retained or sold under the authority of this section, unless the cost of such articles and material to be retained or sold and the amount of the contractor's termination claim, computed according to § 841.122, total less than $10,000. [JTR 444.2]

§ 844.445 Retentions and sales by war contractors when termination claim is $10,000 or more. [JTR 445]

§ 844.445–1 General. This section applies when the termination claim is $10,000 or more, computed according to § 841.122. It contains certain general provisions which have special application to such claims (§§ 844.445–2 and 844.445–3). [JTR 445.1]

§ 844.445–2 Retentions and sales of small lots. War contractors may retain or sell small lots of substantially similar items at the best price obtainable. Such retentions and sales require the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA), or the next higher tier contractor authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales. The decision of the person first authorized to make the determination as to which items are substantially similar shall be accepted, except in the event of an obvious error. Small lots shall not be assembled for purposes of a consolidated sale. [JTR 445.2]

§ 844.445–3 Retentions for use. (a) The war contractor may retain for use any contractor inventory at the best price obtainable, with the approval of:

(1) The contracting officer; or

(2) The next higher tier contractor authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales.

Retentions for use are subject to review under the conditions stated in § 844.449. Although no formal determination is required as to whether the material is serviceable or unserviceable, its nature and condition are relevant in determining whether the contractor is retaining the material at the best price obtainable.

(b) The war contractor retaining contractor inventory for use will execute a use representation, except in the following cases:

(1) Retentions at cost, in accordance with § 844.442.

(2) Retentions of sundry items, in accordance with § 844.443; and

(3) Retentions of small lots, in accordance with § 844.445–2. [JTR 445.3]

§ 844.445–4 Retentions and sales by war contractors of unserviceable material on the basis of competitive bidding.—(a) General. A war contractor may retain or sell unserviceable material, when his termination claim is $10,000 or more, as provided in this § 844.445–4. Such retentions and sales shall be made on the basis of competitive bidding, except in the cases mentioned in §§ 844.441 and 844.445–5.

(b) Determinations that material is unserviceable. (1) A war contractor may not sell or retain for resale contractor inventory as unserviceable material under the authority of this section unless it is first determined to be unserviceable.

(2) Unless material affirmatively appears serviceable, it shall be considered unserviceable. The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) will determine which items of contractor inventory are unserviceable, and will notify the war contractor, in writing, of such determination. War contractors have no authority to determine that material is unserviceable, except as permitted under § 844.434–2. However, war contractors should assist Government personnel by recommending that certain items be considered unserviceable, and by noting such recommendations on their inventory schedules.

(3) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has set up a system of field consultants who may be called upon for assistance in determining whether contractor inventory is serviceable or unserviceable. The services of such consultants may be obtained by application to the regional offices of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. War contractors and representatives of the War and Navy Departments should, so far as practicable, confer with and be guided by such consultants. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or other appropriate disposal agency, may certify in writing to the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy the NMR&DA) at any time before the material has been physically transferred to the disposal agency and either before or after the owning agency has taken possession, that the material is in its judgment scrap. In addition, the disposal agency may certify in writing to an owning agency that all material of any specified class is in its judgment scrap when such material is part of any war contractor's contractor inventory. In either case, when material is covered by such a certificate, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy the NMR&DA) may authorize the contractor to dispose of the material or class of material without further review, in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such certificate takes the place of any scrap determination which might otherwise be required.

(4) Unless a scrap certificate has been given by a disposal agency, determination that material, included in any one inventory schedule and located at any one place, is unserviceable must be approved by a reviewing authority pursuant to § 844.449, when the cost of such material is $25,000 or more.

(c) Requirements for competitive bidding.—(1) Invitations to bid. Competitive bidding will be initiated by the issuance of invitations to bid. An invitation to bid will contain a list of material available for sale. It will state the location of the material, when it may be inspected, when and where bids will be opened, and the terms and conditions of sale. The material will be described in sufficient detail to secure intelligent competition from bidders. Lots will be offered in such reasonable quantities as to permit all bidders, small as well as large, to compete on equal terms. Different types of material will be physically segregated whenever practicable.

(2) Public notice. Invitations to bid will be distributed to both large and small prospective purchasers to insure wide public notice concerning the sale. In cases in which the quantity or type of material offered justifies advertising in newspapers or trade publications, that medium of publication may be used.

(3) Interval between notice and sale. The material will not be sold less than seven days after the first distribution of the invitations to bid. During that period an opportunity will be afforded to inspect the material at reasonable times.

(4) List of prospective bidders. The war contractor, within forty-eight hours after invitations to bid have been issued, will provide the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) with a list of the names and addresses of prospective bidders to whom invitations to bid have been furnished, a copy of the invitation to bid, and a copy of any published advertisement. The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) may add names and addresses to the list of persons invited to bid. If the war contractor intends to bid he will include his own name on this list

(5) Formalities of bids. Each bidder will enclose his bid in duplicate in a sealed envelope addressed as directed in the invitation to bid. If the war contractor wishes to retain without a use representation all or part of the material included in the invitation to bid, he must place his bid in a sealed envelope and transmit a copy to the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) in advance of the opening of bids.

(6) Acceptance of bids. Bids will be opened at the place and time specified in the invitation to bid. The war contractor shall accept the highest bid unless he considers it to the best interests of the Government to accept a lower bid. In such case he shall furnish the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) a statement of reasons for accepting the lower bid. The war contractor shall reserve the right to reject any or all bids and, unless otherwise specified by the bidder, to accept any item in the bid.

(7) Approval of contracting officer. The acceptance of any bid is subject to the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer), or the next higher tier contractor authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales. The contracting officer will give such assistance to the war contractor in carrying out the procedures prescribed in this section as may reasonably be requested. [JTR 445.4]

§ 844.445–5 Retentions and sales of scrap without competitive bidding. (a) War contractors may retain or sell scrap without competitive bidding (but with a scrap warranty) in exceptional cases or classes of cases: Provided, That:

(1) A determination has been made by the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy the NMR&DA), approved by the reviewing authority, that the material is scrap, and that it is to the best interest of the Government to dispose of it by negotiated sale; or

(2) A scrap certificate has been given by the disposal agency, as provided in § 844.445–4 and a determination has been made by the owning agency, approved by the reviewing authority, that it is to the best interest of the Government to dispose of it by negotiated sale.

(b) Retentions and sales under this section require the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer), or the next higher tier contractor authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales. [JTR 445.5]

§ 844.445–6 Retentions and sales of serviceable material. (a) The retentions and sales referred to in § 844.441 do not come within the application of this section.

(b) When the war contractor's termination claim is $10,000 or more, he may retain serviceable material or sell serviceable material to any buyer, at the best price obtainable, but not less than 50% of cost.

(1) Where the cost of serviceable material that will be available for sale at any one time at any one location is less than $10,000, the war contractor may retain or sell such material without the necessity of advertising.

(2) Where the cost of serviceable material that will be available for sale at any one time at any one location is $10,000 or more, the contractor shall publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality. The notice shall indicate in general terms the types of material that are expected to be available for sale and shall name a date (not less than seven days from the date of first publication of the notice) on or after which such material will be available for sale. On and after the date of sale fixed in the notice the war contractor may sell the material or portions thereof. He shall conduct sales in the manner in which a reasonably prudent business man would dispose of property in normal commercial transactions, endeavoring to secure the maximum return consistent with expedtious disposition. So far as feasible, lots will be offered in such reasonable quantities as to permit all bidders, small as well as large, to compete on equal terms. Where the war contractor intends to offer to retain the material without a use warranty, he shall, at the time of publication of the notice, file with the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) a statement of the price he offers for the material.

(c) If contractor inventory cannot be disposed of within a reasonable time on the terms stated in paragraph (b), sales may be made at the best price obtainable to any buyer who furnishes a use representation.

(d) Retentions or sales under this section require the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA), or the next higher tier contractor if authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales. Such retentions and sales shall be subject to review under the conditions stated in § 844.449. [JTR 445.5]

§ 844.446 Sales by War and Navy Departments. [JTR 446]

§ 844.446–1 General. (a) Under the Uniform Termination Article, war contractors are required to use their best efforts to sell termination inventory. The policy of the War and Navy Departments is to assist war contractors in disposing of contractor inventory, so that the owning agency will not have to take possession of such material.

(b) The owning agency may dispose of small lots and scrap and salvage in contractor inventory. Generally it should not be necessary to exercise this authority. It may be exercised when the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) considers that such action is to the best interest of the government. In sales by the owning agency under the authority of this section, the contractor's tender of title will be accepted, and the material will be sold as government-owned property. The proceeds of such sales will be paid to the government and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. [JTR 446.1]

§ 844.446–2 Small lots. Contracting officers (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) may sell small lots of substantially similar items at the best price obtainable. The decision of the first person authorized to make the determination as to which items are substantially similar shall be accepted, unless there is an obvious error. Small lots shall not be assembled for the purpose of a consolidated sale. [JTR 446.2]

§ 844.446–3 Scrap and salvage. (a) The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) will sell scrap and salvage in contractor inventory by competitive bidding, in all but the exceptional cases covered by paragraph (b). Before such a sale, a determination must be made in each instance by the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) that the material is scrap or salvage. When the cost of such material, located at one place at one time, is $25,000 or more, the scrap or salvage determination must be approved by a reviewing authority pursuant to § 844.449. The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) may, if he considers it in the best interests of the Government, require a scrap warranty in any case where material is sold as scrap.

(1) In the War Department, the procedures for competitive bidding are stated in TM 38–505.

(2) In the Navy Department, the procedures for competitive bidding are stated in the NMR&DA Handbook.

(b) In exceptional cases or classes of cases, contracting officers (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) are authorized to sell scrap and salvage in contractor inventory, by negotiated sale, at the best price obtainable. Before such a sale a determination must be made in each instance by the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer), approved by a reviewing authority, (1) that the material to be sold is scrap or salvage and (2) that it would be in the best interests of the Government to dispose of it by negotiated sale. The buyer in all such sales of scrap shall furnish a scrap warranty. [JTR 446.3]

§ 844.446–4 Material certified as scrap by disposal agency. When material has been certified as scrap by a disposal agency as provided in § 844.445–4, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) may forthwith, and without further review, dispose of the material or class of material in accordance with the provisions of § 844.446–3. [JTR 446.4]

§ 844.446–5 Release of scrap warranty. The scrap warranty may be released in behalf of the Government by the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, by the NMR&DA) under the following conditions:

(a) The consideration to the Government for the release shall be the difference between (1) the amount at which the material was retained or sold as scrap and (2) an amount not less than that which would be accepted if the material were then to be sold or retained for purposes other than use as scrap. The latter amount shall be determined under the price policies set forth in this subpart, with review and approval in appropriate cases as provided in § 844.449.

(b) The release of the scrap warranty in behalf of the Government will be given by the Government and the consideration paid to the Government, even though the contract containing the warranty was not made directly with the Government. [JTR 446.5]

§ 844.446–6 Information on sales by War and Navy Departments. (a) The policy of the War and Navy Departments is to have the facts on all sales of contractor inventory by the owning agency available at the point of sale for public inspection during customary business hours for any proper purpose.

(b) When sales are made on written invitations to bid, copies of invitations and information as to sales may be transmitted to periodicals for publicity purpose, to Smaller War Plants Corporation, and to persons who request invitations for the purpose of advising their clients. In any event, copies of written invitations to bid and information as to sales will be open to inspection by representatives of periodicals and other interested persons during customary business hours for any proper purpose. [JTR 446.6]

§ 844.447 Dispositions of special types of material. [JTR 447]

§ 844.447–1 Contractor inventory where there is no contract termination. Contractor inventory of the types described in subparagraph (b) and (c) of the definition of that term in § 844.411–3 may be in the possession of a war contractor, although there has been no termination of his contract. Where the cost of such material available for sale at any one time at any one location is less than $10,000, it may be disposed of at the best price obtainable, with the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA). Where the cost of such material available for sale at any one time at any one location is $10,000 or more, it may be disposed of in accordance with § 844.445. [JTR 447.1]

§ 844.447–2 Destruction or abandonment of worthless contractor inventory. The contracting officer, or the war contractor (with the approval of the contracting officer) may destroy or abandon any worthless contractor inventory. Whenever the cost of the material is more than $1,000, before approving the destruction or abandonment, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) must certify to a reviewing authority that:

(a) Reasonable efforts have been made to dispose of the material without success by offering it to at least three persons dealing in that type of material, or that such offer would be useless;

(b) In his opinion the material is worthless, or that the cost of sale would exceed the proceeds thereof; and

(c) The material should be destroyed or abandoned. In such cases, the written approval of the reviewing authority for the proposed destruction or abandonment must be obtained. [JTR 447.2]

§ 844.447–3 Special attachments to tools owned by Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) may transfer to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (Office of Defense Plants) without reimbursement, special attachments which are attached to machines or machine tools owned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. In such cases the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) shall first determine that such special attachments have no commercial value separate from the machines to which they are attached or that the cost of the care and handling and disposition of such special attachments, separate from the machines to which they are attached, would exceed the estimated proceeds of such disposition. [JTR 447.3]

§ 844.447–4 Aluminum scrap. Retentions and sales of aluminum scrap are subject to the pricing policies and other provisions set forth in Regulation 5 of the Surplus War Property Administration (Part 8305 of Title 32). [JTR 447.4]

§ 844.447–5 Production equipment. (a) Certain contractor-owned machine tools and other production equipment are contractor inventory, but not plant equipment as that term is defined in Regulation No. 6 of the Surplus Property Board (Part 8306 of Title 32). War contractors may retain or sell such production equipment:

(1) With the approval of the contracting officer; or

(2) With the approval of the next higher tier contractor authorized under § 844.434–2 to approve his subcontractor's retentions and sales.

(b) Dispositions of production equipment, except small lots and small inventories, will be made in accordance with the following price policies:

(1) All retentions and sales of used standard general-purpose machine tools as defined in Surplus War Property Administration Regulation 3 (see Part 8303 of Title 32), and all used standard machines listed in § 8306.5 (a) of Surplus Property Board Regulation 6 shall be made at prices in accordance with Regulation No. 3, Order No. 2 of the Surplus Property Board (see Exhibit D of Regulation 6) (see Part 8306 of Title 32).

(2) All other production equipment of the types not subject to a fixed price schedule will be retained or sold in accordance with the provisions of this subpart. [JTR 447.5]

§ 844.447–6 Small lots of material peculiar to aircraft. In the case of the Navy Department, the NMR&DA may sell any item or group of identical items of material peculiar to aircraft, title to which has been tendered to the Government, at the best price obtainable, when the cost of such items available for sale at any one time at any one location does not exceed $100. [JTR 447.6]

§ 844.448 Sales on credit. (a) A war contractor may sell contractor inventory on credit at his own risk. With the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) a war contractor also may sell contractor inventory on credit, not to exceed sixty days, at the risk of the Government.

(b) The war contractor who makes a sale on credit at the risk of the Government will assign to the Government, at any time on request of the contracting officer, all his right, title, and interest in any claims for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, arising out of such sale. If the Government has not received an assignment of claims arising from such a sale, upon final settlement the owning agency will deduct from the amount of the settlement, as a disposal credit, a sum equal to the amount remaining unpaid upon the sale.

(c) War contractors will not make settlements with subcontractors who have unpaid claims for sales on credit at the risk of the Government, unless such claims have been assigned to the Government and the debtor has been notified of such assignment. A war contractor who makes a settlement with a subcontractor without procuring such assignment will not be credited with the proceeds of the sale in his termination settlement. [JTR 448]

§ 844.449 Review of determinations and dispositions. [JTR 449]

§ 844.449–1 Establishment of reviewing authority. (a) In the case of the War Department, the review required under this section will be accomplished by disposal boards established under Subchapter B:

(b) In the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA shall establish disposal boards for the purpose of reviewing dispositions of any material and determinations that material is unserviceable, scrap or salvage. The number of boards required, their location and their membership shall be as determined by the Director of the NMR&DA. The chiefs of bureaus shall also establish at least one disposal board in each bureau to review disposition transactions made by direction of a contracting officer of the bureau (or by a Navy material inspector under his authority), where such review is required. [JTR 449.1]

§ 844.449–2 Determinations subject to review. The reviewing authority must approve the following determinations:

(a) A determination that material, included in any one inventory schedule at any one location, is unserviceable, when the cost of such material is $25,000 or more;

(b) A scrap or salvage determination, where material is to be sold by the owning agency by competitive bidding, and the cost of such material located at one place at one time is $25,000 or more;

(c) A determination that material is scrap and that it would be in the best interests of the Government for the war contractor to dispose of it by negotiated sale;

(d) A determination that material to be sold by the owning agency is scrap or salvage and that it would be in the best interests of the Government to dispose of it by negotiated sale;

(e) A determination that contractor inventory should be destroyed or abandoned where the cost is more than $1,000. [JTR 449.2]

§ 844.449–3 Dispositions subject to review. (a) Retentions for use in accordance with § 844.445–3 and retentions and sales of serviceable material in accordannce with § 844.445–6 are subject to prior review and approval by a reviewing authority where:

(1) The cost of the material to be disposed of by the retention or sale exceeds $100,000 and it is proposed to retain or to sell such material below such cost, less freight and handling charges; or

(2) The cost of the material to be disposed of by the retention or sale exceeds $10,000 and it is proposed to retain or to sell such material at more than 50 per cent below such cost, less freight and handling charges.

(b) For the purpose of determining whether or not a retention or sale shall be submitted for the review and approval of a reviewing authority, simultaneously negotiated retentions or sales of different items to a single buyer, or of the same item to several buyers, shall be considered as a single disposition.

(c) In the case of the War Department, the chief of a service may require prior review and approval by a disposal board, established in his office under § 821.106 of Subchapter B, or, in the case of the Army Air Forces, in the headquarters office of a Command, where the cost of the material to be disposed of by the retention or sale exceeds $500,000 and it is proposed to retain or sell such material at more than 50 per cent below such cost.

(d) The reviewing authority is not authorized to waive or to modify the price policies stated in this Regulation relating to the disposition of contractor inventory, and will not approve retentions or sales which are not in conformity with the price policies. [JTR 449.3]

§ 844.449–4 Dispositions not subject to review. The following retentions, sales, or transfers may be made or approved without review, except as may be required by the chief of a service or bureau:

(a) Retentions or sales at cost, as permitted under § 844.442;

(b) Sales of unserviceable material by competitive bidding, as provided in §§ 844.445–4 and 844.446–3;

(c) Sales by negotiation of scrap and salvage (although the scrap or salvage determination and the determination to sell by negotiated sale are subject to review);

(d) Retentions or sales in connection with settlements based on proposals submitted on Form 1a;

(e) Retentions or sales made at specific prices established by, or with the approval of, the Surplus Property Board; including retentions on sales of production equipment at fixed prices in accordance with § 844.447–5;

(f) Sales to a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contractor for the account of the Government;

(g) Transfers between services or bureaus of the War or Navy Department, or to another Government agency, whether or not the transfer of funds is required;

(h) Declaration of surplus material to a disposal agency. [JTR 449.4]

SUBPART E—DISPOSITION OF TERMINATION INVENTORY ON SETTLEMENT AND DISPOSITION OF SURPLUS CONTRACTOR INVENTORY

§ 844.450 Scope. This subpart covers the disposition of termination inventory upon final settlement with the prime contractor and the methods for accounting for termination inventory by the prime contractor and subcontractors. This subpart also covers the disposition of surplus contractor inventory. [JTR 450]

§ 844.451 Disposition of termination inventory on settlement. [JTR 451]

§ 844.451–1 Accounting for termination inventory on settlement with prime contractor. Upon final settlement with the prime contractor, all termination inventory of the prime contractor and his subcontractors, whether contractor-owned or Government-owned, must be accounted for in one of the following ways:

(a) By retention by the war contractor and the application of the agreed value in reduction of his claim, or otherwise to the credit of the Government.

(b) By sale (including retentions for resale and return to suppliers) and application of the proceeds in reduction of the war contractor's claim, or otherwise to the credit of the Government.

(c) By destruction or abondonment with the approval of the contracting officer or his representative in accordance with § 844.447–2.

(d) By removal by the Government, evidenced by a receipt in accordance with § 849.971.

(e) By storage by the Government with the war contractor under a storage agreement in accordance with § 844.465.

(f) By storage by the war contractor at the risk and expense of the Government in accordance with § 844.464.

(g) By temporary storage with the war contractor under the settlement agreement with the prime contractor, in accordance with § 844.465–3 or under a special agreement with the subcontractor in accordance with § 844.465–4.

(h) By disposition in accordance with the terms of a contract with the Government. [JTR 451.1]

§ 844.451–2 Evidence required on settlement with prime contractor. (a) Upon final settlement of the prime contractor's termination claim, evidence that all termination inventory has been accounted for in accordance with § 844.451–1 may be established in such manner as the contracting officer deems satisfactory.

(b) In the case of claims under $1,000 properly submitted on Standard Form 1a, the contracting officer or any war contractor may accept the submission of such Form itself as satisfactory evidence that the termination inventory covered thereby has been so properly accounted for.

(c) In the case of all other claims, the contracting officer may accept the prime contractor's certification in the final settlement agreement that (1) all of his termination inventory has been properly accounted for and (2) he has received from each of his immediate subcontractors, other than those whose claims were properly submitted on Form 1a, a certificate substantially in the form set forth in § 849.973. It is contemplated (in the case of all claims other than those properly submitted on Form 1a) that each such immediate subcontractor will obtain a similar certificate in turn from each of his immediate subcontractors, and so on, down the line, to the lowest tier subcontractor. In order, therefore, to accomplish prompt settlement of the prime contractor's termination claim against the Government, and of all war contractors' claims of any tier included therein, every war contractor should obtain this certificate (in the case of all claims other than those properly submitted on Form 1a) from each of his immediate subcontractors whose termination claim is included in the war contractor's termination claim. [JTR 451.2]

§ 844.451–3 Disposition of termination inventory on settlement with subcontractor. Unless otherwise authorized by the contracting officer, upon settlement of the termination claim of a subcontractor, the settlement agreement made with the subcontractor by the next higher tier war contractor shall identify clearly by reference to inventory schedules all termination inventory which has not been disposed of. Such inventory schedules must be in form satisfactory for purposes of storage or removal by the Government as provided in § 844.427 and must be submitted to the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, to the cognizant Navy material inspector) upon, or prior to, settlement of the prime contractor's termination claim. All termination inventory should be accounted for in accordance with § 844.451–1 upon, or prior to, settlement by a subcontractor with his next higher tier war contractor; and all such inventory must be accounted for in accordance with that paragraph before reimbursement will be made by the Government to the prime contractor for the amount of the settlement of the subcontractor's claim. [JTR 451.3]

§ 844.451–4 Undelivered termination inventory. (a) In the event that any termination inventory not disposed of is lost, destroyed, damaged, or for any reason cannot be delivered by the war contractor at the time of settlement of his termination claim, such termination inventory shall be accounted for as termination inventory retained by the war contractor, and its fair value shall be deducted from his termination claim, except as provided in § 845.542–2 and in paragraph (b) below.

(b) If in accordance with § 844.464 a war contractor has stored any termination inventory at the risk and expense of the Government prior to the execution of a final settlement agreement, and at the date of execution of the settlement agreement any such termination inventory properly allocable to the terminated war contract has been lost, destroyed or damaged, or for any reason cannot be delivered by the war contractor, no charge for the fair value of such termination inventory shall be deducted from the termination claim unless the loss, damage, destruction or inability of the war contractor to deliver such termination inventory is due to his failure to exercise reasonable care in the storage of such termination inventory. [JTR 451.4]

§ 844.452 Surplus contractor inventory. [JTR 452]

§ 844.452–1 General. (a) When the owning agency takes possession of contractor inventory, the material loses its identity as contractor inventory, for purposes of disposition, and is treated as any other property of the War and Navy Departments. It is deemed surplus unless it is to be retained for production or supply purposes or is to be disposed of under statutory authority other than the Surplus Property Act.

(b) Surplus contractor inventory, like any other surplus property, may be disposed of in the following cases:

(1) Disposition for war production purposes;

(2) Disposition of scrap, salvage, and waste;

(3) Disposition of small lots;

(4) Destruction or abandonment in the interest of health, safety, or security;

(5) Emergency disposals in the interest of health, safety, or security.

These dispositions are governed, in the case of the War Department, by Subchapter B and TM 38–505 and in the case of the Navy Department, the Property Disposition Directive No. 1 and the NMR&DA Handbook.

(c) The basic policy of the War and Navy Departments is that the maximum amount of surplus material be declared to the agencies designated by the Surplus Property Board for disposal of surplus property. [JTR 452.1]

§ 844.452–2 Declaration to disposal agency in absence of special arrangements. (a) In the absence of special arrangements of the nature referred to in § 844.452–3, surplus contractor inventory (except stockpile materials, scrap and salvage, and small lots) will be reported to the Regional Office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the region in which the material is located.

(b) Material in process of storage or removal at the time of execution of a final settlement agreement with the prime contractor will not be reported until it has reached its destined place of storage.

(c) In the case of the War Department, declarations to disposal agencies are governed by Part 827 of Subchapter B.

(d) In the case of the Navy Department, when surplus contractor inventory is declared to a disposal agency, the material shall be listed in triplicate on Form

SPB–1, or on mechanical accounting lists or inventory schedules (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d) attached to Form SPB–1 as a cover transmittal sheet. [JTR 452.2]

§ 844.452–3 Declaration to disposal agency under special arrangements. Special arrangements have been entered into under a Memorandum of Understanding between the Army Air Forces, the Navy, Army Signal Corps, and Defense Supplies Corporation, as agent for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, covering disposition of certain electronic components, parts, and equipment. Other such special arrangements may be made with the approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. A war contractor whose contractor inventory is subject to such arrangements will be notified by the contracting officer. The terms of such arrangements will be observed in disposing of contractor inventory affected thereby and in declaring items thereof to a disposal agency as surplus. [JTR 452.3]

§ 844.452–4 Action after declaring surplus contractor inventory. (a) The contracting officer (including, in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) will not make or approve dispositions of contractor inventory after it has been declared to a disposal agency as surplus, except as provided in paragraph (b) and except that scrap may be sold upon receipt of a scrap certificate from a disposal agency. Such certification may be given at any time before the material is transferred physically to the disposal agency.

(b) After surplus contractor inventory is declared to a disposal agency, further action will be taken only in accordance with Part 827 of Subchapter B in the case of the War Department, or Property Disposition Directive No. 4 and the NMR&DA Handbook in the case of the Navy. [JTR 452.4]

§ 844.452–5 Disposition of stockpile materials—(a) Within the War Department. When any of the stockpile materials listed in § 829.909 of Subchapter B are included in contractor inventory in quantities equal to or in excess of the minimum quantities therein indicated and are not disposed of prior to the War Department taking possession, they will be reported to the chief of service having jurisdiction over the contractor inventory, and held for disposition instructions Requests for such instructions will be made in triplicate by the field installation concerned on W. D., A. G. O., Form 257, in accordance with § 829.909–1 of Subchapter B. Copies of the form may be requisitioned from Adjutant General depots. It is imperative to expedite action under this paragraph to avoid double handling of stockpile materials. Upon receipt of W. D., A. G. O. Form 257 covering any lot of stockpile materials, the chief of service will execute a first endorsement thereto and forward two copies to the Director, Production Division, ASF. The Director, Production Division, ASF, is responsible for the issuance of disposition instructions. If instructions are issued to hold the material for stockpile, the chief of service will: (1) Arrange for permanent storage of the material; (2) issue instructions to the appropriate field installation to accomplish permanent storage; (3) advise the Director, Production Division, of the location and manner of storage; and (4) dispose of the material only upon specific authorization of the Director, Production Division. If instructions are issued not to hold the material for stockpile, the chief of service will direct the appropriate field installation to dispose of the material as surplus.

(b) Within the Navy Department. The NMR&DA is responsible for reporting stockpile materials to the Office of Procurement and Material for disposition instructions. [JTR 452.5]

SUBPART F—PLANT CLEARANCE: REMOVAL AND STORAGE

§ 844.460 Scope. (a) This subpart provides instructions for plant clearance, the removal and storage of contractor inventory, and indicates the conditions under which the storage is administered by the owning agency and by the disposal agency.

(b) This subpart applies only with the approval of the contracting officer to:

(1) Government-owned material no longer required or in excess of the amounts needed to complete performance of a war contract; and

(2) Material no longer required for the performance of a war contract as a result of any change in the specifications or plans thereunder. [JTR 460]

§ 844.461 Duty to clear contractor's plant within sixty days. (a) Where contractor inventory is not otherwise disposed of, the Government will store such material with the war contractor or will remove it from the war contractor's premises, within sixty days (or such longer time as may be agreed to by the contractor) after receipt of inventory schedules satisfactory in form.

(b) The owning agency has the final responsibility for the removal or storage of material not otherwise disposed of. However, when contractor inventory is declared surplus the disposal agency will be requested to make storage arrangements with the war contractor or furnish shipping instructions to a designated storage point. Such requests, so far as practicable, shall be made sufficiently in advance of the required date of plant clearance to allow for preparation for storage and shipment by that date. In the event it is not possible for the disposal agency to make the requested storage arrangements, the owning agency shall arrange for storage of the material.

(c) The owning agency is responsible for packaging and preparing material for storage and for initial shipping to storage, whether storage arrangements are made by the owning agency or the disposal agency. After material is stored with the war contractor under a storage agreement executed by a disposal agency or shipped in accordance with shipping instructions issued by the disposal agency, accountability for the material and any subsequent care and handling is the responsibility of the disposal agency.

(d) In the Navy Department, the cognizant bureau is responsible for the removal of material retained by the bureau for production and supply purposes. The NMR&DA is responsible for furnishing storage space for such material, when requested by the bureau. In addition, the NMR&DA is responsible for the removal of all other contractor inventory not disposed of and for the execution of all agreements covering the storage of surplus contractor inventory with the contractor or elsewhere, and for the execution of all agreements covering the storage of production and supply items other than with the contractors. The cognizant bureau will execute agreements with the contractor covering (1) the storage of items which the bureau desires to have retained at the war contractor's plant for possible use under future procurement contracts, (2) the storage of production and supply items pending issuance of shipping instructions, and (3) the storage of items where the contractor will perform work or services other than handling, packaging, and preservation, in addition to the storage of material. The NMR&DA will assist the bureaus in determining the form of such agreements, storage charges and similar matters. [JTR 461]

§ 844.462 Transfer of title to contractor inventory. Title to contractor inventory, not already owned by the Government, is transferred to the Government when the owning agency takes possession of such material or accepts the contractor's tender of title. [JTR 462]

§ 844.463 Contractor's right to store at his own risk. Unless the contract contains contrary provisions and such provisions have not been waived, a war contractor may at any time remove from his plant and store on his own premises or elsewhere any items of contractor inventory at his own risk. The war contractor will use reasonable care in the transportation and preservation of material so removed and stored, and will comply with any directions or specifications covering removal, preservation, transportation and storage which may be issued by the contracting officer (including, in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA). The war contractor is entitled to be reimbursed for the reasonable cost of (a) necessary or appropriate transportation, preservation, protection and storage, and (b) compliance with any directions or specifications in connection therewith issued by the contracting agency. Ordinarily, charges for storage of contractor inventory prior to the expiration of the plant clearance period will not be deemed a reasonable settlement expense. The war contractor should give the contracting officer twenty days prior notice of his intention to remove any substantial portion of the contractor inventory. (See Regulation No. 10 of the Office of Contract Settlement, Part 8051 of Title 32). [JTR 463]

§ 844.464 War contractor's right to remove and store for account and at risk of Government. (a) Where neither the owning agency nor a disposal agency enters into a storage agreement with a war contractor or removes termination inventory within the plant clearance period, the war contractor may remove and store for the account and at the risk and expense of the Government any termination inventory not otherwise disposed of, stored, or removed; subject, however, to the requirements stated in paragraphs (b) and (c) below.

(b) The war contractor will deliver to the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, to his cognizant Navy material inspector):

(1) Twenty days' notice in writing in advance of the date fixed for removal; and

(2) A certified statement that the inventory schedule, as originally submitted or as modified, or a revised schedule, represents a concurrent physical inventory of the items to be removed.

Notice of removal may be delivered before or after the expiration of the plant clearance period, but submission of such notice will not shorten the period.

(c) War contractors will use reasonable care in the transportation and preservation of material removed and stored, regardless of any contract provision requiring a lesser degree of responsibility for the care and preservation of material during performance of the contract. Material will be prepared for removal in accordance with § 844.466–1 governing the preparation of material for removal by the owning agency.

(d) Prior to the date fixed for removal of the material by the war contractor, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) should, to the extent practicable, verify the material on the schedule as to quantities and condition and as to its allocability to the terminated war contract. Under section 12 (d) of the act, if the contracting officer fails to check such material at or before the time of its removal, a certificate of the war contractor, specifying the material on the schedule which has been removed, and submitted to the contracting officer within thirty days after the date fixed for removal, will constitute prima facie evidence against the Government as to the quantities and condition of the material removed, and the fact of its removal. [JTR 464]

§ 844.465 Storage by the owning agency. [JTR 465]

§ 844.465–1 General. (a) The owning agency may store contractor inventory before it is declared surplus in facilities operated by the services, bureaus, or other Government agencies. If storage space is not available immediately in such facilities, and other storage space cannot be obtained through the Space Control Committee of the Surplus Property Board, the owning agency may store contractor inventory with the terminated war contractor or other war contractors in commercial warehouses. It is recognized also that the owning agency will be compelled to store temporarily in cases where the disposal agency is unable to assume immediately its responsibility for the care and handling of surplus material. Open storage may be utilized, depending upon the character of the material to be stored. The Surplus War Property Administration "Guide for Storage of Plant Equipment, Termination Materials, and other Property" should be consulted in determining the type of storage and the preparation of contractor inventory therefor.

(b) War contractors will package and mark contractor inventory prior to its removal for storage as prescribed in § 844.466–1, unless directed otherwise by the owning agency. [JTR 465.1]

§ 844.465–2 Storage by owning agency with war contractor under standard storage agreements. (a) Agreements with war contractors for the storage of contractor inventory will normally be made substantially in accordance with either one of the two forms of standard storage agreements set forth in § 849.972. If a storage agreement is entered into with a prime contractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract or other contract pursuant to which title is already vested in the Government, the provisions for transfer of title and allocability should be deleted from the form of storage agreement. Where a storage agreement made with a subcontractor, appropriate changes will be made in the recitals and in the first two articles of the forms in § 849.972.

(b) The form of standard storage agreement set forth in § 849.972–1 will be used for storing contractor inventory which has no immediate use and which is not salable at a price approaching its original cost. Salvage, semi-fabricated parts and components, and non-usable raw materials are the types of material that will usually be stored under this form of agreement which limits the responsibility of the war contractor for the material stored. His liability under this agreement is merely to provide space for the material to be stored and to see that it is not lost or damaged because of his wilful misconduct or lack of good faith.

(c) The form of standard storage agreement set forth in § 849.972–2 will be used whenever the contractor inventory to be stored has a value for use or sale substantially in excess of its value as unserviceable material. Usable raw materials, fabricated components and parts, and completed items which have a value for future use or sale will be stored under this form of agreement. This form of agreement imposes a duty on the war contractor to exercise reasonable care in the storage and preservation of the material.

(d) If a standard storage agreement is executed with the war contractor, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the NMR&DA) may permit contractor inventory to be left in bins or otherwise unpackaged, provided the items are properly tagged or marked to identify them with the listings on the inventory schedules. [JTR 465.2]

§ 844.465–3 Temporary storage under settlement agreement with prime contractor. (a) In certain cases it is impracticable to provide for removal or for storage under a standard form of storage agreement, of all contractor inventory of the prime contractor not disposed of at the time of execution of the final settlement agreement. In such cases the settlement agreement shall provide for the transfer of title to the Government of the contractor-owned inventory in substantially the form set forth in §§ 849.981–1 and 849.981–2 as the third form of Article 1. The material so transferred to the Government shall be clearly identified by reference to inventory schedules or a separate list of the material.

(b) If there are discrepancies between the quantities, weights and conditions of the items listed and of those actually found, the prime contractor will reimburse the Government for the fair value of items lost, destroyed, damaged or short. No discrepancies, however, shall be taken into account unless they exceed tolerances which are reasonable tolerances in accordance with good commercial inventory practice and the contractor has failed to exercise such care as a reasonably careful owner of similar property would exercise. [JTR 465.3]

§ 844.465–4 Temporary storage with subcontractor. (a) In certain cases all contractor inventory of a subcontractor is not disposed of before, or at the time, the settlement of his claim becomes final and conclusive upon the Government, and it may be impracticable to provide for the removal of such remaining inventory or for its storage under a standard form of storage agreement. In such cases the remaining inventory may be temporarily stored with the subcontractor by an agreement between the owning agency and the subcontractor. This agreement will be executed on or after the date of the final settlement agreement between the subcontractor and his next higher tier war contractor. It will contain substantially the provisions prescribed by § 844.465–3.

(b) In the case of a subcontract under a War Department prime contract, such temporary storage may also be provided for by an agreement between the subcontractor and the war contractor liable to him. Such agreement shall contain substantially the provisions prescribed by § 844.465–3. Where the subcontract settlement is authorized, approved, or ratified by the War Department, the War Department thereafter will look only to the subcontractor storing the inventory for such inventory or its value, provided the war contractor making the settlement with him assigns to the Government his rights under the storage agreement and promptly submits a list of the property to the contracting officer. [JTR 465.4]

§ 844.466 Removal by the Government. [JTR 466]

§ 844.466–1 Preparation of material for removal. (a) Where items are to be removed, the war contractor will prepare them for removal in accordance with instructions of the contracting officer. In the case of the Navy, the instructions will be given by the NMR&DA with respect to items which are to be removed for storage by the NMR&DA or by the disposal agency, and by the Navy material inspector with respect to items which are to be removed for the cognizant bureau.

(b) Such instructions will require that all contractor inventory, other than scrap, be crated, baled, or otherwise packaged, and that each container or bale be marked or tagged to show the war contractor's name, the terminated war contract number, the page number of the inventory schedule, and the item number. In general, only one type of product or material will be packed in the same container or bundle; miscellaneous assortments of items in the same container will be avoided. Packaged kits and sets, however, need not be unpacked, sorted, and repacked. Where a single item of inventory is to be moved in more than one container or bundle, each container or bundle should show its number and the total number in the series, as for example, 1 of 5; 2 of 5; etc. If available, the Surplus Property Board declaration number, or disposal agency identification number assigned to the declaration, will be shown in the markings or on the tags, in lieu of the contract number. Strict observance of these packaging and marking requirements is essential to efficient handling of contractor inventory.

(c) The war contractor will be allowed reimbursement in the termination settlement, or under a subsequent agreement, for reasonable costs incurred in the care and handling of items for sale or removal in accordance with instructions of the contracting officer, except as to any part of such costs which the war contractor is obligated by contract to pay. [JTR 466.1]

§844.466–2 Receipt for material removed. (a) When contractor-owned inventory is removed from a war contractor's premises, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) will furnish the war contractor with a receipt in the form provided in § 849.971. Such a receipt constitutes the Government's acceptance of the contractor's tender of title, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. This receipt does not affect the right of the Government to require additional information, contest the allocability of any item, and exclude any item on any proper ground. If it is determined, prior to final settlement by the Government of the termination claim under the prime contract, that any of such property is not so allocable, or should be excluded, then the Government will be liable to the contractor with respect to such property only, at the election of the Government, (1) for the return of the property or like property to the Contractor at the risk and expense of the contractor, or (2) for its disposal value at the time of its removal, or (3) for the proceeds realized by the Government from its disposal.

(b) When Government-owned contractor inventory is removed from a war contractor's premises, the owning agency will use the form of receipt provided in § 849.971. In such case the provisions in paragraph (a) pertaining to acceptance of title have no application.

(c) Whenever feasible, the receipt will be executed on copies of the inventory schedules to be retained by the war contractor. The receipt may be stamped on copies of the Vendor's Shipping Document. [JTR 466.2]

§ 844.467 Verification of material for storage or removal by the Government. (a) The contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) will be responsible for verification of items listed on an inventory schedule when such items are to be removed from the war contractor's premises or stored under a storage agreement.

(b) Ordinarily, one hundred per cent verification is not required. The extent of selective checks should depend upon the size of the inventory, the nature of the property, past experience with the war contractor, and any other relevant factors. The verification should include a check to disclose defective material or rejects. Quantities, conditions, and weights shown on inventory schedules ordinarily will be accepted if they are substantially correct. For property accounting purposes, personnel making selective counts of material as herein provided will note the items selected and the results of their counts on one copy of the schedule and in every case these copies, properly authenticated by Government representatives charged with supervision, of the selective count, will be furnished (1) in the case of the War Department to the contracting officer and then to the interested accountable property officer or, (2) in the case of the Navy, to the Navy material inspector.

(c) If a storage agreement is entered into with a war contractor, the war contractor and the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) will make a joint verification of the inventory schedules.

(d) Under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contracts and other contracts pursuant to which title is already vested in the Government, the contracting officer will arrange for the taking of a physical inventory. In the case of War Department contracts, such inventory will be taken as prescribed in section X of the War Department TM 14–910 and section X of War Department TM 14–911. [JTR 467]

§ 844.468 Storage responsibilities of disposal agencies. [JTR 468]

§ 844.468–1 General. Under the Surplus Property Act the disposal agencies are responsible for the care and handling of surplus property declared to them by the owning agencies. SPB Special Order No. 3 postpones this responsibility, but provides that the disposal agencies shall assume responsibility for the care and handling of as much of such property as possible with the facilities and personnel available to them. This order also states that the disposal agencies shall prepare actively for the assumption of complete responsibility for such care and handling. [JTR 468.1]

§ 844.468–2 Liaison with Regional Offices of Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It is essential that the local representatives of the owning agency and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation establish the closest possible working relationship. Local representatives of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation should be consulted as to the storage and removal, as well as to the disposition of contractor inventory. [JTR 468.2]

§ 844.468–3 Shipping instructions by Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (a) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation will not issue definitive shipping instructions until it receives a declaration of surplus covering the material to be shipped. This should not prevent the Regional Office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from furnishing advance information as to shipping schedules to the Owning agencies. By this means it will be possible to establish tentative shipping schedules which will be confirmed by definitive shipping instructions when the declaration of surplus and the formal request for shipping instructions are submitted to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(b) In the case of the War Department, requests for shipping instructions are governed by Part 827 of Subchapter B. The Navy Department will request shipping instructions from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on forms RFC WD–4 and 5 (Revised). Copies of form RFC WD–4 (Request for shipping instructions) and form RFC WD–5 (Shipping instructions), with instructions for their use, may be obtained from Regional Offices of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

(c) Upon receipt of requests from the owning agency for shipping instructions, the disposal agency will arrange for the storage or removal of surplus contractor inventory by issuing shipping instructions. [JTR 468.3]

§ 844.468–4 Storage with contractor by disposal agency. If the disposal agency cannot arrange for the removal and storage of surplus contractor inventory, the disposal agency will execute a storage agreement covering the storage of the surplus contractor inventory with the war contractor. [JTR 468.4]

§ 844.468–5 Sales by disposal agency. In certain cases the disposal agency may arrange for immediate sale upon receipt of a surplus declaration and will issue shipping instructions for the movement of surplus contractor inventory from the war contractor's plant to the purchaser within the plant clearance period. [JTR 468.5]

§ 844.468–6 Material assigned to Department of Commerce. In general, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will issue shipping instructions and provide for the storage of surplus contractor inventory of the type assigned to the Department of Commerce for disposal. [JTR 468.6]

SUBPART G—SPECIAL TOOLING AND SPECIAL FACILITIES

§ 844.471 Protection of Government's interest in special tooling. [JTR 471]

§ 844.471–1 Definition of special tooling. The term "special tooling" includes jigs, dies, fixtures, moulds, gauges and other similar equipment acquired or produced by the war contractor specially for the war contract or for the contract and other war contracts. The term does not relate to buildings, building equipment, and machine tools, nor tools such as cutting tools and hand tools which usually lose their utility through wear and tear rather than through obsolescense. [JTR 471.1]

§ 844.471–2 Duty of protecting the Government's interest. The provision, which is contained in the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs (see § 845.551–2), relating to costs of special tooling allowable under terminated fixed-price contracts, requires protection of the interests of the Government either by transfer of title or by some other appropriate means. [JTR 471.2]

§ 844.471–3 Methods of protecting the Government's interest. (a) In most cases it will not be desirable for the Government to take title to special tooling. Generally, the contractor should be permitted to retain the special tooling, and the contracting officer should protect the Government's interest (1) by taking into consideration, in determining the rate of amortization, the use of the special tooling on other work of the contractor; (2) by obtaining a proper disposal credit in the settlement agreement as provided by paragraph (b) below; and (3) where there is a possibility that the tooling may be needed for Government purposes within a reasonable period, by appropriate arrangements for the use of the tooling.

(b) If the tooling is retained by the contractor or sold to a third party, its value or the proceeds of any sale should be treated as a disposal credit in the contractor's settlement proposal and not as a reduction of the cost of the special tooling subject to amortization. When the rate of amortization takes into account the continuing work of the war contractor, the disposal credit should not include the value of the tooling to the contractor for use on other work but only its ultimate disposal value. However, where the disposal value consists only of scrap and it has been the contractor's consistent practice to credit all tool scrap to overhead, such practice will be acceptable without applying the scrap value as a disposal credit. [JTR 471.3]

§ 844.472 Protection of Government's interest in special facilities. [JTR 472]

§ 844.472–1 Definition of special facilities. The term "special facility", as used in this subpart, means a facility acquired by the contractor solely for the performance of the contract, or for the contract and other war contracts, which is not of the same type or utility as those used in the contractor's other business. A machine which is standard for one contractor may be "special" in the hands of a contractor who does not use such a machine in his other business. The term "special facility" does not include jigs, tools, dies and fixtures of the type referred to as "special tooling" in § 844.471–1. [JTR 472.1]

§ 844.472–2 Methods of protecting the Government's interest. The methods for protecting the Government's interest in special facilities are discussed fully in Termination Cost Memorandum No. 9 of the Office of Contract Settlement (8004.9 of Title 32) [JTR 472.2]

SUBPART I—WAR DEPARTMENT ACCOUNTABILITY FOR TERMINATION INVENTORY

§ 844.490 Scope. This subpart applies only to the War Department. It prescribes special procedures with respect to the assumption and maintenance of accountability for termination inventory which the War Department is obligated to acquire. The procedures prescribed in this subpart, where appropriate, may also be applied with respect to the assumption and maintenance of accountability for all types of contractor inventory except as to plant equipment governed by the provisions of Subpart F of Part 848. [JTR 490]

§ 844.491 Accountability defined. With respect to termination inventory, the term "accountability" means the duty of maintaining records as prescribed herein, covering those items included in the inventory schedule, to which the Government is obliged to take title, and to Government furnished material, accountability for which is transferred under the provisions of § 844.493–2, and the disposition made thereof. In this connection, neither officers designated as accountable property officers nor contracting officers have responsibility, within the meaning of Army regulations pertaining to property, for termination inventory in possession of war contractors or of commercial warehousemen, unless such officers have been charged specifically with the care and safekeeping of the material. [JTR 491]

§ 844.492 Designation of accountable property officers. (a) Subject to such procedures as the chiefs of services may prescribe for purposes of uniformity, contracting officers under terminated prime contracts, the settlement of which will involve the acquisition by the Government of termination inventory, will request commanding officers of procurement districts or similar agencies to designate accountable property officers to be charged with the assumption and maintenance of accountability for termination inventory so acquired. Commanding officers of procurement districts or similar agencies will accomplish such designation and advise the contracting officer thereof. In all cases of terminated fixed price contracts, accountable property officers so appointed will be officers assigned to the property disposal functions for terminated contracts. The same accountable property officer may be designated for more than one contract and, insofar as practicable, only one accountable property officer will be designated at an installation concerned with property disposal activities as contemplated in this part. Any delegation of the property disposal function with respect to termination inventory to another agency or procurement district will also include the property accounting function as prescribed herein.

(b) An extra copy of each Standard Form No. 1034 covering payment under a final settlement agreement will in all cases be prepared and furnished to disbursing officers for the purposes hereinafter stated. Contracting officers, as the chief of service prescribes, (1) will show on each copy of Standard Form No. 1034 covering payment under a final settlement agreement, or on schedules attached thereto, the designation of the account name, and station of every accountable property officer charged with the assumption of accountability for termination inventory taken over by the Government in connection with that settlement, including termination inventory taken over from subcontractors, if any, or (2) will clearly state on the face of all copies of the Standard Form No. 1034 that acquisition of property by the Government is or is not involved in the settlement covered thereby. In the event the latter alternative is followed, the contracting officer subsequently will furnish the fiscal director of the service command in which the accountable property officer for the prime contractor is stationed advice of the account, name, and station of every accountable officer concerned with termination inventory involved therein. The fiscal director of the service command, upon receipt of a copy of a Standard Form No. 1034 covering a final settlement which indicates that the acquisition of property by the Government is involved will be required to ascertain that the listing of accountable officers is subsequently received. In any case, whether the procedure outlined in either (1) or (2) are followed, the fiscal director of the service command to which the list of accountable property officers is furnished will notify any other interested service command fiscal director of the accounts and stations of any accountable property officers included on such list located within the territorial limits of that service command.

(c) Where pursuant to prior regulations, officers other than those assigned to property disposal functions have been charged with the accountability function with respect to termination inventory, transfers of accountability to officers assigned to property disposal functions will be effected only with respect to material stored with war contractors or commercial warehousemen. The accountability function in all other cases will continue in the present accountable property officers until satisfactory conclusion of each case.

(d) Commanding officers of War Department installations where termination inventory is stored awaiting disposition instructions will designate officers to be accountable for such property. At installations where officers have previously been designated to be accountable for supplies stocked at the installations, such officers will also be assigned the accountability function with respect to termination inventory unless operational and organizational conditions render such action inadvisable.

(e) Where a new property account is established because of the designation of an accountable property officer as herein prescribed, a copy of the pertinent order will be furnished to the fiscal director of the service command having jurisdiction over the new account. [JTR 492]

§ 844.493 Assumption of accountability. [JTR 493]

§ 844.493–1 Termination inventory acquired from war contractors. Accountability for termination inventory, the title to which is transferred from a war contractor to the Government, will be assumed by accountable property officers designated in accordance with the provisions of § 844.492. Accountability will vest in such officers for all items included on the adjusted inventory schedules to which the Government takes title in accordance with §§ 844.482 and 844.411–8. As a basis for the assumption of accountability for such items, the inventory schedules will be supported by the following documents:

(a) As to material stored with a war contractor, by a conformed copy of the storage agreement executed by the contracting officer;

(b) As to material removed from a war contractor's premises prior to execution of the final settlement agreement, by an authenticated copy of the acknowledgment of receipt furnished to the contractor pursuant to § 844.466–2, together with any supporting lists or schedules; and

(c) As to material the title to which is transferred to the Government in a final settlement agreement with the prime contractor or in a special agreement with a subcontractor, but pursuant to such agreement is left on the war contractor's premises, by conformed copies of the schedules of such material referred to in the agreement executed by the contracting officer. [JTR 493.1]

§ 844.493–2 Government furnished termination inventory. The contracting officer or his representative responsible for the property disposal function in connection with a terminated war contract under which Government property previously has been furnished to the contractor by the War Department, will forward to the officer holding accountability for such Government material, lists thereof on inventory schedules or on other suitable forms. When the material is not to be promptly removed from the contractor's premises, the officer presently holding accountability for the material will transfer accountability therefor in accordance with § 844.495–1 to the accountable officer designated for the terminated contract. Except as set forth above, existing accountability instructions will be observed. [JTR 493.2]

§ 844.494 Property accounting records. [JTR 494]

§ 844.494–1 Purposes. The War Department maintains property accounting records of termination inventory (a) to provide a means for accounting for the material, and (b) to facilitate the physical handling and authorized disposition of the material. [JTR 494.1]

§ 844.494–2 Records to be maintained. (a) Property accounting records as contemplated herein will be dependent upon and included in the files pertaining to the property disposal function. Such records must clearly set forth all items included on inventory schedules, to which the Government accepts title, and to Government furnished material, accountability for which is transferred under the provisions of § 844.493–2, and the disposition made thereof. For this purpose a file will be established for each contract, or group of contracts where two or more contracts are grouped for termination settlement purposes. All documents pertaining to accountability for termination inventory will be included in the file. These documents will be assigned property voucher numbers in a single series for each accountable property officer's account and recorded in a voucher register showing date, description of document and contract number.

(b) In lieu of establishing an individual record for each item or termination inventory, inventory schedules are authorized to be used as work sheets. This is for the purpose of reflecting the disposition of the items listed thereon or the authorized transfer of accountability therefor. Under this procedure, as relief from accountability is accomplished, the assigned credit voucher number and the quantity will be entered opposite the particular item on the schedule. Where there are numerous transactions with respect to a particular item, auxiliary records (stock record cards or other suitable forms) will be established, or the transactions will be recorded on the schedules so as to provide a complete and accurate accounting for the original quantity of the item. In order to avoid a duplication of records for the property disposal and property accounting functions, the records prescribed herein will be utilized for both purposes. [JTR 494.2]

§ 844.494–3 Cost - plus - a - fixed - fee prime contracts. In the case of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, title to the material acquired in connection with performance of the contract is already vested in the Government and accountability has been established. When this material becomes termination inventory, and where such action will simplify the task of record keeping, the procedures outlined in § 844.494–2 (b) may be applied. [JTR 494.3]

§ 844.494–4 Storage installations. With respect to termination inventory stored at War Department installations awaiting disposition instructions, a jacket file system of record keeping may be maintained for that type of property. Under this jacket file method of accounting, files will be maintained similar to those required by § 844.494–2. These records must provide for showing storage area location (aisle, bay, etc.) for each item appearing on the termination inventory schedules, so as to permit prompt location of any items. [JTR 494.4]

§ 844.495 Relief from accountability. [JTR 495]

§ 844.495–1 Shipments of termination inventory on War Department order. (a) As to authorized shipments of termination inventory which require transfer of accountability to another accountable property officer and those with respect to a sale by the War Department, copies of properly completed Vendor's Shipping Documents, War Department Shipping Documents, or Shipping Tickets, whichever form is in current use at the installation concerned, will serve as valid credit vouchers to the applicable property account. Where, however, the shipment is made in connection with a sale by the War Department, in addition, the procedures prescribed in section II, AR 35–6660 (AR 35–6665 when published) with respect to sales of property will be observed. Where practicable, to avoid duplicating the listing of items on the shipping document, a copy of the inventory schedule or applicable portion thereof will be appended.

(b) Where Vendor's Shipping Document forms are used, the certificates appearing thereon which are usually required to be executed for purposes of payment will be deleted inasmuch as payment will be supported by the termination settlement agreement, and not by the Vendor's Shipping Document.

(c) Distribution of copies of completed shipping document forms, regardless of type, will be the same as is prescribed for the War Department Shipping Document except that where shipment is made to a War Department installation, a copy of the shipping document will be forwarded for property audit purposes by the shipping accountable property officer to the fiscal director of the service command in which the consignee is located. Only in respect to shipping documents initiated in connection with sales (see paragraph (a), above) will the distribution require the furnishing of copies to disbursing officers.

(d) All copies of shipping documents prepared for shipments of termination inventory must bear the notation "Termination Inventory." In addition, shipping documents covering shipments of termination inventory from storage under a storage agreement with a war contractor or from storage in a commercial warehouse, must bear the notation "Shipped from Storage" and must indicate the station of the contracting officer under the storage or warehouse agreement involved.

(e) When copies of inventory schedules or applicable portions thereof are appended to shipping documents to avoid duplicating the listing of material, reference in the body of the shipping document to the schedules must be sufficient to permit positive identification in the event such schedules become detached. If items are listed individually on shipping documents, the page number of the inventory schedule and the item number on the page will be included in listing each item on the shipping document.

(f) When termination inventory, other than work in process, in an unserviceable condition is to be shipped, requiring transfer of accountability to another accountable property officer, or in connection with a sale by the War Department, the property will be listed on a separate shipping document and the following statement will be included thereon:

The property listed hereon is in an unserviceable condition. Appropriate inspection by those concerned with determination of responsibility for its condition has been made.

(Signed) _____
Accountable Shipping Officer.

§ 844.495–2 Shipment of termination inventory on disposal agency order. Where, at the direction of a disposal agency, termination inventory is delivered to a disposal agency, other Government agency, or buyer, an authenticated copy of the delivery order received from the disposal agency cross-referenced to the receipt of the common carrier or transportation agency on file at the station, will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property account for the material so delivered. Where bill of lading files are not maintained at the same station as that of the accountable property officer, he will secure from the transportation officer an authenticated memorandum copy of the bill of lading for association with the related disposal agency order. In the case of direct delivery to the buyer, his written acknowledgment of receipt on the delivery order will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property account for the material so delivered. Whenever the delivery order is not complete in detail as to quantity and nomenclature of the items ordered to be delivered, a shipping document will be originated and a copy filed in support of the delivery order. [JTR 495.2]

§ 844.495–3 Losses in storage. (a) Instances of losses of or damage to termination inventory in storage under storage agreements with war contractors or commercial warehousemen will be reported to the contracting officer under the applicable agreement for appropriate action with respect to the liability, if any, of the contractor or warehousemen under the terms of the storage agreement. The contracting officer will advise the accountable property officer in writing of (1) the amount of the loss, (2) his findings with respect to the war contractor's or warehouseman's liability, (3) the amount of liability acknowledged by the war contractor or by the warehousemen, (4) what action has been initiated to collect amounts which may be due the Government, and what disposal instructions have been issued in the case of damaged property. The contracting officer's written advice will in all cases, regardless of the nature of the findings, serve as an acceptable credit voucher to the accountable property officer's account for the material: Provided, That where damaged property is to be disposed of, accountability instructions applicable to such disposition will be observed.

(b) Instances of losses of or damage to termination inventory in storage at War Department installations awaiting disposition instructions will require action as prescribed in War Department Technical Manual 14–904 (Accounting for Lost, Damaged or Destroyed Property). [JTR 495.3]

§ 844.495–4 Discrepancies disclosed upon removal of termination inventory acquired under final settlement agreement. Relief from accountability for discrepancies disclosed upon removal from a war contractor's premises of termination inventory, the title to which has previously been transferred to the Government by terms of the final settlement agreement, will be accomplished in accordance with the procedure set forth in § 844.495–3 (a). [JTR 495.4]

§ 844.495–5 Disposition of scrap. (a) Where termination inventory taken over by the War Department is subsequently determined to be scrap under the provisions of § 844.446–3, the contracting officer will furnish the interested accountable property officer with a list of such material together with written indication of the scrap determination and disposition instructions. In cases where material is shipped to a salvage officer, a copy of the shipping document, supported by the above mentioned lists and written instructions of the contracting officer together with receipt of the common carrier or transportation agency (or cross reference thereto under circumstances outlined in § 844.495–2), will constitute a valid credit voucher to the account. When the material is turned over to a local salvage officer on an informal list, the salvage officer's acknowledgment of receipt of material and the written instructions of the contracting officer will be considered a valid credit voucher to the property account. Where sales of such scrap are made by the contracting officer, the instructions set forth in § 844.495–1 (a) will be observed.

(b) Where termination inventory taken over by the War Department is destroyed or abandoned pursuant to the provisions of § 844.447–2, an authenticated copy of the contracting officer's authorization listing the items to be destroyed or abandoned, will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property account. [JTR 495.5]

§ 844.496 Discrepancies incident to shipment. [JTR 496]

§ 844.496–1 Receiving procedures. (a) At War Department installations and commercial warehouses receiving shipments of termination inventory for storage awaiting disposition instructions, bundles, bales, cartons, and other packages, comprising such shipments, will ordinarily not be opened to verify quantities. However, the provisions of paragraph 23b, AR 55–150 with respect to determining whether carriers have fulfilled their obligations under bill of lading agreements, will be observed. This will involve verification of the number of bundles, bales, cartons, and other packages or, in the case of bulk shipments where the unit of measure is other than by weight, the quantities involved. In every case an inspection will be made to determine evidence of damage. If discrepancies are disclosed, action will be taken in accordance with §§ 844.496–2 and 844.496–3.

(b) At War Department installations receiving items of termination inventory for use or consumption at such installations or for stocking and subsequent issue to other activities of the War Department, usual receiving and accountability procedures will be followed. [JTR 496.1]

§ 844.496–2 Termination inventory received at War Department installations. (a) Shortages or damage disclosed in shipments of termination inventory received at War Department installations will require action at such installations as set forth in this section.

(b) If the material was shipped from storage under the terms of a storage agreement with a war contractor or commercial warehouseman, the prescribed Report of Survey procedure will be followed. This procedure is set forth in paragraph 4 of AR 35–6540 and in War Department Technical Manual 14–904. Where it has been determined in the survey proceedings that the shortages or damages cannot be attributed to receiving station personnel and there is any question as to liability of the war contractor or warehouseman the instructions contained in paragraphs 174 and 182, TM 14–904 will be observed.

(c) If the material was removed and shipped by the Government from a war contractor's premises without passing through intervening storage under a storage agreement with such contractor, and it appears that the carrier or other transportation agency may be liable for the shortages or damage or that the discrepancies are attributable to receiving station personnel, the Report of Survey will be processed as prescribed in (b) above. Where it is obvious that the delivering carrier or other transportation agency is not responsible for the shortage or damage, nor the receiving station personnel, or where there is an overage, except as hereinafter provided in this paragraph the discrepancies will be listed on WD QMC Form No. 445 (Over, Short & Damaged Report) prepared in triplicate. One copy will be attached to the receiving voucher and two copies will be forwarded to the station initiating the shipment, marked for the attention of the contracting officer under the terminated contract. The contracting officer upon receipt of the O. S. & D. report will, in the event the shortages are, in his opinion, excessive or of sufficient importance (1) direct that Government personnel intensify their check, (2) consider the advisability of requesting an investigation of the conduct of the contractor, or (3) initiate such other action as he may deem advisable. In any event, he will advise the receiving accountable property officer in writing of the action taken or the reason for non-action. One of the copies of the O. S. & D. report received by the contracting officer may be used in accomplishing this advice. The burden will be upon the receiving accountable property officer to determine that he has been furnished such written advice with respect to each O. S. & D. report initiated by him except those relating to overages. With respect to discrepancies which are determined to be inconsequential as defined in paragraph 137a., War Department Technical Manual 14–904, appropriate notation will be made on the debit voucher copy of the shipping document and the preparation and distribution of O. S. & D. reports in such cases will not be required. [JTR 496.2]

§ 844.496–3 Termination inventory received at commercial warehouses. The procedures outlined in § 844.496–2 will be observed in connection with shortages or damage disclosed in shipments of termination inventory received by commercial warehouses. Officers accountable for such material will request commercial warehousemen to report all discrepancies and furnish such information with respect thereto as may be required in complying with the provisions of § 844.496–2 [JTR 496.3]

§ 844.496–4 Discrepancies reported by Government agencies outside the War Department. (a) With respect to shipments of termination inventory to Government agencies outside the War Department which are covered by Government bills of lading providing for payment of freight charges by the War Department, the shipping accountable officer, when discrepancies in shipments are reported to him, will be charged with the administrative duty of adjusting the reported discrepancies by observing the procedures set forth in § 844.496–2, where appropriate, or in the case of shipments from War Department storage installations by initiating Report of Survey-Discrepancies Incident to Shipment (WD AGO Form No. 15–1). In all cases, receiving agencies will be requested by shipping accountable property officers to furnish all information and data necessary to complete the action set forth above.

(b) With respect to shipments of termination inventory to Government agencies outside the War Department, the freight charges upon which are to be paid by an agency other than the War Department, where discrepancies in shipment are reported to the shipping accountable property officer and it has been determined that the shortages or damage are not the delivering carrier's responsibility and cannot be attributed to receiving agency personnel, the instructions set forth in paragraph (a) above, will be observed. In regard to shipments as outlined in this paragraph, receiving agencies are responsible for resolving any question as to liability of a delivering carrier or receiving agency peronnel and initiating action with respect to the enforcement of liability, if any. Shipping accountable property officers will cooperate with the receiving agency in obtaining information and data necessary to carry out these functions. [JTR 496.4]

§ 844.497 Direct settlement on company-wide basis. (a) Where direct settlement of war contracts on a company-wide basis has been authorized pursuant to Subpart E of Part 848 and the designated officer is in the War Department, the instructions contained in this subpart, are applicable to all termination inventory the title to which is accepted by the Government in connection with the settlement. In such cases, the designated officer will take the action required of contracting officers as set forth in this subpart.

(b) Where War Department contracts are involved in a direct settlement program and the designated officer is in the Navy Department, the instructions contained in this subpart are not for application. (See § 848.855–9 (d)). Under Navy Department procedures, officers of the War Department holding accountability for Government property previously furnished to the assigned war contractor will be furnished with a certified copy of a Navy expenditure invoice evidencing disposition of such property. This certified copy of the invoice will be utilized as an authorized credit voucher to the account of the interested accountable property officer. [JTR 497]

§ 844.498 Accountability for material neither stored with war contractor nor removed from war contractor's premises. Where material owned by a war contractor and claimed by him to be allocable to the terminated contract is neither removed from his premises upon demand nor stored with him pursuant to an agreement, accountability will not be established until such time as the material is removed by the Government, a storage agreement with the war contractor is executed, or the Government by other means accepts the property, as, for example, in the final settlement agreement. The procedures peculiar to settlements with subcontractors are covered by Part 846 and the procedures peculiar to settlements with prime contractors are covered in Part 847. [JTR 500]

SUBPART A—METHODS OF SETTLEMENT

§ 845.510 Scope. This subpart discusses generally the various methods of settling termination claims of both prime contractors and subcontractors and provides guides for the selection of a particular method. [JTR 510]

§ 845.511 Basic objective. The basic objective both of the act and the approved contract termination articles is to provide war contractors with fair compensation for their termination claims as expeditiously as possible in order to facilitate maximum war production during the war and to expedite reconversion from war production to civilian production as war conditions permit. [JTR 511]

§ 845.512 Authorized methods of settlement. [JTR 512]

§ 845.512–1 Statutory provisions. The act provides that fair compensation to war contractors shall be determined (a) by agreement with the war contractor, (b) by determination without agreement, (c) by any combination of these two methods, or (d) by arbitration. [JTR 512.1]

§ 845.512–2 Contract provisions. The uniform termination articles for prime contracts and subcontracts and earlier similar articles also provide for fixing fair compensation to war contractors (a) by negotiated agreement, (b) by determination based on a formula, or (c) by any combination of these two methods. [JTR 512.2]

§ 845.513 Settlement by agreement. The negotiated agreement is the most expeditious and most satisfactory method of settling termination claims. This method will be used for settlement whenever feasible. Other methods of settlement will be resorted to only when a termination claim cannot be fairly settled by agreement. [JTR 513]

§ 845.514 Settlement by determination without agreement. (a) When any termination claim cannot be wholly settled by agreement, the claim or unsettled part will be settled by determination without agreement.

(b) Where the Government is making the settlement, the determination will be made in accordance with § 847.750 and following.

(c) Where a war contractor is making the settlement with his subcontractor, the provisions of § 846.625 will govern. [JTR 514]

§ 845.515 Settlement by combined methods; partial negotiated settlement. [JTR 515]

§ 845.515–1 Approvals of subcontract settlements and dispositions of inventory. During the course of negotiations, the contracting officer from time to time will approve subcontract settlements and dispositions of termination inventory and credits arising therefrom in order to expedite or facilitate the settlement. Such approvals shall be final according to their terms, for the purpose of settling the terminated war contract involved. [JTR 515.1]

§ 845.515–2 Minimum partial settlements. (a) Ordinarily, the contracting officer should not attempt to make partial settlements covering particular items of the prime contractor's proposal during the course of the negotiations. To do so may delay or impede the negotiation of the complete final settlement. Such settlements may be made, however, to cover payments for completed articles which are a part of the termination claim.

(b) Whenever he considers it appropriate, the contracting officer may agree with the prime contractor on a partial settlement fixing an amount which the Government agrees to be the minimum amount due on the entire claim without determining that this amount is due on particular elements of the claim or that additional amounts may not be due. This will assure the contractor that he will not be required to refund any part of this minimum amount, but otherwise leaves the final amount due on the entire claim to be negotiated. [JTR 515.2]

§ 845.515–3 Partial settlement upon failure to negotiate complete settlement. (a) When the contracting officer after diligent effort has not been able to negotiate a complete settlement of the termination claim, he may negotiate a partial settlement agreement covering the issues on which agreement can be reached whenever:

(1) Such issues are clearly separable, and

(2) The agreement will not prejudice the interest of the Government in disposing of the unsettled part of the claim.

(b) The remainder of the claim will then be settled by determination without agreement. [JTR 515.3]

§ 845.516 Settlement by arbitration. (a) Section 13 (c) of the act authorizes the contracting agency and the contractor by agreement to submit the termination claim to arbitration. The chief of the service or bureau may authorize this method to be used whenever he believes that the basic objectives of the act will be better served by its use than by resort to the other methods provided.

(b) War contractors are authorized to resort to arbitration under general law in accordance with § 846.625 [JTR 516]

§ 845.517 Settlement of two or more claims jointly. With the consent of the war contractor, the contracting officer or officers concerned may make or approve the joint settlement of two or more termination claims of the same contractor under several war contracts with the same or different services or bureaus. In such cases, accounting work should be consolidated to the greatest extent practicable. One settlement agreement covering the several contracts or several settlement agreements may be used. The agreement should apportion the total amount of the settlement among the several contracts on some reasonable basis, but precise allocations to the particular contracts are not required. [JTR 517]

SUBPART B—SETTLEMENT PROPOSALS FOR FIXED-PRICE CONTRACTS

§ 845.520 Scope. This subpart states the information required for negotiated settlements between the Government and prime contractors, and between war contractors and their subcontractors, and describes the forms for presenting settlement proposals. [JTR 520]

§ 845.521 General information required for negotiation. [JTR 521]

§ 845.521–1 Need for information. In settling the termination claim of a war contractor by agreement, the Government or the war contractor making the settlement must have adequate information to support the claim as a basis for the negotiations. This information must be sufficient to permit a sound business negotiation for a fair settlement. It may be presented in various ways, as indicated in § 845.523. Whichever of these methods is followed, it is essential to bear in mind that the purpose is not to make an exact determination of costs or a detailed application of any formula, but rather to provide adequate data for the exercise of sound and informed business judgment in reaching a settlement. [JTR 521.1]

§ 845.521–2 Nature of information needed. The information in the war contractor's proposal for settlement should support the amount he requests to compensate him fairly for the termination of the contract, without recognizing any profit on work not done. Ordinarily, this amount should cover the work done and preparations and commitments made for the terminated portion, plus a reasonable profit on the work done, and post-termination expenses, less any credits for the proceeds or value of any termination inventory retained or disposed of by the war contractor, but it should not include any amount for completed articles invoiced at the contract price in accordance with § 842.252. [JTR 521.2]

§ 845.521–3 Duty to submit promptly. (a) Each war contractor should prepare and submit his own claim as promptly as possible without waiting for the claims of his subcontractors. Likewise, a war contractor should promptly transmit up the contractual chain all his settlements with his subcontractors which require approval by the Government.

(b) War contractors who delay unreasonably in submitting their claims will lose interest on them for the period of the delay in accordance with § 845.572–3 (d). [JTR 521.3]

§ 845.522 Standard forms for war contractors' proposals for settlement. [JTR 522]

§ 845.522–1 Purpose of standard forms. (a) In order to expedite the preparation and review of settlement proposals, the Director of Contract Settlement has prescribed Standard Forms for settlement proposals under fixed price war supply contracts. The Forms are for use by prime contractors of all departments and agencies of the Government and by their subcontractors.

(b) The forms are designed to present the information required both for settlement of the claim and for disposal of termination inventory. [JTR 522.1]

§ 845.522–2 Proposal forms for claims under $1,000 The Short Form (Form 1a) is for settlement proposals amounting to less than $1,000 after deducting disposal credits for the entire inventory. It consists of a single sheet without supporting schedules. [JTR 522.2]

§ 845.522–3 General proposal forms. The general forms intended for use in settlement proposals, regardless of amount, consist of the following:

(a) Form 1: Designed primarily for settlement proposals on the inventory basis, supported by the inventory and accounting schedules referred to in §§ 845.522–4 and 845.522–5.

(b) Form 1b: Designed for settlement proposals on the total cost basis, supported by the inventory and accounting schedules referred to in §§ 845.522–4 and 845.522–5. [JTR 522.3]

§ 845.522–4 Termination inventory schedules. Termination inventory schedules for use in supporting settlement proposals on Forms 1 and 1b are as follows:

(a) Form 2a: For metals (in mill product form);

(b) Form 2b: For raw materials (other than metals), purchased parts, finished components, finished products, and miscellaneous;

(c) Form 2c: For work in process;

(d) Form 2d: For dies, jigs, fixtures, and special tools. [JTR 522.4]

§ 845.522–5 Schedule of accounting information. This form (Form 3) is used in presenting accounting information to facilitate accounting reviews and to reduce the need for field examinations. [JTR 522.5]

§ 845.522–6 Specimen forms. The standard forms and instructions for their use are reproduced in §§ 849.961 to 849.964, inclusive. These forms have been filled out with hypothetical figures to illustrate their method of use. [JTR 522.6]

§ 845.523 Bases for presenting information for negotiated settlement. [JTR 523]

§ 845.523–1 General. (a) There are various bases for presenting information for negotiating a settlement. The standard forms described in §§ 845.522 are predicated on some of these bases. The following sections discuss the bases and indicate which bases are appropriate for a particular standard form.

(b) Under a fixed-price contract, the contractor does not ordinarily have to prove his costs except on an over-all basis for renegotiation. He should, therefore, not be required to state his costs in unreasonable detail on termination, and should be permitted to use actual, standard, average, or estimated costs in preparing his proposal. Contractors should not be obliged to maintain unduly elaborate cost accounting systems for fixed-price contracts merely because they may be terminated. [JTR 523.1]

§ 845.523–2 Inventory basis. (a) Under the inventory basis, costs applicable to the terminated portion of the war contract will be determined essentially by pricing the inventory in detail at purchase or manufacturing cost and adding costs of settling with subcontractors and any other applicable costs. To the costs thus ascertained, the profit allowance, if any, is added.

(b) This method is especially practicable when the inventory consists largely of purchased materials and parts on which little or no work has been performed. It should also be used when dependable unit cost information is available for the pricing of work in process.

(c) This basis can be used in presenting settlement proposals on Short Form 1a and General Form 1. [JTR 523.2]

§ 845.523–3 Total cost basis. (a) Where the inventory method is not practicable, or will unduly delay settlement, an alternative method of computing the war contractor's own charges may be used. The costs chargeable to the entire contract to date of termination are summarized and a profit allowance, if any, is added. All payments previously made and to be made by the Government for completed units are then deducted. This is known as the "total cost method."

(b) If it is determined that the war contractor would have suffered a loss on the entire contract had it been completed, procedure under the inventory method remains unchanged, but no part of the loss on the completed portion should be included. Under the total cost method, however, the procedure is then as follows: from the total costs of the contract are deducted the payments for completed units adjusted upward to reflect the fact that the indicated cost of these units exceeds their contract price. Thus, if a 6 percent loss on cost were indicated, the contract price of the completed units would represent 94 percent of the indicated cost. By dividing the contract price by .94, the indicated cost of the completed units can be determined. The deduction of the higher amount will leave only the estimated cost applicable to the terminated portion of the contract.

(c) This basis may be used in presenting settlement proposals on Short Form 1a or General Form 1b. [JTR 523.3]

§ 845.523–4 Percentage of completion basis. (a) In submitting a proposal on Short Form 1a, the war contractor may base his proposal on a percentage of the contract price based on the estimated percentage of completion of work under the war contract, where that method will provide fair compensation for termination.

(b) In addition, the contracting officer may authorize this basis of settlement in any other case. Where the settlement exceeds $10,000 (computed in accordance with § 841.122), the case will be reported to the chief of the service or bureau, with a brief explanation of the nature of the case and the reason for authorizing this basis of settlement.

(c) Whenever the chief of any service or bureau considers that fair settlement in any other class of cases will be expedited by using this basis of settlement, he is authorized by general regulations to modify or permit deviation from the procedures prescribed by this subchapter to the extent necessary to permit such basis to be used. The chief of the service or bureau will promptly submit each such general regulation in writing to the Readjustment Branch, OP&M, in accordance with § 841.144–4, with a brief statement as to the reasons for its issuance. [JTR 523.4]

§ 845.523–5 Other bases. (a) In submitting a proposal on Short Form 1a, the war contractor may calculate his proposal by any alternative method which will provide fair compensation for termination.

(b) In addition, whenever the chief of any service or bureau considers that fair settlement in any other case or class of cases will be expedited by a basis for settlement other than those described in §§ 845.523–2 to 845.523–4, inclusive, he will submit to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or, Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, a report recommending an alternative basis for such settlement, and requesting authority for its use in the particular case or class of cases.

(c) Any alternative method and standard shall be designed to compensate the war contractor fairly for the preparations made and work done on the terminated portion of the contract, including a reasonable profit on such preparations and work. [JTR 523.5]

§ 845.524 Use of Form 1a (Short Form). [JTR 524]

§ 845.524–1 When used. Form 1a may be used for submitting a claim, whenever:

(a) The contractor proposes to dispose of or retain all the termination inventory allocable to the terminated contract; and

(b) The net amount of the proposed settlement is less than $1,000 after deducting all credits for the disposal or retention of the entire inventory. [JTR 524.1]

§ 845.524–2 Instructions for use. (a) Neither the inventory schedules nor the schedule of accounting information referred to in §§ 845.522–4 and 845.522–5 need be submitted with Form 1a.

(b) The claim may be prepared on an inventory basis, total cost basis, or percentage of completion basis, or may be calculated by any other method that will provide fair compensation for the preparations made and work done for the terminated portion of the contract, including a reasonable profit on such preparations and work.

(c) Generally, if the claim is prepared on a cost basis, it may include:

(1) Costs incurred which are properly allocable to the terminated portion of the contract under recognized commercial accounting practices, including direct and indirect manufacturing, selling, and distribution, administrative and other costs incurred.

(2) Amounts of reasonable settlements of claims of subcontractors allocable to the terminated portion of the contract.

(3) Reasonable costs of preserving and protecting termination inventory in the possession of the war contractor and reasonable expenses of settling the claim.

(4) A reasonable profit with respect to the preparations made and the work done for the terminated portion of the contract, but no profit with respect to work which has not been done.

(d) Detailed instructions for the use of this form are set forth on the reverse thereof and reproduced in § 849.964. [JTR 524.2]

§ 845.525 Use of general proposal forms. [JTR 525]

§ 845.525–1 When used. (a) Form 1 may be used for any settlement proposal under a fixed-price war contract, other than one on the total cost basis, regardless of the amount of the claim.

(b) Form 1b may be used only for a settlement proposal submitted on the total cost basis. [JTR 525.1]

§ 845.525–2 Instructions for use of Forms 1 and 1b (a) Form 1 is designed primarily for presenting proposals on the inventory basis, described in § 845.523–2. This basis should be used wherever practicable. The form may be used, however, for a proposal prepared on any other basis except the total cost basis.

(b) Where the inventory method is not practicable, war contractors may present their proposals on Form 1b on a total cost basis described in § 845.523–3. For purposes of property accountability and disposition, however, the contractor must submit inventory schedules listing all the termination inventory. Form 1b is not generally distributed but will be provided by any Government contracting office on request.

(c) Normally, proposals submitted on either Form 1 or 1b should cover all elements of the termination claim, including the contractor's own charges and settlements with subcontractors. However, to expedite approval and payment, partial proposals covering either all the war contractor's own costs, or his settlements with subcontractors, or his settlement expenses, may be filed separately as they are prepared. Otherwise, the war contractor will not submit portions of his own costs separately without the approval of the customer or contracting officer.

(d) Where the proposal is submitted on either Form 1 or Form 1b, the proposal must be supported by the Termination Inventory Schedules (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c, and 2d) and usually by a Schedule of Accounting Information (Form 3) referred to in §§ 845.522–4 and 845.522–5. [JTR 525.2]

§ 845.525–3 Use of inventory forms. (a) The termination of inventory schedules may be filed either with or in advance of the settlement proposal. They serve several purposes:

(1) To support the amount of inventory costs included in the settlement proposal; and

(2) To aid in arranging for the removal, storage, sale or other disposition of the termination inventory.

(b) Where inventory schedules covering substantial portions of the inventory can be prepared before other portions are completed, the partial inventory should be filed in order to expedite property removal and disposal.

(c) When schedules are submitted before submission of the settlement proposal, no additional schedules need be submitted with the settlement proposal. In submitting the settlement proposal, however, Schedule G should show and explain retentions or sales of termination inventory made or approved after submission of the inventory schedule and before submission of a settlement proposal, in order to reconcile the disposal credits shown on the inventory schedules with the settlement proposal. If the adjustments are numerous, it is suggested that the war contractor submit revised schedules. [JTR 525.3]

§ 845.525–4 Schedule of accounting information. The war contractor is required to file the Schedule of Accounting Information (Form 3) only once in connection with any termination, and need not file it if:

(a) The proposal is submitted on the Short Form (Form 1a); or

(b) The contracting officer or customer has waived its filing; or

(c) The contractor has already filed the form with the contracting officer or customer in connection with a previous termination. In that case, the contractor must file a statement showing any changes in the accounting information contained in the earlier form. [JTR 525.4]

§ 845.525–5 Detailed instructions Detailed instructions for the use of the Standard Contract Settlement Proposal Forms and the supporting schedules issued by the Office of Contract Settlement are reproduced in § 849.964. [JTR 525.5]

§ 845.526 Departures from standard forms or use of other forms. [JTR 526]

§ 845.526–1 Deviations from forms. All prime contractors and subcontractors are required to use the Standard Forms in submitting proposals for settlement of claims under terminated fixed-price war supply contracts, except as otherwise provided in this subchapter. Minor deviations from the requirements of the forms are permissible, without special approval, but any war contractor must obtain prior approval of the contracting officer or the customer for any substantial deviations. However, a war contractor receiving approval for deviations may not require his subcontractor to submit their proposals on other than the prescribed standard forms. [JTR 526.1]

§ 845.526–2 Other forms. Where the standard forms are not appropriate for any type of contract or for the basis of any class of proposals, the chief of any service or bureau, subject to § 841.144 may authorize modifications of the standard forms or some other suitable form for presenting such proposals. [JTR 526.2]

SUBPART C—BASIS FOR NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT OF FIXED-PRICE CONTRACTS

§ 845.530 Scope. This subpart discusses the general principles governing negotiated settlements. The specific procedures applicable solely to settlements with subcontractors are stated in Part 826, and the procedures peculiar to settlement between the Government and prime contractors are stated in Part 827. [JTR 530]

§ 845.531 General standards for negotiated settlement. (a) The primary objective in negotiating a settlement is to agree on an amount to compensate the war contractor fairly and fully for the work done and the preparations made for the terminated portion of the contract, with such allowance for profit thereon as is reasonable under the circumstances.

(b) Such fair compensation for termination is inherently a matter of judgment and therefore cannot be measured exactly. In a given case, various methods may be equally appropriate for arriving at fair compensation; and differing amounts, resulting from reasonable variations of method and of sound judgment, may all be regarded as constituting fair compensation.

(c) Cost and accounting data may provide guides for ascertaining fair compensation but are not rigid measures of it. Other types of data, criteria, or standards may furnish equally reliable guides to fair compensation. Settlement by agreement should be facilitated to the maximum extent feasible. The amount of record keeping, reporting, and accounting, in connection with settlement of termination claims, will be reduced to the minimum compatible with the reasonable protection of the public interest. [JTR 531]

§ 845.532 Standards for negotiated settlements based on costs and profits. [JTR 532]

§ 845.532–1 Application. In negotiating the amount to be paid the contractor as fair compensation for his claim, it is not necessary to agree on the separate items to be allowed either for costs or profit. The parties may agree upon a total amount without agreeing on the particular elements entering into this amount. However, where the negotiation of the total amount is based on the consideration of costs and profit, the principles stated in §§ 845.532–2 to 845.533–4, inclusive, should be observed. [JTR 532.1]

§ 845.532–2 Consideration of costs. (a) The cost principles set forth in § 845.551 reflect certain policies regarding the types of costs which should ordinarily be taken into account in determining fair compensation for the termination of a war contract. Costs of the types allowed by these principles should be considered in a negotiated settlement based on costs. Conversely, such a settlement should not be made a means for reimbursing expenditures of the types excluded by these principles.

(b) Cost data should be considered as a basis for a business negotiation of a prompt and equitable settlement rather than for an attempt at an exact determination of costs. For the purpose of expediting settlements, costs should be estimated and approximated on reasonable bases, to the fullest extent practicable. Differences should be compromised and questions of doubt settled by agreement.

(c) The scope and function of cost principles and cost data, as outlined above, are not changed by the issuance of Termination Cost Memorandums by the Director of Contract Settlement pursuant to General Regulation No. 14 (see § 845.552–3). These Memorandums are designed to promote greater uniformity in the interpretation of the cost principles, but the principles themselves, insofar as they apply to negotiated settlements, are intended only as a general guide and not in any way as an inflexible rule. [JTR 532.2]

§ 845.533 Allowance for profit on fixed-price contracts. [JTR 533]

§ 845.533–1 General. (a) The contractor should be allowed a profit only on preparations made and work done for the terminated portion of the contract (excluding any allowance of profit on post-termination and settlement expenses, such as protection, preservation and disposition of termination inventory, settlement of the prime contract and any subcontracts thereunder, and like costs). Subject to this limitation, any reasonable method may be used to arrive at a fair profit. The most satisfactory criterion of a fair profit is ordinarily what the parties agreed upon, as evidenced by the amount of profit:

(1) Which both parties agreed upon or consented to at the time the contract was negotiated; or

(2) Which the contractor would have earned had the contract been completed; or

(3) Which the contractor agreed to accept in the event the contract was terminated.

(b) Ordinarily, ascertaining the profit the contractor would have earned, if the contract had been completed, would be complicated, time consuming, and in practice would frequently be inaccurate. Generally, the best substitute for this criterion will be the amount of profit which the parties agreed upon at the outset. Accordingly, in arriving at a reasonable profit, whether determined separately or as a part of the whole amount of the settlement, the following sections should be considered. [JTR 533.1]

§ 845.533–2 Proportion of agreed profit. (a) One method of arriving at a fair profit on the terminated portion of the contract is to allow the contractor the same proportion of the dollar amount of the profit which both parties agreed upon or contemplated at the time the contract was negotiated as the work performed by him on the terminated portion of the contract bears to the work contemplated by the entire contract.

(b) This proportion does not necessarily depend on the ratio of the costs incurred on the terminated portion to the total estimated costs, nor on the ratio of materials acquired for the terminated portion to the total materials needed. Thus, where the contractor has acquired materials not processed by him, these costs are not a fair index of the proportion of the work done by him. These factors should be considered, but the primary test is the extent and difficulty of the work done by the contractor (including engineering work, production scheduling, planning, technical study and supervision, arrangement and supervision of subcontracts, as well as other services) as compared with the total work required of him by the contract. Engineering estimates of the percentage of completion should not ordinarily be required but should be properly considered if available.

(c) Where the contract has required the arrangement of subcontracts and the supervision of their performance, this work should be considered in estimating the extent of completion, but the profit should not be measured by the amount of his payments to subcontractors for their termination claims. [JTR 533.2]

§ 845.533–3 Approximate formula profit. Where the application of the principles stated in § 845.533–2 is impracticable in any case or would delay its settlement, or where it appears that the contractor would not have realized a profit on the contract if it had been completed, another method may be used to determine the amount of profit. This method is to approximate the amount of the profit which the contractor would be entitled to receive under the formula contained in his contract if the parties had failed to agree. [JTR 533.3]

§ 845.533–4 Profits on letter orders. Where a letter order, letter contract, or other preliminary contractual instrument contains a provision allowing such profit on termination as is reasonable under the circumstances, no profit will be allowed to the war contractor if he has delayed the execution of a definitive contract for an unreasonable period without proper cause. [JTR 533.4]

§ 845.534 Other principles. [JTR 534]

§ 845.534–1 Avoiding useless litigation. To avoid forcing the contractor to unnecessary litigation to establish his legal rights against the Government under the uniform article, it will be appropriate in any case, where the contractor so desires, to approximate in the settlement the amount prescribed by the formula in that article. [JTR 534.1]

§ 845.534–2 Overall limit on settlements. The gross amount of the settlement, excluding sums paid to compensate for post-termination expenses and services, should not exceed the contract price, minus payments otherwise made or to be made under the contract. [JTR 534.2]

§ 845.535 Price adjustment articles. [JTR 535]

§ 845.535–1 Effect of War Department price adjustment articles after termination. (a) Many fixed-price supply contracts contain articles providing that, upon the occurrence of specified events, the contract prices of the items thereafter to be delivered will be readjusted either by negotiation or by formula (e. g., §§ 803.372–5, 803.372–6, 803.372–7, 803.373–5, 803.373–6, 803.377–4 and the articles formerly appearing in §§ 803.339, 803.360–1, 803.360–2, 803.360a, 803.360a–1, and 803.361 of this chapter). Other price adjustment articles provide that upon the occurrence of specified events the contract price of the items theretofore delivered as well as thereafter to be delivered will be adjusted either by negotiation or by formula (e. g., §§ 803.372–7, 803.373–6 and the articles formerly appearing in §§ 803.341–1, 803.341–2, 803.360–2 and 803.360a–1). Where the contract is terminated after the occurrence of an event giving rise to a right to a negotiation or computation looking to a price adjustment but before its completion, the adjustment negotiations or computations will normally be carried promptly to conclusion by the parties.

(b) Some price adjustment articles (e. g., Part 803, §§ 803.370 to 803.377–4, and former §§ 803.360–1, 803.360–2, 803.360a and 803.360a–1 of this chapter) specifically recognize the possibility of termination, and set out the effect to be given to these articles in the event of a formula settlement under the uniform termination article. In the case of a contract containing such an article, consideration should be given, in negotiating a settlement, to the rights of either party to a price adjustment. The negotiated settlement should not be used, however, to effect an adjustment in the price of items delivered in any period as to which there would have been no adjustment if the contract had continued to completion.

(c) In certain price adjustment articles providing for retrospective as well as prospective price adjustment (e. g. the standard articles formerly set out in §§ 803.341–1 and 803.341–2) there is no provision with respect to the relation between price adjustment and termination. If a contract containing such an article is terminated before the event giving rise to a right to a computation or negotiation looking to a price adjustment has occurred, neither party has any right to an adjustment of the contract price of articles delivered prior to termination. In such event, however, the limitations on certain types of cost contained in paragraph (i) in the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs (§§ 845.551 and 845.551–2) shall apply only to the extent that such limitations would have applied if the contract had been completed and adjustment of the price had been negotiated or determined. In negotiating a settlement with respect to the terminated portion of the contract, due allowance may be made for high initial costs, if any, in accordance with the principle set forth in § 845.551–3. Furthermore, where weight is to be given to the indicated rate of profit on such a contract, consideration should be given to the fact that the contract contained a price adjustment article. The procedure set out in § 845.523–3 (b) shall not be applied in the case of contracts which contain an article permitting upward price adjustment and having retrospective effect, if the contract is terminated before the occurrence of the event giving rise to negotiation or determination of such price adjustment.

(d) Price adjustments and negotiations or computations relating thereto should, wherever practicable, be concluded prior to, and reflected in, the final settlement agreement. Care should be taken to exclude from the negotiated settlement of a termination claim any costs which have already been explicitly recognized as having been paid for in price for completed periods under a price adjustment article. See § 803.371–2 (h). [JTR 535.1]

§ 845.535–2 Effect of Navy Department price adjustment articles after termination. (a) Certain Navy Department fixed price contracts contain articles providing for the readjustment of contract prices by negotiation or otherwise upon the occurrence of a specified event (the date of occurrence of which is hereinafter referred to as the "target date"). Where a contract contains such an article which specifically prescribes the effect to be given thereto upon termination, the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) below shall not apply.

(b) This paragraph applies to terminated fixed price contracts which contain the Uniform General Price Redetermination Article approved for use in Navy fixed price contracts, or any substantially similar article providing for the downward redetermination of contract prices by negotiation or otherwise upon the target date. This paragraph does not apply to any contract under which the price redetermination has been effected prior to the date fixed for termination.

(1) In the absence of unusual circumstances, where the contracting officer finds that, by reason of a termination, the target date will never be reached, the contracting officer shall not exercise any privilege he may have of accelerating the target date, and the termination settlement shall waive the Government's rights under the redetermination article.

(2) Where settlement of a termination claim is completed before redetermination is effected, the settlement agreement shall reserve to the Government any right it may have to redetermination, unless settled and released, or waived, as provided in subparagraph (1) above or paragraph (c) below.

(c) Where performance of work under a terminated contract has been substantially completed, and a termination settlement is effected on the total cost basis (Form 1b) prior to redetermination of price under any redetermination article, any claim of the contractor or the Government under the redetermination article, shall, wherever possible, be settled and released as part of the termination settlement. Redetermination shall not, however, be delayed substantially beyond the original or accelerated target date solely in order to permit the contractor to file his termination claim on Form 1b.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the readjustment or redetermination of prices shall proceed upon the terms and conditions stated in the contract, regardless of any termination thereof. [JTR 535.2]

§ 845.537 Application to subcontracts. Settlements of subcontracts will be approved or recognized where they are based on the principles stated in this subpart, except that the contracting officer may take into account the profit which he would have agreed to pay in procuring directly the same or a similar item, instead of the profit determined in accordance with § 845.533. [JTR 537]

§ 845.538 Application of principles to war contracts without uniform termination article. In settling by negotiation any terminated war contract which does not contain and is not amended to insert the uniform fixed-price termination article, the contracting officer or war contractor settling the claim should apply the principles stated in this subpart to the extent appropriate in the light of the provisions of the particular contract. [JTR 538]

SUBPART D—BASIS FOR FORMULA SETTLEMENT OF FIXED-PRICE CONTRACTS

§ 845.540 Scope. Under the uniform termination articles for fixed price supply prime contracts and subcontracts, if the parties fail to agree on the amount payable for termination, the amount will be determined under a formula prescribed by the uniform article which is substantially the same in both the prime contract and subcontract forms. This subpart discusses the amounts allowed under this formula. The procedure for making such formula settlements under prime contracts is prescribed in Subpart E of Part 847. Subcontract settlements without agreement are discussed in § 846.625. [JTR 540]

§ 845.541 Items allowed by formula for fixed-price contracts. [JTR 541]

§ 845.541–1 Completed articles. The war contractor is entitled to the contract price for all articles or services which have been completed in accordance with the contract and not theretofore paid for, and which do not represent unreasonable anticipation of production schedules, unless the parties agree on other disposition of such articles. (See § 842.252–1 (c).)

§ 845.541–2 Contractor's own charges. The war contractor is entitled to the actual costs incurred by him which are properly allocable to the terminated portion of the war contract under recognized commercial accounting practices, except costs allocable to completed articles paid for at the contract price. For this purpose, the principles for determining costs stated in § 845.551 apply to formula settlements under the uniform fixed-price prime contract article by its terms, and will be recognized by the Government as representing "recognized commercial accounting practices" under the uniform subcontract article. [JTR 541.2]

§ 845.541–3 Subcontractors' claims. The war contractor is entitled to the costs of settling and paying claims under terminated subcontracts allocable to the terminated portion of the war contract. For the purpose of computing the allowance for profit, the amounts paid or payable to subcontractors for materials delivered or services furnished by them before the effective date of termination should be treated as a part of the war contractor's own charges and not as part of the cost of settling termination claims of subcontractors. [JTR 541.3]

§ 845.541–4 Post-termination and settlement expenses. (a) The war contractor is entitled to his reasonable costs of preserving and protecting termination inventory in his possession, and any other reasonable costs incidental to the termination of work.

(b) He is also entitled to reasonable costs of obtaining settlement of the amount due on his termination claim. [JTR 541.4]

§ 845.541–5 Allowance for profit. As an allowance for profit on the terminated portion of the contract, the war contractor is entitled to percentages fixed in the contract on the costs of materials not processed by him and on the remainder of his costs, but the aggregate allowance for profit shall not exceed 6% of the whole of such costs. For the purpose of computing such profit, his costs shall not include any charge for interest on borrowings or for amounts paid by him in settling termination claims of subcontractors (see § 845.541–3). [JTR 541.5]

§ 845.541–6 Limitation on aggregate amount. The total amount payable to the contractor under §§ 845.541–1, 845.541–2, 845.541–3 and 845.541–5, before deducting disposal credits, shall not exceed the total contract price less payments otherwise made or to be made under the contract. [JTR 541.6]

§ 845.542 Deductions under formula for fixed-price contracts. [JTR 542]

§ 845.542–1 Disposal credits. From the amount payable under § 845.541, there shall be deducted the agreed price for any part of the termination inventory retained by the war contractor, and the proceeds of sale of any materials sold by him, which have not otherwise been paid or credited to the Government or customer. [JTR 542.1]

§ 845.542–2 Deduction for property undeliverable due to loss or damage. Under the uniform article for prime contracts, the risk of loss of termination inventory, except for normal spoilage, remains on the prime contractor until transfer of such property to the Government or to a buyer, or until 60 days after delivery to the Government of an inventory schedule covering it, whichever occurs first, unless the Government has expressly assumed such risk. Under the formula, if any such property is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable within these periods, any amounts payable for such property shall be deducted from the amounts otherwise payable to the prime contractor under § 845.541. [JTR 542.2]

§ 845.542–3 Other offsets. Under the uniform article for prime contracts, the amount payable to the prime contractor under § 845.541 is subject to deduction for any other claim which the Government may have against the prime contractor in connection with the contract. [JTR 542.3]

§ 845.542–4 Unliquidated financing. Under the uniform article for prime contracts, the amount payable to the prime contractor under § 845.541 is subject to deduction for all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor, and unliquidated advance payments. [JTR 542.4]

§ 845.542–5 Withholding of amounts for subcontractors. Under the uniform article for prime contracts, the contracting officer in his discretion may deduct from the amount otherwise payable under § 845.541 the amount of any termination claim of any subcontractor to the extent that it does not cover materials delivered to the contractor, or services furnished to him for the production of completed articles. (See § 846.668) [JTR 542.5]

§ 845.543 Application of other contract formulas. Where any war contract contains a formula for determining the amount due if terminated, different from that prescribed in the uniform article for fixed-price contracts, the provisions of the formula in the particular contract will be followed in determining the amount due for its termination when the parties do not settle the claim by agreement, unless the formula fails to provide fair compensation in accordance with the act. [JTR 543]

SUBPART E—PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COSTS

§ 845.550 Scope. (a) By order dated January 8, 1944, the Director of War Mobilization issued a statement of principles for determination of costs upon termination of Government fixed-price supply contracts. By order of the Director of Contract Settlement dated September 30, 1944, this statement of principles was amended in certain respects. The text of this statement of principles, as amended, is set forth in § 845.551 of this subpart, and the instructions for the application of these principles are stated in § 845.552.

(b) This subpart also contains other instructions as to costs, including those applicable to settlements of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts and subcontracts. [JTR 550]

§ 845.551 Statement of principles for determination of costs upon termination of fixed-price supply contracts. [JTR 551]

§ 845.551–1 General principles.

General principles. The costs contemplated by this Statement of Principles are those sanctioned by recognized commercial accounting practices and are intended to include the direct and indirect manufacturing, selling and distribution, administrative and other costs incurred which are reasonably necessary for the performance of the contract, and are properly allocable or apportionable, under such practices, to the contract (or the part thereof under consideration). The general principles set out in this Statement are subject to the application of any special provisions of the contract. Certain costs are specifically described below [in § 845.551–2] because of their particular significance, and, as in the case of other costs, should be included to the extent that they are allocable to or should be apportioned to the contract or the part thereof under consideration.

§ 845.551–2 Particular allowed costs.

(a) Common inventory. The costs of items of inventory which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(b) Common claims of subcontractors. The claims of subcontractors which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(c) Depreciation. An allowance for depreciation at appropriate rates on buildings, machinery and equipment and other facilities including such amounts for obsolescence due to progress in the arts and other factors as are ordinarily given consideration in determining depreciation rates. Depreciation as defined herein shall not include loss of useful value of the type covered by subparagraph (f).

(d) Experimental and research expense. General experimental and research expense to the extent consistent with an established pre-war program, or to the extent related to war purposes.

(e) Engineering and development and special tooling. Costs of engineering and development and of special tooling: Provided, That the contractor protects any interests of the Government by transfer of title or by other means deemed appropriate by the Government.

(f) Loss on facilities—Conditions on allowance. In the case of any special facility acquired by the contractor solely for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, if upon termination of the contract such facility is not reasonably capable of use in the other business of the contractor having regard to the then condition and location of such facility, an amount which bears the same proportion to the loss of useful value as the deliveries not made under the contract bear to the total of the deliveries which have been made and would have been made had the contract and the other contracts been completed: Provided, That no amount shall be allowed under this paragraph unless upon termination of the contract title to the facility is transferred to the Government, except where the Government elects to take other appropriate means to protect its interests.

(g) Special leases. (1) Rentals under leases clearly shown to have been made for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, covering the period necessary for complete performance of the contract and such further period as may have been reasonably necessary; (2) costs of reasonable alteration of such leased property made for the same purpose; and (3) costs of restoring the premises, to the extent required by reasonable provisions of the lease; less (4) the residual value of the lease: Provided, That the contractor shall have made reasonable efforts to terminate, assign, or settle such leases or otherwise reduce the cost thereof.

(h) Advertising. Advertising expense to the extent consistent with a pre-war program or to the extent reasonable under the circumstances.

(i) Limitation on costs described in subparagraphs (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h). In no event shall the aggregate of the amounts allowed under subparagraphs (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h) exceed the amount which would have been available from the contract price to cover these items, if the contract had been completed, after considering all other costs which would have been required to complete it.

(j) Interest. Interest on borrowings.

(k) Settlement expenses. Reasonable accounting, legal, clerical and other expenses necessary in connection with the termination and settlement of the contract and subcontracts and purchase orders thereunder, including expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining payment from the Government only to the extent reasonably necessary for the preparation and presentation of settlement proposals and cost evidence in connection therewith.

(l) Protection and disposition of property. Storage, transportation and other costs incurred for the protection of property acquired or produced for the contract or in connection with the disposition of such property.

§ 845.551–3 Initial costs.

Initial costs. Costs of a non-recurring nature which arise from unfamiliarity with the product in the initial stages of production should be appropriately apportioned between the completed and the terminated portions of the contract. In this category would be included high direct labor and overhead costs, including training, costs of excessive rejections and similar items.

Excluded costs. Without affecting the generality of the foregoing provisions in other respects, amounts representing the following should not be included as elements of cost:

(a) Losses on other contracts, or from sales or exchanges of capital assets; fees and other expenses in connection with reorganization or recapitalization, anti-trust or federal income-tax litigation, or prosecution of federal income tax claims or other claims against the Government (except as provided in paragraph (k) [§ 845.551–2]); losses on investments; provisions for contingencies and premiums on life insurance where the contractor is the beneficiary.

(b) The expense of conversion of the contractor's facilities to uses other than the performance of the contract.

(c) Expenses due to the negligence or willful failure of the contractor to discontinue with resonable promptness the incurring of expenses after the effective date of the termination notice.

(d) Costs incurred in respect to facilities, materials or services purchased or work done in excess of the reasonable quantitative requirements of the entire contract.

§ 845.551–5 Use of contractor's accounting methods.

To the extent that they conform to recognized commercial accounting practices and the foregoing Statement of Principles, the established accounting practices of the contractor as indicated by his books of account and financial reports will be given due consideration in the preparation of statements of cost for the purposes of this article.

§ 845.551–6 Other costs.

The failure specifically to mention in this statement any item of cost is not intended to imply that it should be included or excluded.

[JTR 551.6]

§ 845.552 Application of statement of principles. [JTR 552]

§ 845.552–1 Application to formula settlements. (a) The cost principles stated in § 845.551 apply to formula settlements of termination claims under the uniform articles for fixed price supply prime contracts and subcontracts.

(b) Paragraph (h) of the uniform article for prime contracts specifies that the statement of cost principles shall be followed in applying the formula. When issued, the uniform article referred to the statement issued by the Director of War Mobilization on January 8, 1944. The statement of cost principles as amended on September 30, 1944 is somewhat simpler to apply and administer. In the interest of uniformity, however, in applying the formula under a contract with the uniform clause, the contracting officer will follow the statement of cost principles as amended, whether or not the contract refers to the earlier form of the statement. If the contractor so desires, the contracting officer shall amend the contract to refer to the revised statement.

(c) In applying the formula under the fixed price supply subcontract article, the Government will consider the statement of principles as representing "recognized commercial accounting practices." For this purpose, any subcontractor will be allowed the benefits of the amended form of the Statement whether his subcontract was made before or after its amendment. [JTR 552.1]

§ 845.552–2 Application to negotiated settlements. In settlements of prime contracts and subcontracts by agreement, the statement of principles will be taken into account to the extent stated in § 845.552–2. [JTR 552.2]

§ 845.552–3 Interpretation in both formula and negotiated settlements. (a) To promote uniformity in the interpretation of the statement of cost principles, the Director of Contract Settlement has issued General Regulation No. 14, including termination cost memorandums numbered 1 through 9. Additional memorandums will be issued as required from time to time.

(b) These memorandums represent an acceptable standard of accuracy in the accounting treatment of the costs to which they relate. They are intended to serve as accounting aids to personnel of prime contractors, subcontractors, and contracting agencies. Their function is to interpret, not to expand, the statement of cost principles; and accounting data may be accepted when determined on bases different from those set forth in the memorandums if such bases represent recognized commercial accounting practices and yield equitable results. [JTR 552.3]

§ 845.553 Continuing costs after effective date of termination. In some instances, it may be impossible to discontinue certain costs and expenses in connection with the performance of a war contract immediately after the effective date of termination in spite of all reasonable efforts by the war contractor to stop work promptly in accordance with the notice of termination. Where the war contractor proceeds as rapidly as is practicable, after receiving such notice, to discontinue such costs in accordance therewith, reimbursement for such costs should not be denied merely because they were incurred after the effective date of termination. However, a war contractor will not be reimbursed for "interest on borrowings" (§ 845.551–2 (j)) to the extent that such interest accrues after the effective date of termination. [JTR 553]

§ 845.554 Allocation of advance planning expenses. Where a contractor incurs reasonable preliminary expenses to plan or prepare in advance for termination, such expenses may be allocated on any fair basis to contracts terminated thereafter. [JTR 554]

§ 845.555 Determination of allocability. [JTR 555]

§ 845.555–1 General basis. Material claimed to be termination inventory must be properly allocable, both as to type and quantity, to the terminated war contract. In the case of a prime contract, the contracting officer must determine allocability. In the case of a subcontract, the next higher tier war contractor must determine allocability, subject to approval by the contracting officer when his approval of the settlement is required. [JTR 555.1]

§ 845.555–2 Common items. (a) Items which are reasonably usable on other work of the war contractor because they are materials, parts or components, common in nature to both the terminated contract and other work of the contractor, should not be listed on termination inventory schedules nor should any costs with respect thereto be included in his settlement proposal, to the extent that the items are reasonably applicable to the contractor's other work. The foregoing provision is not intended to prevent a war contractor from listing properly allocable items which cannot be used on other work except at a loss to the contractor. The determination of whether or not items are reasonably usable on other work of the contractor and without loss should be made as of the effective date of termination.

(b) In the settlement of a terminated contract common items properly allocable thereto may be taken into consideration in determining the amount to be paid, on the same basis as other termination inventory, and such items may be retained, sold or otherwise disposed of in the same way as other termination inventory in accordance with Part 844. For further instructions regarding common items, see Termination Cost Memorandum No. 3, Regulation No. 14 of the Office of Contract Settlement (Part 8604 of Title 32).

§ 845.555–3 Allocability among several terminated contracts. Where the chief of a service or bureau determines that termination inventory or terminated subcontracts allocable to two or more terminated war contracts cannot be allocated accurately among such contracts without unreasonable delay or effort by the war contractor or the Government, he may authorize the allocation of such inventory or subcontracts among such contracts on any reasonable basis without attempting to determine accurately the amount allocable to each contract. [JTR 555.3]

§ 845.555–4 Material in excess of CMP and other WPB regulations. Materials may be determined to be allocable to a terminated war contract without deciding whether they exceed any amount permitted under CMP or other regulations or orders of the War Production Board. The War Production Board is responsible for enforcing its regulations and orders. Contracting officers do not have such responsibility. [JTR 555.4]

§ 845.556 Diversion of material and subcontracts to continuing war contracts. [JTR 556]

§ 845.556–1 General. It is the policy of the Government, upon the termination of war contracts, to utilize material or subcontracts for continuing war production. A war contractor should, whenever practicable, divert termination inventory and subcontracts under terminated war contracts to his other war contracts or to those of another war contractor. Diversions should be made to continuing war contracts (a) with the War or Navy Department in accordance with this subchapter, or (b) with any other Department of the Government in accordance with this subchapter and any applicable regulation of such other Department. [JTR 556.1]

§855.556–2 Diversion of contractor-owned material. (a) Where a war contractor diverts material to any of his continuing war contracts, its cost may be included in the settlement of the terminated contract and a value agreed upon for its retention. In the event of subsequent termination of the continuing contract, the agreed value may be included in arriving at the cost of the material chargeable to the continuing contract. The material so diverted will be considered allocable to the continuing contract, if it is later terminated, to the extent that such material is within the reasonable quantitative requirement for completion of that contract, even though production schedules are anticipated or exceeded as a result of such diversion.

(b) Where a war contractor terminates subcontracts as a result of the diversion of material from a terminated war contract to his continuing war contracts, the charges incurred by reason of the termination of such subcontracts may be dealt with in either of the following ways:

(1) The war contractor may take such termination charges into consideration when calculating the amount at which he will agree to retain the materials for diversion to the continuing contract. If the continuing contract is later terminated, such agreed value plus such termination charges may be included in arriving at the cost of the material chargeable to the continuing war contract.

(2) The termination charges may be included in the termination claim under the original terminated war contract, in which event they shall not be considered in determining any agreed value at which the material is diverted to the continuing contract, nor shall they be included in arriving at the cost of the material to be included in a later termination settlement of the continuing war contract.

(c) If the price at which material is diverted to a continuing war contract cannot readily be agreed upon in advance of delivery owing to considerations beyond the control of the war contractor and induced by the nature of the transaction, diversion of the material may nevertheless be made. In such case, provisions may be made for pricing by mutual agreement at a future time not beyond the expiration of the continuing war contract, or the termination settlement thereof if it is subsequently terminated.

(d) Where termination inventory is transferred to another war contractor for use in connection with a fixed-price war contract, the transaction constitutes a sale rather than a diversion. If a saving to the Government may be effected, however, such transfer of material may be made even if it necessitates the termination of subcontracts of the other war contractor, and the cost of such termination may be taken into consideration in arriving at the proper price at which the material may be transferred, or may be paid by the Government when the contracting officer so determines. [JTR 556.2]

§ 855.556–3 Diversion of Government-owned material. Government-owned material remaining after termination of a war contract should be diverted by sale or by a transfer of accountability to continuing cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or other war contracts which by their provisions vest title to material in the Government, or should be diverted as Government-furnished material or equipment to fixed-price war contracts. [JTR 556.3]

§ 855.556–4 Diversion of subcontracts. (a) War contractors should, so far as practicable, divert subcontracts from terminated war contracts to continuing war contracts of the same or other war contractors where a saving to the Government may be effected and where the material covered by the subcontracts will be within the reasonable quantitative requirements for the completion of the continuing contract.

(b) Where the transfer of a subcontract to a continuing contract of the same war contractor necessitates the termination of existing subcontracts under the continuing contract, the termination charges thereon may be included in the war contractor's termination claim under the original terminated war contract.

(c) If the transfer of a subcontract to a continuing war contract of another war contractor necessitates the termination of existing subcontracts under the continuing contract, the termination charges may either (1) be reimbursed by the Government to the continuing war contractor with the approval of the contracting officer for that contract, or (2) be assumed by the war contractor under the original terminated war contract and included in his termination claim when this may be accomplished with the agreement of all parties concerned. [JTR 556.4]

§ 845.558 Cost principles for cost and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. In effecting a settlement of terminated cost and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, and of the cost portion of a terminated fixed-price contract, the provisions of the particular contract governing the types of reimbursable costs will determine what costs are properly allowable. Some cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts embody Treasury Decision 5000 in their definition of costs, which definition is, in some material respects, different from the definition contained in § 845.551. [JTR 558]

SUBPART F—BASIS FOR SETTLEMENT OF COST-PLUS-A-FIXED-FEE CONTRACTS

§ 845.560 Scope. This subpart discusses special procedures applicable to the settlement of terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts and subcontracts. Except to the extent inconsistent with this subpart, all other provisions of this subchapter are applicable to terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts unless the context indicates otherwise. [JTR 560]

§ 845.560–1 Types of contracts. (a) The provisions of this subpart shall be applicable to the following:

(1) Cost and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contracts;

(2) That portion of a fixed-price prime contract which is on a reimbursable cost basis, where the estimated cost of that portion exceeds 50 per cent of the fixed-price portion, if the cost portion is terminated either in whole or in part or if the fixed-price portion is terminated in whole; and

(3) Letter orders, letter contracts, letters of intent and letter purchase orders which provide for current reimbursement of allowable costs.

(b) The provisions of this subpart shall not apply to any cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract where any higher tier contract is not a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. [JTR 560.1]

§ 845.560–2 Pending cases. The provisions of this subpart shall apply to pending cases, but action taken in accordance with the procedures in effect at the time the action was taken shall be deemed to constitute compliance with any comparable provisions of this subpart. Where the chief of any service or bureau determines that the use of any of the procedures set forth in this subpart will unduly delay the final settlement of a case pending on February 8, 1945, he may apply to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, for authority to be relieved from the application of these procedures. [JTR 560.2]

§ 845.560–3 Use of terms. As used in this subpart, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. The term "cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract" means the types of contracts described in § 845.560–1.

(b) Form 1034 cost vouchers. The term "Form 1034 cost vouchers" means any voucher (including, in the Navy Department, vouchers on S&A Form 77) covering payment of costs to a war contractor, except vouchers covering only the following:

(1) Post-termination expenses; or

(2) Advance, progress, or partial payments; or

(3) Payments on partial or complete settlement agreements or on settlements by determination; or

(4) Payments to subcontractors of the types described in subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph.

(c) Reimbursed costs. The term "reimbursed costs' means payments on Form 1034 cost vouchers to a war contractor for costs audited and allowed by the War or Navy Department up to the time of payment of the last Form 1034 cost voucher under the contract, whether or not subsequently recovered from the contractor as the result of a General Accounting Office exception. Payments in excess of audited and allowed costs, including progress payments on unsettled overhead, shall not be regarded as reimbursed costs.

(d) Fixed-fee. The term "fixed-fee" means any compensation under the contract in the nature of a fixed-fee for the contractor's services or a bonus for savings in cost or early delivery. [JTR 560.3]

§ 845.561 Procedures prior to termination which are necessary to prompt settlement in the event of termination. [JTR 561]

§ 845.561–1 Prompt submission and audit of Form 1034 cost vouchers. The contractor should present promptly to the service or bureau Form 1034 cost vouchers for all costs incurred in connection with the performance of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. This is essential in order that the service or bureau and the General Accounting Office may carry out their audits on a current basis and, so far as practicable, settle controversial or doubtful issues. Where the contractor, in the opinion of the contracting officer, does not present his costs with reasonable promptness, it may be necessary to reduce advance payments or other Government financing in order to protect adequately the Government's interests. In those cases where overhead is involved, progress payments against current overhead may be discontinued by the contracting officer in the War Department or the Cost Inspection Service in the Navy Department, to the extent necessary to insure prompt presentation of final vouchers. [JTR 561.1]

§ 845.561–2 Clearance of informal inquiries. Every effort will be made during performance of the contract to provide satisfactory answers to all informal inquiries raised during the course of audit by the General Accounting Office. Clearance of informal inquiries is of special importance in view of the procedure that a Notice of Exception (Standard Form 1100) will be issued by the General Accounting Office where a satisfactory reply has not been made within 60 days from the date of the inquiry. [JTR 561.2]

§ 845.561–3 Submission of reclaim vouchers in the War Department. Where deductions or refunds have been made to clear exceptions and the contractor desires to make a further claim for the amount deducted or refunded, the claim may be submitted in the form of a reclaim voucher. The voucher, if approved by the contracting officer, must be certified and supported by all available and necessary documentary evidence, including (a) questions raised by the informal inquiry and replies, if any, (b) copy of notice of exception (Standard Form 1100) and replies thereto, (c) any revision to the exception together with replies made to the revised exception, and (d) any additional evidence not theretofore submitted in support of the claim for reimbursement. The Fiscal Director, ASF, has instructed all disbursing officers that, prior to termination, where payment on the reclaim voucher is not made promptly, they should forward such reclaim voucher and supporting information to his office, prior to payment either for submission to the Comptroller General for advance decision, or for other appropriate action. After termination, the reclaim voucher will be sent by the disbursing officer in every case, prior to payment, to the Office of the Fiscal Director. [JTR 561.3]

§ 845.562 General principles governing settlement of terminated contracts. [JTR 562]

§ 845.562–1 Necessity for complete and final settlement. (a) As in the case of fixed-price contracts, it is the policy of the War and Navy Departments that the settlement of a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract be complete and final. Settlement should be by agreement to the maximum extent feasible, but any contracts that cannot be settled by agreement must be settled by determination, as provided in § 845.568. Where agreement can be reached on only part of the issues, a settlement agreement covering these issues should be negotiated, subject to the provisions of § 845.515–3, and the remainder of the claim settled by determination.

(b) Each complete and final settlement, either by agreement or determination, will include not only unreimbursed costs and fixed-fee but also, for the purpose of finality, reimbursed costs under the contract. Upon final settlement all termination inventory must be accounted for as provided in § 844.451–1. [JTR 562.1]

§ 845.562–2 Procedure required for settlement. (a) No settlement covering reimbursed costs may be made except pursuant to the procedure set forth in § 845.563. This procedure requires notice to the General Accounting Office after payment of the last Form 1034 cost voucher submitted under the contract. The General Accounting Office is requested in the notice to furnish information as to any outstanding exceptions by an interim audit status letter sent promptly after receipt of the notice and by a final audit status letter sent on or prior to the date 60 days from receipt of the notice. The date 60 days from receipt of the notice or the date of receipt of the final audit status letter, whichever is earlier, is referred to in this subpart as the "audit status date". Within the period of 30 days after the audit status date a final effort is to be made to clear outstanding exceptions.

(b) Where there have been no reimbursed costs under the contract, the procedure set forth in § 845.563 need not be followed. In such cases, all claims of the Government or the contractor in connection with the terminated contract will be settled as provided in § 845.564. [JTR 562.2]

§ 845.562–3 Partial termination. (a) Where a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract is terminated in part, a settlement covering only the terminated portion will not be practicable unless it is clearly severable from the balance of the contract. Except as provided in paragraph (c) below, therefore, all costs will continue to be presented in the same manner, as prior to the notice of partial termination, until the contracting officer determines that performance (as distinguished from termination activity) is complete or that performance on any continued portion is only on subsidiary items or spare parts, or is otherwise not substantial, at which time the procedure set forth in § 845.563 will be followed.

(b) As promptly as practicable after a partial termination, unless the contract otherwise provides, subcontracts terminated as a result of the partial termination should be settled as provided in § 845.569 and the fixed-fee should be adjusted in accordance with § 845.566.

(c) Where the contracting officer determines that the terminated portion is clearly severable from the balance of the contract, the terminated portion and any related claims likewise severable and appropriate for settlement in connection with the terminated portion may be settled separately, in accordance with § 845.563 if the settlement includes reimbursed costs, or in accordance with § 845.564 if the settlement does not include reimbursed costs. [JTR 562.3]

§ 845.563 Procedure where settlement includes reimbursed costs. [JTR 563]

§ 845.563–1 Action to be taken upon issuance of notice of termination. (a) When a notice of partial or complete termination is issued, the office issuing the notice will, at the time of issuance, send a copy thereof to the General Accounting Office.

(b) The contracting officer will proceed immediately to take all possible preliminary steps looking toward a final settlement agreement, including approval of subcontract settlements under § 845.569, the consideration of accounting reports submitted pursuant to § 845.567–3, disposition of termination inventory, and discussion of points at issue. No final settlement agreement which includes reimbursed costs will be made, however, until the provisions of §§ 845.563 to 845.563–6, inclusive, have been complied with. [JTR 563.1]

§ 845.563–2 Discontinuance of vouchers. (a) Upon the effective date of complete termination, or in the case of a partial termination upon receipt of notice from the contracting officer that performance is complete or that performance on any continued portion is only on subsidiary items or spare parts or is otherwise not substantial, the contractor shall promptly discontinue the presentation of Form 1034 cost vouchers, except reclaim vouchers submitted under § 845.561–3, and except as provided in paragraph (b) below.

(b) Although discontinuance of the use of Form 1034 cost vouchers will permit speedier settlement, a contractor may elect to continue presenting costs on Form 1034 cost vouchers. A contractor who continues presentation of Form 1034 cost vouchers may at any time thereafter elect to discontinue the use of such vouchers. A contractor will not, however, be permitted during the same period of time to use both Form 1034 cost vouchers and settlement proposals in presenting his costs, except that during the continued use of Form 1034 cost vouchers a contractor may present settlement proposals which are to serve as a basis for the negotiation of a partial settlement authorized by § 845.564–2 (a).

(c) The contractor's election to discontinue the use of Form 1034 cost vouchers shall be made in such manner as the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the Cost Inspection Service) may require. A contractor who elects to discontinue Form 1034 cost vouchers will not be permitted to resume the use of such vouchers.

(d) After discontinuance of Form 1034 cost vouchers, the contractor will present unreimbursed costs on the settlement proposal form prescribed in § 845.565. On the basis of such settlement proposals, partial settlements may be made from time to time as provided in § 845.564–2 (b). [JTR 563.2]

§ 845.563–3 Preparation of information for General Accounting Office. (a) After the discontinuance of Form 1034 cost vouchers in accordance with § 845.563–2, the contracting officer, (in the case of the Navy, the Cost Inspection Service) will notify the appropriate disbursing officer in writing of the bureau voucher number of the last Form 1034 cost voucher submitted to him for payment.

(b) The disbursing officer will promptly prepare a list of all Form 1034 vouchers paid under the contract, showing:

(1) D. O. voucher number;

(2) Amount of voucher;

(3) Date of payment;

(4) Disbursing officer's name and symbol; and

(5) Total amount of voucher paid.

(c) In the War Department, within a period of 5 days from the date of payment of the last Form 1034 cost voucher, the disbursing officer will transmit to the contracting officer the information listed in paragraph (b) above. The contracting officer should verify the total number of vouchers listed with the total number indicated in the records of the procurement office and, if any discrepancies exist, request the disbursing officer to reconcile them. [JTR 563.3]

§ 845.563–4 Notice to General Accounting Office of audit status date. (a) As promptly as practicable after payment of the last Form 1034 cost voucher other than reclaim vouchers submitted under § 845.561–3, the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the disbursing officer) will transmit to the General Accounting Office by registered mail (return receipt requested) a notice fixing as the audit status date (1) the day 60 days from the date of receipt of the notice by the General Accounting Office or (2) the date of receipt of the final audit status letter, whichever is earlier. The notice shall contain the information set forth in the standard form of notice which is reproduced in § 849.985. Instructions for the use of this form are prescribed in § 849.985–1.

(b) In the War Department, a copy of the notice will be sent by the contracting officer directly to the Office of the Fiscal Director, ASF. In the Navy, copies of the notice will be sent to the contracting officer and Cost Inspection Service. [JTR 563.4]

§ 845.563–5 Clearance of exceptions and reclaim voucher after termination. (a) The General Accounting Office has advised the War and Navy Departments that:

(1) During the first 30 days of the audit status period the General Accounting Office will continue to issue informal inquiries before issuing exceptions and during the last 30 days of the audit status period only exceptions will be issued;

(2) Final audit status letters will contain exceptions only, with the result that informal inquiries either will be converted to exceptions at the time of issuance of that letter or will be deemed to have been cleared;

(3) Upon receipt of replies to exceptions the General Accounting Office will furnish prompt notice that the reply is satisfactory or will promptly issue a revised exception; and

(4) No exceptions (other than pro forma exceptions) will be issued after the audit status date.

(b) It is essential that the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the Cost Inspection Service) answer promptly exceptions and informal inquiries issued prior to the audit status date with respect to reimbursed costs which the contractor desires to include in the settlement. Informal inquiries should be answered not later than 5 days after the end of the first 30 days of the audit status period. Neither informal inquiries nor exceptions will be answered by advising the General Accounting Office as to the disposition to be made of the particular item in the final settlement, since no representative of the War or Navy Department can properly make such a representation prior to execution of the final settlement agreement.

(c) In the War Department, the answer to informal inquiries will be submitted to the General Accounting Office field representative. In the case of exceptions, the contracting officer will (1) submit the original of the reply to the Finance Officer for direct transmission to the Office of the Fiscal Director, ASF, and (2) forward signed copies to the General Accounting Office field representative and to the chief of the service. In the Navy, the answer to informal inquiries and exceptions will be made by Cost Inspection Service.

(d) After the audit status date a final attempt should be made by the War and Navy Departments to clear reclaim vouchers and exceptions with respect to reimbursed costs which the contractor desires to include in the settlement, and the General Accounting Office will advise promptly whether or not such items are cleared. Every effort should be made to effect such clearance within a period of 30 days, but this period may be extended by the contracting officer (in the Navy, after consultation with Cost Inspection Service) if it appears that further efforts to clear exceptions and reclaim vouchers will not unduly delay the final settlement. [JTR 563.5]

§ 845.563–6 Authority to proceed with final settlement agreement. (a) Subject to any final efforts to clear exceptions and reclaim vouchers in accordance with § 845.563–5 (d), the contracting officer may proceed with the final settlement agreement at any time after receipt of the final audit status letter, and if the final audit status letter has not been received on or before the seventh day following the audit status date he may proceed at any time thereafter on the basis that there are no outstanding exceptions. The contracting officer may include in the final settlement agreement all claims of the Government and the contractor under the terminated contract (whether or not audited by the General Accounting Office) except that no amount will be allowed in the settlement for reimbursed costs which are the subject of:

(1) An exception which is shown to be outstanding in a final audit status letter received on or before the seventh day following the audit status date, and which remains uncleared; or

(2) An exception cleared by deduction or refund and as to which the contractor has not presented a reclaim voucher; or

(3) A reclaim voucher not authorized for payment by the General Accounting Office.

(b) The contracting officer may, if the contractor so requests, refer any costs not authorized for inclusion in the settlement agreement under paragraph (a) above to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, who may apply to the Under Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy for instructions. The final settlement agreement will give effect to such instructions.

(c) In negotiating the settlement, the provisions of the particular contract governing the types of reimbursable costs shall constitute the basis of negotiation. The contracting officer will have for his consideration the accountant's report submitted in accordance with § 845.567–3. Differences of opinion between the parties to the settlement as to the interpretation of the provisions of the contract and their application to the circumstances of the particular case should be settled by agreement whenever feasible. The negotiated settlement, however, will not be made the means of reimbursing contractors for costs which under the provisions of the contract are not allowable. No unreimbursed cost will be allowed which is identical in nature to an item of the contractor's own costs (as distinguished from reimbursement by the contractor of a cost incurred by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor) required to be excluded from the settlement under the provisions of this section. [JTR 563.6]

§ 845.564 Procedure where settlement includes no reimbursed costs. [JTR 564]

§ 845.564–1 Where there have been no reimbursed costs under the contract. Where there have been no reimbursed costs under the contract, a settlement of all claims of the Government or the contractor in connection with the terminated contract may be made without following the procedure prescribed in § 845.563. In negotiating the settlement, the provisions of the particular contract governing the types of reimbursable costs shall constitute the basis of negotiation. [JTR 564.1]

§ 845.564–2 Partial settlements. In addition to the authority to make a partial settlement upon failure to negotiate a complete settlement, as provided in § 845.515–3, and to furnish interim financing as provided in Part 843, partial settlements may be made without following the procedure prescribed in § 845.563, as follows:

(a) The contracting officer may make a settlement agreement at any time after partial or complete termination of the contract where the settlement includes only post termination expenses, fixed-fee, and settlements with subcontractors made pursuant to §§ 845.569–1 and 845.569–3.

(b) Where the contractor submits settlement proposals in accordance with § 845.565, the contracting officer may make partial settlements on the basis of such proposals from time to time in substantially the form prescribed in § 849.983–2. Under such partial settlements the Government and the contractor may agree upon a minimum amount due on the unreimbursed part of the claim without determining that this amount is due on particular elements of the claim or that additional amounts may not be due, leaving the final amount due on the entire claim subject to final negotiation or determination. No such partial settlement shall impair the right of recovery by the Government from the contractor of the amount of any claim or offset, whether or not it was in existence at the time of such partial settlement or any payment thereunder. [JTR 564.2]

§ 845.565 Submission of settlement proposals. (a) Except in those cases where the contractor elects to continue to present costs on Form 1034 cost vouchers as provided in § 845.563–2 (b), unreimbursed costs and fixed fee will be presented on the form set out in § 849.965, designated "Settlement Proposal for Use on Terminated Cost and Cost-Plus-a-Fixed-Fee Contracts".

(b) Settlement proposals will serve as the basis for interim financing and the negotiation of partial or complete settlements. They will not be sent to the disbursing officer inasmuch as no payments will be made directly on the basis of these proposals.

(c) Each partial settlement proposal should be numbered serially beginning with the number "1", and a separate number series will be maintained by the contractor for each cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. [JTR 565]

§ 845.566 Adjustment of fixed-fee. (a) The fee under a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract should be adjusted on the basis of percentage of completion or other basis prescribed by the contract.

(b) Where the adjustment is to be made on the basis of the percentage of completion (which is equivalent to determining the amount of work performed on the contract), considerations similar to those set forth in § 845.533–2 should be applied in making the adjustment. In addition to the factors set forth in § 845.533–2 and any other relevant factors applicable to the particular case, it will be appropriate, unless the contract expressly provides otherwise, to consider the work done by the contractor in terminating the contract, in settling claims of subcontractors, and in disposing of termination inventory. A break-down of costs incurred by major classifications will usually furnish the contracting officer with a starting basis for judging the character and extent of the work done although such costs may not necessarily measure correctly the importance of such work in the performance of the contract. The ratio of costs incurred to the total estimated costs of performing the contract is only one factor in computing the percentage of completion of the contract, which may be either greater or less than that indicated by the ratio of costs incurred, depending upon the evaluation by the contracting officer of the considerations referred to above. [JTR 566]

§ 845.567 Accounting procedures. [JTR 567]

§ 845.567–1 General. As in the case of fixed-price settlements, accounting reports are advisory only. [JTR 567.1]

§ 845.567–2 Review procedures. The procedures and requirements for the accounting review of reimbursed costs are set forth (a) in the War Department, in TM 14–1000 "Administrative Audit Procedures for Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Supply Contracts" and (b) in the Navy, in the "Revised Cost Inspection Manual." Additional sections are also included in both of these manuals to deal with the different requirements applicable in the review of unreimbursed costs under terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. [JTR 567.2]

§ 845.567–3 Accountant's report. (a) The accountant will submit reports to the contracting officer covering partial settlement proposals of the contractor in accordance with the requirements of the individual service or bureau. When the war contractor has submitted a final settlement proposal, the accountant will prepare and submit to the contracting officer a final report to assist him in negotiating a final lump sum settlement. The report will list and comment on any uncleared General Accounting Office exceptions. [JTR 567.3]

§ 845.568 Settlement by determination. Where all or any part of the termination claim under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract has not been settled by agreement, it will be determined by the contracting officer in accordance with the provisions of the contract governing the types of reimbursable costs, using the procedures for a formula settlement under a fixed-price supply contract insofar as applicable (Subpart E of Part 847). [JTR 568]

§ 845.569 Settlement of subcontracts. [JTR 569]

§ 845.569–1 Fixed-price subcontracts. Fixed-price subcontracts, terminated in whole or in part as a result of the termination or modification of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract or under any other circumstances which require the Government to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract, will be settled as promptly as practicable in accordance with the provisions of Part 846. This procedure shall apply to any cost portion of a fixed-price subcontract, whether such portion is terminated or completed, subject to the provisions of the particular contract governing the types of reimbursable costs. [JTR 569.1]

§ 845.569–2 Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts where settlement includes reimbursed costs. (a) Where the settlement of a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract includes reimbursed costs, the settlement will be made in accordance with the provisions of § 845.563–6. If subcontract costs which have been reimbursed by the prime contractor are required under § 845.563–6 to be excluded from the agreement settling the prime contract, such costs and any unreimbursed costs identical in nature must likewise be excluded from the agreement settling the subcontract. The contracting officer in charge of the settlement of the prime contract may, however, if the parties to the subcontract settlement so request, refer any costs not authorized for inclusion in the settlement agreement for instructions as provided in § 845.563–6 (b). [JTR 569.2]

(b) Where the subcontract is terminated at a time when all or substantially all performance under the prime contract is completed, establishment of a separate audit status date for the subcontract will not be necessary, since the audit status date for the prime contract will serve as the audit status date for the subcontract. At the time when the contracting officer is authorized to proceed with the settlement of the prime contract under the provisions of § 845.563–6, the parties will proceed with final settlement of the subcontract.

(c) Where the subcontract is terminated prior to the time when all or substantially all performance under the prime contract is completed, settlement of the subcontract should not be delayed until the audit status date of the prime contract. In such cases a separate audit status date for the subcontract may be established when the contracting officer determines that performance under the subcontract is complete or that performance on any continued portion is only on subsidiary items or spare parts, or is otherwise not substantial. Upon such determination, (1) the subcontractor may request the prime contractor to discontinue inclusion of specific items of subcontract costs in Form 1034 cost vouchers, or (2) with the consent of the subcontractor, the contracting officer may proceed to settle the subcontract directly as provided in § 845.569–4. In either case no settlement which includes reimbursed costs will be made until the procedure set forth in §§ 845.563–2 to § 845.563–6, inclusive, has been followed with respect to the subcontract. As applied to the subcontract, this procedure includes preparation and transmission of a list of all Form 1034 cost vouchers under the prime contract covering specific items of costs incurred under the subcontract, establishment of an audit status date for the subcontract after payment of the last Form 1034 cost voucher covering a specific item of subcontract cost, and clearance of exceptions and reclaim vouchers pertaining to the subcontract. In the Navy, the Cost Inspection Service will assist the disbursing officer in obtaining the information necessary to prepare the list of vouchers.

(d) In submitting costs, the subcontractor shall use the settlement proposals prescribed in § 845.565 in those cases where the prime contractor discontinues the presentation of Form 1034 cost vouchers covering specific items of subcontract costs, or where direct settlement is being made with the subcontractor. On the basis of costs so submitted, partial settlements may be made with the subcontractor from time to time as provided in § 845.564–2 (b), if authorized or approved by the contracting officer. [JTR 569.2]

§ 845.569–3 Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts where settlement includes no reimbursed costs. Where the subcontract settlement is of a type which includes no reimbursed costs, settlement of the subcontract may be made in accordance with § 845.564. [JTR 569.3]

§ 845.569–4 Direct settlement of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts. With the written approval (in the case of the War Department) of the head of the local procurement district, depot, or other office, or, (in the case of the Navy) of the chief of the bureau settling the related prime contract, the contracting officer may settle directly all claims of a subcontractor under a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract in accordance with the procedures set forth in §§ 845.569–2 and 845.569–3 and the applicable provisions of Subparts E and F of Part 846, in any case in which such action is deemed necessary or desirable. [JTR 569.4]

§ 845.569–5 Navy Department procedure for payment of subcontract settlements. If the particular prime contract does not provide for recognition of a subcontract settlement authorized or approved by the contracting officer, as a reimbursable item, the contract should be amended to so provide before the amount of settlement is presented by the prime contractor to a cost inspector for reimbursement. [JTR 569.5]

SUBPART G—INTEREST

§ 845.570 Scope. This subpart sets forth the methods of computing interest on termination claims of prime contractors and subcontractors pursuant to section 6 (f) of the act. [JTR 570]

§ 845.571 Statutory provisions. Section 6 (f) of the act provides for allowing interest on the amount due and unpaid from time to time on any termination claim at the rate of 2½ per cent per annum, with certain exceptions, stated in § 845.572–3 (d) and (e). [JTR 571]

§ 845.572 Interest on termination claims of prime contractors. [JTR 572]

§ 845.572–1 "Date fixed for termination." For the purpose of computing interest, the term "the date fixed for termination" shall have the meaning stated in § 841.121–6. [JTR 572.1]

§ 845.572–2 "Amount due on termination claim." For the purpose of computing interest, the term "amount due on the termination claim" means the amount determined to be due for fair compensation for the termination of the contract, less:

(a) The amount of any credits for retention or disposal of termination inventory; and

(b) Amounts paid or payable to subcontractors, except to the extent that payment is made by the prime contractor out of his own funds, as provided in § 845.572–3 (a). [JTR 572.2]

§ 845.572–3 Computation of interest. Interest on the amount due on the termination claim shall be computed for a period beginning on July 21, 1944 or 30 days after the date fixed for termination, whichever date is later, and ending with the date of final payment to the contractor, with the following exceptions:

(a) Interest shall commence to accrue on partial or final payments made by the prime contractor to subcontractors out of the prime contractor's own funds, as of the date of payment. In applying this provision, funds furnished by the Government to the prime contractor for the purpose of making payments to subcontractors shall not be considered as the prime contractor's "own funds".

(b) Interest shall cease to accrue on the amount due on the termination claim to the extent, and as of the date, of advance, progress or partial payments made on account of such claim after termination.

(c) Interest shall not accrue on the amount due on the termination claim to the extent, and for the period, that any advance, progress or partial payment made on account of the contract prior to termination remains unliquidated, where, under the terms of such payment, the contractor was not at any time liable for interest thereon.

(d) If the contractor unreasonably delays submission and settlement of his claim, no interest shall accrue for the period of such delay. Ordinarily a period of 60 days is considered reasonable for submission of the claim, and a longer period is considered an unreasonable delay, unless the contracting officer determines otherwise.

(e) If the contractor appeals or sues after a formula settlement, interest shall cease to accrue 30 days after the delivery to him of the findings, unless the amount allowed by the findings is increased upon the appeal or suit. [JTR 572.3]

§ 845.572–4 Deduction of waived interest. (a) If interest for the period after termination or after July 21, 1944, whichever is later, on any advance payment made by the Government, has been waived for the benefit of the contractor, the amount of the interest so waived allocable to the terminated contract or the terminated part of the contract shall be deducted from the interest otherwise payable on the termination claim. No excess of waived interest over statutory interest is to be deducted from the contractor's termination claim.

(b) If a war contractor has obtained a waiver of interest on a V or VT-loan for a period after July 21, 1944, he shall not include interest on account of his own termination claim in any settlement proposal with respect to any terminated contract which served as a basis for such waiver. The war contractor's right to interest upon such claims may be reserved by appropriate provisions in the settlement agreement. When the war contractor is no longer entitled to such waiver of interest, he may file a consolidated claim for interest in connection with all claims under terminated contracts which served as a basis for the waiver. This consolidated claim should be submitted separately from all other termination claims on the form set forth in § 849.966–1, and pursuant to the instructions set forth in § 849.966–2. Copies of this form may be obtained from any Federal Reserve Bank. [JTR 572.4]

§ 845.573 Method of providing for interest in settlement agreements with prime contractors. [JTR 573]

§ 845.573–1 General. In addition to the principal sum payable thereunder, each settlement agreement will provide for payment of interest computed substantially in accordance with the provisions of § 845.572 and §§ 845.573 to 845.573–3, inclusive, unless claim for interest is waived. Except as provided in § 845.572–4 (b), the settlement agreement will contain a release of all claims of the contractor for interest on the termination claim. (See, e. g., § 849.981–1, Article 4b). [JTR 573.1]

§ 845.573–2 Where date of payment is estimated. In including an allowance for interest in the settlement agreement, the date of payment may be estimated at not more than 20 days after the date of settlement. Where the date of payment is estimated, the settlement agreement will provide for the total amount of interest up to the estimated date of payment. (See, e. g., § 849.981–1, Article 4b. [JTR 573.2]

§ 845.573–3 Where date of payment is not estimated. Where the date of payment is not estimated, the settlement agreement will provide for the total amount of interest up to the date of settlement and an amount of interest per day thereafter until final payment. (See, e. g., § 849.981–1, Article 4b, footnote 3.) [JTR 573.3]

§ 845.574 Payment by disbursing officer. (a) Where any settlement agreement provides for an amount of interest per day from the date of settlement to the date of final payment, the voucher or invoice for the amount of settlement will state the amount due per day from the date of settlement, leaving the total amount to be computed by the disbursing officer.

(b) In such cases, the disbursing officer will compute the amount due for interest under the agreement from the date of settlement to the date he sends the check to the war contractor, and will enter the amount on the voucher, and include the total sum in the check. [JTR 574]

§ 845.575 Interest on termination claims of subcontractors. (a) Each war contractor, in settling with his subcontractors, shall allow interest on substantially the same basis and conditions as are applicable to a prime contractor. In allowing interest to subcontractors, the date of final payment should generally be estimated, but may not be estimated at more than 30 days after the date of settlement.

(b) In approving, ratifying, authorizing or making termination settlements with subcontractors, the contracting officer shall allow interest on the termination claim of the subcontractor on substantially the same basis and conditions as are applicable to a prime contractor. [JTR 575]

§ 845.576 Disputes. Any dispute as to the application of the statutory provision or this subchapter to the computation of interest in a particular case may be negotiated and settled by agreement. [JTR 576]

§ 845.577 Review of computation. The war contractor or contracting officer settling any claim will make such check of any computation of interest submitted to him as he deems necessary under the circumstances. [JTR 577]

SUBPART H—SETTLEMENT REVIEW BOARDS

§ 845.580 Scope. This subpart deals with the review of settlement agreements by settlement review boards within the Departments. [JTR 580]

§ 845.581 Creation of settlement review boards. The chief of each service or bureau shall establish one or more settlement review boards. Each board shall be composed of at least three responsible officers or civilian employees of the War or Navy Department. So far as practicable, in view of the volume of cases and the availability of qualified personnel, such a board should be established in each office authorized to negotiate final settlements. The duties of such boards may be assigned to the members of any boards or sections already in existence or charged with other duties. No person shall serve as a member of the settlement review board in reviewing a settlement in which he participated. [JTR 581]

§ 845.582 Duty of board to review settlements. [JTR 582]

§ 845.582–1 Settlements required to be reviewed. The settlement review board will examine, before its approval or execution by the contracting officer, each proposed settlement made by the Government or made by any war contractor with his subcontractor:

(a) Which provides for payment to any prime contractor or to any subcontractor of an amount in excess of $25,000, computed in accordance with § 841.122; or

(b) Which adjusts the fixed-fee upon the complete or partial termination of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contract or subcontract where the estimated cost of the terminated portion exceeds $50,000; or

(c) Which does not require review under paragraph (a) or (b), but which the chief of a service or bureau requires to be submitted for review by the board. [JTR 582.1]

§ 845.582–2 Optional review. Any contracting officer, in his discretion, may submit to the board any proposed settlement or matter in connection therewith at any time and generally should submit any novel or special problem upon which he desires the advice of the board. [JTR 582.2]

§ 845.582–3 Settlements and agreements not subject to review. (a) Unless the chief of a service or bureau prescribes otherwise, the contracting officer may make partial payments under Part 823 without obtaining the approval of the review board.

(b) The settlement review board will rely on and will not review any action of a disposal board with respect to any disposition of termination inventory, but may consider the allocability of such inventory to the termination claim.

(c) To the extent that a settlement agreement is based upon a preterminating settlement agreement which has been approved by the appropriate settlement review board, it is not required to be reviewed by any such board, except for the purpose of determining whether the preterminating settlement is properly reflected therein.

(d) Settlements based on proposals properly submitted in accordance with § 845.524–1 on Form 1a are not subject to review or approval by a settlement review board. [JTR 582.3]

§ 845.583 Scope of review by board. (a) The sole function of the settlement review board is to determine the over-all reasonableness of the proposed settlement from the standpoint of protecting the Government's interest. The board is not intended to examine in detail every element entering into the determination of the amount to be paid. In order to determine, however, that negotiations have been conducted competently and in the light of adequate information, it will frequently be appropriate for the board to inquire into specific selected items of the proposed settlement.

(b) The board may vary the scope and intensity of the review according to the reliability of the contractor, the size and complexity of the proposed settlement, and any other relevant factors. Whenever review is required for subcontract settlements involving $25,000 or less, the board may, and generally should, limit its review to an inquiry as to whether the prime contractor or any intermediate subcontractor adequately examined the claim and whether it is reasonable to rely on the examination so made.

(c) Where the adjustment of the fixed-fee under a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contract made pursuant to a contract formula and not by negotiated agreement is submitted for review, the function of the board in reviewing the adjustment will be to advise the contracting officer with respect to its reasonableness.

(d) The board may act upon records submitted by the contracting officer or may require the submission of additional information. [JTR 583]

§ 845.584 Effect of action by review board. [JTR 584]

§ 845.584–1 Action by the board. The review board will submit to the contracting officer a written recommendation with respect to each proposed settlement or other matter considered by the board. The review board must act promptly on all matters submitted for its consideration or approval. Under section 6 (c) of the act, failure of any review board to act upon any settlement within thirty days after its submission to the board operates as approval by the board. [JTR 584.1]

§ 845.584–2 Necessity for further approval. (a) If the review board disapproves any proposed settlement, the contracting officer shall not execute it or approve it unless the head of the office in which the board is established approves the settlement.

(b) Where the proposed settlement exceeds $500,000 in amount, or such lesser amount as the chief of the service or bureau may prescribe, the contracting officer shall submit it, after approval by the review board, (1) in the War Department, to such higher authority as the chief of the service may prescribe, or (2) in the Navy Department, to the chief or assistant chief of the bureau, acting personally. The contracting officer shall not execute or approve the settlement until its approval by such authority.

(c) Except as provided in this section, the contracting officer may execute or approve the settlement agreement upon its approval by the review board. [JTR 584.2]

§ 846.600 Scope of part. This part deals with policies and procedures particularly applicable to settlements with subcontractors and Part 847 with those particularly applicable to settlements with prime contractors. Part 845 covers the policies and procedures which apply generally to settlements with both subcontractors and prime contractors. [JTR 600]

SUBPART A—OBLIGATION OF WAR CONTRACTOR TO SETTLE SUBCONTRACTORS' CLAIMS

§ 846.610 Scope. This subpart discusses the obligation of the prime contractor and of each intermediate subcontractor to settle the claims of his subcontractors, and the procedure when he is unable to settle. [JTR 610]

§ 846.611 Rights of subcontractors against Government. Under the uniform termination article for fixed-price supply prime contracts, and earlier similar articles, subcontractors have no contractual rights directly against the Government upon the termination of a prime contract. The rights of such subcontractors are against the prime contractor or intermediate subcontractor who is directly obligated to them on the subcontract which they hold. The extent of these rights will depend upon the terms of the subcontract in question. As explained in § 846.660 and following, however, the Government in its discretion may undertake to settle the claims of subcontractors directly. [JTR 611]

§ 846.612 Duty of prime contractor to settle termination claims of subcontractors. [JTR 612]

§ 846.612–1 Under fixed-price contracts. Upon termination of a fixed-price prime contract, the prime contractor and each subcontractor is responsible for settling the termination claims of his immediate subcontractors, subject to the approval of the contracting officer when required. [JTR 612.1]

§ 846.612–2 Under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (a) Many cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts contain a termination article providing expressly that the prime contractor must settle the termination claims of his subcontractors. The uniform termination article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts contains this provision. Under terminated contracts containing an article of this type, the prime contractor is required to settle with his subcontractors.

(b) Under the termination article in some cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, the Government agrees to assume the obligations of the prime contractor upon termination. In terminating such contracts, the contracting officer will make every effort to obtain the full cooperation of the prime contractor in settling such obligations. The prime contractor remains liable upon his subcontracts and other obligations, and is under a duty to lend all reasonable assistance in their settlement. The policy of the War and Navy Departments is to encourage the prime contractor to settle the termination claims of subcontractors in order to expedite payments to them.

(c) Upon termination of a contract containing either type of article, the prime contractor will take steps promptly to obtain settlement proposals for any terminated fixed-price subcontracts. In the case of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts, the prime contractor will obtain the accounting data and vouchers necessary to permit (1) the negotiation of a settlement of such contract, or (2) final determination and payment of the reimbursable costs under such subcontract and any necessary adjustment of the fixed-fee thereunder. [JTR 612.2]

§ 846.613 Inability of prime contractor to settle subcontract claims. [JTR 613]

§ 846.613–1 Exclusion from settlement. Where the prime contractor cannot settle one or more terminated subcontracts on a fair basis which the contracting officer will approve (where his approval is required), the Government and the prime contractor may agree to exclude the amounts due to such subcontractors from the negotiated settlement, and to leave to later determination the amount due with respect to such subcontracts. [JTR 613.1]

§ 846.613–2 Assumption by Government. In appropriate cases, with the written approval of the head of the procurement office or bureau administering the settlement, acting personally or through a representative designated for the purpose, the Government in the settlement agreement with the prime contractor may assume and agree to pay the obligation of the prime contractor with respect to such unsettled subcontracts, so far as related to the terminated portion of the prime contract. [JTR 613.2]

§ 846.613–3 Terms of assumption. Where the Government assumes the obligation of the prime contractor on any subcontract claim, the final settlement agreement or other supplemental agreement shall contain an article substantially in the form set forth in § 849.988–1. The maximum amount to be paid on the subcontract settlement shall be so fixed that the total payments under the terminated prime contract shall not exceed any maximum limit set for payments under the applicable termination article or under this subchapter. [JTR 613.3]

§ 846.613–4 Application to subcontracts in lower tiers. Where a subcontractor of any tier cannot settle with one or more of his subcontractors in the next tier below him, arrangements similar to those described in §§ 846.613–1 to 846.613–3, inclusive, may be made, with the written consent of the prime contractor and of all intervening subcontractors. [JTR 613.4]

§ 846.614 Assignment of rights under subcontracts. [JTR 614]

§ 846.614–1 Obligation to assign under uniform fixed-price contract articles. (a) Paragraph (b) (4) of the uniform fixed price termination article provides that the prime contractor shall assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all the right, title and interest of the prime contractor under the subcontracts terminated by reason of their relationship to the work terminated by the termination notice.

(b) This provision was designed to assure the Government's right to require the transfer to it of the property and rights under the subcontract acquired by the prime contractor from his subcontractors through payments for which the prime contractor is reimbursed by the Government. Accordingly, paragraph (b) (4) is not to be construed as requiring transfer to the Government of other rights of the prime contractor against the subcontractor (such as set-offs or counterclaims) for which no Government reimbursement is made to the prime contractor.

(c) In this connection it was recognized in the preparation of the uniform article that uniform provisions could not be drawn which would provide adequately in all cases for the disposition of patent rights involved in prime contracts or subcontracts, and the article is not intended to forbid the inclusion in contracts of separate provisions covering the disposition of such rights on termination. [JTR 614.1]

§ 846.614–2 Obligation to assign under other articles. Most current or earlier approved termination articles contain a similar provision requiring the prime contractor, at the direction of the contracting officer, to transfer to the Government his rights and benefits under terminated subcontracts as a part of the termination settlement. [JTR 614.2]

§ 846.614–3 When assignments to be required. Ordinarily the contracting officer will not require the prime contractor to assign rights under terminated subcontracts to the Government unless the contracting officer considers that the Government will obtain some pecuniary or administrative advantage from such assignment and specifically directs the contractor to make it. [JTR 614.3]

SUBPART B—BASES OF SETTLEMENT OF SUBCONTRACTS

§ 846.620 Scope. This subpart deals with the use of the approved fixed-price subcontract termination article as a basis for settlement, and also discusses the basis for settling terminated subcontracts which do not contain this article. The general bases for settling both prime contracts and subcontracts are discussed in Part 845. [JTR 620]

§ 846.621 Approved subcontract termination article. (a) The approved subcontract termination article is set out in § 849.936. This article provides fair compensation for termination in accordance with the act. The settlement of subcontracts will be greatly facilitated by the use of this subcontract article in first tier or more remote fixed-price subcontracts for the manufacture of supplies. When this article is employed, the term "recognized commercial accounting practices", as used in the article, will be considered as equivalent to the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed-Price Supply Contracts (§ 845 551).

(b) Governmental policies applicable to the uniform prime contract termination article will also be recognized as applying to the subcontract article. These include the policy against reimbursing contractors at the contract rate on termination for completed undelivered articles which represent unreasonable anticipation of production schedules (see §§ 842.252 and 845.541–1) and the policy against taking advantage of technical defaults when the real reason for termination is the termination of a prime contract by the Government (see § 842.215).

(c) For the sake of brevity, the approved subcontract article omits certain provisions of the uniform fixed-price termination article for prime contracts. Any war contractor may incorporate any of these omitted provisions in particular subcontracts for which they are appropriate.

(d) If the parties so desire, they may substitute for the first sentence of paragraph (a) of the approved subcontract article a provision for termination at the option of the buyer. Likewise, in paragraph (b) (2) (ii) of the article, they may reduce the figure of 2 per cent or may change the figure of 8 per cent to figures which are fair and reasonable under the circumstances of the particular subcontract; but the overall limit of 6 per cent must not be increased. [JTR 621]

§ 846.622 Use of approved subcontract termination article. [JTR 622]

§ 846.622–1 Original subcontracts. At the time of making any fixed-price subcontract for the manufacture of supplies, any prime contractor or subcontractor may insert in it the approved subcontract termination article (§ 849.936), if it is appropriate. Where any subcontract is a requirement or open end contract, the article should be made to apply only to termination before the purchase of any minimum quantity contracted for, or to a termination of a firm order issued under the subcontract. [JTR 622.1]

§ 846.622–2 Amendments of subcontracts to insert approved termination article. The approved subcontract termination article (§ 849.936) may be inserted by amendment at any time in any fixed-price subcontract for the manufacture of supplies for which it is appropriate. [JTR 622.2]

§ 846.623 General procedures for settlement. In settling subcontract claims, war contractors will follow the principles and policies stated in Part 845 of this subchapter. In negotiating settlements of termination claims of subcontractors, the provisions of Subparts B and C of Part 845 apply to fixed-price subcontracts, and the provisions of Subpart F of Part 845 apply to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts. So far as practicable, the contracting officer should make certain that the prime contractor and subcontractors are familiar with these principles. [JTR 623]

§ 846.624 Settlement of subcontracts without approved article. [JTR 624]

§ 846.624–1 General rule. Where, at the time of settlement, a subcontract does not contain the approved article, a settlement based upon a reasonable estimate by the parties of the aggregate amounts which would be due under subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) of paragraph (b) of the approved subcontract article, will be considered fair and reasonable. Likewise, any settlement conforming to the principles stated in Subpart C of Part 845 will be considered fair and reasonable. [JTR 624.1]

§ 846.624–2 Special cases. (a) In some instances, because of the terms of the particular subcontract being settled, the Government will be under an obligation either to make reimbursement for, or to assume the defense against, a demand by a subcontractor which is greater in amount than would be recognized by the principles stated in § 846.624–1.

(b) On the submission to the contracting officer for his approval of a settlement which provides for the payment of such an amount, the contracting officer will decide whether the settlement should be approved or ratified, or whether the Government should protect the prime contractor or intermediate subcontractor from the asserted liability. In general, the contracting officer should recognize the settlement where the terms of the subcontract were negotiated in good faith and do not unreasonably increase the rights of the subcontractor. [JTR 624.2]

§ 846.625 Settlement of subcontract claims without agreement. [JTR 625]

§ 846.625–1 Recognition of judgments of subcontractors against war contractors. (a) Where a subcontractor obtains a final judgment against a war contractor on a termination claim, the contracting officer should treat the amount of the judgment as the cost of settling the claim of the subcontractor, to the extent he deems it properly allocable to the prime contract, if:

(1) The subcontract does not contain unusual termination provisions unreasonably increasing the common law rights of the subcontractor, and

(2) The war contractor made reasonable efforts to settle with the subcontractor, and

(3) The war contractor gave prompt notice of the suit to the contracting officer and offered the Government control of its defense; and diligently defended the suit, or assisted the Government to defend it.

(b) The uniform cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contract termination article contains specific provisions to substantially the same effect (paragraph (d) (2) (B)).

(c) Where the foregoing conditions are not met, the contracting officer should allow the war contractor such part of the judgment as he considers a fair amount for settling the termination claim under the subcontract. [JTR 625.1]

§ 846.625–2 Recognition of arbitration awards. Where a war contractor and his subcontractor submit a termination claim to arbitration under general law, the contracting officer will recognize the amount of the award as the cost of settling the claim of the subcontractor, to the extent he deems it properly allocable to the prime contract, under the same conditions applicable to a judgment under § 846.625–1. [JTR 625.2]

§ 846.625–3 Decision by appeal board. (a) Section 13 (f) of the act authorizes any war contractor and his subcontractor, by agreement, to submit any dispute between them regarding any termination claim to the Appeal Board established under the act.

(b) The procedure for submitting such disputes is set forth in Regulation No. 15 of the Office of Contract Settlement.

(c) Under the act, any decision of the Appeal Board in such proceedings is final and conclusive as to the parties submitting the dispute and may not be questioned by the Government in settling any related claim, in the absence of fraud or collusion. [JTR 625.3]

§ 846.626 Termination inventory of subcontractor. All termination inventory of a subcontractor must be accounted for in accordance with § 844.451. [JTR 626]

SUBPART C—REVIEW OF SUBCONTRACT SETTLEMENT PROPOSALS BY WAR CONTRACTORS

§ 846.630 Scope. This subpart deals with the duty of a war contractor, in settling with his immediate subcontractors, to review their settlement proposals. [JTR 630]

§ 846.631 Responsibility of subcontractors presenting claims. In submitting his settlement proposal to the war contractor liable to him, a subcontractor is under a duty to prepare his proposal accurately in accordance with the terms of the subcontract. Each war contractor should advise his immediate subcontractors that the proposals submitted by them may be examined by Government accountants and that the materials covered by the subcontracts may be inspected by Government inspectors. This puts the subcontractor on notice that his claim will be used by the war contractor in compiling his own settlement proposal for submission, directly or indirectly, to the Government. [JTR 631]

§ 846.632 Duty of war contractor to review settlement proposals of subcontractors. (a) Each war contractor is primarily responsible for reviewing or examining in an appropriate manner all settlement proposals submitted to him by his immediate subcontractors. In making such review or examination, the war contractor should exercise the same standard of care that a business man would employ in the conduct of his own affairs.

(b) The contractor is required to examine the claims of his subcontractors (except the claims against them by their subcontractors) to an extent he considers adequate under the circumstances. In submitting his own claim, he must certify that he has so examined such claims, and that the settlements of his subcontractors' own charges are fair and reasonable, are allocable to the terminated portion of his contract, were negotiated in good faith, and are not more favorable to the subcontractors than he would make if reimbursement by the Government were not involved.

(c) The contractor must also certify that he has received from all his immediate subcontractors certificates with respect to their claims and that they are substantially in the form of his own certificate where the claims are for more than $1,000. With respect to the settlements with more remote subcontractors, the contractor must certify that he has no knowledge leading him to doubt their reasonableness or their allocability to his contract. [JTR 632]

§ 846.633 Methods of review by contractors. [JTR 633]

§ 846.633–1 Office review. (a) As a minimum, each war contractor will have qualified personnel make an office review of each settlement proposal submitted by his immediate subcontractors. This review may be made by accounting, engineering, legal or other qualified personnel, and should include an accounting review where the net amount of the proposed settlement, after deducting all disposal credits, is $1,000 or more.

(b) The reviewing personnel will prepare a memorandum of each office review and upon request by the contracting officer will make a copy thereof available to Government personnel. [JTR 633.1]

§ 846.633–2 Responsibility for examination beyond office review. Each war contractor should determine, in the first instance, to what extent he should examine any settlement proposal submitted by any of his immediate subcontractors, beyond the office review. In making this decision, he should consider:

(a) The amount and complexity of the proposed settlement,

(b) The report of the office review,

(c) Available reports of independent public accountants, and

(d) Any information available from personnel familiar with the operations under the subcontract. [JTR 633.2]

§ 846.633–3 Types of examination beyond office review. Where the war contractor determines that the subcontract claim should be further examined after the office review, he may take the following types of action, among others:

(a) The subcontractor may be requested to submit additional data or explanations in writing.

(b) The war contractor may have his reviewing personnel visit the subcontractor's plant to discuss his claim, with such examination of his records as may be appropriate.

(c) An examination may be made by qualified accounting personnel in accordance with the procedures outlined in the Termination Accounting Manual. [JTR 633.3]

§ 846.634 Reports of reviews. The war contractor settling the claim will retain in his files a copy of any report by reviewing personnel covering any office review or other examination, together with a copy of the subcontractor's settlement proposal. He will make these records available to the Government for any subsequent review requested by the contracting officer, or other authorized Government personnel [JTR 634]

SUBPART D—REVIEW OF SUBCONTRACT SETTLEMENTS BY GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL

§ 846.640 Scope. This subpart discusses the obligation of prime contractors and intermediate subcontractors to submit settlements with their subcontractors to Government personnel for review and approval. [JTR 640]

§ 846.641 Provisions for approval. [JTR 641]

§ 846.641–1 Statutory provisions. Section 7 (a) of the act directs the contracting agencies to limit or omit their review of settlements with subcontractors to the maximum extent compatible with the public interest. It also confers on the agencies broad authority to approve, ratify and authorize such settlements, to vary the scope and intensity of any review of them, and to authorize war contractors to make such settlements without review when the agency considers such action proper. [JTR 641.1]

§ 846.641–2 Prime contract provisions. Under the uniform fixed-price supply article, and certain other articles, the prime contractor must settle termination claims of subcontractors and must obtain approval or ratification of the contracting officer if he so requires. Other termination articles do not expressly require subcontract settlements to be approved by the contracting officer in a negotiated settlement. Nevertheless, because such articles provide that the prime contractor will be reimbursed for such of his costs as are "reasonably necessary", many prime contractors desire approval by contracting officers before making subcontract settlements. In addition, such articles generally require approval by the contracting officer of such settlements as a condition of reimbursing the prime contractor in a settlement by formula. [JTR 641.2]

§ 846.642 Authority of war contractors to make final subcontract settlements of $10,000 or less without approval. [JTR 642]

§ 846.642–1 Policy. (a) Under section 7 (a) of the act, contracting agencies are directed to authorize war contractors to make settlements with subcontractors without review by the contracting agency whenever the reliability of the war contractor, the amount or nature of the claims, or other reasons, appear to the agency to justify such action.

(b) In order to expedite settlements, the authority under the following sections will be used to the maximum extent practicable. [JTR 642.1]

§ 846.642–2 Granting of authority. (a) Whenever the chief of a service or, in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector, is satisfied that a war contractor will make adequate reviews of subcontractors' termination claims and proposals for retention or sale of termination inventory, he will authorize the contractor to make final settlements of his terminated subcontracts in accordance with this § 846.642. The authorization will follow substantially the form set forth in § 849.987–1. Authorizations granted hereunder by cognizant Navy material inspectors will be granted on behalf of all the bureaus of the Navy Department.

(b) In granting an authorization hereunder, the chief of any service or the cognizant Navy material inspector will ascertain from the war contractor whether he requires authorizations from other services or from the Navy Department and will notify such other services or the cognizant Navy material inspector by direct communication (1) that his service or the Navy Department has granted an authorization and (2) that the contractor reported a need for an additional authorization.

(c) Any service or Navy material inspector may grant an authorization hereunder in reliance upon the determination made by the first service or by the Navy Department and without making any independent check as to the adequacy of the contractor's review procedures. [JTR 642.2]

§ 846.642–3 Extent of authority. (a) In the absence of unusual circumstances, the service or the cognizant Navy material inspector should authorize the war contractor to settle any fixed price subcontract terminated by him as a result of the termination or modification of a prime contract with the service or any bureau of the Navy Department, or under any other circumstances which require the service or any such bureau to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract.

(b) Under the authorization, the war contractor may settle finally any subcontract claim whenever:

(1) The settlement involves not more than $10,000, after deducting (from the gross claim) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and settlements with lower tier subcontractors previously authorized under § 846.642 or § 846.643 or approved by the contracting officer, but without deducting other subcontract claims or disposal credits; and

(2) All the termination inventory under the subcontract, the cost of which is included in the claim of the subcontractor, is retained by the subcontractor or is sold by the war contractor or the subcontractor at the best price obtainable (see § 844.411–1) and the value or proceeds credited on the settlement, or is transferred to the Government with the consent of the contracting officer or his representative; and

(3) The settlement bears a certificate substantially as set forth in the form of authorization (§ 849.987–1).

(c) The contracting officer should not consent to the transfer of termination inventory to the Government unless it cannot be sold at an acceptable price within the period specified in § 844.413. In determining what is an acceptable price, he should fully consider the shipping and handling difficulties in delivering small amounts of property to the Government.

(d) Where the war contractor is affiliated with any subcontractor, he should not settle any claim of that subcontractor under the authorization. For this purpose, a contractor is considered to be affiliated with a subcontractor if they are under common control or if there is any common interest between them, by reason of stock ownership or otherwise, which is sufficient to create a reasonable doubt that the bargaining between them is completely at arm's length. The decision of the war contractor as to this question may be accepted by contracting officers of the Government in the absence of information to the contrary.

(e) The authority which may be delegated to war contractors under §§ 846.642 to 846.642–7, inclusive, to approve retentions or sales by a subcontractor of termination inventory does not include (1) the authority to approve retentions or sales of completed articles not delivered under the contract or of material treated as termination inventory in accordance with § 844.400–2, unless the cost of such articles and such material to be retained or sold and the amount of the subcontractor's termination claim, computed according to § 841.122, total less than $10,000; or (2) the authority to approve abandonment or discarding of worthless property without the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) or disposal board, required by § 844.447–2.

(f) All authorizations granted under § 846.642, substantially in the form prescribed by § 849.987–1 on November 1, 1944, shall be deemed to have been amended to conform to the revised form prescribed by § 849.987–1 on April 20, 1945, without further action by any service or bureau or war contractor. However, war contractors holding authorizations in the form prescribed on November 1, 1944, may, upon request, obtain from contracting officers revised, written authorizations in the form prescribed on April 20, 1945. [JTR 642.3]

§ 846.642–4 Consolidation of claims. Any number of separate settlements of $10,000 or less may be made with a single subcontractor. Claims which would normally be included in a single settlement proposal, such as a series of separate orders for the same item under one war contract, should be consolidated wherever possible, and must not be divided in such a way as to bring them within the authorization provided for in §§ 846.642 to 846.642–7, inclusive. [JTR 642.4]

§ 846.642–5 Recognition of authorized settlements. Where a war contractor settles in good faith with a subcontractor in accordance with an authorization hereunder, the Government will recognize the settlement, including credits for retention or disposal of termination inventory, as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the terminated prime contract or adjusting the continuing prime contract (whether modified or not) to which the subcontract is allocable. Higher tier contractors shall also rely on such settlements. Such settlements are not subject to review under § 846.644 or § 845.582. [JTR 642.5]

§ 846.642–6 Selective review. (a) The chief of each service or the cognizant Navy material inspector who grants an authorization hereunder is responsible for making a selective review of settlements to determine whether the war contractor is making adequate reviews and fair settlements and whether his authority to settle without approval shall remain in effect. In the War Department, to avoid duplication of effort, the chief of each service may designate a single contracting officer or other official or office to make the selective review for the entire service.

(b) All contracting officers and Government personnel engaged in negotiating settlements with a war contractor holding an authorization should report to the appropriate authority of the service or to the cognizant Navy material inspector any irregularities or other information coming to their attention regarding the adequacy of the contractor's review procedures. [JTR 642.6]

§ 846.642–7 Revocation of authority. (a) The chief of a service or the cognizant Navy material inspector may revoke any authorization granted by him (or, in the Navy, heretofore granted by the chief of any bureau) by written notice to the war contractor and should do so promptly whenever he determines that the contractor's review procedures are not adequate or that improper settlements are being made. The revocation of an authorization shall take effect only from the date of receipt of written notice by the war contractor. The chief of the service or, in the case of the Navy, the cognizant inspector, will report each such revocation to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, in accordance with § 849.895–1.

(b) Except as provided in this section, authorizations heretofore granted by the chief of any bureau of the Navy Department are not affected. [JTR 642.7]

§ 846.643 Authority of war contractors to make final subcontract settlements under $1,000 without approval. [JTR 643]

§ 846.643–1 Authority. Where a war contractor in good faith approves a settlement proposal properly submitted to him on Form 1a by his immediate subcontractor, the Government will recognize the settlement, including credits for retention or disposal of inventory, as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the terminated prime contract or adjusting the continuing prime contract (whether modified or not) to which the subcontract is allocable, unless this authority has been revoked under § 846.643–2. [JTR 643.1]

§ 846.643–2 Revocation. Whenever, by selective checks or from other information, the chief of any service or bureau determines that the settlements by any war contractor under § 846.643–1 do not adequately protect the interests of the Government, he may revoke such authority of the war contractor to settle subcontracts under the jurisdiction of his service or bureau by so notifying the war contractor in writing. Such settlements made by the war contractor after delivery of such notice will be subject to review by the Government. The chief of the service or bureau will report each such revocation to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, in accordance with § 848.898–1. [JTR 643.2]

§ 846.644 When subcontract settlements to be reviewed and approved. [JTR 644]

§ 846.644–1 Mandatory review. The contracting officer settling a terminated prime contract will require the prime contractor to submit to him for approval or ratification:

(a) Each settlement with a subcontractor in any tier which involves $10,000 or more (computed in accordance with § 841.122), and

(b) Such other settlements with subcontractors in any tier as the contracting officer may select in accordance with § 846.644–2. [JTR 644.1]

§ 846.644–2 Selection of subcontract settlements for review and approval. (a) The contracting officer may require the submission to him, for approval or ratification, of any settlement with any subcontractor in any tier unless made under the authority of §§ 846.642 or 846.643. Ordinarily, however, the contracting officer will be able to review and approve subcontract settlements involving less than $10,000 (computed in accordance with § 841.122) only in selected cases. In this connection the contracting officer will be guided:

(1) By the necessity for obtaining speedy and final settlement as well as the protection of the interests of the Government, and

(2) By the policy of the War and Navy Departments to rely to a high degree on the investigation made by the reviewing contractor of the basis for the settlement.

(b) From time to time, the contracting officer should require the submission to him, for his approval or ratification, of selected subcontract settlements in addition to those required to be submitted under § 846.644–1 (a). The contracting officer should make such selections in such manner as:

(1) To satisfy himself, by reviewing a reasonable number of their settlements, that the general procedures and personnel employed by any war contractor negotiating settlements in relatively large amounts are adequate to protect the interest of the Government, and

(2) To insure the exercise of good faith and reasonable care by other war contractors through the selective check of the methods and procedures of some of them. In selecting settlements made by such other war contractors for submission, the contracting officer should consider whether their methods and procedures have been otherwise reviewed and any other relevant information readily available to him.

(c) Settlements so selected will be reviewed in accordance with standards prescribed in § 846.646. [JTR 644.2]

§ 846.644–3 Optional submission for approval. The prime contractor may submit any settlement with a subcontractor in any tier to the contracting officer for his approval or ratification. [JTR 644.3]

§ 846.644–4 Selection and approval of subcontract settlements by Navy material inspector. (a) The Navy material inspector cognizant of the prime contractor is authorized, as the representative of the contracting officer, to approve or ratify all subcontract settlements which do not exceed $25,000 (computed in accordance with § 841.122), unless the contracting officer specifically limits or withdraws such authority in a particular case as provided in § 842.253–3. When a subcontract settlement exceeds $25,000, the inspector will forward it to the contracting officer for his approval, and for submission to a review board in accordance with §§ 845.582 and following.

(b) The Navy material inspector cognizant of the prime contractor is responsible for selecting settlements for review and approval in accordance with § 846.644–2. The contracting officer will not himself make such selection unless extraordinary circumstances make this advisable. [JTR 644.4]

§ 846.645 Method of submitting subcontract settlement for approval. [JTR 645]

§ 846.645–1 General procedure. (a) The prime contractor should submit subtract settlements requiring approval to the contracting officer for approval or ratification from time to time as promptly as possible. In doing so, he should either:

(1) Include the amount of the settlement in a partial or final settlement proposal on the appropriate standard proposal form, or

(2) Submit the subcontract settlement separately, accompanied by certificates of the war contractor settling the claim, intervening war contractors, and the prime contractor, in the forms prescribed by the standard proposal forms.

(b) In either case, the subcontract settlement should be accompanied by the settlement proposal on which it is based. [JTR 645.1]

§ 846.645–2 Navy procedure for submitting subcontract settlement proposals and settlements. (a) When his settlement proposal is less than $10,000, computed in accordance with § 841.122, a subcontractor under a terminated Navy prime contract shall submit the proposal directly to the next higher tier war contractor.

(b) In all other cases, he shall submit his settlement proposal to the next higher tier war contractor via the Navy material inspector cognizant of the particular subcontractor and may also forward additional copies directly if he desires.

(c) Where the settlement proposal is submitted via the cognizant Navy material inspector, the inspector should review it in the manner provided in § 847.-721–4 and promptly forward it with his comments to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the next higher tier war contractor, for submission to such war contractor for negotiation of a settlement.

(d) In submitting any subcontract settlement under a Navy prime contract in accordance with § 846.645–1, the higher tier war contractor shall attach a copy of the comments on the subcontractor's settlement proposal by the Navy material inspector cognizant of the subcontractor, if the proposal was submitted via such inspector. A subcontractor forwarding a subcontract settlement for approval or ratification, may forward it with his certificate directly to the next higher tier war contractor and need not transmit it via his cognizant Navy material inspector.

(e) The prime contractor will submit to his cognizant Navy material inspector all subcontract settlements which are required, or which he desires, to be approved or ratified, unless the contracting officer specifically directs otherwise in a particular case. [JTR 645.2]

§ 846.646 Standards for approval of subcontract settlements. (a) When a subcontract settlement is submitted to him for approval or ratification, the contracting officer should satisfy himself:

(1) That the settlement was arrived at in good faith and is not unreasonable in amount, and

(2) That the allocation to the prime contract of the charges included in the settlement is based on reasonable grounds.

(b) In determining whether to approve or ratify it, the contracting officer may examine the individual settlement. However, whenever the contracting officer is satisfied that the proposed settlement has received an adequate review, he will be warranted in approving or ratifying the settlement on the basis of the certificates of the prime contractor and intermediate subcontractors in accordance with § 846.645. The contracting officer may satisfy himself that the general procedures of any war contractor are adequate either by checking other settlements made by the war contractor or in any other appropriate manner. [JTR 646]

§ 846.647 Subcontract settlements not submitted for approval. The contracting officer may make a final settlement with the prime contractor without examining individual settlements with subcontractors other than those required to be submitted or voluntarily submitted for approval or ratification under § 846.644 unless special circumstances indicate the need for such examination. Any subcontract settlement shall become final and not subject to examination except as stated in § 846.648, if the settlement itself, or another settlement in which it is included, has been approved or ratified. [JTR 647]

§ 846.648 Finality of subcontract settlement. [JTR 648]

§ 846.648–1 Statutory provisions. Pursuant to section 7 (a) of the act, any settlement between a war contractor and his subcontractor which is authorized, approved or ratified by the contracting agency is final and conclusive as to the amount due except (a) to the extent otherwise agreed in the settlement; (b) for fraud; (c) upon renegotiation under the Renegotiation Act; or (d) by mutual agreement before or after payment. The act provides that no war contractor shall be liable to the United States on account of any amounts paid on such settlements, except for his own fraud. [JTR 648.1]

§ 846.648–2 Amendment of subcontract settlement. (a) Where a subcontract settlement has become final and conclusive on the Government for the purpose of settling the terminated prime contract or adjusting the continuing prime contract (whether modified or not) to which the subcontract is allocable, the contracting officer, except as provided in paragraph (b) below, will recognize as final and conclusive any amendment of such subcontract settlement, where:

(1) The amendment will result in benefit to the Government; or

(2) The Government's interests will not be affected by the amendment; or

(3) The amendment is expressly provided for in the subcontract settlement; or

(4) There has been a mistake, as defined in § 847.748–1 (b) (3), between the parties to the subcontract settlement; or

(5) Written approval is obtained (in the case of the War Department) from the head of the local procurement district, depot or other office, or (in the case of the Navy Department) from the chief of the bureau settling the related prime contract, upon his determination that the amendment will promote the purposes of the act.

(b) Where the amendment is made pursuant to subparagraph (4) or (5) of paragraph (a) above, the subcontract settlement, as amended, will be subject to approval by the contracting officer and review by a settlement review board to approval by the contracting officer tract settlement by §§ 846.644 and 845.-582.

(c) Amendment of a subcontract settlement after final settlement of the related prime contract will be made only in accordance with the procedures set forth in § 847.748 relating to amendment of prime contracts. [JTR 648.2]

SUBPART E—PROTECTION OF SUBCONTRACTORS

§ 846.650 Scope. This subpart deals with special procedures for protecting subcontractors where the prime contractor is unable to meet his obligations. The requirements of Regulation No. 17 of the Office of Contract Settlement entitled "Protection of Termination Claims of Subcontractors" are effectuated in this subpart and Subpart F of this part. [JTR 650]

§ 846.651 Supervision of payments to prime contractor for subcontractors. [JTR 651]

§ 846.651–1 Statutory provisions. Section 7 (b) of the act provides:

(b) Whenever any contracting agency is satisfied of the inability of a war contractor to meet his obligations, it shall exercise supervision or control over payments to the war contractor on account of termination claims of subcontractors of such war contractor to such extent and in such manner as it deems necessary or desirable for the purpose of assuring the receipt of the benefit of such payments by the subcontractors.

§ 846.651–2 When duty to supervise arises. (a) The contracting officer shall be under no duty to make an investigation of the financial condition of any war contractor until he has received a request for protection from one or more subcontractors. If such request is made to him, the contracting officer shall take such steps as he considers reasonable to investigate the financial condition of the war contractor concerned. The identity of the contractor making the request shall not be disclosed except to Government personnel concerned with such investigation.

(b) In determining whether a war contractor is unable to meet his obligations, the contracting officer is required to act only on the basis of substantial evidence indicating that the contractor is insolvent or bankrupt or is involved in pending proceedings in insolvency, bankruptcy, receivership or corporate reorganization, or is in imminent danger of such proceedings. [JTR 651.2]

§ 846.651–3 Methods of supervision. Whenever the contracting officer is satisfied that a prime contractor, or a subcontractor with whom a direct settlement is made, is unable to meet his obligations, he shall:

(a) Follow substantially the procedure outlined in § 843.367 in making payments to the war contractor on account of termination claims of subcontractors, or

(b) Make such payments through a trustee or escrow agent, or

(c) Settle directly the termination claims of subcontractors in accordance with Subpart F of this part.

In his discretion, the contracting officer may take action under this paragraph in other cases where he deems it necessary or desirable for the protection of subcontractors. [JTR 651.3]

§ 846.652 Supplemental payments to subcontractors. [JTR 652]

§ 846.652–1 Statutory provision. Section 7 (f) of the Act provides:

(f) If any contracting agency determines that in the circumstances of a particular case equity and good conscience require fair compensation for the termination of a war contract to be paid to a subcontractor who has been deprived of and cannot otherwise reasonably secure such fair compensation, the contracting agency concerned may pay such compensation to him although such compensation already has been included and paid as part of a settlement with another war contractor.

§ 846.652–2 Scope of statutory provision. The payment that may be made under this provision is limited to fair compensation for the termination of a war contract. It does not include a payment on account of a claim for completed articles delivered or services performed pursuant to the subcontract or on account of any other claim that may arise under the terminated contract. [JTR 652.2]

§ 846.652–3 Circumstances requiring payment. Payment may be made under this provision only when it is not reasonably practicable for the subcontractor applying therefor to secure fair compensation for the termination of his contract from the war contractor liable to him, or from any other party, or by application of any of the procedures provided in § 846.651–3. In addition, the chief of a service or bureau must determine that in the circumstances of the particular case equity and good conscience require such payment. The determination will call for the exercise of sound judgment on the facts of each case. For example, many contractors, at the instance of representatives of the Government and in order to expedite war production, assumed risks in dealing with previously unknown or with over-extended customers, contrary to their normal peacetime practice. In such cases, considerations of fairness may make it appropriate to make payments to subcontractors who could not otherwise obtain fair compensation for the termination of their subcontracts. On the other hand, payments should not be made under section 7 (f) of the act to subcontractors who incurred the risk of non-payment in the course of normal business dealings. [JTR 652.3]

§ 846.652–4 Request for authority to make supplemental payments. Whenever the chief of a service or bureau considers that a subcontractor is entitled to receive a payment of fair compensation under the provisions of section 7 (f) of the act, he shall forward to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, a report stating the essential facts of the case and the reasons for requesting the approval of such a payment. No such payment shall be made without such approval. [JTR 652.4]

SUBPART F—DIRECT SETTLEMENT OF SUBCONTRACTS BY GOVERNMENT

§ 846.660 Scope. This subpart deals with the direct settlement and payment by the Government of termination claims of subcontractors in individual cases. It does not apply to direct settlement on a company-wide basis pursuant to Subpart E of Part 848. The requirements of Regulation No. 17 of the Office of Contract Settlement entitled "Protection of Termination Claims of Subcontractors" are effectuated in this subpart and the preceding Subpart E of this part. [JTR 660]

§ 846.661 Authority to settle subcontract claims directly under contract provisions therefor. Where the Government by a termination article or other contract provision or by a settlement agreement has agreed to assume the obligations of a war contractor to any subcontractor, the contracting officer may settle the termination claim of the subcontractor directly, in accordance with the contract provision. [JTR 661]

§ 846.662 Authority to settle subcontract claims directly where no contract provisions therefor. [JTR 662]

§ 846.662–1 Statutory provisions. Section 7 (d) of the act authorizes the War and Navy Departments to settle directly termination claims of subcontractors to the extent that such action is deemed necessary or desirable for the expeditious and equitable settlement of such claims, and prescribes certain procedures to be followed for this purpose. [JTR 662.1]

§ 846.662–2 Methods of direct settlement. As used in this part, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the terms "settle directly" or "direct settlement" refer to:

(a) The negotiation or determination by a contracting agency of the amount due on account of the termination claim of a subcontractor and the payment of such amount to the subcontractor, or

(b) The payment to a subcontractor of the amount which has been determined to be due on his termination claim by a settlement which was made under any other authorized procedure and adopted and assumed by the contracting agency. [JTR 662.2]

§ 846.662–3 When required. Whenever the contracting officer is satisfied that a war contractor is, or is in serious danger of becoming, unable to meet his obligations, and where he considers that action under paragraph (a) or (b) of § 846.651–3 would fail to assure prompt payment of the termination claims of subcontractors of that war contractor, the contracting officer shall settle directly, subject to the provisions of § 846.662–5, the termination claims of such subcontractors. The duties of the contracting officer with respect to investigation of the financial condition of a war contractor, and the determination that a war contractor is, or is in serious danger of becoming, unable to meet his obligations shall be determined in accordance with § 846.651–2. [JTR 662.3]

§ 846.662–4 When authorized. (a) The contracting officer may settle directly the termination claim of any subcontractor in any other case in which such action is deemed necessary or desirable for the expeditious and equitable settlement of such claim.

(b) In the War Department such direct settlement, in cases where it is not required by contract or § 846.662–3, shall be limited to direct payment (§ 846.662–2 (b)) unless written permission to negotiate or determine directly the amount due on account of the termination claim has been granted by the head of the local procurement district, depot or other office. [JTR 662.4]

§ 846.662–5 Limitation of authority. The authority under § 846.662 shall not be used to settle any claim other than the claim or demand for fair compensation for the termination of the subcontract. [JTR 662.5]

§ 846.663 Procedures in making direct settlement with subcontractors. [JTR 663]

§ 846.663–1 General. In general, in any case where direct settlement with subcontractors is undertaken under § 846.622, the settlement and disbursement procedures specified for settlement with prime contractors shall be followed to the extent applicable. [JTR 663.1]

§ 846.663–2 Acceptance of responsibility for direct settlement. (a) Before undertaking to settle directly the termination claim of a subcontractor under § 846.662, the contracting officer shall send a written notice to the subcontractor in substantially the form set forth in § 849.988–2 or § 849.988–3, depending upon the method of direct settlement to be undertaken. Upon execution by the subcontractor of the consent provision of such notice, the Government shall become liable for the settlement of his claim to the extent and upon the conditions specified in such notice.

(b) The contracting officer shall also send written notice of the assumption of responsibility to the war contractor liable to the subcontractor on account of the termination of the subcontract which the Government is undertaking to settle. Such notice shall be in substantially the form set forth in § 849.988–4 or § 849.988–5, depending upon the method of direct settlement to be undertaken. [JTR 663.2]

§ 846.663–3 Allocability. In making direct settlement with a subcontractor under § 846.662 the contracting officer may apply the provisions of § 848.855–8, relating to the determination of allocability in the settlement of subcontract claims under company-wide settlement. [JTR 663.3]

§ 846.663–4 Limitations on amount payable under prime contract. Direct settlement with a subcontractor may be made under § 846.662 without regard to any limitation on the amount payable by the Government to the prime contractor. [JTR 663.4]

§ 846.663–5 Set-offs, assignments and insolvency. (a) The contracting officer may settle directly with a subcontractor under § 846.662 without regard to any assignment by, or insolvency or bankruptcy of, higher tier war contractors, and without regard to set-offs between contractors in the contractual chain. Such direct settlement shall be made without deduction for claims which the Government may have against the prime contractor or any other higher tier war contractor.

(b) Set-offs which the Government may have against the subcontractor with whom direct settlement is made shall be protected to the same extent that set-offs against prime contractors are protected in making payments on account of their termination claims.

(c) Payments to a subcontractor in direct settlement of his termination claim shall be made consistently with the terms of any assignments executed by that subcontractor of which the disbursing officer has knowledge. The disbursing officer may rely, however, on the subcontractor's statement with respect to outstanding assignments in the absence of actual knowledge to the contrary or notice given in accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. [JTR 663.5]

§ 846.663–6 Partial and final settlement agreements. (a) When direct settlement of a claim of a subcontractor is accomplished by the first method mentioned in § 846.662–2 and the amount due is established by direct negotiation between the subcontractor and the contracting officer, a final settlement agreement will be executed substantially in the form set forth in § 849.988–6.

(b) When the contracting officer has undertaken to pay directly to a subcontractor an amount which has been determined to be due by agreement between the subcontractor and the next higher tier war contractor, the voucher or invoice shall be supported by the notice to the subcontractor (§ 849.988–3) on which the subcontractor has executed the consent provision. No formal direct settlement agreement is required. [JTR 663.6]

§ 846.663–7 Release or assignment of claim. (a) As a condition of the direct settlement of his claim by the Government under § 846.662, the subcontractor is required, upon final settlement, either to assign his termination claim to the Government or to release the Government and his purchaser from his liability thereon. The contracting officer ordinarily should obtain a release, but he should secure an assignment of the subcontractor's claim whenever he considers it necessary to protect any interest that the Government may have.

(b) The form of final settlement agreement for cases in which the amount is determined by direct negotiation with the subcontractor (§ 849.988–6) and the consent provision of the notice by which the Government adopts and assumes a settlement made under another procedure (§ 849.988–3) contain alternative clauses providing for either a release or an assignment.

(c) When the assignment of a claim is received from a subcontractor under a War Department prime contract, the contracting officer will forward the assignment directly to the Judge Advocate General, Attention: Chief, Litigation Division, Washington, D. C.; and he will forward a report of the action taken through channels to the Readjustment Division, ASF. In the Navy Department, the assignment will be forwarded directly to the Disbursing Division, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Washington, D. C.; and a report of the action taken will be forwarded directly to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 663.7]

§ 846.664 Payments only if liability otherwise exists. (a) Except for payments under § 846.652, and except to the extent required in order to give effect to the provisions of § 846.663–5, payments shall be made to subcontractors under Subpart E and this subpart only in cases where the Government would otherwise be required to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract.

(b) Where payment has been made to a prime contractor or a higher tier war contractor on account of any portion of the termination claim of a subcontractor, an additional payment on account of the same portion of that claim may be made only in accordance with § 846.652, or to the extent that the prior payment has been recovered by the Government. Where a sum has been paid to a prime contractor on account of the termination claim of a subcontractor but has not been paid to the subcontractor, Article 3 of the final settlement agreement with the prime contractor (§§ 849.981–1, 849.983–1) requires the prime contractor, upon request, to return to the Government the amount so payable to his subcontractor. Sums returned pursuant to this provision, or otherwise recovered, may be paid to the subcontractors in direct settlement of their termination claims. [JTR 663.7]

§ 846.668 Application of payments to benefit of prime contractor. (a) The uniform termination articles for fixed-price and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts provide that, with certain exceptions, the obligation of the Government to make payments under the article shall be subject, in the discretion of the contracting officer, to deduction for the amount of any termination claim of any subcontractor. The purpose of this provision is to permit the withholding of sums owing by the prime contractor to his subcontractors, in order to assure their receipt by the subcontractor. In any case where this provision is used, the prime contractor is entitled to have the withheld sum applied for his benefit in such a way as to exonerate him, to that extent, from the claim of the subcontractor.

(b) Other forms of approved termination articles contain similar provisions of various types, which are construed in the same manner. [JTR 668]

The policies and procedures applicable to both prime contract and subcontract settlements are stated in Part 845. Those peculiar to subcontract settlements are stated in Part 846. [JTR 700]

SUBPART A—PREPARATION FOR SETTLEMENT

§ 847.710 Scope. The principles and forms for presenting claims of war contractors are discussed in Subpart B and Subpart F of Part 845. This subpart deals with the general responsibility of the contracting officer for negotiating the settlement and contains further provisions applicable to the preparation of claims under prime contracts. [JTR 710]

§ 847.711 Responsibility of contracting officer for settlement. [JTR 711]

§ 847.711–1 General. (a) The responsibility for negotiating the settlement rests on the contracting officer. To discharge this responsibility, he, or someone representing him, should take complete charge of all steps leading up to the final settlement agreement, to the maximum extent practicable. He should familiarize himself completely with all available information concerning the particular termination, and should consider, as far in advance as possible, all accounting, legal, and other problems which are likely to arise in the course of the negotiation.

(b) He should take advantage of all information available to him relating to the terminated contract or the business of the contractor, including information developed by cost analyses, inspections, accounting reviews, or other investigations of the contractor's affairs which may have been conducted by the service or bureau to which he is assigned. He should actively supervise the disposition of termination inventory, the settlement of subcontract claims and the preparation of the prime contractor's settlement proposal.

(c) Before termination, where practicable and authorized by Subpart B to Part 842, and from time to time throughout the settlement proceedings, he should arrive at agreements and understandings by negotiation with the contractor which will expedite the final settlement of the claim. It is his responsibility to see that the prime contractor is diligent in carrying out his obligations and in preparing the claim and to facilitate this by eliminating as many controversial questions as possible in advance of the filing of the claim. [JTR 711.1]

§ 847.711–2 Settlement team. (a) For each important settlement, there should be a settlement team composed of qualified personnel with business, legal, engineering, accounting, disposal and other special training necessary to handle the various aspects of the settlement as they arise.

(b) In the War Department, the contracting officer or his principal representative will designate the members of the settlement team.

(c) In the Navy Department, the settlement teams in the field will consist of the Navy material inspector cognizant of the prime contractor or of a particular subcontractor, officers of the Cost Inspection Service and of the NMR&DA, and other qualified personnel. [JTR 711.2]

§ 847.711–3 Action by settlement team. (a) The members of the settlement team should not delay action until the prime contractor submits his claim. They should work with him continuously in disposing of termination inventory, in making and approving subcontract settlements, and in preparing his own settlement proposal, and should assist him to the maximum extent feasible in order to facilitate settlement. By cooperating during the preparation of the claim, the settlement team can frequently prevent delay, eliminate unnecessary work, and settle questions so as to expedite the preparation of the claim and the final settlement.

(b) The Navy settlement team in the field shall take all action with respect to the settlement which does not require submission to the contracting officer for his personal determination, and shall submit its recommendations to him with respect to other matters, in accordance with this subchapter. [JTR 711.3]

§ 847.712 Responsibility of prime contractor to submit his settlement proposal. [JTR 712]

§ 847.712–1 General. The prime contractor will file his settlement proposal with the contracting officer in the War Department or the cognizant Navy material inspector in the Navy Department as promptly as possible, on the forms and in the manner prescribed by Subpart B of Part 845 for fixed-price supply contracts and by Subpart F of Part 845 for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. [JTR 712.1]

§ 847.712–2 Partial proposals. Before the final proposal is submitted, the prime contractor, from time to time, should submit to the contracting officer in the War Department or his cognizant Navy material inspector any subcontract settlements which require approval. Likewise, any proposals for disposition or retention of termination inventory which require approval should be promptly submitted to the contracting officer or to NMR&DA. In this way, a substantial part of the claim can be definitely settled and finally acted on before the final settlement of the whole claim. [JTR 712.2]

§ 847.712–3 Delay in submitting proposal. If the prime contractor delays settlement of his claim by failure to file the settlement proposal or otherwise, the act requires the suspension of interest on his claim for the period of such delay. A period of 60 days will be considered as a reasonable time for submitting the settlement proposal, and any longer period an unreasonable delay, unless the contracting officer is satisfied that the contractor has been diligent in preparing his claim. [JTR 712.3]

§ 847.713 Effect of settlement proposal. The settlement proposal together with the supporting schedules constitute the basic representation of the prime contractor as to his termination claim. In submitting it to the Government, the contractor represents that the facts stated are true in accordance with his certificate. For any false certificates, he is subject to the penalties described in § 841.138. [JTR 713]

SUBPART B—REVIEW OF PRIME CONTRACT SETTLEMENT PROPOSALS

§ 847.720 Scope. In negotiating a settlement, the contracting officer should have as a guide reports prepared by qualified Government personnel on the prime contractor's settlement proposal. This subpart deals with the preparation and use of the reports for this purpose. [JTR 720]

§ 847.721 Function of contracting officer as to review. [JTR 721]

§ 847.721–1 General responsibility. (a) The contracting officer is responsible for passing upon the prime contractor's settlement proposal and settling with the contractor. For this purpose he must decide to what extent accounting and other personnel should review and verify the contractor's proposal.

(b) Contracting officers will reduce accounting examinations of termination claims to the minimum consistent with protecting the interests of the Government. Whenever practicable, they will rely on reasonable reviews of contractors' data rather than on detailed examinations. Wherever examinations appear to be necessary, they will be made in accordance with the principles of selective auditing.

(c) The accounting examination in connection with the settlement of the cost portion of a fixed-price contract should be in accordance with the usual administrative audit as carried out in the War or Navy Department for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. [JTR 721.1]

§ 847.721–2 Use of accounting personnel. In connection with termination settlements, Government accounting personnel will make such investigations, reviews, and examinations, as the contracting officer may direct or request for the purpose of determining whether the settlement proposal conforms with the termination provisions of the prime contract and is supported by the prime contractor's records and other evidence. [JTR 721.2]

§ 847.721–3 Use of inspection, engineering and other personnel. (a) Government inspectors, engineers and other personnel will frequently have information on: (1) The general reliability of the prime contractor; (2) the quality of his production; (3) the approximate quantity and physical condition of the then existing termination inventory, including raw materials, work in process, purchased parts and completed items; (4) whether the material for which reimbursement is claimed is reasonably allocable to the prime contract being terminated; (5) the fairness of the pricing on raw material and purchased parts, as determined by spot checks to the extent deemed necessary; (6) other significant items included in the proposal which, in their opinion, are incorrect or doubtful.

(b) The contracting officer should use such personnel to make investigations, reviews, and comments on the settlement proposal submitted by the prime contractor. [JTR 721.3]

§ 847.721–4 Function of Navy material inspector. (a) In the Navy Department, the material inspector cognizant of the prime contractor shall examine as promptly as possible each settlement proposal submitted to him and shall forward it to the contracting officer together with any comments which he believes will assist the contracting officer in negotiating with the prime contractor. Such comments should cover particularly the matters specified in § 847.721–3.

(b) In order to prepare the comments under this section, the Navy material inspector may request a representative of the Cost Inspection Service to furnish accounting advice on any items in the settlement proposal. The material inspector does not determine, however, the extent to which representatives of Cost Inspection Service will make a field accounting review of the settlement proposal.

(c) The material inspector is not expected to make a detailed count of inventory unless the contracting officer so requests, but should make such selective checks as he deems necessary to verify the substantial accuracy of the quantities stated. [JTR 721.4]

§ 847.722 Office review. [JTR 722]

§ 847.722–1 When required. In order to protect the Government's interests, qualified personnel will make at least an office review of each settlement proposal submitted by a prime contractor. Where the net amount of the proposal is $1,000 or more, such review will include an office accounting review. [JTR 722.1]

§ 847.722–2 Basis of office review. The office review is based upon supporting evidence submitted by the prime contractor with his settlement proposal and other information available in the office making the settlement. In general, the reviewing personnel analyze and test the information submitted by the contractor to determine inconsistencies or other indications that the items included are overstated or inapplicable. [JTR 722.2]

§ 847.722–3 Scope of office accounting review. Each office accounting review will be made in accordance with the provisions of the Joint Termination Accounting Manual. [JTR 722.3]

§ 847.722–4 Report of office review. Upon completion of the office review, the accountant or other reviewing personnel will furnish the contracting officer an appropriate report stating his conclusions as to the adequacy of the supporting information and the indicated reliability of the data submitted by the prime contractor. [JTR 722.4]

§ 847.723 Examination beyond office review. [JTR 723]

§ 847.723–1 Use of further examination. After such consultation with the reviewing personnel as he deems appropriate, the contracting officer will decide and instruct the accounting or other personnel what further examination, if any, is to be made of the termination claim. In making this decision, he should consider the following factors, among others:

(a) The amount and complexity of the proposed settlement.

(b) The conclusions as a result of the office review.

(c) Available reports of independent public accountants.

(d) Any information available from War or Navy Department personnel, familiar with the operations under the prime contract.

The contracting officer may properly rely upon the advice of the accounting or other reviewing personnel as to the extent of any such further examination required in any case. [JTR 723.1]

§ 847.723–2 Types of additional examination. Among the types of additional investigation which may prove to be appropriate are the following:

(a) The prime contractor may be requested to submit additional data or explanations.

(b) Government personnel may be instructed to visit the contractor's plant to discuss the proposal and to make any necessary reference to the accounting or other records, or other examination.

(c) Government accounting personnel may be requested to make an examination in accordance with the procedures outlined in this subchapter and in the Joint Termination Accounting Manual. [JTR 723.2]

§ 847.723–3 Procedures for examination. While the contracting officer is responsible for deciding whether or not further accounting or other examination is to be made, the accounting or other technical personnel will determine the procedures for actually making such examinations on the basis of their judgment and technical knowledge. [JTR 723.3]

§ 847.724 Report to contracting officer. [JTR 724]

§ 847.724–1 Report of additional examination required. Where any additional examination is made, the reviewing personnel will submit written reports to the contracting officer in an appropriate manner. [JTR 724.1]

§ 847.724–2 Information regarding profit. When the contracting officer so requests, the accountant will furnish him with accounting information on which to make a determination of an appropriate profit allowance. Accounting personnel should not make recommendations as to profit, unless requested to do so. [JTR 724.2]

§ 847.725 Coordination with other accounting functions. [JTR 725]

§ 847.725–1 Coordination with renegotiation accounting. Where accounting work has been done for renegotiation, it should be used so far as practicable to avoid duplication of effort. [JTR 725.1]

§ 847.725–2 Consolidation of termination accounting for several prime contracts. (a) Where two or more contracts with the same prime contractor are being terminated at one time, the termination accounting should be consolidated to the greatest extent practicable and the total costs apportioned to the various contracts on some reasonably satisfactory basis, in accordance with § 845.517.

(b) In the case of certain contractors, the responsibility for making the accounting review for all termination settlement proposals has been assigned to one service or bureau under the consolidated termination program. The procedures governing this program are discussed in Subpart B of Part 848. [JTR 725.2]

§ 847.725–3 Use of previous termination settlements. Where the prime contractor has had other termination claims settled, they should be reviewed, where practicable, for any pertinent information to insure that the same accounting policies are consistently followed in the various settlements. [JTR 725.3]

SUBPART C—NEGOTIATION OF FINAL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

§ 847.730 Scope. This subpart deals with the negotiation of the final settlement under a terminated prime contract. The principles to be observed are stated in Subpart C of Part 845 for fixed-price contracts, and Subpart F of Part 845 for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. [JTR 730]

§ 847.731 Authority of contracting officer. The contracting officer is authorized to settle termination claims and to make supplemental agreements relating to terminated prime contracts, consistently with this subchapter. [JTR 731]

§ 847.732 Conduct of negotiation conferences with prime contractor. The duty of the contracting officer will have required constant negotiation of elements of the settlement throughout the proceedings. These negotiations will usually culminate in one or more final conferences with the contractor. Ordinarily legal, accounting, technical and property disposition advisers will participate in these negotiations. Where the contracting officer has designated a representative to take charge of all or a part of the settlement, such representative will conduct the negotiations unless the contracting officer deems it appropriate, in the light of the complexity of the termination, or the problems to be discussed at the particular conferences, to participate personally, in which case the recommendations of his principal representative should carry special weight in the ultimate settlement. [JTR 732]

§ 847.733 Use of accounting and other reports. The accounting and other reports do not control the contracting officer in negotiating the amount of fair compensation for the termination. He will consider such reports together with all other relevant information and criteria in determining the amount of a proper settlement in accordance with the principles stated in Subpart C of Part 845. He will give such weight to the reports, and qualify their computations to such extent, as he considers reasonable under all the circumstances. [JTR 733]

SUBPART D—SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS

§ 847.740 Scope. When the contracting officer and the prime contractor reach an agreement as to the total amount payable to the contractor on his termination claim, they will proceed to make a supplemental agreement for the settlement. This subpart deals with the terms and execution of such an agreement. [JTR 740]

§ 847.741 Authority for settlement agreement. The settlement agreement will recite that it is made pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944. Before making any such settlement agreement, each surety or guarantor should be notified, if the surety or guarantee agreement so requires, and the assent of any assignee, who has given notice under the Assignment of Claims Act, should be obtained where possible. [JTR 741]

§ 847.742 General provisions of final settlement agreements. [JTR 742]

§ 847.742–1 Form for fixed-price prime contracts. Forms of settlement agreements for fixed-price supply and construction prime contracts are contained in § 849.981. [JTR 742.1]

§ 847.742–2 Form for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. The forms of settlement for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts are contained in § 849.983. [JTR 742.2]

§ 847.742–3 Use of standard forms. The final settlement agreement for a termination claim shall conform substantially to the appropriate prescribed form. [JTR 742.3]

§ 847.742–4 Scope of agreements. In the case of final settlement agreements for use after complete termination, all claims, rights, and obligations of either party (other than those expressly excepted and reserved) arising under the terminated war contract should be discharged and released by the agreement. [JTR 742.4]

§ 847.743 Deductions and reservations in settlement agreement. [JTR 743]

§ 847.743–1 Renegotiation. The settlement agreement will specifically reserve all rights and liabilities, if any, of the Government and the prime contractor under the Renegotiation Act. [JTR 743.1]

§ 847.743–2 Deductions for damaged property and defects. A reasonable deduction should be made for damaged property, defective materials and workmanship in termination inventory transferred to the Government, or retained or sold with the approval of the contracting officer in connection with the termination settlement, unless this factor has otherwise been taken into account in the negotiation. [JTR 743.2]

§ 847.743–3 Deductions for Government claims in connection with the contract. The agreement should cover any set-offs and counterclaims which the Government may have in connection with the terminated prime contract. [JTR 743.3]

§ 847.743–4 Disposal credits. The agreement or the settlement itself should credit to the Government the sales price or agreed price of any termination inventory sold or retained by the prime contractor in connection with the termination settlement. [JTR 743.4]

§ 847.743–5 Provisions to protect subcontractors. In the discretion of the contracting officer, the amount of the settlement may cover, or may be made subject to deduction to meet, any unsettled subcontract claims. In accordance with §§ 846.613 and 846.662, the agreement may make such provisions for direct payments to such subcontractors, escrow payments or otherwise, as the contracting officer may deem proper, to ensure the payment of such claims. [JTR 743.5]

§ 847.743–6 Reserved rights. Where rights of the Government and of the prime contractor are to be reserved and are not to be affected by the settlement agreement, the agreement should specify the extent of such reserved rights. For example:

(a) Rights and liabilities of either party under contract provisions relating to reproduction rights, patent infringements, inventions, applications for patent and patents, including rights to assignments, invention reports and licenses, covenants of indemnity against patent risks and bonds for patent indemnity obligations, together with all rights and liabilities under any such bond.

(b) Rights of the Government to take the benefit of any adjustments of royalties under the Royalty Adjustment Act (Public Law No. 768, 77th Congress, approved October 31, 1942) and to take the benefit of agreements reducing or otherwise affecting royalties paid or payable in connection with the performance of the contract.

(c) Rights and liabilities of either party under options, covenants not to compete, covenants of indemnity, and facilities agreements.

(d) Rights and liabilities relating to the settlement of any subcontractor's termination claim which the Government may have undertaken to settle directly. [JTR 743.6]

§ 847.743–7 Maximum limit. The agreement shall not provide for payment in excess of any maximum limit on compensation stipulated in the applicable termination article, or in this subchapter (see § 845.534–2), except with the approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 743.7]

§ 847.743–8 Offsets and credits for payments previously made. All other offsets against the amount payable on the termination claim and all advance, progress, partial and other payments previously made under the terminated prime contract will be taken into account appropriately. [JTR 743.8]

§ 847.743–9 Anticipated litigation under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contract. Where there is substantial risk of later litigation (e. g., actions under the Wages and Hours Act, State taxes) affecting reimbursable costs under a terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contract, the agreement may expressly except such items from the releases. [JTR 743.9]

§ 847.744 Approval of settlement agreement. [JTR 744]

§ 847.744–1 Settlement review board. If so required by § 845.582, the contracting officer will submit the proposed settlement agreement to the settlement review board for its review and approval before its execution on behalf of the Government. [JTR 744.1]

§ 847.744–2 Other approval. (a) Where the agreement involves more than $500,000, the contracting officer shall submit it for approval by such higher authority as may be required under § 845.584–2.

(b) A settlement agreement for a War Department prime contract does not require approval by the Director of Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, even though the amount of the settlement exceeds $5,000,000, unless it contains provisions requiring such approval under other sections of this chapter, such as §§ 803.306 to 803.308h, inclusive, of this chapter. [JTR 744.2]

§ 847.747 Payment under settlement agreements. [JTR 747]

§ 847.747–1 Basis of payment. When a termination claim has been settled by agreement, a voucher or invoice showing the amount agreed upon, less amounts previously paid thereon, will be prepared and certified in accordance with § 847.747–2, and presented to the disbursing officer for payment. The voucher or invoice will be supported by a copy of the settlement agreement. [JTR 747.1]

§ 847.747–2 Form of certificate. (a) The contractor will make the usual Form 1034 certificate on a voucher or invoice for final payment under a settlement agreement.

(b) The Comptroller General has prescribed the following new form of administrative certificate for such cases:

Pursuant to authority vested in me, I certify that the within payment is due and payable under the terms of the attached settlement agreement, and that the title to all propery, if any, to be transferred to the Government under this agreement has been transferred.

(c) In such cases, the new form of certificate should be printed or typed on the reverse side of the Standard Form No. 1034 -Revised, with a reference stating "See decision of the Comp. Gen. 27 Sept. 1944, A–49009, A–51607, and A–51624". The form of administrative certificate on the face of the voucher should be stricken out, and the words "Certificate on Reverse Hereof" should be substituted. The words "payment in full in accordance with the attached settlement agreement" should be included in the description under "Articles or Services" on the face of the voucher. [JTR 747.2]

§ 847.748 Amendments to settlement agreements. [JTR 748]

§ 847.748–1 Authority for amendments. (a) Section 6 (c) of the act provides that where settlement of all or any part of any termination claim is made by agreement, the settlement shall be final and conclusive except, among other things, (1) to the extent otherwise agreed in the settlement or (2) by mutual agreement before or after payment.

(b) Subject to § 847.748–2, the contracting officer may, before or after final payment, amend any final settlement agreement made by a service or bureau on or after July 21, 1944, whenever:

(1) The amendment will result in benefit to the Government; or

(2) The amendment is expressly provided for in the agreement; or

(3) There has been a mistake or error in the written agreement consisting solely of a failure to express the true agreement between the parties in accordance with negotiations between them, or of a mutual mistake as to a material fact. The failure of a contractor to present or to present accurately, and of the Government to allow, a claim based on a cost incurred by the contractor or on a liability to which the contractor was subject, whether by reason of ignorance of such cost or liability or of its extent or for other reasons, shall not be regarded as a mutual mistake within the meaning of this section; or

(4) The chief of the service or bureau determines that such amendment will promote the purposes of the act, and the approval of the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, is first obtained. In such cases, the request for approval should contain a full presentation of the relevant circumstances.

(c) Each amendment entered into pursuant to paragraph (b) above shall recite that it is made pursuant to the act.

(d) The contracting officer may, before or after final payment, amend any final settlement agreement made by a service or bureau prior to July 21, 1944 only:

(1) Where the amendment will result in benefit to the Government; or

(2) Where the amendment is authorized by, and approved in accordance with, §§ 803.308a, 803.308b, or 812.1252 of this chapter, or by Navy Procurement Directives, paragraphs 11,401 and following, 11,441 and following, and 11,461 and following; or

(3) Where the amendment is otherwise authorized by law or applicable regulations.

(e) No amendment entered into pursuant to paragraph (d) above shall recite that it is made pursuant to the act. [JTR 748.1]

§ 847.748–2 Review of amendments. Where the amendment is made pursuant to (3) or (4) of § 847.748–1 (b), the settlement agreement, as amended, will be subject to review by the appropriate settlement review board, whether or not the original settlement agreement was required to be reviewed. [JTR 748.2]

SUBPART E—PROCEDURE FOR FORMULA SETTLEMENTS UNDER FIXED-PRICE CONTRACTS

§ 847.750 Scope. This subpart discusses the procedure for settling a termination claim when the contracting officer and the prime contractor fail to agree upon a settlement. [JTR 750]

§ 847.751 When formula settlement used. [JTR 751]

§ 847.751–1 Failure of negotiations. When, after diligent efforts to negotiate a settlement, any termination claim under a prime contract has not been settled by agreement or has been so settled only in part, the contracting officer will determine the amount due by formula. Whenever a prime contractor is unreasonably delaying a negotiated settlement by inaction or otherwise, the contracting officer will take action promptly to settle the claim by formula, especially where the interests of subcontractors may be adversely affected by the delay of the prime contractor. [JTR 751.1]

§ 847.751–2 Demand by prime contractor. Where a prime contractor has submitted his termination claim in substantially the form prescribed by this subchapter, he may make a written demand for findings of the amount due on his claim or the unsettled part thereof, under section 13 (a) of the act. Upon such demand, he is then entitled to such findings within ninety days after his demand. Section 13 (c) (3) of the act makes it clear, however, that the contractor is expected to negotiate in good faith for the settlement of his claim before demanding such findings. [JTR 751.2]

§ 847.751–3 Application to subcontracts. (a) Where the Government has expressly undertaken by agreement or under the act to settle directly the termination claim of a subcontractor, the subcontractor may demand findings with respect to his claim in accordance with section 13 (a).

(b) Likewise, such a subcontractor is entitled to appeal or sue under the act in the same manner and under the same restrictions as apply to prime contractors.

(c) Unless the Government has expressly undertaken to settle directly a subcontract claim, the subcontractor has no right to proceed against the Government under section 13 of the act. [JTR 751.3]

§ 847.752 Procedure for proving amount due on the claim. [JTR 752]

§ 847.752–1 Kind of proof required. Where a settlement is made by formula, the prime contractor has the burden of establishing, by proof satisfactory to the contracting officer, the amount due him on his termination claim. The contracting officer should generally accept photostatic or other copies of documents and records, and should not require original documents unless their authenticity is in dispute. [JTR 752.1]

§ 847.752–2 Submission of evidence. (a) The contracting officer will give the prime contractor not less than fifteen days' notice by registered mail to produce, on or before a stated date, his written evidence bearing on the amount due. The contractor may submit such vouchers, verified transcripts of books of account, affidavits and audit reports, and other documents as he may wish. The contracting officer may require the contractor to submit such additional documents and data as he considers necessary in the particular case, and may cause such accounting and other investigations and audits to be made as he deems appropriate.

(b) If the contractor wishes to present oral testimony, or if the contracting officer wishes testimony presented on behalf of the Government or by independent experts, or wishes to examine persons whose affidavits or reports have been submitted, the contracting officer, in his discretion, may hold a hearing, after due notice in writing to the contractor. In all cases, the contractor should be given full opportunity to submit, within a reasonable time, such additional documents, records and other evidence as he deems appropriate to support his claim. [JTR 752.2]

§ 847.752–3 Preservation of evidence. The contracting officer shall retain in the files of the office to which he is attached all written evidence and other data relied upon by him in making his findings and determination, except that copies of original books of account need not be made, and such books of account may be returned to the contractor with other original papers and documents in view of the contractor's obligation to preserve them for examination in accordance with section 19 (a) of the act. [JTR 752.3]

§ 847.753 Basis of formula determination. [JTR 753]

§ 847.753–1 Items allowed. The contracting officer will determine the amount due on the claim on the basis of the formula in the termination article of the contract, without duplicating amounts included in negotiated partial settlements. Where the contract does not contain any formula, the contracting officer will determine the amount due on the basis of the formula in the appropriate approved termination article. The items included in the formula of the uniform article for fixed-price supply prime contracts are discussed in Subpart D of Part 845. In applying the formula, the cost principles stated in § 845.551 will be followed in determining costs. [JTR 753.1]

§ 847.753–2 Finality of approved action. In making a formula settlement, the contracting officer will not re-examine settlements with subcontractors made with his approval, or within delegated authority, before or after the breakdown of negotiations, and will allow the costs of such settlements to the contractor under the applicable termination article as part of the formula settlement. Similarly the contracting officer will treat as final for the formula settlement any other action (such as dispositions of property) taken by the contractor before or after the breakdown of negotiations in reliance upon the approval of the contracting officer, or under delegated authority. [JTR 753.2]

§ 847.753–3 Making of findings. After reviewing the information in his own office and any additional data or evidence furnished by the prime contractor, the contracting officer will make his findings on the issues still in dispute and will transmit a copy of such findings to the contractor by registered mail. Where the contractor has properly demanded findings under section 13 (a) of the act, such findings must be delivered to him within ninety days after the receipt of the demand. The contracting officer may submit his proposed findings to the contractor for comment before making them final where he considers that such action may facilitate agreement or limit the area of disagreement. The findings will refer the contractor to his right of appeal within the Department and his right of appeal or suit in accordance with section 13 of the act. [JTR 753.3]

§ 847.753–4 Report. Where all or any part of a claim is settled by formula, the contracting officer will promptly forward to the chief of the service or bureau, and (directly) to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, a copy of the findings prepared in accordance with § 847.754, together with a statement of the issues in dispute and the basis of the contracting officer's findings on such issues. [JTR 753.4]

§ 847.754 Form of findings. [JTR 754]

§ 847.754–1 General. The contracting officer will include in his findings the material prescribed by the following sections. [JTR 754.1]

§ 847.754–2 Contractor's own costs. The contractor's own costs to be paid under the formula settlement will be summarized. Ordinarily, this summary should substantially conform to the summary on the standard proposal forms contained in §§ 849.962 to 849.963, inclusive, should be supported by such additional schedules and analyses as the contracting officer deems appropriate. [JTR 754.2]

§ 847.754–3 Allowance for profit. The findings should show the amount allowed by the contracting officer for profit. If the prime contract contains the uniform termination article, this item of profit should show separately (a) the amount allowed with respect to the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, and (b) the amount allowed with respect to other costs of the contractor. If the contract contains any other form of termination article, the contracting officer will include in the findings a statement showing the method used in computing the profit allowed in accordance with the contract provision. [JTR 754.3]

§ 847.754–4 Disposal credits. If disposal credits are substantial or cannot be appropriately explained in the summary, the findings should include a supporting schedule. [JTR 754.4]

§ 847.754–5 Subcontract settlements. All settlements with immediate subcontractors should be listed with the name and address of each subcontractor and the amount of each settlement as approved by the contracting officer or otherwise authorized. [JTR 754.5]

§ 847.754–6 Settlement expenses. A schedule should be included for settlement and post-termination expenses, including the cost of preserving and protecting the property. This schedule will show briefly the major items by classification, with a description where necessary to clarify the figures. [JTR 754.6]

§ 847.754–7 Aggregate amount due. The total amount found to be due to the prime contractor will be stated. Any amounts payable to the contractor in connection with a partial negotiated settlement should be listed separately for purposes of information. [JTR 754.7]

§ 847.754–8 Certificate of contracting officer. The contracting officer should support his findings by a certificate stating that in his judgment the amount determined to be due for the termination is fair and equitable. [JTR 754.8]

§ 847.755 Appeal from findings within the War and Navy Departments. [JTR 755]

§ 847.755–1 When allowed or required. Under section 13 (c) of the act, the contractor in his discretion may resort to any procedure provided by the War or Navy Department for appeal from such formula findings within the time specified in his contract, or if no time is specified, within thirty days after the delivery of the findings to him. Furthermore, if so required by regulations of the Director, he must take such an appeal before resorting to appeal or suit under the act. No such regulations have as yet been issued by the Director. Any such findings revised upon appeal within the Department will, as revised, be treated as the findings of the Department for the purpose of any subsequent appeal or suit under the act. [JTR 755.1]

§ 847.755–2 Modification of disputes article. (a) Section 13 (c) of the act modifies the usual Disputes article as applied to termination settlements. Until the Director orders otherwise, the prime contractor may appeal from the findings of the contracting officer directly to the Appeal Board established by the act or may sue, without appeal within the Department. In either case the findings of the War or Navy Department are prima facie correct but are not conclusive even as to questions of fact.

(b) If the contracting officer refuses to make a negotiated settlement of all or any part of a termination claim, his action is not subject to appeal, either under the Disputes article or otherwise. However, if the prime contractor demands findings on his claim in accordance with section 13 (a) of the act, and they are not delivered to him within 90 days after his demand, he is entitled to appeal or sue without such findings. [JTR 755.2]

§ 847.755–3 Effect of failure to appeal. If the prime contractor does not take an appeal from the findings of the contracting officer within the time specified in the Disputes article of the contract, or within the thirty days, they become the findings of the War or Navy Department with respect to the amount due to the contractor on his termination claim or the unsettled part thereof. [JTR 755.3]

§ 847.755–4 Duty of contracting officer on appeal. (a) If the contractor appeals within the War or Navy Department from the decision of the contracting officer, the contracting officer will transmit (in the War Department, through channels; in the Navy, through the office of counsel for the bureau concerned) to the appeals agency specified in the contract, a true copy of his findings, a statement of the issues in dispute and the basis of the contracting officer's findings on such issues, and any other documents and papers required by the rules of the appeals agency. In his discretion, he may also submit such other schedules, office reviews, audit reports and records as he deems appropriate.

(b) The determination by the appeals agency becomes the determination of the Department with respect to the termination claim or unsettled part thereof. [JTR 755.4]

§ 847.756 Appeal outside the Department. [JTR 756]

§ 847.756–1 Right of appeal. If the contractor does not accept the decision of the appeals agency within the Department, the act allows him to appeal to the Appeal Board established by section 13 of the act, or to bring suit against the United States in the Court of Claims or in the United States District Court in accordance with subsection (20) of section 24 of the Judicial Code. This must be done within ninety days after delivery to him of the findings by the Department, or, if he appeals in the Department, within ninety days after the decision on his appeal, or within one year after his demand for findings, if they are not delivered. [JTR 756.1]

§ 847.756–2 Duty of contracting officer on appeal. (a) Immediately upon receipt of notice of the filing of an appeal, the contracting officer will forward all documents required to be preserved in accordance with § 847.752–3, or copies thereof, together with a statement of the issues in dispute and the basis of the contracting officer's findings on such issues, in the case of the War Department, directly to the Office of the Judge Advocate General, and in the case of the Navy, to counsel for the bureau.

(b) Direct comunication is authorized between the Office of the Judge Advocate General, ASF, and other offices within the War Department having information relative to such appeals. [JTR 756.2]

§ 847.756–3 Appeal Board procedure. Pursuant to sections 4 (b) (1) and 13 (d) (3) of the act, the Director of Contract Settlement has issued Regulation No. 15, which establishes rules of practice and procedure for the Appeal Board of the Office of Contract Settlement. [JTR 756.3]

§ 847.756–4 Effect of findings on appeal. In any suit or appeal, the findings of the Department are prima facie correct, and the burden is on the contractor to establish that the amount due on his claim exceeds the amount allowed by the findings of the Department. [JTR 756.4]

§ 847.757 Notice and effect of appeals. [JTR 757]

§ 847.757–1 Effect on authority to settle. The pendency of any appeal within the Department or before the statutory Appeal Board does not affect the authority of the chief of the service or bureau to settle the termination claim or any part thereof by a negotiated agreement with the war contractor at any time before the appeal is decided. [JTR 757.1]

§ 847.757–2 Notice of appeal. The chief of the service or bureau will notify the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, of each appeal which is taken to an appeals agency within the Department, and of each suit under section 13 (b) of the act. [JTR 757.2]

§ 847.758 Payments under formula settlements. [JTR 758]

§ 847.758–1 Payment on account. (a) Within thirty days after delivering to the contractor the findings in a formula settlement, the contracting officer will authorize a partial payment to the contractor of 90 per cent of the amount determined to be due, after deducting from the 90 per cent the amount of any outstanding interim financing applicable to the contract. Such payments shall be subject to § 843.345. Before approving such a partial payment, the contracting officer may require the contractor to submit a duly certified voucher or invoice therefor.

(b) Any such partial payment shall be made upon a voucher or invoice containing substantially the following statement:

The payment covered by this voucher is made pursuant to section 13 (a) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and is a partial payment of the amount due on the contractor's termination claim under Contract ----------, as determined by the War [or Navy] Department in findings dated ---------- This payment shall be applied against the amount finally payable by the Government to the contractor on such claim. If this payment, together with all other payments made on such claim, exceeds the amount finally payable to the contractor on such claim, the contractor agrees to repay the excess to the Government on demand.

(c) The contracting officer will furnish the disbursing officer with a certificate showing the amount determined by the findings to be due on the termination claim. [JTR 758.1]

§ 847.758–2 Final payment. (a) When the amount due the contractor on his termination claim has been finally determined, a voucher or invoice showing the amount so determined to be due, less amounts previously paid thereon, will be prepared in the usual form and will be presented to the disbursing officer for payment.

(b) The voucher or invoice should contain substantially the following statement:

The payment covered by this voucher is a full and final payment of the amounts due on the contractor's termination claim under Contract ----------, as determined pursuant to section 13 (a) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 by the ---------- [War or Navy Department, Appeal Board, Court of Claims, District Court] in findings dated ----------

(c) There will be attached to the voucher or invoice a certificate showing the amount determined to be due on the claim by the findings or decision referred to therein. [JTR 758.2]

SUBPART F—RECORDS OF SETTLEMENT

§ 847.761–1 Duty to retain. The chief of each service or bureau will assure that adequate records are kept to substantiate termination settlements. The chief of each service or bureau, acting in accordance with applicable directives, will prescribe the manner in which termination settlement records are to be kept. Whenever practicable, termination settlement records for each settlement should be maintained in a single file. [JTR 761.1]

§ 847.761–2 Period of retention. Such records will be kept for at least (a) five years after final settlement of the terminated contract, or (b) five years after disposition of termination inventory relating to such contract, or (c) five years after termination of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President or by a concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress, whichever applicable period is longest. Thereafter such records will be destroyed only in accordance with applicable law and regulations. [JTR 761.2]

§ 847.761–3 Records required to be retained. Unnecessarily voluminous files should not be accumulated, particularly in the case of small settlements. The records or information listed below should be retained in the files of the Department in each case, to the extent applicable. Where any of this information is included in the Standard Proposal Forms filed by the contractor (see §§ 849.961 to 849.963, inclusive), or in other retained records, separate records of such information are not required.

§ 847.762 Examination of records by General Accounting Office. [JTR 762]

§ 847.762–1 Statutory provision. Section 16 (c) of the act provides in part as follows:

The Comptroller General may investigate the settlements completed by each contracting agency for the purpose of reporting to the Congress from time to time on:

(1) Whether the settlement methods and procedures employed by such agency are of a kind and type designed to result in expeditious and fair settlements in accordance with and subject to the provisions of this Act and the orders and regulations of the Director;

(2) Whether such methods and procedures are followed by such agency with care and efficiency; and

(3) Whether such methods and procedures adequately protect the interest of the Government.

[JTR 762.1]

§ 847.762–2 Arrangements for examination. In carrying out its examination of records incident to the statutory authority set forth in § 847.762–1, it is the policy of the War and Navy Departments to assist the General Accounting Office in every way practicable. In order to facilitate this policy, the following informal understanding has been reached with the General Accounting Office:

(a) Representatives of the General Accounting Office will make arrangements for such examinations in advance, in the case of the War Department, with the responsible district office of the service involved, and, in the case of the Navy, with the contracting officer.

(b) Records will be reviewed at the places where such records are made available by the War and Navy Departments and will not be removed from such location by the General Accounting Office. [JTR 762.2]

§ 847.763 War contractors' records. (a) Section 19 (a) of the act makes it unlawful for any person willfully to secrete, mutilate, obliterate or destroy, or cause to be secreted, mutilated, obliterated or destroyed, any records of a war contractor relating to a war contract of $25,000 or more, or any records of a war contractor or any purchaser relating to any disposition of termination inventory, where the consideration involved is $5,000 or more, until (1) five years after such disposition of termination inventory; or (2) five years after the final settlement of such war contract; or (3) five years after the termination of hostilities in the present war, whichever applicable period is longer.

(b) The uniform termination articles for fixed price and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts require the contractor, for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract, to make available to the Government, at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor, all its books, records, documents and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder. These articles will require preservation of records in cases, if any, not covered by the act, for the period stated.

(c) General Regulation No. 11 of the Office of Contract Settlement authorizes destruction of war contractors' records upon compliance with its provisions relating to the making and retention of photographs and microphotographs. [JTR 762]

§ 848.800 Scope of part. Parts 841 to 847, inclusive, of this subchapter prescribe the procedures generally applicable to terminations. This part deals with certain variations from these procedures or supplements to them in the case of special classes of war contracts or war contractors. It also deals with reporting procedures required for termination. [JTR 800]

SUBPART A—CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS

§ 848.810 Scope. The policies and procedures prescribed by Parts 841 to 847 apply to terminations of war contracts for construction, except to the extent inappropriate because of the nature of these terminations. This subpart deals with the principal variations from the general procedures. [JTR 810]

§ 848.811 Procedure for suspensions of performance under construction contracts. [JTR 811]

§ 848.811–1 Suspensions under war contracts. The provisions of § 842.217, restricting the use of suspensions of performance, apply to construction contracts for military purposes. [JTR 811.1]

§ 848.811–2 Suspensions under civil works contracts. The provisions of § 842.217 do not apply to River and Harbor and Flood Control construction contracts. When work is suspended under such fixed-price construction contracts, the supplemental agreement made under § 842.217–3 will be subject to the approval of the Chief of Engineers, and will provide:

(a) For compensating the contractor for all completed work and for the expense of demobilizing his plant and organization;

(b) For adjusting the contract price applicable to the remainder of the work under the contract, if and when the Government requests its resumption; and

(c) For terminating the contract for the convenience of the Government, if the contracting officer and the contractor disagree as to the adjusted contract price for the remainder of the work which the Government desires resumed. [JTR 811.2]

§ 848.812 Basis of settlement for fixed-price construction contracts. [JTR 812]

§ 848.812–1 General. The approved termination article for fixed-price prime contracts for construction differs from the approved articles for fixed-price prime contracts for supplies primarily in the basis of settlement. Under the construction article, the settlement covers not merely the terminated portion of the contract as under the supply contract article, but also covers all completed work done under the contract as well. Thus the settlement, whether by agreement or by formula, compensates the contractor for all the work done up to the time of termination, and for his preparations to complete the contract and for his post-termination expenses. [JTR 812.1]

§ 848.812–2 Mobilization costs. In all fixed-price construction contracts there is a "mobilization cost" which is similar in many respects to "starting load costs" under fixed-price supply contracts. [JTR 812.2]

§ 848.813 Negotiated settlement. [JTR 813]

§ 848.813–1 Methods. In negotiating a settlement under a terminated fixed-price construction contract, the policies and procedures prescribed in Subpart C of Part 845 apply except that the compensation will cover all work previously done, as stated in § 848.812–1. [JTR 813.1]

§ 848.813–2 Profit allowance. As under a supply contract, the prime contractor under a fixed-price construction contract is not allowed any profit on work not done before termination. In determining the profit allowance, the contracting officer should take into account the factors stated in § 845.533 but should apply them to all work previously done under the contract. [JTR 813.2]

§ 848.814 Formula settlement for terminated fixed-price prime contract for construction. [JTR 814]

§ 848.814–1 Under War Department article. Under the fixed-price construction contract article of the War Department, if the contracting officer and the prime contractor do not agree within 90 days on the amount payable for the termination, the contractor is entitled to the following amounts:

(a) The costs incurred by him with respect to the contract, including those for completed portions of the contract;

(b) The cost of settling subcontracts;

(c) A percentage of the estimated profit on the total contract, based on the extent of completion of work under it; and

(d) Post termination expense for the protection of property and for settlement.

The total amount shall not exceed the total contract price, and is subject to deduction for any payments previously made, any unsettled claims for labor or materials, and any claim of the Government under the contract. [JTR 814.1]

§ 848.814–2 Under Navy Department article. Under the fixed-price construction contract article of the Navy Department, the prime contractor is entitled to the following amounts:

(a) The contract price adjusted downward equitably to reflect the elimination of the terminated portion of the work without including any allowance for anticipated profit on the terminated work or for expenses covered by (b) below;

(b) His costs incident to termination and not covered by the adjusted price, including the cost of any property transferred to the Government and the cost of its protection, and any other reasonable expenses incident to termination, approved by the contracting officer, plus a profit of 6 percent on the total of these items; and

(c) The costs of settling terminated subcontracts. The total amount shall not exceed the total contract price, and is subject to deduction for any payments previously made to the contractor, and any unsettled claims for labor or materials or any claims of the Government under the contract. [JTR 814.2]

§ 848.815 Basis of settlement for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction contracts. The procedures prescribed by Subpart E of Part 845 for settling terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts apply to terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction contracts. [JTR 815]

SUBPART B—CONSOLIDATED TERMINATION PROGRAM FOR SELECTED CONTRACTORS

§ 848.820 Scope. This subpart deals with the consolidated termination program established by the War and Navy Departments for selected contractors, the designation of offices under that program, and their functions. [JTR 820]

§ 848.821 Scope of consolidated termination program. [JTR 821]

§ 848.821–1 Nature and purpose of the program. (a) The consolidated termination program (hereafter in this subpart sometimes called "the program") provides for the assignment of selected contractors to particular services of the War Department or offices of the Navy Department for accounting reviews of settlement proposals and disposition of termination inventories.

(b) The purpose of the program is to avoid the duplication of accounting and property disposal work which results when a number of services, bureaus, or war contractors have supply contracts with a particular war contractor and make independent accounting reviews and property disposal decisions relative to termination claims arising under such contracts. [JTR 821.1]

§ 848.821–2 Procedures for consolidated termination program. (a) The special feature of the program is reliance by one service or bureau upon the accounting reports and property disposal decisions of another service or bureau and reliance by contractors upon the work of Government personnel. The other provisions of this subchapter are applicable to claims handled under the program, except to the extent inconsistent with this subpart.

(b) Where the office designated in accordance with § 848.822 delays unduly in submitting an accounting or property disposal report, or where such reports are not considered satisfactory by the contracting officer, he may report the facts to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 821.2]

§ 848.821–3 Cooperation on pretermination planning. The designated office (a) will cooperate with contracting officers engaged with assigned contractors in advance preparations for termination under Subpart B of Part 842; (b) will make such accounting reviews of proposals for pretermination settlement agreements, and reviews of the property disposal actions involved therein, as may reasonably be requested by any such contracting officer; and (c) to the extent practicable, will work out pretermination arrangements with the assigned contractor relating to the methods and procedures used in the preparation of settlement proposals and the disposition of property under the consolidated termination program. [JTR 821.3]

§ 848.822 Assignment of contractors. [JTR 822]

§ 848.822–1 Qualification of contractors. Contractors who make written application in accordance with § 848.822–2 will be selected for participation in the program, subject to the limitations imposed by the availability of Government personnel, and to the following considerations:

(a) Whether the assignment will result in more expeditious settlement of termination claims than under the usual procedures;

(b) Whether the contractor has a large number of War or Navy Department prime contracts or subcontracts for similar articles sold to numerous different war contractors;

(c) Whether the contractor has or will have such a large volume of termination claims that utilization of government personnel will be economical; and

(d) Whether the contractor has demonstrated that he can efficiently process both his own settlement proposals and those of his subcontractors. [JTR 822.1]

§ 848.822–2 Application of contractors. Written applications of contractors for assignment under the program should generally be filed with the chairman of the termination coordination committee for the area in which the contractor is located, but may be filed with any service or bureau. Each such application will contain the following information:

(a) (1) Name of contractor and its subsidiaries.

(2) Address of principal office.

(3) Name and location of contractor's plants, including subsidiaries.

(4) Statement of the plants and subsidiaries to which this program will be applicable.

(5) A brief description of the major products being manufactured, indicating the services or bureaus for which they are manufactured.

(b) (1) The total number and dollar amount of all prime contracts with Government contracting agencies.

(2) The percentage of such total number and dollar amount of prime contracts applicable to each service or bureau.

(c) (1) The number and dollar amount, estimated if necessary, of all subcontracts relating to prime contracts with Government contracting agencies.

(2) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such total number and dollar amount of subcontracts applicable to each service and bureau.

(d) (1) The approximate number of, and dollar amount of the terminated portions of, both prime contracts and subcontracts terminated to date, and during the preceding 4 months.

(2) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such number and dollar amount applicable to each service and bureau.

(e) (1) The approximate number of, and dollar amount of the terminated portions of, war contracts terminated which have not been settled to date.

(2) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such number and dollar amount applicable to each service and bureau.

(f) If more than one plant or company is to be included under the program, the information requested in (b) through (e) should be set forth for each such plant or company.

(g) A statement that all termination claims of the contractor under War or Navy Department prime contracts or subcontracts of any tier thereunder will be handled under the program, except as provided in § 848.827.

(h) A statement that the contractor will make all reasonable efforts to bring about the prompt settlement and payment of the termination claims of subcontractors under the terminated war contracts of the contractor. In furtherance of this undertaking the contractor will agree:

(1) To make prompt reviews, where necessary, of the termination claims of his subcontractors, undertake to negotiate the settlement of such claims, and process them in accordance with applicable regulations;

(2) To accept and promptly to exercise any authority granted to him by statute, regulation or special authorization from a contracting agency, (i) to settle the termination claims of his subcontractors, (ii) to take appropriate action with respect to termination inventories of such subcontractors, or (iii) to make partial payments to such subcontractors;

(3) To make application for a fund under § 843.364 in the event that the claims of his subcontractors under any terminated contract are substantial and that partial or final payments to such subcontractors cannot otherwise be made without unreasonable delay;

(4) To make partial payments out of such fund to such subcontractors promptly after receipt of proper application therefor, in all cases in which the assigned contractor is entitled to receive payment or credit from the Government in the full amount of such payment, and, in other cases, promptly to take appropriate action under applicable regulations by completing and forwarding the prescribed forms on each application of such subcontractors for partial payments. [JTR 822.2]

§ 848.822–3 Recommendation of termination coordination committee. (a) When an application is filed with a termination coordination committee, the committee will arrange to have it investigated. Normally, this investigation will be conducted by the service of the War Department having the predominant interest in the applicant's war contracts, as indicated by the application, or where the Navy Department has such predominant interest, by the appropriate local office of the Navy Department. After such investigation, the application will be forwarded, in accordance with paragraph (b) below, with the recommendation of the committee. Such recommendation shall include:

(1) Plants of the contractor and its subsidiaries to be assigned.

(2) The department to which the contractor is to be assigned and, in case of assignment to the War Department, the designated office or offices.

(3) A brief description of the functions, personnel and operations of any resident officers of the War and Navy Departments previously assigned to the contractor.

(4) A brief description of the termination organization in each plant of the contractor and its subsidiaries. The promptness with which subcontractors' claims are being processed and paid and the contractor's efficiency with respect to the presentation of his claim and disposal of inventories should be indicated.

(b) The recommendation, with the original of the contractor's application attached, will be forwarded for review, coordination and approval to the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, depending on which department is recommended to handle the assigned contractor. In the case of the War Department, the recommendation will be forwarded through the channels of his service (1) by the member of the committee to whose service the contractor is recommended for assignment, or, if there be no such member, (2) by the chairman. In the case of the Navy Department, the recommendation will be forwarded by the appropriate Navy member of the committee.

(c) Information copies of the recommendation and the contractor's application will be forwarded directly to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(d) In the case of the War Department, applications filed with the chief of a service will ordinarily be referred to the representative of that service on the appropriate termination coordination committee for recommendation in accordance with this section. If that service has no representative on that committee, such applications will be forwarded to the Readjustment Division, ASF, which will arrange for necessary investigation and coordination. In the case of the Navy Department, applications filed with the chief of a bureau will be forwarded to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, which will arrange for necessary investigation and coordination. [JTR 822.3]

§ 848.822–4 Selection of contractors. (a) The Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, will review and coordinate recommendations with the services or offices involved. They will then assign contractors, or, in some cases appropriate divisions thereof, to individual services or to the Navy Department.

(b) When a war contractor has been assigned to a designated office, that office will notify the contractor in writing of the selection and of the scope of the work to be handled by the designated office for the services and bureaus. Information copies of the notice will be forwarded to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(c) Contractors selected prior to the effective date of this regulation will be requested to take action with respect to the claims of their subcontractors in accordance with § 848.822–2 (h). [JTR 822.4]

§ 848.822–5 Designated office. (a) In the War Department, the chief of the service to which the contractor has been assigned will designate a single office within his service responsible for all work required to expedite the settlement of termination claims of the assigned contractor in accordance with the provisions of this regulation. Specifically, the designated office will be responsible for the following:

(1) Conducting all activities related to accounting matters as set forth in § 848.824.

(2) Conducting all activities related to the disposal of property, as set forth in § 848.825, including the determination of the existence of inventory and its allocability to the terminated contract. When a War Department office checks the existence and allocability of inventory to a terminated Navy Department prime contract or subcontract, such office may request the cognizant Navy material inspector to furnish such reasonable technical assistance as may be necessary. Similarly, such assistance may be requested from other services of the War Department where terminated prime or subcontracts of such services are involved.

(3) Expediting, with the assistance of property disposal, accounting and other personnel, the conclusion of agreements as to general policies and methods governing the preparation and submission of individual claims and the disposition of termination inventories; insuring the effective continuing operation of the program under such agreements; and effecting promptly any changes in such agreements made necessary by changing conditions. In this connection, the designated office will devote particular attention to furnishing guidance and assistance in matters not specifically within the normal scope of accounting and disposal personnel by furnishing opinions or decisions on which such personnel may rely as a basis for their recommendations or determinations.

(4) Supervising and coordinating the activities of all personnel involved, with the objectives of expediting the filing of claims by the contractor and of processing the claims within a minimum period of time subsequent to filing.

(b) In the Navy Department, the designated office will consist of the following:

(1) The Cost Inspection Service, which will be responsible for designating a Cost Inspection Service Office to conduct activities set forth in paragraph (a) (1) above.

(2) The Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration, which will be responsible for designating a Field Disposal Office to conduct activities set forth in paragraph (a) (2) above except that determination of the existence of inventory and its allocability to the terminated contracts will remain the responsibility of the material inspector.

(3) The Material Inspection Service, which will designate the cognizant Inspection Office to be responsible for activities designated in paragraph (a) (3) and (4) above. This office will also check the existence and quantity of inventories, spot check the price of raw materials and purchased parts, and determine the allocability of inventories to the terminated contract. When an Inspection Office checks the existence of inventory and its allocability to a terminated War Department prime contract or subcontract thereunder, the Inspection Office may request the appropriate War Department office to furnish such reasonable technical assistance as may be necessary. [JTR 822.5]

§ 848.822–6 Responsibility with respect to contracts terminated prior to assignment. The designated office shall have no responsibility with respect to terminations incurred prior to the date of assignment to the program. Such office may, however, upon request of the terminating service, assume responsibility for processing such prior terminations in accordance with this subchapter. [JTR 822.6]

§ 848.823 Authority for direct communication. When a contracting officer desires information regarding a claim involving a contractor assigned to a designated office under this program, his request for such information will be made directly to that designated office. Any designated office is authorized to communicate directly with war contractors, contracting officers or appropriate offices of the services or bureaus as to any matters relating to the terminated contracts of the assigned contractor. [JTR 823]

§ 848.824 Accounting review of settlement proposals of war contractors. [JTR 824]

§ 848.824–1 Procedures. (a) All settlement proposals of the assigned contractor will be filed with the designated office, except as provided in § 848.827. That office will make office accounting reviews of such proposals, and will make further accounting reviews as requested by a contracting officer or by a higher tier war contractor. Even without, or in advance of, such requests, the designated office will make field accounting reviews, where such examination would be made in accordance with the established practice of the designated office. [JTR 824.1]

(b) The Joint Termination Accounting Manual applies to the review and examination of settlement proposals under the consolidated termination program in the same manner as any other settlement proposals.

(c) With respect to subcontractors' settlement proposals included as part of the assigned contractor's settlement proposal, the designated office may make office accounting reviews. Where field accounting reviews of such subcontractors' settlement proposals are required to be made by Government personnel, arrangements for such reviews will be made by the designated office. [JTR 824.1]

§ 848.824–2 Recognition of accounting reports. Contracting officers, prime contractors, and subcontractors under prime contracts of the War and Navy Departments will accord accounting reports made under this program the same recognition as accounting reports prepared by their own personnel. [JTR 824.2]

§ 848.825 Property disposal functions of designated office. [JTR 825]

§ 848.825–1 Responsibility and authority for disposal. (a) The designated office in the case of a contractor assigned to the War Department, or the NMR&DA in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department, shall have the authority and responsibility with respect to termination inventories, whether arising under War or Navy Department prime contracts or subcontracts thereunder, which the contracting officer for the War Department, or the NMR&DA for the Navy Department, has under Part 844 of this subchapter, except as modified by this subpart. When the designated office is in the War Department, and the prime contract is a War Department contract, such authority and responsibility of the designated office shall also extend to termination inventories of subcontractors of the assigned contractor, other than another assigned contractor and his lower tier subcontractors. When the designated office is in the Navy Department, or the prime contract is a Navy Department contract, the designated office shall have no authority or responsibility with respect to termination inventories of subcontractors of the assigned contractor.

(b) A designated office, required to take action under this section (1) shall take such action in accordance with the procedure of the War Department service to which the contractor is assigned, or of the Navy Department; and (2) may arrange to have such action taken by another office within its service or its Department.

(c) Property disposal personnel of the designated office shall promptly begin disposal action with respect to termination inventory to the extent possible before receipt of a copy of the inventory schedules, except items included in production or supply lists or significant materials referred to in § 848.825–6; and for the purpose of such disposal action, reliance will be placed on the contractor's representations as to allocability.

(d) The responsibility and authority of the designated office with respect to disposal of termination inventory as set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) above include the approval of sales and retentions by the contractor, and the reporting to disposal agencies and removal and storage, in accordance with Part 844, of those portions of the termination inventories which have not otherwise been disposed of. When the designated office is in the War Department, such authority and responsibility shall also include any required review by a disposal board of property disposal action. When the designated office is in the Navy Department, any required review shall be made in accordance with usual Navy Department procedures.

(e) Where the designated office is in the War Department, the provisions of Subpart I of Part 844 shall apply to termination inventory, title to which has been taken by the Government, and accountability for such property will be established by an accountable property officer in the service of the designated office. In such cases, however, where the termination inventory includes Government-owned property previously furnished to the contractor by the War Department, the requirements of § 844.493–2 will be observed. Where the designated office is in the Navy Department, the records prescribed in Subpart I of Part 844 will not be required, even though the inventory relates to War Department contracts.

(f) Whenever the disposal of termination inventory allocable to a prime contract included in the consolidated termination program requires the shipment thereof at the expense of the Government, Government bills of lading shall be issued, and the cost thereof shall be charged in the department of which the designated office is a part without regard to whether or not the termination inventory in question is allocable to terminated prime contracts of the War Department or the Navy Department or to the prime contracts of any other Governmental agency. [JTR 825.1]

§ 848.825–2 Recognition of property disposition reports. Contracting officers, prime contractors, and subcontractors under prime contracts of the War or Navy Department will recognize and accept as final and conclusive for all purposes the prices and other terms and conditions on which any termination inventory has been retained, disposed of or otherwise properly accounted for by the assigned contractor with the approval of the designated office. [JTR 825.2]

§ 848.825–3 Survey. When a war contractor is assigned to a designated office, property disposal personnel of that office should make a comprehensive survey of the war contractor's procedures for property disposal. [JTR 825.3]

§ 848.825–4 Preparation of inventory schedules. The designated office (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector) will advise the contractor in the preparation of his inventory schedules. Contractors will be required to list on separate schedules the items of material included in production and supply lists which the contracting officer or the Navy material inspector has previously furnished to the contractor. Contractors will submit inventory schedules for both War and Navy Department contracts directly to the designated office (in the case of the Navy, the cognizant Navy material inspector). [JTR 825.4]

§ 848.825–5 Examination of inventory schedules. The designated office will determine whether inventory schedules are in satisfactory form for storage and removal purposes. [JTR 825.5]

§ 848.825–6 Disposal of inventory. Approval by the designated office of dispositions of inventory submitted by the contractor is subject to the following limitations:

(a) Production and supply items. Production and supply items are materials which the War or Navy Department requires for its own use. A list of such items required by the Navy Department is included in the Navy Material Inspection Service Manual on Contract Termination. (This Manual may be obtained by designated offices from the Readjustment Distribution Center, formerly the Joint Army-Navy Termination Regulation Distribution Office, 90 Church Street, New York 7, New York.) Lists of items required by services of the War Department may be published from time to time. The designated office shall not dispose, or approve the disposition, of items included in production and supply lists, but shall forward copies of the inventory schedules listing such items to the contracting service or, in the case of Navy contracts, to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the contractor, to be handled in accordance with the procedures applicable to the disposition of such items. If no shipping instructions have been received ten days before expiration of the plant clearance period, the designated office shall proceed with removal and storage of the production and supply items.

(b) Material subject to special arrangements. Each service or bureau which has a special arrangement under § 844.452–3 or Chapter 10 of the Navy Material Inspection Service Manual on Contract Termination with respect to the disposition of termination inventory will furnish the designated office with copies or summaries thereof, together with instructions and procedures to be followed, and no action with respect to any such termination inventory shall be taken except in accordance therewith; but if no shipping instructions have been received ten days before expiration of the plant clearance period, the designated office shall proceed with removal and storage of such inventory.

(c) Significant materials. (1) The designated office will exercise its judgment as to what significant items of material, if any, in addition to those included in paragraphs (a) and (b), should be submitted to the contracting service or bureau for consideration. In the case of War Department contracts, the designated office shall report the existence and quantities of such items directly to the contracting service, and, in the case of Navy Department contracts, to the cognizant Navy material inspector, with a request that disposition instructions be sent promptly to the designated office, if such items are desired.

(2) The designated office shall take no action with respect to the disposition of such significant materials for a period of fifteen days from the date of reference. If at the expiration of such period the designated office has not received disposition instructions covering such materials, and in no event later than the expiration of the plant clearance period, it shall proceed with their disposition. [JTR 825.6]

§ 848.826 Reporting and routing procedures. [JTR 826]

§ 848.826–1 War Department procedure. In the case of contracts assigned to a designated office in the War Department, property disposal personnel of that office will prepare a report covering the following points:

(a) Approval of inventory schedules as to form.

(b) The extent of examinations made to verify the existence of materials included in the inventory schedules.

(c) Comments as to the allocability of that material to the terminated contract.

(d) A summary of disposal actions which have been taken with respect to the inventory, including approvals of sales or diversions by the contractor, scrapping determinations, and property to which title has been taken for the Government. [JTR 826.1]

§ 848.826–2 Navy Department procedure. (a) In the case of contractors assigned to the Navy Department, the Navy material inspector will approve inventory schedules as to form, and forward them to the Field Disposal Officer and Field Accounting Officer. He will then determine and report to those officers on the quantity and existence of such materials, their allocability to the contract and the pricing of the raw materials and purchased parts. The Field Accounting Officer will attach the inventory schedules to the reviewed settlement proposal and forward them to the Navy material inspector.

(b) The Field Disposal Officer will report to the Navy material inspector immediately on property dispositions made prior to the receipt of the approved schedules, and, at the time disposal action is completed, but in no event later than the end of the plant clearance period, will report to such inspector on credits established, approvals of sales or retentions by the contractor, scrapping determinations, and property which has been stored or removed. [JTR 826.2]

§ 848.826–3 Forwarding of settlement proposals. (a) Where a claim relates to a War Department prime contract, the settlement proposal, with the inventory schedules and accounting and property disposal reports attached, will be forwarded to the contracting officer. Where a claim relates to a subcontract under a War Department prime contract, the proposal, with the schedules and reports attached, will be delivered to the assigned contractor for transmission to his customer.

(b) Where a claim relates to a Navy Department prime contract, or to a subcontract under a Navy Department prime contract and the amount of the claim exceeds $10,000, the settlement proposal, with the inventory schedules and accounting and property disposal reports attached, will be forwarded to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the assigned contractor.

(c) Where a claim not exceeding $10,000 relates to a subcontract under a Navy Department prime contract, the settlement proposal, and related accounting and property disposal reports attached, will be delivered to the assigned contractor for transmission to his customer. [JTR 826.3]

§ 848.827 Limitations on authority of designated office. (a) In exceptional cases the contracting officer under a prime contract may limit the authority of a designated office with respect to that contract and subcontracts thereunder. Each such case shall be reported immediately by the designated office to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(b) Accounting personnel of a designated office in the War Department shall have no responsibility with respect to any cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts except those of the service of the designated office. Accounting personnel of the designated office in the Navy Department shall have no responsibility with respect to any War Department cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts.

(c) Material to which the Government has title under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts or other contracts shall be disposed of as provided in § 844.432–2.

(d) Settlement proposals and proposed property disposal actions may be submitted by the assigned contractor as a subcontractor to the designated office, notwithstanding the fact the higher tier war contractor has authority to take final action with respect thereto. Nothing in this subpart, however, shall impair any such authority of a higher tier war contractor, or prevent the assigned contractor from submitting any settlement proposal or proposed property disposal action to such higher tier war contractor where that contractor has authority to enter into a final settlement agreement or to authorize property disposal action without further approval.

(e) The designated office shall have no responsibility with respect to the removal of plant equipment (as defined in Subpart H of Part 844) covered by facilities contracts of other services of the War Department or bureaus of the Navy Department. [JTR 827]

§ 848.828 List of assigned contractors. A list of the contractors assigned under the consolidated termination program (and of those assigned under the program for company-wide settlement of termination claims) is set forth in Appendix D.[1] This list will be revised from time to time as additional contractors are brought into either program. [JTR 828]

§ 848.829 Maritime Commission claim. (a) The Maritime Commission has requested that, to the extent deemed feasible by the War and Navy Departments, claims under its prime contracts and subcontracts thereunder be included in the consolidated termination program. Such claims may be included by the Readjustment Division, ASF, in the case of a contractor assigned to a service of the War Department, and by the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department.

(b) Where claims of an assigned contractor under Maritime Commission contracts have been included in the program, the designated office shall take action thereon in accordance with this subpart. If the designated office is in the War Department, it may apply thereto the procedures applied to claims under contracts of its service. If the designated office is in the Navy Department, it may apply thereto Navy Department procedures.

(c) Where a claim relates to a Maritime Commission prime contract, the settlement proposal, with the inventory schedules and accounting and property disposal reports attached, will be forwarded by the designated office to the contracting officer. Where a claim relates to subcontracts under a Maritime Commission prime contract, the proposal, with the schedules and reports attached, will be delivered by the designated office to the assigned contractor for transmission to his customer, and a copy thereof will be forwarded directly to the contracting officer under the prime contract.

(d) The designated office may take action in accordance with § 848.825 with respect to termination inventory under Maritime Commission prime contracts and subcontracts thereunder, unless and except to the extent that the Maritime Commission has furnished a list of items of termination inventory required by the Commission for its own use. Items appearing on any such list shall be forwarded to the Maritime Commission in accordance with its shipping instructions. If no shipping instructions have been received ten days before the expiration of the plant-clearance period, the designated office shall proceed with the removal and storage of such items. [JTR 829]

SUBPART C—TERMINATION COORDINATION COMMITTEES; AUDIT COORDINATION COMMITTEES

§ 848.830 Scope. This subpart deals (a) with the termination coordination committees established by the War and Navy Departments for the coordination of activities and interchange of information relative to contract terminations in particular areas and (b) with the termination functions of the audit coordination committees established by the two Departments in particular areas. [JTR 830]

§ 848.831 Termination coordination committees. [JTR 831]

§ 848.831–1 Organization of committees. Each termination coordination committee is composed, for the War Department, of representatives of the services having district or regional procurement offices in the area served by the committee, and, for the Navy Department, of representatives, functioning in that area, of the Material Inspection Service, Navy Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration and Industry Cooperation Division, OP&M (all referred to in §§ 848.831–2 and 848.832 as "services"). The chairman of each audit coordination committee in the area is an ex-officio member of the termination coordination committee. Representatives of other contracting agencies may also participate as members of such committees. The responsibility for designating the chairman of each termination coordination committee is vested, for the War Department, in the services designated by the Readjustment Division, ASF, and for the Navy Department, in the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. [JTR 831.1]

§ 848.831–2 Where formed. (a) There are set forth in § 848.837: (1) the areas for which termination coordination committees have been formed, and (2) the responsibility for the designation of the chairmen, by reference to a service of the War Department, or to the Navy Department.

(b) Where the local office of a service operates in more than one of the areas listed in § 848.837, representatives should be appointed by that office to the termination coordination committee for each area. [JTR 831.2]

§ 848.832 Functions of termination coordination committees. (a) The termination coordination committees shall perform within their respective areas the following functions:

(1) Exchange information regarding termination problems of mutual interest to the different services.

(2) Coordinate the activities of the services in the training of contractor personnel on termination matters and the dissemination of public information regarding this regulation and termination procedures.

(3) Coordinate advance preparations with contractors for termination.

(4) Recommend to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, in accordance with §§ 848.822–3 and 848.833, the designation of contractors for the consolidated termination program described in Subpart B of this part.

(5) Coordinate such other termination activities as may be specifically directed or approved by the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(b) The chairman of each termination coordination committee is responsible for performance by the committee of the foregoing functions. Each committee will have a full-time secretary appointed by the chairman from the personnel of his service. Under the direction of the chairman, the secretary shall furnish information regarding the committee's activities to interested Government personnel and contractors.

(c) The functions of the committees will be performed through subcommittees on specific subjects, such as training and information, pretermination planning, and interim financing.

(d) Any accounting matter, within the functions of the audit coordination committees, as described in § 848.835, will be referred to the audit coordination committee for the area through its chairman.

(e) It is not within the authority of the termination coordination committees to issue their own interpretations of this subchapter or to perform any functions otherwise assigned by this subchapter. [JTR 832]

§ 848.833 Correspondence. (a) Committee recommendations for the assignment of contractors under the consolidated termination program will be forwarded by the committee representative of the service or of the Navy Department to which assignment is recommended, through its regular channels. An information copy of each recommendation will be sent directly to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. All other formal communications from or to a termination coordination committee will be addressed to or initiated by the chairman of the committee through the regular channels of his service or of the Navy Department. An information copy of any communication from the committee will be sent directly to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, but action will be taken only after receipt through regular channels of the original communication. Two copies of the minutes of each meeting will be sent directly to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M.

(b) Inquiries to higher authority relating to individual cases or problems of operation or administration which are the specific responsibility of the chief of a service or bureau should not be initiated by or forwarded through a termination coordination committee, but should be initiated by the interested office of that service or bureau and forwarded through its regular channels. [JTR 833]

§ 848.834 Audit coordination committees. [JTR 834]

§ 848.834–1 Organization of committees. Each audit coordination committee is composed of an accounting representative of each of the services of the War Department and of the Cost Inspection Service of the Navy Department (all referred to in § 848.834 through § 848.836 as "services") in each area in which such services desire representation. Accounting representatives of other contracting agencies may also participate as members of such committees. [JTR 834.1]

§ 848.834–2 Where formed. (a) The areas for which audit coordination committees have been formed are the same as those listed in § 848.837.

(b) No new committee will be organized and no committee will be dissolved without written authority from the Joint Army-Navy Audit Committee described in § 841.142–4. [JTR 834.2]

§ 848.835 Functions of audit coordination committees. [JTR 835]

§ 848.835–1 General. In addition to the duties with respect to continuing war contracts assigned to the audit coordination committees, each such committee shall make appropriate local arrangements for the interchange of accounting information among the services, and to the fullest extent feasible, will otherwise coordinate their termination accounting activities so as to minimize duplication of dealings with contractors. In carrying out this program, the audit coordination committees should endeavor to develop the desired coordination on the most flexible basis, taking into consideration local conditions. [JTR 835.1]

§ 848.835–2 Assistance to termination coordination committees. Upon request by any subcommittee of the termination coordination committee for an area, the audit coordination committee serving the same area shall assign one of its members to advise that subcommittee on accounting matters. [JTR 835.2]

§ 848.835–3 Control file. Each audit coordination committee will establish a control office and maintain therein a control file of all contractors in the area served by the committee concerning which a service has compiled accounting information. The control file will be designed to show what accounting work, if any, has been performed by each service represented on the committee with respect to:

(a) Pre-termination accounting surveys and agreements;

(b) Field examinations of contractors' termination settlement proposals;

(c) Audits of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts;

(d) Unit cost studies and examinations made in connection with forward pricing;

(e) Audit and distribution of overhead under Master Ship Repair and Alteration and similar type contracts;

(f) Renegotiation of contracts; and

(g) Any other reviews in which the accounting information compiled is deemed sufficiently important to warrant listing. [JTR 835.3]

§ 848.835–4 Access to information. Access to accounting information and work papers in the possession of a service will be granted only to representatives of the War or Navy Department or other contracting agencies; except that such information and papers may be made available to another war contractor to the extent, and subject to the limitations and conditions, which the contractor to which the information relates may in writing authorize. Nothing in this section shall authorize or require any departure from any applicable regulations relating to the disclosure of classified information. [JTR 835.4]

§ 848.835–5 Physical possession of accounting information. The audit coordination committees shall not have physical possession of or control over accounting information. Such information should remain in the possession of the service which compiled it. Representatives of other services or contracting agencies should arrange with the service having the information to review it in the office of that service. [JTR 835.5]

§ 848.835–6 Elimination of duplication. Before undertaking termination accounting work with respect to a war contractor, a service should normally inquire of the local control office to determine what accounting information regarding that contractor is available in the offices of other services. Existing pertinent accounting information should be utilized in order to eliminate duplication of effort. [JTR 835.6]

§ 848.835–7 Reliance on accounting information. The accounting information obtained by a service through the audit coordination committee from another service will be accorded the same recognition as information compiled by the accounting personnel receiving such information. [JTR 835.7]

§ 848.835–8 Limitation of functions. The functions of the audit coordination committees with respect to terminations are limited to those described in §§ 848.835 to 848.835–7, inclusive, and do not include any administrative responsibility with respect to particular contractors. It remains the duty of the service responsible for termination settlement (or accounting matters related thereto), or in the case of contractors assigned under the consolidated termination program, the designated office, to determine questions of accounting policy and procedure. [JTR 835.8]

§ 848.836 Correspondence. All correspondence relating to the functions and operations of an audit coordination committee will be transmitted by the chairman of that committee through the regular channels of his service to the Joint Army-Navy Audit Committee described in § 841.142–4. An information copy of each letter will be sent directly to the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, ASF, and to the Director, Cost Inspection Service, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department. SUBPART D—TERMINATION OF WAR CONTRACTS WITH WAR SUPPLIES LIMITED (CANADA)

§ 848.840 Scope. This subpart contains the procedures and policies to be followed upon termination at the option of the Government of prime contracts between any service or bureau and War Supplies Limited. These procedures and policies are set forth in and are consistent with a letter of understanding dated January 8, 1945 signed by the Secretary of the Navy, the Under Secretary of War, and the President of War Supplies Limited. War Supplies Limited is referred to in this subpart as the "Corporation". These procedures and policies supersede anything to the contrary contained in any termination provision forming part of any contract between the War or Navy Department and the Corporation. [JTR 840]

§ 848.841 Application of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and this subchapter. Neither the act nor this subchapter applies to war contracts of the War or Navy Department made or to be performed outside the continental limits of the United States, except to the extent that, as set forth in § 841.111–3, some or all of the provisions thereof are made applicable to any such contracts. The termination and settlement of prime contracts between the War or Navy Department and the Corporation are governed by this subchapter to the extent set forth in this subpart. Except as set forth in §§ 848.843–3, 848.843–4 and 848.843–5, the termination and settlement of subcontracts under such contracts will be governed by the policies and procedures of the Canadian Government rather than those set forth in this subchapter. [JTR 841]

§ 848.842 Termination article. A special termination article, set forth in § 849.938, is provided for fixed-price supply contracts between the Corporation and the War or Navy Department. This article will be inserted in all such contracts at the time of execution, and may be included by amendment in such existing contracts, either prior or subsequent to the service of a notice of termination. [JTR 842]

§ 848.843 Procedures for settlement. [JTR 843]

§ 848.843–1 Notice of termination. (a) The service or bureau will send appropriate notice of termination of a Corporation contract and related documents to the Washington office of the Corporation at 1205 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

(b) The service or bureau and the Corporation will agree on the number of copies of each instrument required for files and distribution. [JTR 843.1]

§ 848.843–2 Settlement by the Corporation. (a) Except as provided in § 848.843–3, the Corporation, acting through the Canadian Department of Munitions and Supply, will settle and pay the termination claims of its subcontractors (including United States subcontractors) in accordance with the principles and procedures applied generally by the Canadian Government in the termination at its option of its own war contracts. In the case of United States subcontractors, the Corporation may rely on such assistance in checking, verifying and certifying claims and inventories as may be available from the representatives of the War and Navy Departments, if any, located in the United States subcontractors' plants. Such assistance will be made available by the services and bureaus, on request, to the extent that it is possible to do so without substantially impairing the performance by such representatives of their other functions.

(b) The service or bureau will review with the Corporation the progress of any termination settlement if advice has not been received of its completion within three months after the effective date of the termination. [JTR 843.2]

§ 848.843–3 Settlement by service or bureau. (a) Upon notice to the Corporation, a service or bureau may settle directly or settle and pay directly termination claims of United States subcontractors to the extent that such service or bureau deems such action necessary or desirable for the expeditious and equitable settlement of such claims. In such cases, the service or bureau shall obtain any necessary authority in accordance with §§ 846.661, 846.662, and 846.667, and in effecting such settlements shall follow to the extent applicable the procedures of § 846.663. The service or bureau will promptly report to the Corporation the amount of each such direct settlement and any amount which it has elected to pay directly upon such settlements.

(b) Whenever a United States subcontractor requests a service or bureau to settle or settle and pay its termination claim, the service or bureau may agree to do so in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(c) To assist the service or bureau to make direct settlements with United States subcontractors, the Corporation will upon request, notify the service or bureau of any set-off or counterclaim that it or any nigher tier Canadian customer may have against the particular United States subcontractor; will assign to the service or bureau all its interest under any United States subcontract to be settled by such service or bureau; will use its best efforts to obtain any necessary consent of any Canadian war contractor to such direct settlement; and will render, and endeavor to cause Canadian war contractors to render, such further assistance as may be requested. [JTR 843.3]

§ 848.843–4 Termination inventory on settlement by the Corporation. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) below, any termination inventory in the plants of subcontractors shall be retained, disposed of, or otherwise accounted for under the policies and procedures of the Canadian Government.

(b) A United States subcontractor may retain or dispose of termination inventory at prices considered reasonable by the Corporation. Where, at any time after the termination of a United States subcontract, it appears likely to the Corporation or to the subcontractor that, after final settlement, there will be any such termination inventory not so retained or disposed of, the subcontractor may prepare inventory schedules, in the form and manner required by § 844.427, in order to start the plant clearance period referred to in § 844.413. Such schedules will be submitted, in the case of the War Department, to the contracting officer of the service with which the Corporation executed the prime contract, and in the case of the Navy, to the Navy material inspector cognizant of the subcontractor. After the submission of such schedules, the responsibility for the removal and storage of the termination inventory therein listed will be that of the service or bureau. Such responsibility shall be governed by and fulfilled in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 844.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (b) above, or unless otherwise agreed, no termination inventory (except articles completed and on hand at the effective date of termination) will be turned over to the War or Navy Department as part of any termination settlement with the Corporation. The object will be to express the whole obligation of the War or Navy Department on the termination of each contract with the Corporation as a specified dollar amount. [JTR 843.4]

§ 848.843–5 Termination inventory on settlement by service or bureau. Where the service or bureau settles directly the termination claims of a United States subcontractor, his termination inventory shall be dealt with and accounted for in accordance with Part 844. [JTR 843.5]

§ 848.843–6 Certificate. On the basis of settlements made by the Corporation and any settlements made (but not paid) by the service or bureau, the Corporation will determine the net amount, if any, which is fairly and reasonably owing by the War or Navy Department on account of a terminated prime contract and will certify this amount to the service or bureau on the form of certificate set forth at § 849.989–1. [JTR 843.6]

§ 848.843–7 Settlement agreement. On the basis of the certificate the service or bureau will prepare a settlement agreement in the form set forth at § 849.989–2. The settlement agreement will be executed by both parties, and payment, if any, will be made thereon in usual course. [JTR 843.7]

§ 848.844 Basis of settlement. [JTR 844]

§ 848.844–1 General basis of certificate. (a) The net amount certified by the Corporation for payment will, in general, be based upon the net amounts found to be due under settlements made with subcontractors, other than those United States subcontractors whose claims are to be paid directly by the War or Navy Department, (so far as such amounts are properly allocable to the terminated contract between the Corporation and the War or Navy Department), less appropriate credits for retention or disposal of termination inventory, tools and equipment.

(b) The amount of any such credit may be established either by appraisal or by actual sale, as the Corporation in its discretion in each instance may deem proper. In no event, however, will the amount determined to be owing by the War or Navy Department include any charges, costs, or expenses which under any agreement between the Corporation or the Canadian Government and the War or Navy Department are not to be included as factors of cost. [JTR 844.1]

§ 848.844–2 Effect of certificate. The certificate by the Corporation will be accepted as the basis for the settlement agreement with the Corporation without further inquiry by the service or bureau, except as further inquiry may be made pursuant to § 848.844–3, and except that any formal or patent errors, discrepancies or omissions in the certificate may be resolved directly by such service or bureau by agreement with the Corporation. [JTR 844.2]

§ 848.844–3 Resolution of substantial issues. Any service of the War Department will refer through channels to the Readjustment Division, ASF, and any bureau of the Navy Department will refer to the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, any substantial issues, whether of a general or specific nature, which may arise in connection with the termination of contracts with the Corporation. The Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, will resolve any such issues, where necessary, by agreement with the Corporation. [JTR 844.3]

§ 848.844–4 Profit restrictions. All payments made by the War or Navy Department to the Corporation on account of terminated contracts will remain subject to the basic agreement set forth in a letter September 10, 1942, from the Corporation to the Under Secretaries of War and Navy and to the Chairman of the Maritime Commission with reference to the limitation of profits derived under contracts placed by the War or Navy Department with the Corporation. [JTR 844.4]

SUBPART E—DIRECT SETTLEMENT OF WAR CONTRACTS ON A COMPANY-WIDE BASIS

§ 848.850 Scope. This subpart deals with the direct settlement on a company-wide basis of termination claims of war contractors assigned to the War or Navy Department for settlement pursuant to Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement. The procedures described in this subpart do not apply to the direct settlement of individual subcontracts under Subpart F of Part 846 of this subchapter. [JTR 850]

§ 848.851 Definitions. As used in this subpart, the following terms shall have the following meanings. [JTR 851]

§ 848.851–1 Applicable prime contract. The term "applicable prime contract" means the terminated prime contract that is being settled, or where a subcontract in any tier is being settled, the prime contract to which that subcontract relates. [JTR 851.1]

§ 848.851–2 Assigned contractor. The term "assigned contractor" means a war contractor assigned, under § 848.853, to a service or bureau for company-wide settlement. [JTR 851.2]

§ 848.851–3 Company-wide settlement. The term "company-wide settlement" means the direct settlement on a company-wide basis of termination claims of an assigned contractor by the chief of a service or bureau who is authorized to act for all services of the War Department, all bureaus of the Navy Department, and (in some cases) for other contracting agencies, with respect to terminated war contracts of the assigned contractor. [JTR 851.3]

§ 848.851–4 Customer. The term "customer" means the purchaser from an assigned contractor under a subcontract. [JTR 851.4]

§ 848.851–5 Designated officer. The term "designated officer" means the chief of the service or bureau authorized to conduct company-wide settlement with an assigned contractor, or his duly authorized representative. In the case of the Navy Department, a Navy material inspector may be a designated officer, in which case he shall exercise all powers and have all responsibilities of a chief of a bureau so designated under this subpart. [JTR 851.5]

§ 848.851–6 Other contracting agency. The term "other contracting agency" means a contracting agency, as defined in section 3 (g) of the act, other than the War Department and the Navy Department, on behalf of which the War or Navy Department has been authorized to settle terminated war contracts of an assigned contractor pursuant to Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement. [JTR 851.6]

§ 848.852 Authority. [JTR 852]

§ 848.852–1 Statutory authority. Section 7 (c) of the act provides that the Director shall prescribe policies and methods for the settlement as a group, or otherwise, by a contracting agency of termination claims of a war contractor under contracts with one or more services or bureaus within an agency, with other agencies, or with other war contractors, to the extent he deems such action necessary or desirable for the expeditious and equitable settlement of such claims. The Director is also authorized, after consulting with the contracting agencies concerned, to provide for assignment of war contractors to a contracting agency for such settlement. [JTR 852.1]

§ 848.852–2 Regulation No. 16 of Office of Contract Settlement. Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement directs the contracting agencies to conduct a program of company-wide settlement for the purpose of facilitating expeditious and equitable settlement and payment of termination claims of certain war contractors holding large numbers of subcontracts. [JTR 852.2]

§ 848.852–3 Authority of designated officer. (a) The designated officer is authorized to settle the termination claims of the assigned contractor arising under prime contracts of the War or Navy Department or other contracting agency, or under subcontracts in any tier that were terminated as a result of the modification or termination for the convenience or at the option of the Government of any prime contract of the War or Navy Department or other contracting agency or under other circumstances which require the Government to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract.

(b) When the designated officer is in the Navy Department, the Cost Inspection Service, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, will designate a field accounting officer, and the Navy Material Redistribution and Disposal Administration (NMR&DA) will designate a field disposal office, to perform respectively the accounting and property disposal work. The designated officer has primary responsibility for the expeditious and equitable settlement of the termination claims of the assigned contractor in accordance with the provisions of this regulation. The field accounting office and the field disposal office will perform their respective functions with respect to accounting reviews and property disposition matters, but the designated officer shall have authority to coordinate their functions in order to expedite settlement and property disposal.

(c) The designated officer of the War Department, or the designated officer, NMR&DA and Navy Material inspector, in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department, shall have the authority and responsibility with respect to termination inventory under war contracts of the assigned contractor and his lower tier subcontractors (other than another assigned contractor and his lower tier subcontractors, or a contractor subject to the provisions of Subpart B of this part) which the contracting officer for the War Department, or the contracting officer, NMR&DA and Navy Material inspector for the Navy Department has under Part 844. [JTR 852.3]

§ 848.853 Assignment of contractors. [JTR 853]

§ 848.853–1 Regulation No. 16 of Office of Contract Settlement. (a) Pursuant to Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement, a committee composed of representatives of the Office of Contract Settlement and the War and Navy Departments, after consultation with the contracting agencies concerned, will select the war contractors for company-wide settlement, will assign each of those contractors to a contracting agency, and will specify the contracting agencies on behalf of which the designated agency shall have authority to settle termination claims of the assigned contractor. Applications for assignment may be filed with any contracting agency.

(b) Regulation No. 16 declares that, in general, expeditious and equitable settlement of termination claims will be advanced by company-wide settlement in the case of those contractors:

(1) Who are subcontractors under numerous war contracts for the production of articles for different purchasers;

(2) Whose volume of war business and termination claims, actual and anticipated, is sufficiently large to make such settlement lead to the economical utilization of Government personnel;

(3) Whose terminated war contracts are of such character that they can efficiently be settled by one contracting agency on behalf of other contracting agencies; and

(4) Who have efficient termination organizations.

Among contractors who meet these conditions, preference is to be given to those upon whom large numbers of lower tier subcontractors depend for payment of their claims. [JTR 853.1]

§ 848.853–2 Applications of contractors. A contractor applying to the War Department for company-wide settlement will file its application with the Readjustment Division, ASF. A contractor applying to the Navy Department will file its application with the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M. Each such application will contain the following:

(a) (1) Name of contractor.

(2) Address of principal office.

(3) Number and location of contractor's plants.

(4) Statement of the plants (including those of subsidiaries, if any) to which this program will be applicable.

(5) A brief description of the major products being manufactured.

(6) The total number and dollar amount of the undelivered portion, estimated if necessary, of all prime contracts held by the contractor.

(7) The percentage of such total number and dollar amount of prime contracts applicable to each contracting agency, and to each service or bureau.

(8) The number and dollar amount estimated if necessary, of the undelivered portion of all subcontracts held by the contractor.

(9) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such total number and dollar amount of the undelivered portion of all subcontracts applicable to each contracting agency, and to each service or bureau.

(10) The approximate number of, and dollar amount of the terminated portions of, both prime contracts and subcontracts, terminated to date, and during the past four months.

(11) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such total number and dollar amount applicable to each contracting agency, and to each service or bureau.

(12) The approximate number of, and dollar amount of the terminated portions of, war contracts which have not been settled to date.

(13) The percentage, estimated if necessary, of such number and dollar amount of unsettled terminations applicable to each contracting agency, and to each service or bureau.

(14) The approximate number of subcontractors, and the approximate number and dollar amount of the undelivered portion of all the subcontracts, under the war contracts of the contractor.

(15) Such other information regarding the contractor's war business as, in the judgment of the contractor, will show that his assignment for company-wide settlement is appropriate and will make possible a proper assignment of the contractor to a service or bureau for company-wide settlement.

(b) If more than one plant is to be included under the program, the information listed in (a) above as to each such plant.

(c) A statement by the contractor that he is willing to enter into a master agreement for company-wide settlement substantially in the form set forth in § 849.986–1, and that he has a termination organization capable of complying with the provisions of this subpart. [JTR 853.2]

§ 848.853–3 Processing of applications. (a) Each application of a contractor for company-wide settlement will normally be referred to a service or bureau for investigation and recommendation. Where desirable, the assistance and advice of the appropriate termination coordination committee should be secured. When a service or bureau recommends that a contractor be assigned for company-wide settlement, its recommendation shall include:

(1) Plants of the contractor to be assigned.

(2) The service or bureau to which the contractor should be assigned.

(3) A brief statement describing the functions, personnel, and operations of any resident officers of the War and Navy Departments previously assigned to the contractor.

(4) A brief statement describing the contractor's termination organization. The promptness with which subcontractors' claims are being processed and paid, and the contractor's efficiency with respect to the presentation of his own claims, should be indicated.

(b) The application of a contractor, together with any recommendation of a service or bureau regarding him, will be referred by the Readjustment Division, ASF, or the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, to the committee appointed pursuant to Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement. [JTR 853.3]

§ 848.853–4 Assignment of designated officer. When a contractor has been assigned to the War Department by the committee, the Readjustment Division, ASF, will assign that contractor to a designated officer. When a contractor has been assigned to the Navy Department, the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, will assign that contractor to a designated officer. [JTR 853.4]

§ 848.854 Master agreement for company-wide settlement. (a) Prior to the commencement of company-wide settlement, the assigned contractor and the designated officer will enter into a master agreement for company-wide settlement substantially in the form set forth in § 849.986–1. That agreement shall be numbered and distributed as a contract of the designated officer. By that agreement, the contractor undertakes not to file settlement proposals with any contracting officer other than the designated officer, and not to seek compensation from any customer for the termination of any war contract, except in the case of contracts that have been excluded from company-wide settlement pursuant to Article 3 of that agreement.

(b) The form of master agreement set forth in § 849.986–1 may be varied to meet the needs of particular cases in accordance with the principles stated in § 841.144–2. Any deviation from that form shall be considered substantial if it changes Article 2, relating to the scope of the settlement; Article 4, relating to the basis of settlement; or Article 5, relating to settlements with and payments to subcontractors.

(c) As promptly as possible after the execution of a master agreement with an assigned contractor, the Readjustment Division, ASF, and the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, will publish notice of such agreement in such manner as to inform all contracting officers that termination claims of the assigned contractor are to be settled on a company-wide basis. A list of the contractors assigned under this program (and of those assigned under the consolidated termination program) is set forth in Appendix D.[1] This list will be revised from time to time as additional contractors are brought into either program. [JTR 854]

§ 848.855 Procedure. [JTR 855]

§ 848.855–1 General. Each termination claim of the assigned contractor that is settled under the program shall be settled in accordance with the procedures applicable to the settlement of prime contract claims in the service or bureau of the designated officer, except as such procedures are modified by the provisions of this subpart. [JTR 855.1]

§ 848.855–2 No-cost settlements. Where the assigned contractor determines that he will present no claim on account of the termination of a prime contract, the designated officer will be responsible for the execution of a no-cost settlement agreement (§§ 849.981–3 and 849.981–4 of this subchapter), unless such an agreement has previously been executed. Where the assigned contractor determines that he will present no claim on account of the termination of a subcontract, he will normally conclude a no-cost settlement with his customer, but the designated officer may enter into no-cost settlement agreements relating to subcontracts where he considers it advisable. [JTR 855.2]

§ 848.855–3 Notice of termination. In accordance with Article 3 of the master agreement, the assigned contractor, within fifteen days (or such other time as the master agreement may provide) after receipt of a notice of termination of any prime contract or of any subcontract on account of which he intends to file a claim, will furnish a copy or abstract of such notice of termination to the designated officer. [JTR 855.3]

§ 848.855–4 Notice to contracting officer under prime contract. Immediately upon receipt of such notice, the designated officer will notify the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract, using substantially the form of notice set forth in § 849.986–2 of this subchapter. [JTR 855.4]

§ 848.855–5 Exclusion of claims. The master agreement gives the Government the option to exclude any termination claim from the scope of company-wide settlement, and provides that this option must be exercised within 30 days (or such longer period as the parties may agree) after receipt by the designated officer of notice that the contract has been terminated. This option will be exercised by the designated officer if he determines that the claim should be excluded (a) in the interest of continued war production or (b) by reason of the complexity or special character of the contract or (c) for some other substantial reason. In deciding whether or not to exclude a claim, he will consider the advice of the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract, and he will exclude the claim if he is advised by that contracting officer that such exclusion is in the interest of continued war production. Where a claim is to be excluded, the assigned contractor should be notified in writing as promptly as possible. [JTR 855.5]

§ 848.855–6 Notice to customer. As soon as the designated officer has determined that a subcontract termination claim of the assigned contractor is to be included in the program, or earlier in the discretion of the designated officer, a notice will be sent to the customer substantially in the form set forth in § 849.986–3 of this subchapter. Such notice will be sent by the designated officer or by the assigned contractor with the indorsement of the designated officer. [JTR 855.6]

§ 848.855–7 Settlement proposals. The assigned contractor will submit to the designated officer his settlement proposals and inventory schedules on the standard forms, except as otherwise authorized by the designated officer. In the Navy Department, the procedures and functions of the Navy material inspector with respect to settlement proposals and inventory schedules shall be those established in §§ 842.253–3, 844.416–2, 846.644–4, 847.721–4 except as otherwise provided in this subpart, or as directed by the designated officer. The designated officer may permit items of termination inventory, general and administrative overhead, post-termination expenses, and profit, which are chargeable to two or more contracts, to be appropriately apportioned among the several contracts on such reasonable basis as he may determine. Settlement proposals shall not include any charge on account of completed articles delivered by the assigned contractor (or shipped, but not received) prior to termination, or thereafter in accordance with the notice of termination. [JTR 855.7]

§ 848.855–8 Allocability. (a) Except in the situation described in paragraph (b) below, the designated officer shall satisfy himself, on the basis of such evidence as he deems sufficient, that the terminated subcontract on which a termination claim of the assigned contractor is based is a war contract and that the terminated portion thereof is allocable to the terminated or modified portion of a prime contract. This requirement may be met:

(1) In the case of a termination claim not in excess of $25,000 without deducting disposal credits or claims of subcontractors, by a copy of a notice of termination from the customer of the assigned contractor substantially in the form set forth in §849.944–2 or a certificate of the customer substantially in the form set forth in § 849.986–4. Further evidence of such allocability should not be required unless there is reason to believe that the subcontract of the assigned contractor was not directly or indirectly required for the performance of the terminated or modified portion of a prime contract.

(2) In the case of a termination claim in excess of $25,000, by a certificate substantially in the form set forth in § 849.986–4 from the prime contractor and each intervening subcontractor as to the subcontract immediately under his contract in the contractual chain. The assigned contractor should secure such certificates in the ordinary case, but other affirmative evidence of allocability may be accepted in the discretion of the designated officer.

(b) Where the subcontract on which the claim is based was not terminated as a result of the modification or termination for the convenience or at the option of the Government of a prime contract, but was terminated under other circumstances which require the Government to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract, appropriate proof of those circumstances should be required.

(c) The allocability of the costs and termination inventory of the assigned contractor to his terminated subcontract shall be established in the same manner as under other settlement procedures. [JTR 855.8]

§ 848.855–9 Disposal of property. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) below, the designated officer of the War Department, or the designated officer, NMR&DA and Navy material inspector, in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department, should begin to effect the disposal of termination inventories as early as possible and without awaiting the submission of settlement proposals or inventory schedules. For the purpose of taking property disposal action, reliance will be placed on the contractor's representations as to allocability.

(b) Disposition of termination inventory in accordance with paragraph (a) above shall be subject to the following limitations:

(1) Production and supply items. Disposition or approval of disposition of production and supply items shall be made in accordance with the procedure specified for such items in § 848.825–6 (a).

(2) Materials subject to special arrangements. Materials held under special arrangements pursuant to § 844.452–3 of this subchapter will be disposed of in accordance with the procedures established by § 848.825–6 (b); but if no shipping instructions have been received ten days before the expiration of the plant clearance period, disposition thereof shall proceed in accordance with Part 844 of this subchapter.

(3) Other materials requested by the contracting officer. Any other materials requested by the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract shall be disposed of in accordance with such request to the extent that such materials have not otherwise been disposed of before the receipt of such request. Disposition of termination inventory shall not be delayed pending receipt of such a request.

(4) Significant materials. The designated officer of the War Department, or the Navy material inspector in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department, will exercise his judgment as to what significant items of material, if any, in addition to those included in subparagraphs (1) and (2), should be submitted to the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract for consideration. The existence and quantities of such items shall be reported directly by the designated officer to the contracting officer with a request that disposition instructions be sent to him promptly if such items are desired. No action with respect to the disposition of such materials shall be taken for a period of fifteen days from the date of reference. Thereafter, and in no event later than expiration of the plant clearance period, disposition of such materials shall proceed in accordance with Part 844 of this subchapter.

(c) Where any disposal action is dependent upon the amount of a contractor's claim or the cost of the inventory, the claim or inventory under each terminated war contract of the assigned contractor shall be considered separately unless termination inventories under two or more claims have been so physically intermingled that the separate disposal of each inventory is not considered feasible, in which case they shall be considered as one inventory.

(d) The designated officer of the War Department, or the NMR&DA in the case of a contractor assigned to the Navy Department, will be responsible for taking all necessary action under § 844.452 of this subchapter with respect to that portion of the termination inventory which is not disposed of, and for the storage and removal thereof. Where the designated officer is in the War Department, accountability for the termination inventory of the assigned contractor shall be taken in accordance with Subpart I of Part 844 of this subchapter by an accountable property officer in the service of the designated officer. Where the designated officer is in the Navy Department, the records prescribed in that subpart will not be required, although the inventory relates to War Department contracts, but NMR&DA shall proceed in accordance with Chapter VIII of the NMR&DA Handbook.

(e) Whenever the disposal of termination inventory allocable to a prime contract included in company-wide settlement requires the shipment thereof at the expense of the Government, Government bills of lading shall be issued, and the cost thereof shall be charged in the department of which the designated officer is a member without regard to whether or not the termination inventory in question is allocable to terminated prime contracts of the War Department or the Navy Department or to the prime contracts of any other Governmental agency. [JTR 855.9]

§ 848.855–10 Review of settlement proposals. The designated officer shall have the same responsibility and discretion with respect to the review of settlement proposals of the assigned contractor that a contracting officer has in the case of settlement proposals of prime contractors under Subpart B of Part 847 of this subchapter, and the same duty with respect to the negotiation of final settlement agreements that a contracting officer has under Subpart C of Part 847 of this subchapter. Accounting reviews of settlement proposals submitted under the company-wide settlement program should not be in greater detail than under ordinary procedures. [JTR 855.10]

§ 848.855–11 Settlement agreements. Each settlement reached by negotiation shall be embodied in a final settlement agreement, which shall be numbered and distributed as a supplement to the master agreement. Each such agreement may relate to one or more contracts, and shall contain substantially the provisions of the appropriate prescribed form or forms of settlement agreement (§§ 849.981, 849.983, and 849.988–6 of this subchapter) adapted to meet the needs of the particular case. Where the agreement settles a claim under a subcontract, it will contain either a release of the Government and the customer from liability on account of the termination of the subcontract, or an assignment of the claim to the Government. At the time of final settlement of a subcontract claim, the designated officer will decide which alternative to adopt. Ordinarily he should obtain a release, but he should secure an assignment of the subcontractor's claim whenever he considers it necessary to protect any interest that the Government may have. Assignments shall be forwarded and reported in accordance with § 846.663–7 (c) of this subchapter. [JTR 855.11]

§ 848.855–12 Contract price limitation. Termination claims under subcontracts of an assigned contractor may be settled and paid without regard to any limitation on the amounts payable by the Government under the applicable prime contracts. [JTR 855.12]

§ 848.855–13 Copy of settlement to contracting officer and customer. The designated officer shall forward to the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract an executed original of each final settlement agreement or of findings determining the amount due in the case of a formula settlement. Where feasible, in order to facilitate duplication, the stencils or other duplicating medium used in producing the settlement agreement shall also be forwarded to the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract. Where a subcontract is settled, a copy of the final settlement agreement or of findings determining the amount due shall be forwarded to the customer. [JTR 855.13]

§ 848.855–14 Reviews. Any required review of settlements or property disposal actions by an assigned contractor or his subcontractors (other than another assigned contractor and his lower tier subcontractors or, in the case of property disposal actions, a contractor subject to the provisions of Subpart B of this part) shall be accomplished by boards established in the service, bureau, or office of the designated officer. In the Navy Department, required reviews of property disposal actions shall be made by a disposal board or boards established pursuant to Part 844 of this subchapter, and where a Navy material inspector is the designated officer, a settlement review board shall be established in his office, which board shall exercise all the functions with respect to the review of settlement proposals set forth in §§ 845.581 to 845.584–2 of this subchapter. [JTR 855.14]

§ 848.856 Authority and responsibility with respect to contracts of assigned contractors. [JTR 856]

§ 846.856–1 Designated officer. The designated officer shall have all the powers and duties with respect to the settlement of the termination claims (to be included in company-wide settlement) of an assigned contractor which this regulation grants to, or imposes upon, the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract or the chief of the service or bureau of such contracting officer. In the case of war contracts of other contracting agencies, the designated officer shall also have all the powers with respect to the settlement of termination claims thereunder which are granted to the War or Navy Department by or pursuant to regulations of the Director of Contract Settlement, and shall exercise those powers and perform those duties in accordance with this subchapter. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing:

(a) The designated officer shall take action in connection with the advance preparations for termination of assigned contractors in accordance with Subpart B of Part 842. Nothing in this subpart, however, shall impair the validity or alter the effect of any such advance preparations, including pretermination settlement agreements, made by an assigned contractor prior to his assignment under the program, but the designated officer may exercise any powers reserved to the Government to amend such pretermination settlement agreements.

(b) Subject to the provisions of this subchapter, the designated officer shall have authority to grant to an assigned contractor authorizations to settle claims of his subcontractors, to take action with respect to termination inventories of such subcontractors, and to make partial payments to such subcontractors under all his War and Navy Department prime contracts and subcontracts thereunder.

(c) The designated officer may rely on copies of contractual instruments, notices of termination and other records and documents in the possession of the assigned contractor. [JTR 856.1]

§ 848.856–2 Contracting officer under applicable prime contract. After delivery of the notice of termination of a war contract of an assigned contractor that is to be included in company-wide settlement, the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract shall have authority and responsibility in connection with the settlement thereof only with respect to (a) the matters mentioned in the notice from the designated officer (§ 849.986–2 of this subchapter), (b) any matters relating to the cancellation or modification of the notice of termination, and (c) any other matters with respect to which the designated officer requests his advice or assistance. [JTR 856.2]

§ 848.856–3 War contractor. (a) Nothing in this subpart shall impair or modify any authority granted to an assigned contractor or to his subcontractors by or pursuant to this subchapter to negotiate final settlements, to approve the disposition of termination inventory, or to make partial payments. Use of any such authority by the customer or other higher tier contractor will not be required in connection with any termination claim of the assigned contractor that is included in direct settlement, since the assigned contractor agrees in Article 2 of the master agreement (§ 849.986–1 of this subchapter) that he will submit his termination claims only to the designated officer.

(b) The assigned contractor agrees, in Article 5 of the master agreement (§ 849.986–1 of this subchapter), to exercise diligently any authority granted to him with respect to settlements with, termination inventories of, and partial payments to his subcontractors. Where approval or other action by a contracting officer is required on any such matters, the designated officer has authority to grant such approval or take such action. Accordingly, all termination claims of subcontractors that should be included in a termination claim of an assigned contractor settled under this subpart should be finally settled without any action by a contractor above the assigned contractor in the contractual chain or by any contracting officer other than the designated officer. [JTR 856.3]

§ 848.856–4 Action in case of excluded contracts and price adjustments. Where a terminated war contract of an assigned contractor is excluded from company-wide settlement in accordance with § 848.855–5 of this subchapter, the designated officer (in the Navy Department, the officers named in § 848.852–3 (b) of this subchapter) shall, nevertheless, proceed with the accounting and property disposal work in connection with such contract in the manner, and with the effect, set forth in Subpart B of this part, except to the extent that the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract may limit his authority. At the request of that contracting officer, the designated officer shall also render any reasonable assistance with respect to equitable adjustments resulting from change orders under prime contracts of the assigned contractor. [JTR 856.4]

§ 848.857 Payments under terminated contracts of assigned contractors. [JTR 857]

§ 848.857–1 Interim financing. The designated officer shall have the authority and responsibility with respect to interim financing for the assigned contractor and his subcontractors (other than another assigned contractor and his lower tier subcontractors) which the contracting officer under the applicable prime contract has under Part 843 of this subchapter, except with respect to termination claims that are excluded from company-wide settlement. [JTR 857.1]

§ 848.857–2 Set-offs. Settlements of the termination claims of assigned contractors and payments thereunder shall be made without regard to any set-offs that may exist between contractors in the contractual chain. Set-offs in favor of the Government shall be protected by appropriate withholding only when such set-offs are against the assigned contractors, and only to the same extent that set-offs against prime contractors are protected under usual disbursement procedures. [JTR 857.2]

§ 848.857–3 Assignments and insolvency. Settlements of the termination claims of assigned contractors, and payments thereunder, shall be made without regard to any assignment by, or insolvency or bankruptcy of, higher tier war contractors. Payments under terminated contracts of an assigned contractor shall be made consistently with the terms of known assignments executed by that contractor. The designated officer may rely, however, on the contractor's statement with respect to outstanding assignments in the absence of actual knowledge to the contrary or notice given in accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. [JTR 857.3]

§ 848.857–4 Disbursements. (a) Partial and final payments on account of the termination claims of an assigned contractor shall be made by a disbursing officer of the contracting agency that entered into the applicable prime contract on the basis of vouchers or invoices approved by the designated officer.

(b) Where the applicable prime contract is a contract of any service of the War Department, the designated officer will forward the voucher or invoice, with supporting documents, to the disbursing officer designated to make payments on termination claims of the assigned contractor. One such disbursing officer will be designated for each assigned contractor. That officer will make all payments to the assigned contractor on account of his termination claims under War Department prime contracts or subcontracts thereunder included in a company-wide settlement.

(c) Where the applicable prime contract is a contract of any bureau of the Navy Department, the designated officer will forward the voucher or invoice, with supporting documents, to the Termination Branch, Disbursing Division, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C. That Branch will make all payments to the assigned contractor on account of his termination claims under Navy Department prime contracts or subcontracts thereunder.

(d) Where the applicable prime contract is a contract of another contracting agency, the designated officer will forward the voucher or invoice, with supporting documents, in accordance with instructions to be furnished to the designated officer by that other contracting agency. [JTR 857.4]

§ 848.858 Direct communication authorized. Designated officers, other contracting officers, and interested offices of the services and bureaus may communicate directly with each other on any matters related to the settlement of termination claims of assigned contractors. [JTR 858]

§ 848.859 Cooperation. Each service or bureau interested in any contract which a designated officer of another service or bureau is authorized to settle will cooperate, to the fullest extent possible, with the designated officer, and will deliver information relating to such contract, make available the services of personnel, and furnish other assistance, as requested. [JTR 859]

SUBPART F — GOVERNMENT-OWNED PLANT EQUIPMENT UNDER WAR DEPARTMENT CONTRACTS

§ 848.860 Scope. This subpart applies only to the War Department. It deals with the policies and procedures of the War Department with respect to the removal, storage, maintenance, sale or other disposition of Government-owned plant equipment covered by a War Department facilities contract. These policies and procedures are based in part upon the requirements of section 12 (g) of the Act, section 14 (a) of the Surplus Property Act and Regulation No. 6 of the Surplus Property Board dated 24 May 1945 (Part 6306 of Title 32). [JTR 860]

§ 848.860–1 Property excluded. This subpart does not deal with plant equipment (a) owned by Reconstruction Finance Corporation as successor to Defense Plant Corporation, (b) covered by Emergency Plant Facilities Contracts (see 5 F.R. 4147) or other contracts under which the War Department has a contractual right to acquire title so long as title has not passed to the Government, except under the conditions set out in § 848.864–2 (f), (c) located in a Government-owned plant, except as provided in § 848.860–2 (d), (d) furnished under training school contracts, or (e) which is or is treated as contractor inventory under the provisions of Part 844. [JTR 860–1]

§ 848.860–2 Definitions. (a) "Plant equipment". The term "plant equipment" means any Government-owned machinery, tools, special tooling, and equipment and any other Government-owned property, which is located in a war contractor's plant and is covered by a War Department facilities contract, except land and buildings located on land owned by or leased to the Government.

(b) Idle plant equipment. The term "idle plant equipment" means plant equipment which is no longer required by a war contractor in possession for performance of any war contracts. Plant equipment not actually in use will not be considered idle so long as it is reasonably expected that it will be required in the completion of performance of such contracts.

(c) Facilities contract. The term "facilities contract" means an oral or written lease, rental agreement or other contract or subcontract, or provisions of a supply, construction, or other contract or subcontract, specifically governing the acquisition, use, retention, storage, maintenance or disposition of Government-owned plant equipment furnished to or acquired by the war contractor by or from the Government (directly or through an intervening war contractor) for any war production purpose except incorporation in end products.

(d) Contractor's plant. The term "contractor's plant" includes the structures, buildings or premises in or upon which the war contractor performs his war production and which are (1) owned by the war contractor or (2) leased by the war contractor from a party other than the Government. The term will also include a building or structure owned by the Government and leased to a war contractor, provided that such building or structure is on land (i) owned by the war contractor or (ii) leased by the war contractor from a party other than the Government. The chief of the service may make some or all of the provisions of this subpart, except § 848.864–2, applicable to readily severable plant equipment located in any plant leased by a war contractor from the Government.

(e) Contracting officer. The term "contracting officer" shall include his representatives as defined in § 844.416–1.

(f) Intervening war contractor. The term "intervening war contractor" means any higher tier war contractor or subcontractor under whom the war contractor holds the plant equipment.

(g) Application. The term "application" means an application for disposition of plant equipment, together with supporting schedules, submitted in accordance with § 848.863.

(h) Option. The term "option" shall include any right given to the war contractor under a facilities contract to acquire title to plant equipment whether on specified terms or upon terms to be negotiated, including any right of first refusal.

(i) Dismantle or dismantling. The terms "dismantle" or "dismantling" include severance of the plant equipment when it is attached to the contractor's plant. [JTR 860.2]

§ 848.861 General policies. [JTR 861]

§ 848.861–1 Plant clearance. (a) Section 12 (g) of the act provides that whenever a war contractor no longer requires for the performance of any war contract any Government-owned machinery, tools and equipment installed in his plant for the performance of a war contract, the war contractor may demand their removal and, upon receipt of such demand in writing, the Government, upon such conditions as may be prescribed under the Act, will remove such machinery, tools and equipment within a period of 60 days unless the Government and the war contractor, by a facilities contract or otherwise, have made or make other provisions for the retention, storage, maintenance or disposition of such machinery, tools and equipment.

(b) General Regulation No. 4 of the Office of Contract Settlement, dated 28 September 1944 (Part 8050 of Title 32), promulgated to implement section 12 (g) of the act, requires the Government under certain conditions to remove Government-owned machinery, tools and equipment from the private plants of war contractors when no longer needed by such contractors for war production or for national defense and which are not to be retained by them. Regulation No. 4 further requires the owning agencies to waive or release, upon such terms and conditions as may be deemed appropriate, existing obligations under facilities contracts for the retention of such equipment in war contractors' plants to the extent consistent with the necessity for retention for war production or national defense purposes.

(c) Upon application of the war contractor, the War Department will remove readily severable plant equipment if the contracting officer determines that:

(1) The retention of the plant equipment in place is not required for war production or in the interests of national defense;

(2) the Government has no right to have such plant equipment held in standby or storage, or such rights have expired or have been waived pursuant to § 848.861–3; and

(3) the war contractor has fulfilled his contractual obligations as to dismantling and preparation of the plant equipment for storage and shipment.

Such removal will be effected whether or not the contractor has fulfilled his obligations as to the care and maintenance of the plant equipment; however, such removal shall not relieve the war contractor of any liability for failure to perform such obligations.

(d) The War Department will permit the severance of plant equipment, which is not readily severable, only if the contracting officer shall have given prior written authorization therefor. Such authorization shall be given if such plant equipment is required for redistribution for war production or in the interests of national defense. Such authorization may be given if (1) the estimated net proceeds to the Government from the plant equipment when severed will substantially exceed the estimated cost to the Government of the severance and removal, including the cost of repairing any damage to the war contractor's plant to the extent that the Government may be liable therefor in accordance with § 848.861–2, or (2) the war contractor in possession has requested such authorization and the plant equipment is of such a nature or is so attached to or embodied in the war contractor's plant, that the Government's failure to remove it will materially interfere with his other war production or reconversion to civilian production. Plant equipment, after severance pursuant to such authorization, will be removed in accordance with the policies and procedures set forth in this subpart with respect to readily severable plant equipment. [JTR 861.1]

§ 848.861–2 Costs of dismantling and removing plant equipment. (a) The obligation to perform the operation of (1) dismantling plant equipment, (2) preparing and preserving it for storage, (3) preparing it for shipment and (4) removing it from the war contractor's plant, and the question of whether any or all of such operations shall be performed at Government expense, are not uniformly treated in facilities contracts. This is largely the result of periodic changes in standard forms. Many facilities articles and leases obligate the war contractor to perform the operation of dismantling plant equipment at his own expense but obligate the Government to remove the plant equipment at the Government's expense. A few facilities contracts obligate the war contractor to perform the operation of dismantling but provide for the reimbursement of his costs of so doing. Some contracts contain provisions obligating the Government to remove plant equipment from the war contractor's plant or provide that the war contractor's expense of removal will be reimbursed to him by the Government, and are silent on the dismantling and preparing for shipment in which case "remove" and "removal" may fairly be interpreted to include dismantling and preparing for shipment. Similarly, the contract, while providing that the war contractor shall prepare for shipment, may be silent on other matters, in which case "prepare for shipment" may fairly be interpreted to include dismantling.

(b) The War Department will bear the cost of severance of plant equipment which is not readily severable in the following cases only:

(1) Where the facilities contract expressly requires the Government to bear the cost of severance and such severance has been authorized pursuant to § 848.861–1; or

(2) Where the facilities contract is silent as to who shall bear the cost of severance and such severance has been authorized by the contracting officer (i) for purposes of redistribution for war production or in the interests of national defense, or (ii) because the estimated net proceeds to the Government of the plant equipment when severed will substantially exceed the costs of severance and removal.

(c) Except to the extent that the facilities contract expressly imposes such costs on the war contractor, the War Department will bear the costs of dismantling, preparation for storage or shipment and removal of (1) all plant equipment which is readily severable and (2) plant equipment which is not readily severable, but which has in fact been severed with the authorization of the contracting officer under § 848.861–1 if the authorization has been given (i) for purposes of redistribution for war production or in the interests of national defense or (ii) because the estimated net proceeds to the Government of the plant equipment when severed will substantially exceed the costs of severance and removal.

(d) With the exception of the few instances in which it is necessary to comply with express covenants for reconversion, it is the policy of the War Department (see §§ 802.238–2 and 810.1003 of this chapter) that the Government will not bear any part of the cost of reconverting the contractor's plant to commercial production. In connection with the dismantling of plant equipment and its removal from the contractor's plant, this policy is interpreted to prohibit reimbursement of the contractor (or the assumption by the Government of the obligation to perform the work) for any items of expense relating to the restoration, repair, or alteration of the premises in order to correct a condition which was created by or resulted from the installation of the plant equipment. (For example, reimbursement will not be made for the cost of removal of footings or filling of pits which were constructed for the installation of the plant equipment. Similarly, reimbursement will not be made for the costs of repairing or filling holes or apertures in floors, walls or roofs which were made as an incident to installations and remain after dismantling and removal.)

(e) It is recognized, however, that incidental structural damage may in some cases be caused to the premises by the operations of dismantling the plant equipment or removing it from the plant. Wherever such damage is directly and intentionally caused in the process of performing an operation which the Government is obligated by the terms of the particular contract to perform (or for the performance of which the Government is obligated to reimburse the contractor), the obligation will be interpreted to include the repair of such incidental damage at Government expense. (For example, assuming the contract is construed to require the Government to remove but not to dismantle plant equipment or to reimburse the contractor for doing so, the obligation would include the expense of opening or destroying and the subsequent rebuilding of a wall, partition or floor in cases where the removal of the plant equipment, as distinguished from its dismantling, required such opening or destruction. In case the contract obligates the Government to dismantle the plant equipment or to reimburse the contractor for doing so, the obligation would include the expense of the repair of any structural damage directly and intentionally caused in the process of dismantling.) [JTR 861.2]

§ 848.861–3 Waiver of storage and stand-by rights. (a) In order to expedite plant clearance, contracting officers will waive or modify the Government's stand-by and storage rights where:

(1) There has been no determination by the chief of the service or bureau that retention of the plant equipment at the war contractor's plant is necessary for war production or in the interest of nation defense; and

(2) The war contractor requires the space presently occupied by such plant equipment for other war production or for reconversion to civilian production; and

(3) Adequate space and transportation facilities are available to effect removal of the plant equipment. In addition the contracting officer, without waiving such rights, may permit the war contractor to remove plant equipment from its present location to another location in his plant if the space presently occupied is needed for other war production or for reconversion to civilian production.

(b) Prior to the receipt of an application, the Government's storage and stand-by rights may be waived upon such terms and conditions and with or without consideration, as the chief of the service may direct. After receipt of the application the waiver of such rights in accordance with paragraph (a) will be without consideration. [JTR 861.3]

§ 848.862 Advance preparations. At the earliest practicable time, and prior to the time when the plant equipment becomes idle contracting officers should initate discussions and, where appropriate, enter into agreements with war contractors on the following matters:

(a) The preparation of satisfactory schedules of plant equipment to be submitted with the application for disposition. In this connection it is necessary that as far as possible comparison and correlation be made of the property records of the war contractor, the property records of the accountable property officer and the facilities contract under which the plant equipment is held. Wherever possible, differences in the descriptions of an item of plant equipment should be reconciled and eliminated. To the greatest extent possible, resolution of problems of liability for losses of and damage to plant equipment should be made in advance of the time for mass plant clearance.

(b) The methods of facilitating the verification of schedules of plant equipment to be removed and the inspection for condition required by § 848.866. In particular, wherever possible, arrangement should be made for the inspection by Government personnel of power-driven plant equipment while still under power.

(c) Determinations as to which plant equipment will be required by the Government for purposes of supply, war production or War Department industrial reserve.

(d) Determinations as to exercise or waiver of options as well as the method of financing in case the option is exercised.

(e) Determinations as to the items of plant equipment to be removed, the approximate date or dates of removal, and the estimated storage requirements therefor. In this connection inquiry should be made concerning the storage space available at the war contractor's plant, the duration of its availability and if storage is not required by the facilities contract the terms upon which the contractor is willing to make it available.

(f) Determinations as to what items of plant equipment may be disposed of to the contractor in possession pursuant to § 848.864–2 and what items of plant equipment, not readily severable, may be abandoned pursuant to § 848.864–4.

(g) Determinations in respect to plant equipment that may be treated as unserviceable and subsequent disposition thereof as set out in § 848.864–3.

(h) Determinations in respect to preparation for shipment or storage pursuant to SWPA Manual "Guide for the Storage of Plant Equipment and Termination Material" and arrangements for the procurement of materials required in connection therewith.

(i) The waiver of rights under the facilities contract to stand-by or storage referred to in § 848.861–3. [JTR 862]

§ 848.863 Procedures relating to applications for disposition of plant equipment. [JTR 863]

§ 848.863–1 When applications are submitted. (a) War contractors in possession of idle plant equipment will submit applications for disposition of such plant equipment, including supporting schedules, promptly after it becomes idle. However, applications for the removal of plant equipment which is not readily severable may be submitted only after severance of such plant equipment pursuant to the authorization of the contracting officer under § 848.861–1 (d). Preparation and submission of applications will not be delayed because of contract provisions for stand-by or storage, but the plant clearance period will not be deemed to run as to plant equipment which the Government requires the war contractor to hold in stand-by or storage pursuant to the facilities contract. Where substantial portions of the plant equipment become idle at one time, partial applications may be submitted. War contractors should not, however, repeatedly submit partial applications covering minor amounts of plant equipment.

(b) The receipt of an application by the contracting officer in satisfactory form as provided in § 848.863–4 will start the running of the plant clearance period as to the items of plant equipment which have been listed in the removal schedules: Provided, That a waiver of option rights has been executed by the war contractor.

(c) When items of plant equipment submitted on a purchase schedule are not approved for purchase, they must be relisted by the war contractor on a removal schedule in order to start the running of the plant clearance period as to such items. [JTR 863.1]

§ 848.863–2 To whom applications are submitted. A prime facilities contractor will submit applications to his contracting officers. A facilities subcontractor will submit his application through the intervening war contractor unless the rights and obligations of the intervening war contractor with respect to the plant equipment have been extinguished. The subcontractor will forward an information copy directly to the contracting officer, but the plant clearance period will not commence to run until the contracting officer has received the application from the intervening war contractor. [JTR 863.2]

§ 848.863–3 Action by intervening war contractor. Where an intervening war contractor receives an application for the disposition of plant equipment, he will execute the waiver contained therein or will indicate thereon his intention to exercise any option he may have to acquire any of the plant equipment listed thereon. Thereupon, he will promptly forward the application to the contracting officer. [JTR 863.3]

§ 848.863–4 Requirements as to form. Applications will be submitted on Office of Contract Settlement Form 5 and 5a which are reproduced in §849.974–1 and in accordance with the instructions set forth therein. The information required by that Form and such instructions must be furnished in a manner satisfactory to the contracting officer. Deviations from the form may be permitted by the contracting officer. [JTR 863.4]

§ 848.863–5 Acceptance of applications. The contracting officer upon receipt of an application (other than an information copy forwarded under § 848.863–2) will determine promptly whether it is satisfactory in form. If the application is not satisfactory, he will return it, together with a statement of its deficiencies, to the war contractor in possession of the plant equipment directly, or if appropriate, to the intervening war contractor, within ten days after its receipt. The application will be deemed to have been returned on the date it is mailed, or delivered by hand, to such war contractor. If the application has not been returned within ten days after its receipt, it will be considered satisfactory in form for purposes of plant clearance. [JTR 863.5]

§ 848.863–6 Notice to war contractor in possession. Within twenty days after he receives an application satisfactory in form, the contracting officer will notify the war contractor in possession which items the Government:

(a) Requires to be dismantled and prepared for storage or shipment in accordance with instructions furnished (where practicable the shipping instructions should be furnished within the twenty day period);

(b) Is willing to dispose of to the war contractor in possession:

(1) In accordance with the terms of the the option;

(2) In accordance with § 848.864–2;

(c) Requires to be placed in standby or stored with the war contractor pursuant to the facilities contract; or

(d) Is willing to dispose of to an intervening war contractor pursuant to his option under the facilities contract with the Government.

Within the same period the contracting officer will notify the intervening war contractor whether the Government is willing to dispose of any items to him which he expressed a desire to acquire under his option. [JTR 863.6]

§ 848.863–7 Redistribution within the War Department. Idle plant equipment under a War Department facilities contract will be redistributed by the service concerned for supply, war production, War Department industrial reserve or other authorized purposes in accordance with Part 826 of Subchapter B. [JTR 863.7]

§ 848.864 Disposition of plant equipment. [JTR 864]

§848.864–1 Sales pursuant to options. (a) Many facilities contracts give the war contractor an option to purchase plant equipment and other facilities furnished thereunder. Such options may be exercised in conformity with the terms therof except as provided in paragraph (d) below. If those terms do not provide a specific price or a formula by which a specific price may be determined, sales may be made in accordance with the pricing policies set forth in § 848.864–2 (b).

(b) When the facilities contract provides that the option may be exercised only at the conclusion of a stand-by or storage period, the war contractor's right to exercise such option will be accelerated whenever the Government waives its rights to stand-by or storage pursuant to § 848.861–3.

(c) When an intervening war contractor (1) has exercised such an option with respect to any item of plant equipment and (2) has performed all acts required of him under the facilities contract which are necessary to the passage to him of title to such item, then, upon written notice from the contracting officer to the war contractor in possession, (i) the obligation of the Government with respect to the removal of such item from the plant of the war contractor in possession shall cease and (ii) the war contractor in possession shall look to such intervening war contractor for the removal of such item.

(d) Where, in order to permit a war contractor in possession to purchase plant equipment located in his plant, an intervening war contractor waives his option rights with respect to such plant equipment, such waiver shall not affect the right of the intervening war contractor, under that option or otherwise to purchase other plant equipment covered by the same option. If an intervening war contractor refuses to waive his option rights with respect to any plant equipment which a war contractor in possession desires to purchase under § 848.864–2, or otherwise prevents such purchase, the contracting officer shall not sell such plant equipment to the intervening war contractor except strictly in accordance with the terms of the option rights of such intervening war contractor.

(e) An application by any war contractor for the removal of any item of plant equipment shall include a waiver of any rights of such war contractor to exercise any option to purchase such item of plant equipment. [JTR 864.1]

§ 848.864–2 Sales to war contractors in possession not pursuant to options—(a) Sales authorized. Subject to any contractural rights of intervening war contractors which have not been waived, any item of plant equipment may be sold under authority of Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 6 and this § 848.864–2 to a war contractor in possession of such plant equipment whether or not it is idle; Provided, That:

(1) The following items of plant equipment may not be sold:

(i) Plant equipment which, to the knowledge of the contracting officer, is required by the Government for war production or in the interests of national defense;

(ii) Plant equipment of the types listed on Exhibit A of Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 6, unless the war contractor in possession employs less than 500 wage earners;

(iii) Plant equipment in the possession of the Aluminum Company of America or any of its subsidiaries, unless written approval of the sale has been obtained from the Surplus Property Board through the Director, Readjustment Division, ASF;

(2) Where the plant equipment is idle, the contracting officer has complied with the requirements of § 848.863–7;

(3) Care should be taken to avoid sales of individual items of plant equipment which are integral parts of a balanced production-line installation, when such sales would substantially lessen the utility or ultimate sales value of the installation.

(4) The price at which the plant equipment is to be sold has been established in accordance with the pricing policy set out in paragraph (b);

(5) The sale has been approved by a disposal board if required by paragraph (d);

(6) The contract of sale is not executed after (i) the plant equipment has been reported to a disposal agency as surplus in accordance with § 848.864–6 or (ii) the War Department has taken possession of the plant equipment (for example, by executing an agreement for its storage as contemplated in § 848.865–4, or by allowing the contractor to store it for the account and risk of the Government as contemplated in § 848.865–3 or by executing a receipt therefor as contemplated in § 848.865–8);

(7) If the cost to the Government of the plant equipment to be sold is $1,000,000 or more, the contract of sale will not be executed until receipt by the contracting officer of a favorable reply from the Attorney General to the report required by paragraph (c);

(8) The contract of sale complies with paragraph (e); and

(9) The sale is in accordance with all applicable regulations of the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration:

(b) Pricing policies. All sales of plant equipment to war contractors in possession shall be made in accordance with the following pricing policies:

(1) All sales of used standard general-purpose machine tools as defined in Surplus War Property Administration Regulation No. 3 (see Part 8303 of Title 32) and of used standard machines listed in § 8306.5 (a) of Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 6 (Title 32) shall be made at prices in accordance with said Regulation No. 3 and Surplus Property Board Special Order No. 2 (see Exhibit D of said Regulation No. 6).

(2) All sales of plant equipment for which fixed prices are not established by applicable pricing regulations shall be sold at the fair value thereof. Plant equipment which is readily severable shall in no event be sold at prices which are less than the net proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained by the Government if the property were offered for sale to the public generally. In order to prevent windfalls to the war contractor or the owner of the plant in respect of plant equipment not readily severable, primary consideration shall be given to the value of the plant equipment to such war contractor or owner for the purpose for which it is to be used. In this connection consideration shall be given to the cost of purchasing and installing plant equipment of equal value to such war contractor or owner for such purpose.

(3) In determining fair value consideration shall be given, where appropriate, to such factors as original cost, replacement and reproduction cost (new), observed depreciation and obsolescence, estimated depreciation resulting from application of the depreciation rates which the Bureau of Internal Revenue would normally apply for income tax purposes, current market value of similar items, age and extent of prior use, location, quantity and condition of the items, and any other pertinent factors. In the case of plant equipment which is not readily severable, consideration should, however, also be given to the estimated proceeds which would be realized and the estimated expenses which the Government would be required to bear if the plant equipment were to be dismantled, removed and offered for sale to the public generally.

(4) In estimating reproduction or replacement cost (new), it shall be assumed that adequate trained supervision, labor and suitable materials are available. Allowances for overtime and for extensive change orders during construction should be excluded. The contracting officer may employ appraisers to the extent deemed necessary or desirable.

(5) In the case of the sale of any plant equipment which is not governed by a fixed price schedule the contracting officer may request the advice and assistance of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the establishment of the price required by subparagraph (2). The request may be addressed to the regional office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the region in which the property is located.

(c) Submission of data to the Attorney General. In any case where it is proposed to dispose of items of plant equipment which cost the Government $1,000,000 or more, the contracting officer will immediately prepare and forward to the Director, Readjustment Division, ASF, a report of such proposal for transmission to the Attorney General as contemplated by section 20 of the Surplus Property Act of 1944. This report will contain the following information:

(1) Name of the contractor in possession.

(2) A copy of the facilities contract under which the plant equipment to be sold is held and all supplemental agreements thereto. (Schedules attached to the facilities contract may be omitted).

(3) General description of all plant equipment held by the purchaser under the particular facilities contract.

(4) Description of the plant equipment proposed to be sold and the cost thereof to the Government.

(5) Statement as to whether any item of plant equipment proposed to be sold is included within paragraph (a) (1) (2) of this section.

(6) Statement as to the location of each item of plant equipment to be sold and whether the land on which it is located is owned by the purchaser or is leased by the purchaser from a party other than the Government. If the land is leased to the purchaser summarize briefly the provisions relating to duration and termination of the lease.

(7) Statement as to whether the plant equipment to be sold is idle and (i) if idle, whether it is currently being held in standby or (ii) if not idle, whether a notice of complete termination of war contracts being performed with the plant equipment has been served or whether complete cessation of work under such contracts is otherwise imminent.

(8) The amount of the offer or proposed sale price and all other terms and conditions of the proposed sale, to the extent available at the time of submission.

(9) A statement that the purchaser has represented that he plans to use the items purchased in his production.

(10) A brief statement by the purchaser as to what in general he intends to produce with the plant equipment proposed to be sold.

(d) Review by disposal board. (1) All sales of plant equipment will be subject to review and approval by disposal boards established as described in § 844.449–1 except as follows:

(i) Sales of plant equipment as specific prices fixed by (b) (1).

(ii) Sales where the cost, estimated if necessary, of the plant equipment sold is not in excess of $25,000.

(2) If review and approval are required under paragraph (1), the chief of a service may require an additional prior review and approval by a disposal board, established in his office under § 821.106 of this chapter, or, in the case of the Army Air Forces, in the headquarters office of a command, where the cost (estimated if necessary) of the material to be disposed of by the sale exceeds $500,000 and it is proposed to sell such material at more than 25 percent below such cost.

(e) Provisions in contracts of sale. Every contract of sale made pursuant to this section will contain (1) a recitation that it is made under the authority of section 14 (a) of the Surplus Property Act and regulations issued thereunder, (2) a waiver by the purchaser of any purchase options, rights of refusal or similar privileges with reference to other plant equipment which the contractor may have under the same facilities contract, and (3) an article substantially in the following form:

Representation as to use in production. The Purchaser represents that he intends that all property being acquired under this contract shall be used in his production and that he is not acquiring any of such property for the purpose of reselling it, directly or indirectly, at a profit.

(f) Property covered by Emergency Plant Facilities Contracts. (1) Where property in the possession of a war contractor is covered by an Emergency Plant Facility Contract under which:

(i) The expense of construction or equipment is initially borne by the contractor;

(ii) The Government reimburses him for the expense by monthly payments over a specified period;

(iii) Title does not pass to the Government until full reimbursement has been made; and

(iv) Reimbursement may be accelerated at the option of the Government;

such property shall be deemed to be plant equipment for the purposes of this section except in cases where the Government owns or where on completion of the payments the Government will own, or have a leasehold interest in, land on which buildings or other facilities have been constructed or installed pursuant to the contract.

(2) The war contractor in possession of property deemed to be plant equipment pursuant to subparagraph (1) above may acquire such plant equipment free and clear of the Government's right under the contract to obtain title: Provided, That (i) all the requirements of paragraphs (a) through (e) have been complied with and (ii) the written approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, ASF, shall have first been obtained. Requests for such approval will be submitted through channels and will contain a full statement of all pertinent information. [JTR 864.2]

§ 848.864–3 Determinations and dispositions of unserviceable plant equipment and small lots. The contracting officer will make prompt determinations and dispositions of unserviceable plant equipment and will dispose of small lots of plant equipment in accordance with the provisions of Subpart D of Part 844. [JTR 864.3]

§ 848.864–4 Discard or abandonment of worthless items. (a) The contracting officer may discard or abandon items of plant equipment when he determines that they are worthless; provided, however, That if the cost, estimated if necessary, of the items to be discarded or abandoned exceeds $1,000, the written approval of a disposal board established as described in § 844.449–1 is first obtained upon a certification in accordance with paragraph (a) hereof.

(b) Plant equipment which is not readily severable from the war contractor's plant and which has no substantial value to the war contractor, may be considered worthless if the estimated cost of dismantling, removal and sale of such plant equipment (including the cost of repairing any damage done to the war contractor's plant to the extent that the Government may be liable therefor) exceeds the estimated net return to the Government upon sale of such plant equipment when dismantled and removed.

(c) If the cost of the items to be discarded or abandoned as worthless exceeds $1,000, the contracting officer will certify to a disposal board (1) that reasonable efforts have been made to dispose of the items without success by offering them to at least three persons dealing in such items, or that such offer would be useless; (2) that in his opinion the items are worthless, or that the costs of sale and any other expenses which the Government is required to bear would exceed the estimated proceeds of such sale; and (3) that in his opinion the items should be discarded or abandoned. Where plant equipment is not readily severable and is to be discarded or abandoned as worthless it will not be necessary to offer such plant equipment to dealers in accordance with clause (1). [JTR 864.4]

§ 848.864–5 Procedures as to certain scrambled facilities. (a) As used in this section the term "structure" is defined to mean plant equipment which:

(1) Is held under a War Department facilities contract;

(2) Is not readily severable;

(3) Is (i) a separate building or (ii) a complete structural addition to a building in which the Government otherwise has no interest, such as a wing, and in which a war contractor carries on part or all of his war production:

(b) Any structure which cost the Government $50,000 or less will be disposed of by the contracting officer. A contracting officer of a service other than the Corps of Engineers will obtain the advice and assistance of the Division Engineers having jurisdiction over the area in which the structure is located in any case where it is desirable to ascertain the value of the structure or the cost of its severance and removal.

(c) Where the contracting officer of a service other than the Corps of Engineers considers it necessary or desirable for the Government to take any action under this Part with respect to a structure having a cost to the Government in excess of $50,000 or with respect to other plant equipment located within such a structure, except redistribution of plant equipment for the purpose of supply, war production, War Department industrial reserve or modernization of arsenals, he shall submit the matter through channels to the Director, Readjustment Division, for instructions as to the extent to which the Chief of Engineers is to participate in such action. He shall also send a copy of his submission to the Chief of Engineers through the Division Engineer having jurisdiction over the area in which the structure is located.

(d) Notwithstanding paragraph (c) any application for disposition of a structure or plant equipment located therein will be filed with the contracting officer as contemplated by § 848.863. [JTR 864.5]

§ 848.864–6 Other sales and transfers. (a) A sale of plant equipment may be made to any person if the chief of the service determines that such sale will facilitate the prosecution of the war or will be for the purpose of war production. The pricing policies set forth in § 848.864–2 will be applicable to such sales.

(b) Transfers of plant equipment may be made to another service or bureau or to another Government agency. Such transfers shall be made at the fair value as fixed by the chief of the service, unless transfer without reimbursement or transfer of funds is otherwise authorized by law. (See Part 823 of this chapter). In this connection Surplus Property Board Special Order No. 12, June 16, 1945, authorizes owning agencies to transfer to Reconstruction Finance Corporation (as successor to Defense Plant Corporation) without reimbursement special attachments which are attached to machines or machine tools owned by it in any case when the contracting officer determines that such special attachments have no commercial value separate from the machines to which they are attached, or that the cost of the care and handling and disposition of such special attachments, separate from the machines to which they are attached, would exceed the estimated proceeds of disposition.

(c) Items of idle plant equipment, which have not been disposed of under the preceding provisions of §§ 848.864 to 848.864–6, inclusive, or which are not to be disposed of under Subpart D of Part 844 as unserviceable or as small lots, shall be deemed to be surplus and shall be promptly reported to the appropriate disposal agency in accordance with Part 827 of this chapter. [JTR 864.6]

§ 848.865 Removal and storage. [JTR 865]

§ 848.865–1 Dismantling. (a) Where dismantling of plant equipment is required in connection with its removal or storage, the work incident to such dismantling should be done by the war contractor in possession unless otherwise directed by the contracting officer. (See § 848.861–2 as to who shall bear the expense of dismantling.)

(b) When plant equipment is dismantled the war contractor will use reasonable care to prevent injury or damage to the plant equipment in effecting such dismantling and, to the extent that inspection of the plant equipment by the Government is required by § 848.866, he will allow the contracting officer a reasonable opportunity to inspect the plant equipment before it is dismantled.

(c) Where the contractor is unable to dismantle the plant equipment, the contracting officer shall make appropriate arrangements therefor. Contracting officers of services other than the Corps of Engineers may obtain the advice and assistance of the appropriate Division Engineer in any case involving the severance or removal of plant equipment which is not readily severable. [JTR 865.1]

§ 848.865–2 War contractor's right to remove and store at his own expense. A war contractor may remove any idle plant equipment from his plant and store it elsewhere at his own risk and expense at any time before the expiration of the plant clearance period provided that:

(a) Any provisions to the contrary in the facilities contract have been waived; and

(b) The plant equipment is not required to be held in place for war production or in the interests of national defense; and

(c) If the plant equipment is not readily severable its severance has been authorized by the contracting officer under § 848.861–1 (d).

In order to ascertain whether the plant equipment is required by the Government for such purposes, and except as the facilities contract may otherwise provide, the war contractor will give the contracting officer twenty (20) days' notice in writing of his intention to remove and if upon the expiration of such period the contracting officer has not advised him that the plant equipment is required to be held in standby or furnished him with shipping instructions, the plant equipment may be removed by him from his plant as provided in such notice. [JTR 865.2]

§ 848.865–3 War contractor's right to store for account and risk of Government. The war contractor may store idle plant equipment for the account and at the risk and expense of the Government in his own plant or elsewhere if (a) prior to the end of the plant clearance period the Government does not enter into a storage agreement with him or remove the idle plant equipment which the Government is obligated under the principles stated in § 848.861–1 to remove, and (b) he has fulfilled all unwaived contractual obligations as to dismantling and preparation for extended storage or shipment and as to standby and storage. In such case he shall exercise reasonable care in its transportation and preservation. The war contractor must deliver to the contracting officer: (1) twenty (20) days' notice in writing in advance of the date fixed for removal; and (2) a certified statement that the removal schedule in the application as originally submitted, or as modified in such statement, represents a concurrent physical inventory of the items to be removed. Notice of removal may be delivered before or after the expiration of the plant clearance period, but submission of the notice will not shorten such period. [JTR 865.3]

§ 848.865–4 Storage by the Government. (a) Where under the principles stated in § 848.861–1 the Government is obligated to remove idle plant equipment from a war contractor's plant, such plant equipment, when it is surplus, will, if possible, be removed directly to installations operated by disposal agencies. Where there is a shortage in transportation or storage space, and the war contractor is willing, the contracting officer may store such plant equipment with the war contractor.

(b) Where storage arrangements cannot be made under paragraph (a), the contracting officer will arrange to store the plant equipment in installations operated by the services or with other contractors or commercial warehouses.

(c) All plant equipment, except scrap and salvage items stored with the war contractor, must be packed, crated, and marked as prescribed in § 848.865–7 prior to its being placed in storage. When plant equipment is stored with the war contractor, it may be left unpacked and uncrated, provided that it is properly tagged or marked to identify it with the facilities contract under which it is currently being furnished and provided that it is properly preserved. [JTR 865.4]

§ 848.865–5 Storage with contractor under standard storage agreement. Agreements with war contractors for the storage of idle plant equipment should be made substantially in accordance with the form of standard storage agreement set forth in § 849.974–3. [JTR 865.5]

§ 848.865–6 Compensation for storage. When storage of the plant equipment is desired by the Government pursuant to § 848.865–5 the war contractor will be compensated for such storage only to the extent that it exceeds the period, if any, during which the war contractor is then obligated to store such plant equipment without compensation. [JTR 865.6]

§ 848.865–7 Preparation for shipment or storage. (a) Preparation for shipment or storage except in the case of scrap and salvage, ordinarily includes preserving, packing, boxing, crating, tagging and marking. Contracting officers will inform war contractors of the manner in which plant equipment is to be prepared for shipment or storage. They may prescribe standard specifications, usual commercial practice or any other standards dictated by the Government's requirements in the particular case. The SWPA Manual "Guide for the Storage of Plant Equipment and Termination Material" will be used as a guide for determining the manner in which plant equipment is to be prepared for shipment or storage. If the facilities contract contains no provisions covering the manner of preparation for shipment or storage or if the manner prescribed by the provisions does not meet the then requirements of the Government, the contracting officer will arrange with the war contractor to modify the contract provisions with regard to preparation for shipment or storage in accordance with the Government's then requirements.

(b) Where the facilities contract provides exacting standards or specifications covering preparation for shipment or storage and it appears in the interest of the Government that they be relaxed, the contracting officer may waive in whole or in part the obligation of the contractor to prepare for shipment in accordance with such provisions: Provided, however, That where the war contractor has been compensated for such performance, an adjustment by him will be made in favor of the Government. [JTR 865.7]

§ 848.865–8 Acknowledgment of receipt for plant equipment removed. When plant equipment is removed from a war contractor's plant by the Government, the contracting officer will furnish the war contractor with a receipt for the plant equipment removed which will include a statement of any respects in which the plant equipment is defective. The receipt will be executed substantially in accordance with the form provided in § 849.974–2. Whenever feasible such receipt will be executed on copies of the removal schedules of the application to be retained by the war contractor. Whenever the plant equipment is removed from the war contractor's plant in lots, copies of the covering shipping documents may be used for the purpose of the receipt or reference may be made in the receipt to item identification numbers on the removal schedules. As the form of receipt provided in § 849.974–2 may operate as a release of the war contractor by the Government with respect to items of plant equipment covered thereby, the receipt will not be delivered until the procedures prescribed in § 848.866 have been carried out to the satisfaction of the contracting officer. [JTR 865.8]

§ 848.866 Verification of plant equipment for storage or removal by the Government. (a) The contracting officer will be responsible for verification of the quantities and condition of items listed on the war contractor's application of items listed on the war contractor's application for disposition of plant equipment as to which the contractor has demanded removal. This verification is to be made in order to ascertain whether the items listed on the war contractor's application for disposition are items furnished under the facilities contract and whether the Government is receiving the quantities listed in the condition required by the facilities contract. The verification will be made prior to the time of dismantling, wherever practicable, and in any event prior to execution of the receipt provided for in § 848.865–8 or of a storage agreement made pursuant to § 848.865–5. Where practicable, verification will be made of compliance with requirements as to preparation for shipment or storage and of the accuracy of the tagging and marking of the plant equipment when prepared for shipment or storage, including verification of the number of packages listed on shipping documents at the time of shipment. The shipping documents should be checked against the removal schedule to ascertain that credit is not allowed on the shipping documents for items not listed or removal schedules unless shipment of the items has been verified and the removal schedules corrected.

(b) Ordinarily one hundred per cent verification is not required. The extent of selective checks as to quantities and condition prior to dismantling, tagging and marking of items prepared for shipment or storage and as to quantities listed on shipping documents should depend upon the original cost of particular items, the number of items to be checked, the nature of the plant equipment, past experience with the war contractor in possession, previous inspection by Government representatives the reliability of the war contractor's inspection organization, the results of the checks performed, and any other relevant factors. The verification will include an inspection for condition as provided in paragraph (c) with respect to each item not certified by the contractor to be operating or capable of operating satisfactorily on the operation for which it was originally procured.

(c) Wherever items of plant equipment are inspected for condition, the inspection will include but will not be confined or limited to the following types of examination: (1) visual examination for evidence of damage to major elements; (2) visual examination of exposed wearing surfaces for evidence of abuse or lack of reasonable care; (3) reasonable check as to the functioning of operating controls (under power, if not disconnected). Ordinarily the inspection for condition will not require (i) dismantling for inspection, (ii) power, performance or accuracy tests, or (iii) precision measurements. In every case where the contracting officer or the representative making an inspection for condition is of the belief that an item of plant equipment may not be in the condition required by the contract, he will arrange with the contractor for a joint inspection of such item.

(d) Personnel making selective checks of plant equipment as herein provided will note the items selected and the results of their checks as to quantities and condition on one copy of the removal schedules or on supplemental schedules to be attached thereto, referencing the item number on the removal schedules. In every case such copy, properly authenticated by Government representatives charged with supervision of the selective checks, will be furnished to the contracting officer who will retain such authenticated copy as part of the permanent file. [JTR 866]

§ 848.867 Property accounting requirements. [JTR 867]

§ 848.867–1 Written advice with regard to defective items. As provided in paragraph 103 of TM 14–910, War Department Industrial Property Accounting Manual for Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Supply Contracts, or paragraph 80 of TM 14–911, Accounting for Government Property Under Fixed Price Contracts, the contracting officer will advise the accountable property officer in writing as to the items of plant equipment listed on the removal schedule which are not in the condition required by the contract, and his findings as to the contractor's liability therefor under the applicable contract provisions. [JTR 967.1]

§ 848.867–2 Movement of items from the war contractor's plant. Movement of items of plant equipment on War Department order from the war contractor's plant will require the preparation of shipping documents, or other forms authorized for use in lieu thereof, as prescribed in paragraph 97, TM 14–910, or paragraph 77a, TM 14–911. Movement on disposal agency order will require the action prescribed in § 844.495–2. Shipping documents covering shipments of plant equipment hereunder will be marked "Plant Clearance Equipment". In addition, those documents covering shipments of such equipment from storage under a storage agreement with a war contractor, or from storage in a commercial warehouse, must bear the notation "Shipped from Storage," and must indicate the station of the contracting officer under the storage or warehouse agreement involved. Instances of losses of or damage to plant equipment in storage under storage agreements with war contractors or commercial warehousemen require action as provided in § 844.495–3 (a) of this subchapter. [JTR 867.2]

§ 848.867–3 Discrepancies incident to shipment. Discrepancies incident to shipment of plant equipment removed from a war contractor's plant will require action as prescribed in § 844.496 of this subchapter. [JTR 867.3]

§ 848.867–4 Sale of items of plant equipment. When items of plant equipment are sold, the contracting officer will furnish the accountable property officer with a list of the items sold, making reference to the sales document. Such list must make reference to the voucher on which deduction was made in case the proceeds are deducted from amounts due the war contractor. In the event direct payment is to be made by the war contractor and in cases of sales by the contracting officer to third parties, the procedures prescribed in section II, AR 35–6660 (AR 35–6665, when published) with respect to sales of property will be observed. [JTR 867.4]

§ 848.867–5 Plant equipment scrapped, abandoned or transferred to Defense Plant Corporation. (a) Where plant equipment is determined to be unserviceable in accordance with Subpart D of Part 844, lists of such items together with the written determination of the contracting officer will be furnished to the accountable property officer and the instructions set forth in §§ 848.867–4 or 844.495–5 (a), whichever is appropriate will be observed.

(b) Where items of plant equipment are discarded or abandoned pursuant to the provisions of § 844.864–4 or transferred to Reconstruction Finance Corporation as successor to Defense Plant Corporation pursuant to the provisions of § 848.864–6 (b), a list of such items together with the written determination of the contracting officer to discard, abandon or transfer the equipment will be furnished to the accountable property officers. Such lists and written determination will constitute a valid credit voucher to the property accounts for the items involved. Where under the provisions of § 848.864–4 the approval of a disposal board is required, an authenticated copy of such approval will be attached to the written determination of the contracting officer. [JTR 867.5]

§ 848.867–6 Storage under a storage agreement. A copy of each storage agreement, together with a list of the items to be stored and their quantities and condition, will be furnished by the contracting officer to the accountable property officer designated in the storage agreement. In the event such officer is different from the officer holding accountability prior to execution of the storage agreement, the contracting officer will also furnish a list of items under the storage agreement to such former officer in order that shipping documents may be accomplished to reflect the transfer of accountability. [JTR 867.6]

§ 848.867–7 Final accounting procedures. (a) In the event that removal of all of the plant equipment furnished under a facilities contract is demanded by a war contractor, the contracting officer may consider the inspection and verification as provided in § 848.866 as meeting the requirements of a physical inventory of the property as prescribed in paragraph 105, TM 14–910 or paragraph 84, TM 14–911.

(b) Upon removal, storage or other disposition of all of the items of plant equipment indicated by the war contractor as being in his possession or control, the contracting officer will request from the accountable property officer a report in duplicate of all items which his records indicate have not been accounted for under the contract. Compliance with such request may be considered as satisfying the requirements of paragraph 105 of TM 14–910 and paragraph 84 of TM 14–911, for a report of shortages at contract termination or completion.

(c) One copy of the report required in paragraph (b) will be furnished by the contracting officer to the war contractor who will be afforded an opportunity to furnish evidence that the items have been previously returned to the Government and allowed a reasonable length of time in which to make a search for the items to be accounted for. Copies of documents evidencing disposition, as provided herein, of any items accounted for by this means will be furnished to the accountable property officer. The contracting officer will then advise the accountable property officer in writing with respect to all items remaining to be accounted for after the action outlined above has been completed, and the provisions of paragraph 103, TM 14–910 or paragraph 80, TM 14–911, whichever is applicable, will be observed. [JTR 867.7]

§ 848.868 Settlement of liability for losses of and damage to plant equipment. (a) If a facilities contract is included in a supply, construction or other contract which has been terminated in whole or in part, or if a separate facilities contract has been terminated in whole or in part, the liability of the war contractor for loss of and damage to plant equipment furnished to or acquired by the war contractor under the facilities contract may be settled by negotiation in and as a part of any negotiated settlement of such terminated contract. (See § 841.121–19.) Where not settled by agreement, it may be settled in accordance with the provisions of the contract, using the procedures for a formula settlement under a fixed-price supply contract insofar as applicable (see Subpart E of Part 827).

(b) In any case where the procedure described in paragraph (a) is not or cannot be availed of, the amount and extent of the liability of the war contractor for shortages and defective condition of plant equipment furnished under the facilities contract will be disposed of by mutual agreement of the parties or by the decision of the contracting officer in accordance with the Disputes Article (see § 803.326) or other applicable provisions of the contract. Any determination of fact by the contracting officer will be subject to appeal by the war contractor under the Disputes Article or other applicable provisions of the contract. The contracting officer will arrange for the remission by the war contractor of the amount of the liability or for the deduction of such amount from any sums which may be due the war contractor under the contract or will advise the appropriate Government office to effect collection of the sum owed by the war contractor. [JTR 868]

§ 848.869 Authority to contract. Wherever in this subpart the Government is authorized or required to bear expenses incurred or to be incurred or to make arrangements for dismantling, preservation and preparation for storage or shipment, removal, storage, repair of damage or any other work to be done with respect to any plant equipment in connection with the clearance of a war contractor's plant, the chief of the service is authorized to negotiate and enter into contracts therefor. In addition the chief of the service is authorized to amend or modify existing contracts whenever such action is rendered necessary or desirable by action taken under and in accordance with the provisions of this Part. Each such contract, or amendment or modification of an existing contract, will recite that it is executed pursuant to section 12 (g) of the act. The necessary funds will be procured from the service administering the prime facilities contract under which the plant equipment concerned is held. [JTR 869]

SUBPART H—REPORTS ON PROPERTY DISPOSITION

§ 848.880 Scope. This subpart covers the preparation and submission of reports concerning the disposition of property and related matters. [JTR 880]

§ 848.883 Report of sales of plant equipment. [JTR 883]

§ 848.883–1 General description. Government-owned plant equipment to be reported on sales reports shall include all Government-owned plant equipment in privately owned plants and Government-owned plants including emergency plant facilities, excluding only (a) plant equipment in permanent industrial installations of the Army and Navy such as arsenals, proving grounds, shore establishments, and similar permanent installations, (b) plant equipment in Army and Navy installations used or useful for activities of the Army and Navy other than the production of matériel, munitions, and supplies, (c) plant equipment declared surplus, (d) plant equipment outside the continental limits of the United States, and (e) plant equipment classified as scrap or salvage. Sales of items of Government-owned plant equipment, costing $350 or more, falling in the classes in Schedule B to Surplus Property Board Regulation No. 6, shall be reported separately for each such class. In addition, a line entry shall be made for each sale of other Government-owned plant equipment, including Schedule B items costing less than $350. These sales will be identified as "other sales" and will not be classified by commodity classification. For this class of sale, therefore, fill in only Columns (a), (b), (c), (d), (h) and (i) on the Forms SPB–9 described in § 848.833–2. [JTR 833.1]

§ 848.883–2 Form. In the War Department the chief of each service shall submit on or before the 12th day of August 1945, and of each succeeding month, to the Readjustment Division, ASF, the original and three copies of a Form SPB–9 for each sale to a single purchaser of plant equipment accomplished during the preceding month, together with a transmittal sheet showing the number of original SPB–9 reports attached, and the total cost and sales price of property listed thereon. Reports Control Symbol AA–M2–34 has been assigned to this report. This form is available at A. G. Depots. [JTR 883.2]

§ 848.883–3 Block and column entries. The following information will be entered in the respective columns of Form SPB–9:

Block 2. State the name and address of the reporting agency.

Block 3 Indicate the month covered by the report.

Block 4 Indicate the date on which the SPB–9 form was transmitted to the office of the chief of service.

Block 5 Enter the complete name and address of purchaser. Reports of sales in the month to a single purchaser should be assembled consecutively.

Block 6 The name of the reporting officer should be typed in this block in addition to his signature. If continuation sheets are used, it is necessary to sign only the top sheet.

Column (a) Item Number. Assign each entry a consecutive item number. Where consecutive items on a single page repeat information identical with the stub information of a preceding item, repetition of such stub information is not necessary.

Column (b) Enter the number of the relative facilities contract. Write "none" if there is no relative facilities contract number. The facilities contract number need be given only in the case of Class 1 and Class 2 sales described in the instructions for Column (d) below.

Column (c) Indicate "yes" if a waiver of options was obtained. Indicate "no" if a waiver of options was not obtained. If a facilities contract does not contain an option provision, state "no option." This information is necessary only in the case of Class 1 sales described in the instructions for Column (d) below.

Column (d) Enter the code number for the class of purchaser or sales as follows: (The prime or sub-contractor referred to in class of sales 1 and 2 is the holder of the prime or sub-facilities contract).

Columns (e) and (f) Description and Standard Commodity Classification. Enter a short description, such as one key word or an abbreviation of one or more words, and the code number of the commodity classification as shown in Exhibit B to Surplus Property Board Regulation 6 where the item sold is within these classifications. Sales of other classes of plant equipment are to be reported as "other sales." In these cases do not enter a Standard Commodity Classification code number, but fill in Columns (a), (b), (c), (d), (h), and (i).

Column (g) Enter the number of units sold.

Column (h) Enter the total cost of the number of units sold. The cost of units sold should be the procurement cost in dollars (estimate if not known) for the units entered in Column (g). For machine tools and other metal working machinery and production equipment, costs should be reported f. o. b. manufacturer or vendor to owning agency.

Column (i) Enter the sales price for the units reported on each line. It will be necessary in some cases to estimate the sales price since there may be lump or bulk sales.

§ 848.891–3 How amounts to be shown. In all reports, amounts will be shown to the nearest whole dollar. [JTR 891.3]

§ 848.892 Report on status of terminated fixed-price contracts. [JTR 892]

§ 848.892–1 General description. This report will list all fixed price prime contracts (except facilities contracts and agreements reached by the use of change orders) terminated for the convenience or at the option of the Government, the settlement of which was effected during the month or was pending at the end of the month, regardless of the amount of the contract, where formal notice of its termination has been given. It will also list all claims under terminated fixed price subcontracts (whether under fixed price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts) the settlement of which has been assumed by the Government, and will summarize terminations of a company-wide settlement contractor arising from termination of subcontracts held by him with another war contractor in accordance with instructions under §848.892–6. [JTR 892.1]

§ 848.892–2 Form. (a) In the War Department, this report will be submitted on W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 505, Control Approval Symbol PDE–10. This form is available at AG Depots.

(b) In the Navy Department, this report will be submitted on NAVEXOS Form Nos. 753, 754 and 755. The forms are available in the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C. Part I of this report will be submitted on Form NAVEXOS 755; Part II on Form NAVEXOS 753; and Part III on Form NAVEXOS 754 (see § 848.892–3). [JTR 892.2]

§ 848.892–3 Arrangement. (a) The reports will be prepared to show separately the results in each War Department procurement office or Navy Department termination unit. Each assigned contractor under the company-wide settlement program will be considered as a separate procurement office or termination unit.

(b) The reports will be prepared in the various parts and sections described below. The terminations listed within each section will be arranged in chronological order based on the effective date of termination. Part One will not be required by the War Department.

PART ONE

Section I. Terminations initiated during the month.

Section II. All other terminations, including transfers-in (terminations received for settlement from another terminating office) reported for the first time, regardless of the effective date of termination.

PART TWO

Section I. Terminations settled during the month. All dates and amounts for terminations in this group must agree with the corresponding data on the final settlement proposal form and the supplemental agreement. In the event that a settlement with a prime contractor excludes certain subcontract claims, pursuant to § 846.613–1 of this subchapter, which are not assumed by the Government for direct settlement, the names of the excluded subcontractors and the reason for their exclusion will be noted.

Section II. Terminations rescinded during the month.

Section III. Terminations transferred-out (terminations transferred from the terminating office to another office for settlement) during the month. See § 848.892–6 (b) (2) for handling of "company-wide settlement" transfers. In the War Department, the chief of the service is responsible for "zero balancing" all intra-service transfers.

PART THREE

Section I. Terminations in process of settlement. For the Navy Department, this will include cases in Section II of Part I but not in Section I thereof.

Section II. Suspense Terminations, which are those as to which the terminated contract is—

(a) in litigation.

(b) before a Board of Appeals at a higher level than the terminating service or bureau,

(c) a War Supplies, Ltd. termination pending three months or more after the effective date of termination; or

(d) unsettled for reasons beyond the control of the service or bureau, including those cases under appeal in the Court of Claims, a U. S. District Court, or a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

[JTR 892.3]

§ 848.892–4 Columnar entries. (a) The following information will be entered in the respective columns of the report form:

Column 1—Number. The number of the terminated contract.

Column 2—Name of Contractor.

Column 3—Item. Sufficient information will be given to permit identification of the item or items, the production of which has been terminated.

Column 4—Partial or Complete. Partial terminations should be indicated by "P" and complete terminations by "C". A partial termination is one in which only a part of the uncompleted portion of the contract is terminated and the balance is to be continued after the effective date of termination. A complete termination is one in which the entire uncompleted balance of a contract is terminated.

Column 5—Date of Termination Notice. The date on which the contractor was notified of the proposed termination by the responsible office or bureau.

Column 6—Effective Date of Termination. The date specified in the notice of termination as the effective date. In the event that no date is specified in the notice, the best estimate will be used until final information is obtained.

Column 7—Amount of Contract. The total amount of the contract, including supplements. If a contract is partially terminated and later terminated with respect to the continued portion, each such termination will normally be treated as a separate transaction (see § 848.892–6 (a)), but the value is to be listed in this column in parentheses.

Column 8—Total Contract Price of Items Cancelled. The best estimate is to be used until final figures can be ascertained. Final figures must agree with the amount shown as "Not to be completed" on the settlement proposal form.

Column 9—Contractor's Claim—Date of Filing. The date on which the prime contractor's claim for his own charges was received by the contracting agency. In the case of the Navy, this is the date on which the claim is received by the cognizant Navy material inspector. Settlement proposals, which are improper as to form and which will therefore be returned to the contractor for revision or correction without submission to the contracting officer, should not be reported. In the event of interim proposals, show the original date prefixed by "I". The date of the most recent interim proposal or of the final proposal will be shown below this original date prefixed by "I" or "F", whichever is applicable. Addition or adjustment of interest in the final settlement proposal does not constitute a change in date of filing.

Column 10—Contractor's Claim—Amount Exclusive of Subcontractors. The dollar amount of the prime contractor's own charges. This amount will be Line 13 plus Line 16 of Settlement Proposal Form 1, Line 2 plus Line 3 of Settlement Proposal Form 1a, and Line 13 plus Line 15 of Settlement Proposal Form 1b. If interest is added in final settlement in excess of that shown on the settlement proposal, the corresponding addition should be made to the amount of the proposal. The difference between the amount of final claim and the amount entered in Column 17 for completed cases will represent the net change resulting from negotiation. Where the contractor submits interim proposals, the latest amount proposed to date will be shown opposite the most recent proposal date, and previous proposal figures will be omitted.

Column 11—Subcontractors' Claims—Submitted—Number. The number of first tier subcontractors' claims submitted by the prime contractor to the office administering the termination, or settled by the prime contractor under delegation of authority. This will not include "no cost" settlement agreements made by prime contractors with their subcontractors.

Column 12—Subcontractors' Claims—Submitted—Amount. The total dollar amount of all first tier subcontractors' claims submitted by the prime contractor to the office administering the termination. The amount of subcontractors' claims must be as shown on Line 14 of Settlement Proposal Form 1 or 1b.

Column 13—Subcontractors' Claims—Approved—Number. The number of first tier subcontractors' claims which have been approved by the contracting officer or his representative, or by prime contractors where authority has been granted to settle without Government approval.

Column 14—Partial Payments—For Benefit of Prime Contractor. The total amount of partial payments made to the prime contractor solely for his use and benefit.

Column 15—Partial Payments—For Benefits of Subcontractors. The total amount of partial payments made for the use and benefit of subcontractors, whether such amounts are paid to the prime contractor for the account of subcontractors or are paid direct to subcontractors.

Column 16—Details of Final Settlement—Date. The date on which the supplemental agreement incorporating the final settlement is received by the contracting officer, signed by both the contractor and the contracting officer. Where approval by the chief of the service or bureau is required, the transaction must be considered as pending until this approval is received.

Column 17—Details of Final Settlement—Gross Amount Excluding Subcontractors. The gross amount of the settlement agreement including expenses subsequent to termination but excluding that portion of the contractor's settlement represented by settlements with subcontractors. Differences between Columns 10 and 17 represent negotiated reductions between the contractor's final claim (see Column 10 above) and the final settlement.

Column 18—Details of Final Settlement—Amount Subcontractors. The amount payable to subcontractors by the prime contractor, and included in the final settlement. Differences between Columns 12 and 18 represent negotiated reduction made by the contracting officer in the subcontractors' settlements previously approved by the prime contractor and submitted to the contracting officer for approval.

Column 19—Details of Final Settlement—Disposal Credits. Enter the amount credited to the Government by the prime contractor for receipts from sales or retention of termination inventory included in his gross settlement proposal.

Column 20—Details of Final Settlement—Net Amount of Settlement. The net settlement of the proposal. This is Column 17 plus 18 minus 19.

Column 21—Details of Final Settlement—Amount Allowed for Property Taken over by the Government. The amount included in the net settlement, shown in Column 20, required to reimburse the contractor for the cost of his inventory taken over by the Government. When an exact cost cannot be assigned to this inventory, as in some settlements on a total cost basis, the best possible estimate will be given. Do not include the value of, or loss on, items scrapped, retained, abandoned, or disposed of by contractor.

(b) For War Department terminations in process of settlement, the space occupied by Columns 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21 will be used to explain briefly the status of plant clearance and settlement action. As to plant clearance, each termination must show one of the following remarks:

(1) No inventory involved
(2) Awaiting inventory list
(3) Inventory clearance in process
(4) Inventory cleared

As to settlement action, each termination must show one of the following remarks:

(1) Awaiting information from contractor as to cost or "no cost" settlement
(2) Awaiting claim
(3) Awaiting office review or audit
(4) Negotiating (use only where accounting review is completed)
(5) Awaiting supplemental agreement

(c) For Navy Department terminations in process of settlement, the remarks column of NAVEXOS 754 shall show such remarks as are requested by the Industrial Readjustment Branch, OP&M, from time to time.

(d) Other pertinent remarks will be added when they are of assistance in explaining the status of the termination settlement. In the case of suspense terminations (Part Three, Section II of the Report) a brief statement should be added explaining why the termination cannot be settled by the contracting officer. Where this information appears in the findings and appeals report (§ 848.896) a cross reference to such report will be sufficient.

(e) In terminations involving subcontractors, it is desirable to show the total number of first tier subcontractors from whom claims are expected so as to provide a comparison between probable subcontractors' claims and those submitted to date as shown in Column 11. [JTR 892.4]

§ 848.892–5 Summary. (a) A summary will be prepared for each report in both numbers and dollars.

(b) In the War Department, this report will be submitted on WD, AGO Form No. R 5056, Control Approval Symbol RCC–22.

(c) In the Navy Department, this report will be submitted on NAVEXOS Form 2091.

(d) Line entries. The following information will be entered in the respective lines of the form:

Line 1—In process of settlement—Amount per last report. This will agree with Line 11 of the previous month's report.

Line 2—In process of settlement—Suspense per last report. This will agree with Line 14 of previous month's report.

Line 3—Adjustments in last report—(Dollars only). Net adjustments during the current month in the contract price of items cancelled in Lines 1 and 2 above. The service terminating a prime contract shall make no reduction in the reported amount of any prime contract due to the assumption by another designated officer of the settlement responsibility in company-wide settlements of a subcontract allocable to such a prime contract.

Line 4—Added this month. Terminations listed on this month's report for the first time regardless of the effective date of termination. This will exclude transfers-in.

Line 5—Transferred-in (Other procurement offices of same service).

Line 6—Transferred-in (Company-wide settlement). Those transfers-in from other services will be entered.

Line 7—Total—Lines 1 through 6.

Line 8—Settled this month.

Line 9—Rescinded this month.

Line 10—Transferred-out (Other procurement offices of same service).

Line 11—Transferred-out (Company-wide settlement).

Line 12—Total—Lines 8 through 11

Line 13—In process of settlement—Amount this report. This group will be subdivided as below.

Line 13a—Less than four months. This group includes terminations with effective dates which have not yet been reached, those effective during the month of report and any of the preceding three months.

Line 13b—4 through 6 months. This group includes terminations with effective dates falling in the fourth, fifth and sixth month preceding the month of report

Line 13c—7 through 12 months. This group includes terminations with effective dates falling in the seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth month preceding the month of report.

Line 13d—Over 12 months. This group includes those terminations with effective dates falling in a month earlier than the twelfth month preceding the month of report

Line 13e—Total. Lines 13a through 13d

Line 14—In process of settlement—Suspense this report.

Line 15—Total in process. Line 13e plus Line 14. Also Line 7 minus Line 12.

§ 848.892–6 Special cases—(a) Successive partial terminations. (1) Where successive partial terminations are made under one prime contract, each such termination will be treated as a separate transaction, unless it is intended to settle all partial terminations in one settlement agreement.

(2) When a further termination is made against a contract which has already been partially terminated and it is intended to settle all partial terminations in one supplemental agreement, the previous terminations should be listed under the "Rescinded" section of the report. The total terminations to date under the contract will be picked up as a single termination under the date of the latest termination.

(b) Company-wide settlements. (1) The designated officer engaged in the company-wide settlement of an assigned contractor shall prepare a separate monthly contract termination status report with respect to the termination of such assigned contractor.

(2) As to prime contracts:

(i) The terminating agency will report the termination as a "termination in process of settlement" until such time as transfer to the designated officer has been effected, after which it will be reported as a "termination in process of settlement" by the designated officer.

(ii) At the time of transfer to the designated officer, the service or bureau terminating the contract will notify the designated officer of the contract price of items cancelled, the effective date of termination, and other pertinent data. The designated officer will acknowledge receipt and notify the service or bureau as to the month in which the termination will be picked up on the designated officer's Monthly Contract Termination Status Report. Upon receipt of this advice, such service or bureau will list the termination as transferred-out in the month indicated in the acknowledging letter.

(3) As to claims of a company-wide settlement contractor arising from termination of subcontracts held by him with another war contractor which are assumed by the Government for direct settlement

(i) Claims settled during the month will be reported on a single line immediately below the prime contract terminations reported as settled during the month. A notation will be made across Columns 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 as follows: "Subcontract Claims Awaiting Settlement Under Company-wide Settlement Program". The number of subcontract claims submitted will be entered in Column 11; the amount of these claims will be entered in Column 12; the number of subcontract claims approved will be entered in Column 13; the net settlement will be entered in Columns 18 and 20; and the amount allowed for property taken over by the Government in Column 21. All such subcontract claims will be entered on the report on a net basis after exclusion of disposal credits.

(ii) Claims awaiting settlement will be reported on a single line immediately below the prime contract terminations pending settlement at the end of the month. A notation will be made across Columns 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 as follows: "Subcontract Claims Awaiting Settlement Under Company-wide Settlement Program". The number of subcontract claims submitted will be entered in Column 11; the amount of these claims in Column 12; the number of claims approved but not yet settled in Column 13; and any partial payments thereon in Column 15.

(iii) A summary report will be submitted showing an analysis of the information included in (i) and (ii), above, in the manner prescribed by § 848.889.

(c) Terminations under the consolidated termination program. Settlement of contracts held by companies under the consolidated termination program will be reported by the terminating service or bureau.

(d) Subcontract settlements negotiated or reviews made by office other than terminating office (War Department only). Where settlement negotiation as to certain subcontract settlements are conducted by an office other than the terminating office within the same service, the office terminating the prime contract will retain reporting responsibility except in the case of company-wide settlements, and of subcontract claims assumed by the Government.

(e) Settlements excluding certain subcontractors. Where a prime contractor's claim has been completely settled except for one or more subcontract claims which are assumed by the Government for direct settlement (including those assumed under company-wide settlement or which are excluded from the settlement by agreement with the prime contractor pursuant to § 846.613–1) the prime contract and all such subcontracts as are settled with it will be reported as settled. The entire contract price of items cancelled under the prime contract will be reported as settled.

(f) Subcontract claims assumed by the Government. Each such obligation assumed by the Government, excluding those assumed under the company-wide settlement program, will be reported as a separate termination and treated as a termination of a prime contract made upon the effective date of the notice of termination from the higher tier contractor. Columns 7 and 8 of the fixed price form or Column 7 of the CPFF form will be marked "Sub Claims Assumed", and no amounts will be entered.

(g) Revisions in dates and amounts previously reported. Whenever dates or amounts shown are revised from those shown on the immediately preceding report, the revised figures will be preceded by "R" except as to the date of filing claim. All dates and amounts applicable to terminations settled must be in agreement with the corresponding data on the final settlement proposal form.

(h) Corrections of previously reported settlements. When corrections are made in terminations previously reported as settled (Part Two, Section I of the report), a separate sheet of the status report form headed "Corrections" will be submitted. For each correction to be made, the information as shown in all columns of the report as originally submitted will be shown with the corrected figures immediately below those originally submitted. [JTR 892.6]

§ 848.893–1 General description. This report will list all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts terminated for the convenience or at the option of the Government, the settlement of which was effected during the month or was pending at the end of the month, regardless of the amount of the contract. The report will include prime contract terminations accomplished according to "Changes Articles". [JTR 893.1]

§ 849.930 Scope. This subpart contains forms of approved termination articles for various types of prime contracts and certain related forms. It also contains the approved termination article for fixed-price subcontracts. [JTR 930]

§ 849.931 Uniform termination article for fixed price supply prime contracts.

ART. ___. Termination at the Option of the Government. (a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this Article in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the contracting officer shall determine any such termination is for the best interests of the Government. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the War [Navy] Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, such termination shall only be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or willful default under this contract.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontract so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts with the approval or ratifications of the contracting officer to the extent that he may require, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for protection and preservation of the property, which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, and the Government shall pay the agreed amount or amounts. Nothing in paragraph (d) of this Article prescribing the amount to be paid to the contractor in the event of failure of the contractor and the contracting officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article shall be deemed to limit, restrict or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the contractor pursuant to this paragraph (c).

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts:

(1) For completed article delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) above) and not theretofore paid for, forthwith a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract;

(2) In respect of the contract work terminated as permitted by this Article, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work exclusive of any cost attributable to articles paid or to be paid for under paragraph (d) (1) hereof; (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the notice of termination of work under this contract which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (i) above; and (iii) a sum equal to _____ % [1] of the part of the amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, plus a sum equal to _____ % [2] of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (i), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings;

(3) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof, and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the contractor under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this paragraph (d) shall not exceed the total contract price reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and by the contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage and to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the contractor as provided in paragraph (d) (1) and paragraph (d) (2) (i), all amounts allocable to or payable in respect of property, which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable prior to the transfer of title to the Government or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) or prior to the 60th day after delivery to the Government of an inventory covering such property, whichever shall first occur.

(e) The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this article: (1) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer shall be subject to deduction in respect of the amount of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontract or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed articles under this contract.

(f) In the event that, prior to the determination of the final amount to be paid to the contractor as in this article provided, the contractor shall file with the contracting officer a request in writing that an equitable adjustment should be made in the price or prices specified in the contract for the work not terminated by the Notice of Termination, the appropriate fair and reasonable adjustment shall be made in such price or prices,

[1] Subparts A and B are reserved.

[1] [2] In the War Department the chief of each service may provide for determining the percentages to be inserted at Note 1 (which in no event will exceed 2%) and at Note 2 (which may be greater or less than or equal to 6%). The general use of 2% and 8%, respectively, as arbitrary figures is recommended in the interest of expediting the execution of contracts. Where the use of arbitrary figures is not desired for any reason, the methods to be used in arriving at the percentage to be inserted at Note 2 shall be the same as those now used in price analysis. When the intended rate of profit on the finished article covered by the contract is lower than 8%, the insertion of a lower figure at Note 2 will of course be desirable.

In the Navy Department the percentages to be inserted at Notes 1 and 2 are 2% and 8% without variation.

(g) The Government shall make partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amount to which the contractor shall be entitled under this Article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder.

(h) For the purposes of paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) hereof, the amounts of the payments to be made by the Government to the contractor shall be determined in accordance with the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 31, 1943, as amended by Regulation No. 5 of the Office of Contract Settlement dated September 30, 1944.[1] The contractor for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all of its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder.

§ 849.932 Uniform termination article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts.

ARTICLE ___. Termination by the Government.

(a) Notice of Termination of Contractor's Right to Proceed. The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in whole, or from time to time in part, (1) whenever the contractor shall default in performance, or shall so fail to make progress in the prosecution of the work hereunder as to endanger performance (which shall be considered as a default for purposes of this contract) of this contract in accordance with its terms, and shall fail to cure such fault or failure within a period of ten days (or such longer period as the contracting officer may allow) after receipt from the contracting officer of a notice specifying the fault or failure, or (2) whenever for any reason the contracting officer shall determine any such termination is for the best interests of the Government. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the _____ Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, the termination shall not be for the default of the contractor, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or willful default under this contract. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying whether termination is for the default of the contractor or at the option of the Government, the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective.

(b) Certain obligations of the contractor. After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle, with the approval or ratification of the contracting officer to the extent that he shall require such approval or ratification (which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article), all subcontracts (whether fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee), obligations, commitments, liabilities and claims, the cost of which would be reimbursable in accordance with the provisions of this contract in whole or in part; (6) transfer title (to the extent that title has not already been transferred) and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government, and (iii) the jigs, dies, fixtures, and other special tools and tooling acquired or manufactured for the performance of this contract for the cost of which the contractor has been or will be reimbursed under this contract; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property (whether or not title thereto has been transferred to the Government for security or otherwise) of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer: And Provided further, That the proceeds of any such transfer or disposition shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the contractor under this contract or shall otherwise be paid in such manner as the contracting officer may direct; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for the protection and preservation of property which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest. The contractor shall proceed immediately with the prosecution of the work required under this contract notwithstanding any delays in connection with the adjustment of the fixed fee in accordance with this Article.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts, including an amount with respect to the fixed fee payable under this contract, payable in connection with the contractor's claim under the contract in the event of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article.

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor in connection with the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts:

(1) All costs and expenses reimbursable in accordance with this contract, not previously paid to the contractor for the performance of this contract prior to the effective date of the Notice of Termination and such of these costs as may continue for a reasonable time thereafter with the approval of or as directed by the contracting officer (which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld): Provided, however, That the contractor shall proceed as rapidly as practicable to discontinue such costs.

(2) The cost (so far as not included in payments under subparagraph 1 above) of settling and paying claims either arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders or with respect to any other obligations, commitments and liabilities the cost of which would be reimbursable in accordance with the provisions of this contract or arising in connection with the termination of this contract in whole or in part and properly chargeable to this contract: Provided:

(A) Any such claim has been settled by negotiation or otherwise and (1) the contracting officer has approved or authorized such settlement in writing or (2) such settlement of a fixed-price subcontract or order calls for payment of an amount not in excess of the amount which would be payable under paragraph (b) of the Approved Termination Provision for Use in Fixed Price Orders or Subcontracts for the Manufacture of Supplies under Government War Contracts, as amended by General Regulation No. 6 of the Director of Contract Settlement [§ 849.936]; or

(B) A final judgment has been rendered against the contractor by a court of competent jurisdiction determining the liability of the contractor with respect to any such claim, and the contractor has (1) given the contracting officer prompt notice of the initiation of the proceedings in which judgment was rendered and offered in writing to give the Government complete control of the defense of the proceedings, and (2) diligently defended the suit or, in the event that the Government has assumed control of the defense of the proceedings, rendered such reasonable assistance as has been requested by the Government: And provided further, That with respect to a judgment determining the liability of the contractor under any subcontract or order one of the following conditions is satisfied:

(i) The contracting officer has approved in writing such subcontract or order of the provisions of such subcontract or order dealing with the rights of the parties thereto upon its termination in whole or in part;

(ii) Such subcontract or order (if fixed price) provides in the event of termination thereof in whole or in part for payments to the subcontractor or supplier of an amount not in excess of the amount which would be payable under paragraph (b) of the Approved Termination Provision referred to in paragraph (d) (2) (A) above.[1]

(3) Any other reasonable cost, approved or ratified by the contracting officer (which approval or ratification shall not be unreasonably withheld), incidental to the termination of work under this contract, including legal, accounting, clerical and other costs and expenses (taking into account a reasonable allocation of executive, administrative, and office expenses of the contractor properly allocable to the termination of such work) incidental to:

(i) Termination of subcontracts or orders hereunder;

[1] See § 845.551.

[1] Where existing contracts are being amended to include this articles, the following subparagraph (iii) may be inserted following subparagraph (d) (2) (B) (ii):

"(iii) * * *; or

"(iii) such subcontract or order was entered into prior to the effective date of this amendment and contains no provision dealing with the rights of the parties in the event of its termination, or if it contains a termination provision, such provision does not unreasonably increase the common-law rights of the subcontractor, provided that in either case the approval by the contracting officer to such subcontract or order was not required by the terms of this contract."

(ii) Cessation of work in accordance with the Notice of Termination and the determination of the amounts due to subcontractors and other third parties;

(iii) Obtaining payment from the Government, but only to the extent reasonably necessary for the preparation and presentation of settlement proposals and cost evidence in connection therewith, provided that termination is not due to default of the contractor, and;

(iv) Protection, disposition, removal, storage, and transportation (including delivery costs into and out of storage resulting from directions of the contracting officer), pursuant to paragraphs (b) (7) and (b) (9) hereof, of property in which the Government has or may acquire an interest under this contract (including any Government furnished equipment).

(4) A portion of the fixed fee payable under the contract, determined as follows:

(i) In the event of the termination of this contract at the option of the Government and not for the default of the contractor, there shall be paid a percentage of the fee equivalent to the percentage of the completion of work contemplated by the contract, less fixed fee payments previously made hereunder;[2]

[(i) In the event of the termination of this contract at the option of the Government and not for the default of the contractor, there shall be paid a portion of the fee set forth in Article —, less fixed fee payments previously made hereunder, computed as follows:

(a) For completed work. That portion of the total fixed fee which the number of completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government bears to the total number of completed articles called for under the contract; plus,

(b) For work in process. A sum equal to __% [here insert same percentage originally used in computing fixed fee] of the costs and expenses reimbursable in accordance with this contract for the performance of this contract prior to the effective date of the notice, including the amount or amounts due for supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by a subcontractor but exclusive of any cost attributable to completed articles delivered and accepted and the cost of articles not processed by the contractor.[3]]

[2] This form of subparagraph (d) (4) (i) is for War Department use.

Where the fee to be paid the contractor is based upon units of production, appropriate changes should be made in subparagraph (d) (4) (i) to provide for the payment of all fixed fees which have accrued at the effective date of the Notice of Termination, less fixed fee payments previously made.

Where existing contracts are being amended to include this Article, the following subparagraph may be inserted at the end of subparagraph (d) (4) (i):

"In addition to the payment of a fee based upon a percentage of the completion of the contract as above provided, the contracting officer in his discretion may allow to the contractor an additional amount (not in excess of the total fee payable under the contract less all amounts paid on account of the fixed fee) as compensation for the services performed by the contractor in connection with the termination of this contract at the option of the Government, including, without limitation, services rendered in connection with the disposition of property in which the Government has or may acquire an interest and the settlement of the liability of the contractor to subcontractors and third parties. In computing the amount of any such additional payment, the contracting officer shall take into account the efficiency and reasonable value of such services performed by the contractor."

[3] This form of subparagraph (d) (4) (i) is for Navy Department use.

(ii) In the event of the termination of this contract due to the fault of the contractor, the total fixed fee payable to the contractor under this contract shall be such proportionate part of the fee (or, if this contract calls for articles of different types such part of the fee which is reasonably allocable to the type of article under consideration) as the total number of articles delivered to and accepted by the Government bears to the total number of articles of a like kind called for by this contract.[4]

If the amount so determined is less than the total payment of fixed fee theretofore made to the contractor the contractor shall repay to the Government the excess amount thereof.

(c) Amendment of contract to adjust fixed fee in event of partial termination. In case only a part of this contract is terminated the fixed fee payable with respect to the work to be performed shall be equitably adjusted and such adjustment shall be reduced to writing as an amendment to this contract prior to final settlement hereunder.

(f) Partial payments. The Government shall make advance and partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amounts to which the contractor shall be entitled under this Article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder. Any such partial payment or payments in the discretion of the contracting officer, may be made to the contractor or directly to, or in escrow for, any subcontractor or third party.

(g) Limitations on the liability of the Government. The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this Article (1) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer, shall be subject to deductions in respect of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontract or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor, or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed Articles under this contract.

(h) Contractor's records. Unless a longer period is otherwise provided for in this contract, or by applicable statute, the contractor for a period of five years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all of its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder.

[4] In lieu of subparagraph (d) (4) (ii), the chief of a service or bureau may authorize the use of any other appropriate provision for revision or adjustment of the fixed-fee by reason of the default of the contractor. He may also authorize inclusion in this article or elsewhere in the contract appropriate provisions relating to excusable delay and the right of the Government to take over the property and plant in the event of default.

§ 849.933 War Department termination article for fixed-price construction prime contracts.

ARTICLE ... Termination for convenience of the Government.

(a) The Government may terminate this contract in whole or in part at any time by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor, specifying the date upon which such termination shall become effective and the extent to which the performance of such contract shall be terminated. Termination shall be effective upon the date and to the extent specified in said notice.

(b) Upon receipt of the notice of termination the Contractor shall except insofar as the notice directs otherwise with respect to this contract, or, in the event of partial termination, with respect to the part thereof covered by the notice:

(1) Discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials and facilities otherwise required for the performance thereof;

(2) Cancel all existing orders and subcontracts to the extent such orders and subcontracts are chargeable to the performance thereof;

(3) Transfer to the Government, in accordance with the directions of the Contracting Officer, all materials, supplies, work in process, facilities, equipment, machinery or tools acquired by the Contractor in connection with the performance thereof, and all plans, drawings, working drawings, sketches, specifications and information for use in connection therewith. If and as the Contracting Officer so directs or authorizes, the Contractor shall sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer, or retain at a price, mutually agreeable, any such materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, tools, or other things: Provided, however, That the Contractor may retain any such equipment, machinery and tools as of right if he so elects in writing, stating that he will forego reimbursement therefor. The proceeds of any such sale, or the agreed price, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the contracting officer may direct so as to reduce the amount payable by the Government under this Article.

(4) Take such action as may be necessary to secure to the Government the benefits of any rights remaining in the Contractor under orders or subcontracts chargeable thereto to the extent that such orders or subcontracts are so chargeable;

(5) Take such action as the Contracting Officer may prescribe for the protection and preservation of all property in the possession or control of the Contractor, title to which is transferable to the Government under the provisions of this article.

Should the notice of termination cover only a portion of this contract, the Contractor will proceed to completion of such portions as are not terminated.

(c) Upon compliance by the Contractor with the above provisions of this Article and subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication of any such payments, the Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree by Supplemental Agreement is reasonably necessary to compensate the Contractor for his costs, expenditures, liabilities, commitments and work with respect to this contract, other than the expenditures and costs referred to in paragraph (e) of this Article. The Contracting Officer shall include in such sum such allowance for profit with respect to the contract as is reasonable under all the circumstances.

(d) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, within 90 days from the effective date of the notice of termination referred to in paragraph (a), or within such extended period as may be agreed upon between them, cannot agree upon the sum payable under the provisions of paragraph (c), the Government shall instead compensate the Contractor in the following manner, subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication thereof, and upon compliance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article:

(1) By reimbursing the Contractor for all actual expenditures and costs certified by the Contracting Officer as having been made or incurred with respect to this contract, including expenditures and costs made or incurred in connection with any portions of the contract which may have been completed prior to termination, as well as expenditures and costs made or incurred after termination in completing those portions of the contract which the Contractor may have been required by the notice of termination to complete.

(2) By reimbursing or providing for the payment or reimbursement of, the Contractor for all expenditures made or costs incurred with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer in settling or discharging any outstanding contractual obligations or commitments incurred or entered into by the Contractor with respect to this contract; and

(3) By paying the Contractor, as a profit on this contract, insofar as a profit is realized hereunder, an amount to be computed by the Contracting Officer in the following manner:

(A) Estimate the profit which would have been realized on this contract if the contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of terminations had remained in effect.

(B) Estimate, from a consideration of all relevant factors, the percentage of completion of the contract including any work performed after termination. In estimating the percentage of completion, the Contracting Officer shall estimate the percentage of the total work required by the contract which the work actually accomplished represents.

(C) Multiply the profit determined under (A) by the percentage determined under (B). The product is the amount to be paid the Contractor as profit.

(e) The Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree upon for expenditures made and costs incurred with the approval of the Contracting Officer (a) after the date of termination for the protection of Government property, and (b) for such other expenditures and costs as may be necessary in connection with the settlement of this contract, and in the absence of such agreement as to the amount of such expenditures and costs shall reimburse the Contractor for the same.

(f) The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article shall be subject to any unsettled claim for labor or material and to any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor under or in connection with this contract, and payments under this Article shall be subject to reasonable deductions by the Contracting Officer on account of defects in materials or workmanship.

(g) The sum of all amounts payable under this Article, plus the sum of all amounts previously paid under this contract, shall not exceed the total contract price, adjusted in the event that this contract contains an article providing for price adjustment, on the basis of the estimate of the Contracting Officer, to the extent which would have been required by such article if this contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(h) Should the above provisions of this Article not result in payment to the Contractor of at least $100, then that amount shall be paid to the Contractor in lieu of any and all payments hereinbefore provided for in this Article.

(i) The Government shall promptly make partial payments to the Contractor

(1) on account of the amounts due under paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this Article to the extent that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer, such payments are clearly within the amounts due under such paragraphs, and

(2) of such amounts as the Contracting Officer may direct, an account of proposed settlements of outstanding obligations or commitments, to be made by the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this Article, if such settlements shall have been approved by the Contracting Officer and subject to such provisions for escrow or direct payment to the persons entitled to receive such settlement payments as the Contracting Officer may require.

(j) Any disputes arising out of termination under this Article shall be decided in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Article * * * of this contract.

(k) Upon the making of the payments called for by this Article, all obligations of the Government to make further payments or to carry out other undertakings hereunder shall cease forthwith and forever, except that all rights and obligations of the respective parties under the Articles, if any, of this contract applicable to patent infringements and reproduction rights shall remain in full force and effect.

(l) The Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article, except as otherwise provided by law or by Article * * * (Delays-Damage). Notwithstanding Article * * * (Delays-Damages) and any defaults of the Contractor, the Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article if such termination is simultaneous with or part of or in connection with a general termination of war contracts at, about the time of, or following the cessation of the present hostilities or the end of the present war, unless the Contracting Officer finds that the defaults of the Contractor (1) have been gross or wilful and (2) have caused substantial damage to the Government.

§ 849.935 War Department termination articles for preliminary contractual instruments. [JTR 935]

§ 849.935–1 Form of termination article for letter order for supplies (no price stated) or for letter order for fixed price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction.[1]

ARTICLE ... (a) In case a definitive contract is not executed by _____, 19__ (or any subsequent date at any time mutually agreed upon) because of the inability of the parties to agree upon a definitive contract, this order will terminate on the stated date or such subsequent date, as the case may be.

(b) The Government may at any time terminate this order in whole or in part for its convenience by giving you written notice of such termination.

(c) In the event of any termination pursuant to either paragraph 6 (a) or paragraph 6 (b) of this order, you and the Contracting Officer will attempt to agree by negotiation upon a settlement estimated by the parties to be the aggregate amount (less payments previously made to you) of the costs incurred by you in the performance of this order and the amounts paid or to be paid by you or for your account in settling, with the approval of the Contracting Officer, your obligations for commitments made in the performance of this order. In case of termination pursuant to paragraph 6 (b), such negotiated settlement may include a reasonable allowance for profit. Any such negotiated settlement shall be embodied in a Supplemental Agreement.

(d) If you and the Contracting Officer are not able to agree upon such a negotiated settlement within 90 days after the effective date of the termination (or within such longer period as at any time may be mutually agreed upon), the Government binds itself (without duplication of any of the following payments or of any payments previously made) to reimburse you for the costs incurred by you in the performance of this order and for any amounts paid by you or for your account in settling, with the approval of the Contracting Officer, your obligations for commitments made in the performance of this order. In lieu of reimbursing you for expenditures made by you in settling any of your obligations for commitments, the Government, in the discretion of the Contracting Officer, may assume such obligations or any of them. The total of such reimbursement (and of all payments previously made), together with the amount of any obligations assumed shall not exceed the amount above specified.

If such termination shall take place pursuant to paragraph 6 (a) of this order no allowance of profit will be made to you. If termination shall take place for the convenience of the Government pursuant to paragraph 6 (b) of this order, such allowance of profit [a fee] will be made to you with respect to the work done by you prior to the effective date of the termination as the Contracting Officer may find to be reasonable under all the circumstances, [but such fee shall in no event exceed _____ percent (__%) of so much of the estimated cost set forth in paragraph 1 as is allocable to such work].

(e) The Government may permit you to sell or retain at prices or on terms agreed to by the Government any equipment, completed supplies, materials or work in process and the proceeds of any such sale, or such agreed prices, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(f) Upon payment or reimbursement to you pursuant to paragraph 6 (c) or 6 (d) of this order, title to all equipment, completed supplies, work in process, materials, plans, information, and other things, for which you are so paid or reimbursed (except such property as may be sold or retained by you as above provided) will vest in the Government (if title thereto has not already become vested in the Government). The Government will also become entitled to any rights under any commitment which it may assume, or for the settlement of which it shall have reimbursed you.

(g) Any dispute which arises under this paragraph 6 regarding a matter of fact (including any dispute (1) as to whether termination has in fact taken place for the convenience of the Government or because of the inability of the parties to agree upon a definitive contract, or (2) as to the extent of any allowance of a profit [or fee] in the event of a termination for the convenience of the Government) will be treated and resolved as a dispute under the "Disputes" article incorporated in this order by reference.[2]

[1] In using this form for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction letter orders, the words in italics should be omitted and the words in brackets should be included. In using the form for letter orders for supplies with no price stated or for fixed price construction, the words in italics should be included and the words in brackets should be omitted.

[2] Where the letter order is for an amount less than $20,000, the "Disputes" article will not have been incorporated by reference by virtue of paragraph 3 or 6 (g) of the letter order, since contracts in such amount are not required to contain that article. In that event the language of the letter order will be appropriately modified expressly to incorporate by reference either the "Disputes" article set forth in § 803.326 or that contained in General Provision 12 of W. D. Contract Form No. 18.

(h) Partial payments on account of any amount admittedly due to you pursuant to this paragraph 6 may be made by the Government at any time in the discretion of the Contracting Officer.

§ 849.935–2 Form of termination article for letter order for supplies with price stated.

ARTICLE ___. (a) [Same as § 849.935–1 (a)]
(b) [Same as § 849.935–1 (b)]
(c) In the event of any termination pursuant to either paragraph 6 (a) or paragraph 6 (b) of this order, you and the Contracting Officer will attempt to agree by negotiation upon a settlement estimated by the parties to be the aggregate amount (less payments previously made to you) of the unit price above specified for all completed supplies, the costs incurred by you with respect to the uncompleted portion of this order, and the amounts paid or to be paid by you or for your account in settling, with the approval of the Contracting Officer, your obligations for commitments made with respect to such uncompleted portion of this order. In case of termination pursuant to paragraph 6 (b), such negotiated settlement may include a reasonable allowance for profit. Any such negotiated settlement shall be embodied in a Supplemental Agreement.

(d) If you and the Contracting Officer are not able to agree upon such a negotiated settlement within 90 days after the effective date of the termination (or within such longer period as at any time may be mutually agreed upon), the Government binds itself (without duplication of any of the following payments or of payments previously made):

(1) To pay you the unit price above specified for all completed supplies;

(2) To reimburse you for the costs incurred by you with respect to the uncompleted portion of this order and for any amounts paid by you or for your account in settling, with the approval of the Contracting Officer, your obligations for commitments with respect to such uncompleted portion of this order. In lieu of reimbursing you for expenditures made by you in settling any of your obligations for commitments with respect to the uncompleted portion of this order, the Government, in the discretion of the Contracting Officer, may assume such obligations any of them.

If such termination shall take place pursuant to paragraph 6 (a) of this order no allowance of profit will be made to you (except as the payment of the unit price for completed supplies may include a profit). If termination shall take place for the convenience of the Government pursuant to paragraph 6 (b) of this order, such allowance of profit (in addition to any profit included in paying the unit price for completed supplies) will be made to you with respect to the work done by you on uncompleted supplies prior to the effective date of the termination as the Contracting Officer may find to be reasonable under all the circumstances.

ARTICLE ___. (a) The buyer may terminate work under this order in whole or in part at any time by written or telegraphic notice, whenever (1) the Government requests the termination of this order or (2) a contract between the buyer and a third person, including the Government, requiring for its performance articles or services of the kind or type covered by this order is terminated, in whole or in part, or amended, so as to eliminate or reduce such requirements. Such notice shall state the extent and effective date of such termination; and, upon the receipt thereof, the seller will, as and to the extent directed by the buyer, stop work under this order and the placement of further orders or subcontracts hereunder, terminate work under orders and subcontracts outstanding hereunder, and take any necessary action to protect property in the seller's possession in which the buyer has or may acquire an interest.

(b) If the parties cannot by negotiation agree within a reasonable time upon the amount of fair compensation to the seller for such termination, the buyer in addition to making prompt payment of amounts due for articles delivered or services rendered prior to the effective date of termination, will pay to the seller the following amounts without duplication:

(1) The contract price for all articles or services which have been completed in accordance with this order and not previously paid for.

(2) (i) The actual costs incurred by the seller which are properly allocable or apportionable under recognized commercial accounting practices to the terminated portion of this order, including the cost of discharging liabilities which are so allocable or apportionable, and (ii) a sum equal to 2% of the part of such costs representing the costs of articles or materials not processed by the seller, plus a sum equal to 8% of the remainder of such costs, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of such costs. For the purpose of subdivision (ii) such costs shall exclude any charge for interest on borrowings and shall exclude the cost of discharging liabilities for parts, materials and services not received by the seller before the effective date of termination.

(3) The reasonable costs of the seller in making settlement hereunder and in protecting property in which the buyer has or may acquire an interest.

Payments made under this paragraph (b), exclusive of payments under subparagraph (3), shall not exceed the aggregate price specified in the order, less payments otherwise made or to be made.

(c) With the consent of the buyer, the seller may retain at an agreed price or sell at an approved price any completed articles, or any articles, materials, work in process or other things the cost of which is allocable or apportionable to this order under paragraph (b) (2) above, and will credit or pay the amounts so agreed or received as the buyer directs. As directed by the buyer, the seller will transfer title to, and make delivery of, any such articles, materials, work in process or other things not so retained or sold. Appropriate adjustment will be made for delivery costs or savings therein.

(d) The provisions of this Article ___ shall not limit or affect the right of the buyer to terminate this order for the default of the seller.

§ 849.942–1 Letter termination notice to prime contractors under fixed-price (lump sum) supply or construction contracts. The following form of termination notice will be used in accordance with §§ 842.243 to 842.245, inclusive.

LETTER TERMINATION NOTICE TO PRIME CONTRACTORS UNDER TERMINATED FIXED-PRICE (LUMP SUM) SUPPLY OR CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS

[At the top of the Notice set out all special details relating to the particular termination: e. g., name and address of company, number of prime contract terminated, service or bureau involved, appropriation or allotment, etc.

Two alternative forms of paragraph No. 1 are set out below. If this written termination notice confirms a telegraphic notice previously sent, use the first of the alternative paragraphs No. 1 below. If no previous telegraphic notice has been sent, use the second.]

1. Effective date of termination. This letter will confirm the Government's telegram to you dated _____, 194__, terminating [in part] your Contract No. _____ (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "the Contract") for the convenience of the Government. Such termination is effective on the date and in the manner stated in such telegram, reference to which is hereby made [or copy of which is attached hereto.] (or)

1. Effective date of termination. You are notified that your Contract No. _____ (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "the Contract") is hereby terminated [in part] for the convenience of the Government. Such termination will be effective:

[Here insert either "immediately upon your receipt of this Notice" or "on_____, 194__" (inserting the date), or "as soon as you have delivered under the Contract the following number of each of the items listed below, including those heretofore delivered, to wit: _____" or "on _____, 194__, on which date you are hereby directed to reduce the rate of delivery under the Contract as follows:" (here insert instructions as to reduced rate of delivery).][1] If this termination will result in a release of labor, facilities, or production tools, you are requested to notify the Contracting Officer named below [In the case of the Navy, substitute "your cognizant inspector"] immediately and coperate with him in arranging a meeting with representatives of the War Production Board and the War Manpower Commission.

2. Enclosed instructions. Enclosed herewith is a statement entitled "Instructions to Prime Contractors under Terminated Fixed-Price (lump sum) Supply or Construction Contracts", which outlines certain of your principal rights and obligations. Prompt settlement of your claim depends in large measure on your thorough cooperation in following the procedure outlined in these Instructions. Your attention is called particularly to section 2 of such Instructions which sets forth your duties in regard to stopping work and giving notice to your subcontractors.

3. Disposal of termination inventory. (a) You are authorized and urged to retain or dispose of all termination inventory in accordance with section 4 of the Instructions, except for the following property:

[Here list all property which the Government wishes to take over, or desires to have used for a particular purpose, and give full instructions relating thereto. Also set forth any special instructions for disposal or protection of property.]

(b) In connection with final settlement of your claim (other than a "no-cost" settlement, see paragraph 6 below), it will be necessary to establish that all your termination inventory and that of your subcontractors has been properly accounted for, as provided in the Joint Termination Regulation of the War and Navy Departments, § 844.446–1. You should, therefore, advise each of your immediate subcontractors that, in connection with his settlement with you (other than a "no-cost" settlement, see paragraph 5 below, or a settlement based on a properly submitted Standard Form 1a of the Office of Contract Settlement) he should furnish you a certificate in substantially the form prescribed in the Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.973.

4. Completed articles. Acceptable completed articles which have been shipped prior to the effective date of termination, and such other completed articles as are accepted and delivered after the effective date of termination in accordance with directions of the Contracting Officer, will be treated for all purposes as articles delivered under the contract. The termination notice will be appropriately amended, whenever necessary, to reinstate such completed articles in the unterminated portion of the contract. You will, therefore, invoice such completed articles under the contract in the usual way and not include them in your termination inventory. All other completed articles will be included in your termination inventory. You will be advised by the service or bureau (in the Navy by your cognizant Navy material inspector) as to what completed articles, if any, will be accepted for delivery under the contract.

5. Settlements with subcontractors. (a) Your rights and duties in settling the claims of your immediate subcontractors are outlined in Section 6 of the Instructions.

[Add the following two sentences where appropriate.]

There is enclosed herewith an authorization to you to settle claims of your immediate subcontractors of $10,000 or less and to make partial payments. Its use will facilitate settlements.

(b) In order to speed up final settlements with your fixed-price subcontractors, you should send to each either with, or as soon as possible after, the notice of termination—(1) a set of the Standard Forms of the Office of Contract Settlement for use by all fixed-price war supply contractors in submitting settlement proposals and (2) a copy of a "No-Cost" Subcontract Settlement Agreement for use by a subcontractor who wishes to waive any termination claim against you (Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.987–2). If you do not already have copies of these documents, they will, upon request, be promptly furnished you by the Contracting Officer named below [or appropriate Navy material inspector]. In no event should the sending of the notice of termination be delayed.

6. Submission of settlement proposal. (a) The Government desires to settle your termination claim by negotiation and on such terms as will speedily and fairly compensate you therefor. To assist you in prompt submission of your settlement proposal, there is enclosed one set of the Standard Forms of the Office of Contract Settlement.

[Include the following subparagraph (b) unless it appears clearly inappropriate in view of the size of the prime contract terminated or for other obvious reasons known to the Contracting Officer. If this subparagraph is included, there should be enclosed three copies of the "No-Cost" Prime Contract Settlement Agreement referred to therein.]

(b) If you wish to waive any termination claim against the Government, please sign

[1] The language within the brackets is designed principally for supply contracts. In the case of construction contracts, the following alternative language is recommended: [Here insert either "immediately upon your receipt of this Notice" or "on_____, 194__" (inserting the date), or "as soon as you have completed the following work:" (here state the work to be completed.)] and return all three copies of the enclosed "No-Cost" Prime Contract Settlement Agreement (Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.981–3). One copy signed by the Contracting Officer will be returned for your files.

SECTION 1—INTRODUCTION

1. Introductory. These Instructions summarize your principal rights and obligations arising out of the termination of your Contract. They are based upon the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and Government regulations issued under these acts. Please read and follow them carefully. For more complete details on matters covered by these Instructions and for information on matters not covered by these Instructions, you should consult the Joint Termination Regulation, issued by the War and Navy Departments.

2. Termination procedure policy. It is the policy of the Government, wherever possible, to settle termination claims by negotiation. Negotiated settlements must, however, be supported by adequate data, and the prompt submission of properly supported settlement proposals will facilitate speedy and equitable final settlements.

3. Effective date of termination and date fixed for termination. The terms "effective date of termination" and "date fixed for termination" mean the date upon which your notice of termination first requires you (1) to reduce or stop deliveries under your Contract, or, (2) if no deliveries are being made or are called for under the Contract, to reduce or stop performance under the Contract. Payment of interest, if any, on your termination claim will be calculated by reference to this date.

4. Incorporation of uniform termination article for fixed-price supply contracts.[1] If your terminated Contract does not contain the Government's uniform termination article for fixed-price supply contracts, it is requested that if practicable you promptly notify the Contracting Officer named in your notice of termination in order to arrange at once for amending the Contract to include it. This article embodies Government policy on terminations for convenience, and unless the special circumstances of your case make its use unnecessary, amendment of your Contract to include it will greatly facilitate a fair and speedy settlement. Such amendment may be made now, even though your Contract has been terminated.

5. Necessity for prompt action. One of the primary objectives of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 is "to assure to prime contractors and subcontractors, small and large, speedy and equitable final settlement of claims under terminated war contracts, and adequate interim financing until such final settlement." In large measure the speed with which the Government can settle your claim depends upon your vigorous cooperation in taking quickly all necessary steps to submit it in proper form.

6. Confirmation of oral approval. Whenever in these instructions, or in the termination article which forms a part of your Contract, the approval of the Government is required as to any action to be taken by you, you should, for your records, require written confirmation of any such approval which has been given orally.

7. Application of these instructions. In general, these Instructions apply to subcontractors as well as prime contractors, except that the subcontractor stands in the same relationship to the contractor to or for whom he is delivering materials or performing services as that in which the prime contractor stands to the Government. To assist in effecting termination settlements, the War and Navy Departments have prepared the Joint Termination Regulation referred to above, which may be obtained by war contractors free of charge from the Readjustment Distribution Center, 6th Floor, 90 Church Street, New York City.

[1] This paragraph will not apply in the case of construction contracts.

SECTION 2—ACTION TO BE TAKEN UPON RECEIPT OF NOTICE OF TERMINATION

8. Cessation of work and notification to your immediate subcontractors in compliance with the Notice of Termination. In order to comply with your Notice of Termination, and to stop performance in compliance with its terms, you should take the following steps:

(a) Discontinuance of work. You should stop all work, make no further shipments, and place no further orders in connection with the Contract, except (1) to the extent necessary to perform any portion thereof not terminated by the Notice, or (2) to the extent that you may wish to retain and continue any work in process or other materials for your own account, or (3) to the extent the Contracting Officer authorizes you to continue work-in-process for reasons of safety, or to clear (or avoid damage to) equipment or to avoid immediate complete spoilage of work-in-process having a definite commercial value, or otherwise to prevent undue loss to the Government. (If you believe the authorization referred to in subparagraph (3) above is necessary or advisable, you should immediately notify the Contracting Officer by telephone or personal conference and obtain instructions.) You should keep adequate records of your compliance with this paragraph 8 (a) showing (i) the date you received your Notice of Termination, (ii) the effective date of such termination and (iii) the extent of completion of performance on such effective date.

(b) Notice to subcontractors. You should give notice of termination to each of your immediate subcontractors (including suppliers) who will be affected by the termination of your Contract. In such notice (see the form referred to in (c) below) you should (1) give him the number of your Contract with the Government, (2) state that it has been terminated (or terminated in part, if that is the case) for the convenience of the Government, (3) give him the name and address of the Contracting Officer in charge of your claim, (4) instruct him to stop all work, to make no further shipments, to place no more orders, and to terminate all subcontracts under his contract with you (subject to the same exceptions stated in paragraph 8 (a)), (5) direct him to submit his settlement proposal promptly in order to speed up settlement of his termination claim and (6) request him to give similar notice and instructions to his immediate subcontractors. The notice and instructions referred to in (6) should include (i) the name of the Contracting Officer in charge of the claim and his address, (ii) the contract number of the terminated prime contract, and (iii) a request that a similar notice of termination (showing in each case the contract numbers of the terminated prime contract and intermediate subcontracts) be passed down the line promptly to subcontractors of lower tiers, in order that subcontractors of all tiers may receive due notice of termination and be in position to identify their claims and secure prompt settlement thereof.

In any case where to include the number of a terminated prime contract or subcontract would be impracticable or would delay the sending of a notice of termination, this information may be omitted, but should, if possible, be supplied thereafter.

(c) Form of notice and instructions to subcontractors. You are requested to send in triplicate to each of your immediate subcontractors (including suppliers), if any, holding fixed-price (lump sum) supply contracts, a form of Termination Notice substantially in the form inclosed herewith. There is also inclosed a recommended form of "Instructions to Subcontractors holding Terminated Fixed-Price (Lump Sum) Supply Subcontracts" to accompany the Notice sent to them.

(d) Completed articles.[1] You should notify the Contracting Officer of the number of articles completed under the Contract and still on hand, and arrange with him for their delivery or other disposal.

(e) Pending legal proceedings. You should notify the Contracting Officer of any pending legal proceedings which relate to any subcontracts or purchase orders under the terminated Contract or which have resulted in or which are intended to obtain, a lien or encumbrance on any termination inventory other than termination inventory you propose and are authorized to purchase, retain or dispose of. (The Contracting Officer should also be promptly notified of any such proceedings brought after receipt of the Notice.)

(f) Other action. You should take such other action as may be required by the Contracting Officer or under the termination article contained in your Contract.

9. Initial conference with representatives of contracting officer. If your claim is for a small amount and appears free from complications, it is preferable to settle any questions by correspondence or telephone rather than by a conference. Otherwise, as soon as possible after receipt of the Notice, you should arrange for a conference with the representatives of the Contracting Officer, at which you should be prepared to present a rough estimate of your inventory and of the principal items of your claim, and to indicate, as fully as possible, what property you desire to retain, what can be sold to others and what, in your opinion, should be scrapped. At this conference the basis of settlement should be at least tentatively determined, and a clear understanding should be reached as to what information is to be furnished by you, what methods are to be followed in disposing of property, what accounting or other investigation is to be undertaken, and what arrangements, if any, are to be made for interim financing.

10. Notice to workers and cooperation with War Manpower Commission. Contractors are urged by the Government, and requested to urge their subcontractors in all cases where the termination is likely to result in the release of a substantial number of workers, to notify the workers and their union representatives, if any, that the contract was terminated for the convenience of the Government, and to cooperate with the War Manpower Commission by making known their new net labor requirements and allowing the United States Employment Service representative to conduct job interviews at the plant.

SECTION 3—PREPARATION OF SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL

11. Submission of proposal and supporting papers. Work on your Settlement Proposal should be begun promptly after receipt of your Notice of Termination. Unless otherwise authorized by the Contracting Officer, you should submit your proposal on the appropriate Standard Forms of the Office of Contract Settlement (Forms 1, 1a, and 1b) which are uniform for all Government Departments and agencies and which are for use by all war contractors under fixed-price war supply contracts. (To the extent applicable these forms may also be used for construction contracts.) Copies of these forms may be obtained from the Contracting Officer, together with complete Instructions for their use, as prescribed by the Office of Contract Settlement.

(a) Particular forms to be used—(i) Form 1a, Claims Under $1,000. If your Settlement Proposal is submitted on the basis that you will retain or dispose of all the inventory allocable to the terminated portion of the contract at the best prices obtainable, and if the net amount of the proposed settlement after deducting all credits for retention or disposal is less than $1,000, you may submit your settlement proposal on Form 1a. This is a short form requiring no separate inventory schedules.

(ii) Other forms. For larger claims, other forms, supported by separate inventory schedules, are provided and their method of use is fully stated in the Instructions which accompany them.

(b) Elements of your claim and methods of submission. As a rule, your Settlement Proposal will consist of (1) your costs and profit allocable to the terminated portion of the Contract, (2) your post-termination or settlement expenses, and (3) the charges of your subcontractors. Normally your Proposal when submitted, should be complete and cover all elements of your claim. In order to expedite settlement, however, you may submit interim proposals covering either (1) all your own costs or (2) your post-termination or settlement expenses or (3) settlements with subcontractors.

SECTION 4—DISPOSAL OF TERMINATION INVENTORY

12. Contract obligations of contractors with respect to disposal of inventory. (a) "Termination inventory" means any materials (including a proper part of any common materials and including Government-owned materials) properly allocable to the terminated portion of a war contract, except any machinery or equipment held under a separate contract or contract provision specifically governing its use or disposition.

(b) By the terms of most termination articles for use in fixed-price contracts the contractor is obligated, if and as the Contracting Officer directs or authorizes, to sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer or retain at a price mutually agreeable, all termination inventory.

(c) You are hereby authorized to dispose of Government-owned termination inventory on the same conditions applicable to inventory owned by you and to credit the proceeds of such disposition against your termination claim, unless the Contracting Officer directs otherwise. If your Contract does not now provide for such disposition and credit, it will be deemed to be amended accordingly, upon your exercise of this authority.

13. Preparation of inventory schedules—(a) Supply contracts. If your Settlement Proposal is for less than $1,000 and is submitted on Form 1a (see Section 3 above), you need not submit separate inventory schedules. Otherwise, your inventory should be listed on the Schedules and in accordance with the Instructions issued for this purpose by the Office of Contract Settlement. (These are Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d and "Instructions for Use of Standard Contract Settlement Proposal Forms".) These schedules, which may be filed either with, or in advance of, your Settlement Proposal serve three principal purposes—(1) to support the amount of inventory costs included in your Settlement Proposal; (2) to facilitate the disposition of termination inventory; and (3) to provide the information necessary for storage or removal by the Government.

(b) Common items. Items which are reasonably usable on your other work because they are materials, parts, or components common in nature to both the terminated contract and your other work, should not be listed on the Schedules, nor should any costs with respect thereto be included in the Settlement Proposal, to the extent that the items are reasonably applicable to your other work. You may list any properly allocable items which cannot be used on your other work except at a loss, whether items are reasonably useable on your other work and without loss is to be determined as of the effective date of the termination of your contract.

(c) Construction contracts. To the extent applicable, the same inventory schedules may be used as in the case of supply contracts.

14. Methods of disposing of termination inventory—(a) General policies. (1) Except as to items which the Government has advised you that it wishes to take over, or as to which it has given you contrary instructions, it is the policy of the Government to encourage contractors either to retain termination inventories or to dispose of them at the best price obtainable. Such retention or disposition is subject to applicable War Production Board regulations and to regulations and orders (as set forth in Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation) of the Surplus Property Board, the Office of Price Administration and other Government agencies.

(2) If you propose to retain or sell termination inventory, the price should be the best price obtainable, as defined in paragraph 411.1 of the Joint Termination Regulation, and one that you would approve if you were dealing solely for your own account. In the case of a sale or retention for resale, the term "best price obtainable" means the highest price offered which is adequate in the light of a reasonable knowledge or test of the market, having due regard for current prices for any raw materials or products for which quotations are published and to the circumstances, nature, condition, quantity, and location of the particular property. In the case of a retention for use, the term "best price obtainable" means a price that is fair and reasonable and not less than the net proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the item were offered for sale at such time.

(b) Authority to dispose of termination inventory without Government approval. In the following cases, no approval by the Government is required for a retention or sale and in the absence of fraud your action will be accepted as final and conclusive:

(1) Retention or sale of items at inventory cost. You may retain or sell without Government approval any item of inventory at its cost as stated in your inventory schedules: Provided, That such cost is computed upon a reasonably acceptable basis; in the case of items sold, you may include in your termination claim reasonable freight, packing and handling charges, if any.

(2) Disposition of items under $100. You may retain or sell, without Government approval, any item of inventory at the best price obtainable where the total cost of the item does not exceed $100, as stated in your inventory schedules: Provided, That the aggregate cost of all items so retained or sold does not exceed $5,000 or 20 per cent of your total inventory cost, whichever is less. The term "item" includes all substantially similar articles at any one location listed on any one inventory schedule.

(c) All other dispositions. Except as permitted by paragraphs 14 (b) (1) and 14 (b) (2) above, dispositions of your termination inventory required the approval of the Contracting Officer or the authorized Navy representative.

(d) Proceeds. The approved price of retention, sale or other disposition will constitute a credit in reduction of your termination claim unless paid to the Government.

15. Transfer of termination inventory and subcontracts to continuing war contracts—(a) Transfers. Whenever practicable, and where a saving to the Government may be accomplished, you should effect transfers of termination inventory to continuing war contracts even if such transfers necessitate the cancellation of subcontracts already placed under the continuing war contract. Similarly, you should effect transfers of subcontracts for materials, equipment, supplies, and services from terminated contracts to continuing war contracts, where the property or services covered by the subcontracts transferred may be utilized in performance of the continuing war contract.

[1] This subparagraph will not apply in the case of construction contracts.

(b) Reimbursement of costs. In the case of termination inventory so transferred, you will be reimbursed for its cost upon settlement of either the terminated contract or the continuing contract, if later terminated. In the case of subcontracts so transferred, you will be reimbursed for the reasonable costs of such transfer. Detailed information as to methods of reimbursement in both cases may be found in Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation or may be obtained from the Contracting Officer.

SECTION 5—PLANT CLEARANCE AND REMOVAL OF FACILITIES[1]

16. (a) Plant clearance; the 60-day period. In order to arrange for plant clearance, you may from time to time submit inventory schedules to the Government on the Standard Forms above mentioned. (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d.) These schedules will constitute your statement showing the materials claimed to be termination inventory which, if not otherwise disposed of prior to settlement, you desire to have removed by the Government from your plant. The obligation of the Government under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to remove or arrange for storage of any items of termination inventory will not arise until sixty days or such longer time as may be agreed, from the time when these schedules containing a listing of such items are filed with the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector, in accordance with applicable instructions, in satisfactory form, and with the required certificate.

(b) Contractor's right to remove and store. If for any reason the Government does not, within such sixty-day period (or longer as agreed on), either remove such materials or enter into an agreement with you for their storage, you may at any time thereafter (using reasonable care in transportation and preservation) remove and store them for the account and at the risk and expense of the Government. You may do so, however, only if you have first delivered to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector (1) 20 days' notice in writing of the date fixed for removal and (2) a statement showing the quantities and condition of the materials so to be removed, certified on your behalf to represent a concurrent physical inventory. At any time after the effective date of termination, you are authorized to remove and store at your own expense and risk any items of termination inventory.

(c) Removal of facilities. It is the policy of the Government, in accordance with the provisions of section 12 (g) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and Regulation 4 of the Office of Contract Settlement, to provide for the orderly and expeditious removal from private plants of Government-owned machinery, tools, or other equipment which is no longer required for war production or for the national defense. If you have any such equipment in your plant, you should notify the Contracting Officer.

SECTION 6—CONTRACTOR INVENTORY

17. Contractor inventory. In addition to the material allocable to your terminated contract, you may have in your plant material which is "contractor inventory." The term "contractor inventory" (as used in the Joint Termination Regulation and as defined in The Surplus Property Act) means (1) any property related to a terminated contract of any type with the owning agency or to a subcontract thereunder; (2) any property acquired under a contract pursuant to the terms of which title is vested in the Government, and in excess of the amounts needed to complete performance thereunder; and (3) any property which the Government is obligated to take over under any type of contract as a result of any change in the specifications or plans thereunder. Contractor inventory includes, but is broader than, termination inventory, as that term is defined in the Joint Termination Regulation § 841.121–21 and in the Contract Settlement Act, and also includes any Government-owned material in the war contractor's plant, either before or after expiration of a contract, which is no longer required for the purpose for which it was supplied. You should consult Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation as to the disposal and removal of this type of material.

SECTION 7—SUBCONTRACTORS AND SUPPLIERS

18. Settlement proposals to be obtained from subcontractors. Section 7 refers solely to fixed-price subcontractors and suppliers. (You should consult the Contracting Officer as to procedures relating specially to settlement of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts.)

Fixed-price subcontractors are required to use the Standard Forms in submitting their proposals in accordance with the Instructions for their use.

19. Review of settlement proposals of subcontractors—(a) Extent of review. It is your responsibility in the first instance to review or examine all settlement proposals delivered to you by your immediate subcontractors. Your duty in this regard is similar to that of the Government in passing upon the settlement proposals submitted by you. You are required at least to cause an office review to be made of each such proposal (which should include an accounting review where the net amount of the claim is $1,000 or more); and you should make a written report of each such review, to be furnished to the Government if requested.

(b) Extent of responsibility. You should in every case make such examination as is reasonable under all the circumstances and you will be held to the standard of scrutiny that a prudent business man would ordinarily employ in the conduct of his own affairs. You will not be required to warrant the accuracy of the facts presented by the subcontractors; but you will be required to certify that, on the basis of a review or examination which you believe to be adequate, you are of the opinion that settlements of the charges of your immediate subcontractors are fair and reasonable, are allocable to the terminated portion of your Contract, were negotiated in good faith and are not more favorable to the subcontractors than you would make if reimbursement by the Government were not involved.

20. Settlement of immediate subcontractors' claims—(a) Settlements under $1,000. Where an immediate fixed-price subcontractor submits to you a settlement proposal properly made out on standard Form 1a, you are authorized, without further action by the Government, to make a final settlement with such subcontractor. If you make such a settlement (which must involve a net amount of less than $1,000 after deducting property disposal credits), you will also, in so doing, approve the subcontractor's credits for retention or disposal of inventory.

(b) Other settlements. Each settlement of $10,000 and over with a subcontractor of any tier must be submitted to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector for approval. In computing the size of a settlement for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from the gross settlement) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. Any settlement under $10,000 may be required to be submitted to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector for approval or ratification; unless such settlements are so required to be separately submitted, they will be approved as a part of your own settlement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if you have received an authorization to make final settlements of your subcontracts, any settlements made pursuant to the authorization will be recognized by the Government as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the prime contract to which such subcontracts are allocable.

(c) Government review and inspection. You should notify your immediate subcontractors that, even in cases where you have authority to make a final settlement, their statement of claim may be examined by Government accounting personnel and the materials may be inspected by Government inspectors.

21. Retention, sale, or other disposal of inventories by subcontractors—(a) General policies. The same general policies applicable to retention, sale, or other disposal of prime contractor termination inventory (as stated in paragraph 14 above) apply in the case of termination inventory in the hands of subcontractors. It is the policy of the Government that subcontractors be permitted to retain, as against their upper tier contractors, such termination inventories as they desire except in cases where contract rights of upper tier contractors prevent such retention. You should inform your immediate subcontractors of this policy, and should request them in turn to inform their subcontractors.

(b) Claims under $10,000. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (c) below, where a subcontractor's claim (based on his own charges and estimated if necessary) is under $10,000, you are authorized, without further action by the Government, to give final approval to retention, sale or other disposition of such subcontractor's termination inventory. Such sale, retention, or other disposition may be made at the best price obtainable, as defined in paragraph 14 (a) (2) of these instructions. In computing the size of a claim for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from the gross claim) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. In the absence of fraud, any such retention, sale or other disposition will be accepted by the Government as final and conclusive, unless the sale is to you, or the subcontractor or buyer is affiliated with you. The authority outlined herein regarding approvals of property disposition may be revoked (but not retroactively) where the best interests of the Government require it.

(c) Completed articles and Government-furnished material; abandonment of worthless property. The authority granted in paragraph (b) above does not include (i) the authority to retain or sell, or to approve retentions or sales of, completed articles not delivered under the contract and material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items, unless the cost of such articles and such material to be retained or sold, and the amount of the subcontractor's claim, computed according to § 841.122 of the Joint Termination Regulation, total less than $10,000; or (ii) the authority to destroy or abandon, or to approve destruction or abandonment of, worthless property without the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) or disposal board, as required by § 844.447–2 of the Joint Termination Regulation.

SECTION 8—INTERIM FINANCING

22. Partial payments. Partial payments may be made to you, pending the settlement of your termination claim, by either (1) an immediate partial payment before you have had an opportunity to prepare an adequate inventory or statement of costs, or (2) a cost-supported partial payment as promptly as possible after submission of a partial or complete settlement proposal with the prescribed supporting data. Application for any such payment should be made to the Contracting Officer. This application should be on the prescribed form, which may be obtained from him.

[1] This section will normally not be applicable to construction contracts.

(a) Immediate partial payments are based on your estimate of your own costs, and application for any such payment must be accompanied by your certificate that the estimated amount of your own costs allocable to the contract and due as of the date of the certificate is not less than a specified figure, after deducting either your costs with respect to any inventory which you intend to retain, or the agreed price at which you are to retain it. The amount of any such payment, together with all previous unliquidated advance or partial payments applicable to your own costs will not exceed 90% of the figure specified in the certificate.

(b) Cost-supported partial payments are based on partial or complete settlement proposals, and application for any such payment must be accompanied by one or more such proposals, supported by the data required for the submission of a termination claim or by reference to a previously submitted claim.

23. Advance payments. Where funds are on deposit in any advance payment account at the time of termination, the Contracting Officer or the Finance Division, OP&M, for the Navy Department may continue to authorize withdrawal of such funds to make payments chargeable to the account in accordance with applicable regulations. Likewise, amounts previously authorized, but not paid prior to the termination, may be used on termination subject to the same limitations. If your Contract is partially terminated, amounts on deposit in the advance payment account may be used to pay termination charges as well as expenses in connection with performance, and additional advance payments may be authorized, in accordance with procedures governing advance payments for production purposes.

24. Penalty on overpayments and overstatements. To the extent that any partial or advance payment is in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on the termination claim, it will be treated as a loan from the Government, payable on demand, together with a penalty computed at the rate of 6% per annum from the date when it was made to the date of repayment. In addition, the Contract Settlement Act imposes a penalty of 6% on any overstatement of the amount due on a termination claim in connection with interim financing.

25. Loans. A new type of loan, known as a T loan, guaranteed by the Government, is available for the financing of war inventories and receivables pending final settlement of termination claims. If you wish to obtain such a loan, you should first consult your local bank. Guaranteed V bank loans are also available to contractors still in war production.

SECTION 9—RECORDS AND PENALTIES

26. Penal provisions. Section 19 (a) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 makes it a crime, punishable by fine and imprisonment, for any person willfully to secrete, mutilate, obliterate or destroy * * *

"(i) Any records of a war contractor relating to the negotiation, award, performance, payment, interim financing, cancelation or other termination, or settlement of a war contract of $25,000 or more; or

"(ii) Any records of a war contractor and any purchaser relating to any disposition of termination inventory in which the consideration received by any war contractor or any Government agency is $5,000 or more,

"until (1) five years after such disposition of termination inventory by such war contractor or Government Agency, or (2) five years after the final settlement of such war contract, or (3) five years after the termination of hostilities in the present war as proclaimed by the President or by a concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress, whichever applicable period is longer."

The Act also imposes severe penalties for false or fraudulent statements made in connection with the settlement and payment of termination claims.

SECTION 10—MISCELLANEOUS

27. Expenses subsequent to termination. You should submit to the Contracting Officer for his approval all costs incurred by you after the effective date of the Notice (a) for the protection of Government property, or (b) for other expenditures in connection with the terminated contract. (See the termination article in your contract.) You must take adequate precautions to protect property in your possession in which the Government has or may have an interest.

28. Contracting officer. In most cases the Contracting Officer will act through, and be assisted by, members of his staff, who may include material inspectors, disposal officers, accountants, and other technical experts. The Contracting Officer will probably appoint one of them as the negotiator in charge of your settlement, who will conduct the negotiations with you, but will not be authorized to agree finally on the terms of settlement without the approval of the Contracting Officer. He will, however, have such authority as may be delegated to him by the Contracting Officer to approve dispositions of property, settlements with subcontractors, and other terms of final settlement.

In the Navy Department, Navy material inspectors [1] act as general representatives of Navy Contracting Officers in the field. You should consult your War Department Contracting Officer or Navy material inspector for advice and assistance in termination matters and should submit to him your settlement proposals, inventory schedules, applications for partial payments and subcontract settlements requiring Government approval.

29. Delay in filing claim; improper filing. Under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 interest on a termination claim is not payable during the period of any unreasonable delay in settlement caused by the Contractor. Failure to file your claim in accordance with applicable instructions within 60 days after the date fixed for termination may result in suspending the accrual of interest thereafter until such claim is properly filed, unless the Contracting Officer extends such period for good cause. Failure to file your claim properly will also substantially delay its allowance. No charges will be allowed you to the extent that they are found to have resulted from your failure to take action, pursuant to your Notice of Termination or these Instructions, within a time which was reasonable under all the circumstances.

30. Modifications of instructions. The directions in your Notice of Termination and these Instructions may be modified from time to time.

SECTION 10—MISCELLANEOUS

27. Expenses subsequent to termination.
28. Contracting officer.
29. Delay in filing claim; improper filing.
30. Modifications of instructions.

SECTION 1—INTRODUCTION

1. Introductory. These Instructions summarize your principal rights and obligations arising out of the termination of your Contract. They are based upon the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the Surplus Property Act of 1944, and Government regulations issued under these acts. Please read and follow them carefully. For more complete details on matters covered by these Instructions and for information on matters not covered by these Instructions, you should consult the Joint Termination Regulation, issued by the War and Navy Departments.

2. Termination procedure policy. It is the policy of the Government, wherever possible, to settle termination claims by negotiation. Negotiated settlements must, however, be supported by adequate data, and the prompt submission of properly supported settlement proposals will facilitate speedy and equitable final settlements.

3. Effective date of termination and date fixed for termination. The terms "effective date of termination" and "date fixed for termination" mean the date upon which your notice of termination first requires you (1) to reduce or stop deliveries under your Contract, or, (2) if no deliveries are being made or are called for under the Contract, to reduce or stop performance under the Contract. Payment of interest, if any, on your termination claim will be calculated by reference to this date.

4. Incorporation of uniform termination article for CPFF supply contracts. If your terminated Contract does not contain the uniform termination article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, it is requested that if practicable you promptly notify the Contracting Officer named in your notice of termination in order to arrange at once for amending the Contract to include it. This article embodies Government policy on terminations for convenience, and unless the special circumstances of your case make its use unnecessary, amendment of your Contract to include it will greatly facilitate a fair and speedy settlement. Such amendment may be made now, even though your Contract has been terminated.

5. Necessity for prompt action. One of the primary objectives of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 is "to assure to prime contractors and subcontractors, small and large, speedy and equitable final settlement of claims under terminated war contracts, and adequate interim financing until such final settlement." In large measure the speed with which the Government can settle your claim depends upon your vigorous cooperation in taking quickly all necessary steps to submit it in proper form.

6. Confirmation of oral approval. Whenever in these instructions, or in the termination article which forms a part of your Contract, the approval of the Government is required as to any action to be taken by you, you should for your records, require written confirmation of any such approval which has been given orally.

7. Application of these instructions. In general, these Instructions apply to subcontractors as well as prime contractors, except that the subcontractor stands in the same relationship to the contractor to or for whom he is delivering materials or performing services as that in which the prime contractor stands to the Government. To assist in effecting termination settlements, the War and Navy Departments have prepared the Joint Termination Regulation referred to above, which may be obtained by war contractors free of charge from the Readjustment Distribution Center, 6th Floor, 90 Church Street, New York City.

SECTION 2—ACTION TO BE TAKEN UPON RECEIPT OF NOTICE OF TERMINATION

8. Cessation of work and notification to your immediate subcontractors in compliance with the Notice of Termination. In order to comply with your Notice of Termination, and to stop performance in accordance with its terms you should take the following steps:

(a) Discontinuance of work. You should stop all work, make no further shipments, and place no further orders in connection with the Contract, except (1) to the extent necessary to perform any portion thereof not terminated by the Notice, or (2) to the extent that you may wish to retain and continue any work in process or other materials for your own account, or (3) to the extent the Contracting Officer authorizes you to continue work-in-process for reasons of safety, or to clear (or avoid damage to) equipment, or to avoid immediate complete spoilage of work-in-process having a definite commercial value, or otherwise to prevent undue loss to the Government. (If you believe the authorization referred to in subparagraph (3) above is necessary or advisable, you should immediately notify the Contracting Officer by telephone or personal conference and obtain instructions.)

You should keep adequate records of your compliance with this paragraph 8 (a) showing (i) the date you received your Notice of Termination (ii) the effective date of such termination and (iii) the extent of completion of performance on such effective date.

(b) Notice to subcontractors. You should give notice of termination to each of your immediate subcontractors (including suppliers) who will be affected by the termination of your Contract. In such notice (see the form referred to in (c) below) you should (1) give him the number of your Contract with the Government, (2) state that it has been terminated (or terminated in part, if that is the case) for the convenience of the Government, (3) give him the name and address of the Contracting Officer in charge of your claim, as set forth below, (4) instruct him to stop all work, to make no further shipments, to place no more orders, and to terminate all subcontracts under his contract with you (subject to the same exceptions stated in paragraph 8 (a)), (5) direct him to submit his settlement proposal promptly in order to speed up settlement of his termination claim and (6) request him to give similar notice and instructions to his immediate subcontractors. The notice and instructions referred to in (6) should include (i) the name of the Contracting Officer in charge of the claim and his address, (ii) the contract number of the terminated prime contract, and (iii) a request that a similar notice of termination (showing in each case the contract numbers of the terminated prime contract and intermediate subcontracts) be passed down the line promptly to subcontractors of lower tiers, in order that subcontractors of all tiers may receive due notice of termination and be in position to identify their claims and secure prompt settlement thereof.

In any case where to include the number of a terminated prime contract or subcontract would be impracticable or would delay the sending of a notice of termination, this information may be omitted, but should, if possible, be supplied thereafter.

(c) Form of notice and instructions to subcontractors. You are requested to send in triplicate to each of your immediate subcontractors (including suppliers), if any, holding fixed-price (lump sum) supply contracts, a form of Termination Notice substantially in the form enclosed herewith. There is also inclosed a recommended form of "Instructions to Subcontractors Holding Terminated Fixed-Price (Lump Sum) Supply Subcontracts" to accompany the Notice sent to them.

(d) Completed articles. You should notify the Contracting Officer of the number of articles completed under the Contract and still on hand, and arrange with him for their delivery or other disposal.

(e) Pending legal proceedings. You should notify the Contracting Officer of any pending legal proceedings which relate to any subcontracts or purchase orders under the terminated Contract or which have resulted in or which are intended to obtain, a lien or encumbrance on any termination inventory other than termination inventory you propose and are authorized to purchase, retain or dispose of. (The Contracting Officer should also be promptly notified of any such proceedings brought after receipt of the Notice.)

(f) Other action. You should take such other action as may be required by the Contracting Officer or under the termination article contained in your Contract.

9. Notice to workers and cooperation with War Manpower Commission. Contractors are urged by the Government, and requested to urge their subcontractors in all cases where the termination is likely to result in the release of a substantial number of workers, to notify the workers and their union representatives, if any, that the contract was terminated for the convenience of the Government, and to cooperate with the War Manpower Commission by making known their new net labor requirements and allowing the United States Employment Service representative to conduct job interviews at the plant.

SECTION 3—SETTLEMENT PROCEDURE

10. Complete termination—(a) Negotiated settlement procedure in joint termination regulation. For a complete statement of the procedure applicable to the settlement of your contract, it is suggested that you refer to the detailed provisions of the Joint Termination Regulation, especially Subpart F of Part 845.

(b) Discontinuance of vouchers. If any costs have been reimbursed under your contract, prompt discontinuance of Form 1034 vouchers will permit more rapid clearance with the General Accounting Office and will, therefore, materially expedite the settlement of your contract. If you elect to discontinue the use of Form 1034 vouchers, however, you may not thereafter resume the use of such vouchers.

(c) Proposal forms to be used. After discontinuance of Form 1034 vouchers, your costs which have not theretofore been reimbursed by the Government, and your claim for fixed-fee, will be presented on the form "Settlement Proposal For Use on Terminated Cost and Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Contracts". Copies of this form may be obtained from the contracting officer. Such settlement proposals will serve as the basis for interim financing and the negotiation of partial or complete settlements. Each partial settlement proposal will be numbered serially beginning with the number "1", and you should maintain a separate number series for each cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

(d) Partial settlements. Partial settlements may be made with you from time to time after submission of one or more partial proposals. Under such partial settlements the Government will agree with you upon a minimum amount due on the entire claim without determining that this amount is due on particular elements of the claim, leaving the final amount due on the entire claim subject to final negotiation.

11. Partial termination. Unless the contracting officer determines that the terminated portion of your contract is to be settled separately, you should continue to present your costs in the same manner as prior to termination until performance of the contract is complete or performance of any continued portion is only on subsidiary items or spare parts, or is otherwise not substantial. At that time the procedure applicable in the case of a complete termination will be used.

SECTION 4—DISPOSAL OF TERMINATION INVENTORY

12. Contract obligations of contractors with respect to disposal of inventory. (a) "Termination inventory" means any materials (including a proper part of any common materials and including Government-owned materials) properly allocable to the terminated portion of a war contract, except any machinery or equipment held under a separate contract or contract provision specifically governing its use or disposition.

(b) By the terms of clause (b) (7) of the Uniform Termination Article for use in Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Supply Contracts, the contractor is obligated, after receipt of the notice to use his best efforts to sell, in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the Contracting Officer, the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated by the notice, except that the contractor is not required to extend credit to any purchaser, and may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the Contracting Officer or authorized Navy representative.

(c) In disposing of Government-owned termination inventory, you are hereby authorized to credit the proceeds of such disposition against your termination claim, unless the Contracting Officer directs otherwise. If your Contract does not now provide for such disposition and credit, it will be deemed to be amended accordingly, upon your exercise of this authority.

13. Preparation of inventory schedules. Termination inventory schedules for use by war contractors under fixed-price war supply contracts are prescribed by the Office of Contract Settlement (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d). These same schedules shall be used by contractors under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts for purposes of disposal, storage, or removal of termination inventory. You should consult the Contracting Officer as to the extent of information to be submitted.

14. Methods of disposing of termination inventory—(a) General policies. (1) Except as to items which the Government has advised you that it wishes to take over, or as to which it has given you contrary instructions, it is the policy of the Government to encourage contractors either to retain termination inventories or to dispose of them at the best price obtainable. Such retention or disposition is subject to applicable War Production Board regulations and to regulations and orders (as set forth in Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation) of the Surplus Property Board, the Office of Price Administration and other Government agencies.

(2) If you propose to retain or sell termination inventory, the price should be the best price obtainable, and one that you would approve if you were dealing solely for your own account. In the case of a sale or retention for resale, the term the "best price obtainable" means the highest price offered which is adequate in the light of a reasonable knowledge or test of the market, having due regard for current prices for any raw materials or products for which quotations are published and to the circumstances, nature, condition, quantity, and location of the particular property. In the case of a retention for use, the term "best price obtainable" means a price that is fair and reasonable and not less than the net proceeds that could reasonably be expected to be obtained if the item were offered for sale at such time.

(b) Authority to dispose of termination inventory without Government approval. In the following cases, no approval by the Government is required for a retention or sale and in the absence of fraud your action will be accepted as final and conclusive:

(1) Retention or sale of items of inventory cost. You may retain or sell without Government approval any item of inventory at its cost as stated in your inventory schedules provided that such cost is computed upon a reasonably acceptable basis; in the case of items sold, you may include in your termination claim reasonable freight, packing and handling charges, if any.

(2) Disposition of items under $100. You may retain or sell, without Government approval, any item of inventory at the best price obtainable where the total cost of the item does not exceed $100, as stated in your inventory schedules: Provided, That the aggregate cost of all items so retained or sold does not exceed $5,000 or 20 per cent of your total inventory cost, whichever is less. The term "item" includes all substantially similar articles at any one location listed on any one inventory schedule.

(c) All other dispositions. Except as permitted by paragraphs 14 (b) (1) and 14 (b) (2) above, dispositions of termination inventory require the approval of the Contracting Officer or the authorized Navy representative.

(d) Proceeds. The approved price of retention, sale or other disposition will constitute a credit in reduction of your termination claim, unless paid to the Government.

15. Transfer of termination inventory and subcontracts to continuing war contracts—(a) Transfers. Whenever practicable, and where a saving to the Government may be accomplished, you should effect transfers of termination inventory to continuing war contracts even if such transfers necessitate the cancellation of subcontracts already placed under the continuing war contract. Similarly, you should effect transfers of subcontracts for materials, equipment, supplies, and services from terminated contracts to continuing war contracts, where the property or services covered by the subcontracts transferred may be utilized in performance of the continuing war contract.

(b) Costs of transfer. In the case of termination inventory and subcontracts so transferred, you will be paid for your reasonable costs, if any, involved in such transfer. Detailed information as to methods of reimbursement may be found in Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation or may be obtained from the Contracting Officer.

SECTION 5—PLANT CLEARANCE AND REMOVAL OF FACILITIES

16. (a) Plant clearance: The 60-day period. In order to arrange for plant clearance, you may from time to time submit to the Government inventory schedules on the Standard Forms above mentioned (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d). These schedules will constitute your statement showing the materials claimed to be termination inventory which, if not otherwise disposed of prior to settlement, you desire to have removed by the Government from your plant. The obligation of the Government under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to remove or arrange for storage of any items of termination inventory will not arise until sixty days, or such longer time as may be agreed, from the time when these schedules containing a listing of such items, are filed with the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector in accordance with applicable instructions, in satisfactory form, and with the required certificate.

(b) Contractor's right to remove and store. If for any reason the Government does not within such sixty-day period (or longer as agreed on), either remove such materials or enter into an agreement with you for their storage, you may at any time thereafter (using reasonable care in transportation and preservation) remove and store them for the account and at the risk and expense of the Government. You may do so, however, only if you have first delivered to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector (1) 20 days' notice in writing of the date fixed for removal and (2) a statement showing the quantities and condition of the materials so to be removed, certified on your behalf to represent a concurrent physical inventory. At any time after the effective date of termination, you are authorized to remove and store at your own expense and risk any items of termination inventory.

(c) Removal of facilities. It is the policy of the Government, in accordance with the provisions of section 12 (g) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and Regulation 4 of the Office of Contract Settlement to provide for the orderly and expeditious removal from private plants of Government-owned machinery, tools or other equipment which is no longer required for war production or for the national defense. If you have any such equipment in your plant, you should notify the Contracting Officer.

SECTION 6—CONTRACTOR INVENTORY

17. Contractor inventory. In addition to the material allocable to your terminated Contract, you may have in your plant material which is "contractor inventory." The term "contractor inventory" (as used in the Joint Termination Regulation and as defined in the Surplus Property Act) means (1) any property related to a terminated contract of any type with the owning agency or to a subcontract thereunder; (2) any property acquired under a contract pursuant to the terms of which title is vested in the Government, and in excess of the amounts needed to complete performance thereunder; and (3) any property which the Government is obligated to take over under any type of contract as a result of any change in the specifications or plans thereunder. Contractor inventory includes, but is broader than, termination inventory, as that term is defined in the Joint Termination Regulation § 841.121-21 and in the Contract Settlement Act, and also includes any Government-owned material in the war contractor's plant, either before or after expiration of a contract, which is no longer required for the purpose for which it was supplied. You should consult Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation as to the disposal and removal of this type of material

SECTION 7—SUBCONTRACTORS AND SUPPLIERS

18. Settlement proposals to be obtained from subcontractors. Fixed-price subcontractors are required to use the Standard Form in submitting their proposals in accordance with the Instructions for their use. In the case of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts, the procedure for settlement set forth in section 3 for the settlement of your Contract will in general be applicable.

19. Review of settlement proposals of subcontractors—(a) Extent of review. It is your responsibility in the first instance to review or examine all settlement proposals delivered to you by your immediate subcontractors. Your duty in this regard is similar to that of the Government in passing upon the settlement proposals submitted by you. You are required at least to cause an office review to be made of each such proposal (which should include an accounting review where the net amount of the claim is $1,000 or more); and you should make a written report of each such review, to be furnished to the Government if requested.

(b) Extent of responsibility. You should in every case make such examination as is reasonable under all the circumstances and you will be held to the standard of scrutiny that a prudent business man would ordinarily employ in the conduct of his own affairs. You will not be required to warrant the accuracy of the facts presented by the subcontractors; but you will be required to certify that, on the basis of a review or examination which you believe to be adequate, you are of the opinion that settlements of the charges of your immediate subcontractors are fair and reasonable, are allocable to the terminated portion of your Contract, were negotiated in good faith, and are not more favorable to the subcontractors than you would make if reimbursement by the Government were not involved.

20. Settlement of immediate subcontractors' claims—(a) Settlements under $1,000. Where an immediate fixed-price subcontractor submits to you a settlement proposal properly made out on Standard Form 1a, you are authorized, without further action by the Government, to make a final settlement with such subcontractor. If you make such a settlement (which must involve a net amount of less than $1,000 after deducting property disposal credits), you will also, in so doing, approve the subcontractor's credits for retention or disposal of termination inventory.

(b) Other settlements. Each settlement of $10,000 and over with a subcontractor of any tier must be submitted to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector for approval. In computing the size of a settlement for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from the gross settlement) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. Any settlement under $10,000 may be required to be submitted to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector for approval or ratification; unless such settlements are so required to be separately submitted, they will be approved as a part of your own settlement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if you have received an authorization to make final settlements of your subcontracts, any settlements made pursuant to the authorization will be recognized by the Government as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the prime contract to which such subcontracts are allocable.

(c) Government review and inspection. You should notify your immediate subcontractors that, even in cases where you have authority to make a final settlement, their statement of claim, may be examined by Government accounting personnel and the materials may be inspected by Government inspectors.

21. Retention, sale, or other disposal of inventories by subcontractors—(a) General policies. The same general policies applicable to retention, sale, or other disposal of prime contractor termination inventory (as stated in paragraph 14 above) apply in the case of termination inventory in the hands of subcontractors. It is the policy of the Government that subcontractors be permitted to retain, as against their upper tier contractors such termination inventories as they desire except in cases where contract rights of upper tier contractors prevent such retention. You should inform your immediate subcontractors of this policy, and should request them in turn to inform their subcontractors.

(b) Claims under $10,000. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (c) below, where a subcontractor's claim (based on his own charges and estimated if necessary) is under $10,000, you are authorized, without further action by the Government, to give final approval to retention, sale or other disposition of such subcontractor's termination inventory. Such sale, retention, or other disposition may be made at the best price obtainable, as defined in paragraph 14 (a) (2) of these Instructions. In computing the size of a claim for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from the gross claim) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. In the absence of fraud, any such retention, sale or other disposition will be accepted by the Government as final and conclusive, unless the sale is to you, or the subcontractor or buyer is affiliated with you. The authority outlined herein regarding approvals of property disposition may be revoked (but not retroactively) where the best interests of the Government require it.

(c) Completed articles and Government furnished material; abandonment of worthless property. The authority granted in paragraph (b) above does not include (i) the authority to retain or sell, or to approve retentions or sales of, completed articles not delivered under the Contract, and material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items unless the cost of such articles and such material to be retained or sold and the amount of the subcontractor's claim, computed according to § 841.122 of the Joint Termination Regulation, total less than $10,000; or (ii) the authority to destroy or abandon or to approve destruction or abandonment of, worthless property without the approval of the Contracting Officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) or disposal board as required by § 844.447.2 of the Joint Termination Regulation.

SECTION 8—INTERIM FINANCING

22. Partial payments. Partial payments may be made to you, pending the settlement of your termination claim, by either (1) an immediate partial payment before you have had an opportunity to prepare an adequate inventory or statement of costs, or (2) a cost-supported partial payment as promptly as possible after submission of a partial or complete settlement proposal with the prescribed supporting data. Application for any such payment should be made to the Contracting Officer. This application should be on the prescribed form, which may be obtained from him.

(a) Immediate partial payments are based on your estimate of your own costs, and application for any such payment must be accompanied by your certificate that the estimated amount of your own costs allocable to the contract and due as of the date of the certificate is not less than a specified figure, after deducting any required credits. Your estimate of your costs need not be limited to the partial proposals already filed, but may include other amounts due you for which partial proposals have not yet been filed. The amount of any partial payment, together with all previous unliquidated advance or partial payments applicable to your own costs, will not exceed 90% of the figure specified in the certificate.

(b) Cost-supported partial payments are based on partial or complete settlement proposals, and application for any such payment must be accompanied by one or more such proposals, supported by the data required for the submission of a termination claim or by reference to a previously submitted claim.

23. Advance payments. Where funds are on deposit in any advance payment account at the time of termination, the Contracting Officer or the Finance Division, OP&M, for the Navy Department, may continue to authorize withdrawal of such funds to make payments chargeable to the account, in accordance with applicable regulations. Likewise, amounts previously authorized, but not paid prior to the termination, may be used on termination subject to the same limitations. If your Contract is partially terminated, amounts on deposit in the advance payment account may be used to pay termination charges as well as expenses in connection with performance, and additional advance payments may be authorized, in accordance with procedures governing advance payments for production purposes.

24. Penalty on overstatements and overpayments. To the extent that any partial or advance payment is in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on the termination claim, it will be treated as a loan from the Government, payable on demand, together with a penalty computed at the rate of 6% per annum from the date when it was made to the date of repayment. In addition, the Contract Settlement Act imposes a penalty of 6% on any overstatement of the amount due on a termination claim in connection with interim financing.

25. Loans. A new type of loan, known as a T loan, guaranteed by the Government, is available for the financing of war inventories and receivables pending final settlement of termination claims. If you wish to obtain such a loan, you should consult your local bank. Guaranteed V bank loans are also available to contractors still in war production.

SECTION 9—RECORDS AND PENALTIES

26. Penal provisions. Section 19 (a) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 makes it a crime, punishable by fine and imprisonment, for any person wilfully to secrete, mutilate, obliterate, or destroy • • •

"(1) Any records of a war contractor relating to the negotiation, award, performance, payment, interim financing, cancelation or other termination, or settlement of a war contract of $25,000 or more;

or

"(ii) Any records of a war contractor and any purchaser relating to any disposition of termination inventory in which the consideration received by any war contractor or any Government agency is $5,000 or more.

"until (1) five years after such disposition of termination inventory by such war contractor or Government Agency, or (2) five years after the final settlement of such war contract, or (3) five years after the termination of hostilities in the present war as proclaimed by the President or by a concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress, whichever applicable period is longer."

The Act also imposes severe penalties for false or fraudulent statements made in connection with the settlement and payment of termination claims.

SECTION 10—MISCELLANEOUS

27. Expenses subsequent to termination. You should submit to the Contracting Officer for his approval all costs incurred by you after the effective date of the Notice (a) for the protection of Government property, or (b) for other expenditures in connection with the terminated contract. (See the termination article in your contract.) You must take adequate precautions to protect property in your possession in which the Government has or may have an interest.

28. Contracting Officer. In most cases, the Contracting Officer will act through, and be assisted by, members of his staff, who may include material inspectors, disposal officers, accountants, and other technical experts. The Contracting Officer will probably appoint one of them as the negotiator in charge of your settlement, who will conduct the negotiations with you, but will not be authorized to agree finally on the terms of settlement without the approval of the Contracting Officer. He will, however, have such authority as may be delegated to him by the Contracting Officer to approve dispositions of property, settlements with subcontractors, and other terms of final settlement.

In the Navy Department, Navy material inspectors[1] act as general representatives of Navy Contracting Officers in the field. You should consult your War Department Contracting Officer or Navy material inspector for advice and assistance in termination matters and should submit to him your settlement proposals, inventory schedules, applications for partial payments and subcontract settlements requiring Government approval.

[1] The term "Navy material inspector" includes an Inspector of Naval Material, a Naval Inspector of Ordnance, a Supervisor of Shipbuilding, a Naval Inspector of Machinery, a Bureau of Aeronautics Representative and an Officer in Charge of Construction.

29. Delay in filing claim; improper filing. Under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 interest on a termination claim is not payable during the period of any unreasonable delay in settlement caused by the Contractor. Failure to file your claim in accordance with applicable instructions within 60 days after the date fixed for termination may result in suspending the accrual of interest thereafter until such claim is properly filed, unless the Contracting Officer extends such period for good cause. Failure to file your claim properly will also substantially delay its allowance. No charges will be allowed you to the extent that they are found to have resulted from your failure to take action, pursuant to your Notice of Termination or these Instructions, within a time which was reasonable under all the circumstances.

30. Modifications of instructions. The directions in your Notice of Termination and these Instructions may be modified from time to time.

Our contract (or order) with you, No.-------- is a subcontract to perform work or to make or furnish material required for the performance of said Government Contract, and is therefore terminated hereby. Such termination will be effective:

[Here insert either "immediately upon your receipt of this Notice" or "on ----------, 194--" (inserting the date), or "as soon as you have delivered under said contract (or order) the following number of each of the items listed below, including those heretofore delivered, to wit: ---------- or "on ----------, 194--, on which date you are hereby directed to reduce the rate of delivery under said contract (or order) as follows:" (here insert instructions as to reduced rate of delivery).] If this termination will result in the release of labor, facilities, or production tools, you are requested to notify your nearest War Production Board office immediately.

2. Inclosed instructions. Inclosed herewith is a short statement entitled "Instructions to Subcontractors Holding Terminated Fixed-Price (Lump Sum) Supply Subcontracts", which was furnished to us by the Government and which outlines briefly your principal rights and obligations not covered by this Notice. You should read and follow carefully these Instructions.

3. Disposal of termination inventory. (a) You are authorized and urged to retain or dispose of all termination inventory in accordance with Section 4 of the Instructions, except for the following property: [Here list all property which the signer wishes, or has been advised that the Government wishes, to take over and give full instructions relating thereto.]

(b) In connection with final settlement of your claim (other than a "no-cost" settlement, see paragraph 5 (c) below), it will be necessary to establish that all your termination inventory and that of your subcontractors has been properly accounted for, as provided in the Joint Termination Regulation of the War and Navy Departments, § 844.451–1. If your claim is properly submitted on Standard Form 1a of the Office of Contract Settlement, you need not furnish further evidence of this fact unless notified to the contrary. In all other cases you should be prepared to furnish us a certificate in substantially the form prescribed in the Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.973, and you should advise each of your immediate subcontractors who intends to make a claim (other than a claim properly submitted on Standard Form 1a) that he should be prepared to furnish you a similar certificate.

4. Completed articles. Completed articles which have been shipped but not received prior to the effective date of termination will be considered for all purposes as articles delivered prior to such effective date, and should, therefore, be invoiced in the usual way and not included in your termination claim.

5. Submission of settlement proposal. (a) We wish, and have been urged by the Government, to settle your termination claim by negotiation and on such terms as will speedily and fairly compensate you therefor. To assist you in prompt submission of your Settlement Proposal, there is inclosed herewith one set of the Standard Forms of the Office of Contract Settlement for use by all fixed-price war supply contractors. Additional copies for your own use and for your subcontractors, if any, may be obtained from us or from the Government office named below, which will be in charge of the settlement of the prime contract. [In the case of the Navy, substitute "from your cognizant Navy material inspector."]

(b) Your settlement proposal, supporting inventory schedules, if any, application for partial payment, and all related papers should be submitted to us, in the absence of contrary instructions. [In the case of the Navy, add a statement requiring the submission of any settlement proposal of $10,000 or more via the subcontractor's cognizant Navy material inspector.]

[Include the following subparagraph (c) unless it appears clearly inappropriate in view of the size of the subcontract terminated or for other obvious reasons known to the contractor sending the notice of termination. If this subparagraph is included, there should be inclosed two copies of the "No-Cost" Subcontract Settlement Agreement referred to therein.]

(c) If you do not wish to present a termination claim against us, please sign and return both copies of the inclosed form of "No-Cost" Subcontract Settlement Agreement (Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.987–2). One copy signed by us will be returned for your files.

§ 849.944–3 Instructions for use by prime contractors in terminating fixed-price (lump sum) supply subcontracts. Instructions in substantially the following form are recommended for use by prime contractors in terminating fixed-price (lump sum) supply subcontracts. This recommended form of instructions should be sent to prime contractors along with their own letter notice of termination.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SUBCONTRACTORS HOLDING TERMINATED FIXED-PRICE (LUMP SUM) SUPPLY SUBCONTRACTS

1. Introductory. These Instructions summarize your principal rights and obligations arising out of the termination of your subcontract. They are based upon the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the Surplus Property Act of 1944, and Government regulations issued under those acts. For more complete details on matters covered by these Instructions and for information on matters not covered by these Instructions, you should consult the Joint Termination Regulation, issued by the War and Navy Departments, which may be obtained by war contractors free of charge from the Readjustment Distribution Center, 6th Floor, 90 Church Street, New York City.

2. Cessation of work and notification to your immediate subcontractors in compliance with the Notice of Termination. In order to comply with your Notice of Termination, and to stop performance in accordance with its terms, you should take the following steps:

(a) Stop all work, make no further shipments, and place no further orders in connection with your subcontract (or order) except (1) to the extent necessary to perform any portion thereof not terminated by the Notice, or (2) to the extent that you may wish to retain and continue any work in process or other materials for your own account, or (3) to the extent the Contracting Officer authorizes you to continue work-in-process for reasons of safety, or to clear (or avoid damage to) equipment or to avoid immediate complete spollage of work-in-process having a definite commercial value, or otherwise to prevent undue loss to the Government. (If you believe the authorization referred to in subparagraph (3) above is necessary or advisable, you should immediately notify the responsible Contracting Officer of the Government by telephone or personal conference and obtain instructions.

You should keep adequate records of your compliance with this paragraph 2 (a) showing (i) the date you received your Notice of Termination, (ii) the effective date of such termination, and (iii) the extent of completion of performance on such effective date.

(b) Give notice of such termination to each of your immediate subcontractors (including suppliers) who will be affected thereby. In such notice you should (1) give him the number of the terminated prime contract, (2) state that it has been terminated [or partially terminated] for the convenience of the Government, (3) give him the name and address of the Contracting Officer, as set forth in your Notice of Termination, (4) instruct him to stop all work, to make no further shipments, to place no more orders, and to terminate all subcontracts, in connection with his subcontract with you (subject to the same exceptions stated in paragraph 2 (a)), (5) direct him to submit his settlement proposal promptly in order to speed up settlement of his termination claim, and (6) request him to give similar notice and instructions to his immediate subcontractors. (The form of any notice of termination sent by you and by any subcontractor of a lower tier should follow closely the form of your Notice of Termination, with only those changes required by the facts of a particular case.)

(c) Notify us of the number of articles completed under your subcontract and arrange with us for their delivery or other disposal. All completed articles, accepted and delivered after the effective date of termination, will be treated as articles delivered under your subcontract. They should, therefore, be invoiced in the usual way and not included in your termination claim.

3. Settlement with your subcontractors. You are requested to settle with all of your immediate subcontractors without delay. In general, the policies and procedures applicable to our settlement with you apply to your settlements with your subcontractors.

(a) Settlements under $1,000. Where an immediate subcontractor submits to you a settlement proposal properly made out on Standard Form 1a of the Office of Contract Settlement (i. e., a proposal which involves less than $1,000 after deducting property disposal credits) you are authorized, without further action by the Government or by us, to make a final settlement with such subcontractor.

(b) Other settlements. Each settlement of $10,000 and over with a subcontractor of any tier must be separately approved by the Government. In computing the size of a settlement for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from the gross settlement) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. Any settlement under $10,000 may be required to be submitted to the Government for approval or ratification; unless such settlements are so required to be separately submitted, they will be approved as a part of your own settlement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if you have received an authorization to make final settlements of your subcontracts, any settlements made pursuant to the authorization will be recognized by the Government as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the prime contract to which such subcontracts are allocable.

(c) Any settlement, even though final, may be examined by Government accounting personnel and termination inventory thereunder may be inspected by Government inspectors.

4. Disposal of termination inventory—(a) It is the policy of the Government that subcontractors be permitted to retain, as against their upper tier contractors, such termination inventories as they desire. You are urged to retain your inventory or to dispose of it. Such retention or sale must be subject to regulations and orders of the War Production Board, the Surplus Property Board, the Office of Price Administration and other Government agencies. You should inform your immediate subcontractors of this policy, and should request them in turn to inform their subcontractors.

(b) Preparation of inventory schedules. Where your settlement proposal is for less than $1,000 and properly submitted on Form 1a, you need not submit separate inventory schedules. Otherwise, your inventory should be listed on the Inventory Schedules prescribed for all fixed-price war supply contractors by the Office of Contract Settlement (Standard Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d).

(c) Authority to dispose of termination inventory without approval. In the following cases, no approval is required for a retention or sale, and in the absence of fraud your action will be accepted as final and conclusive:

(1) Retention or sale of items at inventory cost. You may retain or sell, without approval, any item of inventory at its cost as stated in your inventory schedules: Provided, That such cost is computed upon a reasonably acceptable basis; in the case of items sold, you may include in your termination claim reasonable freight, packing and handling charges, if any.

(2) Disposition of items under $100. You may retain or sell, without approval, any item of inventory at the best price obtainable where the total cost of the item does not exceed $100, as stated in your inventory schedules: Provided, That the aggregate cost of all items so retained or sold does not exceed $5,000 or 20 percent of your total inventory cost, whichever is less. The term "item" includes all substantially similar articles at any one location listed on any one inventory schedule.

(d) Claims under $10,000. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (e) below, where your claim (based on your own charges and estimated if necessary) is under $10,000, you may sell, retain, or otherwise finally dispose of any item of termination inventory, subject only to our approval unless the sale is to us or unless you are affiliated with us. In computing the size of your claim for purposes of this paragraph, you should deduct (from your gross claim) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and subcontract claims, but not disposal credits. In the absence of fraud, any such retention, sale or other disposition will be accepted by the Government as final and conclusive.

In the case of your immediate subcontractors, you may approve the sale, retention or other disposition of their termination inventory upon the same terms as those stated in this paragraph.

(e) Completed articles and Government furnished material; Abandonment of worthless property. The authority granted in paragraph (d) above does not include (1) the authority to retain or sell, or to approve retentions or sales of, completed articles not delivered under the contract and material furnished by the Government for incorporation in end items unless the cost of such articles and such material to be retained or sold, and the amount of the subcontractor's claim, computed according to paragraph 122 of the Joint Termination Regulation, total less than $10,000; or (ii) the authority to destroy or abandon or to approve destruction or abandonment of worthless property without the approval of the Contracting Officer (in the case of the Navy the local NMR&DA officer) or disposal board as required by § 804.447–2 of the Joint Termination Regulation.

(f) Other dispositions. Other dispositions of termination inventory should be approved by the Contracting Officer or authorized Navy representative.

5. Plant clearance—(a) The 60-day period. In order to arrange for plant clearance, you may from time to time submit inventory schedules to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector (with a copy to us) on the Standard Forms above mentioned (Forms 2a, 2b, 2c and 2d). These schedules will constitute your statement showing the materials claimed to be termination inventory which, if not otherwise disposed of prior to settlement, you desire to have removed by the Government from your plant. The obligation of the Government under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to remove or arrange for storage of any items of termination inventory will not arise until sixty days, or such longer time as may be agreed, from the time when these schedules containing a listing of such items are filed with the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector in accordance with applicable instructions, in satisfactory form, and with the required certificate.

(b) Contractor's right to remove and store. If for any reason the Government does not, within such sixty-day period (or longer as agreed on), either remove such materials or enter into an agreement with you for their storage, you may at any time thereafter (using reasonable care in transportation and preservation) remove and store them for the account and at the risk and expense of the Government. You may do so, however, only if you have first delivered to the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector, (1) 20 days' notice in writing of the date fixed for removal and (2) a statement showing the quantities and condition of the materials so to be removed, certified to represent a concurrent physical inventory. At any time after the effective date of termination, you are authorized to remove and store at your own expense and risk any items of termination inventory.

6. Removal of facilities. It is the policy of the Government, in accordance with the provisions of section 12 (g) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, and Regulation No. 4 of the Office of Contract Settlement to provide for the orderly and expeditious removal from private plants of Government-owned machinery, tools or equipment which is no longer required for war production or for the national defense. If you have any such equipment in your plant, you should notify the Contracting Officer.

7. Contractor inventory. In addition to the material allocable to your subcontract, you may have in your plant material which is "contractor inventory." The term "contractor inventory" (as used in the Joint Termination Regulation and as defined in the Surplus Property Act) means (1) any property related to a terminated contract of any type with the owning agency or to a subcontract thereunder; (2) any property acquired under a contract pursuant to the terms of which title is vested in the Government, and in excess of the amounts needed to complete performance thereunder; and (3) any property which the Government is obligated to take over under any type of contract as a result of any change in the specifications or plans thereunder. Contractor inventory includes, but is broader than, termination inventory, as that term is defined in the Joint Termination Regulation § 841.121–21 and in the Contract Settlement Act, and also includes any Government-owned material in the war contractor's plant, either before or after the expiration of a contract, which is no longer required for the purpose for which it was supplied. You should consult Part 844 of the Joint Termination Regulation as to the disposal and removal of this type of material.

8. Interim financing. It is the policy of the Government, pending the settlement of your claim, to provide you with adequate interim financing, within 30 days after proper application. Such financing may be effected by one or more of the following methods:

(a) A new simplified type of guaranteed T Loan, solely for use on termination, is now available;

(b) For contractors still in war production guaranteed V Loans may be arranged;

(c) Contractors will be given liberal partial payments while their terminated contracts are in process of settlement, which may be either (1) immediate payments based on an estimate of the amount due, or (2) cost-supported payments based on a statement of costs;

(d) Advance payments authorized prior to termination may, where the agreement so provides, be used with the approval of the Contracting Officer, or the Finance Division, OP&M, for the Navy Department, to pay for items included in your termination claim.

Further information may be secured from the Contracting Officer and may be found in the Joint Termination Regulation, Part 843.

9. Delay in filing claim; improper filing. Under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 interest on a termination claim is not payable during the period of any unreasonable delay in settlement caused by the Contractor. Failure to file your claim in the proper form within 60 days after the date fixed for termination may suspend the accrual of interest thereafter until the claim is properly filed. Failure to file your claim properly will also substantially delay its allowance. In preparing it, you should remember that its allowance will normally create a cost to be reimbursed to the prime contractor by the Government; that your statement of costs may be subject to Government examination; and that any items listed on your inventory schedules may be subject to Government inspection. No charges will be allowed you to the extent that they are found to have resulted from your failure to take action, pursuant to your Notice of Termination or these Instructions, within a time which was reasonable under all the circumstances.

10. Effective date of termination and date fixed for termination. The terms "effective date of termination" and "date fixed for termination" mean the date upon which your notice of termination first requires you (1) to reduce or stop deliveries under your contract, or, (2) if no deliveries are being made or are called for under the contract, to reduce or stop performance under the contract. Payment of interest, if any, on your termination claim will be calculated by reference to this date.

11. Pending legal proceedings. You should notify us of any pending legal proceedings which relate to any subcontracts or purchase orders under your terminated subcontract or which have resulted in or which are intended to obtain, a lien or encumbrance on any termination inventory other than termination inventory you propose and are authorized to retain or dispose of.

12. Destruction of records. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944, Section 19 (a), makes it a crime, punishable by fine and imprisonment, to destroy wilfully, within a period extending for at least five years after the end of the war, (a) any records of a war contractor which relate to a war contract of $25,000 or more, or (b) any records of a war contractor or purchaser which relate to termination inventory involving $5,000 or more. The Act also imposes severe penalties for false and fraudulent statements made in connection with the settlement and payment of termination claims.

13. Incorporation of "Approved Termination Provision". The Government has issued a standard form of contract article called "Approved Termination Provision for Use in Fixed-Price Orders or Subcontracts for the Manufacture of Supplies under Government War Contracts"; (This form appears in the Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.936.) This provision embodies Government policy on termination of fixed-price subcontracts. If your subcontract does not contain the provision, you may raise with us the question of amending your subcontract to include it.

14. Contracting officer. The Contracting Officer means the Government officer in charge of the settlement of the prime contractor's claim. In most cases he will act through, and be assisted by, members of his staff, who may include material inspectors, disposal officers, accountants, and other technical experts. In the Navy Department, Navy material inspectors,[1] act as general representatives of Navy Contracting Officers in the field. You should consult us for advice and assistance in termination matters. Where necessary, however, the Contracting Officer or your Navy material inspector is also available to help you.

15. Modification of instructions. The directions in your Notice of Termination and these Instructions may be modified from time to time.

Provisions as to collateral and other protective provisions prescribed by the Guarantor should also be described here, or, if preferred, by referring to an annexed loan agreement or other similar instrument; but the terms and the provisions of such agreement or instrument should not be made a part of or incorporated in the guarantee agreement.)

(D) The word "obligation" shall mean the instrument or instruments evidencing the Borrower's indebtedness under the loan and any renewals or extensions thereof.

(E) The term "guaranteed percentage" shall mean (1) _____ per cent, or (2) the percentage specified above as increased by an adjustment thereof under section 8 or section 9 of this agreement.

(J) The words "Reserve Bank" shall mean the Federal Reserve Bank of _____ as fiscal agent of the United States acting on behalf of the Guarantor in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order No. 9112 of March 26, 1942, and as applicable provisions of law.

(K) A "war production contract" shall mean any contract (other than a contract solely for the construction or acquisition of facilities to be used by the Borrower) made or order accepted by the Borrower for the sale or furnishing by the Borrower of materials, equipment, supplies, facilities, or services or for the processing or treatment by the Borrower of materials, which (a) constitutes a prime contract with the War Department, Navy Department, or Maritime Commission or (b) constitutes a contract made or order accepted by the Borrower to aid directly or indirectly in the performance of any prime contract with any of said Government agencies.

SEC. 2. Guarantee as to sharing of losses and expenses. (A) All losses of principal and interest on the loan, and all expenses as defined in paragraph (D) of this section, shall be shared ratably by the Guarantor and the Financing Institution in accordance with the guaranteed percentage and the unguaranteed percentage, respectively, as such losses, expenses and percentages exist on the date of settlement between the Financing Institution and the Guarantor, regardless of whether or not any purchase has been made under this agreement.

(B) The date of settlement between the Financing Institution and the Guarantor shall be such date as may be agreed upon by the parties or, if no such date is agreed upon, the thirtieth day after the date on which either party to this agreement receives from the other party a written request for such settlement, but no such request will be made by the Guarantor prior to maturity nor prior to the time when the amount of the ultimate losses and expenses appears to be determinable with reasonable certainty.

(C) In determining losses under paragraph (A) of this section, all amounts which, on the date of settlement, have not been paid shall be regarded as losses even though they may appear to be recoverable thereafter. All net recoveries realized after the date of settlement, from whatever source realized, shall be shared ratably by the Guarantor and the Financing Institution on the basis prescribed in this section.

(D) For the purposes of this section, expenses shall mean all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses (including reasonable counsel fees incurred by the Financing Institution or the Reserve Bank prior to but not after any purchase under this agreement) which relate to the enforcement of the loan or the preservation of the collateral and which are incurred during the period of any default in the payment of principal or interest, and which have not been recovered from the Borrower.

SEC. 3 Agreement to purchase. (A) Upon written demand or demands made by the Financing Institution on the Reserve Bank at any time prior to the date of settlement between the Guarantor and the Financing Institution, the Guarantor will purchase from the Financing Institution, on the tenth (10th) day after the receipt by the Reserve Bank of such a demand, the guaranteed percentage of the unpaid principal amount of the loan, less any amounts which have been previously purchased by the Guarantor under any provision of this agreement and have not been repaid. Such purchases will be made by the Guarantor from time to time either as a whole or in such portions as may be demanded in writing as above specified.

(B) Any purchase by the Guarantor pursuant to any provision of this agreement shall be made at the Reserve Bank, and the amount that the Guarantor shall pay shall be the face amount of the portion of the unpaid principal amount of the obligation so purchased, as of the date of the demand, plus all unpaid accrued interest on such portion, with appropriate adjustment for guarantee fees, computed as of the date of purchase. Such purchase shall be made for cash, except that if the Guarantor owns an interest in any obligation which has been issued under a revolving credit arrangement and if, at or before the maturity of such obligation, the Reserve Bank receives written demand from the Financing Institution for the purchase of the same or a lesser amount of a new obligation to be issued in place of such maturing obligation, payment for the portion of the new obligation purchased pursuant to such demand will be made by the Guarantor by surrendering, at or before maturity, its interest in the maturing obligation, in the amount of the demand by the Financing Institution and without regard to the ten day period specified in paragraph (A) of this section.

SEC. 4. Administration of loan and possession of obligation and collateral. (A) Prior to any purchase under this agreement, the Financing Institution shall administer the loan and shall hold the obligation and the collateral for the loan. Whenever the Guarantor becomes the owner of any part of the loan under this agreement, the Financing Institution shall continue to administer the loan and to hold said obligation and collateral, and shall forthwith deliver to the Reserve Bank a certificate reciting that the Financing Institution holds said obligation and collateral for the account of the Guarantor to the extent of the Guarantor's interest therein. In any such case, however, upon written demand by the Reserve Bank, the Financing Institution shall forthwith endorse the obligation to the Reserve Bank without recourse or warranty and shall assign the collateral (or its interest therein if such collateral cannot be assigned because it is held for the account of more than one Financing Institution) to the Reserve Bank without recourse or warranty, except as to the genuineness of the signature of the Borrower to any instrument, and shall forthwith deliver to the Reserve Bank possession of the obligation and of the collateral (or an assignment of its interest therein as above provided). Thereupon the Reserve Bank shall issue to the Financing Institution a certificate reciting that the Reserve Bank holds said obligation and collateral for the account of the Financing Institution to the extent of the Financing Institution's interest therein. Thereafter the Guarantor, through the agency of the Reserve Bank, shall administer the loan and shall hold said obligation and collateral for the account of the Guarantor and the Financing Institution as their interests in the obligation may appear. The Guarantor and the Financing Institution shall at all times during the existence of this agreement have the right to examine and inspect said obligation and collateral.

(B) Whenever the Guarantor becomes the Holder of the obligation, the Financing Institution will at any time at the written request of the Guarantor furnish to the Guarantor such instruments as may be reasonably necessary or appropriate to enable the Guarantor to administer the loan and enforce the obligation and collateral for the loan in accordance with the terms of the loan.

(C) Nothing contained in this or any other section of this agreement shall be construed to prevent the Financing Institution from offering the obligation as collateral for advances by a Federal Reserve Bank, if such obligation is otherwise eligible and acceptable as collateral for such advances.

SEC. 5. Ratable application of collections. All amounts at any time paid or credited on the obligation, from whatever source realized, shall be applied ratably for the benefit of the Financing Institution and the Guarantor according to their respective interests in the obligation. All amounts so paid or credited upon the obligation after the date of a demand by the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, as the case may be, for a purchase under this agreement and prior to the date of such purchase shall be applied as above provided according to such respective interests of the Guarantor and the Financing Institution as such interests exist immediately after such purchase. The Holder of the obligation and collateral shall receive all payments from the Borrower in connection with the obligation and shall promptly remit to the other party to this agreement such other party's share thereof.

SEC. 6. Application of proceeds of collateral and other assets. (A) There shall first be applied to the full payment of the loan before they are applied to the payment of other indebtedness of the Borrower to the Financing Institution: (1) All proceeds of any collateral for the loan; and (2) all proceeds of accounts receivable and of inventories (including finished products and work in process) arising under the Borrower's war production contracts, to the extent that such accounts receivable or inventories are taken or appropriated by the Financing Institution, except war production contracts under which claims may heretofore have been, or may with the written consent of the Guarantor hereafter be, specifically assigned to the Financing Institution as security solely for other indebtedness of the Borrower to the Financing Institution. If any funds on deposit, or other amounts payable to the Borrower by the Financing Institution, or other assets of the Borrower (except those described in clause (2) above) which are not specifically pledged as security for any indebtedness shall be taken or appropriated by the Financing Institution, the Financing Institution shall apply such funds and the proceeds of such other assets pro rata against the then unpaid balance of the loan and the then unpaid balance of such other indebtedness of the Borrower to the Financing Institution. Funds on deposit, amounts payable, and other assets shall not be considered to be specifically pledged for any indebtedness, within the meaning of this section, if the right of the Financing Institution to apply the proceeds thereof to such indebtedness exists only by virtue of the right of banker's lien or setoff or only by virtue of a "spreader", "overlap" or "cross-lien" provision in any note or loan agreement.

(B) There shall first be applied by the Guarantor to the full payment of the loan, before they are applied to the payment of other indebtedness of the Borrower to the Guarantor, all proceeds obtained by the Guarantor from: (1) accounts receivable and inventories (including finished products and work in process) arising under the Borrower's war production contracts, and (2) any right of priority accruing to the Guarantor on account of any claim by the Guarantor against the Borrower, and (3) any right of setoff in respect of amounts due to the Borrower on any war production contract (except a right of setoff arising out of a claim under the same contract); except that the foregoing shall not apply to any pledge, lien, or other security taken by the Guarantor as collateral for an advance payment or loan by the Guarantor to the Borrower.

SEC. 7. Actions as to obligation or collateral. The Holder shall not, without the prior written consent of the other party to this agreement, (a) make or consent to any material alteration in the terms of the loan or collateral for the loan; (b) make or consent to any release, sale, transfer, further pledge, subordination or substitution of any of said collateral for the loan; or (c) give any consent or waiver under any provision of the loan restricting the use of funds of the Borrower. However, the consent of the other party shall not be necessary with respect to any release or substitution of such collateral required or authorized by the terms of the loan as such terms are described in paragraph (C) of section 1 of this agreement or in any instrument referred to therein, and no notice of any such action need be given to the other party. The Holder, unless prior objection thereto shall have been made in writing by the other party, may extend the term of the loan, but, without the prior written consent of the other party, not more than once and for not more than sixty (60) days, but notice of any such extension shall be thereafter promptly transmitted to the other party. The taking of additional collateral or security shall not be considered a material alteration in the terms of the loan or collateral for the loan.

SEC. 8. Refusal of guarantor to consent to accelerated maturity. The Financing Institution, if it be the Holder, shall not exercise any option to accelerate the maturity of the obligation without the prior written consent of the Guarantor. If such an option exists (whether or not conditioned upon the giving of notice to the Borrower) on the part of the Holder to accelerate the maturity of the obligation and (a) the Guarantor fails to give its written consent, within ten (10) days after the Reserve Bank shall have received a written request from the Financing Institution to do so, to the acceleration of the maturity of the obligation or (b) if the Guarantor be the Holder and does not, within ten (10) days after the Reserve Bank shall have received a written request from the Financing Institution that the Guarantor do so, initiate appropriate action to accelerate the maturity of the obligation, the guaranteed percentage shall thereupon, in either event, effective ten (10) days after the receipt of such request, be 100 per cent. The Guarantor may, after giving notice to the Financing Institution, exercise any option to accelerate the maturity of the obligation without obtaining the consent of the Financing Institution, and the loan shall so provide.

SEC. 9. Failure to sue or consent to suit. The Financing Institution, if it be the Holder, shall not, without the prior written consent of the Guarantor, bring suit to enforce payment of the obligation or any installment thereof, or directly or indirectly institute bankruptcy, receivership or insolvency proceedings against the Borrower, or foreclose on or otherwise enforce realization of the collateral by exercise of a power of sale or by legal proceedings; but the Guarantor, if it be the Holder, after giving notice to the Financing Institution, may take any action specified in this sentence without obtaining the consent of the Financing Institution. If at any time all or any portion of the principal or interest of said obligation is due and unpaid and (a), while the Financing Institution is the Holder, the Guarantor fails to give its written consent within ten (10) days after the Reserve Bank shall have received a written request from the Financing Institution to do so, to the taking of any action specified in the preceding sentence or (b) if the Guarantor be the Holder and does not, within thirty (30) days after the Reserve Bank shall have received a written request from the Financing Institution that the Guarantor take action as aforesaid, take the action requested or one of the other steps specified in the preceding sentence, the guaranteed percentage shall thereupon in either event, effective ten (10) days or thirty (30) days, as the case may be, after the receipt of such request, be 100 per cent.

SEC. 10. Voluntary purchase by Guarantor. Whenever the Guarantor elects, it may purchase, and the Financing Institution shall sell to it, the guaranteed percentage of the unpaid principal amount of the obligation, less any amounts which have been previously purchased by the Guarantor under any provision of this agreement and have not been repaid; but no such purchase shall be made except ninety (90) days or more after the original advance on the loan or shall become effective until ten (10) days (or such lesser period as the Guarantor may specify) after the Guarantor shall have sent to the Financing Institution a demand for such purchase by telegram or registered mail. In the event of any purchase under this section, the Guarantor shall, at the request of the Financing Institution, or may, at its own option, immediately become the Holder in the manner provided in section 4 without the written demand therein specified.

SEC. 11. Reports as to Borrower's condition. The Holder shall promptly notify the other party of any default in the payment of principal, or of any default which shall continue for ten (10) days in the payment of interest, on the part of the Borrower. As long as the Financing Institution has any interest in the loan, each party shall notify the other party of any other default on the part of the Borrower in connection with the loan, or of any unfavorable change in the financial condition or in the business of the Borrower or in the collateral for the loan, of which such party has acquired actual knowledge in connection with the administration of said loan and which in its opinion at the time is material. The Financing Institution shall, upon the request of the Reserve Bank, furnish to the Reserve Bank any other information relating to the financial condition of the Borrower and the progress of the loan which it has acquired in connection with the administration of said loan.

SEC. 12. Fees payable to guarantor. The Financing Institution shall pay to the Reserve Bank at the end of each monthly or quarterly period, as fixed by the Reserve Bank, an amount equal to _____ per cent of any interest payable by the Borrower on the average daily amounts of that part of the unpaid principal of the obligation which the Guarantor was obligated during such period to purchase upon demand of the Financing Institution.

SEC. 13. Effect of violation of agreement. (A) If the Financing Institution shall violate, or fail to comply with, any of the terms of this agreement or any of the terms or conditions of the loan or shall through gross negligence make a material misrepresentation of fact in the application therefor, or in anything constituting a part of the application, it shall become liable to the Guarantor in an amount equal to the damages sustained by the latter by virtue of such violation, failure to comply, or misrepresentation; but the Guarantor shall not be relieved by such violation, failure to comply, or misrepresentation from any of its obligations to the Financing Institution under the terms of this agreement.

(B) In the absence of gross negligence on the part of the Financing Institution:

(1) No invalidity or ineffectiveness of any collateral or of any assignment thereof accepted by the Financing Institution; and shall constitute a violation of, or failure to comply with, any of the terms of this agreement or any of the terms or conditions of the loan on the part of the Financing Institution. No invalidity of any provision of the loan agreement (or other similar instrument), if any, referred to herein, arising from statute or decision of any court, shall in any way relieve the Guarantor hereunder.

(2) No action or omission to act on the part of the Financing Institution in reliance on a statement or certificate signed by an appropriate officer or member of the Borrower with respect to the financial condition, business or operations of the Borrower or the purpose for which funds of the Borrower have been or are intended to be used;

SEC. 14. Interpretation of agreement. (A) This agreement constitutes the entire contract between the Guarantor and the Financing Institution, and no claim of waiver, modification, consent, or acquiescence with respect to any of the provisions of this agreement shall be made against either party except on the basis of a letter or other written instrument executed by or on behalf of such party.

(B) No provision of the loan agreement (or other similar instrument), if any, shall increase, limit or vary the rights or obligations of the Financing Institution, the Guarantor or the Borrower under this agreement.

SEC. 15. Prohibition against assignment. This agreement shall not be assignable by either party, but this shall not prevent the Financing Institution from granting to other financing institutions participations in the obligation, Provided, however, That the Guarantor shall recognize and deal only with the Financing Institution.

SEC. 16. Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

In witness whereof, the parties have caused this agreement to be executed on their behalf by their duly authorized agents this _____ day of _____, 194--.

Form of September 15, 1944

EXPLANATORY NOTES WITH RESPECT TO THE 1944 V-LOAN GUARANTEE AGREEMENT

1. The Guarantee Agreement is issued pursuant to the authority contained in the First War Powers Act, 1941, Executive Order 9112, the Act of June 11, 1942 (56 Stat. 351), the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, and other pertinent provisions of law.

2. Generally the Guarantee Agreement is to be used only in cases where a Borrower is engaged in war production and has a present need for funds to finance such war production. The Borrower may obtain termination protection to the extent that the Financing Institution agrees to permit borrowings against cancelled war production contracts. If a Borrower shows the need of borrowings for production purposes as well as for releasing working capital on terminated contracts or on the terminated portions of contracts, the borrowings will ordinarily be limited only by the loan formula and the maximum amount of the credit. Where a Borrower shows no need for borrowing for production purposes other than to purchase tax notes, V-Loan financing will not generally be made available.

3. The form of 1944 V Guarantee Agreement is to be standard in all cases. In appropriate circumstances, however, the definition of "war production contract" contained in section 1 (K) may be varied after submission of the matter to Washington for approval. No other special provision or condition modifying the guarantee agreement will be permitted in any circumstances except after joint consultation between the guaranteeing agencies.

4. It is contemplated that there will usually be a Loan Agreement between the Borrower and the Financing Institution and that each Loan Agreement will contain a borrowing formula based upon war production contracts. The loan formula shall relate to unterminated war production contracts, or to both unterminated and terminated war production contracts. In any case where the loan formula permits borrowings with respect to terminated war production contracts, the loan may contain provisions substantially similar to the report and "paydown" provisions of Paragraphs 7 (c) and 8 of the standard Termination Loan Agreement. The term "terminated war production contracts," unless otherwise defined in the loan agreement, will include a war production contract in its entirety which has been terminated in whole or in part.

5. In general, whenever it is agreed to extend a guaranteed loan originally under the 1942 or 1943 form of guarantee agreement, the consent of the Guarantor to such extension will be given only if the Borrower and the Financing Institution agree to accept the 1944 V-Loan Guarantee Agreement. However, if upon maturity of such a loan the Borrower needs only a relatively short extension to complete his war production contracts or, if such a loan matures prior to January 1, 1945 and time is needed to arrange for refinancing, the Guarantor will generally agree to an extension without the adoption of the new form of guarantee agreement, provided that (1) the maturity of the loan is extended for a total period of not more than six months; (2) no substantial modifications are made in the terms of the loan (except modifications requested by the Guarantor); and (3) the Borrower agrees to forego the benefits of section 6 of the 1942 or 1943 form of guarantee agreement. In addition, in any case in which it deems it necessary, the Guarantor may permit an extension without the adoption of the new form of guarantee agreement for such period of time as may appear to be required in order to effect an orderly liquidation of the loan.

6. The fact that the 1944 V-Loan Guarantee Agreement form does not contain a provision analogous to Section 5 of previous V-Loan guarantee forms will be taken into consideration by the Services in negotiating the guaranteed percentage under the new form.

7. There is no provision in the 1944 V-Loan Guarantee Agreement form for suspension of maturity upon cancellation of war contracts. However, as appears from Note 2 above, the Borrower may obtain certain termination protection. Moreover, if, at the maturity of a loan, settlement of terminated contracts has not been completed, the Services still have a responsibility under the Act to provide interim financing for the remainder of the settlement period.

T-LOAN GUARANTEE AGREEMENT

No. ____

The _____ (herein called "Guarantor"), acting through the Federal Reserve Bank of _____ as fiscal agent of the United States (herein called "Reserve Bank"), and the Financing Institution hereby agree as follows:

SECTION 1. Definitions. (A) "Financing Institution" shall mean _____

(B) "Borrower" shall mean _____

of _____ (Address)

(C) "The loan" shall mean the financing arrangement between the Financing Institution and the Borrower which is described in Appendix I annexed hereto. In case of any conflict or inconsistency between the provisions of this agreement and the provisions of Appendix I or any other similar instrument, the provisions of this agreement shall control.

(D) "Obligation" shall mean the instrument or instruments evidencing the Borrower's indebtedness under the loan.

(E) "Guaranteed percentage" shall mean ___%

SEC. 2. Guarantee as to sharing of losses and expenses. (A) All losses on the loan (i. e., all amounts of principal and interest which are due and unpaid), and all unreimbursed expenses as defined in Paragraph (B) of this section, shall be shared ratably, on the date of settlement, by the Guarantor and the Financing Institution in accordance with the guaranteed and unguaranteed percentages, respectively. All net recoveries after the date of settlement shall be shared on the same basis. The date of settlement shall be the thirtieth (30th) day after the date on which either party, after the maturity of the loan, receives from the other party a written request for such settlement, or any other date agreed on by the parties.

(B) Expenses shall mean all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses (including reasonable counsel fees incurred by the Financing Institution or the Reserve Bank prior to but not after any purchase under this agreement) which relate to the enforcement of the loan or the preservation of the collateral and which are incurred during the period of any default in the payment of principal or interest.

SEC. 3. Agreement to purchase. The Guarantor will at any time and from time to time prior to the date of settlement purchase such portion of the obligation as may be demanded in writing by the Financing Institution, by paying to the Financing Institution, on the tenth (10th) day after the receipt by the Reserve Bank of such a demand, the unpaid principal amount of the portion of the obligation to be purchased, as of the date of the demand, plus all unpaid accrued interest on such amount, with appropriate adjustment for guarantee fees, computed as of the date of purchase: Provided, That in no event shall the total amount of the portion of the obligation owned by the Guarantor exceed the guaranteed percentage.

SEC. 4. Voluntary purchase by guarantor. The Guarantor may, at any time upon its demand, purchase the guaranteed percentage of the obligation, less any amounts previously purchased under this agreement and not repaid, and shall pay therefor on the basis stated in section 3. In such event, at the option of the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, the Financing Institution shall forthwith transfer possession of the obligation and collateral in the manner provided in section 5.

SEC. 5. Administration of loan and possession of obligation and collateral. (A) The Financing Institution shall administer the loan until it transfers possession of the obligation and collateral to the Reserve Bank as provided below, and thereafter the Guarantor shall administer the loan. Whenever the Guarantor purchases any part of the obligation, the Financing Institution shall forthwith deliver to the Reserve Bank a certificate evidencing the Guarantor's ownership interest in the obligation and collateral. In any such case, however, upon written demand by the Reserve Bank, the Financing Institution shall forthwith transfer to the Reserve Bank, without recourse or warranty except as to the genuineness of the Borrower's signature to any instrument, such possession of, title to, and rights to enforce the obligation and all collateral therefor as it may have. Thereupon the Reserve Bank shall issue to the Financing Institution a certificate evidencing the Financing Institution's ownership interest in the obligation and collateral. Either party administering the loan may (1) release and dispose of collateral and proceeds thereof, and permit substitution therefor, all in accordance with the terms of the loan, and (2) after five days' written notice to the other party, bring any action to enforce the loan.

(B) Nothing in this agreement shall prevent the Financing Institution from transferring the obligation as collateral for advances by a Federal Reserve Bank.

SEC. 6. Ratable application of collections. All amounts at any time paid or credited on the obligation, from whatever sources realized, shall be applied ratably for the benefit of the Financing Institution and the Guarantor according to their respective ownership interests in the obligation. Except as may be provided in the loan, the Financing Institution shall not be required to credit on the obligation the proceeds of any banker's lien or right of set-off with respect to funds of the Borrower (exclusive of proceeds of contracts on Exhibit C to Appendix I) or of other assets, to the extent that the Financing Institution has provided that such lien, right of set-off or other assets shall be security for other indebtedness of the Borrower to it.

SEC. 7. Fees payable to guarantor. The Financing Institution shall pay to the Reserve Bank at the end of each monthly or quarterly period, as fixed by the Reserve Bank, an amount equal to _____ per cent of any interest payable by the Borrower on the average daily amounts of that part of the unpaid principal of the obligation which the Guarantor was obligated during such period to purchase upon demand of the Financing Institution.

SEC. 8. Effect of violation of agreement. (A) If the Financing Institution shall violate, or fail to comply with, any of the terms of this agreement or any of the terms or conditions of the loan or shall through gross negligence make a material misrepresentation of fact in the application therefor, or in anything constituting a part of the application, it shall become liable to the Guarantor in an amount equal to the damages sustained by the latter by virtue of such violation, failure to comply, or misrepresentation; but the Guarantor shall not be relieved by such violation, failure to comply, or misrepresentation from any of its obligations to the Financing Institution under this agreement.

(B) In the absence of gross negligence on the part of the Financing Institution, (1) no invalidity or ineffectiveness of any collateral or of any assignment thereof accepted by the Financing Institution, and (2) no action or omission to act on the part of the Financing Institution in reliance on a statement or certificate signed by an appropriate officer or member of the Borrower with respect to the financial condition, business or operations of the Borrower, shall constitute a violation of, or failure to comply with, any of the terms of this agreement or any of the terms or conditions of the loan on the part of the Financing Institution. No invalidity of any provision of the loan arising from statute or decision of any court shall in any way relieve the Guarantor hereunder.

SEC. 9. Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

In witness whereof, the parties have caused this agreement to be executed on their be-

Form of September 1, 1944

APPENDIX I—TERMINATION LOAN AGREEMENT

Under Guarantee Agreement No.------

(herein called "Financing Institution") will grant credit to ---
---
of ---
(herein called "Borrower"), up to a maximum principal amount of $---------- at any one time outstanding, by lending to the Borrower at any time and from time to time on promissory notes in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit A and in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement.

1. Definitions. All terms defined in the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 and in the Guarantee Agreement shall have the same meaning when used in this agreement. "Terminated war contract" shall mean a war contract, in its entirety, which has been terminated in whole or in part. "The Contracts" shall mean such terminated war contracts, if any, as may now be listed on Exhibit C annexed, and as the Borrower may from time to time add thereto by supplement approved by the Financing Institution.

2. Maturity. The loan shall mature thirty (30) days after final payment of the amounts due, upon final and conclusive settlement, on the war contracts of the Borrower or upon ----------, 194--, whichever is earlier, and all notes issued hereunder shall thereupon become due and payable. If any note of shorter maturity is issued, the Borrower may from time to time until the maturity of the loan again borrow hereunder the unpaid amount of such note, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 6 hereof. The Borrower may at any time by written notice reduce the maximum principal amount of the loan in multiples of $----------.

3. Interest. The Borrower shall pay interest as prescribed in Exhibit A.

4. Commitment fee and expenses. The Borrower shall pay quarterly a commitment fee at the rate of ------% per annum on the average daily unused balance of the maximum principal amount of the loan. The Borrower shall reimburse the Financing Institution for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the loan and the application therefor.

5. Collateral. Prior to or contemporaneously with any borrowing hereunder, the Borrower, except and to the extent that the Financing Institution otherwise agrees in writing, will assign to the Financing Institution as security for the loan all moneys due and to become due on the Contracts. At any time upon request of the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, the Borrower will furnish additional security by assigning to the Financing Institution the moneys due and to become due on any or all of its terminated war contracts which by using its best efforts the Borrower can assign and which have not been previously assigned hereunder. All proceeds of assignments made hereunder and of any other collateral taken by the Financing Institution for the loan shall be applied to the indebtedness under the loan. Except to secure borrowing hereunder, except as provided in Exhibit D, and except to secure partial payments made to the Borrower by any contracting agency, the Borrower will not (a) assign, or suffer to remain assigned, moneys due or to become due on any of the Contracts, or (b) mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber, or suffer to remain encumbered for more than ------ days, any inventory allocable to the Contracts.

6. Conditions of borrowing. The Financing Institution shall not be required to make any advance hereunder (a) unless the Borrower furnishes to the Financing Institution a loan formula certificate in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit B, dated not more than -------- days before the date of the proposed borrowing, which shows a borrowing base, calculated in accordance with the percentages therein specified, of not less than the amount that will be outstanding after the proposed borrowing, or (b) if any event exists which constitues or which, except for notice or lapse of time or both, would constitute a default specified in this agreement, or (c) to the extent that the Financing Institution has reason to believe that the borrowing base stated in the loan formula certificate is substantially overstated in value and has so notified the Borrower in writing, provided that the Financing Institution may rely upon the borrowing base shown in the loan formula certificate.

7. Reports. The Borrower shall maintain proper records and accounts, permit such inspection thereof, and furnish such statements and reports, including audit reports, as the Financing Institution or the Guarantor may from time to time reasonably request. In any event, within three (3) months after the initial borrowing and not less than quarterly thereafter the Borrower shall furnish to the Financing Institution periodic reports in triplicate made up as follows:

(a) A balance sheet, certified by an appropriate officer or member of the Borrower, as of a date not more than ------ days prior to the date of furnishing the report.

(b) A loan formula certificate in the form of Exhibit B, dated not more than ------ days before the date of furnishing the report, unless such a certificate has been furnished within thirty (30) days before such date.

(c) A statement of the nature, amounts, and dates of all payments on any assigned terminated war contracts and on the Contracts, whether or not assigned, in cash or by offset or otherwise (except any offset theretofore deducted in any loan formula certificate) between the date of the initial borrowing or the last date covered by the last report, whichever is later, and a date not more than fifteen (15) days prior to the date of such a statement. Payments shall be deemed to include the proceeds of collateral taken for the loan, or proceeds of, or specific credit with respect to, any sale, retention or other disposition of inventory allocable to such contracts, approved or authorized by the proper authority, and the cost or proceeds, whichever is greater, of any such inventory which the Borrower has definitively elected to retain without specific credit therefor.

8. Reduction of notes. The Borrower shall pay down the unpaid principal amount of the notes by an amount equal to: (a) All payments, as described in Paragraph 7 (c), within three (3) days from the date of any such payment or within such further time as the Financing Institution may prescribe; and (b) any excess of outstanding borrowings over the borrowing base shown in the most recent loan formula certificate, upon the date of furnishing such certificate, provided that, while the Financing Institution may rely upon the borrowing base shown in such certificate, such borrowing base shall be decreased to the extent that the Financing Institution or the Guarantor has reason to believe that it is substantially overstated in value and has so notified the Borrower in writing, in which event the Borrower shall pay, in addition, an amount equal to any excess resulting from such decrease, within ten (10) days after the mailing of such notice.

9. Maintenance of working capital. The Borrower shall maintain net current assets, as determined in accordance with generally accepted principles of accounting and including in current liabilities all borrowings outstanding hereunder, of not less than $----------.

10. Insurance. The Borrower shall maintain insurance on its property in such amounts and against such risks as is customarily maintained by similar businesses operating in the same vicinity.

11. Other provisions. The parties hereto agree to any additional provisions appearing in Exhibit D annexed.

12. Events of default. The occurrence of any one of the following events shall constitute a default hereunder:

(a) Any statement, representation, warranty, certificate, schedule or report furnished by the Borrower in connection with the loan shall prove to have been materially false at the date thereof.

(b) Nonpayment of the principal of any of the notes outstanding hereunder when due; or nonpayment of interest or any commitment fee within ten (10) days after the date thereof.

(c) Breach by the Borrower of any other provision of this agreement.

(d) The Borrower shall be adjudicated a bankrupt or a trustee or a receiver shall be appointed for the Borrower or of a substantial part of its property in any involuntary proceeding, or any court shall have taken jurisdiction of the property of the Borrower or of a substantial part thereof in any involuntary proceeding for the reorganization, dissolution, liquidation or winding up of the Borrower, and such trustee or receiver shall not be discharged or such jurisdiction relinquished or vacated or stayed on appeal or otherwise stayed within thirty (30) days, or the Borrower shall file a petition or answer, not denying jurisdiction, in voluntary bankruptcy or under Chapter X or Chapter XI of the Federal Bankruptcy Act or any similar law, State or Federal, whether now or hereafter existing, or such a petition filed against the Borrower shall be approved and not vacated or stayed within thirty (30) days, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or shall admit in writing its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or shall consent to the appointment of a receiver or trustee or liquidator of all of its property or a substantial part thereof, or shall have failed within thirty (30) days to bond or otherwise discharge any attachment or to pay any judgment which is unstayed on appeal.

If there shall occur any default as defined in item (a) above or if there shall occur and be continuing any default as defined in item (b) or (c) above, then upon the election of the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, evidenced by written notice to the Borrower, or if there shall occur any default as defined in item (d) above, then forthwith and without any election, the obligation, if any, of the Financing Institution to extend further credit shall terminate and all notes outstanding hereunder shall become due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived.

Form of September 1, 1944

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Approved by the Director of Contract Settlement with Respect to Standard Forms of T-Loan Guarantee Agreement and Termination Loan Agreement

GUARANTEE AGREEMENT

Opening paragraph. (1) The guarantee agreement is issued pursuant to the authority contained in the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the First War Powers Act, 1941, Executive Order, 9112, the Act of June 11, 1942 (56 Stat. 351), and other pertinent provisions of law. No changes in the guarantee agreement will be permitted except in the most unusual cases and then only with the concurrence of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(2) Pursuant to section 10 (a) (1) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the Guarantor in its authorization or through its local representative will notify the Federal Reserve Bank in writing that the Borrower is or has been engaged in performing an operation deemed by the Guarantor to be connected with or related to war production.

SECTION 1 (A). (3) If one Financing Institution is authorized, as agent for a number of participants, to execute a guarantee agreement in their behalf, the participants should be referred to as "each bank, trust company or other financing institution which is or shall be a party to the loan described in Appendix I annexed hereto" or by some other appropriate reference showing the several nature of the agreement.

SEC. 1 (C). (4) Since the guarantee agreement covers only the loan described in Appendix I, any material alteration in the terms of the loan should be made only with the written consent of the Guarantor in order that the loan, as altered, will be covered by the guarantee.

SEC. 1 (E). (5) The requested percentage of guarantee will not ordinarily be questioned by the Federal Reserve Bank or the Guarantor if it does not exceed 90 per cent.

SEC. 2 (B). (6) Counsel fees incurred by the Financing Institution after a purchase cannot be shared by the Guarantor because of the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 314.

SEC. 3. (7) It is contemplated that a purchase made by the Guarantor under this section shall be for cash. However, if the Guarantor owns an interest in any obligation which has been issued under a revolving credit arrangement, and if, at or before the maturity of such obligation, the Reserve Bank receives written demand from the Financing Institution for the purchase of the same or a lesser amount of a new obligation to be issued in place of such maturing obligation, the payment for the portion of the new obligation purchased pursuant to such demand will be made by the Guarantor by surrendering, at or before maturity, its interest in the maturing obligation, in the amount of the demand by the Financing Institution and without regard to the ten-day period specified in this section.

SEC. 5 (A). (8) Under the first sentence the Guarantor may, after a purchase and transfer, administer the loan either directly or through the agency of the Reserve Bank. It is contemplated that such administration will usually be conducted by the Reserve Bank.

SEC. 6. (9) All amounts paid or credited on the obligation after the date of the demand by the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, as the case may be, for a purchase under this agreement and prior to the date of such purchase will be applied, as provided in this section, according to the respective interests of the Guarantor and the Financing Institution as such interests exist immediately after the purchase.

(10) Subject to any special provision which may be contained in Exhibit D, the Financing Institution may make other loans to the Borrower for the purpose of financing war production or reconversion to civilian business or for other purposes, provided the proceeds of the Contracts (as the term "the Contracts" is defined in Paragraph 1 of Appendix I) or inventory allocable to the Contracts are not pledged as security for such loan. The Financing Institution as security for the side loan may take other collateral and provide that the side loan shall not be required to share with the guaranteed loan any banker's lien or right of setoff with respect to funds of the Borrower, exclusive of proceeds of the Contracts, on general deposit with the Financing Institution or specifically pledged as security for such side loan.

SEC. 7. (11) A schedule of guarantee fees will be prescribed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with the concurrence of the Director of Contract Settlement.

SEC. 8. (12) The word "certificate" in Paragraph (B) (2) includes any certificate furnished by the Borrower in connection with the loan formula.

General. (13) Whenever a number of days is specified in the Guarantee Agreement or in the Loan Agreement the word "days" shall be deemed to mean calendar days.

LOAN AGREEMENT

Opening paragraph. (14) If the Borrower and the Financing Institution have agreed upon a non-firm commitment, the words "in its sole discretion" may be inserted before the word "grant". The second sentence of Paragraph 2 applies even in the case of a non-firm commitment and in such a case no figure should be inserted in Paragraph 4.

(15) In the case of a straight loan, the words "at any one time outstanding", should be stricken out.

(16) The note to be used should contain the provisions which appear in the form annexed as Exhibit A to the standard loan agreement, with the blanks appropriately filled in, and may contain such additional provisions, not inconsistent therewith or with the terms of the loan agreement, as the Financing Institution and the Borrower may agree. The note may, for example, contain provisions for sale of collateral in the event of default, allowance for attorneys' fees, etc.

PARAGRAPH 1. (17) The following terms are defined in Section 3 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944:

"(a) The term 'prime contract' means any contract, agreement, or purchase order heretofore or hereafter entered into by a contracting agency and connected with or related to the prosecution of the war; and the term 'prime contractor' means any holder of one or more prime contracts.

"(b) The term 'subcontract' means any contract, agreement, or purchase order heretofore or hereafter entered into to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any material to the extent that such material is required for the performance of any one or more prime contracts or of any one or more other subcontracts; and the term 'subcontractor' means any holder of one or more subcontracts.

"(c) The term 'war contract' means a prime contract or a subcontract; and the term 'war contractor' means any holder of one or more war contracts.

"(d) The terms 'termination', 'terminate', and 'terminated' refer to the termination or cancellation, in whole or in part, of work under a prime contract for the convenience or at the option of the Government (except for default of the prime contractor) or of work under a subcontract for any reason except the default of the subcontractor.

* * * * *

"(g) The term 'contracting agency' means any Government agency which has been or hereafter may be authorized to make contracts pursuant to section 201 of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and includes the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and any corporation organized pursuant to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act (47 Stat. 5), as amended, the Smaller War Plants Corporation, and the War Production Board.

"(h) The term 'termination claim' means any claim or demand by a war contractor for fair compensation for the termination of any war contract and any other claim under a terminated war contract, which regulations prescribed under this Act authorize to be asserted and settled in connection with any termination settlement.

"(m) The term 'final and conclusive,' as applied to any settlement, finding, or decision, means that such settlement, finding, or decision shall not be reopened, annulled, modified, set aside, or disregarded by any officer, employee, or agent of the United States or in any suit, action, or proceeding except as provided in this Act."

With respect to the definition contained in paragraph (g) above, the Director of Contract Settlement will from time to time issue a list of "contracting agencies" indicating those which are currently guaranteeing loans under this Act through the agency of the Federal Reserve Banks.

(18) It will be noted that the definition of "terminated war contract" contained in Paragraph 1 of the loan agreement is broad enough to permit borrowings against receivables and inventory under that part of a partially cancelled contract still remaining to be performed; that under Paragraph 5 assignment of all moneys due and to become due under the entire contract may be required; and that the provisions of Paragraphs 7 (c) and 8 apply to all payments under the contract.

(19) Current commitments on uncancelled contracts. If the Financing Institution and the Borrower desire to enter into a firm commitment for the financing of nonterminated contracts existing on the date of execution of the loan agreement and if such contracts become terminated, a provision may be added to Exhibit D listing such nonterminated war contracts with an agreement by the Financing Institution that such contracts may, upon termination, be added to Exhibit C without further approval. The addition of terminated war contracts to Exhibit C shall be made by serially numbered supplements filed in five copies with the Financing Institution. The supplements shall be in the same form as Exhibit C with the following added at the lower left hand corner thereof.

Approved: _____, 194__

(Financing Institution)

By _____ (Name) (Title)

If the Financing Institution approves of a supplement, it shall sign all copies, retain one for its files, return one to the Borrower, and send the other three copies to the Reserve Bank.

(20) Since the termination loan agreement is designed to finance termination claims rather than production, the Financing Institution may find it advisable to decline to permit inclusion in Exhibit C of contracts which have been terminated only to a minor extent when the effect of their inclusion would probably be to make the proposed borrowing in substantial part a loan for production purposes. The Financing Institution may refuse to permit addition to the list of terminated war contracts contained in Exhibit C of such contracts as are by their terms not assignable, or may require as a condition of the addition of such contracts to the list that the Borrower obtain an appropriate amendment permitting such assignment. It should be noted that prime contracts providing for payments aggregating less than $1,000 are not assignable under the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940.

PAR. 2. (21) The notes may be made payable on demand, or may be 90-day notes, or may have such other maturity, not more than three years after the date of the agreement, as the Financing Institution and the Borrower may agree.

(22) Irrespective of whether or not the Financing Institution is under an obligation under the terms of the agreement to extend further credit, the second sentence of Paragraph 2 is intended to give the Borrower the right to borrow again, from time to time, up to the amount of the notes which have been given in consideration of the loan until the final maturity date inserted in Paragraph 2 or until the notes are finally paid pursuant to Paragraph 8 or otherwise, whichever first occurs.

PAR. 3. (23) The maximum interest rate, as prescribed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with the concurrence of the Director, is 4½ per cent per annum simple interest, and interest may not be charged at a greater rate either before or after maturity.

PAR. 4. (24) The maximum commitment fee, as prescribed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with the concurrence of the Director, is ¼ of 1 per cent per annum based on the average daily unused balance of the maximum principal amount of the loan, or a flat fee of not to exceed $50 without regard to the amount or maturity of the commitment. Accordingly, the commitment fee, if any is charged, may not exceed this maximum. If a flat fee is charged, the first sentence of the Paragraph should be changed to read: "The Borrower shall pay on _____ a commitment fee of $_____".

(25) No termination fee, service fee, or other fee of a similar character, except charges covering out-of-pocket expenses of a financing institution, may be charged.

(26) Out-of-pocket expenses do not include any overhead expenses.

PAR. 5. (27) The obligation imposed upon the Borrower to make assignments includes the obligation to execute such documents and take such action in connection therewith as the Financing Institution may reasonably require, including, in the case of subcontracts, the giving of such notice to the purchasers as may be necessary to perfect the assignments.

(28) The extent to which assignments should be required prior to or contemporaneously with any borrowing under the first sentence of this Paragraph will depend upon the credit standing of the Borrower and upon the practical problems of assignment which may exist in a particular case. The Financing Institution may, by an appropriate writing, agree to except specific contracts from the requirement of assignment, in which case notice of the contracts so excepted should be given to the Reserve Bank. The Financing Institution may also provide in Exhibit D for a general exception. For example, Exhibit D may provide that contracts on Exhibit C as to which the "Estimated Amount of Termination Claim" is less than $_____ need not be assigned unless subsequently requested by the Financing Institution or the Guarantor. If such a provision is included in Exhibit D the dollar amount of contracts so excluded may, if the Borrower's credit is strong enough to warrant, be made sufficiently high so that Paragraph 5 will in effect merely constitute a covenant to assign upon request of the Financing Institution or the Guarantor.

(29) In the case of a weak credit, the Financing Institution should include in Exhibit D, a covenant reading substantially as follows:

"At any time upon request of the Financing Institution or the Guarantor, the Borrower will pledge or mortgage as further security for the loan all or any inventory applicable to the Contracts."

Any pledge pursuant to such a covenant should contain a provision for release of inventory so pledged to the extent of payment to the Financing Institution of the cost or proceeds thereof, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of Paragraph 8 of the loan agreement.

(30) Under the last sentence of this Paragraph, the Financing Institution and the Borrower in suitable cases may agree to a provision in Exhibit D permitting the existence of liens to secure advance payments.

(31) The number of days during which an encumbrance may be permitted to remain on inventory of the Borrower without creating a default, which is to be inserted in the last sentence of this Paragraph, will depend primarily upon the credit standing of the Borrower.

PAR. 6. (32) The Financing Institution shall promptly submit to the Reserve Bank two copies of the loan formula certificate furnished by the Borrower at the time of the initial borrowing. In the event of a serious dispute between the Financing Institution and the Borrower as to whether the borrowing base is substantially overstated in value, for the purposes of this Paragraph or of Paragraph 8, the parties may, if they mutually desire, request the Guarantor to consider the matter. If at the time of any borrowing, or at any other time, additional security not referred to in the application or loan agreement and not previously reported is furnished, a report thereof should be promptly made by the Financing Institution to the Reserve Bank.

PAR. 7. (33) The Financing Institution may, for example, deem it desirable to require under the first sentence of this Paragraph the furnishing of profit and loss statements, an analysis of surplus, data as to claims under the Borrower's terminated war contracts, and statements as to the insurance required to be maintained by the Borrower under Paragraph 10.

(34) One copy of each of the statements to be furnished under subparagraphs (a), (b) and (c) may be retained by the Financing Institution, and two copies should be forwarded to the Reserve Bank, which will retain one copy and forward the other to the Guarantor or such person as the Guarantor may designate.

(35) Under the definition of payments, a number of different situations are contemplated:

(a) There may be a sale of inventory specifically approved or authorized by the proper authority. In such case, the payment will be the amount of the proceeds; the date of payment will be the date of receipt of the proceeds by the Borrower.

(b) There may be a retention of inventory approved or authorized by the proper authority with a specific credit allowed on any claim filed. In such case, the payment will be the amount of the credit allowed; the date of payment will be the date of the allowance of the credit.

(c) There may be a sale of inventory approved or authorized by the proper authority under a blanket authority to dispose of inventory at not less than cost or at not less than a stated percentage of cost. In such case, the amount of the payment will be the amount of the proceeds; the date of payment will be the date the proceeds of the sale are received by the Borrower.

(d) There may be a definitive election to retain inventory not approved or authorized by the proper authority with a specific credit against the Borrower's claim where claim has been filed or against his potential claim where none has been filed. Such a definitive election to retain occurs when the Borrower relinquishes the right to include the cost of such inventory in his claim and may be evidenced by written notice to the proper authority, by sale of the inventory without specific credit, by incorporation of inventory in civilian products, or by other means. In such case the amount of the payment will be the cost of the inventory or, if the act of election is a sale, the proceeds of the sale if that is greater than cost; the date of payment will be the date when the definitive act of election was made.

In the case of a prime contract the "proper authority" to approve or authorize dispositions or retentions of property is the contracting agency. In the case of subcontracts the "proper authority" may be the purchaser or the contracting agency or both depending on the circumstances and the applicable regulations. The word "cost" refers to the Borrower's cost or expenditures used in computing the borrowing base.

PAR. 8. (36) The Government does not undertake responsibility for assisting in the financing of civilian inventory under the provisions of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944. Therefore, the Financing Institution, if it prescribes a period in excess of three days, should prescribe a reasonably short period within which the payments required by Paragraph 8 are to be made. The Financing Institution may prescribe different periods for payments arising out of the several classes of events upon the happening of which payments are required to be made, and may prescribe a period of grace for small payments. If the credit of the Borrower is not strong, prompt payment should be required, particularly in the event of inventory retention.

(37) If either the Financing Institution or the Guarantor notifies the Borrower of an overstatement pursuant to clause (b) of Paragraph 8, it should forthwith notify the other party to the Guarantee Agreement.

PAR. 9. (38) If the Borrower has subsidiaries and if it is desired to use consolidated net current assets as a basis, this should be specified in Exhibit D. In this event, consideration should be given to whether or not any restrictions imposed upon the parent should also be applied to the subsidiaries.

PAR. 11. (39) The standard form of loan agreement is designed for use in connection with a straight loan or a revolving credit, a firm commitment or a loan under which the Financing Institution is not obligated to extend further credit, a single bank credit arrangement or a multi-bank credit arrangement, and for a strong credit or a weak credit. It is recognized that the Financing Institution and the Borrower may wish to add in Exhibit D further provisions appropriate for the particular financing arrangement between them.

(40) Conditions other than those required under Appendix I will be prescribed by the Guarantor or the Federal Reserve Bank only in exceptional circumstances and when they are clearly necessary to protect the Government's interest; but it is expected that the Financing Institution, in the case of a weak credit, will ordinarily insist upon the inclusion of the provision quoted in Explanatory Note (29). Additional conditions for inclusion in Exhibit D may be agreed upon by the Borrower and the Financing Institution and, if not unreasonable or inconsistent with the standard termination loan agreement, such conditions will not be objected to by the Guarantor or the Reserve Bank.

(41) The Guarantor will have no objection to the insertion of a provision requiring the Borrower to apply first to the Financing Institution before obtaining any other loans. The Financing Institution may also insert an additional provision prohibiting other borrowings, without the consent of the Financing Institution, or placing a ceiling thereon.

(42) In order that additional terms may be clearly distinguished from the provisions of the standard form, all such additional terms should be set forth in Exhibit D or in a rider attached thereto.

(43) In any case where either the Financing Institution or the Guarantor exercises its option under the Loan Agreement to terminate the credit and accelerate the notes, it should forthwith notify the other party to the Guarantee Agreement.

Exhibit B—Paragraph 2

(44) In general, the percentages in the loan formula certificate agreed upon by the Financing Institution and the Borrower will not be questioned by the Federal Reserve Bank or the Guarantor.

(45) If a breakdown between manufacturing and administrative overhead is available, it should be furnished by the Borrower, and in this case the words "and administrative" may be omitted from item (c) and an additional item relating solely to administrative overhead may be added. Similarly, where circumstances warrant, there may also be added a separate item relating to other reimbursable expenditures, provided that a breakdown of such item is furnished and approved. In any of the above cases, the additional items will be lettered (e), (f), etc. If a further breakdown of expenditures is desired, as between fixed-price and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts or as between prime contracts and subcontracts or as between approved and unapproved subcontract settlements, this may be accomplished by similar procedure.

(46) With reference to (aa), amounts "disallowed by the contracting agency" include any part of a termination claim disallowed pursuant to Section 3 of the Act regardless of whether the Borrower has taken an appeal, except to the extent that such appeal is sustained.

Exhibit B—Paragraph 3

(47) It is expected that in all cases the Borrower will exercise due diligence in filing termination claims as promptly as possible. Due to the widely varying factors involved, such as the number of Borrower's cancelled contracts and the relative simplicity or complexity of preparing his claims, it is not deemed feasible to prescribe any uniform time within which claims must be filed. However, where the Financing Institution and the Borrower can agree in advance upon a reasonable time for filing claims, they can of course provide for such a limitation in Exhibit D.

SECTION IV. Agreement of Applicant

Under Section 9 (b) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the amount of any partial payment made to the applicant in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on its termination claim shall be treated as a loan from the Government, payable upon demand with a penalty payable by the applicant at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date of the excess payment to the date of repayment. Accordingly, in requesting a partial payment, the applicant recognizes its obligation to establish promptly the amount due and to protect the interest of the Government pending final settlement, and in consideration of any partial payment which may be made, agrees as follows:

(1) Prompt Preparation of Claim.—The applicant will, with all reasonable dispatch, prepare and file its statement of costs and inventory lists on the prescribed forms, and will make every reasonable effort to expedite final settlement of the termination claim and the claims of its subcontractors.

(2) Disposal and Retention of Inventory.—Whenever the amount of any proceeds hereafter received by the applicant on the disposal of termination inventory, plus the cost or agreed value, as the case may be, of any termination inventory which the applicant hereafter elects to retain, exceeds 10 percent of the amount stated by the applicant in this application as the amount of his charges (Section III, line 9), and the amount of such credits has not been included as a receipt (Section III, line c), the applicant within 10 days will notify the contracting agency of the amount of credits on account of such inventory disposal or retention.

(3) Repayment.—The applicant will repay to the Government upon demand together with interest from the date of such demand at the rate of 6 percent per annum, the whole or any part of the partial payment to be made hereunder, if:

(a) A statement of costs and inventory lists on the prescribed forms, as provided in subparagraph 1 above, have not been filed within 3 months after the receipt of the partial payment for which request is herein made, or within such extended period as may be allowed by the Government;

(b) The contracting agency shall find that the applicant's estimate under Section III above (own costs) is overstated by reason of the disposal or retention of termination inventory subsequent to the date of this application or for any other reason;

(c) The applicant withdraws the whole or any part of its claim.

Demand for repayment may be made under subparagraphs (b) and (c) only as to that portion of the partial payment that, in the opinion of the contracting agency, has become excessive.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use of form. This application form is for use by all war contractors, either prime contractors or subcontractors, under either fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts in obtaining partial payments on their termination claims. If applicant is a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, the form may be so modified as to conform to his accounting system but must furnish the required cost information.

2. Immediate partial payments based on estimates. (a) Where a contractor has not had adequate time to prepare his settlement proposal, an "immediate partial payment" may be requested based on the contractor's estimate of his own charges. In applying for a payment of this type, the contractor should fill in the information required in column B of section III. If his accounting system is not adaptable to the cost information required by Section III, he should append to the application a comparable schedule of his estimated costs on such basis as his accounting system permits. Supporting data, including financial statements, may be submitted but are not required unless specifically requested by the contracting agency.

(b) The estimates need be no greater than the contractor believes adequate to support his request for partial payment. Low estimates furnished for the purpose of an immediate partial payment will in no way prejudice the contractor in the final settlement of his claim or in subsequent requests for additional partial payments. Successive applications for partial payments may be filed.

3. Cost-supported partial payments. Upon the submission of a settlement proposal, or at any time thereafter, a "cost-supported partial payment" may be requested based on the settlement proposal and accounting data supporting it. In applying for a payment of this type, the contractor should fill in the information required by column A of Section III. In addition, he should attach a copy of the settlement proposal.

4. Certificate of applicant. The amount certified in section V as the amount of the contractor's charges should be the total that appears in section III, line 9. If some of the charges are cost-supported and others are estimated, appropriate entries may be made in both columns A and B, and the amount certified should then be the sum of the two figures in line 9.

5. Property disposal credits. In stating costs or estimated costs, the applicant should not include charges with respect to property which he intends to retain at no cost to the Government. Any credits that have resulted from the sale or retention of property as to which costs or estimated costs have been included in any application for a partial payment on this termination claim will be entered in Section III, line c.

6. Obligations to subcontractors. Attention is called to the fact that the cost of delivered completed articles may not be included in the termination claim of the producer of those articles. War contractors are obligated to pay at the contract price for completed articles shipped to them by their subcontractors and suppliers prior to the termination of and in accordance with the provisions of the subcontracts or purchase orders calling for delivery of those articles. When necessary, prime contractors and subcontractors should apply for partial payments on their termination claims for the purpose of enabling them to meet such obligations promptly.

7. Applications of subcontractors. Subcontractors applying for a partial payment will submit this application to the contractor immediately above them. Unless that contractor has been authorized by the contracting agency to make a partial payment without obtaining specific approval in each case, he will attach his recommendation on the form provided in section VI and forward the application through the contractors above him to the contracting agency. Contractors above the immediate reviewing contractor will fill in the form of recommendation set forth in section VII and forward the application. If any contractor disapproves of the amount of the requested partial payment, or believes that he cannot properly sign the form of recommendation, he should attach a statement setting forth the reasons for his refusal to sign the form and his recommendation. In the case of an application for a cost-supported partial payment, the settlement proposal need not be forwarded beyond the first reviewing contractor unless expressly requested.

8. Signatures. A person other than an officer, partner, or owner may sign the application or recommendation where properly authorized, but in such a case, a copy of his authority should be attached.

9. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 provides penalties for overstatements of amounts owing to the contractor in connection with interim financing and for excessive payments (sections 8 (d) and 9 (b)). Penalties for fraud are provided for in section 19 of the act.

When the space provided for any information is insufficient, attach separate supporting schedules.

SECTION IV. Agreement of Applicant

Under Section 9 (h) of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, the amount of any partial payment made to the applicant in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on its termination claim shall be treated as a loan from the Government, payable upon demand without a penalty. Payable by the applicant without a partial payment, the applicant recognizes that the excess payment to be the date of repayment, and agrees to pay interest on the amount of such excess payment from the date of the Government's demand to the date of repayment. In the event of default in the payment of any amount due the Government pending final settlement of its obligation hereunder, the applicant agrees that the amount of any proceeds hereafter received by the applicant which could be used to repay the amount due and to protect the interest of the Government pending final settlement of the termination claim and the claims of its subcontractors may be withheld by the applicant for such purpose.

(1) Prompt Preparation of Claim.—The applicant will, with all reasonable dispatch, prepare and file its statement of costs and inventory lists on the prescribed forms, and will make every reasonable effort to expedite final settlement of the termination claim and the claims of its subcontractors.

(2) Disposal and Retention of Inventory. Without the consent of the contracting agency, which consent will not be withheld if the amount of any proceeds hereafter received by the applicant which could be used to repay the amount due and to protect the interest of the Government pending final settlement of the termination claim and the claims of its subcontractors, plus the cost or agreed value, as the case may be, of any termination inventory which the applicant hereafter elects to retain, exceeds 10 percent of the amount stated by the applicant in this application as the amount of this charges (Section III, line 9) and the amount of such credits on account of such inventory disposal or retention (Section III, line 9) and the amount of credits on account of such inventory disposal or retention will repay to the Government upon demand, together with interest from the date of such demand at the rate of 6 percent per annum, the whole or any part of the partial payment to be made hereunder, if, and to the extent that, such excess payments exceed 10 percent.

(3) Repayments.—The applicant will repay to the Government upon demand, together with interest from the date of such demand at the rate of 6 percent per annum, the whole or any part of the partial payment to be made hereunder, if, and to the extent that, such excess payments exceed 10 percent.

(a) A statement of costs and inventory lists on the prescribed forms, as provided in subparagraph 1 above, have not been submitted within 3 months after the receipt of the partial payment for which request is herein made, or within such extended period as may be allowed by the Government;

(b) The contracting agency shall find that the applicant's estimate under Section III above (own costs) is overstated by reason of the disposal or retention of termination inventory subsequent to the date of this application or for any other reason;

(c) The applicant withdraws the whole or any part of its claim.

Demand for repayment may be made under subparagraphs (b) and (c) only as to that portion of the partial payment that, in the opinion of the contracting agency, is excessive.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use of form. This application form is for use by all war contractors, either prime contractors or subcontractors, under either fixed-price or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts in obtaining partial payments on their termination claims. If applicant is a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, the form may be so modified as to conform to his accounting system but must furnish the required cost information.

2. Immediate partial payments based on estimates. (a) Where a contractor has not had adequate time to prepare his settlement proposal, an "immediate partial payment" may be requested based on the contractor's estimate of his own charges. In applying for a payment of this type, the contractor should fill in the information required in column B of Section III. If his accounting system is not adaptable to the cost information required by Section III, he should append to the application a comparable schedule of his estimated costs on such basis as his accounting system permits. Supporting data, including financial statements, may be submitted but are not required unless specifically requested by the contracting agency.

(b) The estimates need be no greater than the contractor believes adequate to support his request for partial payment. Low estimates furnished for the purpose of an immediate partial payment will in no way prejudice the contractor in the final settlement of his claim or in subsequent requests for additional partial payments. Successive applications for partial payments may be filed.

3. Cost-supported partial payments. Upon the submission of a settlement proposal, or at any time thereafter, a "cost-supported partial payment" may be requested based on the settlement proposal and accounting data supporting it. In applying for a payment of this type, the contractor should fill in the information required by column A of Section III. In addition, he should attach a copy of the settlement proposal.

4. Certificate of applicant. The amount certified in Section V as the amount of the contractor's charges should be the total that appears in Section III, line 9. If some of the charges are cost-supported and others are estimated, appropriate entries may be made in both columns A and B, and the amount certified should then be the sum of the two figures in line 9.

5. Property disposal credits. In stating costs or estimated costs, the applicant should not include charges with respect to property which he intends to retain at no cost to the Government. Any credits that have resulted from the sale or retention of property as to which costs or estimated costs have been included in any application for a partial payment on this termination claim will be entered in Section III, line c.

6. Obligations to subcontractors. Attention is called to the fact that the cost of delivered completed articles may not be included in the termination claim of the producer of those articles. War contractors are obligated to pay at the contract price for completed articles shipped to them by their subcontractors and suppliers prior to the termination of and in accordance with the provisions of the subcontracts or purchase orders calling for delivery of those articles. When necessary, prime contractors and subcontractors should apply for partial payments on their termination claims for the purpose of enabling them to meet such obligations promptly.

7. Applications of subcontractors. Subcontractors applying for a partial payment will submit this application to the contractor immediately above them. Unless that contractor has been authorized by the contracting agency to make a partial payment without obtaining specific approval in each case, he will attach his recommendation on the form provided in Section VI and forward the application through the contractors above him to the contracting agency. Contractors above the immediate reviewing contractor will fill in the form of recommendation set forth in Section VII and forward the application. If any contractor disapproves of the amount of the requested partial payment, or believes that he cannot properly sign the form of recommendation, he should attach a statement setting forth the reasons for his refusal to sign the form and his recommendation. In the case of an application for a cost-supported partial payment, the settlement proposal need not be forwarded beyond the first reviewing contractor unless expressly requested.

8. Signatures. A person other than an officer, partner, or owner may sign the application or recommendation where properly authorized, but in such a case, a copy of his authority should be attached.

9. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 provides penalties for overstatements of amounts owing to the contractor in connection with interim financing and for excessive payments (Sections 8 (d) and 9 (b)). Penalties for fraud are provided for in Section 19 of the Act.

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Government has terminated for its convenience an agreement with the Contractor designated as Contract No. _____, dated _____ 194__, hereinafter referred to as "the Contract"; and

[Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the Act and the regulations issued thereunder, the following holders of subcontracts under the Contract have applied for partial payments on account of their respective claims arising from the termination of such subcontracts, such subcontractors (sometimes hereinafter referred to as "the Applicant Subcontractors") being listed below together with a description of the subcontracts, and the amounts of the respective applications for partial payments:

[Whereas, the Applicant Subcontractors in their applications have represented to the Government that according to their best estimates at least the respective amounts of partial payments applied for are due them by reason of the termination of the Contract and the above-described subcontracts thereunder.]

[Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the Act and the regulations issued thereunder, the Government proposes to make partial payments to the Applicant Subcontractors, in the manner hereinafter provided, pending final determination of the respective amounts due them, by making a partial payment or partial payments to the Contractor on account of the claims of the Applicant Subcontractors and requiring that the Contractor shall promptly pay over such amounts to the Applicant Subcontractors; and]

Now therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1. A true copy of the Application is attached hereto and made a part hereof; and the representations, agreements and covenants of the Contractor set forth therein shall be deemed to be inducements to, and consideration for, the agreement of the Government as set forth herein.

ART. 2. Upon the submission by the Contractor of a proper invoice or voucher therefor, the Government will pay to the Contractor, subject to the provisions of Article 3, the sum of $_____. Upon applications filed by the Contractor and the submission of proper invoices or vouchers therefor, the Government may hereafter pay additional sums to the Contractor as partial payments on the Contractor's termination claim under the Contract, which additional payments shall, at the option of the Government, be subject to the terms of this agreement, and shall [, except as provided in Article 5 hereof,] be applied against the amount finally determined to be payable by the Government to the Contractor on such termination claim.

ART. 3. All partial payments made hereunder shall be made by check payable to the Contractor for deposit in a special bank account or accounts (hereinafter referred to as "the Account") at a Member Bank or Banks of the Federal Reserve System or "an insured Bank" within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of July 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684) as amended (12 USC 264). No part of such payments shall be mingled with other funds of the Contractor prior to the withdrawal thereof from the account as hereinafter provided. ---------- Department
Washington, D. C.
Gentlemen:

"In consideration of the depositing in an account with the undersigned to be designated '---------- Controlled Termination Account', hereinafter referred to as 'the Account', the amount of $----------, constituting a partial payment to ---------- on its termination claim under Government Contract No. ------ pursuant to the provisions of Supplemental Agreement No. ---------- dated ----------, 194--, receipt of a copy of which supplemental agreement is hereby acknowledged, and of such further amounts as may from time to time be deposited in said account, the undersigned agrees to grant to ---------- as Contracting Officer for the Government, or his duly authorized representative, or to such other person as the Secretary of the ---------- Department may designate (any of the persons mentioned above being hereinafter included within the term 'Contracting Officer') access to the books and records maintained by the undersigned with respect to such account at all reasonable times and for all reasonable purposes, including (but without limiting the generality thereof) the inspection or copying of such books and records and any and all memoranda, checks, correspondence or documents appertaining thereto, and agrees to preserve said books and records for a period of five (5) years after the closing of said account or five (5) years after termination of hostilities in the present war, whichever period is longer. The undersigned further agrees to be bound by the provisions of said supplemental agreement relating to the deposit and withdrawal of funds in the Account, but shall not be responsible for the application of funds withdrawn from said Account upon the signature and countersignature filed with the Bank unless notified prior to such withdrawal by the Contracting Officer to suspend withdrawals therefrom. The undersigned shall act upon any written instructions from the Contracting Officer, and shall be under no liability to any person for any action taken in accordance with such instructions.

"The undersigned further agrees that the Government shall have a lien upon the credit balance in the Account, which lien shall be superior to any lien or claim of the undersigned with respect to the Account. In the event of appointment of a receiver, liquidator, or custodian for the property, or any substantial portion thereof, of the Contractor or any depository bank, or in the event of institution with respect to the Contractor or such bank of any insolvency proceedings or the service of any writ of attachment, levy of execution or the commencement of other legal proceedings against the Account, the undersigned will, if it has knowledge of such event, promptly notify the Chief of the ---------- (Bureau or Service), of ---------- Department, thereof.

---------- Bank
By----------"

ART. 4. Each withdrawal from the Account shall be made only by check of the Contractor countersigned by ---------- as Contracting Officer for the Government or his duly authorized representative, or such other person as the Secretary of the ---------- Department may designate (any of the persons mentioned above being included within the term "Contracting Officer"). Such countersignature may be of blanket checks to cover a number of approved expenditures. The Contracting Officer will authorize withdrawals from the Account from time to time as particular items of cost or payments to subcontractors, which are included in the Contractor's termination claim, are established, but, in the absence of express agreement in writing, authorization of a withdrawal for purposes of payment to a subcontractor, [other than to an Applicant Subcontractor,] shall not constitute authorization or approval of the payment to the subcontractor for purposes of Section 9 (b) of the Act. The amount of any funds paid into the Account for the benefit of a subcontractor by the Contractor will be promptly paid to such subcontractor, unless, and to the extent that, the Contracting Officer should authorize the Contractor to withhold and credit all or a part of such amount, in which case the amount so withheld shall promptly be credited to such subcontractor.

ART. 5. (a) Each partial payment to the Contractor made as provided herein shall be considered as payment of an amount due on the Contractor's termination claim under the terminated contract, and the interest payable by the Government under Section 6 (d) of the Act upon such amount shall cease to accrue upon the making of such payments. [, except that if the amount paid to the Contractor for the account of any Applicant Subcontractor, and duly paid or credited to such subcontractor, should prove to be excessive, the amount due the Contractor shall not be reduced on account of such excess, and the interest payable to the Contractor shall not cease to accrue upon such excess.]

(b) If such payments exceed the amount finally determined to be due on the termination claim, the Contractor agrees to repay the excess [after deducting any excess payments to Applicant Subcontractors arising out of payments to the Contractor for their account] to the Government on demand, together with a penalty computed at the rate of 6% per annum from the date such excess arises to the date such excess is repaid or is otherwise extinguished. In the event that an excess payment results:

(1) From a credit arising in favor of the Government by reason of the disposal or retention of property by the Contractor or any subcontractor [, except an Applicant Subcontractor], such excess shall be deemed to have arisen at the time of such disposal or retention;

(2) From payment by the Government directly to a subcontractor of the termination claim of such subcontractor, such excess shall be deemed to have arisen 30 days after notification to the Contractor of his liability with respect to the claim of such subcontractor;

(3) From the withdrawal of a claim or a part thereof, such excess shall be deemed to have arisen when the payment, or the portion thereof attributable to the part of the claim which was withdrawn, was made, but if, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, the filing of the claim or the inclusion of the withdrawn portion was reasonable, he may designate the date of withdrawal as the date on which such excess arose.

ART. 6. The Government shall have a first lien upon the balance at any time in the Account, superior to any lien or right of the bank or other person, to secure any repayment due to the Government or the proper application of any amount thereof for the benefit of a subcontractor or subcontractors of the Contractor, as the case may be. In the event of appointment of a receiver, liquidator, or custodian for the property or any substantial portion thereof, of the Contractor or any depository bank, or in the event of the institution with respect to the Contractor or such bank of any insolvency proceedings, or the service of any writ of attachment, levy of execution, or the commencement of other legal proceedings against the Account, the Contractor shall promptly notify the Chief of the ---------- (Bureau or Service) of such event.

ART. 7. The Contractor hereby authorizes and instructs the depository bank or banks, upon the written request of the Contracting Officer, to transfer to the Government the credit balance in the Account, without liability to any person for such transfer.

ART. 8. Upon final settlement of the termination claim of the Contractor, any funds remaining in the Account which the Contractor is not obligated, under this Agreement or the final settlement agreement, to repay to the Government or to pay to a subcontractor, shall be free and clear of any claim of the Government whatsoever and may be withdrawn by the Contractor without countersignature or other restriction. Upon final settlement, the Government shall give prompt notice to the bank to such effect.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have executed this agreement as of the day and year first above written.

§ 849.955 Form of agreement for subcontractors' payment fund. The following form will be used in accordance with § 843.364–4:

This agreement entered into pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 (hereinafter called the Act) as of this ---------- day of ----------, 1945, by and between the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government) represented by ---------- (hereinafter called the Financial Contracting Officer, which term as used herein shall include his successor or duly authorized representative, and ---------- a ---------- corporation (hereinafter called the Contractor.

Witnesseth that:

Whereas the Contractor is a war contractor; and

Whereas it is deemed desirable by the parties to provide a fund to enable the Contractor to make prompt partial and final payments to its subcontractors on account of certain termination claims;

Now, therefore, the parties hereto mutually agree as follows:

(1) Definitions. All terms defined in the Act shall have the same meaning when used in this agreement. The term "Administrative Officer" shall mean ---------- or his successor or duly authorized representative.

(2) Establishment of fund. The Government shall, upon receipt of a properly certified voucher or vouchers, make payment or payments to the Contractor in the aggregate amount of $---------- Such additional sums may be paid to the Contractor hereunder as the Financial Contracting Officer may approve as necessary or appropriate for the purposes hereof.

(3) Special account. All payments so made shall be deposited in a special account with such bank or banks as may be selected by the Contractor and approved by the Administrative Officer. No part of the funds in the special account shall be mingled with other funds of the Contractor prior to withdrawal therefrom as hereinafter provided. The Government shall have a lien upon the credit balance in the special account superior to any lien or right of the bank or any other person, which lien shall secure repayment of amounts paid to the Contractor under paragraph (2) hereof. Before receiving any payment under paragraph (2), the Contractor shall transmit to the Administrative Officer an agreement from each bank in which a special account is to be established, substantially in the form annexed hereto. If required by the Administrative Officer, withdrawals from the special account shall, upon notice to the depositary bank, be made subject to prior written approval of the person designated in such notice.

(4) Use of funds. The Contractor shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (5) and (6) hereof, use the funds in the special account to make prompt partial and final payments on account of the termination claims of subcontractors under such of the Contractor's war contracts as are prime contracts with the War Department and the Navy Department or with any other Government agency which has delegated authority to settle the Contractor's war contracts to the War and Navy Department, or are subcontracts under prime contracts with such contracting agencies; provided that the Contractor shall not be required to use the funds in the special account to make partial or final payments on account of the termination claim of a subcontractor, with respect to which the Contractor will not have a termination claim. The Contractor shall make partial payments from the special account only (i) upon specific approval of subcontractors' applications therefor by a properly authorized Government representative or (ii) pursuant to authority delegated by the Government to the Contractor to make such partial payments without such approval and shall make final payments from the special account only upon settlements which have been (i) approved by a properly authorized Government representative or (ii) made pursuant to authority delegated by the Government to the Contractor. The Contractor shall not use the funds in the special account for any other purpose unless specifically authorized by the Financial Contracting Officer.

(5) Limitation on withdrawals. The Contractor shall not, without the specific approval of the Administrative Officer, make any partial or final payment from the special account to any subcontractor for the benefit of a lower-tier subcontractor if, to the knowledge of any director, officer or employee of the Contractor having direct control or supervision over withdrawals from the special account, such subcontractor or any intervening subcontractor is unable or unwilling to pay or credit to such lower-tier subcontractor any payments received for his benefit.

(6) Reimbursement of fund. On or before the tenth day of each quarter the Contractor shall, unless otherwise authorized by the Administrative Officer, submit partial payment applications, pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Joint Termination Regulation of the War and Navy Departments, covering all payments made by the Contractor from the special account during the preceding quarter and not included in any settlement proposal theretofore submitted. An amount equal to all payments received pursuant to such applications, together with any amounts received by or credited to the Contractor upon partial or final settlements representing payments from the special account on account of subcontractors' claims, shall promptly upon such receipt or credit be deposited by the Contractor in the special account. If the Contractor uses the funds in the special account to make a partial or final payment on the termination claim of a subcontractor on account of which the Contractor will not have a termination claim, the Contractor shall reimburse the special account for such payment on or before the tenth day of the quarter following the quarter in which it is determined that the Contractor will not have a termination claim.

(7) Repayment of fund. The Contractor may at any time repay to the Government all or any part of the amounts paid to the Contractor by the Government under paragraph (2) hereof. The Government may at any time, immediately after notice to the Contractor, withdraw all or any part of the balance in the special account by check payable to the Treasurer of the United States and signed solely by the Administrative Officer, the amounts so withdrawn to be applied against the Contractor's obligation to repay to the Government the amounts paid to the Contractor under paragraph (2) hereof. Upon final and conclusive settlement of all of the Contractor's prime contracts and subcontracts with respect to which the Contractor has made payments from the special account, or within three years after the date of this agreement, whichever is earlier, the Contractor shall repay to the Government all amounts paid to the Contractor by the Government under paragraph (2) hereof and not theretofore repaid. The Contractor shall have the right to set off against its obligations to make such repayment any and all amounts due to the Contractor from the Government on account of any payment made from the special account.

(8) Interest. Except as provided in paragraph (11) hereof, the Contractor shall not be required to pay interest to the Government on account of the sums paid by the Government to the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (2) hereof. The Contractor agrees that no interest will be charged for its own account on the amount of any termination claim paid from the special account for any period of time after such payment.

(9) Records. The Contractor shall obtain and preserve appropriate evidence of receipt of, and adequate records with respect to, each partial or final payment made or reimbursed from the special account or deposited therein. The Contractor shall, upon request, furnish to the Government the original of any subcontractor's application for a partial payment, the original evidence of receipt for any partial or final payment made or reimbursed from the special account, and a report in reasonable detail as to the information contained in such records.

(10) Reports. On or before the tenth day of each month the Contractor shall furnish to the Administrative Officer, a report setting forth in such reasonable detail as the Administrative Officer may require the amount in the special account at the end of the preceding month and the amounts deposited in and withdrawn from the account during such month. The Contractor shall also report with respect to any partial payment previously made by the Contractor from the special account which has, during the preceding month, proved to be in excess of the amount finally determined to be due on the termination claim of the subcontractor to whom or for whose benefit such partial payment was made. The Contractor shall from time to time furnish such financial statements as the Administrative Officer may request.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. This settlement proposal should be submitted to the contracting officer, if you are a prime contractor, or to your customer, if you are a subcontractor.

2. You should review any provisions of your contract relating to termination. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 provides for the payment of fair compensation for termination of war contracts, and regulations of Government contracting agencies contain detailed information relating to termination claims. Your claim for fair compensation may be prepared on a cost basis, or on the basis of a percentage of the contract price representing the estimated percentage of completion of work under the terminated contract, or may be calculated by any other method that will provide fair compensation for the preparations made and work done for the terminated portion of the contract, including a reasonable profit on such preparations and work.

3. Generally, if your settlement proposal is prepared on a cost basis, it may include, under items 2 and 3, the following:

(a) Costs. Costs incurred which are reasonably necessary and are properly allocable to the terminated portion of your contract under recognized commercial accounting practices, including direct and indirect manufacturing, selling and distribution, administrative, and other costs and expenses incurred.

(b) Settlements with subcontractors. Reasonable settlements of claims of subcontractors allocable to the terminated portion of your contract.

(c) Settlement expenses. Reasonable costs of preserving and protecting termination inventory in your possession and of settling your claim.

(d) Profit. A reasonable profit with respect to the preparations you have made and work you have actually done for the terminated portion of your contract. No profit should be included with respect to work which has not been done.

4. If you use this form, your net proposal must be less than $1,000, and you must retain or dispose of all the termination inventory at the best price obtainable. The Government may examine your books and records relative to this proposal, and if you are a subcontractor, your customer must be satisfied with respect to it. Acceptance of this proposal will constitute approval of the price which you offer for the entire inventory, including the proceeds of any sales which you have made.

5. Reference is made to Section 19 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 relating to the retention of records and working papers, and to any similar provisions of your contract, and to the provisions of Section 19 of the Act imposing penalties for the filing of fraudulent claims.

(2) AS TO SUBCONTRACTORS' CHARGES— (a) The contractor has examined, or caused to be examined, to an extent it considers adequate in the circumstances, the claims of its immediate subcontractors (exclusive of claims filed against such immediate subcontractors by their subcontractors); (b) the settlements on account of immediate subcontractors' own charges are fair and reasonable, said charges are allocable to the terminated portion of this contract and said settlements were negotiated in good faith and are not more favorable to its immediate subcontractors than those which the contractor would make if reimbursement by the Government were not involved; (c) the contractor has received from all its immediate subcontractors appropriate certificates with respect to their claims, which certificates, if the claims are for more than $1,000, are substantially in the form of this certificate; and (d) the contractor has no knowledge leading it to doubt (i) the reasonableness of the settlements with more remote subcontractors or (ii) that the charges for them are allocable to this contract. Upon receipt by the contractor of amounts covering settlements with its immediate subcontractors, the contractor will pay or credit them promptly with the amounts so received, to the extent that it has not previously done so. § 849.964 Instructions for use of standard proposal forms.

Office of Contract Settlement
October 1, 1944

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF STANDARD CONTRACT SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL FORMS

GENERAL

1. Standard forms provided. The Standard Forms are prescribed by the Director of Contract Settlement under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944. They are required to be used by all prime contractors and subcontractors in submitting proposals for settlement of claims under terminated fixed-price war supply contracts. This includes fixed-price supply subcontracts underlying cost-plus-fixed-fee prime contracts or subcontracts. The forms should be used by prime contractors for filing with the Government, and by subcontractors for filing with the company from which the notice of termination was received. They have been made uniform for all Departments and agencies of the United States Government in order to expedite preparation and review of settlement proposals. Previously authorized forms of the War Department or Navy Department may continue to be used until the Standard Forms are generally available.

2. Departures from standard forms. Although minor deviations from the requirements of the forms are permissible, prior approval of the contracting officer or the customer (contractor in next higher tier) should be obtained for any substantial departures from the requirements. However, a contractor receiving such approval may not require his subcontractors to submit their proposals on other than the prescribed standard forms. Submission of additional information which the contractor considers relevant is encouraged and may expedite review and approval of the proposal. As used in these instructions, the term "contracting officer" includes the contracting officer's representatives.

3. Where to obtain forms. The forms may be obtained from any Government contracting agency and the larger war contractors.

4. Reproduction of forms. Reproduction of the forms in any size is authorized, without approval of any Government agency, provided no change is made in the general arrangement. Reproduction of the inventory schedules on larger forms is encouraged where desired.

SHORT FORM SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL

(Form 1a)

5 This form may be used only where

(a) The contractor proposes to dispose of or retain all the inventory allocable to the terminated portion of the contract, and

(b) The net amount of the proposed settlement, after deducting his offer for the entire inventory (including proceeds of sales of any inventory disposed of) is less than $1,000.

6 Neither the inventory schedules (Forms 2a 2b, 2c, and 2d) nor the Schedule of Accounting Information (Form 3) are to be submitted with this form. The back of the form contains instructions for its use. Also see Miscellaneous Instructions on page 3 hereof.

OTHER FORMS

7. The other forms are as follows:

(a) Settlement proposal:

Form 1—General form, which may be used for any proposal, other than one on the total cost basis, regardless of amount.

Form 1b—Total cost basis form, for use only where it is necessary to present the proposal on the total cost basis. This form is not generally distributed but will be provided by any Government contracting office on request.

(b) Termination inventory schedules:

Form 2a—Metals (in mill product form).

Form 2b—Raw Materials (other than metals), Purchased Parts, Finished Components, Finished Product, and Miscellaneous.

Form 2c—Work in Process.

Form 2d—Dies, Jigs, Fixtures, etc. and Special Tools.

(c) Schedule of accounting information:

Form 3—This form is provided to facilitate accounting reviews of settlement proposals, and, wherever possible, to enable the review to be made without field examination.

SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL

8. Basis of presenting proposal. Form 1 may be used for any settlement proposal, other than one on the total cost basis, regardless of amount. It is designed for presenting proposals on the inventory basis, which should be used wherever practicable. Under this basis the settlement proposal will consist essentially of an inventory of individual items or groups of similar items stated at cost. In those cases where the inventory method is not practicable, contractors may present their proposals on the total cost basis. Under this method, the accumulated costs applicable to all work done on the contract are summarized; profit, if any, is added, and any amounts previously invoiced or to be invoiced for finished product are then deducted. Form 1b, designed for presenting proposals on the total cost basis, may be obtained from any Government contracting agency on request. When using this form, a contractor must, however, for purposes of property accountability and disposition, submit Termination Inventory Schedules listing all the inventory items for which amounts are included in the total costs presented in the Settlement Proposal. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 authorizes the use of any other equitable basis deemed appropriate by the contracting agency for determining fair compensation for the termination of war contracts. When using any such other method, the contractor should consult his customer or the contracting officer concerning the manner and form of presenting it.

9. Separate proposals for separate contracts. A separate proposal should ordinarily be submitted for each terminated war contract or purchase order unless some other procedure is approved by the contracting officer or customer. Claims based on a series of orders from the same purchaser for items applicable to the same contract may, however, be combined in a single proposal.

10. Interim proposals. Normally, a proposal when submitted should cover all elements of the claim, including the contractor's own charges and settlements with subcontractors. However, proposals may be filed in successive steps covering separate portions of a claim arising from the termination. Except with the approval of the customer or contracting officer, this system of progressive reporting should not be used to present claims covering portions of the contractor's own costs as they may be determined. Rather, it is intended to enable the contractor to file proposals covering either all his own costs, or his settlements with subcontractors, or his settlement expenses. In submitting an interim proposal, the contractor should complete only those portions of the form applicable to his proposal; for example, in submitting a proposal to cover settlements or proposed settlements with subcontractors, he should fill out, in addition to the boxes at the top of the form, only Schedule F and Item 14, and execute the certificate at the bottom of the form. Interim proposals may also be filed in connection with requests for partial payments. In submitting an initial proposal, amounts should be inserted only in column 4, and the required supporting schedules be completed. In filing subsequent proposals, the schedules should be completed in support of the items in column 8, or if this is not feasible, a revised schedule should be prepared in support of the accumulated totals in column 4.

11. Individual items of Form 1:

Settlement expenses—Item 12. These are sometimes referred to as post-termination expenses. They include reasonable accounting, legal, clerical, and other costs and expenses incident to termination and settlement of the contract or order, and reasonable costs and expenses of preserving and protecting termination inventory.

Settlements with subcontractors—Item 14. The war contractor submitting a settlement proposal need attach settlement proposals of his subcontractors only in cases where such settlement proposals are required by Government regulations to be reviewed or examined by the contracting officer or a Government review board, or where the contracting officer or customer so directs.

Acceptable finished product—Item 15. Normally prime contractors will be authorized to obtain payment for acceptable finished product on hand at date of termination by invoicing at the contract price, and such product will not be reported on the inventory forms or be included in the proposed settlement. Subcontractors should similarly seek to obtain payment for acceptable finished product on hand at the date of termination through regular billing procedure. Where, however, such payment is not obtained (solely because of the termination), the items should be listed on the appropriate inventory schedule (Form 2b), the contract price should be entered instead of cost in the cost column, and the items included at contract price in the settlement proposal. If the contract price is a delivered price, freight and other charges which would have been payable by the contractor had delivery been completed should be deducted.

Allowance for interest—Item 16. The Contract Settlement Act of 1944 provides for allowing interest on the amount due and unpaid from time to time on the termination claim at the rate of 2½ percent per annum for the period beginning 30 days after the date fixed for termination and ending with the date of final payment, with certain exceptions stated in section 6 (f) of the Act. For guidance in computing the interest to be allowed, reference is made to regulations of the various contracting agencies.

Disposal credits—Item 18. This item represents amounts by which the contractor's proposal should be reduced on account of (1) the contractor's offers to retain or sell inventory items, and (2) the proceeds of authorized sales (including credits for authorized retentions). The amount entered on Schedule G in the first proposal filed should agree with the total of the contractor's offers and the proceeds of authorized sales shown in column 8 on all the inventory schedules. If a subsequent settlement proposal is filed, increases or decreases in the amount of the disposal credits need not be supported by revised inventory Schedules, but adjustments should be explained in Schedule G. If practicable, the part of the disposal credit applicable to acceptable finished product included in the proposal should be shown separately in Schedule G.

12. Supporting inventory schedules. Items 1 through 7, and Item 15, must be supported by the inventory schedules described below.

TERMINATION INVENTORY SCHEDULES

(Forms 2a, 2b, 2c, and 2d)

13. When used. These schedules, which are filed either with or in advance of the Settlement Proposal (other than the Short Form) serve two principal purposes: (1) To support the amount of inventory costs included in the Settlement Proposal; and (2) to aid in arranging for the removal, storage, sale, or other disposition of the termination inventory.

14. Partial inventories. Where inventory schedules covering a substantial portion of the inventory can be prepared in advance of other portions, partial filings are encouraged in the interest of expediting property removal and disposal.

15. Description—Column 2. On Form 2a (Metals) full commercial description is required for all items. On all other inventory schedules full commercial description is required only for items believed to have commercial value. For other items, the contractor need furnish only such description as is sufficient to enable the contracting officer or customer, as the case may be, to determine the appropriate disposition. This may involve ascertaining whether the items can be used elsewhere in the procurement program, or passing upon scrap recommendations or offers to purchase. The more limited description required for these purposes will ordinarily suffice in the case of most special parts, most special tools, dies, jigs and fixtures, and most work in process. Where the contractor is in doubt as to the extent of the description required, he should consult with the contracting officer or the customer who may accept such description as he thinks satisfactory under all the circumstances. The "Handbook of Standards for Describing Surplus Property" compiled for the disposal agencies of the Government, will be made available by contracting agencies to war contractors. It will be helpful as a guide to the type of information needed for a full commercial description.

16. Sundry listing of small amounts. Items having a cost of less than $100 need not be listed separately but may be lumped together under a "sundry" caption with only a general description of the type of items, provided the aggregate amount included does not exceed $5,000, or 20 percent of the total inventory cost, whichever is less. For this purpose, the term "item" means all the substantially similar articles in the termination inventory at any one location. Contractors are urged to retain or dispose of all such items at the best price obtainable. In the case of items retained by the contractor this means a price which in his judgment is fair and reasonable and not less than the price he would obtain if the item were offered for sale. His insertion in column 8 of the Inventory Schedules, or in Schedule G of the Settlement Proposal, of amounts in respect of such items will constitute his representation that such amounts are in his judgment the best prices obtainable, as that phrase is used above. No approval of such prices by the customer or the contracting officer will be required.

17. Common items. Items which are reasonably usable on other work of the contractor because they are materials, parts, or components, common in nature to both the terminated contract and other work of the contractor, should not be listed, nor should any costs with respect thereto be included in the proposal, to the extent that the items are reasonably applicable to the contractor's other work in accordance with regulations of the contracting agency.

18. Classification of items. To aid in selling or storing property which is to be removed from the contractor's plant by the Government, a classified arrangement of the items on the inventory schedules is essential. Except in the case of work in process and of items having no commercial value, like items are required to be listed with like items and, with certain exceptions, a separate sheet must be used for each classification of property at any one location. Instructions for arranging the items on the Inventory Schedules are given in Appendix A hereto and must be closely followed.

19. Submission of termination inventory schedules and obligation of government to remove property. These schedules will serve as the contractor's statement showing the material claimed to be termination inventory which, if not otherwise disposed of or covered by agreement, he desires to have removed by the Government. The obligation of the Government under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to remove or arrange for storage of any such items will not arise until 60 days, or such other time as may be agreed on, after the Termination Inventory Schedules on which they are listed are received in satisfactory form by the appropriate Government officer in such manner as may be prescribed. In the case of a prime contract, the appropriate Government officer is the contracting officer, or his representative,[1] administering the contract, or such other representative as the contracting agency may designate. In the case of a subcontract, it is the contracting officer, or his representative,[1] administering the prime contract under which the subcontract is terminated, or such other representative as the contracting agency may designate. Both the description and classification required by these instructions are necessary for satisfactory form. Schedules will not be deemed unsatisfactory in form with respect to items under $100 cost merely because they are lumped under a "sundry" caption in accordance with paragraph 16 above: Provided, The contractor files a supplementary Termination Inventory Schedule or Schedules with respect thereto which are in satisfactory form and meet the following conditions: (1) that they be received by the appropriate Government officer at least 20 days (or such other time as the contracting agency may prescribe) before the obligation of the Government would arise to remove or arrange for storage of the items in the "sundry" caption, (2) that there be listed any such items which have not by that time been disposed of and are to be tendered to the Government, and (3) that such items be described and classified in accordance with paragraphs 15 and 18 above.

20. Option to submit unclassified schedules. Subject to the conditions stated below, contractors who desire to do so may prepare and submit the Termination Inventory Schedules without classification of the items. This may make possible an earlier submission of the Settlement Proposal and may enable the contractor to avoid classification of items which will in fact be scrapped, retained, or otherwise disposed of without transfer to the Government. Schedules so submitted to the contracting officer or his representatives will not, however, be deemed to be satisfactory in form, as that term is used in paragraph 19 above, and the 60-day period there referred to will not commence to run with respect to any of the items included on them until supplementary schedules containing the required classified listing of such items are received by the appropriate Government officer.

21. Condition—Column 3. For purposes of indicating condition of material, other than work in process, the following code should be used. It requires the combination of a letter and a number in each instance (as E4 or N2)

N—New	1—Excellent
E—Used—reconditioned	2—Good
O—Used—usable without repairs	3—Fair
R—Used—repairs required	4—Poor

Use the letter "X," without a number, for material considered to have no further value for use as originally intended, but of possible salvage value other than as scrap.

22. Costs—Columns 5 and 6. Any generally recognized basis for costing inventory may be used, providing the system has been regularly in use by the contractor and reasonably reflects his costs. In some cases, particularly where a settlement proposal is filed on the total cost basis, complete costing of inventory schedules may not be possible; in such cases, however, the contractor should give as much cost information as practicable, particularly with respect to items of inventory other than work in process. Where the contractor's system of accounting makes it impracticable to determine unit costs for each item of inventory, it is permissible to enter total costs for all of the items or for groups of similar items. Estimated costs should be given where actual costs are not available.

23. Scrap recommendation—Column 7. A contractor should make scrap recommendations by inserting an "S" in column 7.

24. Contractor's offer, or proceeds of authorized sale. The letter "C" inserted after the dollar amount in column 8 will indicate the contractors' offer to retain or sell, and the letter "A" so inserted will indicate a sale (or credit for retention) previously authorized or approved by or on behalf of the contracting officer or customer. In either case quantity should also be shown (on a second line) if less than the full quantity shown in column 4.

25. Inventory certificate required. The Inventory Schedules, whether or not filed with the Settlement Proposal, must be accompanied by a certificate in the form set forth in Appendix B hereto. When the procedure authorized in paragraph 20 is followed, the second paragraph of the form of certificate should be omitted.

26. Government-owned property. Whenever Government-owned property is listed on the Termination Inventory Schedules, separate sheets should be used, marked to show that the items are Government-owned, and the schedules should be filed with the authorized Government representative as that term is used in paragraph 19 above.

(a) Termination inventory to which the Government has title under fixed-price contracts should be listed on the Termination Inventory Schedules as follows:

(1) The Government-owned materials furnished under the terminated contract without cost to the contractor (sometimes called "Government-furnished materials" or "Government-furnished equipment") should, for purposes of property accountability and disposition and not as a part of the settlement proposal, be listed unless the contracting officer directs otherwise.

(2) Where under a fixed-price supply contract, title to materials purchased by the contractor is vested in the Government, such materials should be listed, and cost data supplied to the extent required under paragraph 22 above.

(b) Government-owned facilities should not be listed on the Termination Inventory Schedules unless the contracting agency or the contracting officer so directs.

(c) Although these Instructions relate to fixed-price supply contracts, termination inventory under cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts may also be listed on the Termination Inventory Schedules if the contractor desires, and shall be so listed if required by the contracting agency.

SCHEDULE OF ACCOUNTING INFORMATION

(Form 3)

27. Form 3 is intended to facilitate accounting reviews and particularly to obviate the necessity of many field examinations which might otherwise be required. It should be filed only once in connection with each termination. It is not required if (1) the proposal is submitted on the Short Form (Form 1a), or (2) filing of Form 3 has been waived by the contracting officer or customer, or (3) the contractor has already filed a Form 3 with the contracting office or customer in connection with a previous termination. In the latter case a statement showing any changes in accounting information from that set forth in the previously filed Form 3 will be sufficient.

[1] In the case of the Navy Department, Navy Material Inspectors and other designated representatives for property disposition purposes with regard to the particular prime contract or subcontract will act as the representative of the contracting officer for this purpose.

MISCELLANEOUS INSTRUCTIONS

28. Cents may be omitted. In any of the forms, cents may be omitted, either by dropping them entirely or by stating the amount at the nearest dollar, except in the case of the unit cost column (col. 5) of the Inventory Schedules.

29. Separate schedules. If the space provided for any information called for by any of the forms is insufficient, attach separate supporting schedules.

30. Number of copies. The number of copies required of any of the forms will be indicated by the Government contracting agency or the contractor from whom notice of termination is received.

31. Retention of records. Attention is called to Section 19 of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, which with certain exceptions requires contractors to retain their records and working papers for five years after (1) disposition of termination inventory, or (2) final settlement of the war contract, or (3) termination of hostilities in the present war, whichever is latest. Attention is also called to the provisions of Section 19 of the Act imposing penalties for filing fraudulent claims.

32. Deliveries to Government may be required. Contractors will be advised, usually in the Notice of Termination, of any portions of the termination inventory which the Government requires to be delivered to it.

33. Approval of proposals filed on Form 1a (Short form). Where a war contractor in good faith approves any settlement proposal properly submitted to him on Form 1a by his immediate subcontractor, the settlement, including credits for retention or disposal of inventory, will be recognized by the Government as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the terminated prime contract, to the extent the subcontract is allocable to it, unless the contracting agency has previously caused notice to be given to the settling war contractor that such settlements made by him are subject to approval by the Government.

34. References. For guidance in preparing Settlement Proposals reference is made to the termination article of the contract, the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, and the regulations and instructions of various Government contracting agencies, and of the Director of Contract Settlement.

35. Changes in instructions. These instructions are subject to change by notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

APPENDIX A—CLASSIFYING ITEMS ON THE INVENTORY SCHEDULES

GENERAL

1. Why classification required. Inventory Schedules will not be considered to be in satisfactory form for the purposes of the 60-day period referred to in paragraph 19 of Instructions above unless the items are arranged in general groupings on separate sheets in accordance with the following instructions. This procedure is prescribed in order to facilitate removal from the contractor's plant and disposal of property listed on the Inventory Schedules and to meet the requirements of the disposal agencies. Contractors are urged to follow the instructions carefully in order to avoid delays in clearing their plants.

2. Classification distinguished from description. These instructions concerning classification apply solely to the arrangement of items on separate inventory sheets and in no way affect the requirements for description of the items, set forth in paragraph 15.

3. When classification required.

On Form 2a—Metals.	Classification required for all items.
On Form 2c—Work in Process.	No clasification required.
On Form 2b—Raw Materials (other than metals); Purchased Parts; Finished Components; Finished Product; Miscellaneous.	Classification required for items believed to have commercial value; items having no commercial value may be placed in a single classification designated "No Commercial Value."
On Form 2d—Dies, Jigs, Fixtures, etc., and Special Tools.

Description is, however, required in all instances in accordance with paragraph 15 of the Instructions.

4. Instructions for classifying. For metals (in mill product form) and raw materials, list items of one material with items of the same material. For all other products, list like items with like items. Each group will then comprise a separate classification of property. See examples below.

5. Write in the top right-hand corner of each inventory sheet opposite "Property Classification" the name of the classification for which the sheet is used. For example, in the case of Metals the name of the metal; in the case of Raw Materials (other than metals), or of Parts, Finished Components, Finished Product, or Miscellaneous, the name by which the material or article is commonly known in the trade.

6. Use a new sheet for each such separate general classification. In the case of small inventories or classifications having only a few items, however, several different classifications may be put on the same page, provided they are separated by at least three spaces, and the name of each classification is written in the top right-hand corner of the form.

7. Option to submit unclassified schedules. See paragraph 20 of the Instructions concerning filing inventory schedules without classification of the items, and the effect thereof on any obligation of the Government under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 to remove or arrange for storage of the items listed.

INDIVIDUAL FORMS

8. On Form 2a—Metals (in mill product form, excluding castings and forgings).

List metals in raw or primary form as furnished by the mill and on which there has been no subsequent fabricating operation. Do not include castings and forgings. They are to be listed on Form 2b. Except where there are only a few items, use a new sheet or series of sheets for each type of metal, and write the name of the metal or alloy in the space provided in the upper right-hand corner of the form. Examples are:

Alloy Steel	Manganese Bronze
Carbon Steel	Aluminum
Stainless Steel	Silver
Copper	Tin
Free Cutting Brass

In addition, on the sheets for any such metal, list like forms of the metal or alloy together in sequence. For example, on the sheets or sheets used to list Carbon Steel, group together all the strip, then follow with the sheets, then the bar stock, etc.

9. On Form 2b—Raw Materials (other than Metals); Purchased Parts; Finished Components; Finished Product; and Miscellaneous. The term "Raw Materials" is here used to include materials in primary form. Examples of the many different general classifications of raw or primary materials (other than metals) include:

Chemicals	Shoe cut stock
Pulp and paper	Cement
Paper board	Cork
Plastics (primary forms)	Textiles
Oils, fats, waxes	Cotton
Rubber	Kapok
Lumber	Wool
Hides and skins	Hair
Leather	Glass

Examples of some of the large number of general classifications of parts, components, finished product, or miscellaneous include:

Engines and turbines	Fans and blowers
Compressors and pumps	Bearings
Insulated wire and cable	Valves
Nuts and bolts	Surgical instruments
Conveyors	Electric motors
	Drugs
	Ignition equipment

Note that on this form items having no commercial value may be placed in a single classification designated "No Commercial Value," and no further classification of such items is required. For items deemed to have commercial value, use a new sheet for each classification (except as permitted under paragraph 6 above). Insert the name of the classification in the top right-hand corner of the inventory form and arrange the items falling under that classification in sequence under separate subheadings. For example, on the sheet or sheets used to list Chemicals, group separately all Acids, all Alkalis, all Resins, etc. Under the general classification of Insulated Wire and Cable, group separately all Asbestos-Insulated Copper Wire, all Rubber-Insulated Copper Wire, all Magnet Wire, etc. On the sheets used for Drugs, group separately all Antitoxins, all Vaccines, all Strychnine Derivatives, all Morphine Derivatives, etc.

10. On Form 2c—Work in Process. No classification of items is required on this schedule. However, a description must be given sufficient to enable the Government representative to identify the property and determine the appropriate method of disposal. Finished components should not be listed on this form but on Form 2b. Other materials which have not lost their identity through whole or partial assembly and which are deemed to have a further commercial use should similarly be listed on Form 2b.

11. On Form 2d—Dies, Jigs, Fixtures, etc., and Special Tools. Note that on this form items having no commercial value may be placed in a single classification designated "No Commercial Value." Such items require no further classification. For items deemed to have commercial value, general classifications may be limited to the following:

Dies Jigs Gauges
Fixtures Special tools

Use a new sheet for each such general classification (except as permitted under paragraph 6 above). Insert the name of the classification in the top right-hand corner, and list the items falling under that classification in sequence. For example, on the sheet used to list Dies, group separately all Extruding Dies, all Forging Dies, all Forming Dies, etc. On the sheet used for Gauges, group separately all Thread Gauges, all Radius Gauges, all Depth Gauges, etc.

12. If perishable tools are charged to indirect factory expense, they may not also be included in termination inventory. Where, however, indirect factory expense is adjusted to exclude such a charge, or where the perishable tools are charged directly to the contract, they should be included in the inventory, but should be listed on Form 2b and not 2d.

13. List separately when in doubt. Extreme care should be used to list only very similar items together as a single classification. If doubt exists as to the proper classification of any item, list that item separately and insert the commonly accepted trade name at the top right-hand corner of the page. Where forms overlap, the contractor may use the form best suited, except that finished components should be put on Form 2b and not on Form 2c.

APPENDIX B (SEE INSTRUCTIONS, PAR. 25)—FORM OF TERMINATION INVENTORY SCHEDULE CERTIFICATE

The contractor hereby certifies that the attached Termination Inventory Schedules, pages ---- to ----, inclusive, have been prepared in accordance with applicable instructions; that the inventory described therein is allocable to the designated contract and is located at the places specified; that the quantities are not in excess of the reasonable quantitative requirements of the terminated portion of the contract; and that the prices shown in column 8 (contractor's offer, or proceeds of authorized sale) are fair and reasonable and comply with Government price regulations.

The attached Schedules constitute the contractor's statement showing the materials claimed to be termination inventory which, if not otherwise disposed of, the contractor desires to have removed by the Government within 60 days from receipt hereof by the Government, or such shorter period as may be prescribed under the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, or such other period as may be agreed upon. Subject to such prior disposition, title to such materials is hereby tendered to the Government and is warranted to be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances.

Upon request of the Government, the contractor (will) (will not) negotiate to store at

CERTIFICATE

The undersigned, individually and as an authorized representative of the contractor, certifies that he has examined this Settlement Proposal and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief,

(1) AS TO CONTRACTOR'S OWN CHARGES—The Proposed Settlement (exclusive of charges set forth in Item 10) and supporting schedules and explanations have been prepared from the books of account and records of the contractor in accordance with the terms of the contract, they include only those charges allocable to the terminated contract, they have been prepared with knowledge that they will, or may, be used directly or indirectly as the basis of settlement of a claim or claims against the United States or an agency thereof, and the charges as stated are fair and reasonable.

(2) AS TO SUBCONTRACTORS' CHARGES—(a) The contractor has examined, or caused to be examined, to an extent it considers adequate in the circumstances, the claims of its immediate subcontractors (exclusive of claims filed against such immediate subcontractors by their subcontractors); (b) the settlements on account of immediate subcontractors' own charges are fair and reasonable, said charges are allocable to the terminated portion of this contract and said settlements were negotiated in good faith and are not more favorable to its immediate subcontractors than those which the contractor would make if reimbursement by the Government were not involved; (c) the contractor has received from all its immediate subcontractors appropriate certificates with respect to their claims, which certificates, if the claims are for more than $1,000, are substantially in the form of this certificate; and (d) the contractor has no knowledge leading it to doubt (i) the reasonableness of the settlements with more remote subcontractors or (ii) that the charges for them are allocable to this contract. Upon receipt by the contractor of amounts covering settlements with its immediate subcontractors, the contractor will pay or credit them promptly with the amount so received, to the extent that it has not previously done so. The term subcontractor as used above includes suppliers.

The undersigned certifies that to the best of his knowledge and belief the statements with respect to accounting matters made in the above Certificate are true.

§ 849.966-2 Instructions for claiming interest under terminated contracts where interest on loans guaranteed by the government has been waived.

INSTRUCTIONS

(1) War contractors who have obtained a waiver of interest on a V or VT-loan for a period ending after 21 July 1944, should use the form appearing on the reverse side hereof [§ 849.966-1] in submitting a claim for interest on account of all terminated contracts which served as a basis for such waiver, as provided in § 845.572-4 (b) of the Joint Termination Regulation of the War and Navy Departments.

(2) When a war contractor is no longer entitled to a waiver of interest obtained pursuant to an adjustment under Section 6 of a V or VT-loan guarantee agreement, he may file with the guarantor a consolidated claim for interest in connection with the terminated contracts which served as a basis for the adjustment. This consolidated claim should be submitted separately from all other termination claims, and should be supported by schedules showing the computation of interest claimed on each terminated contract and the amount of interest waived under the Section 6 adjustment subsequent to 21 July 1944. The interest claimed should be computed in accordance with § 845.572 of the Joint Termination Regulation. The amount of interest waived under the Section 6 adjustment should be checked with the financing institution which made the loan.

(3) If the loan in connection with which the adjustment was obtained was guaranteed by the War Department, the claim should be submitted to the War Department Liaison Officer assigned to the Federal Reserve Bank through which the guaranteed loan was processed. If the loan was guaranteed by the Navy Department, the claim should be submitted to the Federal Reserve Bank through which the guaranteed loan was processed.

(4) The Liaison Officer or the Federal Reserve Bank will verify the numbers of the contracts upon which the Section 6 adjustment was based and the amount of interest waived, and will thereupon forward the claim and supporting schedules (via the Finance Division, OP&M, in the case of loans guaranteed by the Navy Department) to the service or bureau having a preponderant interest in the terminated war contracts upon which the claim is based.

(5) The service or bureau to which a claim has been submitted will verify the claim to the extent deemed necessary, and, upon approval, will thereupon submit it, with an appropriate voucher, to the disbursing officer for payment.

§ 849.972-1 Agreement with war contractor for storage space. The following form will be used in accordance with § 844.465-2.

(At the top insert all special details relating to number of contract, service or bureau involved, appropriation or allotment, etc.)

This agreement, entered into pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 as of this ---- day of ----, 194--, by The United States of America (hereinafter called "the Government"), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract and ---- (hereinafter called "the Contractor");

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Government has terminated for its convenience or at its option war contract(s) numbered ---- (hereinafter referred to as "the Contract(s)"); and

Whereas, the Contractor has submitted to the Government an inventory of property in Schedule "A" attached hereto (the property described in Schedule "A" as it may from time to time be amended is hereinafter referred to as "the Property"), which the Contractor certifies is in its possession and is allocable to said terminated Contract(s); and

Whereas, the Contractor has requested that the Government take and remove the Property; and

Whereas, the Contractor is willing to provide certain space for the storage of the Property in accordance with the terms hereof until the Government removes it;

Now, therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1. Transfer of title. The Contractor, (without prejudice to any right the Contractor may have to compensation for the Property in connection with the termination settlement of the Contract(s)) does hereby transfer and convey to the Government, subject to plus or minus tolerances of quantities, weights and conditions within reasonable limits in accordance with good commercial inventory practice, title to the Property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except that as to any of the Property title to which is already in the Government, the Contractor hereby confirms and acknowledges that to the best of his knowledge the Government now has title thereto, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances; and in furtherance thereof the Contractor agrees to furnish to the Contracting Officer such evidences of ownership and other instruments of transfer as the Contracting Officer may reasonably require; Provided, however, That except as specified otherwise in Article 2 hereof, the Government reserves the right to contest the allocability of any or all of the Property to the terminated portion(s) of the Contract(s).[1]

[Delete this Article 2 if prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, a final written determination of allocability of the Property to the Contract(s) has been made.]

ART. 2. Allocability. (a) If it is determined prior to final settlement of the Contract(s) that any of the Property [other than that specified in paragraph (b) hereof] is not allocable to the terminated portion of the Contract(s) then the Government in arriving at the amount of the final settlement thereof will at its election take into account either the disposal value of the Property at the time of removal or the proceeds realized from the disposal of the Property, or will return the Property or property in kind to the Contractor at the Contractor's risk and expense; and after final settlement the Contractor will have no claim against the Government by reason of the Property.

[Delete this subparagraph (b) if inapplicable.]

(b) The parties hereto agree that the Property identified and described in Schedule "B" attached hereto is allocable to the Contract(s):

ART. 3. Storage space. The Contractor agrees to provide the storage space for the Property for the consideration of $---- per month.[2] The Property shall be stored at the following premises: With the consent of the parties, Schedule "A" may be amended from time to time by the addition of other property. In the event property is so added or deliveries made pursuant to Article 9 hereof or the Contractor packs or otherwise prepares the Property for shipment at the direction of the Contracting Officer, the compensation to be paid to the Contractor shall be equitably adjusted by mutual agreement.

[Delete this Article 4 if prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, a final written determination of the allocability of the Property to the Contract(s) and the fact that it is Government owned has been made.]

ART. 4. Reduction in storage charges. In the event it is determined that all or any part of the Property is not allocable to the terminated portion(s) of the Contract(s), the amount of payment(s) set forth in Article 3 hereof shall by mutual agreement be reduced retroactively to and including the month in which the Property was first stored hereunder.

ART. 5. Contract period. (a) This Contract shall continue until: (i) it shall be terminated by either party hereto giving to the other thirty days' previous notice in writing; or (ii) delivery of the entire quantity of the Property to the Government.[3]

(b) Upon termination the Contractor shall be paid pro rata for storage charges to and including the day on which the thirty days' notice expires or the delivery to the Government of the entire quantity of the Property is completed.

ART. 6. Inspection. The Government shall have access at any reasonable time to the premises where the Property is stored hereunder.

ART. 7. Segregation of property. All the Property shall be kept separate from all other property whether or not the Property may, by law or by custom, be considered fungible, and shall be identified as Government-owned property. This does not require, however, that the Property be stored in separate rooms, on different floor levels from other similar property, or in a particular space.[4]

ART. 8. Submission of invoices. The Contractor shall submit monthly to the Contracting Officer properly certified invoices or vouchers for all accrued charges under this agreement for the preceding storage month.

ART. 9. Deliveries. Deliveries of all, or from time to time, of part, of the Property from storage to the Government at the storage site or to its designated carrier or transfer agent will be accomplished by the Contractor on receipt of a written order from the Government.

[4] When in the opinion of the Contracting Officer the circumstances so require, special articles may be added to this agreement to provide for particular methods of storing, handling or preserving the Property. Such articles may specify that certain items or groups of items may be placed in outside storage or should receive special maintenance. It may also be desirable in some cases to specify particular arrangements of the Property—for example, between aisles or otherwise in order to permit ready access to and visible inspection of each lot of Property; in a particular type of stack so as to protect or insure maximum use of storage space; or in accordance with necessary safety requirements.

(b) The Contractor represents that it is not maintaining and agrees that it will not hereafter maintain insurance (including self-insurance funds or reserves) covering loss or destruction of or damage to the Property, and represents that it is not including and agrees that it will not hereafter include in any price to the Government any charge or reserve for such insurance.

(b) The term "Contracting Officer" means (1) the officer or employee who signs this agreement in behalf of the Government or who is designated as such in this agreement, or (2) any duly appointed successor or authorized representative of such a Contracting Officer or any Government agency (or person designated thereby) to which this agreement is transferred.

This agreement, entered into pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 as of this ------ day of ----------, 194--, by The United States of America (hereinafter called "the Government"), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract and ---------- (hereinafter called "the Contractor");

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Government has terminated for its convenience or at its option war contract(s) numbered ---------- (hereinafter referred to as "the Contract(s)"); and

Whereas, the Contractor has submitted to the Government an inventory of property in Schedule "A" attached hereto (the property described in Schedule "A" as it may from time to time be amended is hereinafter referred to as "the Property") which the Contractor certifies is in its possession in the quantities, weights and conditions set forth therein subject to plus or minus tolerances within reasonable limits in accordance with good commercial inventory practice, and is allocable to said terminated Contract(s) or has been furnished to the Contractor by the Government in connection therewith; and

Whereas, the Contractor has requested that the Government take and remove the Property; and

Whereas, the Contractor is willing to store the Property and perform the services in accordance with the terms hereof:

[Delete this Article 2 if prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, a final written determination of allocability of the Property to the Contract(s) has been made.]

ART. 2. Allocability. (a) If it is determined prior to final settlement of the Contract(s) that any of the Property (other than that specified in paragraph (b) hereof) is not allocable to the terminated portion of the Contract(s) then the Government in arriving at the amount of the final settlement thereof will at its election take into account either the disposal value of the Property at the time of removal or the proceeds realized from the disposal of the Property, or will return the Property or property in kind to the Contractor at the Contractor's risk and expense; and after final settlement the Contractor will have no claim against the Government by reason of the Property.

[Delete this subparagraph (b) if inapplicable.]

(b) The parties hereto agree that the Property identified and described in Schedule "B" attached hereto is allocable to the Contract(s):

ART. 3. Services. The Contractor agrees to perform all the services necessary in the handling, storage, and preservation of the Property for the consideration of $---------- per month to be paid it by the Government.[2] The Property shall be stored at the following premises:

With the consent of the parties, Schedule "A" may be amended from time to time by the addition of other property. In the event property is so added or deliveries made pursuant to Article 9 hereof or the Contractor packs or otherwise prepares the Property for shipment at the direction of the Contracting Officer, the compensation to be paid to the Contractor shall be equitably adjusted by mutual agreement.

(Or)

[Alternative] ART. 3. Services. The Contractor agrees to perform all the services necessary in the handling, storage, preservation, packing and delivery of the Property.

For his services under this article the Government shall pay the Contractor the following:

(a) For the necessary handling, packing and preparing for storage in connection with the initial storage of the Property the sum of $---------- It is agreed by the parties hereto that in the determination of such sum due allowance has been made for any sum previously paid or payable to the Contractor.

(b) For the services of storing and preserving the Property the sum of $---------- per month.[2]

(c) For any additional services, such as packing for shipment, delivery or drayage to a designated carrier or transfer agent in accordance with Article 9 hereof, the Government shall pay the Contractor a reasonable amount to be determined by mutual agreement.

With the consent of the parties Schedule "A" may be amended from time to time by the addition of other property. In the event property is so added or when deliveries are made pursuant to Article 9 hereof or the Contractor packs or otherwise prepares the Property for shipment at the direction of the Contracting Officer, the compensation to be paid to the Contractor shall be equitably adjusted by mutual agreement. Any claim for payment in addition to that specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) hereof or for payment under paragraph (c) hereof must be asserted within thirty days from the date the services are rendered, or within such further period as the Contracting Officer may allow.

The Property shall be stored at the following premises:

[Delete this Article 4 if prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, a final written determination of the allocability of the Property to the Contract(s) and the fact that it is Government-owned has been made.]

ART. 4. Reduction in storage charges. In the event it is determined that all or any part of the Property is not allocable to the terminated portion(s) of the Contract(s), or is not Government-owned property, the amount of payment(s) set forth in Article 3 hereof and any additional payments made pursuant to Article 12 (b) and (c) hereof shall by mutual agreement be reduced retroactively to and including the month in which the Property was first stored hereunder.

ART. 5. Contract period. (a) The Contractor agrees to perform the services described in Article 3 hereof beginning on ---------- and continuing until: (i) this contract shall be terminated by either party hereto giving to the other thirty days' previous notice in writing; or (ii) delivery of the entire quantity of the Property to the Government.[3]

(b) Upon termination the Contractor shall be paid pro rata for storage charges to and including the day on which the thirty days' notice expires or the delivery to the Government of the entire quantity of the Property is completed.

ART. 6. Inspection. The Government reserves the right to inspect at any reasonable time the Contractor's storage space and Property stored hereunder.

ART. 7. Segregation of property. All the Property shall be kept separate from all other property whether or not the Property may, by law or by custom, be considered fungible, and shall be identified as Government-owned property. This does not require, however, that the Property be stored in separate rooms, on different floor levels from other similar property, or in a particular space.[4]

ART. 8. Submission of invoices. The Contractor shall submit monthly to the Contracting Officer properly certified invoices or vouchers for all accrued charges under this agreement for the preceding storage month.

ART. 9. Deliveries. Deliveries of all, or from time to time of part of the Property from storage to the Government at the storing site or to its designated carrier or transfer agent will be accomplished by the Contractor on receipt of a written order from the Government.

ART. 10. Waiver of lien. The Contractor hereby agrees to waive any warehouseman's lien on the Property to which it may otherwise be entitled and agrees that it will not assert any warehouseman's lien thereon.

ART. 11. Liability for the property. (a) The Contractor shall be liable for loss or destruction of or damage to the Property caused by his failure to comply with the provisions of this agreement or failure to exercise such care in regard to the Property as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable for any loss or destruction of or damage to the Property which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care, except that discrepancies exceeding plus or minus tolerances of quantities, weights and conditions in accordance with good commercial inventory practice may give rise to a claim by either party hereto against the other.

(b) In the event that all or any part of the Property is covered by insurance, the policy or policies of insurance shall expressly provide for the payment of benefits directly to the Government to the extent of its interest.

ART. 12. Federal, State and local taxes. (a) The compensation provided herein includes all applicable Federal, State and local taxes (the word "taxes" being used in this Article to include fees and charges) in effect at the date of this agreement and incurred in the performance of this agreement except that it does not include any taxes on the Property stored under this agreement.

(b) If after the date of this agreement the Federal Government or any State or local government shall impose, remove or change (including any change by the removal by statute of an exemption available to the Contractor for the purposes of this agreement) any tax upon the storage or privilege of storing the Property, which tax must be borne by the Contractor because of a specific contractual obligation or by operation of law; and, if in case of an increase in such an existing tax or the imposition of such a new tax, the Contractor has paid such tax to the Federal Government or to a State or local government, or any other person; or, in case of a decrease or elimination of any such tax, and the Contractor is relieved to that extent; then the compensation named herein will be increased or decreased accordingly, and any amount due to the Contractor as a result of such change will be charged to the Government and entered on vouchers (or invoices) as a separate item: Provided, however, That the Government reserves the right to issue to the Contractor in lieu of such payment a tax exemption certificate or certificates acceptable to the Federal Government or State or local government, as the case may be. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph (b) may be determined by a written agreement between the parties hereto. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as requiring the Government to reimburse the Contractor for any Federal, State, or local income taxes, income surtaxes or excess profits taxes, transportation taxes or any State or local property taxes, except as provided in paragraph (c) hereof.

(c) If after the date of this agreement the Contractor incurs any State or local property tax with respect to the Property allocable to the Contract(s) the compensation will be increased in the manner set out in paragraph (b) hereof.

(d) In the case of any State or local tax which the Contractor contends is chargeable to the Government because of the provisions of this Article, or any other provision of this agreement, the Contractor agrees to give the Contracting Officer prompt notice of any levy or assessment thereof or claim therefor, and to refrain from paying such tax upon the direction of the Contracting Officer (in which event the Government will save the Contractor harmless from penalties and interest incurred through compliance with the direction of the Contracting Officer not to pay such tax); to take such steps as may be directed by the Government to cause such tax to be paid under protest; to preserve and, if so directed by the Contracting Officer, to cause to be assigned to the Government, any and all rights to the abatement or refund of such tax; if so requested, to permit the Government to prosecute any claim, litigation or proceeding for the abatement or refund of such tax in the name of the Contractor and to furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation requested by the Government in any litigation or proceeding for the abatement or recovery of such tax.

ART. 13. Convict labor. The Contractor shall not in the performance of this Contract employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor.

ART. 14. Renegotiation. (War Department Procurement Regulations § 803.342–1; Navy Department Procurement Directives, par. 14,402)—[Insert this clause only when contract is for an amount in excess of $100,000].

The Form has been made uniform for all Departments and Agencies of the United States Government in order to facilitate preparation and review of applications and to expedite plant clearance. Prompt action upon contractors' applications is dependent upon preparation of the supporting schedules accurately and completely in accordance with these instructions.

2. This Application may be submitted with respect to all or any part of the plant equipment in a contractor's plant, and will be accompanied by a purchase schedule and/or a removal schedule. However, in the interests of sound administration, contractors should not make repeated submissions covering minor amounts of plant equipment.

3. Forms may be obtained from any owning agency. Reproduction of the Form is authorized, but no change in arrangement or size (other than omission of the instructions) may be made without the approval of the owning agency. With the approval of the owning agency, the format of the supporting schedules may be varied, or existing listings of plant equipment may be used in lieu of the supporting schedules, provided no essential information is omitted. However, a contractor receiving such approval may not require his subcontractors to submit their supporting schedules on other than the prescribed standard forms. In order to avoid unnecessary labor you should consult the authorized representative of the owning agency before preparing the supporting schedule or exhibits.

4. This application should be submitted to the authorized representatives of the owning agency if you hold the plant equipment under a facilities contract, lease or similar arrangement made directly with the owning agency; or, if you are a subcontractor, to the facilities contractor with whom your arrangements for the use of the equipment were made. The owning agency will advise as to the number of copies of the Form required.

SUBPART H—FORMS RELATING TO SETTLEMENT

§ 849.980 Scope. This subpart contains forms of settlement agreements for various types of terminated prime contracts and related forms for settlements with subcontractors and with War Supplies Limited (Canada). [JTR 980]

§ 849.981 Settlement agreement for fixed-price prime contracts. [JTR 981]

§ 849.981–1 Settlement agreement for use in settling fixed-price prime contracts after complete termination. The following form will be used in accordance with Subpart D of Part 847:

(At the top insert all special details relating to the particular contract terminated; e.g., number of contract, service or bureau involved, appropriation or allotment, etc.)

[1] Where appropriate the following sentence should be added at the end of subparagraph (b) of Alternative Article 3 JTR 972.2 (§ 849.972–2): It is agreed by the parties hereto that in the determination of such sum due allowance has been made for any storage to which the Government is entitled by reason of said Contract No. ----------.

This supplemental settlement agreement, entered into pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 (hereinafter called "the Act"), as of this---------- day of ---------- ----------194----, by the United States of America (hereinafter called "the Government") represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract and---------- ---------- (hereinafter called "the Contractor"),

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Contractor and the Government have entered into Contract No------ ----under date of ---------- 194--, which, together with any and all amendments, changes, and supplements thereto, is hereinafter referred to as "the Contract"; and

Whereas, the Act declares that upon the termination of any war contract (as therein defined) in whole or in part for the convenience or at the option of the Government, it shall be the responsibility of the contracting agency (as therein defined) to provide the war contractor with speedy and fair compensation for the termination of the war contract and provides that any contracting agency may settle all or any part of any termination claim under any war contract by agreement with the war contractor; and

[Insert the following "Whereas" clause if the Contract contains a termination article with provisions similar to those set out in this clause.]

Whereas, the Contract provides that the performance of work thereunder may at the convenience or option of the Government be terminated by the Government in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever any such termination is determined to be for the best interests of the Government, and that the Contractor and Contracting Officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the Contractor by reason of such termination; and

Whereas, by notice of termination dated ---------- the Government advised the Contractor of the complete termination of the Contract for the convenience or at the option of the Government; and

Whereas, the term "Contract termination inventory", as used herein, shall mean all materials (including a proper part of any common materials), determined by the parties hereto, in connection with this settlement, to be properly allocable to the terminated portion of the Contract, except any machinery or equipment subject to a separate contract or contract provision specifically governing the use or disposition thereof; and

Whereas, the term "subcontract termination inventory," as used herein, shall mean all materials (including a proper part of any common materials) determined by the parties to any subcontract under the Contract, in connection with the settlement thereof, to be properly allocable to the terminated portion of such subcontract, except any machinery or equipment subject to a separate contract, or contract provision, specifically governing the use or disposition thereof;

Now, therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows: [Insert whichever form of Article 1 is applicable. Use of the third alternative form is not favored. It should be resorted to as a temporary measure only where a storage agreement is not feasible and where no other practicable method of property disposal is available which will permit the signing of a settlement agreement (see § 844.465–3).]

ARTICLE 1. The Contractor certifies that all Contract termination inventory (including scrap), has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement. (Or)

ARTICLE 1. (a) The Contractor certifies that a portion of the Contract termination inventory (including scrap), has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement;

(b) With respect to all Contract termination inventory not so disposed of prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, and described in the inventory schedules submitted by the Contractor in advance of or in connection with its Settlement Proposal, the parties shall promptly execute a storage agreement substantially in the form set forth in the Joint Termination Regulation, § 849.972–1 [or § 849.972–2]. (Or)

ARTICLE 1. (a) The Contractor certifies that a portion of the Contract termination inventory (including scrap) has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement;

(b) Subject to the qualification stated below in subparagraph (c) of this Article 1, the Contractor hereby transfers and conveys to the Government, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, and with the right to immediate possession, title to the Contract termination inventory not so disposed of prior to the date of execution of this Agreement and described in the inventory schedules (hereafter sometimes referred to as "the Schedules") submitted by the Contractor in advance of or in connection with, its Settlement Proposal. It is the intent and purpose of this Article to convey to the Government—to the extent not previously conveyed—all residual Contract termination inventory; and to this end, it is understood (1) that such Schedules do not include, and it is intended that they shall not include, any Contract termination inventory properly disposed of by the Contractor prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, but (2) that such Schedules do include all Contract termination inventory not so disposed of as of the date of this Agreement. Such Schedules are identified as follows: [Here insert exact reference to the inventory schedules submitted in advance of, or in connection with, the Contractor's Settlement Proposal, with explanation if necessary, that such schedules have been revised to eliminate any items disposed of after original submission of the schedules but prior to execution of the settlement agreement. In lieu of such reference the parties may refer to, or attach, a separate list adequately describing the Contract termination inventory so transferred and conveyed.]

If and to the extent that, as of the date of this Agreement, any such Contract termination inventory so described on the Schedules [or by separate list, as above provided] is not segregated from the Contractor's other property and clearly identified as belonging to the Government, the Contractor agrees to effect such segregation and identification with reasonable dispatch.

(c) If later, upon the execution of a storage agreement covering such Contract termination inventory or upon its removal from the Contractor's premises by and for the Government, or at any time prior to either of such events, discrepancies are discovered between the quantities, weights, or conditions of such inventory shown on the aforesaid Schedules or lists and the quantities, weights or conditions actually found by the Government, the Contractor shall reimburse the Government to the extent of any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage with respect to such inventory (measured by the loss of fair value) at the time such discrepancies are discovered; provided (1) that plus or minus tolerances of quantities, weights and conditions within reasonable limits in accordance with good commercial inventory practice will be accepted and discrepancies within such tolerances shall create no claim by either party against the other; and (2) that even if minus tolerances are exceeded, the Contractor shall not be liable therefor unless they are caused by any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage resulting from the Contractor's failure to exercise such care in regard to such inventory as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise. The Contracting Officer shall determine (i) whether such tolerances are exceeded, (ii) whether, if so, such excess resulted from failure to exercise such care, and (iii) the extent of any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage with respect to such inventory. Such determination will be subject, however, to any provisions of the Contract relating to settlement of disputes, and any claims arising thereunder may be settled by negotiation between the parties.

(d) Pending ultimate disposition of such Contract termination inventory, the Government may at all reasonable times have access to the Contractor's premises for the purpose of (1) furnishing extra plant protection, (2) making inspections of such inventory, (3) preparing additional inventory schedules, (4) crating, baling, or otherwise packaging such inventory, (5) arranging for selling or scrapping such inventory, and (6) accomplishing any other lawful purpose. The Contractor expressly waives any claim under this Agreement or under the Act to storage charges for the period during which such inventory, or any part thereof, remains on its premises under the terms of this Agreement. Such period may, at the option of the Government, extend for --------- days after execution of this Agreement, but not longer except with the consent of the Contractor.

ART. 2. (a) The Contractor certifies that, prior to the execution of this Agreement, each of the Contractor's immediate subcontractors whose claim is included in the claim settled by this Agreement has either (1) properly submitted his claim on Standard Form 1a of the Office of Contract Settlement or (2) furnished to the Contractor a certificate stating (i) that all his subcontract termination inventory (including scrap), has been retained, sold, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, were taken into account in arriving at the settlement of the subcontract or subcontracts and (ii) that the subcontractor has received from each of his immediate subcontractors whose claim was included in his claim either a claim properly submitted on said Standard Form 1a or a certificate substantially similar to clause (i) and this clause (ii) of this Article 2 (a).

(b) The Contractor hereby transfers and conveys to the Government all the right, title and interest, if any, which the Contractor has received, or is entitled to receive, in and to subcontract termination inventory, if any, not otherwise properly accounted for, and hereby assigns to the Government any and all of its rights relating thereto whether arising under negotiated settlements, formula determinations, or otherwise.

ART. 3. In all cases where the Contractor has not previously made such payments, the Contractor shall, within ten (10) days after receipt of the payment provided for hereunder, pay to each of its immediate subcontractors and suppliers (or to their respective assignees) the respective amounts to which they are entitled, after deducting, if the Contractor so elects, any amounts then due and payable to the Contractor by such subcontractors and suppliers. If the Contractor fails to make any such payment within ten (10) days, the Contractor will, upon request, return to the Government the amount so payable to such immediate subcontractors and suppliers, less any amount then due and payable to the Contractor by them.

ART. 4. (a) The Contractor has received the sum of $---------- (a) ---------- on account of work and services performed, or articles delivered, under the Contract.[1] The Government as part of this negotiated settlement, hereby confirms and acknowledges the right of the Contractor to retain such sum heretofore paid and agrees that such sum constitutes a portion of the total amount to which the Contractor is entitled in complete and final settlement of the Contract.

(b) In addition, upon execution of this Agreement (and of the storage agreement(s) referred to in Article 1)[2] the Government agrees to pay to the Contractor or its assignee, upon presentation of properly certified invoices or vouchers, the sum of $--------- (b) ---------- representing the sum of $-------- (x) ---------- less (1) the amount of $------ (y) -------- representing all unliquidated partial or progress payments previously made on account to the Contractor or its assignee and all unliquidated advance payments (with interest, if any, thereon) and (2) the amount of $---------- (z) ---------- representing all applicable property disposal credits. All interest to which the Contractor is entitled under the Act to the date of payment is included in said sum of $-------- (b) --------, or, to the extent not so included, is expressly waived by this agreement.[3] Said sum, together with all other sums heretofore paid, constitutes payment in full and complete settlement of the amount due the Contractor by reason of the complete termination of work under the Contract and of all other claims of the Contractor under the Contract, and under the Act, in so far as it pertains to the Contract, except as hereinafter provided in this Article.

(c) Upon payment of said sum of $------ (b) --------, as aforesaid, all rights and liabilities of the parties under the Contract and under the Act, in so far as it pertains to the Contract, shall cease forthwith and be forever released except:

[The following list of excepted rights and liabilities is intended to cover those which should most frequently be excepted, and which should in any event be scrutinized at the time a settlement agreement is signed. The suggested language of the enumerated excepted items on the list may be varied in the discretion of the contracting officer to cover more accurately the exceptions needed in a particular case. Where greater accuracy or completeness may be achieved by a reference to the number of the Contract article or provision covering the excepted matter in question, this method of enumerating excepted rights and liabilities may be followed. Omit any of the following which are not applicable and add any additional exceptions required.]

(1) All rights and liabilities, if any, of the parties under the Renegotiation Act.

(2) All rights and liabilities of the parties arising under the Contract articles, if any, or otherwise which relate to reproduction rights, patent infringements, inventions, applications for patent and patents, including rights to assignments, invention reports and licenses, covenants of indemnity against patent risks and bonds for patent indemnity obligations, together with all rights and liabilities under any such bond.

(3) All rights of the Government to take the benefit of any adjustments of royalties under the Royalty Adjustment Act of October 31, 1942 (Public No. 768, 77th Cong.; 35 U.S.C. 89–96) and to take the benefit of agreements reducing or otherwise affecting royalties paid or payable in connection with the performance of the Contract.

(4) All rights and liabilities of the parties under the articles, if any, in the Contract applicable to options (except options to continue or increase the work under the Contract), covenants not to compete, covenants of indemnity, and agreements with respect to the future care and disposition by the Contractor of Government-owned facilities remaining in his custody.

(5) All rights and liabilities of the parties arising under the Contract articles, if any, or otherwise, concerning defects in, and guarantees or warranties relating to, any completed articles or component parts furnished to the Government by the Contractor pursuant to the Contract or this Agreement.

[The following paragraph (6) to be inserted only when the third alternative form of Article 1 is used]

(6) All rights and liabilities of the parties under the articles, if any, of the Contract concerning settlement of disputes growing out of any determination made by the Contracting Officer under Article 1 of this Agreement.

(7) All rights and liabilities, if any, of the parties under the Act relating to removal and storage of Contract termination inventory.

(8) All rights and liabilities, if any, of the parties under those clauses inserted in the Contract because of the requirements of Acts of Congress and Executive Orders, including, without limitation, any applicable clauses relating to the following topics: labor law, contingent fees, domestic articles, employment of aliens, "officials not to benefit."

[The following subparagraph (9) to be inserted only where the parties have not agreed on the total amount to be included as interest to the date of payment.]

§ 849.983 Settlement agreements for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. [JTR 983]

§ 849.983–1 Settlement agreement for use in settling cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts after complete termination. The following form is designed for a negotiated settlement, under § 845.560 and following, after complete termination. In using it for partial final settlements, appropriate changes should be made.

(Here insert unchanged all the material of § 849.981–1, "Settlement Agreement for use in settling fixed-price prime contracts after complete termination", after the heading up to Article 1.)

ARTICLE 1. The Contractor certifies that all Contract termination inventory (including scrap), has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement. (Or)

ARTICLE 1 (a) The Contractor certifies that a portion of the Contract termination inventory (including scrap), has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement.

(b) With respect to all Contract termination inventory not so disposed of prior to the date of execution of this Agreement, and described in the inventory schedules submitted by the Contractor in advance of or in connection with its Settlement Proposal, the parties shall promptly execute a storage agreement substantially in the form set forth in § 849.972–1 [or § 849.972–2]. (Or)

ARTICLE 1. (a) The Contractor certifies that a portion of the Contract termination inventory (including scrap) has been retained, sold to third parties, returned to suppliers, stored for the Government, delivered to the Government, or otherwise properly accounted for, and all proceeds or retention prices thereof, if any, have been taken into account in arriving at this Agreement.

(b) Subject to the qualification stated below in subparagraph (c) of this Article 1, the Contractor confirms and acknowledges that, with respect to all the Contract termination inventory not so disposed of prior to the date of execution of this Agreement and described on the schedules attached hereto as "Exhibit A", the Government either now possesses, or hereby receives a transfer and conveyance of, title, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, and the right to immediate possession. [Schedules or lists may, if clearly identified, be incorporated by reference and not physically attached.] It is the intent and purpose of this Agreement to confirm in the Government, or convey to the Government, as the case may be, title to all residual Contract termination inventory; and to this end it is understood (1) that such schedules do not include, and it is intended that they shall not include, any Contract termination inventory properly disposed of by the Contractor prior to date of execution of this Agreement, but (2) that such schedules do include all Contract termination inventory not so disposed of as of the date of execution of this Agreement.

If and to the extent that, as of the date of this Agreement, any Contract termination inventory so described on such schedules is not segregated from the Contractor's other property and clearly identified as belonging to the Government, the Contractor agrees to effect such segregation and identification with reasonable dispatch.

(c) If later, upon the execution of a storage agreement covering such Contract termination inventory or upon its removal from the Contractor's premises by or for the Government, or at any time prior to either of such events, discrepancies are discovered between the quantities, weights or conditions of such inventory shown on the aforesaid inventory schedules or lists and the quantities, weights or conditions actually found by the Government, the Contractor shall reimburse the Government to the extent of any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage with respect to such inventory (measured by the loss of fair value) at the time such discrepancies are discovered; provided (1) that plus or minus tolerances of quantities, weights and conditions within reasonable limits in accordance with good commercial inventory practice will be accepted and discrepancies within such tolerances shall create no claim by either party against the other; and (2) that even if minus tolerances are exceeded, the Contractor shall not be liable therefor unless they are caused by any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage resulting from the Contractor's failure to exercise such care in regard to such inventory as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise. The Contracting Officer shall determine (1) whether such tolerances are exceeded, (ii) whether, if so, such excess resulted from failure to exercise such care, and (iii) the extent of any shortage, loss, destruction, or damage with respect to such inventory. Such determination will be subject, however, to any provisions of the Contract relating to settlement of disputes.

(d) Pending ultimate disposition of such Contract termination inventory, the Government may at all reasonable times have access to the Contractor's premises for the purpose of (1) furnishing extra plant protection, (2) making inspections of such inventory, (3) preparing additional inventory schedules, (4) crating, baling or otherwise packaging such inventory, (5) arranging for selling or scrapping such inventory, and (6) accomplishing any other lawful purpose. The Contractor expressly waives any claim under this Agreement or under the Act to storage charges for the period during which such inventory, or any part thereof, remains on its premises under the terms of this Agreement. Such period may, at the option of the Government extend for _____ days after execution of this Agreement, but not longer except with the consent of the Contractor.

ART. 2. (Here insert Article 2 of § 849.981–1.)

ART. 3. (Here insert Article 3 of § 849.981–1.)

ART. 4. (a) The Contractor has received prior to the effective date of termination certain sums with respect to work and services performed, or articles delivered, under the Contract. The Contractor has also received after the effective date of termination certain additional sums for work and services performed, or articles delivered, under the Contract as final payments on partial settlements and in partial payment on account of the Contractor's termination claim. The Government, as part of this negotiated settlement, hereby confirms and acknowledges the right of the Contractor to retain all such sums heretofore paid and agrees that such sums constitute a portion of the total amount to which the Contractor is entitled in complete and final settlement of the Contract.[1]

(b) In addition, upon execution of this Agreement (and the storage agreements referred to in Article 1)[2] the Government agrees to pay to the Contractor the sum of $_____ (a) _____, representing the sum of $_____ (x) _____ less (1) the sum of $_____ (y) _____ representing all unliquidated partial or progress payments previously made on account to the Contractor or its assignee and all unliquidated advance payments (with interest, if any, thereon) and (2) the amount of $_____ (z) _____ representing all applicable property disposal credits. All interest to which the Contractor is entitled under the Act to the date of payment is included in said sum of $_____ (a) _____, or, to the extent not so included, is expressly waived by this agreement.[3] Said sum, together with all other sums heretofore paid, constitutes payment in full and complete settlement of the amount due the Contractor by reason of the termination of work, or otherwise, under the Contract and of all other claims of the Contractor under the Contract and under the Act, in so far as it pertains to the Contract, except as hereinafter provided in this Article and in Article 5.

(c) Upon payment of said sum of $_____ (a) _____ as aforesaid all rights and liabilities of the parties under the Contract and under the Act, in so far as it pertains to the Contract, shall cease forthwith and be forever released except: [The following list of excepted rights and liabilities is intended to cover those which should most frequently be excepted, and which should in any event be scrutinized at the time a settlement agreement is signed. The suggested language of the enumerated excepted items on the list may be varied in the discretion of the Contracting Officer to cover more accurately the exceptions needed in a particular case. Where greater accuracy or completeness may be achieved by a reference to the number of the Contract article or provision covering the excepted matter in question, this method of enumerating excepted rights and liabilities may be followed. Omit any of the following which are not applicable and add any additional exceptions required.]

(1) Claims by the Contractor against the Government, which involve costs reimbursable under the Contract and which arise under the Contract or by virtue of the termination, in stated or estimated amounts, as follows: [Here insert such amounts and describe the claims.]

(2) Claims by the Contractor against the Government, as to which his right of reimbursement is disputed, which are excluded without prejudice to the rights of either party as follows: [Here insert the amounts and describe the claims.]

(3) Claims by the Contractor against the Government which are based upon responsibility of the Contractor to third parties and which involve costs reimbursable under the Contract, but which are not now known to the Contractor.

(4) All rights and liabilities, if any, of the parties under the Renegotiation Act.

(5) All rights and liabilities of the parties arising under the Contract articles, if any, or otherwise which relate to reproduction rights, patent infringements, inventions, applications for patent and patents, including rights to assignments, invention reports and licenses, covenants of indemnity against patent risks and bonds for patent indemnity obligations, together with all rights and liabilities under any such bond.

(6) All rights of the Government to take the benefit of any adjustments of royalties under the Royalty Adjustment Act of October 31, 1942 (Public No. 768, 77th Cong.; 35 U.S.C. 89–96) and to take the benefit of agreements reducing or otherwise affecting royalties paid or payable in connection with the performance of the Contract.

(7) All rights and liabilities of the parties under the articles, if any, in the Contract applicable to options (except options to continue or increase the work under the Contract), covenants not to compete, covenants of indemnity, and agreements with respect to the future care and disposition by the Contractor of Government-owned facilities remaining in his custody.

(8) All rights and liabilities of the parties arising under the Contract articles, if any, or otherwise, concerning defects in, and guarantees or warranties relating to, any completed articles or component parts furnished to the Government by the Contractor pursuant to the Contract or this Agreement.

[The following subparagraph (9) to be inserted only when the third alternative form of Article 1 is used.]

(9) All rights and liabilites of the parties under the articles, if any, of the Contract concerning settlement of disputes growing out of any determination made by the Contracting Officer under Article 1 of this Agreement.

(11) All rights and liabilities, if any, of the parties under those clauses inserted in the Contract because of the requirements of Acts of Congress and Executive Orders, including, without limitation, any applicable clauses relating to the following topics: labor law, contingent fees, domestic articles,

[1] Where any of such sums are intended to be excluded from the settlement agreeemnt, appropriate modification should be made in the language of this section in order to make it clear that they are excluded from the agreement without prejudice to the rights of either party with respect thereto. This modification may be effected by adding to the last sentence of Article 4 (a), after the word "Contract", the following: ", except as provided in subparagraph (c) (2) of this Article."

[2] This phrase to be inserted only when the second form of Article 1 is used.

[3] Where interest is not waived and the parties have not included in the Agreement a lump sum for interest to the date of payment, the following should be substituted for this sentence: "Said sum of $_____ (a) _____ includes all interest to which the Contractor is entitled under the Act to the date of execution of this Agreement; for each day thereafter until final payment hereunder, the Contractor shall be entitled to interest at the rate of $_____ (u) _____ per day." (13) All rights and liabilities of the parties under any agreement heretofore or hereafter made for the purpose of providing for the adjustment, as between the Government and the insurance carrier, of premiums under the War Projects Insurance Rating Plan as applied to the Contract.

ART. 5.[1] (1) In addition to the payment of the sum provided for in Article 4, the Government will reimburse the Contractor for payments made in discharging claims described in subparagraphs (1) and (3) of said article.

(2) Even though neither the existence nor the amount of any claim referred to in subparagraph (3) of Article 4 may now be known to the Contractor, reimbursement for payments made by the Contractor in discharge of any such claim shall include, along with wages and salaries otherwise reimbursable, all additional amounts determined (either by approval of the Contracting Officer or by litigation as hereinafter provided) to be due and payable for overtime compensation and allowances under local, state or Federal laws in connection with such wages and salaries.

(3) The Contractor shall promptly notify the Contracting Officer of any claims of the type described in subparagraph (3) of Article 4 which are asserted subsequent to the execution of this Agreement. In the event of the assertion of any such claim against the Contractor, he shall, if requested by the Contracting Officer, promptly and diligently proceed in good faith to assemble all data and information relative to such claim. The expenses incurred by the Contractor in the performance of this duty shall be reimbursable under the Contract.

(4) If the Contracting Officer shall determine that the best interests of the Government require that the Contractor initiate or defend litigation in connection with claims of third parties arising under the Contract or by virtue of its termination, the Contractor will proceed with such litigation in good faith and the costs and expenses of such litigation, including judgments and court costs, allowances rendered or awarded in connection with suits for wages, overtime or salaries, and other items, and reasonable attorneys' fees for private counsel when the Government does not furnish Government counsel, shall be reimbursable under the Contract. Witnesseth that:

Whereas, it is deemed equitable and appropriate and mutually advantageous to the parties to determine by negotiation and agree in advance of termination upon certain methods and standards for determining fair compensation in the event of termination of the contract, in whole or in part, [2] at the convenience or option of the Government;

Now, therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1. [3] Inventory. (a) The Contractor shall, within _____ days after the effective date of termination, in whole or in part, [2] or within such extension thereof as the Contracting Officer may grant, file with the Contracting Officer its inventory of the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work-in-process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the Contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government, hereinafter referred to as the "inventory".

(b) The Government may take a physical count, in whole or in part, of the inventory within _____ days after receipt of the Contractor's statement of inventory or within _____ days after termination, whichever is longer. (c) Failure of the Contractor to file its inventory as provided in (a) hereof shall operate as acceptance and approval of such physical count as the Government may take as provided in (b) hereof.

(d) The Government shall, within _____ days after taking its own count of the inventory or within _____ days after the filing of its inventory by the Contractor, file with the Contractor any exceptions to quantities resulting from differences in physical count or from determinations that items of the inventory are not reasonably necessary for the performance of the Contract or not properly allocable to the terminated portion thereof under recognized commercial accounting practices. Any disputes arising from the filing of exceptions by the Government shall be resolved by negotiation and in the event that such disputes are not disposed of by mutual agreement within 15 days from the filing of exceptions, or such extension thereof as the Contracting Officer shall grant, such disputes shall be resolved under the provisions of the Disputes Article of the Contract.

ART. 2. Classification of inventory [4]. The inventory as adjusted in accordance with Article 1 shall be classified as set forth in Schedule(s) _____. All items of work-in-process [5] shall be classified in the production stage in which they were last subject to physical processing.

ART. 3. Computation of contractor's claim. Upon the classification of the inventory in accordance with Article 2, the amounts payable to the Contractor by reason of termination shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions [6]:

(1) Completed articles. For completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) of Article _____) [7] and not theretofore paid for, the Government shall pay a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the Contract;

(2) Raw materials, purchased parts, work-in-process, component parts, etc. [8]. With respect to each unit of inventory classified in Schedule(s) _____, the Government shall pay the amount stated opposite such classification in the Schedule(s) under the heading "Unit Cost";

(3) Tools, dies, jigs and fixtures. With respect to tools, dies, jigs and fixtures classified in Schedule _____ the Government shall pay an amount which bears the same proportion to the cost allocable to the Contract shown in that Schedule as the deliveries not made under the Contract bear to the total of the deliveries which have been made and would have been made had the Contract been completed;

(4) Other costs [9]. Any other costs not specifically mentioned herein, which are allocable to the Contract, and would arise upon the termination by the Government at its option, are specifically enumerated in Schedule _____, attached. The basis for determining what amounts, if any, of these other costs are to be paid upon termination is likewas set forth in said Schedule.

(5) Special facilities [9]: Any amount to be paid for loss on special facilities, and any arrangements for transfer of title or other disposal of special facilities will be determined in accordance with a special facilities agreement, hereby made a part of this supplemental agreement and annexed hereto, and in the absence of any such agreement, the above determinations will be made under the provisions of Article _____ [7] of the Contract.

ART. 5. Retention of inventory by contractor [10]. The parties agree that the Contractor shall retain all inventory for which retention values are shown in the Schedule (s) _____, at such retention values. With respect to any class of items as to which the term "No agreement" appears under said column the Contractor is under no obligation to retain, and the Government is under no obligation to allow the Contractor to retain, any of said items. In accordance with Article _____, [7] paragraph (e) (1) (iii) of the Contract, the total amount determined to be due the Government under this article will be deducted from the total amount determined to be due to the Contractor under Article 3 hereof.

ART. 6. Contract price limitation. The total sum to be paid pursuant to Article 3, plus sums payable by reason of the termination of subcontracts, but exclusive of post-termination expenses, shall not exceed the total Contract price, reduced by the amounts of payments otherwise made or to be made under the Contract.

ART. 7. Subcontractor's claims [11]. The sum payable pursuant to Article 3 hereof does not include sums payable by reason of the termination of subcontracts unless otherwise specifically stated herein. Upon service of such demand, the parties will negotiate any changes requested. Should the Contract be terminated before a formal agreement has been executed on changes pursuant to demand for revision, the supplemental agreement or revisions thereof agreed to prior to service of the Notice of Termination shall apply to such termination.

ART. 9. Contract in force: Except to the extent modified herein, all the terms and conditions of the Contract, including without limitation, Article _____ [7] thereof, shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect.

ART. 10. Total amount payable: Except to the extent indicated by the words "No agreement" in the Schedules to this Contract, and except for the sums payable under Article 7, all amounts payable by the Government by reason of termination of the Contract are determined in this supplemental agreement.

In witness whereof, etc.

1. This form of "count and multiply" agreement has been prepared as a supplemental agreement to a contract containing the uniform termination article for fixed price supply contracts (§ 849.931). Explanatory material and suggested variations appear in the notes which follow.

2. The provision making the agreement applicable to any total or partial termination can be used only on the assumption that the same unit costs and retention values would fairly apply in all situations. Negotiations with the Contractor may lead to an agreement that applies only in the event of complete termination or only in the event of the termination of at least a stated portion of the contract. It is possible also to make an agreement effective only if termination comes within a specified period of time or in the course of a program of mass terminations following the cessation of hostilities in one theater of war. Any such conditions should be clearly stated.

3. This Article relating to the taking of inventory is designed for situations in which the withholding of inventory from production, and segregation of it for a reasonable period of time, will not impose undue hardship on the Contractor. Where continuity of production is important, and it is desired to continue processing the inventory with a minimum of dislocation, the following alternative Article 1 may be used, if it is considered feasible in the particular circumstances:

ALTERNATIVE ARTICLE 1

ARTICLE 1. (a) The Contractor shall within _____ (days) (hours) after the effective date of termination, notify the Contracting Officer of the time and place at which an inventory will be taken of the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work-in-process, completed work, supplies and other materials produced as part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and the plans, drawings, information and other property which if the Contract had been completed would be required to be furnished to the Government, hereinafter referred to as the "inventory". At least _____ (days) (hours) must elapse between the time the Government receives said notice, and the time specified in the notice for the taking of inventory.

(b) At the time and place specified in the Contractor's notice to the Government, a representative of the Government may appear for the purpose of checking, in whole or in part, the inventory to be taken in the presence of the representative of the Government and the representative of the Contractor. Any disputes arising out of differences in physical count will be decided immediately by the representatives of the Government and the Contractor at the time the inventory is taken. In the event no representative of the Government appears for the purpose of checking the physical count as directed in the notice, the physical count taken by the Contractor will be assumed to be correct except as to quantities not reasonably necessary for the performance of the Contract or not properly allocable to the terminated portion thereof under recognized commercial accounting practices, unless the inventory is not taken in accordance with the conditions, if any, enumerated in (c) below.

(c) The conditions under which the physical count will be taken are enumerated below:

(Here insert any conditions with respect to the methods to be employed at the time of taking the inventory, and the extent to which the inventory will be counted or spot checked, and records to be preserved to indicate that the conditions of taking the inventory were observed).

(d) At the conclusion of the count of inventory, it will be the Contractor's responsibility to file this inventory with the Government. Failure of the Contractor to file said inventory within _____ (days) (hours) after the inventory is taken shall operate as acceptance and approval of such physical count as the Government may have taken as provided in (b) above. At any time prior to or after the filing of the inventory, the Government shall have the right to inspect such records of the taking of inventory as were required to be kept under the conditions enumerated in (c) above, if any.

(e) The Government shall, within_____ (days) (hours) after taking its own count of the inventory or within _____ (days) (hours) after the filing of its inventory by the Contractor, file with the Contractor any exceptions to quantities resulting from failure to take the inventory under the conditions enumerated in (c) above, or from de-

[1] This Article should be omitted where the Contract does not provide for reimbursement to the Contractor of costs incurred in discharging claims described in subparagraphs (1) and (3) of Article 4.

[1] Figures in parentheses refer to the explanatory notes in § 849.984–2 that follow the text of the agreement form.

terminations that items of the inventory are not reasonably necessary for the performance of the contract or not properly allocable to the terminated portion thereof under recognized commercial accounting practices. Any disputes arising from the filing of exceptions by the Government shall be resolved by negotiation and in the event that such disputes are not disposed of by mutual agreement within 15 days from the filing of exceptions, or such extension thereof as the Contracting Officer shall grant, such disputes shall be resolved under the provisions of the Disputes Article of the Contract.

4. Classification of inventory should conform as far as possible to that embodied in the Standard Settlement Proposal Forms. In some cases those forms may be adapted for use both in the submission by contractors of proposals for pretermination settlement agreements and in the schedules to be attached to the agreements.

5. Classification of work-in-process must proceed on the basis of an agreement as to the points at which processing will be stopped, which agreement must conform to the requirements of § 842.241–3.

6. This form is designed for the situation in which the entire amount to be paid to the contractor, exclusive of subcontractors' claims, is to be determined pursuant to the agreement. In many cases it will be possible to reach an agreement on some of the elements of fair compensation and not on others. It is important that the agreement make entirely clear in each case what items are not covered. Where items are excluded, the basis for determining them should generally be the termination article in the basic contract; this should be made explicit wherever necessary.

7. Insert at this point the number of the termination article in the basic contract.

8. As this particular agreement has been prepared, the costs of the items of inventory to be shown on the schedules referred to in article 3 (2) should consist only of the invoiced cost of materials, direct labor and factory burden. The other elements for which the contractor is entitled to reimbursement are specifically enumerated in the later clauses of the article. In some cases this detailed breakdown of the items to be reimbursed may not be necessary. It is permissible to negotiate an agreed price of all items of termination inventory, which price may include General and Administrative expenses and profit. The accounting data required to support such a negotiated figure may be submitted separately and not shown in the schedules annexed to the contract.

9. Where it is possible to have the contractor agree that there will be no charge for other costs or special facilities, a clause or clauses to that effect should be substituted for article 3 (4) and 3 (5).

10. This form applies to the situation in which the contractor agrees to retain all termination inventory at agreed figures. It is, of course, possible that an agreement on this subject may take many different forms. If the contractor agrees to retain part but not all of the termination inventory, the agreement should so state and should specify the part that is to be retained.

If the Contracting Officer considers that there may be a military requirement for any articles of the termination inventory, the Government should reserve the right to take all or part of such articles. For this purpose it is appropriate to insert in the beginning of article 5 the condition: "Unless the Contracting Officer shall issue directions, not later than the effective date of termination, to transfer title and deliver to the Government the inventory or any part thereof (or specified articles of inventory) as provided in paragraph (b) (6) of Article ------- [termination article] of the contract ------." Should the contractor be unwilling to agree to retain inventory subject to the option, it is appropriate to add a clause providing that if the Contracting Officer elects to demand delivery of a part of the inventory, the Contractor is relieved of his obligation to retain the rest. Any such clause, however, should make it clear that the Contractor's obligation to retain inventory may not be avoided unless the Government exercises its option to demand delivery of a part of it.

11. This form of agreement requires the Contractor to settle termination claims of his subcontractors and secure reimbursement therefor in the normal manner. If an agreement is negotiated in which the sum payable includes all amounts due on account of claims of subcontractors, an express provision should be added by which the Contractor undertakes promptly to pay fair compensation to his subcontractors for the termination of their subcontracts, determined in accordance with the standards prescribed by this regulation.

12. This Article 8 may take a variety of forms. It is permissible to provide for periodic reviews and revisions of the figures at definite intervals, or to make the contract inoperative after a stated period of time unless the schedules agreed upon are confirmed.

§ 849.986 Forms relating to direct settlement on a company-wide basis. [JTR 986]

§ 849.986–1 Master agreement for company-wide settlement. The following form of agreement will be used in accordance with § 848.854:

This Master Agreement for Company-wide Settlement, entered into pursuant to authority contained in the Contract Settlement Act of 1944, this ------ day of ----------, 1945, between the United States of America (hereinafter called "the Government"), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract and ---------- a corporation organized and existing under the laws of ---------- and having its principal offices at ---------- (hereinafter called "the Contractor");

Witnesseth that:

Whereas, the Contractor has entered, and may enter, into prime contracts with various contracting agencies of the Government and subcontracts with other prime contractors and subcontractors (including purchase orders, letter contracts, and letters of intent, all of which are hereinafter called "war contracts"), and

Whereas, all of such war contracts are directly or indirectly subject to termination at the option of the Government; and

Whereas, pursuant to Regulation No. 16 of the Office of Contract Settlement, the Contractor has applied to have its claims resulting from the termination of its war contracts settled directly by the Government on a company-wide basis and such application has been granted by the Office of Contract Settlement; and

Whereas, the chief of [insert service, bureau, or office] hereinafter called the "designated officer" (which term also includes any duly authorized representative of such chief) has been authorized pursuant to Subpart E of Part 348 of the Joint Termination Regulation to settle directly termination claims of the Contractor on behalf of the War Department and the Navy Department [and—insert any other contracting agencies];

Now, therefore, the parties do mutually agree as follows:

Article 1. Applicable statute. This Agreement shall be construed and administered in the light of, consistently with, and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions and policies of the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 (hereinafter called the "act"). All terms herein which are defined in the act shall be construed in accordance with such definitions unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

Art. 2. Scope of company-wide settlement. This Agreement shall govern the settlement of all termination claims of the Contractor arising under prime contracts of the War Department or the Navy Department [or other contracting agencies] or subcontracts of any tier under prime contracts of the War Department or the Navy Department [or other contracting agencies] which subcontracts have been terminated as a result of the modification or termination of a prime contract for the convenience or at the option of the Government, or under other circumstances which require the Government to bear the cost of settling them, as to which notices of termination shall be received by the Contractor after the date of this Agreement, except such claims as may be excluded from its scope pursuant to Article 3 hereof. It shall also govern the settlement of all termination claims of the Contractor under any such war contracts as to which notices of termination have been received prior to the date of this Agreement which the parties may mutually agree to have governed hereby. The Contractor agrees that it will not submit any termination claim governed by this Agreement to a contracting officer of the Government other than the designated officer, and that it will not seek payment of any such claim from another war contractor, unless that claim has been excluded from the scope of this Agreement. The Contractor agrees that it will not include in any termination claim to be settled hereunder any request for payment on account of completed articles delivered to the purchaser under a war contract prior to the termination thereof or which are to be delivered to the purchaser in accordance with the notice of termination.

Art. 3. Exclusion of claims. The Contractor, within fifteen days after receipt of a notice of termination of any prime contract, or of any subcontract on account of which it intends to file a termination claim, will furnish a copy or abstract of such notice of termination to the designated officer. Any termination claim of the Contractor may be excluded from the scope of this Agreement at the option of the Government, but such option may not be exercised later than 30 days (or such longer period as the parties may agree) after submission to the designated officer of notice that the contract has been terminated. The Government will exercise its option to exclude claims from the scope of this Agreement only where it determines that (a) such exclusion is required in the interest of continued war production, or (b) the contract is of such complexity or special character that expeditious and fair settlement of the claim will not be advanced by settlement under this Agreement, or (c) that some other substantial reason makes such exclusion advisable.

Art. 4. Basis of settlement. (a) The Contractor agrees that it will promptly and diligently prepare and file its settlement proposals on the prescribed forms, or enter into no-cost termination settlement agreements, in accordance with applicable regulations. Each war contract of the Contractor that is to be settled under the terms of this Agreement shall be treated, for the purposes of such settlement and of payment thereunder, as though it were a prime contract of the [insert service, bureau, or office, of the designated officer].

(b) The rights and obligations of the parties under fixed price war contracts to be settled under this agreement will be those set forth in the Uniform Termination Article for fixed price supply prime contracts contained in JTR 931. That Article shall be deemed to be included in each fixed price war contract held by the Contractor for the purpose of settling, under the terms of this Agreement, termination claims under that war contract. For this purpose, paragraph (d) (2) of that Article, which is to be applied in case the parties fail to reach a settlement by negotiation, shall be deemed to provide for payment of profit to the Contractor in the amount of 2% of the cost of articles and materials not processed by the Contractor, plus 8% of the remaining costs of work terminated upon which a profit may be based, but not to exceed the limitation of 6% on the total, imposed by that Article.

(c) The rights and obligations of the parties under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to be settled pursuant to this Agreement will be those set forth in the Uniform Termination Article for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts contained in § 849.932, applying the appropriate Navy Department form to Navy contracts and the War Department form to Army contracts. That Article will be deemed to be included in each cost-plus-a-fixed-fee war contract held by the Contractor for the purpose of settling, under the terms of this Agreement, the termination claims under that war contract.

(d) The Government hereby accepts responsibility for settling and paying directly to the Contractor all termination claims governed by this Agreement, except such claims as may be excluded from its scope pursuant to Article 3 hereof. Upon the payment of any claim hereunder, the Contractor will either release the Government and the war contractor liable to the Contractor from liability on account of such claim, or, at the option of the Government, assign such claim to the Government. The Contractor hereby acknowledges written notice of the acceptance of responsibility by the Government for settling all claims hereunder, and of the conditions applicable thereto. The Contractor waives all the other and future notices that it otherwise might be entitled to receive under section 7 (d) of the act and consents to such acceptance of responsibility by the Government.

(e) The Contractor will notify the designated officer of any and all assignments by the Contractor of monies payable on account of termination claims due or to become due under its contracts.

(f) Payments on account of termination claims to be settled under this Agreement shall be made by the Government only on the basis of vouchers or invoices supported by final settlement agreements, determinations of amounts due where the parties fail to agree, or arrangements for interim financing.

Art. 5. Settlements with and payments to subcontractors. The Contractor agrees that it will make all reasonable efforts to bring about the prompt settlement and payment of the claims of its subcontractors (including suppliers) arising out of the termination of subcontracts (including purchase orders) under the terminated war contracts of the contractor. In furtherance of this undertaking, and without limiting the generality thereof, the Contractor agrees that it will:

(a) Promptly make such reviews of the termination claims of its subcontractors as are required or are considered desirable, undertake to negotiate the settlement of such claims, and process them in accordance with applicable regulations and directives;

(b) Accept and exercise diligently and in good faith any authority, existing under any statute, regulation or special authorization from a contracting agency, (i) to settle finally the termination claims of its subcontractors, (ii) to take action with respect to termination inventories of such subcontractors, or (iii) to make partial payments to such subcontractors;

(c) Make partial payments to such subcontractors within 30 days after receipt of proper application therefor in all cases in which the contractor is entitled, under section 9 (b) of the act, to receive payment or credit from the Government in the full amount of such payment; and in all other cases take appropriate action under applicable regulations on each such application for a partial payment within 5 days after receipt thereof;

(d) When directed by the Contracting Officer, make application for a loan or partial payment to set up a fund from which partial and final payments may be made to its subcontractors; and

(e) Pay or credit to each such subcontractor the amount determined to be due on account of each termination claim that is finally settled, within 10 days after receipt of payment on account thereof.

Art. 6. Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

ART. 7. Covenant against contingent fees. The Contractor warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this contract upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the Government the right to annul the contract, or in its discretion, to deduct from any sum which may become payable hereunder the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. This warranty shall not apply to commissions payable by the Contractor upon contracts or sales secured or made through bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the Contractor for the purpose of securing business.

ART. 8. Anti-discrimination. The Contractor, in performing the work required by this contract, shall not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color or national origin.

ART. 9. Termination. This Agreement may be terminated by either party by delivery of written notice of such termination to the other, specifying the effective date of such termination which shall not be earlier than 30 days after the date of delivery of such notice; provided that, unless otherwise mutually agreeable, no such termination shall affect the administration of any termination with respect to which a settlement proposal has been submitted by the Contractor to the designated officer, all of which terminations shall be concluded in the same manner and to the same effect as if this Agreement had not been so terminated. In the event, however, that the Contractor shall file a petition in bankruptcy, or be adjudged a bankrupt, or commit an act of bankruptcy, or make a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors, or a receiver shall be appointed for all or substantially all the assets of the Contractor, then, in any such case, the Government may, at its option, forthwith terminate this Agreement and any or all settlement negotiations or proceedings then pending hereunder.

§ 849.987–1 Form of authorization to war contractor to settle subcontractors' claims and make partial payments. The following form will be used in accordance with § 846.642.

Name of contractor ----------
Address ----------

1. Pursuant to § 846.642 of the Joint Termination Regulation of the War and Navy Departments, you are authorized, subject to the limitations stated in paragraph 2 hereof below, to settle without further approval by the Government all fixed-price subcontracts and purchase orders terminated by you as a result of the termination or modification of a prime contract with the [insert service or bureau], or under any other circumstances which require the [insert service or bureau] to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract or purchase order.

2. This authorization is subject to the following limitations:

a. It shall apply only to settlements of not more than $10,000 after deducting (from the gross claim) amounts payable for completed articles or work at the contract price and settlements with lower tier subcontractors previously authorized under §§ 846.642 or 846.643 of the Joint Termination Regulation or approved by the contracting officer, but without deducting other subcontract claims or disposal credits.

b. It shall apply only to settlements in which all the property allocable to the terminated portion of the subcontract or purchase order, the cost of which is included in the statement of charges of the subcontractor or supplier, is retained by the subcontractor or supplier at values deemed reasonable by you, or is sold by you or the subcontractor or supplier at the best obtainable prices in your judgment and the value or proceeds credited on the settlement, or is transferred to the Government with the consent of the Contracting Officer or his representative.

c. It does not include (i) the authority to retain or sell, or to approve retentions or sales of, completed articles not delivered under the contract or material treated as termination inventory in accordance with § 844.400–2 of the Joint Termination Regulation, unless the cost of such articles and such material to be retained or sold and the amount of the subcontractor's termination claim, computed according to § 841.122 of such Regulation, total less than $10,000; or (ii) the authority to abandon or discard, or to approve abandonment or discarding of, worthless property without the approval of the contracting officer (in the case of the Navy, the local NMR&DA officer) or disposal board, required by § 844.453–3 of the Joint Termination Regulation.

d. Each settlement made under the authorization granted herein will bear the following certification:

"The undersigned individually and as authorized representative of the contractor, certifies that he has examined, or caused to be examined, to an extent he considers adequate in the circumstances, the claim of the within named subcontractor (exclusive of claims filed against such subcontractor by its subcontractors); and that the within settlement on account of such subcontractors own charges is allocable to prime contract with the Government No. -------- [Order No. ------, From ----------, related to prime contract with the Government No. --------, should be used in place of italicized words when the certificate is executed by a subcontractor], is fair and reasonable, was negotiated in good faith, and is not more favorable to said subcontractor than one which the undersigned would make if reimbursement by the Government were not invived; and that it has no knowledge to doubt the reasonableness of the settlements with more remote subcontractors or to doubt that the charges for them are allocable to said Contract. On the basis of the foregoing, the within settlement is approved pursuant to authorization dated ----------, 194-- from ---------- [Insert service or bureau] signed by ---------- All the property allocable to the terminated portion of the subcontract or purchase order, the cost of which was included in the statement of charges, has been retained or disposed of, and credited, at what the undersigned considers to be fair and reasonable values or at the best price obtainable, or has been transferred to the Government with the consent of the Contracting Officer or his representative.

e. The Contracting Officer or next higher tier war contractor may incorporate specific instructions in each Notice of Termination as to the disposition of specific items of termination inventory, or the Contracting Officer or next higher tier war contractor may, at any time prior to final settlement, issue such specific instructions. No such instructions, however, will affect any disposal action taken by you or your subcontractors prior to receipt thereof.

3. In making settlements hereunder, you should make every effort to arrange for the sale or retention of termination inventory in order to avoid the necessity of transferring it to the Government. The Contracting Officer will consent to such transfer to the Government only if no other disposition is reasonably feasible.

4. A settlement with a subcontractor made or approved by you in accordance with this authorization, including sales or retentions of property involved therein, will be recognized by the Government as final and conclusive for the purpose of settling the terminated prime contract or adjusting the continuing prime contract (whether modified or not), to which the subcontract is allocable.

5 Any number of separate settlements of not more than $10,000 may be made with a single subcontractor under different subcontracts. Claims which would normally be included in a single settlement proposal, such as a series of separate orders for the same item under one contract, should, wherever possible, be consolidated and must not be divided for the purpose of bringing them within this authorization.

6. Pursuant to the Joint Termination Regulation § 843.368, you are authorized to make partial payments on account of termination claims under all fixed-price subcontracts and purchase orders terminated by you as a result of the termination or modification of a prime contract with the [insert service or bureau] or under any other circumstances which require the [insert service of bureau] to bear the cost of settling the terminated subcontract or purchase order. This authorization is subject to the following conditions:

a. Such partial payments shall be made only on the basis of applications filed by subcontractors on the form prescribed by, and executed in accordance with, Regulation No. 2 of the Office of Contract Settlement (see § 849.953 of the Joint Termination Regulation).

b. The amounts of any partial payments made by you shall not exceed $10,000 (including all previous unliquidated partial payments and advances) to any applicant therefor under any one termination claim, and shall not exceed any limitation contained in the Joint Termination Regulation on the amount of partial payments that may be made.

c. Each partial payment made under the authorization granted herein will bear the following certification:
